Bank To Make Nonprofit Loans To Collegiates

The First National Bank announced Wednesday that it will make nonprofit loans to college students under the national United Student Air Funds program.

Students from the Sonora area may borrow up to $1,000 a year, to a total of $3,000, to complete their undergraduate or graduate education. Sophomores and above are eligible and loans are available to any student from a participating college. Top scholarship is not required. The student need only be making normal progress toward graduation. The loans, issued to the students themselves, will be repaid following graduation.

George H. (Jack) Neill, president of the bank, said, "We are delighted to bring this urgently needed help to our deserving young men and women. Many of our young people must meet a large portion of their college cost on their own. We are proud to make it possible for students to help themselves. The self-reliance and confidence they develop may prove as valuable as their academic accomplishments."

Lions Turn Over Park To City For Maintenance As Promised

The Sonora Lions Club has completed its construction and improvement work at the park adjacent to Sonora Golf Club and has officially turned the park over to the City of Sonora for maintenance.

The Club began its project at the park last year and has provided five concrete picnic tables and benches, five barbecue grills, five waste receptacles, has had water piped to all tables, seeded the park area with grass and constructed a hand bridge over the draw to the park area. Rest rooms were erected and an access road for maintenance and trash collection.

When the project was undertaken by the service organization it was with understanding that once facilities were completed, the City would assume maintenance.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson had as guests Monday his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Johnson of Ozona.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Walton of Iraan were weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Moore.

Another item of supreme importance, Langford says, is to be sure that all worms in a wound are killed and removed from the wound. Recurrent cases have been reported and a clean job of doctoring will prevent this, Langford points out.

2 New Screwworm Cases Identified, Precautions Urged

Two more cases of screwworms within Sutton County have been positively identified and steps taken to release sterile flies over the locations early this week. A suspected case was identified on the Aldwell Brothers ranch last week and the second case was found on the P. K. McIntosh ranch.

Speed with which the screwworm eradication program is working was especially evidenced in the McIntosh incident. A sample of the larvae was brought to town Monday afternoon, taken to Kerrville and the identification was made Monday night. Flies were to be dropped in the area Tuesday or Wednesday of this week.

County Agent D. C. Langford Tuesday morning repeated the urgent warning to stockmen to report at once all suspected cases

Virtue Triumphs Over Villainy In Musical Melodrama Tonight

Lily, titular heroine of the musical melodrama "Lily, the Drunkard's Daughter," emerges triumphant over the wiles of evil and vice in tonight's final performance at Central Elementary School. Lily (Linda Hunt) portrays the lovely and innocent daughter of the besotted Josiah (Si Loeffler) and his long-suffering invalid wife (Maxine Locklin).

Almost caught in the web of deceit and villainy woven by Uriah Grimes (Doyle Morgan), Lily's lot seems a hopeless one until Clarence Vandergriff (Clyde Greer) and her long-lost brother William (Bob McMinn) tear her from his clutches.

Scene of the melodrama is the saloon where Pearl O'Toole (Edith Lowe) reigns as hostess. In one of the musical's best numbers Pearl and her husband Buggsie (Jake Billingsley) fresh out of Sing Sing, repent the error of their ways in a duet, "We're Giving Up Crime and Corruption".

Other members of the cast are Jimmy Harris as the barkeeper, Calvin Howell as the police chief, Monica Davis as the Lady in the Hat, and Robert Pfluger, Harold Scherz and Norman Rouselot as her escorts. Can Can girls are Nancy Pfluger, Marie Ellis, Jackie Hopkins and Clara Lloyd Scherz.

Mrs. Norman Rouselot is general production manager and Mrs. Charles F. Browne is director. Mrs. Albert C. Ward is in charge of properties and settings are by Mrs. Armer F. Earwood. Mrs. George Barrow is head of publicity and Mrs. Oliver Wuest is in charge of refreshments. Choreography is by Gwen Glimp.

Everyone is invited to attend and to enjoy a musical evening in which the audience is encouraged to cheer on the hero and hiss the villain.

Proceeds will go toward projects of the Sonora Music Club and Sonora Woman's Club, sponsoring organizations.

HIGH LIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
Gov. John B. Connally says he is giving a great deal of thought to the appointment of a successor to former Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray, Jr.

