TIPS for OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Cleaning Reels:

Experts have found that the best solution for cleaning fishing reels is a mixture of two parts alcohol to one part light reel or gun oil.

Mix well and clean reel thoroughly.

When the alcohol evaporates, it leaves a light, protective film of oil which keeps reel parts from rusting, or corroding.

Prevent Depredation In Camp:

Wild animals are a constant source of depredation in camp.

They gnaw equipment because of the sweat salt they find on such items as axe handles, etc. They break open bags and damage cans in search of food.

Usually this occurs during the night, or when the camp is deserted.

You can prevent this aggravation by spraying your equipment and stores with nicotine sulphate. It is a chemical offensive to man, but repugnant to animals. Pests will give camps, so sprayed, a wide berth.

Piney Woods Fire Starter:

Outdoorsmen in East Texas, near the piney woods, find an easy fire starter in chunks of pine resin scraped from pine trees and stumps.

They use the resin either direct or they soak 4-inch lengths of rope in melted resin, then wrap these rope lengths in foil.

Cleaning Bottoms of Boats:

One of the best cleaners you can find, and certainly the handiest, for removing scum from a boat bottom, is rough sand on a wet burlap rag.

Turn the boat bottom side up and scrub with the sanded rag. It does a great job.

A Sound Fishing Tip:

Don't let muddy water discourage you from fishing.

Murky water often is better than clean water, because when a fish's vision is obscured it feeds by sound—carried to it either by radar-like nerve endings, or its hollow bones that act as sound chambers.

Fish pin-point the location of your lure by its vibrations. So, in murky water, or any water after dark, use a good noisy lure which gives off heavy vibrations that a fish can hear.

Reel from slow to faster, until you feel the lure's strongest pulsations, then maintain that speed throughout retrieve.

To Keep Fish Tasty:

Stringers are handy. So are ice chests. But both have shortcomings when it comes to keeping fish fresh for the pan.

Better ways are: Remove hooks and place live catch in a live bait well. Then keep the fish cool on the way home in a wet burlap bag.

Before cooking, soak filets in salt and soda for at least an hour.

Dress Up Your Jigging Bait:

Don't bother mixing your own dough for carp bait.

Just open a can of biscuit dough and mix with cotton balls. Easiest bait you ever made—and it will catch catfish, too.

Vacuum Your Dog:

When your dog comes in from the field his coat is apt to be a mess of leaves and trash.

Don't bother to comb these out. Run your vacuum cleaner over him a time or two and he'll be clean and glossy once more.

Crickets Craze Potatoes:

Cut up Irish or sweet potatoes in the sack where your cricket bait is kept. The potatoes will add to their life and pep.

Keep Guns Rust-free:

Wherever your hot water heater is located is where your guns should be stored.

The low constant heat of the gas burner is just enough to keep guns free of moisture and rust.

Real Feathers To Train A Pup:

Bird-dog pups train more quickly when real bird feathers are used to train them to fetch and carry.

Skin a quail from your next bag, salt and dry skin, then roll skin around a small rag ball.

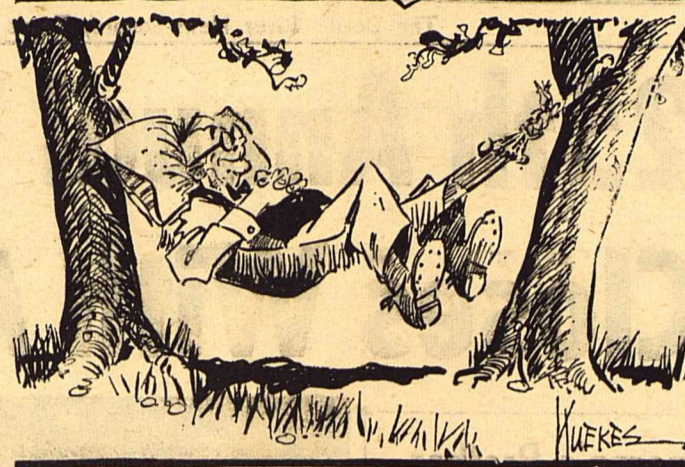

Have pup retrieve this feather covered ball to give him the feel and smell of bird feathers.

Better Than A Stringer:

Here's a good tip on what to do to replace that worn stringer. Old-time fishermen say it's even better than a stringer.

Take a loose-woven potato sack, weave 4-feet of 1/8-inch plastic cord to form a drawstring, then tie the sack to the gunwale and drop it over the side the same as you would a stringer, or a wire basket.

