Odds And Ends

And while we're on the subject of clean-up campaigns. A special doffing of the cap to the local golf club. They have really cleaned up and beautified a portion of our community which is seen by all north-south travelers on 277. A first impression of a town is an all-important impression and this addition certainly makes a good one.

It's getting along toward the end of the school year. Not a very original observation, but one that bears pondering. More and more of our high school students will be hunting jobs for the summer. And every year more local merchants find out what efficient workers these kids can be.

We sincerely hope that there will not be a job-hunter disappointed in his attempt to earn his own spending money or help pay his own way.

We like to think most of our teenagers are typified by those who occasioned the writing of two very complimentary letters from staff members of McCamey High School.

One reads, in part: "Please tell your Sonora High School students it was a pleasure to have them here and we would like to invite them back at any time they could come. It is so very nice to have friendly people to come to see us."

And the other: "I would like to let you know how very much I was impressed by the courteous and friendly way in which your students conducted themselves while in our school."

"Many of them came in to the office and talked with us during the day and they told me how pretty they thought our building was and thanked us for having them here. Indeed, this was appreciated and I promised myself then and there that I would write you about it. Please thank them for all of us and tell them they are very welcome at any time in our school."

Omar Ottonello

Takes A Look At Sonora

"I do not like business. Always, I grew up seeing all the problems my father has. No. I do not like business."

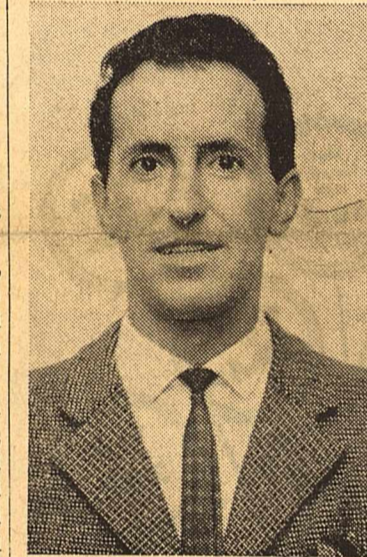

This was the frank declaration of a senior film distribution specialist, currently on a two-month tour in this country for the United States Information Service, Montevideo, Uruguay.

The 32-year-old South American, Omar Ottonello, is the principal public contact in the USIS there for a film library of about 800 U.S. films. He arrived by Pan-American jet in Miami, then on to Washington, then to New Orleans where he visited Dillard, a Negro university, then to Sonora for a five-day visit.

In Sonora, Ottonello visited the El Paso Gas Plant, gas wells, Sub-Station 14, the Sonora Wool and Mohair Company and ranches; he showed slides and spoke before the local school and Lions Club. The film distributor went from here to the West Coast. He gave the Devil's River News an exclusive interview before leaving Sonora.

without provocation. Despite the language barrier, although he speaks and understands English well, he was quick to make and catch a joke. He was so frank. He went to the USIS in Montevideo because he had a friend, who told him of the job

The NEWS is getting so old that birthdays are liable to escape us unless some designing neighbor calls attention to the anniversary. The first issue of the NEWS was published October 18, 1890 and from that time to the present day the management of the NEWS has met with nothing but the highest endorsement of advertisers and subscribers and it hopes to continue this patronage. Naturally we feel proud that we have surrounded ourselves with the best citizenship in Texas and that where others fail Sonora succeeds. We do not take credit to ourselves for this condition but if we were accused of diplomacy in this direction would plead guilty. But, what we like best is what a newcomer said when asked to use more space for his ad, "No. Sir. I have had experience in advertising but this paper beats me." Everybody in the territory covered by the NEWS reads every line in it, I never knew of a local paper so close to the public as the DEVIL'S RIVER NEWS. For my business a six inch space will do. From our subscribers the same story comes if they fail to receive a copy of the NEWS they want another copy. Trusting that we will be able to maintain this interest in the NEWS we thank you for past favors and a continuance of the same.

Devil's River Philosopher Says He'd Rather Have Federal Help in The Country Than The City

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Devil's River seems to be kidding big cities, his letter this week indicates. Dear editor:

It's been so long since the big city newspapers and magazines have exercised themselves over the farm problem that I had the feeling something was afoot, and it is.

According to an article in a newspaper I found out here on this bitterweed ranch yesterday where it had blown up against a fence and which I removed at once before the whole thing blew over—I'm no engineer but I know what a few more pounds of stress can do to a fence of nine—big cities are seeking 375 million dollars in Federal grants to help them finance transportation systems for commuters.