He says he hopes to find a replacement before the Senate adjourns on May 24, so his choice can be confirmed.

The governor stated he also is working hard on appointments to his "Committee of 25." This is a committee which will be charged with an extensive study of education beyond the high school. He has personally interviewed every candidate. Aim is to pick people who have the respect of the public and the teaching profession.

SOME EXCEPTIONS—Connally's plan to reorganize the State Banking Commission ran into banker opposition. But a bill allowing Connally to name one member to replace Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr probably will get through.

His proposal to give the governor authority to control budgets of state agencies within the total dollar limits set by the Legislature got a chilly reception from a House committee and hasn't been heard from since.

HOLIDAY CONFIRMED—For the first time since the reconstruction era, a Negro holds a state office as a member of a major board.

Senate confirmed the appointment of the Rev. C. A. Holliday of Fort Worth to the State Board of Corrections, despite early opposition to Connally's choice.

STIFFER REQUIREMENTS—Board of Education also adopted its junior college study commission's recommendations to strengthen the requirements for communities seeking board approval of an election to create junior colleges.

New requirements state that certified proof that all board standards have been met must be filed 10 days before a hearing will be granted. New procedure will streamline the process somewhat, since it could cut down some of the local hearings and investigations necessary in past years.

OPERATORS WIN—Oil and gas operators won a battle when the House approved a measure making it illegal to transport more than a pound of mercury with proof of ownership. This law is expected to cut down the thefts of mercury from automatic gauges on oil tanks and gas pipelines.

SHORT SNORTS

Vegetable dealers will be required to purchase a bigger bond under a bill ready for the governor's signature.

Parks managers have reported record attendance at state parks so far for 1963.

Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation notified Governor Connally that livestock producers and sportsmen have met and exceeded their $3,000,000 goal for screwworm eradication.

State Treasurer Jesse James reported that the General Revenue Fund was out of the red on May 7 for the first time since September 1, 1962. Fund balance was $222,402.87.

State plan for construction of hospitals under the Hill-Burton Act has been revised, according to the State Health Department, which is issuing copies of the revised procedure until June 15.

Devil's River Philosopher Advises World Leaders On How To Hold A Successful Disarmament Meeting

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Devil's River takes a look at a world problem this week.

Dear editor:
I've noticed that along about this time every spring there's considerable talk about banning further testing of atomic bombs and when nothing comes of it the world leaders shake their heads gloomily and say it forebodes evil days ahead.

I don't like to advise world leaders, although I've never seen a man yet who wouldn't undertake the job at the drop of a hat, me included, but it seems to me the idea of a ban is sound, they're just picking the wrong item.

Trying to ban the testing of atomic bombs is like trying to get a kid to give up bicycle riding the day after the Christmas he got a new one. Wait till he's old enough to drive a car and you can turn the trick without any trouble.

If the world leaders want to have a really successful disarmament conference, let them meet at some neutral place, say on this bitterweed ranch, and forever ban the use of the cannon ball. If this is too strong for some of the smaller countries just now coming into civilization, they can go a little further back and ban the use of the slingshot and the crossbow.

The trouble with the world leaders is they're trying to get ahead of themselves. How can you expect France for example to agree to ban the testing of atomic bombs when it hasn't even gotten one to go off yet?

If the world leaders would like to meet out here, I'll be glad to work up a list of weapons they can successfully get banned, and it won't be just primitive ones, either. For example, take battleships. New Guinea would readily agree to ban battleships, since she hasn't got any. The United States would agree also, since battleships are now about useless in modern warfare. Open cockpit airplanes can

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Apparently the rule concerning sinus trouble is this: if you're human you're susceptible. This, if you suffer from a sinus condition either chronically or occasionally, you are in excellent company.

A nasal sinus is a lined cavity in the face bone which opens into the nose. There are two important ones on each side of the face: one in each cheek bone, and one over each eye.

Cheekbone sinuses are triangle-shaped, large enough to hold half an ounce of fluid. Oversized ones can hold up to full ounce. Eyebrow sinuses are smaller, the average having a fluid capacity of one-fifth ounce.

Sinuses are lined with mucous membrane, a continuation of the membrane lining the nasal cavity. When a sinus lining becomes inflamed enough to interfere with drainage, there is trouble ahead.