Raise bag whenever you make a catch, loosen the drawstring—play the fish gently inside the net—pull drawstring tight, then return the sack to the water so the fish may keep lively and fresh.

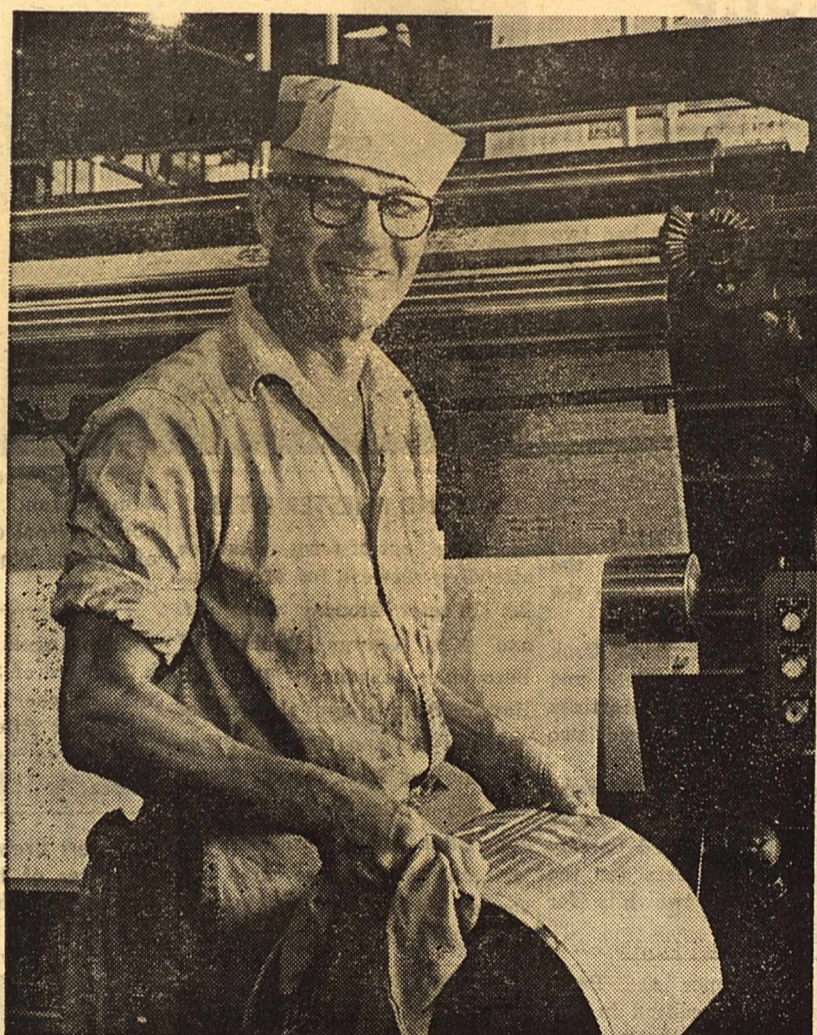

Plant 'em now for tomorrow's enjoyment

Thank you, Texas Newspapers!

For 20 years, Texas newspapers have been giving the government free space in which to advertise U. S. Savings Bonds.

You've seen the ads: you save more than money with U. S. Savings Bonds. Those ads have sold an impressive number of bonds in Texas, bonds that have helped, and are helping, your government defend freedom at a precarious moment in history, when freedom is in desperate need of defending.

When you buy these bonds you serve well the cause of liberty. You enable your country to build up her own defenses without doing damage to her economy. You insure the future for this and succeeding generations.

The space occupied by the ads that sold those bonds was donated to your government — and that means to you — by the newspapers of Texas.

We thought you'd like to know.

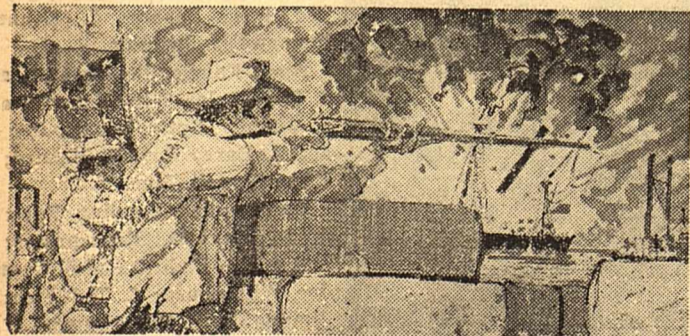

"The public-spirited newspapers of Texas have made an important contribution to the well-being of this country," says Ed Gossett, Co-Chairman of the Texas State Savings Bond Committee.

