Langford Advises 4-H'ers To Become Familiar With 1966 Horse Show Rules

The official rules covering 1966 4-H horse shows are now available and 4-H Club members who plan to participate should become familiar with them, advised County Agent D. C. Langford, recently.
 A copy is available at Langford's office for study and local horse club leaders will discuss them at a future meeting of local clubs. The rules are intended to establish uniform regulations and procedures for 4-H horse shows and events throughout the state for one of the fastest growing 4-H projects, the county agent said.

 Such items as project, ownership and age requirements, contest rules and regulations and certification along with discussions on classes and events which make up the program for 4-H horse shows.

 The county agent said the 1966 State 4-H Horse Show would be held at the Joe Freeman Coliseum in San Antonio, August 12-13. It will be co-sponsored by the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation and the Farm and Ranch Committee of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce. Show awards will be provided by the Texas Electric Coopera-tives, Inc. Participants in the state show, Langford pointed out, will have already won honors in their county and district shows. The top 20 contestants from each of the 12 Extension Service districts in Texas are eligible to enter the state show.

 Langford said that local horse club leaders in Sutton County have plans underway which they hope will put several of the county's 4-H horse club members in the state show.

A CONSTANT NEED

The need for the public school never changes, but times and conditions may change or require to be changed methods and practices of public education. This is inherent with anything that grows, for growth is the result of change.

Our Texas public schools were created 112 years ago. In 1854 the first law was passed establishing the public school.

It is a healthy thing in our democratic way of life to have intelligent understanding of the important functions of our basic institutions. This is especially true of the schools. The initiative and resourcefulness and the wisdom and leadership that our schools are inculcating in the youth of today are the answer of the problems of citizenship in the years ahead.

We can be assured of helping the public schools to fulfill their great obligation to our times by being a participant in the annual Public Schools Week, March 7 through March 11.

Sonora public schools will hold open house; accept their hospitality and you will enjoy the experience of going back to school — if but for a day.

Philosopher Says Guaranteed Income Ok Up To Certain Point

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River has discovered an interesting piece of news, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
According to a newspaper which once more I had to go to town and buy, this makes twice this year and proves for sure these are uncertain times we're living in, the newest suggestion out of Washington is that everybody ought to have a guaranteed income.

While it's still only in the planning and talking stage, as I understand it the Federal government would guarantee that everybody has an annual income of at least $3,000. I don't know how the figure of $3,000 was decided on, but I wouldn't quarrel with it, it's a good round sum, although actually you can print $4,000 or $5,000 in the same space, doesn't cost anymore from a printing standpoint and would produce a lot more buying power.

The article I read said the details haven't been worked out yet, and this is what worries me.

What I mean is, say they settle on $3,000, I won't argue about that, I not only never did like to look a gift horse in the mouth, I've never been very fond of looking any horse in the mouth, in fact I've never even been fascinated by locking under the hood of a car. No use worrying about the figure, if one man can get elected Congressman promising $3,000, another can beat him promising $4,000, the idea is to get the program going, when we need the figure increased somebody will be around to run on it, everybody knows dependability is supposed to be rewarded with a raise. But it's the details that I'm interested in. For example, how do I know some smart alec in Washington isn't going to say, Look, if we're going to guarantee him an annual income, why shouldn't we make him work for it? Why not a minimum of 40 hours of work a week?

That's what I'm talking about. A guaranteed minimum income is one thing, but requiring so many hours of work a year to get it is none of the government's business. Haven't we still got free enterprise in this country? Why should the long arm of Federal intervention be reaching out to check on how I spend my time? Hasn't Washington got something else to do? I tell you, Federal encroachment on the individual has got to stop.

After we get that work angle eliminated, you reckon there's any chance of getting a guaranteed free subscription to a newspaper included in the bill?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

March 6 through 12 is Girl Scout Week. This week's purpose is "To celebrate the birthday of Girl Scouting in the United States."