There are all sorts of speculation as to what good purpose sinuses serve. Some specialists believe they warm and moisten air as it is inhaled. Others believe that sinuses, like the appendix (are evolutionary remnants which are sometimes more harmful than useful.

Sinus sufferers subscribe un-animously to this latter theory. But the truth probably is that sinus cavities serve as resonating chambers for the voice. Whether a person has a high or low pitched voice, according to this reasoning, is dependent on the size of his sinuses.

There are as many different causes of sinus inflammation as there are people suffering from it. Infection-producing agents such as viruses, and irritants such as pollens and dust are most often the cause. But facial injuries, infected teeth, and other conditions can also bring on flare-ups.

What to do about it? Make sinuses drain, which is a little like telling the wind to stop blowing. Still, it can be done if the cause of the inflammation is removed.

Temporary relief can sometimes be obtained with dilating drugs or inhalers, but the basic cause should be determined and treated by a physician.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Doyle W. Morton, pastor First Methodist Church

"Every one to whom much is given, of him will much be required; and of him to whom men commit much they will demand the more." Luke 12:48.

We fail to see how much this passage of Scripture points to us. We excuse ourselves by saying that we have few talents. The truth is that we have more talents than we use. We have more resources than most people in our world. God does not ask more of us than we can do, but he does hold us responsible for what we can do. Jesus reminds us that this is also man's way.

We sing, "O for a thousand tongues to sing my great Redeemer's praise." Yet, we fail to use the one voice that is ours.

We should use the one talent that God gave us. Though we are not systematic theologians, we can study God's word in a simple way and learn his way for us. Though our material possessions may be less than those of some other person, we are still held accountable for our stewardship. We should accept our responsibility and do our best with the talents, abilities, resources and influence that God has given to us.

I hope they can make it here, though. I'd like to work in the idea also of banning pickup driving.

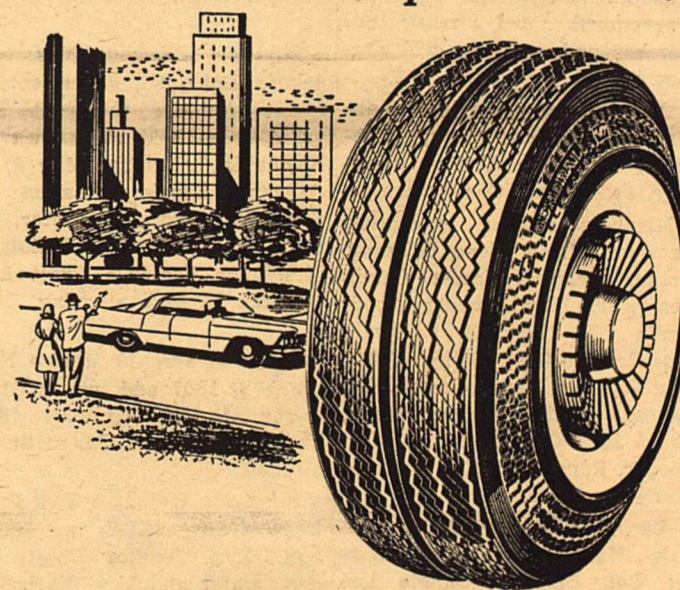

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

Channel cats are the only fish of the catfish tribe to be considered truly game fish by Texas anglers. They rate on a par with white bass and crappie, and just below the lordly black bass. More pugnacious than crappie, they equal white bass as scrap-ers and measure only a few notches below black bass when it comes to putting up a fight. Also, they are the only cats to consistently strike on plugs and spoons.

Channel cats go by many names—mostly according to geography. Besides their ritzy Latin moniker, Ictalurus lacustris punctatus, they are known in some section of the country as fiddlers. Other states call them spotted cat, fork-tail cat and white cat. But in Texas they are just plain channel cat, a very descriptive name.

Distributed all over Texas, the channel cat is most abundant in streams that have swift currents and channels. However, the species often is taken from the big lakes and quiet rivers.

This succulent fish is similar to the blue cat that grows to such a size in the Mississippi River and its tributaries. This same blue is found in almost all Texas lakes and rivers, though in somewhat smaller sizes than the Mississippi River variety.

You might say that the channel cat is the blue cat's little brother. Where the blue cat sometimes reaches 50 or 75 pounds in weight, the world record channel cat only tipped the scales at 57 pounds. A five pound channel cat is considered good size. Two or three pounds are most common, and make better eating.

