Hunters Continue To Bring In Trophies As Deer Season Passes Half Way Mark

The passing of the first 26 days of hunting season confirms predictions that Sutton County game is more plentiful and heavier this season, according to local processors and businessmen offering hunting prizes.

Ricky McKee Is Crowd Pleaser At Cotton Bowl PP&K

Dallas-Ricky Allen McKee, 7, of Sonora, Texas, competed Sunday December 2, in the Cotton Bowl in the second annual Punt, Pass and Kick area competition sponsored by the National Football League and the Ford dealers of America.

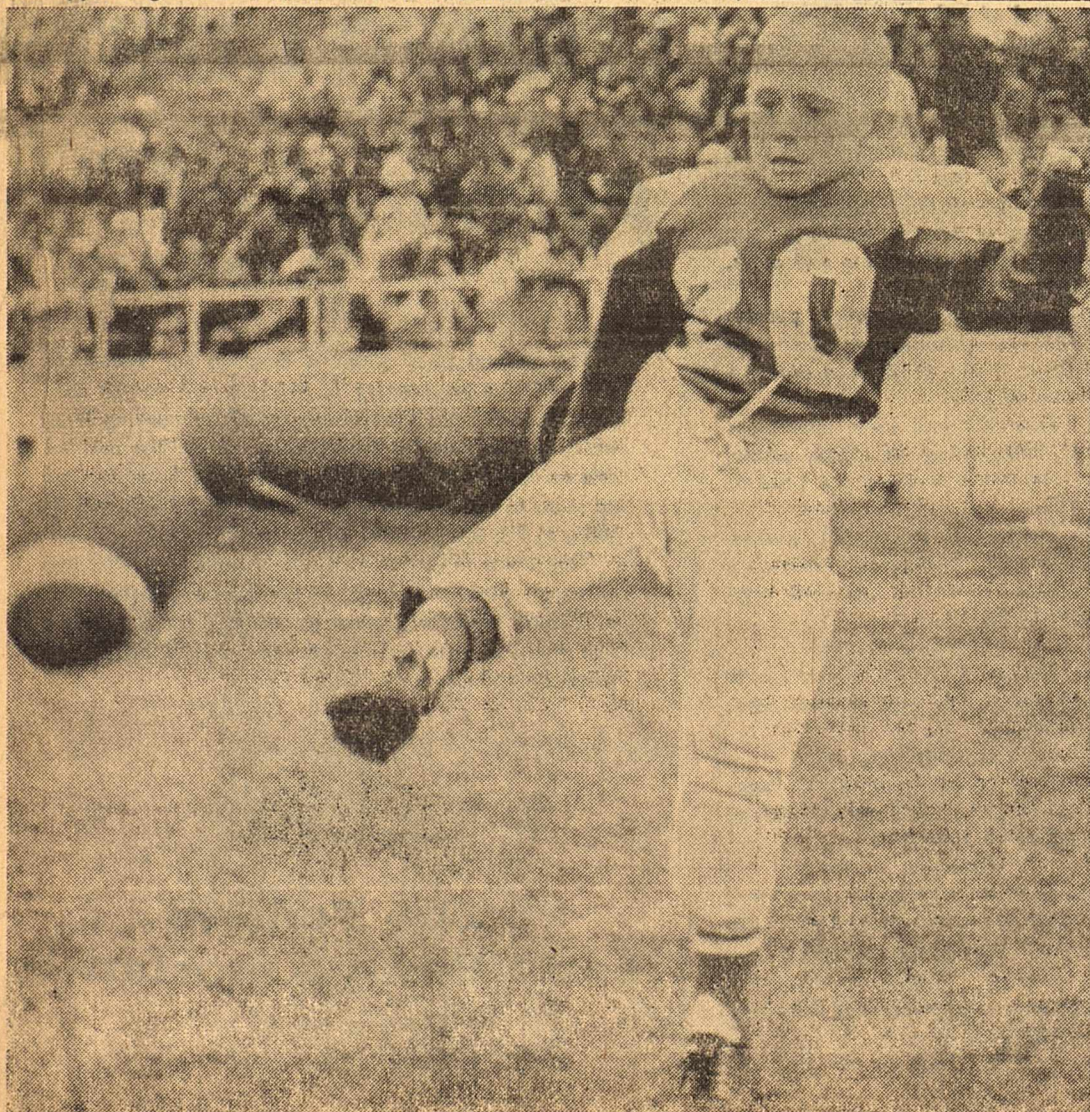

Ricky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb McKee, joined four other Texas boys in the seven-to-eleven age group in a display of punting, passing and place-kicking prowess immediately before and at half-time of the Dallas Cowboys-Cleveland Browns NFL game.