That birthday took place on March 12, 1912, in Savannah, Georgia. In the intervening years, the movement has spread across the nation, bringing life-long benefits to legions of girls. They learn the arts and crafts and domestic virtues which are particularly suited to feminine temperament and inborn talent. They learn of the wonders of nature. They learn how to get along with each other, and to show respect and understanding and tolerance for the thoughts and aspirations and ambitions of others. They learn the disciplines and attitudes that are vital to a happy and useful life in society.

Above all — and this was never so vital as today — the Girl Scouts build character. They are the enemies of delinquency and the firm and dedicated friends of the moral standards which are the real strength of any nation and its citizens.

Let all salute them during the forthcoming week — and let all help their cause in any way he can.

SONORA TO SPARKLE BY 1968

Texas, in 1968, will have a very important year in its history. This year will see the greatest inflow of visitors into our State ever.

The two principal attractions will be San Antonio's HemisFair and the Olympics in Mexico City. Many meetings of national significance will also be held in 1968. Rotary International will hold its annual meeting in Mexico City, and Lions International is scheduled for Dallas. At least one Texas city is considering a strong bid for both the Democratic and Republican national conventions.

What will these events and visitors mean to and for Sonora? Nothing, unless we as a town get busy with promotions to attract these visitors.

With this thought in mind, the Sonora Chamber of Commerce has been asked to enter a West Texas CoC program called Operation Sparkle in 1968.

What is Operation Sparkle? It is a broad two-year program of community improvement, aimed at attracting visitors and influencing them to stop and visit and stay longer.

Operation Sparkle can not be satisfactorily accomplished without your interest. So participate please, and help get Sonora sparkling by 1968.

The Speech Meet is finally over! Thursday, Friday, and Saturday were rather hectic days for most of us. Awards were given out Saturday night. Gary McGilvray took the trophy for the Best Male Participant. To earn the trophy, he won first in prose reading, first in poetry interpretation, first in Bible reading, first in dramatic interpretation, and he made the All-Star Cast for his part in the one-act play. Cindy Lambert won third in prose reading and made the All-Star Cast. Margaret Bundy won second in dramatic interpretation and also made the All-Star Cast. Shelley Morris placed first in the junior declamation contest, and Jane Sawyer placed third in the same contest. The people who placed in the speech meet read for the Lions' Club Tuesday.

Several other kids made it to finals in the contest. Among these were Mike Gosney, Carol Adamson, Evelyn Jane Lowe, and Kaye Ellis.

The one-act play that Sonora presented was "That's Where the Town's Going." The cast consisted of Gary McGilvray, Ray Glasscock, Cindy Lambert, and Margaret Bundy. The stage crew consisted of Mike Wuest, Robert Brown, and Jackie Cargill. Brenda McCutchen and Tomye Smith also did a lot to prepare things for the performance.

Another six weeks has passed. The tests were put off for a week because of bad weather, and then the speech meet, but the teachers saw to it that we had them in spite of all that Mother Nature could do to help us!

Several college kids were home for the weekend. They included Jimmy Wilson, Irene Davis, Jack David Wardlaw, Gil Allison, Gil Trainor, Jack Hearn, Herman Moore, Larry Bob Moore, Carla Whitworth, Cindy Galbreath, and Cissy Young.

Bill Glasscock was seen anxiously watching the clock Friday. He even predicted the very minute that his father would arrive from San Angelo. He finally got here, and Bill now has a new car.

The football jackets finally got in. Though it was pretty warm Monday, the boys wore them anyway. They couldn't even get out into the sun. After a lot of anxiety, the cheerleaders got their sweaters—at least four of them did. Susan Allison got a red blanket with an emblem on it instead, since she had a sweater and a jacket.

The Best All-Round Athletes have been named. One boy couldn't be decided upon, so both Mike Wuest and Eddie Howell received the honor.

