CINDERS

By John T. King

The following is passed along to us by Louis Davis. It originally appeared in "Gulf Breeze", a Dallas insurance company publication, and is introduced as an actual letter written by one attorney to another with reference to title on a piece of land in Texas.

Dear Sir:

I have examined abstract of title in seven parts covering the North 320 acres out of the Richardson Survey in Big Bend County, Texas, which you are preparing to buy, and herewith render my opinion.

Don't buy the land! It has been my sorrow and burden to look over several examples of a title examiner's nightmare, but this alleged title takes the cutglass flyswatter. It is my private belief that you couldn't cure the defects in this title if you sued everybody from the Spanish Government (who started this mess) on down to the present possessor of the land who is there by virtue of a peculiar instrument, optimistically designated by the abstractor as a General Warranty Deed.

In the first place, the field notes of the Spanish Grant do not close. I don't think it possible to obtain a confirmation grant since the late unpleasantness in 1898. In the second place, there were nineteen heirs of the original grantee, and only three of them joined in the execution of the conveyance unto the next party in this very rusty chain of title, which is a major defect in the first place. We might rely on limitation here, except that I am reliably informed that nobody has succeeded in living on his land for a period of two years, before dying of malnutrition.

The land has been sold for taxes eight times in the last forty years. The last purchaser sued the tax collector a month after he bought it for cancellation of sale on the ground of fraud and misrepresentation. He doubtless had grounds, but this incident will give you a rough idea of what kind of muzzel loading, smoothbores have been fritzing the title. Nobody has ever redeemed one of those tax sales—glad to get rid of it, no doubt.

On February 2nd, 1904, a gentleman who appears suddenly out of nowhere, by the name of William Brannon, executes a quitclaim deed containing a General Warranty of title, to one Patrick Perkins; Perkins, the prolific old billygoat, dies, leaving two wives and seventeen children, the legitimacy of two of them being severely contested. I am not being any funnier than the circumstances indicate—he actually left two wives and it appears never to have been legally adjudicated who he done wrong by. Each of the ladies passed away in the fear of God and the hope of a glorious resurrection, and left a will devising this land to their respective brats. A shooting match between the two sets of claimants seems to have assisted the title slightly by reducing their number to six and substituting eleven sets of descendants. One of the prevalent causes of defect in this title seems to be the amorous proclivities and utter disregard of consequences prevailing in this neighborhood.

Your respective vendor derives title by virtue of an instrument concerning which I have previously remarked. It is executed by a fair majority of one set of the offspring of Patrick (Prolific) Perkins, and is acknowledged in a manner sufficient to pass a County Clerk with his fee prepaid. Outside of the fact that does not exactly describe the property under search, the habendum clause is unto the grantors—the covenant of general warranty does not warrant a thing—and it is acknowledged before it is dated. I suppose that is all right.

I might mention that this land was the subject of trespass to try title suit between two parties who See Cinders ..... Back Page

Rick, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Street, won seven places in last year's show, including the honor of being junior premier wool exhibitor.

The over-all high team of last year's show was Sutton County 4-H composed of Chris Berger, Mark Jacoby, and Chris Frizzell. The over-all high individual last year was Steve Taliaferro of Ozona FFA. Grand Champions of last year were Ray Glasscock for his bag of wool and record book, Steve Street for his single wool fleece, and Kathy Adams of Hamilton County for her single mohair fleece. The grand champion bag of wool was for the third consecutive year exhibited by Armer Earwood in the adult division. In the same division, Earwood also won the champion range wool fleece prize.

SPRING CLEAN-UP IS IN SECOND WEEK IN SONORA

The spring clean-up in Sonora is now in its second week, and Sonorans are urged to "get out and get busy" in beautifying Sonora for the summer influx of tourists.

A free trash pick-up service is in effect until the end of the second week in June. Residents should pile trash in an accessible place and call 2-6841 for the free pick-up.

There have only been a few calls for the trash pick-up, and Sonorans have thus far not shown much interest in beautifying the city according to R. M. McCarver.

Judgers Take Honors

Chris Berger, Mark Jacoby, Steve Thorp and Bill Green placed second in mohair judging and third overall high team in wool and mohair judging when the Sutton County 4-H Club entered one senior and two junior teams in the Bandera

County Wool and Mohair Judging Contest on June 4.

In the junior division, Tom Green, Scott Jacoby, Rick Street and Roger Langford placed first in mohair judging and third overall high team in wool and mohair judging.

Mark Rousselot, Kerry Joy, Eddie Alexander, and Steve Street also took part in the contest.

Mrs. Billy Green, Norman Rousselot and county agent D. C. Langford attended the judging contest with the 4-H members.

Eldorado Housing Project Approved

Eldorado has received approval of $324,000 loan from the Department of Housing and Urban Development for the construction of 24 low rent houses in Eldorado.

The 24 housing units will all be built at the same time by a contractor, and 10 of them will especially be designed for the elderly. Upon completion, the units will be rented to low-income people.