His score and those of the others will be compared with boys of their own ages in 13 other NFL team areas. The top scorers will qualify for the Tour of Champions and the showdown competition for national PP&K honors at the NFL championship game.

Ricky, a 65-pounder, was not only the youngest but also the smallest of the youngsters who competed, and became a crowd favorite. His ambition is to play quarterback someday with the Baltimore Colts. He is a second-grader at Central Elementary School.

Ricky and the other Texas winners, J. B. Robinson, Jr., 11, of Lancaster; Jimmy Moffett, 10, of Dallas; Tony Barton, 9, of Earth, and Dennis Wessels, 8, Winters, were honored at a banquet Saturday night at the Sheraton-Dallas hotel. There they met some of the Cowboys stars, including quarterback Don Meredith, halfback Don Perkins and end Lee Folkins.

Ricky McKee was caught by the camera as he warmed up for the area Punt, Pass and Kick competition in Dallas. The seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb McKee was one of five youngsters appearing in the Cotton Bowl on December 2.

Following are hunters in the running for awards offered by local businesses: Pete Thompson with his 145-pound trophy is leading for the heaviest deer of the season award offered by Lambert's. Dayton Capps with a 12-point buck to his credit leads for Lambert's most points award. Phillip Pring of Fort Worth is ahead for the Barrow Jewelry and Sporting Goods trophy to be awarded for the best all around deer in points, spread and weight. Cecil Middleton, Jr., 12-year-old from Dallas, still leads for the heaviest deer of the season for hunters under 14 for Sonora Food Locker award.

Sonora Food Locker reported 433 deer brought in for processing this season.

Mrs. Thorp was born here July 13, 1894, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dock Simmons, pioneer settlers of this area. She was married to Thomas D. Thorp in 1916. He died in 1945. Mrs. Thorp made her home in Sonora until moving to Fort Worth several years ago.

Survivors include one son, Thomas B. Thorp of Sonora; one daughter, Miss Addie Thorp of Fort Worth; one sister, Mrs. Meadie Lee of Ozona; one brother, Auther Simmons of Sonora, and two grandsons, Tim and Steve Thorp of Sonora.

Interment was in Sonora Cemetery under direction of Ratliff-Kerbow Funeral Home.

Hayden Fry, head football coach at Southern Methodist University, will be the speaker at the Monday evening, December 17, Bronco Booster Club banquet. The banquet, the third annual event honoring coaches and members of the Sonora Bronco football team, will be held at the school cafeteria beginning at 7:30.

Fry, who is serving his first year as head coach of the Southern Methodist University Mustangs, has been closely associated with football since his school days at Odessa, where he was an all-state quarterback on the championship high school team of 1946.

Following his graduation from high school in January 1947, he attended Baylor University where he played varsity ball for the Bears for the next four years. In his senior year, Texas sports writers voted him the finest ball handler in the Southwest Conference.

Following graduation from Baylor, Fry was backfield coach at Odessa. In 1952 he joined the Marine Corps and was player-coach for the 1963 All-Marine, All-Navy Championship Quantico Marines. He also coached a Marine team in Japan and retired from the Marine Corps with the rank of captain in 1956. He then returned to Odessa as assistant coach, and served as head coach from 1956 to 1958 when he returned to Baylor as defensive backfield coach. In 1960 he was head defensive coach for the Bears when they tied for second in the Southwest Conference and played the Gator Bowl. Fry moved to Arkansas for the 1961 season and was offensive backfield coach of the team that tied for the conference title and then met Alabama in the Sugar Bowl.

FROM THE STATE CAPITOL
HIGH LIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
After a four-year test, Texas' May-June primary election set-up may be on its way out.
A cursory check of legislators at a recent gathering here found strong support, particularly among the big-city members who had Republican opponents for a return to the August-September primary system.