As I understand it, so many people work in cities the streets won't hold all their cars and they have to use trains and buses, but the trains and buses are losing money and their equipment is delapidated so naturally the only thing to do is to turn to Washington for money to make up the difference. Cities may denounce ranchers for doing this, but they know a good idea when they see it.

I can't get any big cities to agree with me, but clearly the trouble is that we've got a surplus of cities. Marginal cities, I guess you'd call them, like marginal ranchers.

It looks to me like any city which is so big it can't get its people to and from the working areas every day, is simply too big. In reverse, it's like the rancher who's too small. Both are uneconomic.

Now with the rancher, the city answer has always been, let him give up unprofitable ranching and move to town, but it's hard to say that if a city is too big, let it close up and move to a smaller place. You can say it, but it hardly makes sense.

What cities need actually is either wider streets, narrower cars, or fewer people, but nobody seems to be making any progress in any of these directions.

The way it looks to me, big cities don't want the Federal government helping ranchers in the country, they want them to move to town and then help them there.

Personally, if it's all right with Washington, I'd rather have the help where I am and avoid all that traffic. It's easier, more comfortable, and you can do it in the shade.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

The 11 western states served by El Paso Natural Gas Company are growing 2½ times as fast as the rest of the nation

An adequate supply of energy is essential to progress. In the 11 fast-growing western states served by El Paso Natural Gas Company, demand for energy has risen astronomically—as population has soared and the pace of the economy quickened.

Since 1950, these 11 states have grown 2½ times as rapidly as the rest of the nation. California today is the nation's most populous state. The populations of both Nevada and Arizona have more than doubled. This growth is accelerating year-by-year.

Vast supplies of energy are needed to meet the mounting demands of these millions of new citizens. And El Paso Natural Gas Company has played a growing role in providing one of the most important sources of this energy.

Back in 1950, El Paso Natural marketed 295-billion cubic feet of natural gas. By 1962, we were marketing 1.31 trillion cubic feet of gas—four and a half times as much as in 1950.

That's approximately 10 times more energy than is produced each year by all of the federally financed electric power generators, including the giant Bonneville Power Administration and Hoover Dam, in these 11 states.

El Paso Natural's 1962 annual report gives full details on a year of service to America's booming West. For a copy, write: El Paso Natural Gas Company, El Paso, Texas.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
Scandal has struck again in Texas. This time it's the Railroad Commission.

Revelation by the Dallas Morning News that Commissioner William J. Murray had grossed some $285,000 from oil investments in earnings from a Throckmorton County lease caused the commissioner to resign his post.

Question was a matter of ethics . . . whether or not it was proper for a public official to make investments in an industry over which he exercised control, in whole or in part.

Murray's answer was that he grew up in the oil fields, was educated in petroleum engineering and it was the only business in which he had any practical experience.

He admitted his investments and pointed out that they were a matter of record, in his own name, and he had nothing to hide. He stated that he resigned his post as a commission member because he felt that "harmful publicity" might lessen his effectiveness.

Murray hinted that the investigation into his past investments was prompted by his refusal to call off the East Texas slant-hole, well-drilling investigations, in which he played an active part.

Murray's attorney, Les Proctor, submitted the former RR commissioner's personal financial records to Travis County District Attorney Tom Blackwell for checking. They are being examined by Blackwell, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

State law provides for removal from office of any public official violating the Code of Ethics. Since Murray resigned that question now has become moot. All that remains is the matter of determining whether any civil or criminal statute has been violated.

Proctor says none has been.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED—Gov. John Connally accepted Murray's resignation with the comment that "It is regrettable for all of Texas that documented facts made public within the past few days indicated a question of propriety of legality of his outside business transactions in view of his position of authority on the commission.

"Public officials have a sacred public trust. It is imperative to continued confidence in our form of government that their conduct in office be beyond a shadow of a doubt. Anything else

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Jake Billingsley, Rector St. John's Episcopal Church

One of the deeper meanings of the Resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth is that in this fantastic, unbelievable-yet-obviously-real show of great power, the God of Abraham and Moses and David and the Prophets showed himself to be, beyond doubt, the true and only God. This is, indeed, the meaning of it which stood out most clearly in the minds and hearts of the followers of Jesus, who were, of course, worshippers of that God. They had not been fools, their worship of Him had not been in vain; their God was the true God, with mighty power!