Promotion of the Eldorado project has been under way for some time and now that it is approved the building program will get under way.

The Sonora Chamber of Commerce has advocated a similar program and recently presented city commissioners with a petition asking establishment of a local housing authority.

Such housing projects do not bring about any elevation in local taxes, nor do they affect the bonding status of the city.

Garment Factory Proposed Here

The Sonora Chamber of Commerce is seeking information on people interested in commercial sewing for a company who proposes to manufacture garments in Sonora. Bob Johnson, chamber manager, explains that the work is done on commercial machines in a production-line method—altogether different from home sewing.

Those who qualify by passing a physical and aptitude examination will attend a one-week training course held locally. They will then begin at minimum wage and advance to piecework when their speed increases. No experience is required.

Interested persons are asked to fill out the application blank below and deliver it to the Chamber of Commerce office.

New Formula For Vital Task

A veteran teacher has drafted a formula by which schools might do a better job of getting and keeping teachers.

Though this teacher's experience has been in another part of the country, his views should be of interest to administrators in our own area. For the problem of getting and keeping good teachers is already with us, and as the great expansion and upgrading of Texas education hits full stride it will become more serious than ever.

The teacher begins by discounting the theory that more money is all that would be needed to attract superior people to the teaching profession.

The reason most such people don't want to be teachers, he says, is that "it is an automatic demotion, socially speaking." In this area, teaching fortunately doesn't seem to suffer from so low a prestige rating. Nevertheless, the veteran suggests some valid-sounding factors other than mere salary raises that could increase teaching's prestige.

First on the list is "success." The term again evokes the idea of more money, a bigger car, a nicer home, etc. But this isn't the veteran teacher's meaning.

He means success at the job of teaching children. And success, he says with much logic, is not possible when pupil loads are too heavy, curricula are not suitable for students, facilities are outdated or inadequate. Several factors he mentioned under the next requisite for prestige could also have bearing on the teacher's success.

This second requisite is "image"—the enjoyment in the eyes of the community, the students and other teachers of at least a semblance of importance.

It may never occur to most people, but, as this teacher points out, members of his profession are allowed few of the prestige symbols of other jobs—an office, a phone, a name on the door. Circumstances might make most of these impossible. But at least arrangements could be made for teachers to have respect, privilege, recognition and a modicum of privacy.

As this teacher readily admits, teachers can do a great deal on their own to boost the prestige of the job. They can do so not only by preparing themselves better and striving constantly to improve and keep abreast of developments in teaching methods and various fields of study. They can help also by standing up for improved curricula, reasonable class loads and administrative practices that permit effective, uninterrupted classroom instruction.

But this doesn't lessen the responsibility of school administrators and the community as a whole to do their part in giving the teaching profession the prestige it deserves. And this is a responsibility that must be met in this area, if we are to avoid a desperate shortage of highly qualified teachers just as we are on the threshold of an epochal educational advancement.

Cars in Traffic Bad But Horses Are Worse

Editor's note: The Devil's River philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River takes a look at the traffic problem this week.

Dear editor:

According to an article in a newspaper which I found caught on a corner post where my pasture makes a right angle and which I pulled off as that post has enough to do to hold up the fence without any extra weight being added, there are so many cars in this country now, 90 million at the moment and multiplying faster than people, that city people are having more and more difficulty getting anywhere.

A survey showed that at peak traffic periods in big cities cars travel about 6 to 8 miles an hour, which is no faster than you could go with a horse and buggy.

I was discussing this with a neighbor and he said, "See there, that's what I've been arguing. We're no better off with cars than we were with buggies. It was a mistake to ever start building them. They ought to be outlawed."

I didn't argue with him, but I got to thinking, maybe he has a point; then I thought some more. Ninety million cars, I'll admit, is a lot of cars, but have you ever stopped to think how many buggies 90 million would be?

Can you imagine New York City

at 5 p.m. with 350,000 horses and buggies jammed up in Times Square?

Trying to find places to park that many cars during the working day is impossible enough, but what kind of a problem would you have trying to tie up and feed that many horses? Just getting them up into the ten-decker storage garages would stagger the imagination. There are other problems too which I won't go into, but the flies would be terrible.

As for the traffic jams with cars, it's one thing to have a woman driver hold up traffic for ten blocks back, but you think it'd be any better with a few balky horses scattered up and down the line?

I tell you, people who want to go back to the good old days are welcome to try, but they'll never make it. Ninety million horses lined up on the roads bumper to bumper... I'll stay at home.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

FAMILY POT LUCK

BY HELEN HALE

Simple Suppers
If supper can be placed on a tray and carried out to the cool porch, think what a delightful meal that can be. Place a single blossom in a bud vase on each tray to catch some of the magic from the garden.

Place processed American cheese on a halved hard roll, top with a tomato slice, bacon (fried and drained) and then another slice of cheese. Broil until cheese melts. Serve with fruit salad and beverage.

Shape crabmeat mixed with mayonnaise, celery, pickle and chopped hard-cooked egg into patties and pan fry. Serve with toasted buns and cole slaw.