"We are happy to salute the generous newspapers of this State. They have done their part, and more, in giving the public an understanding of the importance of Savings Bonds — to individual buyers, and to the cause of freedom. And they have certainly made this Committee's job easier."

It happened 100 YEARS ago

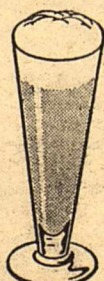

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that

IN TEXAS... near Galveston, Confederate General J. B. Magruder piled cotton bales on the decks of little river boats. These famous "cotton clads," manned by the 26th Texas Cavalry, trounced the Federal war fleet then holding Texas' largest port. As the war ships hastily departed, the event was toasted in good Texas-brewed beer.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation — light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southwestern hospitality to any occasion. Texans have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

C of C Civic Affairs Group Proposes City Cleanup Drive

The Sonora Chamber of Commerce is seeking the co-operation of all community agencies, organizations and individuals in a projected civic cleanup campaign to be launched shortly.

Meeting in the Chamber office, the Civic Affairs Committee, with Ralph J. Finklea as chairman, proposed that one of the most important community betterment activities for the city would be a citywide cleanup campaign. It was pointed out that the recent rains have produced a hazard of weeds which will continue to increase and to contribute to many other hazards affecting the health and general welfare of the citizenry.

With tall, rank weeds come flies, mosquitoes, snakes, mice and rates and germs. Removal of the source of these pests is the overall goal of the campaign.

The proposed program would emphasize mowing and cleaning up of vacant lots where heavy weed growths offer not only a health menace but in many cases obstruct vision of drivers, creating a traffic hazard. It is stressed that, aside from beautification of the city, the removal of fire and health hazards would eliminate breeding grounds for insects and other pests and thus be most important to each person in Sonora.

In order to carry out this project, it will be necessary for all the community to offer co-operation-city, county, churches, schools, and all civic organizations. The committee, in voicing this opinion, passed a resolution thank the Volunteer Fire Department for their recent effort in cleaning up and burning off vacant lots.

Top hitters in the game were Buddy Brown and Ruben Flores who were credited with two hits. The three runs for the Colts came in the ninth inning and were made by George Caldwell, Manuel Mata and Marciano Hernandez. Two of these runs were driven in by Dimitrio Castro who got a double with bases loaded.

The Colts schedule for the next three games is as follows: June 17, Colts vs Eldorado here.

Fisher Blasts Federal Spending

By Congressman O. C. Fisher
THE LEGAL DEBT LIMIT is going up to 308 billion, made necessary by the vast increase in non-military spending. It was raised to $300 billion early this year, and it is quite likely there will be another increase next year. This serves to remind us of our fiscal plight, and it serves to remind us how meaningless a debt ceiling is unless an effort is made to hold annual expenditures within that limit. It would be like a man resolving: "I make only $500 a month and I hereby resolve that I won't spend more than that this month" - and then going out and running up bills totalling $600!

The permanent debt limit was fixed at $275 billion in 1957, but there have been six increases since then. Being convinced that with less non-essential spending the debt ceiling could be honored, I have been voting against the increases.
As an indicator of the trend that is making the debt ceiling meaningless, since 1947 annual outlays for non-military purposes have jumped from $17 billion to $40 billion, much of which has been to finance new and expanded welfare programs and experiments in social planning.

Perhaps the current increase in the debt limit can serve to arouse the American people to the seriousness of spending money we do not have. We have had deficits in 25 out of the last 32 years. This spending spree is inexcusable, particularly during times of prosperity and nearly full employment.

It is time we come to grips with the total of Federal expenditures, if the value of the dollar is to be preserved and more inflation avoided.

New Mission Sterile Fly Plant To Be Dedicated Saturday, June 16

Formal dedication of the new sterile fly production plant at Mission, headquarters of the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program, will be Saturday, June 16.

Dedication ceremonies begin at 10 a.m., Ralph P. Mayer, Sutton County chairman of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, announced. Sutton County producers have played an important role in the completion of the plant by contributing $29,500 of their own funds. All livestock producers and others interested in the eradication of screwworms are invited and urged to attend.

"This day of dedication will be a milestone in the history of Sutton County's livestock industry, as well as the Southwest," Mayer said. "It signals the end of the worst pest Southwest stockmen have ever faced."