In our Easter celebration, undermines the confidence of the people in responsibility and integrity in government."

INVESTIGATION PROPOSED—In the House of Representatives, Rep. George Hinson of Mineola introduced a resolution asking for a thorough study of the sweeping powers of the Railroad Commission by the Texas Legislative Council.

Resolution received prompt committee approval and was sent immediately to the House floor.

Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston gained permission of the House to introduce a bill to tighten regulations prohibiting public officials from participating in any private enterprises which might be in conflict with their public duty.

Eckhardt said his bill would amend the Code of Ethics and clarify it. It also would include a section providing that no public official or member of the Legislature could appear before any state board or commission where the office-holder had private interests that might be affected by the agency's action.

APPROPRIATIONS—A record $3,100,000,000 spending program—the general appropriation for the next biennium—went to a conference committee following rejection by the House of Senate amendments.

Motion not to concur in Senate changes was made by Rep. W. S. Heatley of Paducah, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

which is our special recalling of that event, this same kind of meaning bursts into the lives of Christians today, by the grace of the Holy Spirit, and we are given renewed and strengthened hope and confidence, just as they were, that our God is indeed the way and the Truth and the Life.

This is important to us because there are many about us who tell us continually that we are concerned about a God of no consequence, tell us that we are foolish and impractical, that we are "fuzzy-thinking" and "soft-headed". We hear people say with their lips "I am a Christian", and then we observe them as they seemingly deliberately ignore what is involved in being a Christian as we understand it—so that the total effect of what they have said and done is as if they had said to us "Your God is real, I suppose, but so what?". We hear people say with their lips "I am a Christian", but then casually and cynically dismiss our Lord's teachings as of no consequence, if we are talking about "practical" things.

Surrounded as we are by many such witnesses as these, undermining our hope and confidence, the gift of the Spirit at Easter is a great and welcome one. We, too, are assured, that we are not fools, that our worship of Him is not empty and vain; He is indeed the Way and the Truth and

Applications For Mohair Incentive Ready For Signing

Applications for incentive payments on mohair are being taken for the first time since the start of the incentive payment program in 1956, according to Mrs. Marie K. Ellis, local ASCS office manager. The program will cover all mohair sold from April 1, 1962 through March 31, 1963.

All settlement sales slips from Sonora Wool and Mohair Company are in the ASCS office and all applications must be signed by producers by April 30. Freight charges on mohair hauled from point of origin to the warehouse are needed to complete applications.

To determine if mohair will have an incentive payment, data from applications will be computed to arrive at the national average selling price. If it falls below the support level of 76 cents per pound, an incentive payment will be called for.

3 SAVINGS BONDS BOUGHT IN 1943 AND HOW THEY GREW

	$25	$50	$100
Cost in May 1943	18.75	37.50	75.00
Value in May 1953	25.00	50.00	100.00
Value in May 1963	34.26	68.52	137.04
Value in May 1973	49.68	99.36	198.72

As you can see by these three examples, Savings Bonds don't necessarily stop growing when they mature. They go right on building in value as you hold them.

This means that those Bonds you tucked away and forgot about are still earning for you at a good clip. (Every E Bond ever purchased and not cashed is still earning for its owner.)

Of course, your Savings Bonds work hard in another important way. As you build your own financial strength—you build the strength of our nation.

Sonora's annual Little League program will get underway with registration of eligible players at the League field Saturday, April 20. Registration blanks will be sent home from school with children. speaker at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Sonora Lions Club at the First Methodist Church. Dr. Alexander's appearance here was sponsored by the local unit of the American Cancer Society.

Speaking on the subject of skin cancer, Dr. Alexander emphasized the fact that we live in what is termed the "skin cancer belt" and should take extra precautions to protect our skin from excessive sun which can and does lead to skin cancer. He recommended that everyone wear hats during the sunny months and condemned "sun bathing fads" as detrimental.

Recommendations of a slate of new officers for the 1963-64 organizational year were heard. Named on the slate were: for president, Rex W. Lowe; for first vice-president, D. C. Lang-

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

Last summer a four-year old boy died of rabies in Texas. Although, there was no history of an animal bite, circumstances pointed to the possibility that he was bitten by a puppy or dog.

There was no doubt that rabies was the cause of death. The case was diagnosed clinically and confirmed by the State Department of Health Laboratory.