Roll slices of Swiss cheese and ham, with mustard in-between and serve on French bread rolls. Garnish with salted cucumber slices, tomatoes and ripe olive kabobs.

Baked bean salad is good in hollowed out hard buns. The bean salad can be mixed with frankfurter slices and served prettily in a lining of curly lettuce.

Serve a cup of hot cream of shrimp soup and cucumber-cream cheese sandwiches on pumpernickel bread.

TOMORROW IS THE TENTH

School Is Out! Vacation time is here! A happy time—But also a time when summer needs come pressing in on us—There are the new swim suits for Susie and Jim—they've outgrown the old one—and there's the picnic "paraphernalia" that needs replacing—new Thermos jugs, ice chests etc.

Then there are the graduation gifts, the wedding gifts—all of these we enjoy giving and enjoy doing—and this is made easier for us by the simple and wonderful system of credit that our merchants have graciously extended to us.

Each one may avail himself of his privilege by keeping his credit record in good standing. The credit Bureau only KEEPS the record—YOU MAKE the record. This just a reminder—Tomorrow Is The Tenth.

GREEN NEWS

Time sure flies. Here it is another week and very little news. But that is the "Life of Golf". Did you notice Ernestine Hext's picture in the Sunday paper? Pretty good of Ernestine, but can't say much for the mayor.

around the club house on the behavior of the young golfers. Some say that others could learn golf etiquette from Mark Rousselot and friend, David Wuest, Dick Hamilton, Randy Wuest and Steve Thorp. Maybe using the carts had something to do with this.

GN Jimmy Mackey of Eldorado was golfing in Sonora last week.

GN Ladies, next Wednesday, June 5 is luncheon day. It is also election of officers for the new year. Try and be there.

GN Qualifying rounds were played Monday at San Angelo in the West Texas Women's Golf Tournament. Bobbie Fawcett shot an even hundred and Sammie Jean Espy came in with a 99 to place them both in the fourth flight.

GN Men, remember Sunday. The club is having its monthly tournament.

GN Some Sonorans playing in the partnership tournament in Ozona Saturday were J. W. Neville, George Johnson, John Bell, Whiskey Hill, Mickey Powers, Lonnie Taylor, Ed Grobe and Tommy Thorp. From the time Lonnie and Ed teed their ball to tee off time was two hours. They said it almost wasn't worth while, Sunday, Tommy won consolation in the fifth flight. Jimmy Attaway, a former Sonoran, flubbed a shot on 7 to eagle the hole and took second honors in the championship flight.

GN We want to thank Iva Hightower for the booth that she donated the club.

GN Bet some fathers think that baby sitting is child's play. Seen on the course Wednesday were Jerry Hopkins and Bob Snodgrass playing golf while their sons rode. The boys were good as gold.

GN Nelda Mayfield has been out this week playing golf. Welcome.

GN Elaine Donaldson recently shot a 48 and she has her score card to prove it.

GN Another out-of-town player on the course is Kenneth Babcock of McCamey.

GN Compliments have been flying

GN Herman Moore and sons had a hot threesome going Saturday.

GN The Milton Cavanesses had their aunt and uncle out Saturday.

GN Some people can make more on the side lines than they can golfing. Ann Hill, Jo Neville, Sammie Espy and George Johnson pooled their resources and came up with the winner, Ed Handley, Sunday in Ozona.

GN Next week the winners in the Ladies Club Tournament will be posted.

MRS. JACK GRAVES JR.

Jo Addah Johnson, Jack Graves Jr. United in Marriage in Friday Ceremony

The First Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Jo Addah Johnson to Jack Graves Jr. of Palestine, Friday night, June 3, 1966, at 8 p.m. The Rev. Allen Roe, pastor, officiated.

Julie and Joel Howell of Beaumont were junior attendants.

The church was decorated with white candles and two large baskets of white mums, gladiolas, carnations and greenery.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Mrs. Allen Roe, soloist, and Mrs. W. T. Hardy, organist. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lem Eriel Johnson and the late Mr. Johnson. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Graves of Palestine are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride's mother, Mrs. L. E. Johnson Jr., wore an apricot peau de soie and lace.

Escorted by her uncle, Mack Cauthorn, the bride carried a Bible topped with a white orchid and Stephanotis held within an 1855 colonial wedding bouquet holder belonging to her father's family.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Jack Graves, wore a green lace dress.

The bride wore a gown of ivory peau de soie. Alencon appliques, which flowered deep into the brief sleeves and princess bodice, scalloped the scoop neckline. Fold-over pleats gave a cone shape to the "A" skirt. From rose and leaf lace medallions at the back waist swept the graceful oval cathedral-length train.

Approximately 30 friends assisted in the houseparty for the reception in the home of the bride's mother. The house was decorated in pink and white, the bride's chosen colors.

Organza rosettes held the bride's full French illusion veil, and she wore a single strand of pearls belonging to her mother.

