It's Going To Be A Close One So Join Texans At The Polls

Beware The Leaven

Because we vote unintelligently . . . because men abuse the latitude found in public office . . . bring on the comment that our country would be better off ruled by one wise, honest central king, who could surely do better for us than we do for ourselves. Decent citizens sometimes lose interest in voting at any level because they feel the same as Harry Truman on the last Democratic convention, "It's all rigged." My vote cannot matter.

Recently, the President of the United States said in Chicago, "I am not asking for one-party government, I am asking that you vote for the one party which is willing to work for progress. I am asking for enough help to get the job done. In the 87th Congress the health-care bill was defeated in the Senate by ONE vote, the full powers of the trade bill were saved by ONE vote, the original emergency public works bill was defeated by ONE vote, and in the House the bill was defeated by five votes." The President thinks one vote does matter. The Devil's River News agrees. If we told you how and you followed blindly . . . the reason for voting would be lost. Voting is personal. And it's like old-fashioned "everlasting" yeast . . . everlasting if you keep it alive. Voting is the leaven that will surely die unless you, personally, preserve it for your sons' sons.

Voters in Sutton County will join voters across the state of Texas Tuesday in casting their ballots in what promises to be one of the most interesting elections in the state in years. Candidates for the important state offices have conducted real grassroots campaigns, appearing in person or having representatives speak for them in all areas of the state.

Sutton County voters have had the opportunity to hear Dolph Briscoe, Jr. of Uvalde speak for Democratic gubernatorial candidate John Connally. They have also had the opportunity to hear Republican gubernatorial candidate Jack Cox and GOP candidate for Congressman-At-Large Des Barry in person here.

Also up for decision are 14 proposed amendments to the state constitution. These amendments, as well as platforms of the various candidates, are afforded resumes elsewhere in this issue of the Devil's River News.

Odds And Ends

There are very darn few people in Sutton County who don't know right now who they're going to vote for come Tuesday. Some of us may switch our loyalty from one candidate to another between now and election day but by and large, if we voted today the outcome of the election would be the same that it will be come November 6.

That's all well and good, officials are elected, they serve a few years or a few terms, leave a record behind or a precedent or a policy. Man, like it or not, is mortal. Constitutions, like it or not, are not. Good ones and bad ones.

There are those who feel that Texas is in need of a new constitution. Not being up on the matter, we would neither agree nor disagree. All we know about constitutions is that while it is relatively simple to amend one it's harder than blazes to get rid of an amendment once it's been made.

We've got 14 proposed amendments staring us in the face when we go to vote Tuesday and some of them are pretty controversial. The folks who want them want them bad and those who don't want them, don't want them bad.

So what to do? How to vote? How to find out what the amendments are all about? Well, sir, just to put it bluntly, you can't find out. The amendments in full and as they appear on the ballot are so full of legal language that only the men who wrote them out could hope to understand them fully.

So what are we going to do? Well, here's what we plan to do—if we think we know what the amendment is all about we'll vote our convictions—if we can't figure the darn thing out, we'll scratch it out. Seems to us the safe thing to do. Got to do some studying between now and Tuesday so we can anticipate just how much pencil lead it's going to take to get through those amendments!

City - County Civil Defense Unit Set Up, Appointments Made

A joint Sonora-Sutton County Civil Defense, made possible by enabling ordinances effected by previous meetings, was organized last Thursday and Friday in accord with the national Civil Defense set-up.

The attack alert signal is a series of short blasts from the sound device located on Eaton Hill. Attack all-clear is three one-minute blasts with two minutes between.

Broncs Take AA Opener With Victory Over McCamey

The Sonora Broncos took their first 7-AA conference victory this season with a 23-0 victory over the McCamey Badgers in the district opener here last Friday night. It was the Broncos' fourth win for seven tries this season.

Following are candidates listed on the Sutton County Ballot in the General Election, November 6. The Devil's River News contacted all candidates who had not supplied us with platform-biographical material. We have summarized information made available to us for our readers. A brief summary of Texas Constitutional Amendments, analyzed by the Devil earlier this year, is also listed.

Governor

JACK COX
Republican

Jack Cox was born August 20, 1921, one of five children. He worked his way through the University of Texas and North Texas State University for a degree in Government. Cox volunteered for the Navy during World War II, and continued in the Navy Reserve, where he attained the rank of Lt. Commander. Upon his return to civilian life, he was elected to the State Legislature in 1946, and again in 1948 and 1950, unopposed in each race. He served on 12 different committees during his six years in the Texas Legislature, including Oil, Gas, and Mining; Revenue and Taxation; and Appropriations, where he served as Vice Chairman.

During and after his years in the legislature, Cox owned and operated an automobile agency business and oil and gas production companies.

In 1961 Jack Cox stated publicly that his conservative principles were of most service to the people of Texas through the Republican Party.

