2% State Tax On All Gross Sales As Of Friday, Nugent Tells Merchants

State Representative James E. Nugent met with Sonora retail merchants in the courtroom at the Sutton County courthouse Tuesday afternoon to explain the new state sales tax law. Nugent gave the capacity crowd a run-down on interpretation of the new law after conferences with State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert in Austin.

Thirteen main points were covered by Nugent for merchants with several persons remaining after the meeting to discuss special points of the law.

First, every sale of tangible personal property is subject to the two percent tax, Nugent said. Exemptions to this rule are: feed, food, farm machinery, fertilizer, prescribed medicines, outer garments costing less than $10.00, and units under 25 cents. Patent medicines and garments costing more than $10.00 are subject to taxation.

Merchants will pay to the state two percent of their gross receipts on taxable merchandise.

Food is not taxable unless it is prepared for consumption. Food and beverages served at football games, organization box-suppers or church fund-raising dinners are taxable. Meals served in public school cafeterias to students and teachers are exempt from taxation but meals served to guests or at banquets are taxable.

Beer as such is not taxed but beer served with a meal is taxed.

In contractual work the contractor is liable for two percent tax on the cost of materials used in construction. If the owner buys the materials for construction and contracts for labor only, labor is not taxed.

Most items already taxed, such as gasoline, tobacco, etc. are not subject to the sales tax.

Merchants cannot advertise that the amount of the tax is included in the price of the article. Sales effective before Friday, September 1, are not subject to tax.

Questioned about taxation on installment sales, Nugent quoted Calvert as saying merchants should collect the two percent tax on the amount due as of September 1. There has been no official ruling on this aspect of the tax as yet. The full amount of current contracts will not be taxed but exemptions must be filed before the first of the month.

Merchants are required to keep records of all gross sales and to pay the two percent tax on these. All exceptions and exemptions must be proved. Forms for keeping such records will be furnished later but are not ready at the present time.

Shearing machines and power sprayers will probably be exempted, Calvert had informed Nugent. Medicines for animals will be taxed. This will also include vaccines for pets and livestock. Horseshoes will be exempt from the tax so long as they are used on horses other than race horses. No ruling has been made on possible taxation of fencing.

Electrical current used for pumping or in producing food will be exempt.

Private or occasional sales will not be taxed. If an individual makes more than two sales in any year these will not be considered occasional sales.

There will be not tax on the sale or use of real estate.

Nugent concluded by re-emphasizing that merchants are required to pay the tax on gross sales and that if there is a doubt as to whether any item is taxable or not, merchants should collect the tax.

Texas Spelunkers Arrive Here Friday For Survey Of All County Caves

Members of the Texas Regional Association of the National Speleological Society will meet at the Caverns of Sonora during the Labor Day weekend to conduct their fifth state project which will consist of an extensive survey of the county to locate and map all caves in Sutton County.

The Texas Region is made up of five "Grottos" or area groups from San Antonio, Monahans, Austin, Abilene and the Dallas-Fort Worth area, also many individuals not affiliated with the grottos but members of the NSS.

The Caverns of Sonora will be headquarter for the operation with survey teams to be assigned areas of the county for exploration and mapping. Each team will consist of four or five experienced explorers who are familiar with cave exploration and who understand the problems of ranchers on whose land caves are known to exist.

Thomas H. White of the University of Texas Grotto will be chairman of the project. He will be assisted by Dudley Roberts and other members of the U of T Grotto.

The Texas Region organization ordinarily concentrates on one cave and this year's county survey will be the first of its type ever undertaken by the group. Members expect to locate a majority of the caves in the county and to make a rough determination of their extent. Any major find will be more completely explored at a later date.

Attending the meeting will be some of the explorers who explored the Caverns of Sonora, then known to spelunkers as Mayfield Cave and later as Secret Cave.

