By John T. King

Sonorans for the past 28 years have had a rather unique and painless way of raising money—The Annual Lions Club Auction Sale.

Although quite a night's entertainment, the sale's purpose may have dimmed in the minds of donors and bidders.

The Sonora Lions Club has become "Big Daddy" to most of the projects of community interest. Boy and Girl Scouts get $1,600 a year. Yearly Wool Show expenses run around $600. The Little League receives over $500. Aid to the blind, the Community Welfare Council, National Wool Show, Fire Department, and Boy's Ranch receive funds, and even the National Honor Society pins and 4-H Club lamb and calf show ribbons come out of the one Lions fund.

The Auction Sale is second only to dues in replenishing this fund. This year the auction is on Tuesday, October 1 at the 4-H Barn. Lem Jones will be the auctioneer. Let's all be there to enjoy the fun and participate in one of this town's most worthwhile fund-raising events.

Some of our present-day easy-payment plans might be more correctly labeled "lay awake plans."

George Washington, says the story, was born in Texas. When he reached a certain age, his father bought him a new hatchet, and young George proceeded to cut down his father's favorite cactus.

When Papa Washington came upon the scene and beheld the destruction, he shouted, "Who cut down my cactus?"

"I did," said young George honestly.

"Hell, son," said his pop, "If you can't lie no better than that, I'm gonna send you to Virginia."

Fifty Mexican Leaders Expected Here As Part Of Good Neighbor Project

About 50 leaders of Mexican peasant communities will visit Sonora as part of a Mexico Good Neighbor Tour.

In a letter to the Chamber of Commerce, Walter O. Parr, director of the Mexico Good Neighbor Project of West Texas said:

"As the results of a Good Neighbor Tour that 70 people from West Texas made in July, the American Ambassador and the Mexican government have asked us to assume the responsibility of taking some 50 peasant leaders on a tour.

"The enclosed shows the tour that we have planned to make, and we are asking the Chamber of Commerce, if you would, to set up a committee made up of civic and agricultural leaders of the town and any other person

Mrs. Alvis Johnson Attends Meeting

Mrs. Alvis Johnson represented Sutton County at the education conference held August 29 and 30 in San Antonio by the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society.

"Putting Your County Down on Paper" was the theme of the conference, and delegates made a written survey of each of their respective counties to compare the education potential against what has been done to save lives in each community.

Mrs. Johnson is president of the Sutton County unit of the Cancer Society, and she is district director of Unit 4 of the Cancer Society.

1963 BRONCO VARSITY TEAM heads for Iraan for their first game of the season Friday night at 8 p.m. Although Del Rio scored three on the Broncos in last Friday's scrimmage, the Broncos are expected to make a good showing at Iraan. Jerry Hopkins, head coach, said that the Broncos will be running a Wing T. Iraan runs an unbalanced single wing with a big line and fast backfield. Rex Lowe, superintendent of schools, said that season tickets are still on sale at his office.

Nominees Chosen For September 10 ASCS Election

The slate of nominees for the Sutton County ASC Committee election has been chosen. Ranchers named are W. L. (Tom) Davis, Bill Morriss, W. B. McMillan, Edwin Sawyer, Gene Shurley, and George Wallace.

Ballots were mailed August 30 to all eligible voters in the county. The ballots must be returned to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office. They should be returned either in person by September 10 or by mail postmarked before midnight September 10.

Each voter should vote for only five of the six nominees appearing on the ballot. The County ASC Committee to be elected consists of three regular members and two alternates. The votes will be tabulated publicly by the county committee on September 11 at 1 p.m.

All questions on eligibility to vote and hold office will be settled by the county committee subject to appeal to the state committee.

Any eligible voter (husband and wife are eligible) who does not receive a ballot by mail may secure one by going by the ASCS office.

Full Schedule Planned For Meeting Of Texas Sheep And Goat Raisers

R. G. Cherry, assistant to the Chancellor of Texas A and M University, and Jack Groff of Kerrville, Extension Service wool and mohair specialist, are to be the principal speakers at the fall quarterly directors' meeting of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' in Kerrville, September 8 and 14.

Cherry is scheduled to discuss the need for associations to present a good image to the public. Groff is to report on a trip he made to Europe earlier this summer in behalf of the mohair industry.