His principles include the following: Competition in political parties and in business in Texas, reduction in taxes through decreased government expenditures, respect of powers delegated to the central government and those reserved to the states, complete revision of Texas election laws insuring a secret ballot, opposition to federal control in education, agriculture, and medicine.

As a student of government and a lawmaker, Cox foresees no difficulty in working with the Legislature, where he says he found issues are involved rather than party politics. Cox has favored an economic blockade of Cuba and restoration of the Monroe Doctrine since the beginning of the Cuban crisis, as written into his printed literature before September. He is quoted in the September 13 San Antonio News: "It's time to call their bluff. Khrushchev's threat that if the U. S. touches Cuba it will likely set off a nuclear war, must be met."

JOHN CONNALLY
Democrat

John B. Connally was born February 27, 1917, one of seven children. He worked his way through the University of Texas and was licensed to practice law in 1938. Immediately he took a position as Congressional Secretary to then Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, a position he resigned in 1941 to volunteer for the Navy, where he rose to Lt. Commander. In 1945 Connally helped organize Radio Station KVET in Austin, where he was its president-manager for three years. He served as its president-manager for three years. He served as administrative assistant to Senator Lyndon B. Johnson for ten months in 1949. From 1949 to 1952 he was a partner in the law firm of Powell, Wirtz and Rauhaut in Austin.

Connally was a Fort Worth attorney at the time of his appointment as Secretary of the Navy on December 27, 1960 by then President-elect John F. Kennedy. He received top secret clearance from the CIA. He held this cabinet post from January 1962 for one year, when he came home to run for the highest post in Texas.

"... and Mr. Connally's quiet confidence in the state of readiness of the Navy and the Marine Corps, plus the President's 'well-done' accolade, are evidence that he has done a highly creditable job." This was his home paper's comment editorially in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram when he announced for governor.

Connally, described by the Austin American as a "moderate conservative in the enlightened and modern sense of the term", has strong appeal in the fields of Health and Welfare for Senator Citizens, in giving women equal rights and appointing women to certain areas of government, changing Highway Department and adding a Bureau of Commerce, establishing a foreign relations service school in Texas, and in working to see that the balance of power in the state Legislature is in the hands of city not rural legislators.

This is Connally's first race for an elective public office.

JACK CARSWELL
Constitution

Jack Carswell, age 39, says he meets all the qualifications for governor as set forth in the Constitution of Texas. He is a funeral director by occupation and declares he is not a professional politician or lobbyist.

Carswell says he is for the Texas Constitution as it stands. Amendments should be perfect, not rewrite the Constitution.

He is opposed to sales tax as a state revenue means, but Carswell thinks poll tax is a good form of registration of qualified voters and supports poll tax until someone comes up with a better method of registration.

Lt. Governor

PRESTON SMITH
Democrat

Preston Smith, born 50 years ago and a businessman for half that time, has served six years each in the Senate and House in the Texas legislature.

Senator Smith has sponsored numerous bills on behalf of newspapers, such as the Open Meetings Bill and a Legal Rate Bill. The Senator stands for the following: To simplify the general sales tax, correct the auto insurance merit plan, economy in government, women's rights, and adequate care of the aged, needy and blind. He is for putting Texas business in the black by attracting new industry, new tourists, new incomes, new jobs.

BILL HAYES
Republican

Bill Hayes left the farm when he was 22 to serve as a Republican legislator and was on the Ways and Means Committee. He served as aide to the governor. Listed in the World Who's Who of Commerce and Industry, Hayes is presently an executive in a farm equipment firm. Bill was in professional baseball and received the Sporting News award as Number One Executive of the Year in the Minor Leagues in 1951.

Hayes stands for: A positive program to teach our heritage in Texas schools, open proceedings in the Texas Senate, reduction of sales tax, an economy commission, instruction for armed forces on evils of Communism.

The August 8 Standard-Times reported the GOP candidate blasted the federal government's proposed transfer of part of El Paso to Mexico. "They are carrying the new frontier too far," he said.

Attorney General

WAGGONER CARR
Democrat

Waggoner Carr, age 43, has served as Speaker of the Texas House; County Attorney and Assistant District Attorney; and he has had 15 years law practice in state and federal courts. He is a graduate of Texas Technological College and University of Texas Law School.

"My platform," Carr stated, "is strengthening the law where needed and vigorous enforcement, once enacted." Carr says the Attorney General must at all times maintain the dignity of the Constitution and Laws without regard to whether he personally approves.

T. EVERTON KENNERLY
Republican

Everton Kennerly, age 59 has practiced law in Houston for 37 years. He received his academic and legal education at the University of Texas and was licensed in Texas in 1925 and before U. S. Supreme Court in 1939.

Everton Kennerly, son of Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly, was nominated by President Eisenhower for U. S. District Judge, but adjournment of the Senate came before his confirmation. Kennerly says his long practice as a trial and consultant lawyer gives him the experience to vigorously enforce the laws, especially here local prosecution is lax or breaks down.