Growth of the Republican party in Texas means that Democrats now face hard campaigns, in many districts, in the fall months, in addition to the strenuous spring campaigns. Many legislators are talking seriously about moving the primaries to August and September. This, so voters won't have to be whipped up to voting moods twice in a year.
There is some strong resistance to returning to the old way, however.

Sen Abraham Kazen, Jr. of Laredo, a member of the special election law revision committee, said a change like this would require complicated revision of the code that would be almost impossible to accomplish during a regular session.

Kazen represents an area in South Texas where thousands of migrant farm workers, who leave home for the summer and fall, have had their first chance to vote in the primaries under the May-June system.

Some legislators would block a change because so many school teachers are at home to vote in May, but are in colleges or on trips in the summer. The late Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio, who pushed for the change to spring primaries, once said that August run-offs worked a real hardship on candidates like himself, since many of their best financial backers were out of state during the summer.

POLL TAX CONTROVERSY. The Texas Election Study Committee heard many divergent opinions on the requirements for a voter registration law during its public hearings in the senate chamber.

Main point of discussion was whether or not a literacy test should be required if the poll tax system is abolished.

League of Women Voters, represented by Mrs. Maurice H. Brown of Waco, did not approve of a literacy test. Mrs. Brown said her group recommended a uniform registration plan for all voters, and offered the committee a draft of a bill which calls for permanent registration.

Several witnesses, including Isaac Satterfield of Marshall, a member of the State Democratic Executive Committee, advocated a literacy test.

Senator Kazen spoke out against it. He said since no literacy test now is required, he saw no reason why it should be necessary. "The only reason for a literacy test is to keep someone from voting," Kazen retorted.

Roy R. Evans, secretary-treasurer of the state AFL-CIO, said his organization opposed any discrimination against a person's national origin, financial status or educational background. The AFL-CIO also advocated a permanent registration plan, under which a voter would have to re-register only if he failed to vote in a two-year period.

WATER AID CHEAPER. Cities and water districts will be able to borrow from the State water Development Board at a slightly lower interest rate as the result of the sale of $15,000,000 more in bonds.

First Boston Corporation, Bank of American and Mellon National Bank and Trust were low bidder with an effective net interest rate of 3.1325 per cent.

This will lower the Board's present lending rate .04 per cent to a rate of 3.7132 per cent. The lower rate will apply to loans made after mid-January.

CRIME CLIMB SLIGHT. Major crime in Texas was way below the five per cent nationwide increase for the first nine months of 1962, according to an FBI report. A survey of crime in 12 representative cities showed an increase of only 0.29 per cent over the same period last year.

Report is a tabulation of murders and non-negligent homicides, forcible rapes, robberies, aggravated assaults, burglaries, larceny over $50 and auto thefts.

Total major crimes in 12 Texas cities amounted to 49,747 offenses for the first nine months of 1962, compared to 59,599 for the same period in 1961.

The FBI warned merchants to be alerted to the shoplifting trend as the Christmas shopping season progresses. They also cautioned shoppers against leaving packages unattended in unlocked cars or in plain view in locked cars.

Every year about this time, we've written a column especially for the wife who wanted to buy a Christmas gift for her outdoorsman hubby.

This year we want to tell the man what he can give his outdoors wife.

During the last few years, women have taken to the field in droves. Although some of them join hunting parties, just like the men, most of them prefer to do their hunting with hubby.

Sometimes this causes a bit of a hardship. Naturally the wife wants to use the gun her husband so thoughtfully gave her—and later appropriated for his own use. So, now that mama wants to use the gun, papa has to make other arrangements.

Chances are that when that gun was selected for the wife, friend hubby paid more attention to his desires than to her needs.

For instance, he may have given her a beautiful .30-06 rifle. She can shoot the .30-06 okay.

But, likely as not, it is too much of a gun for the little woman.

Today there are calibers just as effective and not nearly so rough on the shoulders. So this year if hubby is willing to buy a new gun, get her a nice light .243. It's perhaps the nearest to an all-around gun for all game in the United States.

Of course there is the .244, also a nice light gun. But it just hasn't appealed to the public's fancy like the .243.

Now—something about cartridges and the guns that shoot them:

The .243 was developed by Winchester; the .244 by Remington. Ballistically, they are virtually the same. Both are flat shooting, hard hitting bullets. They are ideal for deer and antelope. In the hands of a good shot they are adequate for any game found in the United States.