James L. Powell of Fort McKavett, president of the TS&GRA, says that more than 60 reservations have been made at the Blue Bonnet Hotel, which is to serve as headquarters. Early reservations indicate that attendance at this meeting may be a record. He urges others who expect to attend to make reservations at once.

When hotel space is filled, says Tom Wallace, Executive Secretary, the overflow will be housed in motels offering comparable accommodations.

In addition to talks by Cherry and Groff, Powell is to review activities of the last three months and bring directors up to date on any problems that may have developed during the summer.

Also, there will be the annual membership meeting of District 6 to be held at 8:30 a.m. Saturday in the Blue Bonnet.

Registration for the meeting get under way at 10 a.m. Friday, September 13. Committee meetings are scheduled for 2:30 p.m. and 4 p.m. with a reception in the hotel at 7 p.m. A roast leg of lamb buffet is set for 8:15 p.m. with a dance following at 9 p.m.

The general business session is to be at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in the Kerrville Civic Auditorium with a cabrito barbecue following at 1 p.m. in Louise Hays Park, across the Guadalupe River from downtown Kerrville.

Auxiliary members also are to have an interesting program, says Mrs. Alvie Cole of Sterling City, auxiliary president.

Committees are to meet at 2:30 p.m. Friday with a meeting of the executive committee at 3:30 p.m. followed by a social hour. The business meeting is to be at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at Torres Restaurant on Highway 27, west.

Lions And PTA Choose Sept. 24 For Annual Supper

Adult Back-To-School Night will be the theme of the annual Lions Club-PTA barbecue set for September 24 at the elementary school cafeteria. Mrs. Vernon Cook, president of the association, said that this meeting would be the first for the 1963-64 year.

Mrs. D. C. Langford, publicity chairman, said that the supper was an annual affair to honor Sonora teachers. She said that yearly membership in the PTA was usually around 200. Regular meetings are held on the first Tuesday of each month.

National Membership Drive "Children and schools need you in the PTA. Join this important team today," is the theme of the PTA membership enrollment period of the Texas and National Congresses of Parents and Teachers for the 1963-64 year.

September and October have been designated as PTA membership Enrollment Months by official memorandum of Governor John Connally.

Said the Governor, in part: "On October 19, 1909, the organization's aim was and so remains 'to promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community.'"

Few, if any, organized groups have enjoyed such a tremendous growth. This is undoubtedly due to the challenging program which appeals alike to men and women of all occupations and professions."

Laundry Journal Covers Thorp's Sonora Plant

"Thorp's Laun-Dry, Sonora, is a good example of what a progressive operator can do with a plant in a small town."

This is how the Texas Laundry and Cleaning Journal labels the cover picture of Thorp's plant in Sonora. The inside story reviews 15 years of growth from a small steam laundry to a central plant with pick-up stations in Ozona and Eldorado.

The business now offers laundry and drycleaning, uniform rental, linen supply, shop towels and woolen storage. The Ozona office, which recently moved into a new building, has coin-op laundry and drycleaning machines and a counter for work processed in Sonora.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Thorp are owners of the firm.

ANTIQUA CARS CONVENE AT SONORA AIR PORT

About 50 antique cars are expected to be in Sonora September 14 for a meeting arranged by the San Angelo Antique Car Club. Enthusiasts from throughout the area have been invited to the meeting to be held at Sonora Airport.

The Sonora Chamber of Commerce plans a barbecue dinner at noon, and the visitors are scheduled to visit the Caverns of Sonora.

Bronco Boosters Elect Bloodworth, Hear Coaches

L. P. Bloodworth was elected president of the Bronco Booster Club at the first meeting Tuesday night at the Central Elementary School Cafeteria. Leon Neely was elected vice president. New directors are E. B. Keng and Louis Perez.

Members heard reports from Jerry Hopkins, Bob Painter and Oliver Wuest on the varsity, junior high and B teams. Hopkins said that his varsity team has 14 seniors, but of the group there are only 3 three-year lettermen. He said that this lack of experience might hurt the team this year.

Also discussed were the rule changes. Time-outs have been cut to 4 instead of 5 minutes and now the quarterback is eligible to receive passes. Mouthpieces are mandatory this year.