Earlier annual projects of the organization have been carried out at Longhorn Cavern, Felton Cave near here, and La Gruta de Bustamante, a huge cave in Nuevo Leon in northern Mexico.

Drivers License Fee Will Be $3 September 1

The Texas Department of Public Safety reminded Texas drivers today an increase in license fees has been ordered by the Legislature effective September 1.

The Texas operator's license on and after that date will be increased from $2 to $3 for a two-year period, the commercial driver's license will increase from $3 to $4.50 for a one-year period, and the chauffeur's license will go up from $4 to $6 per year.

The fee for a duplicate of a lost license will remain at 25 cents.

"We urge all drivers to be sure they send the right amount in with their renewal applications," said Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS Director. "Those which are accompanied by the old fee after September 1 will have to be returned to the sender, causing unnecessary delay and inconvenience."

He said the $3 two-year operator's license will still be lower than the fees in 12 other states, and will be exactly the same as in five other states. He reported Texas now has 4,838,000 currently-licensed drivers.

"Incidentally," said Garrison, "we would like to urge drivers to take care of their licenses, in spite of the fact that it costs 25 cents for a replacement. Last year we received 85,000 applications for duplicates of lost or mutilated licenses."

By Boyce House

Jack London, destined for far as a short-story writer and novelist, (many of his tales have their setting in the Far North), arrived in Alaska in '97 and went out in the fall of '98.

While there, he was stricken with scurvy and lost his teeth. There is a story about that, years later, when he was a correspondent in the Orient, he heard cheering, came out of his hotel to the balcony and bowed, thinking the greeting was in tribute to his novels. At last, by signs, he learned what was wanted. Evidently, a servant had told the other natives about it. The through wanted him to remove his set of false teeth, which he did, to great applause, and he gave several encores.

of the fortune-seekers hired Indians to pack their belongings over the dreaded Chilcoot Pass, paying as much as $1.50 per pound. But the young broad-shouldered, good-natured Jack London did his own packing and kept pace with the Indians. Along with his supplies, he carried copies of Darwin's "Origin of Species," Spencer's "Philosophy of Style" and Milton's "Paradise Lost."

Jack did a little prospecting and caused a "rush." He struck shining metal in a creek-bed and, at his shouts, the miners came running—and then began to laugh. What he had found was only mica. But from old-timers, he drew their stories, which later he wove into his books. Thus it was that Jack London struck gold. He is said to have received the highest rate per word of any writes in the history of America.

Elam Harnish was Jack's partner over Chilcoot Pass and he remained in Alaska. Harnish remembered Jack vividly, especially the difficulty he had in getting him up of a morning to hit the trail. London put him in a novel and called him "Burning Daylight" but Harnish said that was not his nickname in real life.

but was derived from the expression he used in urging London to get up, "Come on, Jack; you're burning daylight."

In one of his magazine articles, London said an old-timer expressed the view that the land was in darkness a large part of the year "because God goes away and leaves it to itself." London also quoted an old-timer, perhaps the same one as speaking of Alaska "as frigid and burning and lonely and apart," and as being an insane asylum given over to the worst cases.

"Now and then," the philosopher continued, "some poor insane creature comes to his senses; in those awful solitudes and, in wondering joy, escapes from the land and hastens back to his home. But most cases are incurable."

Texas Trades Deer, Turkey With 2 States

Two more states are to be stocked with Texas wildlife, according to H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Nebraska will receive 100 Rio Grande turkeys trapped on the King Ranch, for which Nebraska will pay a trapping cost of approximately $12 each. At a later date, Texas may receive some other type of wildlife in exchange from Nebraska.

The state of Georgia will receive 100 deer, also taken from the King Ranch. These deer will be paid for at the approximate trapping price of $35 each. At a later date, Texas expects to receive a supply of Eastern wild turkey in exchange from Georgia.

A number of birds, and transplants of both mammals and fish, have been negotiated within the past year. Texas has received chukars, pheasants, and Eastern wild turkey. The inland fisheries division also has received several shipments of stripers from the West Coast, which were planted in several lakes of Texas that have a high salt content.