Congress-At-Large

DES BARRY
Republican

Des Barry, age 54, is a high school graduate and is president of a truck line in Houston. He was a USAF officer four years and consultant to the Mexican Air Force for five years.

Barry says he would not write so many new laws, but he would repeal some. The man, who bucked the Teamsters Union and won, says the U.S. must remove political and economic restraints that are denying free enterprise growth and expansion.

JOE POOL
Democrat

Joe Pool, age 50, attended Texas University and received his law degree from Southern Methodist University. He is president of Alden Mills, was a member of Texas House 6 years, and in Army Intelligence during World War II.

Joe Pool says the national government problem that interests him most is "to do everything possible to maintain our superiority over the Communist countries, that the money necessary for our defense is a 'must', and as a member of Congress will support a program in this regard."

R. R. Commissioner

BEN RAMSEY
Democrat

No answer received.

BERNOLD M. HANSON
Republican

Bernold M. Hanson, age 33, is an independent geologist with a Master of Arts in Geology from University of Wyoming. He has worked in all phases of exploratory production and in the economics of oil.

Comptroller

ROBERT S. CALVERT
Democrat

Robert S. Calvert, appointed to this position in 1949, is a former Santa Fe Railroad clerk, warehouse foreman and cashier and former assistant cashier of the First National Bank in Sweetwater.

MRS. HARGROVE SMITH
Republican

Mrs. Hargrove Smith of Houston, has an accounting-banking background with administrative experience with the First National Bank of Beaumont, the Austin National, Mercantile National of Dallas. She is a one-time editor of a weekly newspaper.

In her campaign, Mrs. Smith quotes from a Texas Government textbook, "The state's primary financial reports and statements are prepared in the comptroller's office, but they are few in number and often inadequate in content... Balance sheets are unheard of in the state's accounting system, except for those prepared by the state auditor during the course of his post-audits of the various spending agencies." She promises the people of Texas a better accounting of their money.

JOSEPH M. RUMMLER
Constitution

Com. Land Office

JERRY SADLER
Democrat

Jerry Sadler, age 54, is an attorney, currently serving his first terms in the office for which he is seeking re-election. He was a Member of the Railroad Commission and of the Texas House of Representatives.

Sadler pledges a continued fight to protect the interests of the people of Texas against further dissipation of and encroachments upon their public lands by selfish interests.

ALBERT B. FAY
Republican

Albert B. Fay, age 49, is a graduate of Yale with a degree in Geology. He has for the past twenty-five years been in the business of handling lands, buying, selling, leasing for oil and gas, farming, grazing and timber planting.

Fay feels he can manage the lands belonging to the state and the Veterans Land Program so the maximum benefit will insure to all.

Prior to his election as Commissioner of Agriculture, White was a teacher and then head of the Department of Agriculture, Midwestern University, Wichita Falls. He graduated with an agricultural degree from Texas Tech at Lubbock and did graduate work at Texas A. & M.

White says he has brought self-supporting measures that have given the people more for less tax dollars. He deplores the fact that people confuse this office with federal restrictions and aids to agriculture. The Texas commissioner, White says, is empowered to enforce laws pertaining to insect control, weights and measures protection, seed certification, market information etc.

HARRY HUBBARD
Republican

Harry J. Hubbard, age 52, is a cattle rancher at Marfa. He graduated from United States Military Academy, spent 24 years in U.S. Army in combat and in the Pentagon.

Hubbard says he would reorient Texas Department of Agriculture from an ultraliberal course to one of conservatism based on Constitutional principle, states rights, free enterprise and individual freedom. He says he would use the office as Texas public representative to fight for liberation of Texas agriculture from socialistic programs that have raised food prices for the past ten years.

A Statement From O. C. Fisher

In Congress I am a conservative who votes consistently against waste and extravagance and in favor of a balanced budget. I like to keep the government out of business as much as possible. We need to encourage the free enterprise system and encourage more do-it-yourself rather than have-the-government-do-it-for-you. In other words, I strongly support states rights and I resist federal encouragement into those areas of endeavor which can and should be handled on the local level.

As one who helped draft the Taft-Hartley Act, I have always supported effective legislation to control labor unions and to protect the public interest against abuses on the part of unions and management where there is a conflict of interest. I favor placing labor unions under the anti-trust laws, and have introduced bills to accomplish that, along with other needed reforms and improvements.

I always support legislation designed to protect and stabilize our sheep and goat industries. In this connection, I helped promote the federal participation in the screwworm eradication program.

CHECK THE WINNERS; NO SCORES, PLEASE

Jack Cox . . . candidate for Governor . . . has six years experience in Texas Legislature, is a Navy veteran, family man, member of the First Christian Church . . . believes in the people of Texas. Jack believes in keeping the power of the state and federal government within your hands . . . he believes in conserving your individual liberty.

You Know Where JACK COX Stands !