Bronco fans who want to go to Iraan but have no way, or those who plan to drive and have room for others were urged to call the sheriff's office. This would allow many more fans to go to the first game.

In the meeting next Monday the Booster Club will see pictures of the Iraan game.

Fire Threatens Butane Containers

Grass caught fire at two locations in Sonora last week. Thursday morning at 10:30 there was a grass fire behind Junior Schwiening's lot. The blaze was quickly extinguished by the Sonora Volunteer Fire Department, according to Lee Patrick, Fire Chief. Probable cause of the fire was burning trash.

On Monday during the noon hour another fire started on the cemetery road near the Nance Wholesale Butane storage yard. Two trips by the Fire Department were necessary to put out the burning grass and rubbish.

Patrick urges Sonorans to use caution with any fires and to clear away any fire hazards. "As dry as the grass and weeds are, we are going to have more fires if people aren't especially careful," he says.

Lions Roar

Special guests at the Downtown Lions Club this week were Charles Sherrill, district judge; Dixon Mahon, district attorney; and Bud Mason, court reporter.

CEMETERY ROAD is one of the latest improvements under way in Sonora. G. J. Jones and E. L. Horrell, county road superintendent, look over the road while Jess Maxey operates the maintainer. Work on the road will consist of ripping off the old pavement, widening the right of way, filling (now under way), and hot topping with asphalt. The new width of the road will be approximately 20 feet. Paving will be from the old Fort McKavett Road 1,500 feet to the cemetery. Also underway are paving projects in Loma Alta and Sinaloa.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Arno H. Melz
Pastor, Hope Lutheran Church
Proverbs 22:6 "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

This week our minds are drawn to education and training, as our children return to school. Some children are going to school for the first time, some are going to new rooms under new teachers, while others are going away to college. All this because parents want their children to get a good education, and be trained to fit some occupation in the future. Parents show their love by giving the child an education.

At first glance it might appear that parents are training their child in the way it should go as Solomon suggests in the proverb. However, giving a child an education in secular knowledge is only a small part of the training. It neglects a proper attitude toward God and man. A child needs this proper attitude to be a real success and to find happiness in life.

This attitude is not taught in the classroom, nor is this what Solomon would suggest. The parents are to teach this love toward God and man in the home. The only textbook to use is the Holy Bible. The word of God gives a total education. It gives guidance for the soul, as well as for the body and mind. The Bible speaks of love and honor toward God, and love and concern for our fellow man. It teaches obedience to parents, to teachers and to all who are in authority.

We are motivated to be obedient to God because He loves us. God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. Children and adults guided by this motivation will strive for a more wholesome attitude toward others.

Parents, if you really love your children train them in the way they should go; train them to live by the Bible. You are willing to make great sacrifices to give them a secular education, why not make even greater sacrifices to give them a spiritual education? God's Word is a total education that will last to eternity, use it to train your child.

Graveside Rites Held For Infant

Graveside funeral services were conducted August 22 in Artesia, New Mexico, for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Spinks of Artesia. The infant was born August 19 and died August 22 in Artesia General Hospital.

-GREEN NEWS-

By Monica Davis

Another Club Tournament is just another memory . . . the last probably for this season. Twenty one beautiful trophies were awarded to top-place winners, and fifteen balls were awarded to five consolation consolation, (I'm told, means fifth place) winners.

Supper was served to over a hundred people. In fact, we ran out of food and had to rush out for more meat, but I believe all finally had their fill.

Jack Kerbow is really getting with that pill and stick. We understand that he birdied number nine by holing in from about forty-five yards out. Gosh Jack, I'll bet that was thrill!

Shelley Lowe was not to be out done, however. He said he holed in for a birdie on number eight from sixty-five yards out. That felt good too, didn't it Shelley?

We had a guest from Alvin, Texas; Dyke Gillan by name. He and his family had been on a two weeks vacation with golf and golf courses the main object in mind. They were winding up their trip, when they landed here. Gillan said our greens were by far the nicest they had seen on their trip—Wasn't that nice?

Other guests using the course this week were Sam Beard and Bob Holzheuser from Jal, New Mexico. We have had several guests from Jal, and we are always glad to see them.

