Devil's River Philosopher Tells How He Gets Ideas For All These Letters To "The Devil"

Editor's Note: The Devil's other day and said, "Say, where River Philosopher on his bitter-wood ranch on Devil's River tries to tell where he gets his ideas for letters. We're still not sure. Dear editor: A man came up to me the do you get your ideas for writing all these letters to The Devil?" Well, for one thing, you've got to think. Say you come out of your house on a bright sunny morning and see a hoe leaning against a shed and weeds in your garden. This makes a man think, and since anybody knows it's impossible to swing a hoe and write a letter at the same time, I put first things first and leave the hoe alone. Anybody ought to know a lack of thinking has done the world more harm than a lack of weed-chopping, and I don't want anybody accusing me of falling down on my job.

The trouble with too many people is that they don't see things large enough. This is an intercontinental guided missile age we're living in, and a man can't afford to get too limited in his concern, he's got to widen his horizons.

For instance, with the United States' national debt approaching 300 billion dollars, a man has to be mighty limited in his outlook to be spending any time worrying about the $100 note he owes at the bank. It seems wasteful to me to be worrying over a hundred dollars when for the same amount of effort you can be worrying over three hundred billion.

When the roof of the world may be about to cave in, it seems to me I'd be derelict in my duties if I was up on top of my house patching mine.

With the wall in Berlin causing so much trouble, it seems sort of unstatesmanlike for me to be out fixing my fence. Why risk offending world opinion?

I know everybody is supposed to get ahead in life, but if somebody didn't get behind, how could anybody get ahead? Weeds ought to be chopped all right, but a man should reserve some time for thinking, after he has provided his family with the four basic necessities for life: food, clothing, shelter and television.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Doyle Morton, Pastor
First Methodist Church

"Honor your father and your mother that your days may be long in the land which the Lord God gives you." Exodus 20:12.

In his letter to the Ephesians Paul reminded them that "(this is the first commandment with a promise)." This seems to be for bargain seekers. Yet, we cannot escape the rewards for keeping this commandment. In a day when we are seeking security here is a promise of security. Most of us honor our parents because we love them, but here is a truth easily overlooked. In a land where parents are honored, long life is a blessing to be found and cherished.

There is a need for Christian parents in our day. Our national life is found up on the home. Christian teaching begins in the home. One of the casualties of our century is the break-up of the family. Children are not responsible for the homes into which they come. Parents should give children homes worthy of the highest honor they can give. The best way for parents to receive honor is to be honorable.

The best way we can honor our parents is by living a noble Christian life. This is best done as we let Christ lead us. Jesus asked John to care for his mother. John cared for her as if she were his own mother. Christ would lead us into the kind of living that brings honor to our parents.

What Has Happened to Monroe Doctrine O. C. Fisher Asks

By Congressman O. C. Fisher
FIDEL CASTRO'S LATEST defiance of civilized decency was his ransom demand for the release of the 1,176 men captured last April 17 at the Bay of Pigs. Castro has conducted a propaganda trial and sentenced each of the patriots to 30 years at hard labor. But if $62 million can be raised, the prisoners will be exchanged for that amount.

Dept. Invites Game Warden Applications

Applications for employment of a limited number of game wardens are now being accepted by the Game and Fish Commission. The Commission is interested in receiving these applications from young men between ages 21 and 40, who are high school graduates and have an interest in wildlife conservation. The need for the additional applications has been brought about through reorganization of the Game and Fish Commission, which has created additional opportunities for advancement of men who can meet the requirements.

Application forms are available at local Game and Fish Commission offices or from the Personnel Office in Austin. Completed applications must be received by the Personnel Office prior to May 15, 1962. Written and oral examinations will be conducted in selected areas throughout the state in June, to make final selections.

Applicants selected will be employed in September, 1962, and will attend the 16-week game warden training course at Texas A & M College, scheduled for February, 1963. The course of instruction includes all phases of conservation work.

the dark ages. The incident serves to remind us that Castro is after all nothing but a common bandit. This Havana tyrant was let out of prison within 15 months after he had sought to overthrow the Batista regime. But now, with the shoe on the other foot, he metes out 30-year sentences to rebel patriots, and then seeks to extort money for their liberation.

IF THE UNITED NATIONS is interested in such repulsive conduct, then here would be a chance for it to at least condemn such debauchery, and let the world know that the UN is interested in human rights and does not condone international banditry. UN silence in the face of such conduct is another evidence of its weakness and ineptness.

CASTRO'S ECONOMY IS in very bad shape, and this may account for his quest for dollars. All our trade with Cuba has been cut off, except for a small amount of medical supplies. This would seem to be an appropriate time for the United States to intensify means of liquidating the Cuba mess. Trade boycott will help but it is not enough. It should have been done long ago, but wasn't. From the standpoint of our national security this country can ill afford to stand by and allow the communists to make an armed camp, with rockets, missiles and submarine bases, etc., only 60 miles off our shores.