The bride's table was covered with a linen cut work cloth. A large bouquet was in the center of the table, and punch and champagne were served from each end of the table from silver punch bowls. The wedding cake was served from the side of the table.

Miss Jessie Lem Johnson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Janet Johnson, a sister, was a bridesmaid.

The groom's table was in the den where chocolate cake and punch were served.

Other bridesmaids were Mrs. H. L. Howell of Beaumont, sister of the groom, Misses Sarah Lu Hardy, Sarah Lynn Sawyer, Derry Kay Shurley and Sophie Marshall of Rock Hill, South Carolina. They carried crescent bouquets of French white carnations.

The bride's going away dress was a navy and white imported silk suit. She had navy and white accessories and carried a white orchid.

The bridegroom's father served as best man. Groomsman were Jerry Lynn Graves of New Orleans, brother of the groom, H. L. Howell of Beaumont, Clyde W. Ricks of Orange, Johnny Fields, James Drennan of Hooks, and Robert D. Martell of Orange.

She is a Sonora High School graduate and was graduated with honors from Sullins Junior College in Virginia and Colorado State University. She is a member of Pi Omega Pi and Phi Theta Kappa, honorary societies and Pi Beta Phi.

Ushers were Bud Johnson and Bill Goss of Orange and Jimmy Cahill. Candles were lighted by Johnny Fields and Jerry Graves.

The bridegroom is a Palestine High School graduate. He attended Texas A&M University, and is now a senior architecture major at the University of Texas. He is a member of the Student Design Society.

Mrs. Graves is employed by the Internal Revenue Service in Austin where the couple will be at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Ellis of Austin have been visiting his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Lea Roy Aldwell. Also visiting the Aldwells was Roger Neubauer, brother of Mrs. Ellis, of Seattle, Washington.

Time has arrived for most summer school students to leave, so we might as well get the worst part of the news out of the way! Janie Lesinger left last week for North Texas in Denton. Diana Black, Carla Whitworth, Randee Fawcett, and Bill Elliott are all going to summer school. John David Fields will be leaving soon for Mexico City where he will attend school. More power to him!!!

Cindy Lambert left Sunday for Lubbock. She will visit her sister while taking a Tech speech course. Mickey Hardegree and Mike Wuest visited Tech last week.

Believe it or not, several kids have been visiting in Sonora lately. Mike St. Clair is one of the well-known visitors—you can't really say he was visiting! Cherrie Lee Davis of Mission was in Sonora last weekend. She was visiting Jimmy Wilson on her way to California. Henry Roach has been in town... any comment?!

Kathy Grelle left Tuesday for Crystal City to see some friends and kin folks. Mark Shurley is in Austin visiting his grandmother. Nedra Raye left Tuesday for a Lake Texoma family reunion. And then there is Libb Wallace, leaving Friday for Ruidoso. He is going to work up there this summer. Why don't you say "hi" to Bill Glasscock from all the kids in Sonora.

Last week's "Who's Who" was Mike Sims. This week's mystery person is a girl who will be a senior. She stands about five feet and two inches tall, and has green eyes and blonde hair. She is well-known for her extremely bubbly personality.

Libb? Word has it that Gary McGilvray has moved, but not far! He now lives beside Gulf Restaurant.

Gail Espy and Ceewee Johnson, along with Cynthia Mahon from Ozona, went to the rodeo in Del Rio. Sherry and Cari Eustace were also seen there.

I'm sure every one wants to send heartfelt sympathies to Diana Cahill, who is still in the hospital recovering from a back injury. How many more weeks did you say you would be there, Diana?

Little by little, I think I'm finally rounding up all the kids with summer jobs. Irene Davis is working at the court house. Eddie Howell is working for the city. Gil Allison is working for the Caverns. Laney Cook is back out at Jim Fish's ranch this summer. Grady Roe decided to try something different this summer. He is working at the Texas Crippled Children's Camp in Kerrville.

If anybody has lost a charm of the astrodome (I think that's what it is) I found one in my back yard and would be glad to return it to the owner.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Howell visited in McCamey and Rankin this past weekend. They attended the wedding and reception of Laurel Wayne Pirkle, nephew of Dr. Howell, and Miss Gayla Wilson in the Rankin First Baptist Church.

Your Chamber of Commerce

by Bob Johnson

About three weeks ago I reported that a schedule would be published later telling you when to put your trash out for pick-up in connection with the clean-up campaign. There is no schedule. R. M. McCarver points out that the City has two trucks and crews working the entire city picking up any trash they see or, you may call the City Hall, phone 2-6841, and they will send the truck to you. McCarver was quick to add that he is not happy with the amount of work these crews are finding to do. Only 14 calls have been received asking for a truck and not much trash has been found by driving around looking for it. They will pick up almost any kind of trash except heavy metal objects or large rocks.

