Clean-Up Week Really Keeping City Trucks Busy

Sonora is over 72 loads of trash cleaner than before Mayor A. E. Prugel proclaimed last week as clean-up week.

With a fire a day . . . and sometime more . . . Sonorans declared open season on some of the fire season causes. They kept the city trucks busy for six days answering pick-up calls. City Utilities Manager R. M. McCarver says they still have trash to pick up that was not ready for hauling away during the official clean-up week.

From the firemen's standpoint, the clean-up was a success. Sonora Fire Marshal John A. Martin, Jr. says: "Let's keep it up and keep the city cleaned up for safety and beauty and to keep fire insurance rates down."

Odds And Ends

Well, Saturday is the deadline on the All-Time All-Star football contest. There is still time to figure out your choices.

Reports are that the 1962 Bronco team is looking good and that indications are that it will be a good season in spite of the handicap of the up-grading in classification.

The first-of-season muscle strain is wearing off and players are in good condition. They looked good in the scrimmage with Del Rio Tuesday night and we anticipate watching some good games beginning September 7 when Iraan comes over.

Slight Phone Rate Increase Granted Phone Company By City

Sonora City Council met in a special session at 9 a.m. Thursday, August 23 and gave unanimous approval of a telephone rate increase, subject to study and checking by City Attorney J. W. Elliott.

Tentative approval came after an hour and a half of crisp discussion of a 75 cent a month increase on business phones and a 25 cent increase on residential phones. This was by way of a compromise settlement on the $1.00 a month increase for businesses and 50 cents on residences, asked for at the beginning of the meeting by R. B. Bailey, General Telephone Company of the Southwest. Originally the telephone people had submitted a considerably higher request, as much as $2.50 more on business, with $1.25 more on home phone. Their first request at the council meeting Thursday was considerably toned down.

Mayor A. E. Prugel had opened the meeting by saying, "Legally, you may be able to increase rates so you can make a six per cent profit, but this places no responsibility on management. You can manage as loosely as possible and come back to the municipality for a return on investment."

Commissioner Fred T. Earwood asked the telephone people for a decrease in rates instead of an increase.

J. L. Stambaugh of General Telephone assured the Commissioner Sonora is not in a position for a cut. "You have the lowest rate in your area. And we have few exchanges where we have rural lines extending this far."

The lively debate was concluded with Commissioner W. B. McMillian voicing the motion for approval of the compromise rate increase, subject to Elliott's study.