Although the .243 was developed by Winchester, all the major arms companies producing big game rifles make guns of this caliber.

Winchester, of course, has its model 70, which is a bolt action. It also makes the model 100, a semi-automatic, and the model 88, a lever action, of this caliber. Remington produces it in the model 700 series in the bolt action, and no doubt shortly will be making it in the 740 and 760 models, which are semi-auto and pump.

Savage makes the .243 in the famous old model 99 lever action and the 110 bolt action, either right or left handed.

Kodiak and Browning also make the .243 in bolt actions. Then there are mail order houses selling the guns under their own brand names.

Right now commercial production of the .244 rifle has practically ceased and perhaps it will be out of the picture entirely in a few more months, despite the fact that it is a very effective caliber.

What is the best type of gun for mama when she goes out after deer?

Again it's a matter of preference, because they are equally effective. Target and varmint shooters will tell you that, for accuracy, the bolt action is the best. And they are right.

However, for everyday shooting at game, there isn't a nickel's worth of difference in the accuracy of the guns, whether they be bolt, lever, auto or pump.

The bolt action gun is the slowest for getting off the second shot. If the shooter is left handed, there is only the Savage 110L. But it's a good gun.

Next slowest would be the lever action. However, hunters used to handling one, can get off the shots pretty fast.

Then comes the pump and finally the semi-auto. They will shoot rapid fire.

Perhaps the best bet for a woman who shoots a pump shot gun is the pump Remington. It is a first class deer gun in any of the popular calibers.

If the little woman is a shot-gunner and prefers hunting smaller game, then you have just as many selections to choose from.

For the woman shooter, the 20-gauge is without a doubt one of the best. Many women do use the 12 gauge successfully. But the 12 gauge will give a man a black shoulder if he doesn't hold the gun just right; and it punishes a woman entirely too much.

The 20 gauge comes in many excellent makes, in anything from a popular priced bolt action to a fine automatic.

Then there are the ever-popular pumpguns and the doubles. Stay away from the single shot because she'll never be satisfied with it, even if she goes out just once a year. There is too little difference in the price.

Also avoid the .410.

Despite the fact that many husbands talk about getting a .410 for their wives, it is a poor gun for any but expert shots. It leaves too many cripples in the field.

With a 20 she can shoot in anyone's company and be proud of it.

Now lets do a bit of Christmas shopping. And may this column mean a Merry Christmas for the outdoorswoman!

Devil's River Philosopher Comes Out For Entertainment Expense Deductions On Ranch Income Tax

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Devil's River won't get anywhere with his idea this week, but you can't blame him for trying.

Dear editor: The trouble with us ranchers is that we're a little slow about catching on to a good thing.

For example, take entertainment as a business deduction on your income tax.

As I understand it from reading the newspapers recently, the economic wellbeing of this country is based on one business man taking another business man out to dinner and being allowed to take the expense off his income tax. While they're eating, one of them sells the other a big order, and business booms.

I don't understand this, but if they say it works, it's all right with me. What I'm interested in is figuring out a way where a rancher can work up some entertainment expense to come off his income tax.

Now I recognize it would be hard to convince the Internal Revenue Service how, if my neighbor invited me over for a meal and charged it up to expense, it'd help either one of us produce more. I'm going to work about the same, whether I eat in or out.

But entertainment is important to a rancher, riding up one fence-line and down another day after day, requires a break; without it a man could get stale and dangerously and the national economy head for a tailspin. Therefore, I would like to see the Internal Revenue Service set up some rules allowing entertainment expense deductions for ranchers. Keeping ranchers happy and producing is as important to the national economy as keeping business associates well-dined and ordering more merchandise. I have worked out a few.

For example, going into Sonora after five days of hard work on a ranch around here is a legitimate form of entertainment, lots of ideas exchanged, lots of goodwill created, and ought to be deductible on a rancher's income tax. Like big business men, we wouldn't want to be bothered with a lot of record-keeping on what we spent in town and what for, just a simple, honest report like: Trip to town Saturday afternoon, $8.95, ought to suffice.

Or take television. Watching T.V. after a hard day's work in the pens certainly ought to be a legitimate ranch expense, including the cost of the set, repairs, electricity, etc. It seems to me setting a rancher down in front of a T.V. set is a boon to next day's agricultural production just as much as taking a manufacturer of T.V. sets out to a night club is a boon to the production of T.V. sets.