Miss Vicki Archer Bride Of Rudy G. Powell In Church Ceremonies Here Saturday

Miss Vicki Lester Archer, 26, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Archer, became the bride of Rudy Gray Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Powell of San Angelo, Saturday evening, August 26. The Rev. Doyle W. Morton read the double ring ceremony at the First Methodist Church here.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza veiled over taffeta designed to combine a gelled silhouette and princess lines. Venise lace outlined the oval neckline and was applied in sprays on the skirt which extended to a chapel train. A pouf of organza placed at the low black waistline gave a suggested bustle effect. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion was capped by a lace pillbox. She carried an imported fan with a detachable corsage of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis with a stephanotis shower.

Miss Janis Sykes was maid of honor, Miss Brenda Roberts of Alpine, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Elsbeth Scott were bridesmaids. Their dresses were of white silk organza fashioned with scoop necklines, fitted elbow-length sleeves and full bell-shaped skirts. The brief silk illusion veils were attached to self-bandeaux.

Lt. Stanley Gill of El Paso was best man. Ted Hume of Dallas and John Gandy of San Angelo were groomsmen. Ushers were Cleve Powell and Douglas Powell of Abilene, cousins of the groom, and Reuben Stewart of San Angelo.

Mrs. James Wilson, pianist, presented wedding music.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell are at home in Denton where he is a student at North Texas State University. Mrs. Powell is a graduate of North Texas.

Lt. Col. Savell L. Sharp of Randolph Air Force Base spent last weekend here with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Sharp and Kathy.

Mrs. Wilson Hartgrove and daughter Debra and Charlotte White of Paint Rock were weekend guests of Mrs. Stanley Mayfield.

Gerry Mayfield Bride Of B. B. Ingham III In Morning Church Ceremonies Saturday

Miss Gerry Mayfield and B. B. Ingham III of Ozona were married in morning ceremonies at the First Methodist Church Saturday, August 26, with the Rev. Doyle W. Morton reading the double-ring rites. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley B. Mayfield and Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Ingham, Jr. of Ozona are parents of the groom.

Mrs. Katharine Linthicum, organist, presented prenuptial music and traditional wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of pure white imported Chantilly lace fashioned with a scooped neckline bound with white satin and tapered sleeves. The waistline dipped in front with a clipped design of lace and a satin sash that tied in back and extended to the hemline. The skirt released the full pleats terminating in the hand-clipped pattern of Chantilly. Her elbow-length veil of illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls. She wore brief white kid gloves and carried a white Testamen topped with white phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis shower.

Mrs. Neville Smart, Jr. of Rocksprings, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nina Jennings of Houston and Miss Judy Ingham of Ozona, sister of the groom. Their dresses were of sky blue taffeta designed with fitted bodices, brief sleeves and scooped necklines. The very full skirts featured a deep center pleat in front which revealed a panel of matching velvet. The nipped waistline was accented in back with a wide flat bow of the taffeta. They wore flat bows of sky blue velvet in their hair and carried white baskets filled with white carnations.

Johnny Jones of Ozona was best man. Groomsmen were Neville Smart, Jr. of Rocksprings and Bob Childress of Ozona.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. The table was covered with a cloth of white dotted Swiss and lace over white satin. Nougats of white asters and leatherleaf fern decorated the table which was centered with a three-tiered cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. Miss Deborah Hartgrove of Paint Rock served cake, Miss Charlotte White of Paint Rock served punch and Miss Ann McKinney was at the coffee service.

Other members of the houseparty included Misses Barbara Barbee and Nonie Conklin of Ozona, Prissy Linthicum and Margaret Bundy.

After a wedding trip to Nassau, Mr. and Mrs. Ingham will be at home in Alpine where they will attend Sul Ross State College. Mrs. Ingham is a graduate of Sonora High School and her husband is a graduate of Ozona schools.