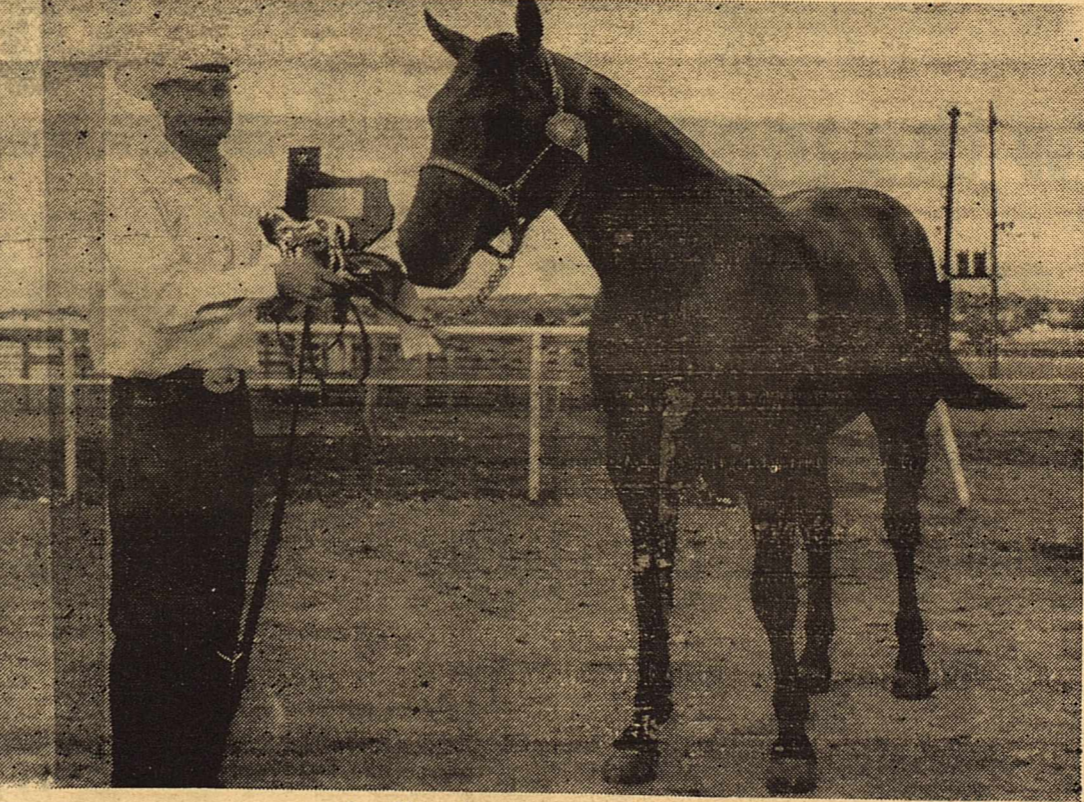

"I reluctantly second it," was Earwood's word. And McMillian retorted "I reluctantly made it."

The meeting adjourned with Councilman Earwood admonishing the telephone representatives, "If you come back down here in a year or two, I'm going to take a different attitude."

General Telephone serves 144 businesses and 622 residences in the Sonora area. Four-party service in residence will be retained where now installed, but will not be offered in the future. If finally approved, the rate increase will be reflected on October 11 telephone bills.

At press time, the council had accepted the above compromise increase, according to Mayor A. E. Prugel. The denied the telephone company's request for an increase on home extensions. J. W. Elliott's study showed that an increase on business phone extensions was in line, but an increase on home extensions would have given General Telephone Company of the Southwest profits beyond what they said they must have from this area.

The Devil's River Philosopher Bowled Over By City Writer's Ideas On Solution To The Ranch Problem

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Devil's River has gotten hold of another big city newspaper, with the following results.

Dear editor:
 If I lived in a city surrounded by all those unsolved problems like traffic, lack of tax money, time, congestion, crowded classrooms in schools, parking, etc., I'd devote my time to solving the ranch problem, and it was with considerable interest I ran into a newspaper which a puff of August wind turned up out here on this bitterweed ranch the other day with an article in it by a big city columnist discussing the ranch problem. He has a brand new explanation for the ranch surplus was due to the fact us ranchers are just more capable than say for example the space scientists. Everybody from President Kennedy on down admits the Russians are ahead of us in space, just as everybody from Mr. Khrushchev on down admits us American ranchers are ahead of the Russians in food production. I don't want to brag, but there are the facts.

But this big city columnist has a different explanation altogether. According to him, "all this productivity in American agriculture is not necessarily the result of progress." He claims that "federal policies have been drawing into agriculture the small-town banker, the small-town doctor and anybody else after a fast buck."

In other words, it's all those small-town bankers and small-town doctors and lawyers who have bought up the ranch land and produced the surplus in order to make some fast bucks. Wasn't us ranchers at all.

Now I don't want to criticize this city columnist, and after all, you've got to remember that one of the most inviting things about the farm problem is that anybody can offer a solution to it, safe in the knowledge that nobody else has found the right answer either, but what I'd like to know is where are all these bankers and doctors and lawyers who are making all those fast bucks by ranching.

Now I know some bankers and doctors and lawyers who own some land, but it has been my opinion that all of them together haven't added over two inches to the mile-high surplus, and as for making any money, fast bucks or slow ones, I'm afraid that city columnist hasn't had an opportunity to examine their ranch ledgers. And I notice very few of them are giving up their jobs in town to really go wholehog after those fast bucks out in the country.

Another nice thing about the ranch problem is that it puts city columnists in the same class

Drivers Education Classes Decrease

Fewer than half of Texas public schools offers driver education this year. Less than a third of private schools offers such courses.

J. O. Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safty Association, feels this participation in driver education by the school system is far too small, since safety engineers believe that such education is the key to traffic accident prevention. To train the drivers before they form bad driving habits is Musick's answer to our Texas death toll of an average of seven a day on our roads.

The Texas Safety Association urges all students to take available driver education courses. School administrators may fit the 30 clock hours of classroom instruction in the regular school curriculum and then schedule the 12 hours of observation and practice driving in the summer school session, if impractical now.

In Texas, students may be granted a driver's license after they reach the age of 14 if they have successfully completed driver education courses that meet requirements and if they make a passing grade on Department of Public Safety examinations.

