Ranchers Reminded To Be Vigilant As 3 New Screwworm Cases Found

Three new cases of screwworms in Sutton County were positively identified by the Southwest Animal Health Laboratory during the past week, according to County Agent D. C. Langford. Specimens were identified as screwworms on the Hensel Matthews, T Half-Circle and R. A. Halbert ranches.

The fresh outbreak was the first in the past several weeks and may indicate a lack of vigilance on the part of ranchers. Rains last month and the advent of summer weather make it all the more important for stockmen to watch their stock closely for any infested wounds.

In case of a suspected case of screwworms, ranchmen are again reminded that larvae specimens should be left with D. C. Bruce or Pat Clifton at the Twin Oaks Motel. Any specimen vials left there are sent to Kerrville for observation the same day received and identification received the following day.

SHURLEY DIRECTOR OF WTQHA FOR 1963

School Board Votes Policy Change In Beginners' Ages Effective 1964

The Board of Education of the Sonora Independent School District at its regular monthly Monday, June 10, voted unanimously to revise the present age of admittance policy on children entering kindergarten and first grade. Under the present policy, children are admitted to kindergarten if they are five years of age on or before November 1 of the current school year and to first grade if they are six years of age on or before that date.

According to Superintendent of Schools Rex W. Lowe, the revised policy reads: "All children will be admitted under the old policy in the coming school year (1963-64). Beginning with the school year 1964-65, only kindergarten children will be affected by the policy change. In that year, children must be five years of age on or before September 1, 1964 to be admitted to kindergarten."

"In 1965-66 all children must meet age requirements as proposed in the State policy. These are: 1. To enter the first grade, a child must be six years of age on or before September 1 of the current school year. 2. To enter kindergarten, a child must be

Judging results were incomplete at press time at the 26th annual Sonora Wool and Mohair Show underway here this week. A large number of entries was received in the warehouse of Sonora Wool and Mohair Company by final entry time at five o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The unusually large number of fleeces and bags entered in the show was credited with the extra time required for judging.

The National 4-H Wool Judging Contest began at eight o'clock this morning with eight teams eligible for participation. Other events on today's schedule include the style show by Miss Wool of Texas and Miss Mohair at ten o'clock and a wool school for both adult and junior producers to be held at the wool house at ten o'clock also.

The annual awards luncheon will be held at 11:30 this morning at the school cafeteria with the Sonora Lions Club as host. At that time awards will be presented prize winners in the show and in the various judging contests held in conjunction with the show.

Fred and Sam Hull are doing an interesting piece of work on the place of the former in South Heights. They have put in tiling for sub-irrigation of a garden and are using dynamite to blast out holes for tree planting. There is no rock; they are using the dynamite to open up the clay subsoil in order that the roots will have a chance to go down instead of spreading near the surface. The work is very simple and the News predicts that the orchard will be a success. The Hull Brothers have a well and in a short while will have one of the prettiest places in Sonora.

Americans lost an average of 16 days per person through illness and injury in the past year, which included six days of confinement in bed.

The heart, a muscular pump about the size of a man's fist, daily drives five to ten tons of blood through the arteries and veins.

The cost of pneumonia in 1940 was three months' wages of the average man for the hospital bill, and now it is five hours' wages for medicine and a few days in bed at home.

Normally the blood makes the entire circuit from the heart and through the arteries and veins and back to heart in half a minute.

The earliest evidence of surgery is found in Spain where amputations of the fingers are depicted in silhouettes which date back to 25,000 B.C.

Fishing Camp Tip

Before inserting a wedge in an axe head to tighten handle, put some pulverized rock salt into wedge shot. Salt absorbs moisture and prevents handle from working loose during dry weather.

When to Fish

You'll get many different answers if you ask for advice as to when to go fishing.

Some "experts" say only on sunshiny days. Others allow there should be good cloud cover. But the fact is that fish adhere to no set eating standard.

However, it has been proven that fish do feed best—whether cloudy, sunshiny, warm, or cold—at first light in the morning and last light in the evening.