"Completion of this plant is the climax of one of the most intensive, voluntary efforts ever made by livestock producers,"

Mayer added. "Their funds built this plant, and it is being dedicated to the improvement of the Southwest livestock industry."

The eradication program is a joint effort by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, and the Texas Animal Health Commission with the cooperation of other agencies and groups. Officials of these organizations will take part in the dedication along with representatives from Oklahoma, New Mexico, Louisiana and Arkansas who are working together to make eradication of the screwworm in all the Southwest complete.

Highlight of the day will be a tour of the plant where visitors will have an opportunity to see all phases of screwworm fly production. The plant will go on tight security regulations the next day with the first flies from the new plant to be released in early July. This will give the volume of flies needed for eradication.

HIGH LIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford

Texas Press Association
For the first time since 1872, Texas Republicans are presenting a strong threat to capture state-wide and legislative offices from the Democrats.

Following his nomination for the Governorship on the Democratic ticket, John Connally took immediate steps to meet the challenge with a united front.

Connally invited all Democratic nominees for state and legislative office to a barbecue to be held on June 16 at his family ranch near Floresville. Purpose: to make some campaign medicine.

Saturday's outing will launch the campaign for the November 6 general election.

Jack Cox of Breckenridge, the Republican nominee or governor, is backed by a slate of 20 nominees for the 23 seats in Congress; 15 candidates for the 31 state senate seats, and 86 candidates for the 150 house seats.

Also there are candidates for county and precinct offices in many counties.

Lined up with Connally will be Waggoner Carr of Lubbock for attorney general, opposed by T. Everton Kennerly of Houston; Preston Smith of Lubbock for lieutenant governor, opposed by O. W. (Bill) Hays of Temple; Jerry Sadler of Palestine for land commissioner, opposed by Albert Fay of Houston; John C. White of Wichita Falls for agriculture commissioner, opposed by Harry Hubbard of Marfa; Ben Ramsey of San Augustine for railroad commissioner, opposed by Bernold M. Hanson of Midland; Jesse James of Austin for state treasurer, opposed by Allen Lacy of Abilene; and Robert S. Calvert of Sweetwater for comptroller, opposed by Mrs. Hargrove Smith of Houston. Republicans are not contesting judicial seats.

The Constitution Party also has fielded a slate of candidates for state office, all but one of

Devil's River Philosopher Ponders Strange Ability Of Russians To Worry About Their Well-Fed Bosses

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Devil's River takes a look at Russian agriculture this week. We guess that's what he's doing.

Dear editor:

As everybody knows, if American space scientists were as far ahead of Russian space scientists as American ranchers and farmers are of Russian farmers, we probably would already have conquered the moon and been eyeing Mars or Venice. In fact, we might have been to those places too and come back saying there's nothing out there worth conquering.

I don't know why this is, unless it's just that ranchers are smarter than scientists, although maybe not as well paid.

But what brought this up was an announcement last week by Mr. Khrushchev that he was raising the price of meat and butter in Russia by 30 percent, and what interested me was the little speech the dictator gave following the increase.

"I wouldn't say this is pleasant for the people," he said, "but the people understand that this is far more unpleasant for the Central Committee and for them from Houston.

SPEAKERSHIP—One of the more important offices in state government is the speakership of the house. Unlike the Senate, however, the people have no voice in the selection.

The speaker is elected by the 150 members of the house. Rep. Byron Tunnell of Tyler laid out the names of 95 Democratic nominees who have pledged to support him, and called on his opponents for the speakership to withdraw.

Rep. C. W. Pearcy, Jr. of Temple did. Another opponent, Ben Glusing of Kingsville, was defeated in the runoff primary, so he no longer is eligible. Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton remained in the race. He claimed 61 pledges.

the rest of the government."

Now this type of "understanding" baffles me. If the Russian people can understand how it's more painful and unpleasant to the Communist bosses, who already have all the cars, all the best apartments, and all the best food, to raise prices on food because there's not enough to go around, then they're far more sensitive than the rest of us.

I can see an ordinary Russian walking past a Communist official's house and imagining him inside eating a steak and buttering his bread and feeling downright sorry for him because he's eating with the memory still fresh in his mind of having to vote to raise the price of meat and butter by 30 percent. It's enough to take away his own appetite for the cabbage soup waiting for him in his one-room apartment.