Why, the more I think about it, I believe even subscribing to The Devil ought to be a legitimate entertainment expense for ranchers. Let's get to work on this.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Dear Santa,

If I could have anything in the world for the asking, I'd take what I see right here in Sonora. Take your pick, I like what I see.

I want ten potato peelers and six grapefruit knives from F. F. Daughtry's Morrison's Variety Store, because mine are always missing.

I want seven white stretchy slippers from Jack Kerbow's Ratliff Store, because no woman in the world ever had enough white slippers.

From Westerman's I want a jar of West Texas Hand Cream for effectiveness and a bottle of Desert Flower Lotion, because I can't count to ten. P.S., I'd like a box of all those shades of Revlon Lipstick, too.

From Labenske's bring me a sweater and a dress for the glitter season.

I would love a Christmas arrangement from Saunders Flowers. I don't like to wear them, Santa. I want them in a vase.

From Sonora Electric, bring me any humble little record player and a gift certificate for all the records I want to pick out. P. C., A set of 12 Libby Owen's Glasses would please me.

From Barrow's I want a scope and a deer rifle and some big mugs for soup or coffee. Some heavy ones.

I want a smoked turkey from Doc Scott's, even tho' I can out-cook him. It's easier this way for a working mother. What other kind is there at this season?

How I would like some brown towels and a candlewick bedspread from J. W. Neville's Joseph's Store.

It would help me a lot, too, old man with the long white beard, if you would throw in some shirts from Sonora Men's Store. You can't miss on the size. I have three sons, a brother, a husband, and a long parade of nephews. If there's a size, there's a male for it in my family.

From Home Hardware and Furniture I want an unusual lamp and a sliding door cabinet in Danish Modern.

And(oh, dear Santa, fill it well with crystal and china from Ruth Shurley's. There's an im-pish little Tugboat Cookie Jar I want here, too, because it looks like Scuffy, the Tugboat in a book I used to read to my little ones.

I would appreciate a Christmas poinsettia from Sonora Floral. I could sure use a fence from Wm. Camern's.

Bring me the courage to be patient with my wheezy old station wagon. I won't ask, but if you wrap me up something that will run in cold weather, it would be a pleasure. I confess I hate machinery that won't do what it's designed to do.

If you are not exhausted, Santa, I need some shelves so I can unpack my books. Foxworth Galbraith has just the lumber.

Bring me a book called Tagore's "Fireflies". You may have to order it, but Santa, all the rest of my wants are right here in Sonora. Thank you for any little few of them.

Love,
La Diabla.

P.S.—Please bring me a well-stocked pantry like the Big Tree Restaurant has. There are names like Monarch, John Sexton, Kraft, Libby's, Del Monte's... all the brand names in that restaurant's store room. And nothing is too good to go in my family's stomachs.

GREEN NEWS

By Betty Jones

Believe golf is here to stay. Talked to Jack Neill yesterday and it was fun hearing golf stories that happened around 1926 to 1936. Next week I hope to get some of these stories from Jack and our other golfers who

"remember when" for Green News.

In the 20's Jack played golf with Ira Green, Roy Aldwell, Sam Allison and T. A. Williams. Sonora's golf course was at Alvis Johnson's ranch.

Called Hub Hale and he was a golfer in the 30's with Bill Fields, Bob Vicars, Puddin Allison, Sally Chalk, Eddie Ratliff, Curtis Nicholas and Luke Hudson, to mention a few. One thing Hub remembered was Nann Karnes' remark about him. Nann said that when she teed off on Number One, she always knew when Hub was on Number Five—she could HEAR him talking to his golf ball.

Bud Smith recalled part of a story he had heard then. Mayor Duncan had a date with his school-teacher field (anybody remember her name?) for an afternoon of golf. While she stood close by, Mayor Duncan teed off and hit the ball for a long drive. His follow-through wasn't exactly perfect, though, and he hit his date in the head and knocked her cold. Well, that's all Uncle Bud remembered, wouldn't you know it? Now I'd like to know: Did she accept another date with him? Did the incident give her a fear of golf? How serious was her injury? Did the blow on her head ruin Mayor Duncan's shot? Faye McClelland said John was playing golf in Sonora "back when" they were dating.