So, during early spring and late fall.

So, it seems, the best time to fish is any day during early spring or late fall, at daybreak or sundown, no matter what the weather.

Be Sure of Balance

You never can be a good caster unless you have balanced equipment. So for smooth, accurate casts, first be sure your rod, reel and line has been check-ed for balance by an expert.

Make Worms Do Full Duty

Worms don't show up very well in murky water. Add to the worms appeal when threading it on the hook by tying a small strip of red bandanna cloth through the hook's eye.

Worm soon will twist itself around the red cloth and so add to the brightness of your bait.

Keep Line From Tangling

Every fisherman knows how badly a line tangles while you are moving from one fishing spot to another. You can prevent this by wrapping the hook and line close to your rod.

Simple method is to twist a pipe cleaner around the rod and line. Pipe cleaners are easy to twist and easy to undo.

Added Lure For Bass

Fly tyers often add a dressing of fiber glass threads pulled from woven cloth. After tying, comb out. You'll have a fly with an unequaled sheen . . . tempting to bass, crappie and perch.

Good Fishing Rod Case

Ever have your favorite fishing rod smashed by a car door, or trampled by careless feet? Here's how one angler solved the problem.

He purchased a steel steering wheel column at an auto junk car lot. He trimmed both ends off smooth, then capped each opening with a small can top. It made a strong yet light fishing rod case.

Crossing Barbed Fences

Anglers who fish running streams usually do a lot of fence crossing. Most fences are of barbed wire that can tear holes in britches and rubber boots.

Carry with you, tucked through your belt, a yard long, foot wide strip of canvas to lay over any barbed wire you may have to

Don't Give Up First Time

Fish have pretty good memories. But usually one must be hooked five or six times for the experience to register.

So, when you lose a lunker after a battle, don't give up and move on. Try the same spot again and again. The lunker may take your lure when you least expect it.

Extra Fuel Tank

It's important on outboard cruises to obtain the best miles per gallon of fuel. So, adjust your speed for minimum gas consumption.

Then to prevent trouble and inconvenience, carry an extra fuel tank, as insurance, to be used only in an emergency.

Color Or Action

Expert anglers argue pro and con as to which is more important in a lure . . . color or action.

Most authorities agree, that color is more important, though they admit action plays a big part in catching lunkers. Use light colored lures on a cloudy day; dark colored or black lures for night fishing.

Handy Way To Carry Oil

Use an empty nail polish bottle to carry oil in your tackle box. It is handy to pack and you can use the brush to apply oil when needed.

Roping Firewood

Firewood soon gets scarce around a camp.

When it does, take an ordinary rope, one-half-inch, or larger, long enough to reach lower tree limbs. Tie a weight on one end of the rope and toss it over a dead branch. Hold both ends of the rope and pull.

You can "lasso" a surprising amount of firewood in this manner.

By Larry Bob Moore
Thursday's games found the Cubs in the position of the worm on the railroad tracks and the Giants in the position of the on-coming train, as the Giants walked the Cubs 11-3. The win-ing hurler was Juan Sanchez, who combined with Richard Cox to limit the Cubs to one hit. Cox, who relieved Sanchez in the fourth inning, was also the hitting star collecting three hits in three trips to the plate. Marty Martinez had the only hit for the Cubs, who were missing four of their regular players.

In the second game Thursday the Yanks temporarily captured second place by beating the Tigers 11-6. Mike Watson led the Yanks with 2 for 3 officially. Barry Black had two doubles to pace the losers.

Once again Tuesday night the Giants played the part of a train, but this time they got derailed. The spoilers were the Tigers, who took advantage of 7 walks and 5 errors to defeat the league-leaders 9-5. The Tigers had only two hits in the most unusual game of the year. Papo Sanchez came to bat three times in one inning. He batted out of order, and when it was discovered, he was called to the plate for the second time in a row. Barry Black and Sonny Pavila had the hits for the Tigers. The Giants could do no better than the Tigers and got only two hits, also. Their hits were made by Juan Sanchez and Bud Smith.