The only other way for anyone under the legal driving age of sixteen to obtain a driver's license is in a case of hardship, where the person has to drive. He still must pass the examinations and be at least age 14.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fields and John David had as their guests last weekend their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. David L. Smith, Lisa and Beth of Abilene, with country columnists when it comes to finding a solution, and if I lived in a big city with all those city problems closing in on me, I'd attack the ranch problem myself at least twice a week and sometimes on Sunday. Yours faithfully, J. A.

How the money you save for your family's future can help your country now

Some up-to-date facts about the U.S. Savings Bond way to security

It takes more than arithmetic to add up the benefits you get from U.S. Savings Bonds. You'll have no trouble counting the dollars and cents at 3 3/4% interest, but the other benefits—not so easily counted—are every bit as necessary to your family's future.

One of these benefits is freedom itself.

Every dollar you invest in a Savings Bond gives Uncle Sam exactly that much more help in the vital task of safeguarding liberty today. You not only save money, at the same time you also help save your future freedom to enjoy it.

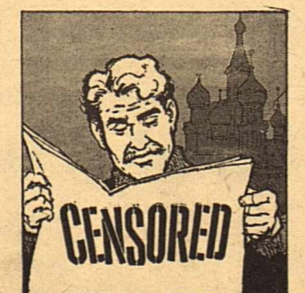

That's why Bonds are such a sound way today to reach any savings goal. With Bonds, you save for a home and a better world to build it in. With Bonds, you save for your own retirement and the liberty to enjoy it as you choose.

Why not buy a Bond today? All you need is $18.75 and a little of the "spirit of '76."

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

Why buy this Bond? One important reason for buying Savings Bonds today is to help preserve your freedom to own a share in your country.

Communism clamps blinders on the mind. One of America's great strengths is our free press. Keep freedom in your future with U.S. Savings Bonds.

The rhyme is not without reason. Mary really did have a little lamb that went to school in New England in 1806. The famous animal was a descendant of sheep Columbus brought over on his second voyage in 1493.

Next month countless great-grandchildren of Mary's lamb will be honored by American Wool Month. The famous lamb's descendants have been shedding their coats, and the only market is the American woolen mill. The sobering thought is that the only market for our mills' product is you and me.

"Imported" on woolen goods once meant superiority. It now often means a shoddy, poorly-cut, low-wage-produced garment that drives the consumer into the arms of synthetics.

"Made in U.S.A." is still a badge of pride, a badge that means widening employment for American designers, manufacturers and merchandisers of a wide range of fabrics and clothing that originate on the sheep's back.

American Wool Month—September—is for us. And if this is more emotional than promotional, we make no apology. We are glad we are still emotional about well-made things labeled 'U.S.A.'

Local Boys' Ranch Stock Roundup Slated Tuesday

"Don't Brand a Boy, Build Man" is the slogan at Boys' Ranch of West Texas and is the spirit behind a concentrated one-day drive to gather livestock here at the listock pens on Tuesday, September 4.

All livestock collected here will be sold at the San Angelo Auction with proceeds, of course, going to Boys' Ranch.

Boys' Ranch of West Texas is a community project caring for "Hardluck" boys, including the homeless, neglected and dependent. Boys' Ranch is unique in that it receives no federal funds. Its entire budget is maintained by donations of area people.

Anyone wishing to give stock for this purpose should contact either Dr. Joe David Ross or J. M. VanderStucken. They express appreciation to those in the area who have already donated livestock for the good of Boys' Ranch.

How to speak out for Freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertising. The Treasury Department thanks the Advertising Council and the newspaper for their patriotic support.

Fifteenth Annual Ram Progeny Test

The fifteenth annual Ram Progeny and Performance Test will begin Wednesday, September 19, at Sub-Station 14 near here. The Test is open to both commercial and registered breeders.

Rams will be received between September 5 and September 12. September 12 will be the last day rams may be received and they will be shorn on September 12 and 13, weather permitting.

Breeders will assume full costs of feed, shearing, vaccine and drench materials used. Labor of feeding, veterinary supervision and fleece scouring will be furnished by the Station. All wool sheared from rams tested at the station becomes the property of the station to offset the costs of feed preparation. As in the past a deposit of $25.00 per head will be made on all rams entered.

Rams should be submitted in sire groups of four each; however, singles and doubles may be placed on test and included in open lot groups. Sire groups will be accommodated in the sire group pens insofar as facilities permit and pens will be assigned as entries are received.