Guess you have already noticed, as I did, the number of golfers mentioned in the 20's and 30's who still play golf or who have sons, daughters, grandsons and granddaughters who are still a part of Sonora's golfing families. I enjoy hearing about our first golfers, don't you?

Saw Bobby Lou Mayer and told her we had missed them. It won't be too long before Dad Buddy and young son are listed with our twosomes, I'll bet. Heard that new son perfers a golf ball to a teething ring—with just a little encouragement from golfing Dad.

You don't have to be a golfer to be a member of the Ladies'

Golf Club. You may play bridge, go to luncheons, caddy for your husband, etc. For instance, you can even correct spelling, punctuation, sentence construction and have fun putting my notes together. Mac Bundy does that. Of course, it doesn't leave her much time for golf. Just for being a part of a golf club supporting family, she gets my Green News notes. Thanks, Mac.

Another credit to be given: it was Wanda Cahill who thought up our name, "Green News".

The Devil goes to press before we finish our bridge and golf meeting Wednesday afternoon so next Thursday the results will be printed. I do know about some of the trophies and awards, though. Son Allison (Longhorn Cafe) has contributed a putting trophy. George Barrow (Barrow Jewelry) donated engraving of trophies. Ruth Shurley (Ruth Shurley Jewelry) has given a Ladies Golf award for runner-up. J. W. Neville (Joseph's Department Store) contributed the re-volving Ladies Golf Trophy.

Miss Betty Jack Cooper and John Paul Friess were recognized at the annual 4-H Banquet as Sutton County Sweethearts of the 4-H Club. They will reign as King and Queen over the spring ball of 1963.

Betty Jack Cooper, John Paul Friess Named Sutton 4-H Sweetheart And Beau

Miss Betty Jack Cooper was elected 4-H Sweetheart and John Paul Friess, 4-H Beau of Sutton County. They will reign over the annual spring ball in 1963.

The election was held in October, when campaign speeches were made and the results counted. The Beau and Sweetheart of 1963 were recognized at the annual Sutton County 4-H Achievement banquet held December 1.

Missy Brown and Betty Jack Cooper received completion certificates at the banquet in fat lambs and beef cattle, respectively. Their names were inadvertently omitted in the listing in last week's story.

in her home this week. Christmas decorations were in evidence everywhere and gifts were exchanged by those present.

Mrs. Collier Shurley held high score for guests and Mrs. Robert Kelley, Jr. for club members. Mrs. R. G. Nance won the slam prize and bingo went to Mrs. Virgil Potter.

Refreshments of banana cream pie and coffee were served to those named and Mmes. James Morris, Robert Kelley, Sr., Joe Berger, Frances Gibson, J. A. Letsinger, Howard C. Kirby and Francis Archer.

Here's what Texas sheepmen wanted!

Now there's enough THIBENZOLE... even for Texas!

Month after month, requests from Texas have poured in... "Send us more THIBENZOLE." In one short year this great new sheep- and goat-wormer has proven its value for Texas ranchers... just as it has for ranchers around the world. In fact, over 50 million doses of THIBENZOLE have been used the past year. A shortage of this drug would be unthinkable.

able. So Merck has built and just put into operation a vast new plant to satisfy this demand. It makes only one product—THIBENZOLE. It contains enough electric wire to stretch from San Angelo to Big Spring, enough pipe to reach from Junction to Kerrville. It is the most modern, most efficient plant of its type in the world.

Thank you, Texas!

We at Merck appreciate the great reception our Texas friends have given to THIBENZOLE. It is gratifying to know that this modern miracle in animal medicine is proving its value every day as a wormer and is helping sheep raisers achieve better wool growth and weight gains on ranches all over Texas. We are happy to be partners with Texans in improving the health of their animals. THIBENZOLE is another example of the leadership that has come to be synonymous with the Merck name in both human and veterinary medicine.