The Giants still lead with 4 wins, while the other three teams each have two victories. The Cubs got their second win last night, as they took advantage of sloppy fielding by the Yanks to take a 5-3 decision. The Cubs had only two hits and Marty Martinez had both of them. Sammy Martinez, who had two hits, paced a four-hit Yankee attack.

Thursday's games saw the red-hot Tigers beat the Cubs, and the faltering Giants tumble at the hands of the Yanks. The Tiger-Cub game was a 5-3 pitcher's duel, while the Giant-Yank game was a slugfest. Erasmo Lumberas hits his second homer and David Wuest hit his first, both for the Yanks.

Dwayne Davis pitched and won his first Little League game for the Tigers, allowing 4 hits and 3 runs. The losing hurler for the Cubs was Marty Martinez who relieved starter Jesso Cook in the fourth. The Tiger attack was led by Sandy Ingram and Sammy Bermea who had two hits each. Mike Richardson paced the Cubs with two for three including a long double.

The Yanks picked up nine hits en route to a 12-6 victory over the Giants. Thurston McCutchen had three singles for the Yanks, and David Wuest had a double and a homer. Erasmo Lumberas also homered for the Yanks, but he was put out when he failed to touch first base. Jesse Martinez had two of the Giants' three hits, and Ricky Street reached base all three times at bat on two walks and an error.

Thursday's games tightened up the standings so that the first place club is only two games ahead of the last. The Giants are in first, a game ahead of the Yanks and the Tigers, and two games ahead of the Cubs.

Phone Rates On Late Night Calls Lower June 15

Telephone users in Texas will get their second reduction in station-to-station late night (after 9 p.m.) long distance rates effective June 15, according to a General Telephone Company spokesman.

The new rates will apply to calls within Texas. Earlier this year long distance rates on station-to-station calls made to other states after 9 p.m. were reduced, with some exceptions, to a maximum of $1.00.

When the newest after 9 p.m. rates become effective June 15 the maximum charge for a station-to-station call to any point in Texas will be 80 cents; however, generally speaking, the calls will cost less than the maximum. The new after 9 p.m. in-state rates will not apply to collect calls or calls charged to a third number.

Night rates will continue to be in effect between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. and additional reductions will apply to station-to-station calls made to other points in Texas between 9 p.m. and 4:30 a.m.

The actual savings to customers range from five to 50 cents, depending on the distance of the call.

Sutton Highway Accident Record Ahead Of Last Year

Department of Public Safety records show that Sutton County has had one traffic fatality for the first five months of 1963. There were no fatal highway accidents for the same period of 1962. For the January through May period, 11 persons were injured in accidents in the county as compared to eight in 1962. Property damages of $10,423 have been reported so far with the same period of 1962 seeing $15,170 in property damage. Area-wide, 13 persons have died in automobile accidents as compared to 15 in 1962. A total of 157 persons have been injured to date this year, three more than at the end of May 1962. Property damages this year amount to $225,548, almost ten percent more than for the comparable period of 1962.

For the month of May 1963, Sutton County reported one person killed and four injured in three accidents. Another three accidents resulted in property damages amounting to $5,280.00. In the San Angelo Sub-District, two persons were killed and 34 injured in 23 accidents. Another 50 accidents caused damages estimated at $37,790.00.

Sonorans Receive Over $15,000 Monthly From SS

Old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits are becoming increasingly important as a community resource, according to Floyd B. Ellington, District Manager of the local office of the Social Security Administration.

$15,199.00 is paid monthly in social security benefits in Sutton County. This is an increase of about 18 percent over last year's figures. While the benefits are intended primarily for the beneficiaries' economic security, they help business in the community generally. Most of the money is spent for food, clothing and other necessities. "There are several reasons for the increase," Ellington said. There are more aged people; benefits are now payable at age 62; and less social security credit is needed to meet the eligibility requirements for benefits.