We are glad to welcome new members, Thomas McKay and Karl Meyer, who also won trophies in the tournament. Glad to have you with us. Happy to see an old member, too, and welcome back "Coo" Holland.

Last week, the club received a darling ash tray from the Al Browns who are now in Wichita Falls. Thanks a lot Al and Peggy for thinking about us. We think of you and the children often.

Les Strawn, our medalist and championship winner, will be leaving for a new assignment to Comanche. We will all be sorry to see Les and his family leave.

Now that school has started, a number of the mothers feel we can play some morning golf after getting the children off to school. Maybe our Wednesday morning golf sessions will have more ladies playing. As time goes on, the mornings should be getting cooler, which will make for more pleasant playing.

Last Bonus Dollar Of The Season Awarded Saturday

"It was an exciting wind-up to the drawings," says H. V. (Buzzie) Stokes, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Last Saturday at 10 a.m. the first Bonus Dollar drawing of the day was held, and the money went unclaimed. At 3 that afternoon there was a double drawing with two winners. Those receiving the cash were Jesusa Dominguez and David Carrazas.

The drawings, which were held in front of the First National Bank, were conducted by the Retail Sales Promotion committee of the Chamber.

AUXILIARY TO MEET

It's The Law In Texas

HABEAS CORPUS—CORPUS DELICTI
Two legal phrases which are probably more misunderstood and misused by laymen than any other are "habeas corpus" and "corpus delicti."

The words "habeas corpus" are Latin for "you have the body." They are commonly used in the legal profession to describe a writ or order signed by the judge directed to the sheriff or jailer holding a prisoner or to any person who is physically detaining another, and commanding him to produce the body (alive) of the prisoner (or person detained) before the judge. The purpose of such an order is to allow the judge to determine whether the prisoner is being held lawfully or whether he should be set free.

The writ of habeas corpus prevents law enforcement officers from abusing the constitutional right of personal liberty and has been a jealously guarded privilege.

The words "corpus delicti" are Latin, an I, liberally translated, mean the elements of the crime or wrongdoing. Laymen incorrectly interpret corpus delicti as meaning literally "the body," as in a murder case.

Speaking technically in a legal sense, corpus delicti is that which must be proved in every criminal case. Such proof must show that an unlawful act has been committed and that it has been committed by a human agency. The mere finding of a dead body or a burning building does not mean that there is murder on the one hand or arson on the other. To prove murder, it must be shown that the death was unlawfully caused by a human agency. Contrary to popular belief murder can be proved even though the body cannot be found. In the case of the burning building, it must be shown that the building was unlawfully set on fire by a human agency.

To sum up then, habeas corpus is a writ designed to prevent the unlawful detention or imprisonment of any person. Corpus delicti, on the other hand, literally means the body of the crime, or, in general, the substance of crime.

Tourist Dollar Travels The Town

It was our privilege the other day to hear a talk on the proposed out-of-state tourist advertising program by Bill Stinson, general manager of the Texas Tourist Council.

This newspaper has long been an advocate of out-of-state advertising to attract tourists; Stinson provided us with ammunition to continue the battle. He made the following points:

*Five out-of-state cars per day through a community is the economic equivalent of one additional store.

*Nine out-of-state cars per day is the equivalent of a $100,000 payroll.

*The tourist dollar turns over in the community seven times, although, unfortunately, it loses its identity after the first time.

And yet we find business people in the community who are afraid to put out effort to develop a tourist attraction, lest the highway businesses be the only ones to profit from it.

If Menard ever is to grow—if indeed it is to hold its own through thick and thin, drought and plenty—there is but one way open: the tourist route.

We have potential tourist attractions here that many communities would give their eye teeth for:

the old Presidio de San Saba, Fort McKavett, wildlife, which offers an attraction for the photographer as well as the rifleman, fishing, spelunking.

All these are naturals. With a little planning, others could be developed. Perhaps a stage coach ride along the Camino de San Antonio de Bejar, the old San Antonio Road. Possibly a boat ride along the old Spanish irrigation ditch, or the hole of water above the old Spanish dam, or a cable car ride up the bluff for a view of the valley from the vantage point of the first explorers.