On Party Loyalty

Devotion to principle is far more important to Jack Cox than blind party "loyalty." He has demonstrated the courage to throw off party shackles rather than compromise his convictions. Jack Cox will not support liberal candidates or platforms . . . either nationally or locally . . . regardless of which party presents them! His opponent will not . . . and can not . . . make this statement.

On Local Self-Government

Jack Cox believes that government closest to the people is best. Therefore, he will vigorously oppose the creation of a "super-mayor" for Texas cities and towns through a Federal Department of Urban Affairs.

On State Spending

Jack Cox believes a critical study of state spending is long past due by someone who is not afraid of skeletons in the political closet. Recent Texas-based Federal scandals point to the abuses which accompany big bureaucracy . . . particularly a bureaucracy which operates under the monopoly of a single party rule for generations. Jack Cox believes there is room for economy in a state budget of $2,600,000,000. Not being tied to any political machine, he will recommend changes where needed.

On Medical Care

Jack Cox has full confidence in the capacity of private medicine to meet the medical needs of our people, and he will oppose any program leading to socialized medicine.

On Education

Jack Cox knows that Federal aid must bring Federal control of our educational institutions. As Governor, Jack Cox will stand up for the right of Texans to continue to build their school facilities and improve education at all levels to suit the needs of Texas children. Jack Cox will tell Washington master planners the people of Texas do not solicit, do not want, and will not accept Federal "Aid" to Education!

On Water Conservation

Jack Cox believes constructive, creative co-operation between all branches of government and private enterprise will provide the water necessary for continued expansion of Texas industry, agriculture and personal use.

On Election Law Reform

Jack Cox believes every voter has the right to cast a secret ballot and to have an honest vote count. As Governor, he will work for repeal of special privilege legislation permitting one man to run for two offices at the same time.

On A Two-Party System

Jack Cox believes that continued one-party rule leads inevitably to corruption and abuse of power, increasing the cost of government and decreasing freedom of choice. As Governor of Texas, Jack Cox will bring a new era of political responsibility to Texas, and he will lead the National Republican Party in writing a conservative platform and nominating a conservative candidate to lead the ticket in 1964.

On States Rights

Jack Cox believes that Texas independence from Washington control is deeply imbedded in our state's history. The progressive destruction of Texas ideals of local self-government is an insult to our heritage. As Governor, Jack Cox will fight to reverse this trend.

On Taxes

Jack Cox will hold the line on taxes. He firmly believes that honest, business-like government can reduce the tax burden at all levels. He is unalterably opposed to a state income tax and to increasing any taxes whatsoever! Jack Cox favors a Constitutional Amendment limiting the sales tax to the present 2 percent.

On International Affairs

Jack Cox believes our overriding national goal must be victory over Communism. For this reason, he favors an immediate economic blockade of Communist Cuba and restoring the Monroe Doctrine. Cox opposes aid to Communist countries and any program which will disarm our military.

On Industrial Development

As your governor, Jack Cox will be Texas' number one salesman. The election of Jack Cox . . . a true conservative . . . will provide dramatic proof to business throughout the United States that Texas will have a favorable business climate. New industry will come to Texas and provide more jobs and better jobs at better pay for Texas workers.

On Agriculture

Jack Cox will fight to regain the freedom Texas farmers and ranchers have lost to the ruthless Washington farm bureaucracy. As Governor of Texas he will work with and represent farmers, ranchers . . . and consumers . . . in their fight to get rid of economic blackmail and dictatorial programs forced on them by the Secretary of Agriculture.

On Right To Work

As a member of the Texas State Legislature, Jack Cox was one of the leading advocates of a right to work law. He believes no man or woman should be forced to pay tribute to obtain or hold a job, and as Governor he will fight to keep Texas' Right to Work Law.

La Diabla

By Linda Groda

I was checking the Devil's River News to see if all the headlines and the stories matched. They did, but there was a big Sonora Democrat's son running on the Republican ticket. Then I checked another story. It was the story of my death. And that's what I get for dreaming.

President Kennedy dreamed he was making speeches on attractive subjects such as welfare, wages, jobs... but he looked up and people were taking notes and asking questions about things out of the past like the Monroe Doctrine. They held up hostile placards and finally booed him heartily in New Haven, Connecticut. (According to U. S. News and Report he didn't dream it at all.)

Mine was a dream, but the President's was not. The Chief Executive found it all too true along the campaign trail. The people did not want pocketbook schemes. They did not like to hear the top executive playing tricks or treats with federal funds as though they were his to pass out to states that voted as he said. So the President went home sick, wishing it was all a bad dream. He was sick, but some of the press party thought it was a "diplomatic illness."

But John Kennedy has a virile political mind. If Cuba was really what the people wanted, Cuba he game them.