In Sutton County 17 widows or widowers receive $1,051 monthly; 127 retired workers receive $8,513.00; 49 wives or husbands receive $1,536.00; 71 mothers and children receive $2,979.00, and 18 disabled workers and dependents receive $1,120.00.

Bumper Crop Of Bitterweed Follows On Heels Of Recent Good Rains

"A number of circumstances combined to produce the most abundant crop of poisonous bitterweed in many years", said E. B. Keng.

During the past four years spring rains have been generally lacking or long delayed, resulting in unfavorable growing conditions for bitterweed and also for perennial grasses. Livestock numbers have gradually edged upward during the same period—partly due to unfavorable sheep markets—but largely due to a number of good rainfall years since the big drought broke in 1955.

Good rains in September, 1962—following a dry, grass-killing summer—provided ideal conditions for the germination of bitterweed. Since the weed grows during the winter when evaporation is low, it was able to "hang on" during the dry winter and spring. The widespread heavy rains in May revived bitterweed and produced a heavy crop of yellow blossoms on some ranches.

The amount of bitterweed produced is closely related to the density and vigor of perennial grasses. The weed is an annual—comes from a tiny seed each year—and must have bare ground on which to grow. It is quickly reduced to a bare trace with competition from good grasses.

With a good start toward a grass-growing summer ranchmen may have an opportunity to improve native ranges during the current growing season. Proper numbers and kinds of livestock, coupled with periods of rest, will allow grasses to make rapid recovery.

THE TEEN SCENE

By Mary Davis

Has anyone seen a real tall red-headed boy walking around town lately? That's Grady Roe. He's the son of the new Methodist preacher. Coming from Beville, Grady is really impressed with the smallness of Sonora. He thinks he will really enjoy going to SHS next year.

Quite a few kids have gone out of town. Kenneth Isaacs has gone back to Eldorado. Francine Fields and Betty Jack Cooper have gone to TCU. Tee Glasscock is in Midland at a Commercial Business College majoring in secretarial science. Corky Fields leaves this weekend for summer school at Kerrville. He hopes to work off three credits toward next year's work. Bob Nevill is out in El Paso working. Ronnie Cox is going to school in Austin. Cissy Young is leaving for Colorado and going to the University of Colorado.

Gil Allison and Tommy Dock Raye went to New Mexico for a couple of days. They went to Carlsbad Cavern and White City, then to Cloudercroft and White Sands. They stopped off in Pecos to see Becky Babb.

CeeWee Johnson came to visit her grandparents last Monday. Beverly won't be here until later in the summer.

Denzel Fisher lives in Sonora now and is working for El Paso Natural Gas. He moved here from Eldorado. He goes to Texas A. and M.

A girls' club from Shreveport, Louisiana was in town last Friday. It is a social club called the BNA. The girls pay dues and they saved up all their money to come to this part of Texas. The 14 girls, all of them high school graduates, have been staying at the Velma Shurley ranch outside Telegraph. They planned to go to the Caverns Friday, and to Ciudad Acuna Saturday. They were amazed at Sonora and fascinated with the ranch life they were experiencing. One of the girls moaned about the fact that she had eaten only ham sandwiches since she left Shreveport last Wednesday. They were doing their own cooking. They returned to Shreveport Monday. They had three sponsors with them.

It's getting pretty hot now. The public pool looks and feels wonderfully inviting. I've noticed some ladies taking advantage of ladies' night, too.

Devil's River Philosopher Comes Out Against Standard Work Week For Ranchers Of This Country

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Devil's River discusses work this week, a subject he doesn't mind talking about, if you follow us.

Dear editor:
I was looking through a farm and ranch magazine the other night and ran across a letter by a rancher with a curious problem.

He wanted to know why ranchers can't have a standard work-week like city people. "Why can't we have a standard," he asked, "so when we quite work at 6 we won't feel like we're loafing?"

This question brings up so many answers I hardly know where to start attacking it.