So alike are the channel and blue cats that they often are mistaken for each other. Both are slim shaped with rather narrow heads and forked tails.

You can distinguish the species by the shape and structure of the anal fins. In channel cats the outer edge of this fin is rounded and has 25 to 30 rays. Blue cats have 31 to 33 rays in a straight anal fin. Also, the coloring is different in the two fish. Where channel cats are a darkish blue, or muddy green on the back, going into whites on the sides and stomach, the blues are a much clearer blue on top and more striking white underneath. Channels under five pounds also have dark spots along their sides. These spots tend to disappear when the fish grows beyond five pounds.

Nesting habits of channel cats are similar to those of most fish. Nests are laid in bank hollows or in other secluded spots such as underwater brush, sunken logs and stumps. Spring is spawning time . . . usually in May but sometimes earlier or later, depending upon water temperature. Like humans, the men-folks generally mind the youngsters and do most of the house-work, after the eggs are hatched. The 5,000 to 7,000 eggs laid are each about the size of a buckshot. They stick to the nest in a gold-colored, jello-like lump. It takes about seven days for these eggs to hatch, which job the old man tends to, hovering over and fanning them with his tail, always alert to chase away predators.

Small fry stay in the nest about a week under daddy's care before going out into the wide cruel world—usually followed by the old man for several days who sees they aren't gobbled up.

Channel cats, like the other cats, eat just about everything when they are hungry. The young feed on insects, insect larvae, and other such light diet. The adults go for crawfish, dead fish, small animals such as mice, carrion, or any thing else that drifts by, providing it has a strong odor.

During daylight hours channel cats siesta in sheltered spots such as deep holes, overhanging rocks and underwater brush. At dark they move out into the swift and shallow water.

Almost any method of fishing will catch channel cats. One of the most effective is the old, time-honored pole and line. Then there are drop lines and trot-lines stretched across channels. Also what is known as a bank pole. The bank pole is a variation

IN THE YEAR OF

July 15, 1911
Dr. A. J. and Mrs. Smith and daughter Miss Jessie returned Monday from a two months visit of the drop line, made by attaching a 2/0 hook to a 3-foot chalk line tied to any slim, green wood pole. Push butt of pole into mud bank so that the live bait will move and jump just below the water surface.

Minnows make good channel cat bait—either live or wadded balls of slightly ripe dead ones. Crawfish, all sorts of stink bait, chicken guts, cheese and dough also make excellent bait. Cottonseed meal and flour mixed with enough water to form a tough round ball is a bait for channels that is good at any time.

Channel cats are lively, healthy fish, almost free of parasites. They have an insatiable appetite and can thrive in almost any kind of water, even where other fish will die. In the north, channel cats have been known to survive after being frozen in ice all winter. Just so the gills are moist, channel cats are able to live.

Channel cats make great game fish. When snagged in shallow water they often leap out of the water like bass in an attempt to throw the hook. Interspersing these jumps, they take long, explosive runs into deep water.

This is one of a new series of informative reports on the unique advantages of print media presented by this newspaper and the Print Advertising Association.

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?

Most people do.

They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features . . . designs . . . and prices, for example.

People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

People read an ad because they want to (it's never forced on them). They can even check back later; the message is still there.

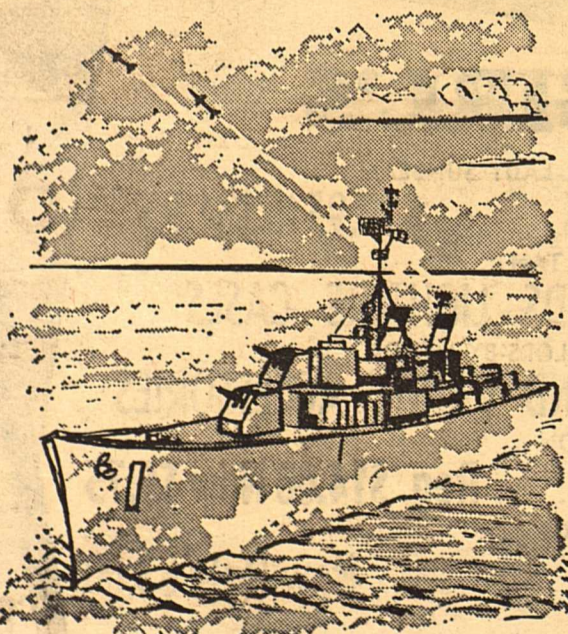

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of consumers, print makes sales.

