"And the prayer of faith will save the sick man and the Lord will raise him up; and if he has committed sins, he will be forgiven. - James 5:15

We have no right to beg, demand, or ask miracles. We cannot turn to God in a moment of sorrow or deprivation and believe that suddenly things will be "right" again.

We should have faith, faith in the goodness of God and in the belief that each individual has an eternal purpose and an ultimate destiny. There is for no man the guarantee of an easy life or an age without sorrow. But there is the promise of comfort and strength; it is found in prayer and faith.

SAN ANTONIO — An architects' partially completed model of HemisFair 1968, superimposed over a photo of the City of San Antonio, shows the proximity of the 92-acre international exposition to the downtown sector. Multi-terraced building in the foreground is the Institute of Texan Cultures. The 622-foot Tower of the Americas separates the state exhibit from the city's $10.5 million civic center complex. Open spaces are for the federal and industrial exhibits, many of which are presently contracted.