Dramatically, rabies is still very much a fact in Texas, when viewed in the misery which surrounds the death of a small boy to his family, friends and even to public health veterinarians and record keepers.

The fact is that rabies, although changing in complexion, was laboratory-diagnosed in 124 Texas counties during 1962.

The total number of cases, while down from the previous year's 658 cases, reflects an increase in the number of rabid domestic animals other than pets.

A few years ago pets accounted for the majority of cases. Today, wildlife rabies outstrips the disease among pets and domestic animals by far. Skunks continue to lead the statistical columns, but each year foxes and bats are diagnosed as rabid.

Diagnostic evidence indicates that animal rabies is present in approximately half of the counties in Texas. The widespread distribution probably means that at least wildlife rabies occurs in most of the other Texas counties as well.

In counties which do show some rabies, past experience points to the fact that an undercurrent of wildlife rabies is ever present.

What this means to the man-on-the-street is that rabies is a constant threat in most areas of Texas. With the growing sprawl of suburbia into formerly wild areas, it is only natural that pets may be readily exposed to wildlife.

Anti-rabies vaccination of all pets is the surest protection against the disease.

Applications For Wool Incentive Due April 30

Ranchmen are reminded that Tuesday, April 30, is the deadline for filing and signing applications for incentive payments on wool and unshorn lambs sold during the program year from April 1, 1962 through March 31, 1963.

All sales documents received in the local ASCS office are ready for producers' signatures, according to Mrs. Marie K. Ellis. These include all sales documents from Sonora Wool and Mohair Company for the 1962 marketing year. All must be signed by the buyer and must be in the original on shorn wool. Unshorn lamb sales documents may be in duplicate but must be signed in the original by the buyer or his agent.

Information needed includes month and year of shearing and number of head shorn, and any freight charges paid from point of origin to the warehouse.

Wool shorn from unshorn lambs purchased in prior years and included in this marketing year sales will be eligible for incentive payment if application contains number of head and weight of unshorn lambs when purchased.

Applications must also state in which counties sheep and lambs were pastured.

Mrs. G. C. Berry of Fort Worth was an Easter guest in the home of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lea Allison, Susan and Sarah. Also here for the holidays were the Allison's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Pascal Allison of Austin.

Big Battles Ahead For This Session, Fisher Indicates

By Congressman O. C. Fisher
DURING THE WEEK preceding the Easter recess the Congress relaxed its hold on the purse strings, and advanced several rather expensive welfare measures, none of which were essential.

The Senate also approved a measure calling on Uncle Sam to help foot the cost of revamping metropolitan transit systems. The cost of this is undetermined, but it will run into the hundreds of millions.

The House overruled its appropriations committee and okayed $450 million to be spent over the country, in approved areas, for various types of so-called public works. This is the modern version of WPA. In the same appropriation bill we were able to strike out an item to finance an international secretariat for a Peace Corps. This one—a real boondoggle—is part of a scheme that has been hatched up to have the USA join with other nations in promoting Peace Corps projects throughout the world, with, of course much of the cost being paid by this country.

The Senate also passed a bill creating a depression-type Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC), though by a slightly different name. Another welfare measure, it is but one of a series of proposals to place more people on the federal payroll. The Senate passed a similar bill last year, but it was held up in the House Rules Committee. Indications now are that the measure will reach the House Floor for debate shortly after Congress reconvenes.

LOOKING BACK OVER the past few weeks, there is not much comfort to be found for those who had hoped this Congress would practice more economy. There has, however, been quite a bit of trimming going on. Our Committee on Armed Services, for example, whacked $600 million off of a military pay raise proposal recently. And the House Appropriations Committee has done fairly well in cutting down. The big battles of this session have yet to be fought, however.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Wuest, Mike, David, Randy and Gary visited with relatives in Fredericksburg during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. David Archer of College Station spent the holidays here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Archer and Kay and Mr. and Mrs. Nolan W. Johnson and Brent.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Drennan had as Easter holiday guests their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Drennan, Grey, Vicki and David of Port Huron, Michigan. Also home for Easter was their son Sp/4 Roland Drennan of Fort Hood.

Mrs. Miers Savell will leave Friday for Grand Junction, Colorado where she will visit with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Shannon, Jr., Matt and Savell.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle V. Morgan, Kathy and Marilyn visited with relatives in Madisonville during the holidays.

Gordon Probst was in Austin for a holiday with his family.