Rambouillet rams may be entered on test to participate in the Registry of Merit program adopted by the American Rambouillet Breeders Association.

Both fall-dropped and spring-dropped lambs may be considered as candidates for the ROM program. Fall-dropped lambs must have been dropped between November 15, 1961 and January 15, 1962. Spring-dropped lambs must have been dropped between February 15, 1962 and April 15, 1962.

Rams of any breed without restriction as to pedigree may be submitted for testing. General age requirement is that only animals aged five to ten months be tested.

A new supplement to the Ram Progeny Test Program is being offered this year. Sire groups (four lambs, ewes and/or wethers) will be fed a fattening ration starting approximately the same time as the Ram Progeny Test and will be fed 90 to 100 days. The lambs will then be slaughtered in the Meats Laboratory at Texas A. & M. College and complete carcass information will be obtained. The breeder will be expected to pay for the feed and incidental expenses and will be required to make a deposit of $15.00 per head at the beginning of the test. Final settlement will be made at the end of the test.

The breeder is also required to pay $5.00 per head for slaughtering and for processing the data. The cooperators will be paid the slaughter day's Fort Worth top price for his grade of lambs. These lambs may be brought to the Station at the same time as the ram lambs for the progeny test.

Additional information and application forms may be obtained from Jim Menzies at the Experiment Station.

Unemployment! A Paradox, Says Fisher

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

A STRANGE PARADOX has developed out of the 5.3% unemployment in the country and the fact that many jobs are unfilled because they do not suit the people who are out of work.

A recent national survey has revealed a multitude of jobs remain unfilled because no one will take them. For example, in Cleveland, the State Employment Service has failed for six months to fill 100 job openings for waitresses. In San Francisco some financial firms are finding it difficult to locate clerical help despite a plentiful supply of unemployed looking for office jobs. The problem is reported to be that the jobless are too "choosy" about what they do and how much they get paid.

In Los Angeles an Employment Service has an order for 50 odd-job workers, but cannot fill them. Temporary jobs on farms are almost impossible to fill.

In Houston, an Employment Service tried to get some unemployed job-seekers to work as dishwashers. They tell me 'I'm drawing $28 a week unemployment now; why should I take a $30 job?' reports an official.

In Cleveland an order for a bus-boy to work in a private club at $50 a week and meals goes unfilled.

And the report goes on at length listing job opportunities that can't be filled because the unemployed don't like that kind of work or else they think they are better off drawing unemployment compensation.

YET, IN CHICAGO, last week the AFL-CIO's 29-man Executive Council, viewing with alarm the unemployment, opened a massive drive to reduce work weeks to 35, hours and require double pay (instead of 1½) for overtime, without any reduction in the income of workers. A task force was set up to draft legislation and turn the heat on Congress to pass legislation next year along this line.

Obviously, this would be highly inflationary and by increasing prices any gain the workers might achieve, viewed from any standpoint, would be eaten away by increased prices. And the entire Nation would suffer.

ACTUALLY, there is nothing particularly alarming about the present level of unemployment. There are now, have always been, and will always be a vast number of people who simply don't want to work. Others are unemployed during a change in jobs. Others are looking for easy money, including gamblers, criminals, etc. And there are many young people included in the statistics who have not had time to get themselves established, including many living at home and are in no big hurry about it. Moreover, strike idleness in 1962 is 60% above the 1961 period.

Skylight One Rivals Mariner 2 In Local Launch

While America's Mariner 2 spacecraft sped toward an intended December rendezvous with the planet Venus, a chunk of Sonora property had its own brief jaunt into space.

Employees at Sonora Electric heard a screeching, ripping and tearing in the back of the building. Owner Nelson Stubblefield composed himself and went back to investigate and found the massive, peaked skylight completely removed and sitting at complete crosspurposes with its space in the roof.

Alice Lee Duncan, who works in the store, said that she had seen a brief whirlwind out through the back just before the freak accident took place. It is getting the credit for the displaced skylight, found to have been originally secured with three large nails. Stubblefield has battened down the hatches and is ready for any Texas-size whirlwind that hits from now on.

Sonora broke its own record in water consumption with the use of over 41 million gallons this past month. This is 10 million more gallons than last month.

The plant is often being pumped to capacity, but there has been no water shortage here in contrast to the rationing being exercised in other West Texas communities.