The lack of clean-up activity indicated in McCarver's report comes as no surprise. Most of us have already noticed it. But, it does make you stop and think. Why haven't more people joined in the program, if it is as simple as it sounds. A few hours work at each house and place of business would make Sonora as pretty as any town in Texas—prettier than most. I can think of two reasons for this lack of activity and I choose to believe that people just haven't had time to work in their yards. The only other reason would be that they just don't care, which would be acceptable to none of us.

We are all proud of who we are, what we are and what we possess. We respect our neighbors and we want them to respect us. If your neighbor didn't clean his place up last week don't condemn him. He just didn't have the time.

By-the-way, That vacant lot that you own. It needs cleaning, too. Maybe you can't see it from where you live, but others have to look at it every day. If you can't find someone to do it, call the Chamber of Commerce. We will find someone for you.

Mrs. Sam Fitzhugh from Ozona was camp director.

Attending the camp from Sonora were the following: Lee Ann Byer, Judy Fairchild, Lesa Joy, Martha Elliott, Marsha Finklea, and Susan Summers from Brownie Troop 79; Debbie Ferguson and Laura Gibbs from Brownie Troop 64; and Alice Cook and Marilyn Mormon from Junior Troop 17.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By The Rev. Arno Melz
Pastor, Hope Lutheran Church

"Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect." Matthew 5:48

How often have you heard people say, I am just as good as the person who goes to church, even though I do not go? How often have you heard people say just try to do your best, that is all God expects of you? The word's of Jesus show the error of such thinking when He states, be perfect.

Trying to do good does not get you to heaven. It may help you get along with your friends, but God expects perfection. This means keeping the ten commandments, which are summed up by saying, love God above all things and love your neighbor as your self.

You might say that is easy, but is it really? Do you always trust God for everything and never worry? Do you always take your troubles to God in prayer? Do you remember to give thanks for your blessings? What about your family, friends, neighbors and enemies, do you always love them as yourself?

By now you have discovered you are not keeping God's law perfectly. You are not alone, the Bible says no one else can either. You may ask, what now? There is only one answer, turn to Jesus, the one who kept the law perfectly for us and died on the cross in our stead. Confess your sins and shortcomings to Him, and ask His forgiveness. Jesus has paid the price for our lack of perfection. With the forgiveness He gained for us we have perfection in the sight of God.

Church members will continue to sin each day, even as do non-church members. But the people who turn to Jesus show that they are aware of this sin and need forgiveness. Those who turn to Jesus for forgiveness, also pray for a stronger faith so they may live a life more pleasing in God's sight.

You are not perfect, but you will be forgiven if you turn to Jesus. Receive His perfection today. Amen.

Pushing Another Car

Trapped in a tight parking space, a motorist decided to push against the car behind him. He glanced into his rear view mirror, then started moving backward.

Unhappily, his quick look hadn't shown that the woman who owned the other car was just opening her door to get in. As he pushed her car, the open door struck and injured the woman.

She sued later for damages, and the man was held liable for his failure to take a better look before pushing.

"Such a maneuver," said the court, "is dangerous and should not be undertaken until safety has been made reasonably certain."

Whenever you set a second car in motion with your own car, you suddenly expand the scope of your responsibility. One judge put it this way:

"In so handling two cars, the driver must be as mentally alert and as physically responsive as a western cowboy riding two horses Roman fashion."

On the other hand, pushing another car is not wrong if you proceed with care. Even if there is an accident, you were not negligent. For example:

A kindly motorist offered a push to a man whose car had stalled in the street. After pushing it about 20 feet, he let the front car roll ahead on its own momentum. The driver reached the corner, turned—and hit a woman pedestrian.

In due course the injured woman sued the good Samaritan, arguing that he had provided the original impetus to the car that struck her. But a court held him not liable, since the accident happened after he had broken off "control" of the front car.

As a rule you may assume, in pushing, that not only the other driver but also the car itself will behave in a normal manner. Consider another tight-parking-space case:

Here, the motorist nudged the car ahead, little suspecting that it had been left in gear with the ignition on. The motor caught—and, as he watched in helpless horror the car crossed the street and crunched through a plate glass window.

But again, the motorist was held not liable for the damage done, since the front car's behavior was so unexpected.

Thus, in judging your liability for pushing another car, the law requires you to allow for dangers that may fairly be anticipated—but nothing more. The law demands foresight. It does not demand clairvoyance.

Lyne T. Barret Drilled 1st Well

The problems of raising money to make a profitable enterprise out of Texas' first oil well—drilled 100 years ago—are revealed in a biographical booklet on Lyne T. Barret published by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

Publication of the booklet is one of a number of projects slated by the Association to honor the pioneer of man whom petroleum historians credit with drilling the first Texas oil well near Nacogdoches in 1866.

Written by Frank X. Tolbert, Dallas historian and newspaperman, the story which is based on some of Barret's correspondence and business papers, discloses the great optimism and disappointments surrounding this first attempt to create a Texas oil company.

Barret obtained some $5,000 worth of machinery from operators in the then-young Pennsylvania oil industry to develop oil leases he held. However, following a second well, which failed to produce, his source of capital dried up. Correspondence indicates that Barret attempted to swap Texas land to the Pennsylvanians for further assistance, but they were not interested. Mrs. Barret was reported to have inherited a great deal of land.