The possibilities are limitless. Of course development costs money, and all these things could not be developed overnight. But the time is NOW for our citizens to kindle their public spirits, to get together and have a brainstorming session, then roll up their sleeves and go to work.

Then, and only then, will the people we lost during the 1950's return in full force.

And as we go to work on attracting tourists, we should remember that every time a tourist stops at a tourist court, cafe or service station, at least seven other local businesses reap direct benefits. —The Menard News

"Type Lice" Well Settled In Newspaper Office

They have been known in every land and to every profession since such have been in existence.

In the newspaper business they are called "type lice," and it is in this field that they have caused more embarrassment and brought fewer compliments than any other. No one as we found out when we made our grand entrance, escapes the opportunity to meet "type lice" when they are introduced to the newspaper business.

They frequent every department of the newspaper, and when adequate care is taken to thwart their efforts in one department, they double or triple them in the next. If a reporter is able to block their interference to the point of turning out a detailed, grammatically correct news story, they intervene at the Linotype machine, causing the operator to skip sentences or even whole paragraphs, and they send mats tumbling down the wrong channels and do scores of other things.

And when these errors are caught, again despite their efforts, by a proof reader, they try something else. They direct the hand of the persons making the corrections to the point the corrected lines are inserted at the wrong places, leaving the incorrect and the corrected lines on the galley, which by this time is totally missing another line.

But even this isn't all. They cause make-up men to drop galleys and pick up the wrong continued lines (a continued on page 2 when the remainder of the article carried over from the front is on page 12), and, unless particular attention is paid by all involved, they might even turn an advertisement upside down.

"Type lice" have been in the print shop ever since Gutenberg started whittling out his first piece of wooden type and reportedly let his knife slip and cut his finger—and they're not likely to leave. The only thing that makes them tolerable is the understanding group of people with whom newspaper people deal.

Most Hunting Casualties Caused By Unintentional Discharge Of Firearms

A report on hunting casualties for the ten-year period 1951 through 1960 has been prepared by the National Rifle Association. To secure uniformity in accident reporting, N.R.A. printed forms were circulated to all conservation agencies in Canada and the United States who desired to cooperate in the gathering of data.

The report reveals that, for the ten year period covered, 99% of the shooters involved were male; 80% were licensed; the majority were twenty years of age or older and more than 70% of them had three or more years hunting experience. No more than one per cent of the shooters involved were reported as being under the apparent influence of intoxicants or drugs.

In reporting the relationship of the casualties to the type of hunting, it was found that about 40% of the casualties occurred while the shooters were hunting small game (rabbit, squirrel, woodchuck, raccoon, etc.); approximately a fourth occurred while hunting land birds (quail, pheasant, pigeons, etc.); a fourth while hunting deer and about 7% while hunting waterfowl.

Casualties were reported for almost every hour of the day and night, reaching a peak, each year, between 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. Shotguns accounted for most of the casualties (60%) with rifles (36%) and handguns (less than 4%) following in the order listed.

In each of the ten years covered by the report more than half of the casualties occurred while the shooter "did not intend to discharge his firearm." In the cases where the discharge was unintentional, approximately 60-70% happened when visibility was clear; 55-65% were in light or open cover; and approximately 40% of the victims were wearing bright-colored clothes.

The ten year average showed that 31% of the casualties resulted in injury to the shooter himself—among all casualties for the same period, 18% were fatal.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie W. Taylor and Keith, Frank, and Kevin visited at Lake Buchanan last weekend with Taylor's sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Regeon, Nanetta and Resa and Mrs. Eula Regeon.

Spending several days with Mrs. Frank Turney recently were her great grandchildren Sara Jane and Sammy Loyd. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Loyd of Fort Stockton.

Devil's River Philosopher Finds Many Puzzling Problems In The News

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Devil's River seems a little puzzled this week. It's not the first time.

Dear editor: There are a lot of things I don't understand.

For instance, those European countries in the Common Market have raised the tariff on American chickens, and the U.S. is thinking of retaliating by raising our tariff on things we import from over there, like perfume and wine.

Why wouldn't it be quicker to set up a tariff on foreign aid? For every dollar we send them, charge them a quarter. As Benjamin Franklin would say today, a quarter saved in one place is a quarter spent in some place else.