Somehow nothing is very convincing about the Cuban "vic-

THE WOMEN'S PAGE

BIRTHDAY PARTY HONORS LANCE LARREMORE OCT. 30

Mrs. David L. Locklin entertained with a party in her home for her grandson, Lance Larremore of Odessa, on his first birthday October 30 at 3:00 p.m. Halloween favors of plastic panties and invitations of coveralls and pinafores accented the toddler's day.

Chairman Khrushchev says he will dismantle his missiles, if we will not invade. Will he? If the United Nations inspected and called 'all clear', could you bet on it? Who inspects the inspectors?

Our President says Russian spokesmen were repeatedly untruthful about missiles in Cuba. When does a Communist return to truth, that one is assured is truth? What have we gained except assurance from people whose assurances mean nothing?

It's going to be a long cold war, but it's neither colder nor hotter than before the quarantine. Nothing changed in Cuba. John S. Knight, a respectable name in newspapers, was aware back in July, when Soviet ships were unloading, that the President was aware that this was an arms build-up. Nothing changed in the Caribbean. Something did change for the President along the campaign trail.

I don't think I'll head for the hills. If I wasn't buying cans and bottling up water in July, August, September and before October 22, I won't start now, when things are supposed to be looking up for our side. We've stood up to the Big Man in Russia. We've extracted a promise we can't believe to be checked by a World Police System we can't trust... that is, unless you liked the outcome of Korea. Oh, well, that's the way the coup bounces.

And everybody's running conservative or moderate in Texas this season. They do all look alike, unless you look at their promises and pasts.

Abraham Lincoln once said in 1865: "The shepherd drives the wolf from the sheep's throat, for which the sheep thanks the shepherd as his liberator, while the wolf denounces him for the same act. Plainly the sheep and the wolf are not agreed upon a definition of liberty." Nor is the New Frontier and the real frontier on the definition of a moderate or conservative.

Our President does his job well and I truly never mean to poke fun at his actions. He serves his cause well. His cause is a highly centralized government and he worked toward that end in Congress. He appoints men who work toward socialized charity, welfare, medicine, industry... a complete socialization. This is his belief and he works for what he believes.

You and I have the same right. You and I can say just as freely: We are not committed to complete government control, as the President and the men he appoints are. You and I can say we are committed to a system that allows no collectivism in politics or in economics. We like competition in politics and in business. We like freedom for the human mind and the pocketbook.

To back men, who are for another way of life, is treason to your own conscience. This can not be a year of treason by ballot. We are free to oppose. It's time to start the long, slow climb back up a slideboard called "socialism".

And if we would rather have a few pennies of U. S. dote today than freedom tomorrow, then we deserve to see the day when we have neither freedom nor dote. Any way you look at it this is the best week of the year with Santa Claus and New Year's Resolutions all rolled into one. plus high hopes, new visions, honesty, integrity, and 'on and on. We would miss elections as much as we'd miss freedom if we ever went totally totalitarian. Who would ever want to miss the balleyhoo? And La Diabla would still rather be "read" than dead.

Garden Club Hears Program On Horticulture

The Sonora Garden Club met at 2:30 p.m. October 22 in the home of Mrs. G. H. Davis.

S. M. Vaughan of San Angelo was the speaker on the subject of "Horticulture". He gave the club information on the care of trees, flowers, shrubs and laws.

Enthusiasm was expressed on the Sunken Garden and the War Monument, projects of the Garden Club. Hoeing will soon be going on at the latter site, according to working members.

The next meeting is scheduled for the usual fourth Monday. The speaker will demonstrate flower arranging.

Sonora Hope Lutheran Church is the site for the Lutheran Sunday School Association Sunday, p.m. Teachers will attend from Eola, Brownwood, Menard, Brady, Eden and other Texas cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Prajediz Abila observed their 25th wedding anniversary with an open house Sunday, October 21. The couple were married in Sonora on October 22, 1937.

First Baptist Plans Study Of World Communism

"What Christians Should Know and Do About World Communism" will be the subject of the BTU program at the First Baptist Church during the month of November, according to the Rev. Bob Brackney, pastor.

Each Sunday evening at 6:30 the Adult Union of the church will have study and discussion periods concerning Christian action in the light of Communism's advance.

The public is invited to attend these sessions.

There will be an invitational men's golf tournament at the local course November 3 or 4. Entry fee is $15.00 per partner. This tourney will be 27-hole play for team or partners. Medal play throughout. All entry fees will be awarded in prizes and prizes mailed to winners. Deadline for entries is Sunday morning, November 4. Invitations have been mailed to golf clubs in Fort Stockton, Coleman, Brady, Menard, Junction, Del Rio, Ozona, McCamey, Big Spring, Big Lake, Andrews, San Angelo and Ballinger. For more information about the tournament, contact golf club president Son Allison.

The first Ladies' Bridge and Golf Club meeting and luncheon will be Wednesday, November 14.