The comments below will show you how your enthusiastic approval is echoed by sheepmen the world over

"Results obtained so far evaluate this product thiabendazole (THIBENZOLE) as superior to any anthelmintic for sheep nematodes yet seen in this county"
Australian Researcher

"The results indicated that the drug (THIBENZOLE) possessed 'a remarkable anthelmintic activity'"
Australian Researcher

"Although differential fecal parasite egg counts were not made, careful observations clearly indicated that thiabendazole (THIBENZOLE) possesses a broad anthelmintic spectrum"
U.S. Researcher

"The toxicity of thiabendazole (THIBENZOLE) is very low for a drug of such high efficacy. This characteristic is a great advantage in an anthelmintic, which must often be given in approximate doses to animals whose weight is only roughly estimated"
Australian and South African Researcher

BUT FOR THE GRACE OF GOD ONE OF THESE CHILDREN MIGHT HAVE BEEN YOURS

...and you are grateful!

You can express your gratitude in a very real way: a gift to this Hospital. A Christmas Gift, if you please, to the crippled children of Texas. In Texas today there are over 15,000 crippled children who are tragically in need of the medical and surgical services of this Hospital. Your gifts, gifts from Texans, make these services available through the TEXAS SCOTTISH RITE HOSPITAL. You see, this Hospital does not accept money from any other source. Not from any governmental agency (federal, state or local). Not from any foundation or fund raising groups. Only from Texans who give directly to this Hospital, inspired by their love for crippled children who need rehabilitation.

Another thing: This hospital accepts for treatment only those crippled children whose parents live in Texas and cannot afford the long term treatment and care needed for them. (The full cost of this long term rehabilitation runs from $10,000.00 to $25,000.00.) So, your gift to this Hospital, combined with those gifts from other Texans, opens up a whole new world for these children and their families and for you! Really, when you think of it, there is no gift that pays you such a walloping dividend.

HAVE YOU RECEIVED YOUR COPY OF "MIRACLES WITH YOUR MONEY"?

Send today for your copy. It tells you the heart-warming story of this Hospital and its services to crippled children in Texas. You will be amazed and proud. Ask for it when you send your gift.

HERE ARE 5 WAYS TO GIVE

LIVING TRUSTS can be established to benefit the Hospital during your lifetime by naming the Hospital Board, or any other person you designate, as your Trustee over the property, money, securities or other assets you set aside for that purpose.
BEQUESTS in your last will and testament will convey to the Hospital whatever gift you may desire to bequeath. (In connection with living trusts and bequests it is important to consult an attorney.)
The names of those who make bequests are carved on a memorial which stands in front of the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children. The power of that gift is immortalized in the smile of every child who walks out of the hospital with a twisted body made whole and well.
LIFE INSURANCE can aid the Hospital through either a new policy, or by making the Hospital beneficiary on any existing policy.
MEMORIALS in honor of loved ones through a gift to the Hospital result in both the name of the donor and that of the memorialized one being permanently recorded in the Hospital's memorial records.
CASH TODAY! Gifts of cash today provide the Hospital with the all-important current operating revenue that makes possible the day-to-day activities of the Hospital.

OF COURSE YOUR GIFT IS DEDUCTIBLE

These Texans as Trustees and hospital officials have dedicated themselves to the service of the Crippled Children of Texas

THEN AND NOW

This parade is of 1904 vintage. The Silver Cornet Band is shown marching to the cornerstone laying at the Rock School Building. The First National Bank of Sonora is on the right, about middle of the block, at the present site of the Agriculture office building, which still bears the erection date of 1900, carved into the stone. Ed R. Jackson was founder and first president of the bank. The bank was in Sonora's most disastrous fire, just after its second birthday. Its loss totaled about $3,000, but the records were undamaged in the vault, which still stands today.

George H. "Jack" Neill was assistant cashier when the First National Bank opened at its present site on January 7, 1929. He was named president in February 1954. Neill is a Schleicher County native and is a rancher by birth. Hobbywise, he is a fisherman. "Jack" Neill has been with the bank since October 1918, when according to the records, he came over to help during the flu epidemic and stayed on. Neill is a director and treasurer of Sonora Wool and Mohair; he is president of First Loan Company of Sonora. The San Angelo Standard Times in 1929 described Neill as the man who probably knows more people in Sutton County than any other one person. This is still true today.

In 1962 as in 1900 Sonora merchants and businessmen are devoting their time and talents to building a larger and more progressive home town. They are always striving to offer their customers the latest and best merchandise at the lowest possible prices.

Sonora's 75-year history has been one of merchants and ranchmen co-operating to establish and maintain fine schools, good Churches, active civic and charitable organizations and a reputation for friendliness and hospitality.