Or take the airlines. I read the other day that the Civil Aeronautics Board has proposed that the annual subsidy to airlines be reduced from 84 million dollars to 54 million. The airlines object, saying the reduction will reduce air service.

You mean to say the airlines are no smarter than ranchers and have been living off of government help, why don't they give it up and get a job in town?

On top of this, another article I read listed the grants to municipal airports throughout the country, running into the millions of dollars, about 75 million for the current year. As I understand it, the government gives this money so the cities can improve the runways, buy more land to make longer runways, improve the roads leading to the airports, etc.

It's hard for me to see the difference between a city's taking government money to patch a runway and a rancher's taking money to build a terrace, but this is because I can't see the difference between stand-on-your-own-feet ranching and municipal improvement although city papers have been trying to hammer this into my head for years.

Also, I read an article in a big national magazine the other week on how much pork barrel money the government is spending, and I wanted to write and ask that magazine how much subsidy it was getting in the form of low postal rates, but I was afraid the magazine would ask me how much it would have cost me to deliver my letter from this bitterweed ranch to New York in person, instead of getting the government to do it for a nickel.

When it comes to denouncing government help, it's hard to find a man to throw the first rock, although I will undertake the job if the government will pay me to do it.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

The Devil's Workshop

An Idle Mind Column

By Della King

A few weeks ago in this column I wondered who might be a long-time subscriber to this paper. As a result, I learned about Mrs. Frank Turney and got to visit with her.

Mrs. Turney has had a subscription to The Devil since August 26, 1900, and her father was one of the first subscribers when the newspaper was established in 1890.

Mrs. Turney is affectionately known to many as "Mama" Turney. She was born August 22, 1880, in the fort at Fort McKavett, where her father was a soldier. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. Sid Stephenson.

The family lived for a time in Junction, and then moved to Sonora when Mrs. Turney was nine. She clearly remembers those early days in Sonora when the town consisted of tents, and sheep were watered at a well in the middle of the town. Children walked three miles to go to school at Wentworth.

When Sonora became the county seat of Sutton County, Mrs. Turney recalls, construction of permanent buildings began and children started going to school in the building which now houses the Masonic Hall.

Mrs. Turney knew the Murphy family which established the Devil's River News. Steve Murphy would sometimes ask her to sit with his mother, who was an invalid. For this job he would pay her twenty five cents and a

When she married Frank Turney in 1900, Steve Murphy gave them a set of silverware and a year's subscription to The Devil, and she has subscribed ever since.

Korean Vets Have Until September 13 To Exchange R. S. Insurance Policies

More than 100,000 Korean veterans have only until September 13 to exchange "RS" insurance policies and qualify for a special cash dividend, P. J. Mims, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in San Antonio, said today.

Expiring on September 13 is their eligibility to qualify for the dividend which returns to them part of the premiums they have been paying based on the rate structure established by law, Mims said.

In order to qualify for the special dividend, the "RS" policyholders have the choice of either:

1. Exchanging the "RS" term policies for "W" term policies, costing generally about one-third of what they are paying for their present insurance; or

2. Converting their "RS" policies to one of several low-cost permanent plan insurance policies.

The amount of the special dividend depend upon the length of time the policyholder has held his policy, and his age, the VA Manager said. The dividend payments average approximately $100.

Screwworm Is Able To Migrate Miles

No new screwworm cases have been reported in Sutton County this week, according to D. C. Langford, County Agent. He warns, however, that there are three ways that screwworms may enter the area.

They may come in with animals hauled in trucks, they may come in on wild animals, or the flies may migrate. One can fly up to 160 miles during its lifetime.

Langford says that should a case of screwworms go untreated, it could infest the area.

HIGH LIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM THE STATE CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Gov. John Connally's Committee on Education Beyond the High School has its eye on tuition-free colleges and "super universities."

Also being looked upon with favor are Texas junior colleges and vocational schools. Committee is searching for a way to meet educational needs in the next decade.

The task is made difficult by the need for 900,000 new junior and senior college graduates by 1974.

The prediction, called "conservative" by committeeman Gifford Johnson, Dallas industrial leader, includes 456,000 four-year college graduates, and 440,000 graduates of two-year schools.