Last week's "Who's Who" was Brent Johnson. This week's picture contains two junior girls who are sisters. They are about 5 feet, 1 1/2 inches tall, have brown hair and brown eyes. They have both been cheerleaders, though not at the same time. Both girls have held many offices and school honors. They are both on the "A" team in volleyball. Their names will appear in next week's "Teen Scene", if you haven't guessed it already!

The volleyball team had it's first game Tuesday with Big Lake. The members of the "A" team are Irene Perez, Linda McCutchen, Brenda McCutchen, Lupe Leja, Elie Chavez, and Gina Badillo. The alternates are Janet Johnson, Prissy Howell, and Maria Garcia. Members of the "B" team are Juanita Alvarez, Brenda Browne, Glenda Delrie, Edna Flores, Susan Prugel, Linda Franks, and Tina Leisa Lilia Perez went out for volleyball but was injured in practice. She will be assistant manager now. Manager for the team is Jackie Cargill. They will play tonight, March 3, in Iraan. The next home game will be with Ozona Tuesday. Good Luck Girls!

"Make Believe" Meat Breakthrough Seen

"Make Believe" meat—a substitute for red meat and poultry could have a severe impact upon the economy of Texas, says Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist, Texas A&M University.

Recent developments in the use of spun fibers of soybean protein as a substitute for almost any food with natural fiber texture may bring this problem closer to farmers and ranchers in the foreseeable future.

The fiber can be treated to imitate such foods as meat, dried fruits, potato chips, nut kernels, and many vegetables. Since it has no taste, it may be given any flavor desired.

Substitution of synthetics for farm products is not new. Nylon, rayon, dacron, and other synthetic fibers have cut deeply into wool and cotton utilization. Soybeans or other substitutes for meat is therefore not too surprising.

The final story will be unfolded in the future. Since these synthetics are new, research is still in progress and many product developments and consumer response problems still have to be worked out.

In Texas, livestock provides the major source of farm income, and any development in the competition for meat production could have a substantial effect upon the income and type of products produced by individual farmers and ranchers.

Currently, synthetics are not yet major competitors with fresh meat.

Coastal Hay Good For Wintering Cows

There's good news for farmers and ranchers who've been wanting to winter beef cows on coastal bermudagrass hay—but aren't sure just how the cows will perform on the hay.

In a one-year test done at Texas A&M University's East Texas Pasture Station, Lufkin, coastal hay compared very favorably to alfalfa hay for wintering mature beef cows.

E. K. Crouch, in charge of the A&M field station, said winter hay cost was $5.32 less per cow for those fed on coastal hay than for those fed alfalfa. Alfalfa hay was $42 a ton and coastal hay was $34 a ton.

The results of this one test are not conclusive enough to make definite recommendations, Crouch said, but there is a good deal of optimism toward feeding coastal hay to cows during the winter.

Many areas in Texas don't produce enough feed to support cattle population year-round. As a result, huge quantities of feed must be shipped in each year. The rapid increase in production of coastal bermudagrass hay over the state may offer a solution to the winter hay problem.

In the A&M test, cows on coastal had an easier time calving. Crouch said this may have been because of the higher protein content of alfalfa. He said the alfalfa possibly may have contributed enough protein to increase birth weights, causing prolonged and more difficult births.

Calves from cows on coastal had slightly higher weaning weights, but probably not enough to be significant, said Crouch.

If further experiments bear out what has already been found, Texas cattlemen may soon be wintering beef cows on homegrown hay—at a lower cost.

With further developments, however, Texas producers may face some severe problems in the competition for real meat.

In the event that synthetic meat products find a strong market in the future, it may be that soybeans, now a relatively small crop in the state, could increase substantially.

Texas farmers and ranchers must assume the correct attitude toward these new products, says Uvacek. Probably the most logical approach is to understand the nature and potential of these products and thus devote their efforts toward the improvement of production, processing and marketing of livestock.