Tolbert wrote that after trips north for additional financing failed, Barret apparently never drilled another well, although he did live to see the development of great fields at Beaumont and other places in the southeastern section of the State. He had written letters prior to the drilling of his own well near Nacogdoches describing a venture planned in Hardin County. Phrases from the letter indicate his optimism: "The great excitement of this age is oil... This region of Texas will be wild upon the subject in a few months... a man and the money have already gone north to buy the necessary machinery to search the bowels of the earth for oil... none doubt that oil will be found... what is the use of toiling and struggling with aching brains and weary hands for bread when gold so temptingly invites you to reach out and clutch it?"

Unfortunately for Barret, according to the Tolbert account, the man who drilled the first Texas oil well was unable to "clutch it."

"After he gave up his oil operations," Tolbert wrote, "Barret ran a mercantile store at Melrose and managed his wife's farms."

$600 Scholarship Given El Paso Girl For Journalism

An 18-year-old El Paso girl has been named winner of the West Texas Press Association's $600 journalism scholarship.

The winner is Mary Ellen Botter, who recently completed Austin High School, El Paso, in the top two percent of her class. She plans a major in journalism at Texas Western.

Announcement of the selection was made by Bill Turner, publisher of the Olton Enterprise, chairman of the WTPA scholarship committee.

Mary Ellen was selected from a field of 16 applicants from throughout West Texas. First alternate named by the committee is Sheila Looney of Odessa, who plans to major in journalism at Texas Tech.

The WTPA scholarship winner will be awarded $150 annually, $75 per semester during her four years in college, providing normal progress toward a degree is maintained.

This year's award is the ninth annual by the West Texas Press Association. Four students are enrolled in area colleges and universities using these scholarships and several have graduated.

Among qualifications for applicants are a standing in the top 25 percent of the graduating class, a demonstrated ability in newspaper journalism and a desire for a newspaper career.

Mary Ellen, besides working on the staff of her school newspaper the past three years, worked three afternoons per week on the El Paso Times' "Teen-Times", a teenage news supplement.

While maintaining a high scholastic average, she tutored two elementary school boys as a part-time job while a senior at Austin High.

She was named the outstanding Teen-Times reporter of the year earlier this month by the El Paso newspaper.

Man Saves Himself After Snake Bite

The well-publicized snake situation this spring found at least one satisfied customer.

A man phoned Dan Klepper, outdoor editor of the San Antonio Express-News, to thank him for describing what to do if a poisonous snake strikes.

The man was picking dewberries when he saw a rattler a split second before the snake bit him astride the knuckle of the middle finger. Remembering what he read, the man did not panic, walked to his pickup and borrowed some ice from

Boat Code Is Aid To Texas Aquatics

The specifics covering "What Not To Do" under the new state boating safety code are so elaborate that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department counsels all boaters to carefully study the detailed regulations.

A department spokesman qualified that by saying that 97 percent of the boat operators could successfully function like the old-time Jenny pilots who flew "by the seat of his pants."

He added that for maximum protection the most minute details have to be spelled out.

One reason, he said, is to apply the law for purposes of determining responsibility if and when there is an accident.

This spokesman skipped down the list from 1 to 12 under "prohibited operation" and noted that everybody but that "incorrigible few" would know that:

Your boat must be properly lighted and properly equipped safety-wise;

Boats cannot be operated to endanger other persons;

Hazardous wakes or washes are forbidden;

Circling other boats whose occupants are fishing or circling persons swimming is verboten;

Cutting a boat through swimming areas or other "posted" areas is forbidden.

Then the law was cited on a possible problem for some people thinking they were having fun.

"No person shall operate any vessel or manipulate any water skis, aquaplane or similar device... in a careless or imprudent manner while such person is intoxicated, or under the influence of intoxicating liquor, or under any narcotic drugs or barbiturates or marijuana."

The $14,000,000 historical theme amusement park, now the most popular single tourist attraction in the State of Texas, features more than 75 rides, attractions and shows. An estimated 1.8 million people from all over the United States will visit Six Flags during the 1966 season.

Runoff Liberates Fish in Lakes

Abundant rain runoff is liberating game fish in West Texas lakes where they have been crowded in to sterile lake bottoms for the last couple of years because of water shortages, reports the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Field men say black bass are now frolicking in weedy shallows full of minute aquatic life on fertile soil that has been exposed to life-giving sunlight for several months.

The department observed that while rising and falling water lines may be a bother to lake shore homeowners, this occurrence is beneficial to fishermen because sunlight and air revitalizes stale lake bottom soil thus boosting lake fertility.

The first house available. With his hand packed in ice, he drove to a San Antonio hospital where the incision-suction treatment was used because the man was allergic to antivenin serum.

Four days later the man telephoned Klepper his gratitude plus the report he was recovering with out permanent ill effects.