Elaine Miers, a student at Southwest Texas State College, San Marcos, spent the Easter holidays here with her family, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Miers, Vivian and Royce.

Douglas Wood has returned to San Angelo College after a holiday visit with his mother, Mrs. Nora Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Shroyer of Lubbock spent the Easter holidays here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Lambert and Cindy, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Shroyer, Melva Ray and Larry.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Finklea and Peter were Easter visitors in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Finklea, Sr. at Raymondville.

Roy Christie of Lubbock visited here Wednesday of last week with his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Berger, Chris and Larry.

Herman Moore, Jr. has returned to Abilene Christian College after spending the holidays here with his family, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Moore and Larry.

Here is an odd solution to a serious problem. But it works—and works well.

A jerky trigger finger plays the devil with your aim. Place a coin on the front sight of an empty gun, aim and squeeze the trigger.

Practice this until you can squeeze off a shot without disturbing the coin and you are cured.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Howell have had their grandson, Clem, as a guest the past week. His parents, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Howell, Jr., and Jack joined the family here for the Easter holidays. Charlie Howell was also home for the holidays from McMurry College, Abilene.

Hank Hull of Fort Worth spent the Easter weekend here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hull.

Mrs. Belle Steen spent Sunday and Monday in San Antonio.

Hammer Guard—Rifles, especially carbines, have projecting hammers that are apt to wear holes in gun cases.

Such holes are unsightly, expensive and unnecessary.

A one-inch piece of small rubber tubing makes an excellent hammer guard. It can be removed instantly by a flip of a thumb, should an emergency arise.

Remember that dogs suffer more than you realize in hot weather.

Yours will be a happier and healthier dog if you'll make sure he has access to shade, plenty of fresh water, and freedom from fleas and ticks.

Exercise him in the cool of the evening and underfeed him a bit until hunting begins.

Deer hunting from a tree produces good results but it's often dangerous.

An accident easily can occur if a hunter tries to turn around the limb where he is standing. Unfortunately he turns instinctively when he hears a sound behind him that might be an approaching buck.

A small mirror angled just right to cover the immediate terrain, to the rear of the hunter, will eliminate the necessity for movement.

Prevent Forest Fires—Dry fall months can be even more dangerous than those of summer when it comes to forest fire danger. Nippy weather of fall causes more campfires to be built.

Help prevent a blaze from originating at your campsite by clearing a large circle around the spot where you intend to build your fire.

Also, keep the fire itself as small as possible.
Rust Remover—When you're on an extended hunting trip rust is likely to appear on your gun barrel, due to constant exposure.

Such spots easily can be removed by dipping in oil a piece of tough cardboard (or an empty shotgun shell) then rubbing it in some fine abrasive such as dust or powdered charcoal. Next, rub the rust spots with this made-on-the-spot gun cleaner.

Killing A Snake—When shooting a snake, don't aim at the head.

Just weave your gun barrel slowly back and forth. The snake will follow the barrel, putting himself on target for your shot.

Well — anyway it's supposed to work.

Selecting Boot Tops—Don't wear excessively high boot tops when unnecessary. The added weight can slow you down perceptibly on an arduous hunt.

Also, they put additional pressure on the tendon back of the ankle.

For usual wear a seven-inch top, or even a pair of hightop shoes, in ample. Use hightop boots only in swampy, snake-infested areas.

3 SAVINGS BONDS BOUGHT IN 1943 AND HOW THEY GREW

	$25	$50	$100

Value in May 1963	34.26	68.52	137.04

men have mentioned that mesquite spraying time is just around the corner.

Mesquite is considered most susceptible to 2-4-5T from 40 to 90 days after the first leaves appear or around May 15. Leaves should be mature and dark green in color, but spray should be applied before leaves become tough and leathery.

Best results from control by aerial spray occur when plants are growing vigorously. Since vigorous growth is dependent upon a good moisture supply, spraying opportunities this spring may be limited-unless soaking rains fall within the next few weeks.

Costs of material and flying are expected to total $2.75 to $3.00 per acre again this year. The Sutton County ACP program will cost-share about half of this amount, up to $1,000 per ranch.

Though 2-4-5T is the most practical and economical control method available, actual root kills in the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation district have varied from 5 to 25 percent. Good top kills have been obtained. Re-sprouts should be allowed to grow 4 to 6 years before being re-sprayed.