Mike Terrazas, formerly of San Angelo, has assumed duties as manager of the Sonora Golf Club. He will give individual or group golf lessons on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Saw Jimmy Hugh Harris, Herman Walker and Harry Harrison completing nine holes of golf the other day.

We have missed our college golfers. Have heard from a few. Charlie Howell wrote that he plans to get in some golf during the Christmas holidays.

Pascal and Linda Allison were here this past weekend and remarked that they were hoping to get in some golf before returning to Austin.

One of our local golfers anxious to get back into the game is Mrs. Mae B. Sawyer.

Harry Harrison is the new golf shop manager in the afternoons.

An out-of-town visitor at the golf course was our niece, Rebecca Finley, three, of San Angelo. A real little doll, she visited but didn't golf because she said somebody made all the golf clubs too grown.

Doyle Morgan and Clayton Hamilton did not turn in the following news: John McClelland and W. J. Thompson DEAT Doyle Morgan and Clayton Hamilton in a low-ball match. The capital letters were requested. For more information pertaining to the above match please contact either "team" at different times. Might suggest you select your team after due consideration. Time and date of forthcoming match has not been announced.

A. W. Awalt is one of our enthusiastic Golf Club supporters. 145 golfers registered this week at the local course.

Mrs. John M. Jones of Del Rio was a visitor at the golf course last weekend. She complimented our well-kept greens and Sonora's golfing families' enthusiasm.

Del Rio and golf always make me think of water hazards. Which brings to mind a new sitem I heard on the radio this week. After a nice swing and follow-through, Mr. Doe's (can't remember his name) golf ball landed in the middle of a water hazard. He walked over to the stream, threw in his clubs, golf bag and finally, his cart. Sitting down on the fairway, by the hazard, he slowly unlaced his golf shoes, took them off and threw them in.

Can't you just imagine his reaction when his wife asked, "And how was your game with the boys this afternoon, dear?"

LT. GOVERNOR

Bill Hayes was raised on a 165-acre farm. He left the farm when he was 22 to serve as a Republican legislator and was on the important Ways and Means Committee on Taxation. Bill was also major aide to the governor. Shortly after Pearl Harbor, Bill resigned as a legislator and enlisted in the army as a private. He served until 1946 when he was honorably discharged with the rank of Captain.

Bill served as vice-president of the American Desk Manufacturing Company in Temple. He then became vice-president of the Continental Belton Company, a farm implement manufacturer in Belton. He is listed in the World Who's Who of Commerce and Industry.

In his sixteen years in Texas, Bill has served as president of numerous civic clubs and has been an active worker in charity drives and community activities. Bill is a member of Christ Episcopal Church in Temple. The people of Texas deserve a sound, experienced businessman as Lt. Governor. Bill Hayes is such a man. IF YOU BELIEVE IN:

PLATFORM

- * A non-salaried, bi-partisan Texas Commission on Lower Taxation to uncover waste, duplication and irregularities in government.
- * Reduction of the sales tax and other taxes.
- * Open proceedings in the Texas Senate.
- * A positive program to teach our American heritage in Texas schools.
- * Firm laws and enforcement to control immoral, obscene and indecent motion pictures.
- * A better business climate to attract industry.
- * Instruction for our armed forces in the evils of Communism.
- * Full development and utilization of our water and soil resources.

... THEN BILL HAYES IS YOUR MAN.

YOU CAN VOTE FOR ANY CANDIDATE

ON THE NOVEMBER 6TH BALLOT

Governor Price Daniel, while Attorney General, wrote an opinion on the question of party loyalty in which he said, "The courts of Texas have answered this question by holding that the pledge taken at the time of voting in the primary election DOES NOT create a legal obligation."

Recently Governor Daniel repeated that opinion by saying that the pledge on the primary ballot does not obligate anyone "legally or morally" to vote for the Democratic ticket in the general election.

CONGRESSMAN AT LARGE

Des Barry, subject of the Readers' Digest article, "The Man the Teamsters Found Too Hot to Handle," and Conservative candidate for Congressman-At-Large, is president of Galveston Truck Lines of Houston, where he was reared and educated. He served five years in the Air Force and was discharged a Lieutenant Colonel in 1946.

Despite the fact that his employees did not wish to belong to a union, Teamsters union organizers demanded Barry sign a union contract in 1955. He refused, and with the enthusiastic support of his employees, attacked the Teamsters' boycott of his small business before the National Labor Relations Board, the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Congress, State Legislatures, the civil courts, and the court of public opinion. Within six weeks, his efforts resulted in the teamsters withdrawing their boycott.

Barry testified before the McClellan Committee in 1958 and was commended by Senator McClellan for his courageous stand to protect his employees' rights.

Allow American business to freedom and incentives to compete on an equal basis with foreign industries we subsidize;

Reduce taxes after reducing senseless spending;

Return to Constitutional government, assuming as individuals the rights, freedoms and responsibilities our forefathers granted;

Yield not one more inch of soil or sovereignty to communism or one-worldism.