HOW TO CHOOSE
Elegant Eating

Potato salad, all-American favorite, goes elegant in "Sumptuous Salad." Cubed potatoes, diced red apple, luscious avocado halves and sour cream dressing make hearty, "he-man" eating.

Avocados are usually very firm when they come to market. Because they can be used so many ways, it's wise to buy several at a time and keep at room temperature until eating-ripe. Smooth-skinned varieties of California avocados are ready to eat when they yield to gentle pressure in the palms of your hands. To test dark, pebbly-skinned varieties, insert toothpick at stem end; if it slides in easily, the avocado's ready to serve. Cut lengthwise completely around, twist halves apart gently, whack seed sharply with knife blade, twist and lift out, then strip off skin.

SUMPTUOUS SALAD

2 avocados	1 tablespoon white vinegar
Lemon juice	1/2 teaspoon sugar
1 large red apple, diced	1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup cooked cubed potatoes	1/2 teaspoon grated onion
1 cup dairy sour cream

Cut avocados lengthwise into halves; remove seed. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Toss apple and potatoes. Blend remaining ingredients. Place avocado halves on lettuce-lined plates. Spoon on apple-potato mixture. Top with cream dressing. Serves 4.

HOW TO DETECT AND CURB CHINCH BUGS IN YOUR LAWN

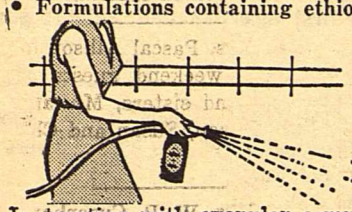

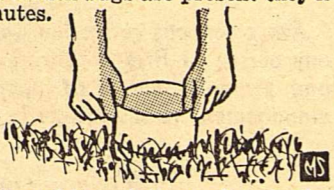

The chinch bug — public enemy number one to St. Augustine grass — is awaking from dormancy about now. Here are a few timely tips on detecting and controlling this destructive pest:

- Discolored patches of turf are a sign of trouble. Grass first turns an off yellow, then brown. If these symptoms are prevalent, chances are you've got chinch bugs.
- Be able to identify a chinch bug when you see one. Adults are brown to black in color, about one-quarter inch long, and have whitish wings which are folded over.
- Part the grass in a yellow or browned-out area and take a look if you're suspicious, but not sure, that you have chinch bug woes. You may spot one or more of these pests hovering at ground level where they suck juices from stems.
- Another means of detection and also of evaluating the seriousness of infestations is this: take a large metal can (such as a coffee can); cut away both ends; insert one end several inches into the soil where grass has turned yellow or brown; fill the can with water; if chinch bugs are present they'll float to the surface within 5 minutes.
- Take immediate action once you've determined that chinch bugs are at work in your lawn. Don't let them multiply. There are several chemicals available for controlling chinch bugs — the newest and safest of which appears to be ethion. An indication of its relative safety is the fact that formulations containing it need not bear a skull and cross bones symbol on the label (unlike most other chinch bug compounds).
- Formulations containing ethion are available under some 12 different trade names as sprays or granules. When using sprays the lawn should be watered thoroughly both before and after application. Hand sprayers, hose type sprayers or watering cans are all permissible applicators.

In treating with granular compounds, disperse evenly with a spreader and do not water prior to application, only after.

Screwworm Fly Releases To Be Expanded As Infestation Spreads As Summer Nears

County Agricultural Agent D. C. Langford reports that because of extremely favorable weather conditions for screwworm activity, screwworms have spread into Central and West Texas, most of the counties in the Edwards Plateau and about half the counties in the Trans-Pecos area. Officials say that plans are being made to expand the sterile screwworm fly release area to include most of the infested area. The majority of the sterile flies being produced will be released in a barrier zone which will encompass the northern edge of the screwworm infested area. All livestock producers are encouraged to inspect all livestock regularly, to treat all wounds promptly, and to collect ten or more worms from deep in the wound and mail them to Box 969, Mission, Texas, or bring them to the ASC office, Chamber of Commerce office, or the office of the County Agent.

Langford points out that the more screwworms that are killed by chemical treatment, the fewer sterile flies will be required to overwhelm the native flies.

Screwworm

By D. C. Langford

Ten out of eleven samples of screwworms from Sutton County, submitted to the Screwworm Identification Laboratory at Mission on April 25, have been identified as screwworms.

Screwworms are now known to be active in all parts of Sutton County, so it is very important that ranchers employ all methods possible to control screwworms and screwworm flies.

Dr. R. G. Garrett, executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission, said that one early-treated case of screwworms now can prevent 10,000 cases six weeks from now.