Most people read and then buy. Don't you?

THE TEEN SCENE

By Mary Davis

In observance of National Music Week, the band, among other activities, held a concert last Thursday. Both the Junior high and high school bands played. Three students played solos. Alice Lee Duncan, a senior and a very talented clarinetist, played "Concerto for Clarinet." Mickey Hardegree, who is going to state in June, played the piece that won her first at regional. Dick Hardgrave did very well on a trumpet solo. He had it muted and it sounded just like first class jazz. The next piece was a classical and Dick did real well on that, too.

The Sammy Joneses gave a party honoring Betty Jack Cooper, Mary John Espy and Buck Bloodworth Friday night. Tina Whitehead decorated and had a darling theme. The party was a "toe tickling" party so there were footprints pasted all over the walls. No one was allowed to wear shoes.

As each junior and senior entered, they were given a sucker and a piece of bubblegum which they had to keep in their mouths the whole time they played the different games. Everyone was reminded of kindergarten days when they played jacks, jumped rope, rolled potatoes, played in a rhythm band, had a blow-the-ball contest and a genuine toe tickling contest.

Next week is actually the last week of school. All week long teachers have been "winding things up". The Seniors leave on their trip Saturday and will be back in time for one day of review and then the dreaded FINALS. One bright thought shows itself above this dreadful thought and that's the realization that summer is here at last.

-shs-

Speaking of summer, here's a little reminder. "High school students who plan on working this summer should get their Social Security Cards now. Some employers won't hire you unless you have a number. Application blanks may be obtained at the Post Office. The application blank may also be used to replace a lost card."

Paul McCowen, Field Representative of the San Angelo Social Security Office, reminded us of this. On his day in Sonora, he will be glad to assist anyone in applying for a number. Anyone who doesn't already have a Social Security Card or who has lost theirs should take advantage of this offer.

-shs-

Saw quite a few kids home. They were Barbara Wright, Prissy Linticum, Alice Claire Jones, Cleve T. Jones, Douglas Wood, Johnny Morris, Hank Hull, Curt Schwiening, Bill McClelland, Charlie Howell, Philip Chalk, Billy Arnold and Mickey Powers.

-shs-

Several of our most distinguished teachers are in the melodrama this week. It was a great deal of fun to hiss the villain but some junior high students were wishing they could hiss the hero as well.

No heavy damage was done here but some was reported over West Texas. Some house shingles were blown off and minor damage was observed in town. Trees lost some of their fruit and shrubs and flowers suffered in the wind. "Sterling City News-Record".

The new facility will provide sufficient space to build the present employee roster from 460 names to over 1,000. ## Money that stands up to be counted

A lot of Communist eyes are watching the financial strength of our government and of our people like hawks. That's because their leaders have said they would "bury us" economically—and they're waiting for it to happen.

It must be a continuing disappointment to them that, year after year, U.S. savers put or leave so much of their savings in the hands of our government, in U.S. Savings Bonds.

This stake that Savings Bond owners now have in the strength of our country is more than $45 billion—an all-time high.

And because savers can get their money back, with accumulated interest, when they need it, that's financial strength for millions of U.S. savers and their families.