Devil's River Philosopher Finds Out The Temperature On The Moon Will Make Ranching Mighty Hard

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed Ranch on Devil's River seems to be a little moon-struck,

Southwest Texas State, 1,562 to 3,463;
West Texas State, 2,019 to 3,733;
Stephen F. Austin, 1,217 to 2,737;
Sul Ross, 541 to 1,199.

POLIO COUNT—Latest polio count by the State Health Department showed 229 cases in Texas so far this year, with 174 of them paralytic.

Last year at the same time there were 29 paralytic cases on record. One new case each was recorded in Bexar and Coryell Counties.

ESCHEAT LAW—Reports to the State treasury department indicate there is approximately $3,140,000 in personal property in Texas subject to the new escheat law.

So far the State has collected $108,000 through three suits. But 346 reports of this kind of property has been certified to the attorney general. Involved is $678,724 more.

It may turn out that the $3,140,000 estimate is too high, so far as the state's expectations of getting the money are concerned. This since a lot of owners of the property are being found.

In other instances it was discovered that some property is not subject to escheat, or at least not yet.

Seven years have to elapse before the State can make a claim. At this stage, it appears that the best "mining" country will be old meter deposits.

his letter this week indicates. Dear editor:

I don't like to stand in the way of scientific progress, I don't care how much progress the world makes so long as it goes around me, but I read in an article last night that the best brains are predicting that we'll put a man on the moon by the end of the 1960's, and there are a lot of people who can't wait. I can.

I suppose there are people who are itching to be able to say, "By the way, I spent last weekend on the moon," but it's sort of like the people who brag about eating breakfast in New York and having lunch in London. That's going a long way to get something to eat that's no better than what you could have had at home. You can't make me believe any lunch on earth is worth flying 3,000 miles over the ocean to get to. I always have a meal at noon on this bitterweed ranch, and sometimes between breakfast and I don't travel over a hundred steps. I could never see any point in going after something which, if you sat still, would come to you anyway.

Furthermore, I've been reading some things about the moon which make me less and less enthusiastic about it. For example, one article I read said the temperature up there varies from 214 degrees below zero to 260 above. That sure seems like going a long ways to burn up in the daytime and freeze at night. It doesn't seem like a place I'd be interested in trying to ranch. Furthermore, I'll bet the television receptions up there is terrible.

What I'm saying is, certainly man ought to try to explore the moon, if his tax money holds out. But just don't expect too much to come of it. The race to the moon may be like next week's football game—awfully exciting at this stage but not very important after it's over. Now if the coach would just take my advice, we could win that game. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Texas' Per-Capita Income is $1,020 less than the top 2-Party State!

Texas is FIRST in Oil and Gas Production

... but 29th in per-capita income!

Texas is FIRST in Cattle, Sheep and Goats

... but 29th in per-capita income!

No other spot on earth has been so abundantly blessed with natural wealth as our great state. Why, then, is the personal income of Texas people so low?

A major reason can be found in the fact that every state in the so-called solid South... the one-party states... are at the bottom of the income scale, while 28 other states far less favored than Texas with natural resources and productivity... but with two-party government and a healthier political climate... are all better off economically than we are!

The highest-income two-party state has $1,020 per-capita more than Texas. That's nearly ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS PER MONTH in extra income for every man, woman,

Texas is FIRST in Cotton, Wool and Mohair

... but 29th in per-capita income!

Texas is FIRST in Sulphur, Chemicals and Minerals

... but 29th in per-capita income!

and child in Texas, if we reached the top rank in per capita income now enjoyed by the leading two-party state.

Low income in one-party states results from the lack of interest in the welfare of the people as a result of no political competition. Without competition there's little incentive for politicians to consider the needs of the citizens. Their only interest is keeping their political machine intact and perpetuating their own jobs!

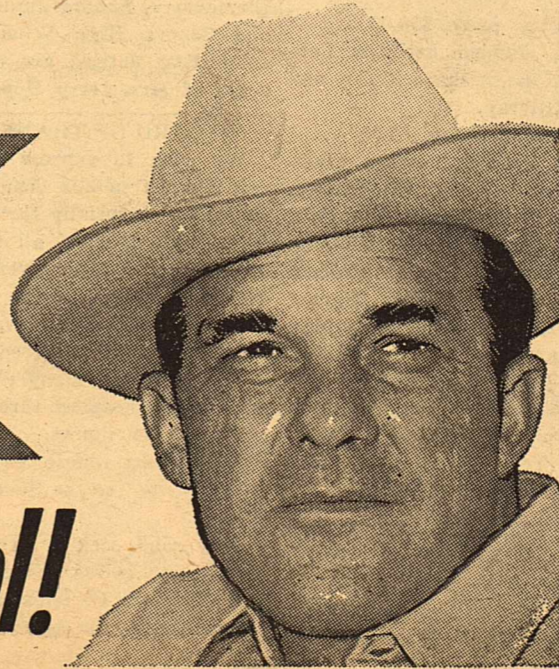

The election of Jack Cox as Governor of Texas will bring healthy competition into Texas government... competition that will bring new opportunities... and MORE DOLLAR INCOME to every Texan!