Sterile flies from Kerrville are now being released over Sutton County at the present time to combat the screwworm infestation and ranchers are urged to supplement this phase with a do-it-yourself control program as follows:

1. Frequent rechecking of flocks and herds for possibility of screwworm infestation.
2. Frequent retreatment of infested animals and co-rai or Korlan spraying of infested and adjacent herds or flocks.
3. Post-mortem surgical processes consistent with your program.
4. Spray flocks and herds that might be expected to become infested.
5. Maintain contact with your County Agent and Livestock Inspectors for latest information and advice on screwworm control.
6. Confine to report and send in samples from any wound suspected of being infected with screwworms. Take these to the County Agent or send to P. O. Box 969, Mission, Texas.

Ranchers who plan to ship livestock should contact a livestock inspector or veterinarian and have the livestock inspected on the ranch before the livestock is loaded. Permits will be issued that will speed up movement of livestock through inspection stations.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Taylor has returned from a short trip to Los Angeles, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Derrick of Eldorado were among those attending the races last weekend.

(Jack) Neill, chairman of the Sutton County Savings Bonds committee. This represents 15.8 percent of the County's 1962 goal of $80,000.00.

Texans purchased $41,512,602 E and H Bonds during the first quarter of the year and March sales were $17,031,657.

Community Fallout Shelter Need Backed by U.S. Individual Action

The United States, through the Department of Defense, has launched a major program to provide fallout shelters for Americans as the key element of a greatly expanded civil defense program.

The new "Fallout Protection" booklet, prepared by the Defense Department and available to the public through post offices and local civil defense offices, explains that community fallout shelters are now being stressed because:

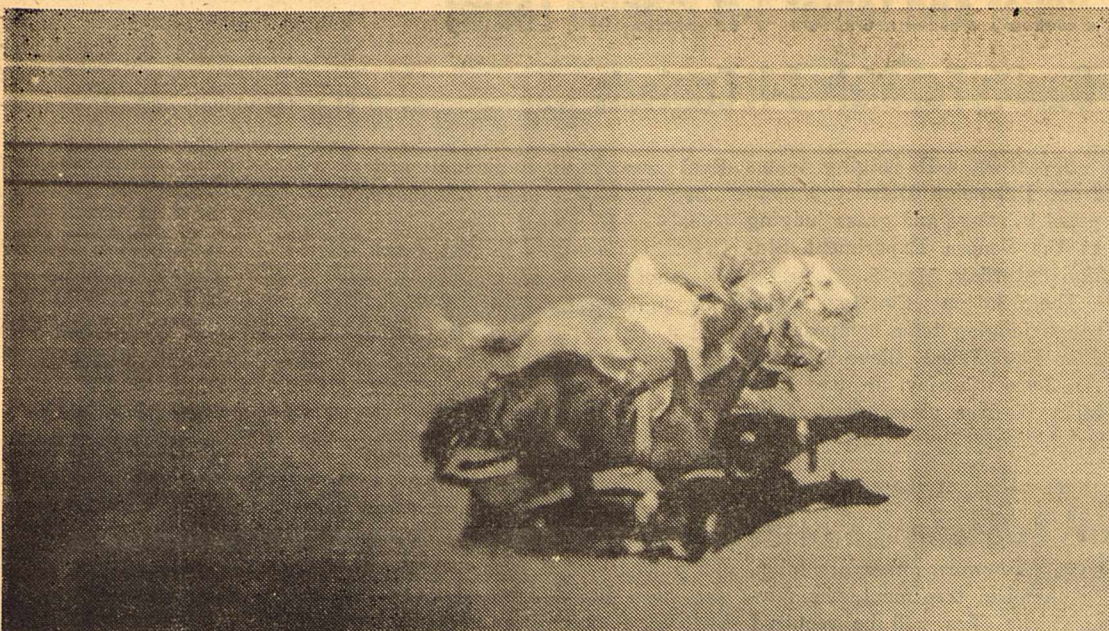

1. A LARGER than family-size group probably would be better prepared to face a nuclear attack than a single family, particularly if some members should be away from home at the time of an attack.
 2. There would be more opportunity to find first aid and other emergency skills in a group, and the risk of radiation exposure after an attack could be more widely shared.
 3. Community shelters would provide shelter for persons away from their homes at the time of an attack.
 4. Group shelters could serve as a focus for integrated community recovery activities in a post-attack period.
 5. Group shelters could serve other community purposes, as well as offer protection from fallout following an attack.
- Group shelters in office buildings, schools, hospitals, subways and other structures accessible to the public will be stocked with austere rations of food and water for five days, radiation detection instruments, first aid kits, and necessary tools. Many structures are easily-adaptable as community shelters.