Right now the total enrollment in 19 of the state's four-year colleges and 34 private senior colleges totals 175,100. Junior college enrollment in 35 state junior colleges and 10 private schools is 37,200.

If these students all were to graduate, they would produce about half the number of graduates needed in the next four years. But Johnson said the problem is—many won't graduate. There is a big drop-out problem in colleges and an even bigger drop-out problem in the grades below college level.

Johnson stated that only 54 per cent of the students enrolled in the third grade in 1953 graduated from high school in 1963.

What to do about the drop-out problem, which Governor Connally has called "one of the most critical problems of the decade"? Both Johnson and committeeman Tom Sealy of Midland, as well as other members of the committee which is composed of some of the state's most powerful citizens, recommended more and better counseling through all the high school years and college.

"If students aren't encouraged to stay in high school and perform well there, they don't have a chance," Johnson said.

His concept of free colleges and state universities which would admit only the top 15 per cent of high school graduates brought a lot of favorable comment from the committee. But Chairman H. B. Bachry of San Antonio warned all that this was just the preliminary to a preliminary report. Final report to Governor Connally is not due until August, 1964.

POLL TAX CAMPAIGN ON—Governor Connally will kick off the League of Women Voters' campaign for repeal of the poll tax with a speech on September 9—the day the women launch a two-month drive for repeal of the tax.

November 9 is the date voters will decide whether to strike the poll tax requirement for voting from the State Constitution.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Sen. John Tower, congressmen and state legislators are being invited to the September 9 meeting in Austin.

OUR WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER
Fisher Gives Views On House Action On Administration Foreign Aid Bill

By Congressman O. C. Fisher
By a whopping 34-margin the House last week whacked 600 million dollars off of the Administration's mammoth foreign aid bill. The President last January asked for 4.9 billion dollars. Then, after the Clay Report, he sent a message to Congress agreeing to a 400 million dollar cut. The House Committee proceeded to reduce the amount by an additional 400 million dollars. The 600 million dollar cut voted by the House then brought the net total down to about 3.5 million dollars. But the Senate has yet to act on it. I joined with 11 other Texans in voting for the cut. Ten Texans on the other hand voted against the reduction.

The fact is that in a way the USA has become a sort of captive in handouts to foreign countries around the World, as a part of our foreign policy. No less than 100 nations around the world have been recipients. Like spoiled relatives who are favored by the rich uncle, it becomes increasingly difficult to cut them off. And that explains the dilemma Uncle Sam has gotten himself into.

The House also tightened the controls on the use of this money, when appropriated. Contrary to Administration desires the House voted to set a minimum 2% interest charge on loans for economic development; tightened the ban on aid to nations that trade with Cuba; blocked funds for a huge state-owned steel mill in India, and demanded guarantees against the take-over of American property abroad as a condition of aid.

varied. Among their things, it reflected dissatisfaction with the federal budget deficit; concern over our gold drainage to foreign countries; and also widespread criticism of foreign aid across the country.

Observers also believe the decisive vote for economy in this instance reflects anger over the President's Civil Rights proposals.

It should be noted that in addition to the foreign aid that will be voted this year, there is a substantial carry-out in the pipeline from appropriations previously approved by the Congress. If there were no legislation this year on the subject there would still be enough money available to carry on a huge foreign aid program for 2 or 3 years.

The forthright House action last week, if sustained, should mark a definite trend against many extravagant aid programs abroad. In considering this type of spending, we but need to remind the recipient countries that the public debt of the United States is greater than the public debt of all other nations in the world combined.

THE TEEN SCENE

By Mary Davis
Well now, we have been in school for a couple of days now and the world hasn't come to an end. It seems funny seeing new faces in the hall that weren't there last year and not seeing some of the old ones around that were.

For some of us it is the last year in high school and there seems to be a certain awe about it. It is hard to realize that tonight will be the last time we actively participate in the first Thursday night pep rally and that Tuesday was the last first day of school we will stand around waiting for the eight-twenty-five bell to ring and to go to assembly to hear Mr. Morgan's opening speech.

There is only one new teacher in high school this year. He is Mr. Boyd and will teach freshman and sophomore English and Speech. We hope he likes Sonora and us.