With this type of understanding, there's no limit to what the Russian bosses can pull off. In time though the Russians may learn that it's easier to order up a space craft than a calf crop.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Public to Build Salk Institute

Through their contributions to the Salk Institute Building Fund, the American people—who formed a partnership with science to bring about the Salk polio vaccine—will again share in a great scientific venture to help man make the best of his gift of life.

When there is a job to be done—whether it's a war to be won or a disease to be conquered—the American people have an amazing way of marshaling their efforts to produce maximum results in minimum time.

Such an effort is under way this month in the nationwide campaign—June 1 through 15—for public support for the construction of the Salk Institute for Biological Studies.

Millions of posters in public places, mailers in home letterboxes, coin collectors and canisters on counters everywhere proclaim, "You Can Build the Salk Institute for Biological Studies . . . for Life, Health and Humanity."

Youngsters who, as "Polio Pioneers," helped prove the effectiveness of the vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk, are expressing their gratitude for their protection from crippling polio with contributions in school envelopes.

People everywhere are proudly wearing tiny microscopes in their lapels, symbolic of their gifts to provide building blocks for a great new laboratory of life.

Millions of Americans, who won a great victory over one dread disease—paralytic polio—in partnership with Dr. Salk and other scientists, welcome this opportunity to become shareholders in a new scientific venture which promises even greater benefits for them and for their children.

As he worked on the polio vaccine, Dr. Salk became more and more aware of the need for a better way to gain greater scientific understanding of the basic processes of life and their relation to health and disease.

In talking with men of science all over the world, he found that others shared his recognition of the need for a place where scientists could work together seeking answers to basic biological questions from many viewpoints, with fullest latitude for research, discussion and exchange of ideas.

Dr. Salk's planning will culminate in 1963 with the opening of the Salk Institute for Biological Studies, which he will direct, in San Diego, Calif.

The land has been given by vote of the people of San Diego. The entire nation will contribute to the construction of the Institute through a campaign sponsored by The National Foundation—March of Dimes—just as the American people totally supported Dr. Salk's polio research.

"...FOR LIFE, HEALTH AND HUMANITY"

YOU CAN BUILD THE SALK INSTITUTE FOR BIOLOGICAL STUDIES

The Institute will serve as an international "crossroads" for new ideas and discoveries. Eminent scholars from such diverse sciences as biology, genetics, chemistry, physics, mathematics and philosophy will join Dr. Salk there as Senior Fellows. Visiting scientists will come from all parts of the world, and promising young men and women will be invited as Student Fellows to work with and learn from the established leaders.

Construction and equipment of the Salk Institute will cost approximately $15 million.

Through their generous support of the Salk Institute Building Fund, the American people, who took such a vital part through the March of Dimes in bringing about the momentous medical discovery that was the Salk vaccine, will bring to reality a great international scientific center, dedicated to helping man make the best of his gift of life.

WHY

Do So Many Home Buyers Insist on Medallion Homes?

"Live Better Electrically," the advertising slogan says. Modern homemakers know that it's more than a mere slogan—it's a fact. You CAN live better electrically when you buy a Medallion home. Here's why. The man who built that home, the Medallion home, EARNED the privilege of displaying the medallion by observing certain minimum electrical standards in the design and construction of the home, and in the appliances which are a part of the plan for living. It has been called "the Hallmark of Excellence." And it is. So look for the "Live Better Electrically" medallion when you are thinking of buying a new home. Enjoy FLAMELESS electric living!

Talks Underway For Seasons On P'entiful Doves

With the outlook favorable for a good dove crop this fall, new season regulations are now being discussed, according to H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission. Dodgen is meeting in Corpus Christi Friday with representatives of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, to discuss a proposal for a change in the season dates in that area. Valley residents believe that the mourning dove season there should open earlier than the traditional October 1 date. They are also seeking to have the whitewing dove season on alternate days rather than consecutive days, as in the past two years.

On June 26 there will be a national dove conference in Washington, to discuss dove population, length of seasons, and open date brackets on which the Game and Fish Commission can set up this year's hunting season in Texas. Representatives from all the states where dove hunting is permitted will be present at the conference in Washington.

Reports from the field now indicate, according to Dodgen, that a heavy brood stock of doves remains in Texas for nesting this year. Thousands of these mourners can be seen along the highway in practically every section of the state. Reports from the Rio Grande Valley also indicate a heavy whitewing nesting population this year. There have been no reports as yet from the middle West as to the mourning dove situation, but generally there is a heavy migration through the Middle West to Texas during the fall and winter months. These are known as the "fat northern doves."