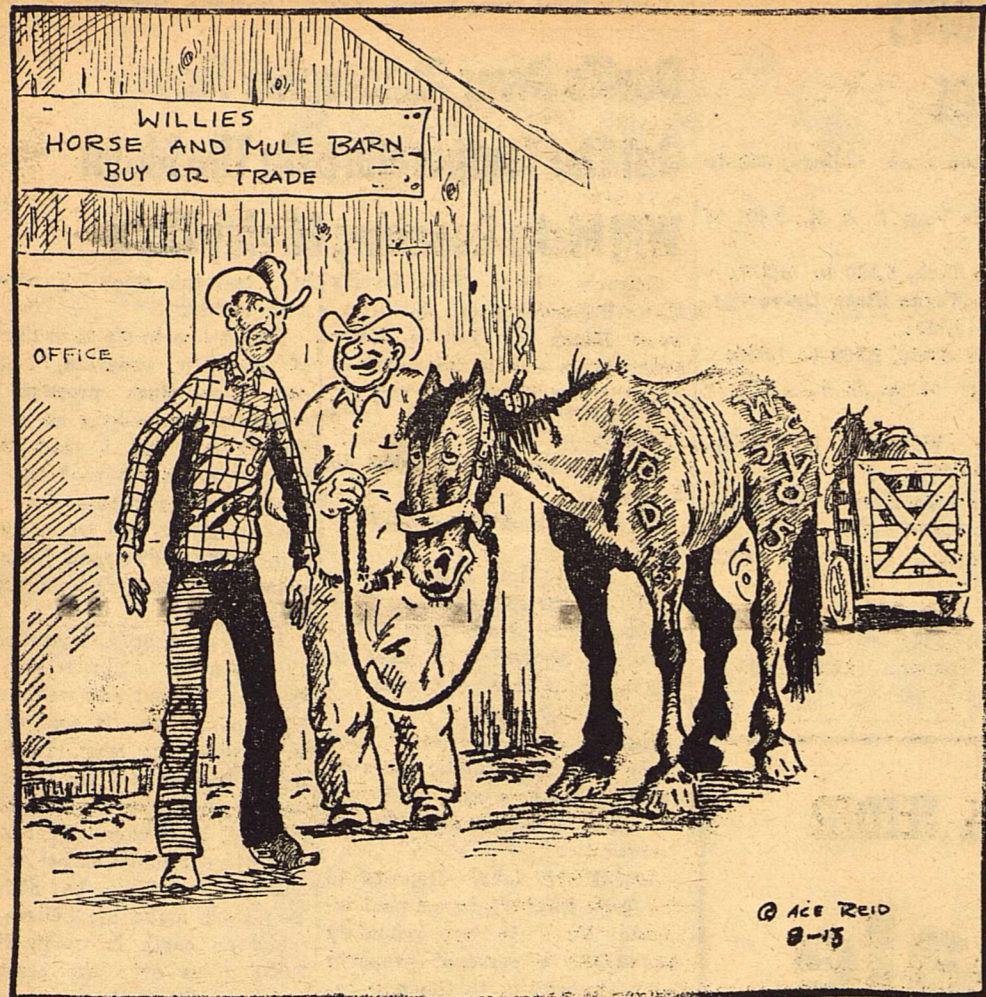

Let 2-Party Competition work for YOU!

COX

"Connally Best For Texas" Briscoe Says In Speech To Democrats Here Monday

Dolph Briscoe, Jr., widely known Uvalde rancher, spoke on behalf of gubernatorial candidate John Connally on the Sutton County Courthouse lawn last Monday at 5:30 p.m.

Joe Brown Ross, local Democrat Chairman, introduced the speaker with a long line of ranching-banking credits and as "a strong advocate of John Connally for governor and as a man who knows what he is talking about."

The Uvalde rancher quoted O. C. Fisher, congressional representative from this district, in a strong endorsement for Connally as one of the few remaining great leaders. Briscoe, himself, said he had served two terms in the Legislature with Cox and that there is no comparison between Jack Cox and John Connally.

The speaker discussed Connally's positive position on new industry and research facilities, improving tourist trade, upholding Right to Work law, and his endorsement of the existing screwworm eradication now underway.

He spoke softly to those who would vote for the man and not the party. "This is their privilege," Briscoe spoke gently, "if that's how they feel about it."

Briscoe asked the question, "What would cause a man to give up the position of Secretary of Navy to come back and go through rough politics? Never has a man gone through so much. Never has a man given up so much. John Connally has a deep concern about the future of his state."

Briscoe visited with Sutton Countians before moving on for a speaking engagement in Eldorado.