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS

Out of town guests attending the Ingham-Mayfield wedding included Mrs. Edna Wheat Beam of Bandera; Mrs. Wilson Hartgrove of Paint Rock; Mrs. Garland R. Dean of Wichita Falls; Mrs. H. E. Women Scientists Vitrally Needed, March of Dimes Grantee Warns

Increasing numbers of young women must be encouraged to become medical research scientists. They are needed to make up the loss of men researchers who more and more are turning to electronics and other technical fields unrelated to the nation's health.

This is the view of Dr. Virginia Tennyson, a medical scientist herself, who sees the day near when there will be an acute and dangerous shortage of science laboratory talent unless hundreds of girls—now in high school or entering college—can be won over to science as a career.

Dr. Tennyson is an anatomist and electronmicroscopist at Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City. Under a National Foundation-March of Dimes grant, she is working today to determine what causes excess fluid in the brain of infants, one of the major birth defects (hydrocephalus) with which thousands of babies are born every year in the United States.

This dread disease leads to gross enlargement of the head, wasting away of the brain, loss of mental powers—often death. Dr. Tennyson has suggested that there is an advantage in having women in some laboratory studies.

"I think it fair to say that in some fields of scientific inquiry, women are better equipped by nature than are men. For instance, few will argue that women aren't more intuitive. In the laboratory, they are more inclined to respect a hunch, which is just another word for disciplined imagination and deduction. We women 'hunch' because we are determined to get a realistic answer.

"Then I also think," she said, "that women workers in science are inclined to be more patient than men researchers. Perhaps it's debatable, but I seem to find, too, that women are more likely to persevere, less prone to give up because of boredom and tedium."

Dr. Tennyson mentioned that The National Foundation offers

Dr. Virginia Tennyson beside electron microscope at Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City, where she is seeking cause of excess fluid in the brain, a condition known as hydrocephalus, under National Foundation-March of Dimes research grant.

today post-doctoral fellowships to promising young individuals preparing for careers in science. In addition to offering aid to prospective research scientists, The National Foundation is taking steps to interest young persons in entering the allied health professions. Under this program, the health organization has awarded almost 1,300 scholarships (each worth $2,000 if maintained for the full period of four years) in the fields of medicine, nursing, physical and occupational therapy, and medical social work.

The National Foundation offers $15 of these health scholarships each year to students in every state in the nation.

Since Dr. Tennyson is dedicated to the serious task of determining the "why" of hydrocephalus, a person might conceive of her as a granite-faced zealot, oblivious to all save laboratory test tubes, retorts and microscopes.

Instead, this slim, auburn-haired and blue-eyed scientist looks like nothing so much as a professional model or dancer, and one endowed with humor. Her chief interests and training all relate to medical science, but when the occasion arises she can whip up the most epicurean crêpes suzette one would ever hope to taste. She is also a talented amateur artist.

Young women on the threshold of a science career, Dr. Tennyson advises, should realize that in some laboratories exceptional demands are made of them in ability and natural scientific talent. Inevitably, they represent competition with their male colleagues. She puts it this way:

"If a young woman enters a science career with a 'feminist' chip on her shoulder—with the attitude of demanding her rights—she will doubtless arouse hostility, and so will meet with hostility. But I have found that most professional people will accord you more than your 'rights' if you have ability. If you do have it, it will be recognized. Appreciation of it shouldn't be forced down your colleagues' throats."

For all her preoccupation with birth defects research, a field The National Foundation entered in 1958, Dr. Tennyson says she tries to lead a life of "dynamic equilibrium, the rule we find in all nature. I don't spend all of my time with rabbits and mice and peering into a microscope. Fact is, I have so much equilibrium I even go skiing."

Deficit Spending, Higher Wages Lead To Inflation

INFLATION is being talked about more recently than at any time previously this year. The new threat of more inflation stems from two causes: deficit federal spending and the drive by Big Labor for increased wages.