The Dunn girls were here for a short visit. Nice to see them again. Janice and Donna live in Louisville near Dallas.

Saw J. T. Evans home for the weekend, too. Hope he likes San Antonio.

Sarah and Eddie Sawyer are home. They came back from Maine last week.

Inspection Stickers For Vehicles Are Available Now

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced that the new 1964 vehicle inspection sticker became available September 1 at all Official Inspection Stations in Texas.

"During the summer months, the department has conducted intensive re-training schools for all owners and mechanics of inspection stations," Garrison said. "These men are now qualified and they are ready to serve the motoring public in their vehicle inspection needs."

More than five million vehicles registered in the state are required by law to be inspected at one of the 5,000 official stations between now and April 16, 1964.

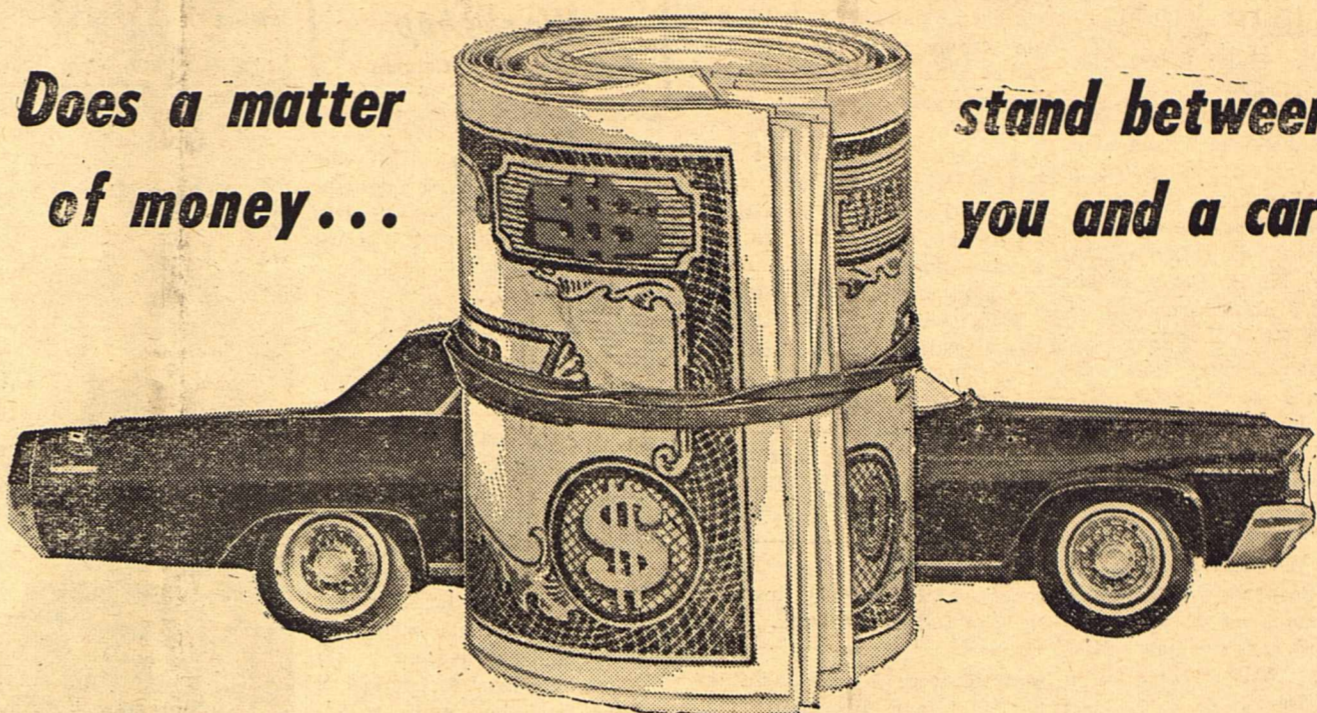

Garrison urged motorists to get their vehicles inspected at the earliest possible time and pointed out:

"Since the vehicle inspection program began in Texas, vehicle defects as causative factors in motor vehicle accidents has been reduced from 13 per cent in 1951 to five per cent in 1962."