In the first place, I've never had any trouble knowing when to stop working. I've sometimes had trouble knowing when to start, but never when to stop.

Maybe city people have to be told when they're tired, but I've never had that shortcoming.

This rancher went on to say he'd like to know what work hours other ranchers put in around the U. S., on the grounds a uniform standard could be established and a man could get out of his pickup at a certain time each day without feeling sheepish about it.

A man who has to watch his neighbor to know when to stop spraying is in the wrong business. On the other hand, any neighbor who watches me to learn when to start, will go broke.

But this idea of a standard work week for ranchers worries me. You let somebody in Washington hear about it, and it won't be long before he'll come out with some new legislation called an Hour-Control Program, with government checks cut if you go over or under it.

A rancher's day begins when he wakes up and ends when he goes to sleep, and what he does during those hours is his own business, provided the support price is satisfactory. And any rancher who can't figure out how to spend those hours, without looking over the fence to make sure he doesn't work longer or shorter than his neighbor, ought to move to town and get a job where somebody can make these decisions for him.

I don't want anybody telling me how many or how few hours I can work a week. This is a matter I can decide for myself, even if it takes me the first five days to decide what I plan to do the last two.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.
Mr. and Mrs. Pascal Allison are home from the University of Texas.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

The Texas State Department of Health is involved in mounting work after receiving licensing and supervisory authority from the Atomic Energy Commission for by-product materials and small quantities of special nuclear and source materials.

Texas ranked fourth in the number of AEC licenses prior to the State's assumption of the program. Somewhat unique to Texas is the presence of seven research reactors, a uranium mill and the location of the principle refueling site of the nuclear powered Savannah.

Approximately 350 radioisotope licenses have been reviewed and granted out of over 500 federal licenses transferred to Texas by the AEC March 1. All those previously under the immediate supervision of the Commission must have Texas licenses.

Thus, the Division of Occupational Health and Radiation Control of the State Health Department, along with the help of many others, is in the process of contacting and checking each of these groups of individuals.

The AEC, however, retains control of those radiation installations dealing with large quantities of nuclear materials required to sustain a steady chain reaction. This amount is known as a critical mass. When there is a sub-critical mass, no chain reaction can occur.

Licensing authority for radiation users in the State was granted in January when the Governor and the AEC signed a contract culminating over 8 years of preparation. After passage of permissive legislation by Congress in 1959, the Commission evolved criteria to be met for placing the regulatory authority in the hands of those states which could prove competency. In 1961 Texas legislation was enacted to permit state participation in the transfer.

Texas went to work to write suitable regulations which would be compatible with national standards and became the fifth state to meet this challenge. Under the agreement with the AEC, the Texas State Health Department is the responsible agency, acting with the cooperation of a Radiation Advisory Board appointed by the Governor.

The Department's interest in radiation antedates World War II. Studies which pointed out the danger of shoe-fitting fluoroscopes were made in the State as early as 1947. Additional studies involving x-ray and radium use soon followed. Work concerning occupational and radiological health hazards has been and continues to be an important function of the Department.

Bracero Program Victim Of AFL-CIO Says O. C. Fisher

By Congressman O. C. Fisher
THE BRACERO PROGRAM, which has allowed 1.7 million Mexican farm hands to enter the U. S. under contract during the last five years, is due to end this year. The proposed extension of the 12-year-old program was defeated in the House last week by a 174-to-158 roll call vote.

While this action will not affect southwest Texas because the Secretary of Labor decided three years ago to discontinue the program in our area, it will create serious labor problems for many farmers, particularly in California, New Mexico and Arizona, where extreme labor shortages exist in the vegetable and fruit fields. All told, about a quarter of a million braceros are now being used in the lower Rio Grande valley, the Pecos-El Paso area, and in the other states.

Opposition to continuing the bracero program was spearheaded by CIO-AFL, whose farm union has big plans for unionizing all agricultural labor, and contends contracting of Mexican workers tends to interfere with the organizing drive. This group was aided by many uninformed and misinformed do-gooders, all of whom joined in a massive parade of ignorance about labor shortage problems in the affected areas.