INCREASING FLOW OF ELECTRICITY

THROUGHOUT THE CENTER OF THE SOUTHWEST IN CONTROL ROOMS LIKE THIS, THERE'S AN...

CENTER OF THE SOUTHWEST

The demand for electricity in our service area is growing rapidly. The reason is simple: more people, more business, more homes coming here into the Center of the Southwest.

That is why we are investing millions of dollars in new electric generating capacity and transmission facilities to keep pace with this rapid growth.

But of more significance, this fact is a reflection of the vast additional electric capacity and the anticipation of even greater growth.

Because the Southwest is growing so rapidly, we are convinced that the area—the Center of the Southwest—has GROWTH UNLIMITED.

Scanning The Movies This Week

LOLITA was screened on a subject that is tabu for the stage or screen. Yet Hollis Alpert of Saturday Review magazine said, "Director Stanley Kubrek concocted a truly brilliant opening to set the tragicomic mood." Presidential advisor Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., compares the director to Orson Welles and calls LOLITA a writer's film. Jackie Shurley (Mrs. Jerry) saw the film in Austin. She says: "The acting of Shelley Winters and James Mason was good. It was witty and the dialogue carried the story. It wasn't very believable to me. It is pretty outspoken, and I certainly think it should be restricted to adult viewers."

So that's LOLITA . . . lauded by the literary people and banned by at least one church group with a Sonora mother just about neutral on the film for adults.

More James Mason in HERO'S ISLAND, a tale of America's early history, dealing with God-fearing indentured servants who are released from bondage to settle the coast of Carolina in 1718 with their small children. Rip Torn and Kate Manx are in the cast. This is supplemented with a Walt Disney short, MYSTERIES OF THE DEEP. THE INTERNS dramatically moves from a hilarious New Year's Eve party to the hospital delivery room. It has broad comedy sprinkled with tragedy as each character pursues his own goal through the year of internship. The retaining of a medical doctor as technical advisor has given professional authenticity to delicate medical sequences in this factual behind-the-scenes portrayal. This movie is not for young children, under 11.

HEMINGWAY'S ADVENTURES OF A YOUNG MAN is the filmed story of a youth's search for manhood from the fiction Ernest Hemingway admitted was autobiography. Watch the young writer turned down by newspaper editors in a big city go to bus boy on to World War I, where he drives an ambulance and falls in love with his nurse. This is Hemingway as drawn from his early youth, penned in 19 years about the young man portrayed by Richard Beyer. Susan Strasberg is the nurse. Burt Lancaster and Andry Hepburn are THE UNFORGIVEN. Tell you why next week.

Sterile Screwworm Fly Barrier Due To Be In Operation In February

February 15, 1963, is the projected date for full operation of the sterile screwworm fly barrier along the Texas-Mexico border, weather permitting. The Southwest Animal Health Foundation says in its December 7 progress report that fly release will continue within the present drop area but that weather will force intermittent cessation of treatment in the northern half.

The region north of a line running roughly from Port Lavaca through northern San Antonio

FORMER LOCAL SCD MAN RECEIVES RANGE AWARD

Don Lewis, who was employed as a student trainee with the Soil Conservation Service here last summer, was awarded the Junior Outstanding Society of Range Management in San Angelo last week.

Lewis, a sophomore student in range management at Abilene Christian College, is a 1961 graduate of Junction High School.

Merrill Receives Recognition For Grazing System

Dr. Leo B. Merrill, range specialist at Sub-station 14 near here, was named "Outstanding Range Man" by the American Society of Range Management at their annual meeting held last weekend in San Angelo.

Merrill received the society's award at a banquet Friday night. He was chosen for the honor for his "Merrill System" of grazing. This is a deferred-rotation system of grazing with an added animal-unit factor.

Some 175 members of the ASRM registered for the meeting, the largest crowd in the 12-year history of the group.

to Sonora will receive an average of 200 flies per square mile weekly until it is determined that screwworms have not overwintered in the area. South of this line fly release rates will be increased when cold weather decreases the size of the overwintering area.

Throughout the remainder of the fiscal year, increasing attention will be given to individual outbreaks of screwworms within the overwintering area and as the number of reported cases decreases, more intensified efforts will be made to snuff each one out as it is reported.