Mesquite has spread rapidly since the 51-56 drought, and is a major problem on many ranches. Thick stands offer major competition to forage production. Each ranchman having a mesquite problem should develop a control program to gradually treat infested areas over a period of 5 to 6 years.

SONORA WOOL & MOHAIR COMPANY
HANDLING TEXAS' FINEST WOOL AND MOHAIR

Continued From Front Page in our film service where he has worked for eight years.

Asked if he grew up in Montevideo, he replied laughing, "I grew up enough." Asked what kind of factories his country has, he replied, "Tire factories using imported rubber; Dacron and woolen mills." He pinched his trouser legs to show off the fine dacron his country makes. He knew little about the sheep his country produces.

"I appreciate very much Sonora's hospitality. I have been very comfortable and found people very friendly," was his comment on Sonora.

Ottonello's father is in the retail hardware business with some food and other products. He would like his only son to carry on the business, but Omar doesn't like business and says so. He also said he did not like school—that he hated it. When asked what he studied, he looked like he had not studied. His reply finally, "Oh, banking, commerce. I hate business."

Politics was a subject he brought up himself. He hates it, too. "But, Ottonello, you are in the most political business in the world with our government."

"I like my work. I do not like politics." And that was that.

He does not like horse racing here or in his country. "It's exactly the same," he complained. "You see one and a half minutes of racing and wait a half hour or more." He likes motorcycle and car races. He like the Peace Corps, because it works with the 4-H there. He likes our president and the Cuban blockade.

Ottonello was a most agreeable subject for interview. He was amused at all the questions. He said, "I am not a bullfighter, but I have learned . . ." throwing his hands up and to the side in a mock waving of the cape toward off the questioner, the bull.

"Are the U. S. films in your country true about our country? Do they show our country as you see it now?" He felt the films were true. He said Uruguayan films have much more propaganda. (He said it with a charming accent.)

"Do the films show American history?" Yes, he said, we learned of Lincoln and what was that war?

"What kind of films would you like to see more of?" Travel and sports. (Ottonello is a swimming, flying and automobile enthusiast.)

Life is simple in Uruguay where national schools are free to all, yet few people read the limited newspapers printed in the country. The Communist conspiracy is free to operate as a political party, yet few people vote communist. There is freedom of religion, yet an estimated half of the population believes nothing, according to Omar Ottonello.

Uruguay does not have trading stamps or TV dinners, Omar says. Yet Uruguay is not so different from our own country in that they have public health programs, social security, state utility systems, a Congress with two legislative chambers, public housing and public loans for home construction. They also have state owned banks.

Ottonello said the women out here in Texas dress more like the women in his country. He was so cooperative. He assured us he could be quoted on everything except the American women's dress in one U. S. city.

"That would not be polite," and he meant it. The Uruguayan native is always polite. He works at it.

Help- Don't Hinder

Our town looks better than ever as planting, clean-ups and new businesses march on.

Frequently, there have been calls for volunteers to help beautify the town. The city fathers, the Garden Club and the Chamber of Commerce have made appeals for civic cooperation. Many have helped.

Some have not. There has been some senseless breaking of bottles, uprooting of newly planted shrubs, decorating with tissue, BB's shattering windows, and

Area Aggies

Slate Muster

Monday, April 22

The annual Aggie Muster of former students of the A. & M. College of Texas who live in Sutton County will be held April 22 at 6:30 p.m. at the G. H. Davis ranch to carry out a 60-year-old tradition. Over 500 ceremonies will be held simultaneously in the state.

A Muster is held each year by students and former students of Texas A. & M. to pay respect to fellow Aggies who have passed on and as a humble tribute to the Texans who won the freedom of the state at the Battle of San Jacinto near Houston 127 years ago.

D. C. Langford will serve as master of ceremonies with Dr. Joe D. Ross, E. B. Keng and Dr. W. T. Hardy to appear on the program.

Muster chairman Langford invites all A. & M. men and students in the area and friends of the college to join in one of the greatest traditions to be found in American colleges and universities.

A barbecue supper will be served by the A. & M. Mothers Club of Sonora.

stealing of school traffic signs. Because of the number of teenagers out at night in Sonora, youngsters are sometimes suspected. This should not be so, as poor citizenship is not limited to any age.

It's a good time for the youngsters or others to fall in step with the Chamber of Commerce and others to get our peaceful valley looking the part.

It's time for every age Sonoran to leave the wrecking crew and join the construction gang. And there is no neutral ground. Every square inch of our town is somebody's responsibility.