Hank Brown, President of the Texas AFL-CIO, wrote each member of the Texas Delegation, urging us to vote against extending the law. He contended that if the law is continued it would deprive "thousands of unemployed American citizens" along the border of job opportunities.

I answered Mr. Brown by inviting him to send me a list of the names and addresses of the unemployed people in my district who are able and willing to work on ranches and farms at prevailing wages. I told him that if he would do that, I could then send that list to the many people who write me about local labor shortages. Needless to say, Mr. Brown did not bother to answer my request.

THE SIMPLE FACT IS, that there is now and has been for years an extreme shortage of farm workers in the southwest. A sensible, workable bracero program is badly needed, if it could be administered by an agency that would in good faith recognize the problem and try to do something about it on a practical basis. No-one wants labor imported into areas where there is an adequate number of domestic workers to meet the demands. In fact, the law prohibits that being done.

The impact this action may

In 1830 more than 40 million leeches were imported into France to be used as bleeders in the treatment of disease.

Last year American doctors received 25 per cent of the medical care dollars, a reduction of almost five per cent over the 1950 figure.

Fifty per cent of Texas physicians have held an elective office in some type of civic or community organization.

What a difference

Grandma may talk about the good old days, but a whole team of horses couldn't drag her back to an old fashioned kitchen. When you compare the two pictures, you observe an important fact. All the marvelously improved conveniences you see are made possible by electricity — every single one. Yes, electricity makes the difference, and what a difference it makes! It eliminates drudgery and creates more leisure time by performing countless tasks in the home at the flip of a switch. It turns factory wheels, lights the darkness, and does all these things effortlessly and economically. That is one of two reasons why the use of electricity is increasing here in the Center of the Southwest. The other is that more people, more businesses, more industries are coming our way. Our expansion program is keyed to this increase, for we are convinced our service area faces GROWTH UNLIMITED.

Gutierrez, Sonora Native And War Hero Praised For Youth Work In Wichita Falls

(Editor's Note: The following article by Carroll Copelin appeared in a recent edition of the features magazine of the Wichita Falls Times. Ramon Gutierrez, subject of the article, is a native of Sonora and the son of former Sonorans, Mr. and Mrs. Santana Gutierrez now living in San Jose, California.)

Wichitan Ramon Gutierrez has been proclaimed "people's hero" in the U. S. S. R. and could be living a life of ease in Russia without ever hitting a lick of work.

Instead, the quiet-spoken father of five spurns the Utopian life and works as an orderly at the Wichita Falls General Hospital.

Gutierrez, 40-year-old orderly at General, was not only offered a life free of income taxes and a monthly pension but an added offer of a 50 per cent discount on housing rental and free transportation, along with a guarantee of an annual 2,500 mile transcontinental trip—also free.

Gutierrez's chance at this "dream life" came in 1946 almost two years after he was discharged from the U. S. Army. He was called to the Russian consulate in San Francisco and urged to take advantage of his "position of a people's hero."

Gutierrez, who carried almost as much iron on his infantryman's uniform as he does in his heart, was the second American G.I. to be decorated by the Russians during World War II. The native of Sonora, Texas, stands pretty high as a fighter in Uncle Sam's estimation too, since he holds one of this nation's highest awards for bravery under combat—the Silver Star.

Russia bestowed upon the Wichitan the "Order of Patriotic War, Second Degree", an impressive looking medal which almost covered the left breast pocket of his G. I. uniform. A pretty famous American, by the name of Harry S. Truman, pinned the U.S.S.R. decoration on the combat infantryman.

Heroism Cited

Another equally famed countryman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, pinned this nation's Silver Star on the Wichitan.

In the terse wording of an Army citation, Gutierrez earned this decoration for:

"Gallantry in action on 9 Sept., 1943, in the vicinity of . . . Italy. When his company was attacked by five enemy tanks, Private Gutierrez, automatic rifleman for an advance squad, placed his automatic rifle over a stone wall and opened fire on the tanks.