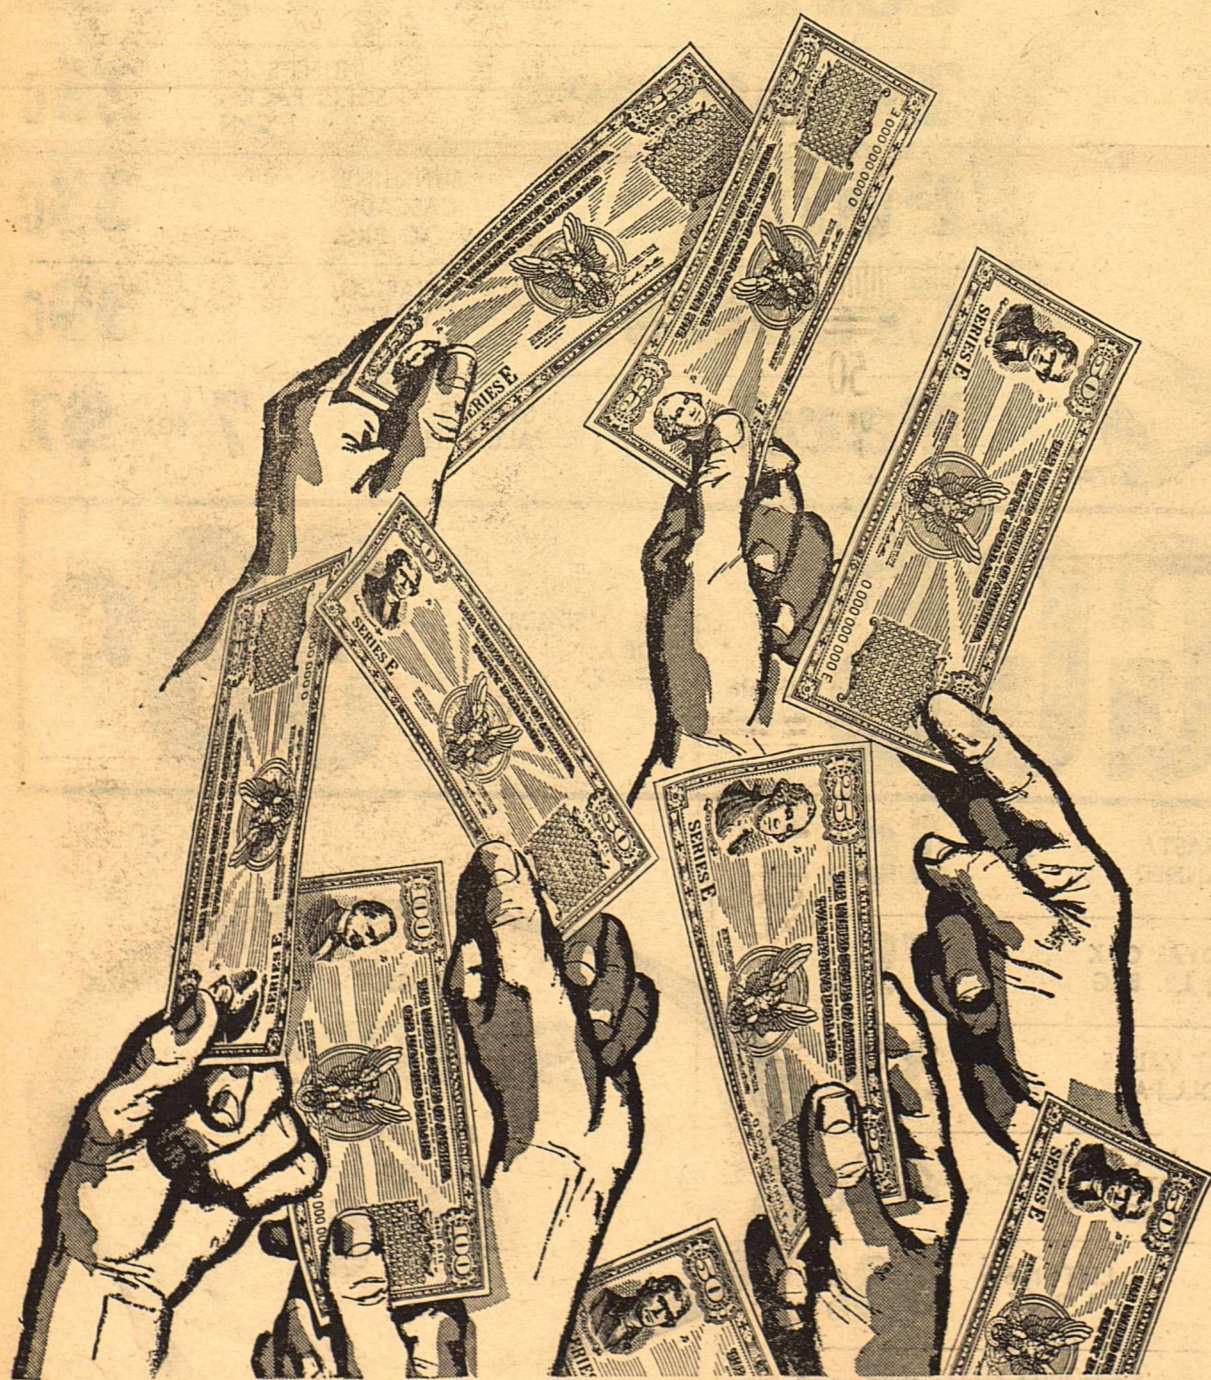

Your dollars in Savings Bonds do stand up to be counted—by freedom's friends and foes alike—as a measure of the strength of our country and our people.