Here is what the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department pamphlet on poisonous snakes states on first aid treatment for snake bite:

"It is important that every snake bite victim receive first aid treatment as soon as possible. The patient must not exert himself by running, because increased circulation, brought on by such physical activity, will speed up absorption of the poison. For the reason the use of whiskey or other stimulants should be avoided.

"The victim's state of mind is important; he must promptly be convinced that his chances of recovery are good—and indeed they are. He should not be terrified by the thought that every snake bite means certain death. Actually a survey of case histories shows that with prompt and proper treatment, only about one or two percent of all snake bites in this country are fatal."

Instructions in the pamphlet cover immobilizing the affected leg or limb, and using a constricting band and wound treatment. It stresses that composure of the victim could be greatly enhanced by the knowledge that a snake bite kit with all the pertinent data is available.

Cannally's New Water Plan For Texas To Benefit Local Public School Systems

Enactment of Governor John Connally's $3.7 billion water plan for Texas would benefit the state's local public school systems, a Texas State Teachers Association spokesman declared.

The water plan was unveiled and drew immediate support from L. P. Sturgeon, executive director of TSTA's Governmental and Public Relations Division.

Sturgeon said one of the most serious problems facing public school education in Texas today is the severe strain placed on local communities' tax resources.

"Small communities need more industry to provide a tax base for their local schools, and it is evident that if Texas is to ever get more industry, it must first secure more water," Sturgeon said.

The 50-year water development proposal apparently meets the need for immediate and imaginative planning in this regard, Sturgeon asserted.

Sturgeon explained that the proposed interlocking system of reservoirs would not only stimulate creation of a greater industrial tax base, but would prompt tourist-related developments as well. And new businesses created as a result of a booming tourist industry will also pay their rightful share of school taxes, Sturgeon said.

"If Texas is to maintain its present system of locally controlled public school systems, the local school districts will have to have greater tax resources," Sturgeon declared.

"Homeowners and small businessmen are feeling the strain of the local tax problem now, and local school districts have no choice but to turn to the state and the federal government for more revenues," explained the teacher spokesman.

"Texas obviously needs greater industrial development and an adequate water supply will help attract it," he said. "Rural areas need a greater water supply for irrigation and to prevent present good farmlands from becoming wastelands," he added.

"We think the plan that has been outlined by Governor Connally and the Texas Water Development Board is a vital first step toward greater economic progress," Sturgeon said, adding, "now, we hope that the plan will be implemented."

"As sound as the total plan is, we hope that the Water Development Board will still find ways to provide more water benefits to the great West Texas area," Sturgeon said. He was referring here to the board's contention that most of West Texas and the Texas High Plains area would have to receive any additional waters through compacts among the states of the Western U.S.

"The Texas State Teachers Association," said Sturgeon, "has long advocated widespread citizen interest in education. At the same time, TSTA has urged teacher-interest in the affairs of citizenship. We renew our call for greater interest in the problems facing Texas public school education and at the same time, we are suggesting today that each Texas teacher concern himself with the crucial problems confronting the state's water supply," Sturgeon said.

"We believe that Texans can solve the problems of education and water simultaneously by taking a broad view. Both are indispensable to Texas' progress," he said.

Sturgeon declared.

Historical Committee Presents Awards

Two new official awards will be made by the State of Texas through its State Historical Survey Committee to individuals and groups who have made significant and important contributions in the field of historical preservation and restoration of Texas historical structures. The awards will be made for work on local, regional and state levels.

This announcement was made by John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

"The Texas Award for Historical Preservation will be awarded to those who have made significant and important gifts or contributions to historical preservation programs, such as, donation of a museum site, building, or valuable collection, donation of land on which is located a historical site, or a gift for the preservation and restoration of an historic building or site," Shepperd stated.

The second new award is "The Texas Restoration Award" and will be given to those individuals, organizations, clubs, etc. who have "authentically and faithfully restored historic structures which exemplify some phase of cultural, political, governmental, or social history or relate to the lives of historical personages or are identified with important events in local and state history," Shepperd explained.

Structures or sites that are good examples of an architectural type or era and valuable for study of a period-style or method of construction; or notable work of a master builder whose work significantly influenced his period—all come within this category for consideration of the new Restoration Award, Shepperd stated.

"This official recognition is long past due and it is the hope of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee that those who have saved these important structures be properly recognized."

Shepperd also announced that the State Committee was undertaking a comprehensive survey and re-creation of all historic sites and buildings in the state and will officially designate those worthy of preservation as a "Recorded Texas Historic Landmark."

"This official state recognition should be of tremendous assistance in preventing the destruction of historic sites and structures and will also assist localities in focusing attention upon worthy preservation and restoration projects," Shepperd explained.

Official recognition certificates for these three new projects will be signed by Governor John Connally.

Colleges Seek Opinion Reconsideration

Attorney General Waggoner Carr said that his office had heard arguments from representatives of 12 Texas colleges and universities which are seeking a reconsideration of Attorney General's opinion number C-687.