Hurricane Hit Areas To Get Quail Stock

More than 20,000 bobwhite quail from the State Game Farm at Tyler are scheduled for release in eight coastal counties swept by Hurricane Carla last September. After inspection by Game Department personnel, areas covering 656 square miles were declared to be in need of the brood stock quail, to take the place of those destroyed by water during the Carla hurricane.

Approximately one fourth of the number has already been distributed, and the remainder will be put on to selected areas as soon as available. The planting is being done in Orange, Jefferson, Galveston, Brazoria, Matagorda, Jackson, Calhoun, and Aransas counties.

An inspection was made of the stricken areas by wardens and biologists. Sites for release of the birds were based on the amount of cover, food and protection. This restocking will not be carried out in areas that were not flooded by water, because it was found that some brood stock remains.

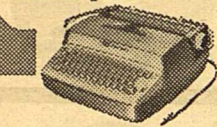

Almost nose and nose, Coe Badger 89 and Lady Miers near the finish line in the matched race Sunday afternoon. Time in the race was 17.8.

It takes a lot of manpower and a lot of man-hours to put on a race meet. It takes a double dose to put on a race meet for two weekends. But it really takes it to put on the improvement program the Sonora Park and Horse Show Association undertook this year and then take on a race meet for two weekends.

The Association's expansion program this year was monumental and it was all completed within two weeks. Extending the roof over the grandstand should have taken a year but while this one job was being done a jockey dressingroom and observation room was built. The straightaway was extended to 550 yards and widened beyond the finish line. Pipe track rails were put up and then painted. Many other improvements were made, all of which are permanent and add greatly to the facilities and appearance of the Park.

We could name many men who pitched in and made this excellent improvement program a reality in an unbelievably short time but space does not permit a long list. We will mention three who seem never to quit: Wes Young; Stanley Mayfield Bustie Halbert. And they had lots of help.

All the officers and committees of the Park Association have done yeoman service in their various capacities and their efforts have really paid off—so said many of our guests last weekend.

Thank you, Texas Newspapers!

For 20 years, Texas newspapers have been giving the government free space in which to advertise U. S. Savings Bonds.

You've seen the ads: you save more than money with U. S. Savings Bonds. Those ads have sold an impressive number of bonds in Texas, bonds that have helped, and are helping, your government defend freedom at a precarious moment in history, when freedom is in desperate need of defending.

When you buy these bonds you serve well the cause of liberty. You enable your country to build up her own defenses without doing damage to her economy. You insure the future for this and succeeding generations.

The space occupied by the ads that sold those bonds was donated to your government — and that means to you — by the newspapers of Texas.

We thought you'd like to know.

"The public-spirited newspapers of Texas have made an important contribution to the well-being of this country," says Ed Gossett, Co-Chairman of the Texas State Savings Bond Committee.

"We are happy to salute the generous newspapers of this State. They have done their part, and more, in giving the public an understanding of the importance of Savings Bonds — to individual buyers, and to the cause of freedom. And they have certainly made this Committee's job easier."

YEARS AGO

The central office of the Sonora Telephone Co., reports the rains as general throughout the Sonora County. There are a few exceptions but the prospects are brighter for all. About two inches of rain fell at Sonora which was about an average for the country.

FIRE CONTROLLED

Sonora's fine water supply and fire fighting apparatus, together with the heroic men of the fire department, saved Sonora from a disastrous conflagration Monday evening, when the cry of fire attracted attention to the Jackson building where smoke was seen coming from the offices of Cornell and Wardlaw. The fire was caused by the explosion of gasoline and the flames spread with rapidity all over the office and the dense smoke soon filled the stairs and hallways, making it dangerous to reach the burning room from the stairway. The department responded quickly and the water from three hose had the building saved and the fire confined to the office in which it originated. The fire had burned through the ceiling and the roof had to be cut in some places to extinguish the fire. The great volume of water saturated the splendid $20,000.00 stock of general merchandise of the Sonora Mercantile Co., on the first floor of the building and their loss is easily $15,000 which if properly adjusted is covered by insurance. E. R. Jackson owner of the building, will be out about $800, covered by insurance. Cornell and Wardlaw cannot estimate their loss, but is in the neighborhood of $1,000; no insurance. Dr. W. G. Jarnagin loss about $100; no insurance, San Angelo Telephone Co., damage $100. Dr. A. J. Smith was in his office at the back of the building and after realizing that he could not extinguish the fire made his escape by climbing down a water pipe at the back of building. Bart DeWitt was suffocated by smoke while playing a stream of water between the ceiling and roof. He was found by C. J. Nichols and carried to the roof. It was several hours before he was resuscitated. All the boys, in fact everybody, worked faithfully, and won the fight like Sonora always does. The $1,500 invested in the fire hose paid for itself on this occasion and another $500 should be subscribed to improve the service.