...and FORGIVENESS

Sin is a disagreeable word that millions shun. It casts a shadow of separation. It raises chill thoughts of an impenetrable and eternal barrier between humanity and God...

Forgiveness on the other hand is a warm and inspiring word. It promises that life's slate can be wiped clean. It brings us close to God — and to one another.

An Execution on a Friday centuries ago... an Empty Tomb in the dawn of the first Easter Day... a Faith that has gripped human souls for all the generations since — these are forever entwined with the stark realization of man's sin and the blessed assurance of God's forgiveness.

That is why, when we think deeply of the meaning of these words — of their implication in our own lives — we find ourselves at the very heart of the Christian religion.

And it is why these soul-stirring weeks at the threshold of Christ's suffering have long been the time for such searching thought!

Caverns of Sonora Get Tourist Boost According to TTDA

More visitors than ever before discovered the attractions of vacationland Texas last year, and the Caverns of Sonora received its fair share of tourists, according to the Texas Tourist Development Agency.

This was reported by the TTDA to Governor John Connally recently following its annual survey of attendance figures drawn from 22 representative tourist attractions, including the Caverns, over the state.

Attendance overall was up 13 percent over 1964, Frank Hildebrand, the agency's executive director, advised the governor. Total admissions soared by 3,449,000 visitors to a record total of 30,403,000 in 1965, he said.

Easter Seal Appeal To Last Through Easter, April 10

The 1966 Easter Seal fund appeal to finance services for Texas' disabled children and adults began March 1, it was announced recently by George J. Zachariah, president of the Texas Society for Crippled Children and Adults, which sponsors the annual campaign. The fund drive will continue through Easter Sunday, April 10, 1966.

The Texas Easter Seal appeal is part of the nationwide campaign conducted simultaneously in all 50 states, Puerto Rico, and Washington, D. C.

"We must continue to provide the services still needed by the 14,395 persons with physical handicaps who came to us for help in 1965," Mr. Zachariah declared. "There are many other disabled individuals in our state who also look to us for care, treatment, and guidance in 1966, and who pin their hopes and aspirations on the success of this year's fund appeal. The extent to which these hopes may be realized will depend on the extent of the concern and participation demonstrated by the citizens of Texas."

The state organization has 80 affiliates and 63 Easter Seal representatives in counties throughout Texas. Both local and state organizations are part of the National Easter Seal Society, which is now observing its 45th year of service to the physically handicapped.

The national chairman of the 1966 Easter Seal Appeal is comedian Jimmy Durante.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

by the Rev. Arno Melz pastor, Hope Lutheran Church "When Gentiles who have not the law do by nature what the law requires, they are a law to themselves, even though they do not have the law. They show that what the law requires is written in their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness and their conflicting thoughts accuse or perhaps excuse them." Romans 2:14-15 R.S.V. The number of people in our country who say there is no God is growing at an alarming rate, but even more alarming are the people who live and act as though there were no God. These are the people who live in open sin, who do not attend church, do not pray, do not read their Bible, and use God's name in vain.

Why are there people in our community who live and act as though there were no God, no heaven, no hell? Whatever their excuse, it is not ignorance. Everyone knows deep down in his heart there is a God to which they will one day have to give an account. Paul said this knowledge is written in man's heart. He gives as an example the Gentiles: they didn't have the written law, but they had a conscience which accused them.

The knowledge of God is universal, James tells us even the devils tremble and know there is a God. When Paul came to Athens to preach he found an altar to the unknown God. He then proceeded to tell them about this God.

This basic knowledge of God has been written in your heart and perhaps you tremble in fear, because you have allowed God to remain only partly known in your life. In this Lenten season as Christendom is meditating on the suffering and death of Jesus, use this time to get better acquainted with God. You will find He is a God of love, a God of mercy, a forgiving God, as well as a just God. God is offering His love and forgiveness to you through His son Jesus Christ. Accept this forgiveness by accepting Jesus as your Savior. Draw closer to God each day through meditation and prayer. Amen!