Help keep yourself and your country strong by regular buying of U.S. Savings Bonds, through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or from your bank.

Quick facts about U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

- You get $4 back for every $3 when your Bond matures
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, or destroyed
- You can get your money anytime
- You can save automatically on Payroll Savings.

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

GENERAL TELEPHONE TOWNS ON THE MOVE

Olney
Creates Home-grown Industry

When an aeronautical engineer and the business leaders of Olney, Texas, got together, a new home-grown industry was born. The product: an agricultural aircraft especially designed for crop dusting and spraying.

Now, 4 1/2 years later, Snow Aeronautical Company employs 57 skilled workers in this West Texas community of 3872, and has sold aircraft in many agricultural states of the Union and in seven foreign countries.

Success of this thriving local enterprise is evidenced by a plant expansion program which will double the factory size when construction is completed this Fall. It is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.

NAVY AND YOU

George Dewey, a graduate of the Naval Academy at twenty years of age, was made Admiral of the Navy, the highest rank ever given at that time to a U. S. Naval hero, after he defeated the Spanish fleet in the Battle of Manila Bay. He was active in the Civil War as a Lieutenant under Admiral David Glasgow Farragut. Dewey did not retire until age 79, when he was chosen as president of the General Board of the Navy, a position he held until his death in 1917.

Memorial Marker To Col. John Sutton To Be Erected On Courthouse Lawn

A memorial marker to be placed on the lawn of the Sutton County Courthouse will honor prominent Confederate Colonel John S. Sutton for whom this county was named. Plans for the erection of the Confederate Memorial Information Marker were announced last week by State Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman.

The State of Texas is erecting these markers and Hardeman described courthouse lawns as "the logical sites for these markers because of their accessibility to the interested public, school children and tourists who all want to learn more about the history of the counties."

Colonel John S. Sutton led five companies in the Arizona-New Mexico Campaign, the campaign designed to make the Confederacy an ocean-to-ocean nation. Although he was mortally wounded while leading a rifle assault against enemy cannons in the Battle of Val Verde, he refused aid and motioned on his battalion which captured the enemy cannons.

The Texas State Historical Survey Committee, state agency for historical preservation, is in charge of research and inscriptions for the markers. The marker is made of Texas pink granite, stands five feet high, and has the Texas star and wreath incised at the top.

The marker is part of a 3-year program to mark Civil War sites, graves, and landmarks in Texas. Funds, set aside for the erection of markers and memorials, will expire in 1965 as directed by a Constitutional Amendment.

Other markers to be erected in this area include those to Confederate Captain Gustav Schlicher, Confederate John H. Reagan, for whom those counties were named and a marker describing the role of Fort Lancaster, located 33 miles west of Ozona, will be placed in Ozona.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. (Bud) Smith have as their guest Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Fannie Gahagan of Stephenville.

We Turn Our Eyes To The Future

This year's Soil Stewardship theme, "We Turn Our Eyes to the Future," underscores the necessity for man to look beyond today's horizons so he will be able, through judgement and wisdom, to adequately fulfill his multiplying responsibilities as stewards of the soil, water and related resources.

To remind Americans of their responsibility to God to society to conserve and use wisely these resources, the week of May 19-26 has been designated as Soil Stewardship Week throughout the nation. Some 2,930 Soil and Water Conservation Districts, through their State and National Associations, are sponsoring the observance for the ninth consecutive year.

To help direct attention to the value of responsible stewardship, the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts have created soil stewardship materials for consideration and possible use by churches of all faiths. The materials are prepared in cooperation with an Advisory Committee consisting of representatives of major church councils.

The Advisory Committee and soil conservation districts throughout America are urging all people to seriously consider their responsibilities of stewardship of those resources so bountifully supplied by God for man's use.