The recent fiscal year ended on June 30 with a $3.7 billion deficit, and official estimates are that during the current fiscal year we will take in at least $5 billion less than the federal government will spend.

It works this way: The more the Government borrows, the more money goes into circulation, and as the amount of money increases it becomes cheaper; that is, it will buy less. So prices and wages go up and up. And the standard of living of those on fixed incomes, those living on savings, etc., goes down and down.

In about 20 years the American dollar has lost more than half of its purchasing power. If its value is taken to be 100 cents in 1939, it now contains the equivalent of 44 cents.

And, on top of the free-spending orgy that has been going on, Walter Reuther has made it plain that he will be shooting for the moon in demands on the automobile manufacturers. The car makers, in an attempt to settle at a moderate raise, offered Reuther a 21-cent hourly increase in wages over the next three years, plus a wide range of improvements in fringe benefits. Their offer does not remotely lay the basis for a settlement, Reuther said.

If Reuther succeeds in his goals, as McDonald did in dealing with the steel industry, then the pattern set will be expected to lead to a general wave of wage-price increases. And this, of course, means inflation and more inflation, particularly since it will coincide with the Federal government's deficit spending policies, which, incidentally, are strongly supported by Reuther.

When the town of Newburgh, N.Y., announced that under a new set of rules chiselers and cheaters and deadbeats would be removed from relief roles, the plan gained wide support all over the Nation. In a Gallup poll more than 75% of the American people supported Newburgh.

But the courts of New York have decided otherwise. An injunction prohibiting Newburgh from enforcing its new rules was granted by a New York court. And Federal government spokesmen have objected. Since the State and Federal governments pay a substantial portion of the relief, the Judge held they can write the rules.

Devil's River Philosopher Wants His Pickup Hijacked, Reflects On Rewards Russian Spacemen Get

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Devil's River has been keeping up with the news lately, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

I was out here on this bitter-weed ranch the other afternoon wondering why people are always picking on airplanes to hijack, you never hear of anybody hijacking a rancher's pickup and forcing him to drive off course to some distant place, when I shut the motor off on my own and got off and sat down under the shade of a tree and pulled out a newspaper I'd been carrying around in my pocket for several days as a stand-by in case I ran out of something to think about, and discovered it was an issue printed right after the second Russian flew around the earth in a rocket ship.

I had already known this latest flier had made seventeen trips around the earth and landed right back in Russia where he started from, which may be progress to some people but it isn't my notion of it, but what interested me was a paragraph saying this flier, just like the other one who made it around the earth, would be given an automobile.

For conquering space, a Russian gets what us Americans are already swamped with. Funniest way to distribute automobiles I ever heard of, and it's also an index to what man really thinks about space. He may be curious about it, but once he's been out there, he sure is interested in getting back to earth and sampling some of the pleasures of the world, like driving an automobile or going to sleep in his own bed. People are always talking in on you. Understand, I'm not discounting what the Russian astronauts have done, but it sure seems like a dent in it, but you never really get it conquered; the minute you turn your back, it starts closing when anybody in America can get the same thing just by walking into the nearest car dealer's show room and waving the down-bitterweed ranch. You can make going to a lot of trouble to get a slap on the back and a new car, J. A.

Limited Play
By November 1
At Golf Course!

The possibility of limited golf play on the new links was extended this week by G. C. (Son) Allison, club president. Allison predicted, "With the very best of luck, if everything goes right, we may have limited play by November 1".

Bent grass is up on the greens and daily watering and care are quickly establishing turfs. Additional work in clearing and smoothing up rights of way is underway.

Membership in the club is still open but the charter list is to close around September 15. When play begins on the course, golfers living in Sutton County who are not club members will be charged green fees of $2.00 on weekdays and $3.00 on weekends. Out of county golfers who are not club members will be charged $1.00 and $1.50.