The hearing was requested by representatives of Texas Women's University, Texas College of Arts and Industries, Texas Technological College, East Texas State College, North Texas State University, Sam Houston State Teachers College, Southwest Texas State College, Stephen F. Austin State College, Sul Ross State College, West Texas State University, Texas Southern University and Lamar State College of Technology.

Involved is a constitutional amendment passed by the 59th Legislature and approved by the people of Texas during the general election in November, 1965. The amendment, known as the College Building Bond Amendment, provided for the levy of 10 cents per 100 dollar evaluation on ad valorem taxes for the retirement of bonds issued for construction by seventeen colleges and universities.

Prior to the passage of the amendment in 1965, twelve colleges shared equally in the assessment of a five cent per 100 dollar evaluation tax. The amendment added five additional colleges to the previous 12 which would share in a tax of 10 cents per 100 dollar evaluation. This sharing is to be done on a formula basis included in the amendment.

The five colleges and universities added as recipients are the University of Houston, Midwestern University, Arlington State College, Pan American College and Angelo State College.

Attorney General's opinion C-687 held that the seventeen colleges must share in the total 10 cents tax funds received under the amendment. The representatives of the twelve original colleges and universities contend that they should receive funds from the original five cent tax to pay existing bond indebtedness before the formula allocation is applied. In 1963, they contend, all 17 would then share in the total tax income based on the formula in the amendment.

Carr said that his office will also meet with representatives of the amendment if they so desire. "A very difficult point of law is involved here and it is my hope that the Attorney General's Office will be able to reach a legal interpretation of this legislative act that will aid in the future growth of all our Texas colleges," Carr said.

Peace Corps Test To Be Held June 11

Sonora area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps placement test at 9 a.m. Saturday, June 11, at San Angelo in Room 324 of the Federal Building.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. (If test scores indicate a limited language-learning ability, for example, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking country.) The placement test requires no preparation and is non-competitive—an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The application form, not the placement test, is the most important factor in the selection of volunteers. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D.C. 20525.

The placement test takes about an hour and a half.

too many heart-to-heart talks with each individual one.

I told my husband he'd better have a good talk with John (about sex and things like that) because I sure wouldn't want him getting into any trouble over there. I know "boys will be boys", but I do want John to be careful and not disgrace our family name. Do you think I'd better talk to him too? His father already talked "man-to-man" with him.

Maud
Dear Maud,
Better double check with John. It appears that Dad may not be too well informed on the subject!

Dear Agatha,
I'm married to a sailor—happily for both of us (I thought) until recently. It's like this. Six months out of the year Homer is out of port on the high seas. Then he's home for about a month or so, then off again. Well, his month at home is just about up and for the past week he has been having to work the midnight shift at the dock (getting the ship ready). Well, for the last three nights he's been coming home with the smell of whiskey on his breath and I've found lipstick smears on his handkerchiefs. He swears he's only been out with some other men on the crew but I'm still...

Suspicious

Dear Suspicious,
My advice to you is to investigate Homer's activity immediately. There's more here than meets the eye!

(Editor's Note: If some of Agatha's readers have insurmountable problems, we feel sure that Agatha will be glad to impart new light on the subject. Mail letters to Agatha Crump in care of the Devil's River News.)

Too many short-term debts can cripple your total credit program, tie up operating capital and cause you to miss opportunities that require immediate funds. For these reasons, it can pay you to consolidate your short-term obligations with a long-term, low cost Land Bank loan on your farm or on your ranch.

Firm in Faith

"Be watchful; stand firm in your faith, be courageous, be strong, Let all that you do be done in love."
—1 Corinthians 16:13, 14

Stand firm in your faith and you shall walk the path to happiness. It is not easy to do with love, to consider others rather than concentrate on self-preservation. When we become obsessed with self-love, our perspective is shallow; we tend to grasp and take; we never give and share. Man lives with the hope of eternal salvation, and this very hope is founded upon a great sacrifice. Let the example of the life of Christ guide us to a firm stand for right things, an eagerness to do with love in our hearts, then we shall know the rewards of God's love.

June Plentiful Food Completed Quarter Horse Show Results Simplifies Meals

What to serve for dinner—is this your problem?

Why not consult the June plentiful foods list for helpful ideas? Plentiful this month are raisins, split peas and lentils, canned red salmon and seasonal vegetables, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

We're reaping the benefits of the largest raisin crop since 1953, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture. In addition to this 272,000-ton crop, this year's production also is expected to be large.

Split pea supplies are reported very heavy and producer prices declining. Lentil stocks also are large. You should find both split peas and lentils especially economical.

Bright-red salmon is the answer to nutritious summer salads and other special "no cook" dishes. The 1965 pack of canned red salmon was 2½ times the pack of the year before.

Garden-fresh vegetables will add color and flavor to your dinners. Market news offices of USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service report increasing amounts of vegetables moving into local markets. Let June plentiful foods, suggests the Extension Service, be your answer to palate-pleasing dishes.