"The tanks returned his fire and the rifle was knocked from his hands while two bullets passed through the top of his helmet and one injured his right arm.

"Though wounded and armed only with a hand grenade and knife, he moved past the tanks and advanced under machinegun fire. He flanked the machinegun nest, expertly threw the hand grenade and knocked out the gun position, killing three enemy soldiers.

"Another enemy soldier, who appeared to be uninjured, attempted to kill Private Gutierrez who quickly drew his knife and stabbed the enemy soldier to death."

In addition to the Silver Star, the Wichitan also picked up one of his three Purple Hearts during this fight.

Work Praised

The same hands that fought and killed enemy soldiers on a man to man basis now gently administer to the needs of the sick at Wichita General where nursing supervisors vow "he's one of the best orderlies to be found anywhere."

Gutierrez's interest in hospital procedure had a long time to develop—11 months to be exact. It all started on the beachhead at Anzio when his Ranger outfit was ambushed and pinned down by the enemy who proceeded to methodically wipe out the American combat team.

The Wichitan was struck in the back by a large piece of shrapnel and abandoned by his comrades who were knocked out of position almost immediately. Gutierrez was captured a short time later.

For the next eight months the combat veteran lay in a prisoner of war hospital on the outskirts of Rome awaiting liberation by advancing Allied forces. The coming of freedom marked the end of the combat line for him as the next stop was an American hospital and three months of intensive treatment, including two operations.

After names like Anzio, Salerno and Sicily, Gutierrez found himself relegated to the quiet confines of military hospitals. Time being the one thing he had plenty of, he began observing hospital procedure and found himself volunteering for some of the lighter chores his wounds would allow him to handle.

After his official discharge, Gutierrez returned to the Rio Grande Valley. Prior to coming here in 1950, he served for a year as a policeman in Del Rio—a job where he found his old Ranger training to be pretty useful.

Coaches Kid Teams

After moving here, the opportunity to work as an orderly presented itself and Gutierrez quickly accepted it. To this day, most of his fellow employes at Wichita General don't know their favorite orderly is a war hero.

"They never asked me and it's not something you brag about," the 200-pounder says by way of explanation. Gutierrez prefers to do what he can to make sure others will never have to go through similar combat experiences.

Again utilizing some Army experience as a pretty fair boxer, he has coached the Pan American Recreation Center's boxing team for seven years and this year coached the G. I. Forum team. These groups are considered two of the better boxing teams in the area.

The Wichitan has also coached in the city's kid baseball program for the past three years. The father of five children, he is naturally interested in youngsters but the major drive for his participation in youth programs is a desire to prevent juvenile delinquency.

"I got into some trouble myself when I was a kid and I don't like to see others do the same thing," he says. Gutierrez's brushes with the law weren't serious but stemmed from not having adult supervision in recreational pursuits and he's determined it won't happen to young Wichitans if he can help it.

Proud of Citation

Of course the Wichitan is proud of the decorations he's won defending his country but he's probably even a little prouder of the few words of praise which recently came from Judge Arthur Tipps, presiding judge of the 30th District Court and juvenile court, who recently said, "Ramon Gutierrez is one of the greatest deterrents to juvenile delinquency this city has in the Latin American element. His tireless efforts to help Mexican youngsters and his leadership have played a major role in keeping delinquency incidents among these youngsters at a low level."

And when you're as interested in kids as Gutierrez is, what higher praise can you expect?

Gutierrez and his wife, Consuelo, were married in 1944 to climax a nine-year courtship. They met as youngsters while attending school in Sonora. Mrs. Gutierrez owns and operates a beauty shop at 1103 Burnett but still finds time to do her own housework and sewing for the children and friends.

Mondays are usually reserved for themselves and they drive about the area or browse through antique stores. In addition to his duties at the hospital and his work with youths, Gutierrez also does some private nursing at night.
