Factory Receives Machines To Make Line Of Garments

Several commercial sewing machines and chairs were delivered to the newly established garment division of the El Dorado Woolen Mills in Sonora Wednesday.

Preparation of the building, located in the old Sonora Gas Company on Main Street, is in progress and installation of machines and training of machine operators is scheduled to begin this month.

After production has started the garment factory will employ 30-40 persons.

Monday Holiday Planned

Texans will be observing the last holiday of the summer season, Labor Day, September 1. Most Sonora businesses will close their doors for the holiday.

The National Safety Council has estimated that up to 630 persons in the country will die in accidents over the three-day holiday.

Consumption of alcohol is the predicted cause of at least half of the traffic fatalities.

American motorists are expected to travel 9.3 billion miles during the period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday.

McCarver Starts Mosquito Control

Manager of City Utilities, R. M. McCarver, has called for aid in the city's fight in controlling mosquitoes.

According to McCarver, mosquitoes are breeding in many areas of the city. "Discarded tires filled with water and other discarded

Lions Auction Set For September 20

Arrangements are being made for the annual Lions Club auction scheduled for September 20.

According to club president, Jimmy Harris the event will be held at the 4-H Center. A barbecue supper is due to start at 6 p.m. followed by the auction at 7 p.m.

Persons desiring to donate livestock for the sale should contact a member of the livestock committee which includes George Brockman, Doyle Morgan, George Wallace and Gene Wallace.

Proceeds from the livestock auction will go into the club fund to be used for future civic projects. In the past, auction proceeds have been used for aid to the blind, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, the city swimming pool and other civic betterment programs.

Referendum To Decide If Producers Will Enter Into Agreement With ASPC

A referendum among wool and lamb producers will be held September 12-23 to determine their approval or disapproval of a new agreement with the American Sheep Producers Council, Inc. The agreement provides for the USDA to withhold a part of the producer's wool payments during 1966 through 1969 and allows the ASPC to use this money to advertise and promote wool and lamb.

The proposed agreement is basically the same as the previous one, except now deductions would be raised to 1½ cents per pound on shorn wool and 7½ cents per hundredweight on unshorn lambs. The old rate of deduction was 1 cent and 5 cents respectively.

The referendum will be conducted through the county offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of the USDA. Agreement requires approval of two-thirds of the total number of producers, or two-thirds of the total volume of production, represented in the referendum. If the agreement is not approved by producers, no deductions will be withheld from payments on 1966 marketings.

Garment Factory Meetings Set For Tues.

Tom Wallace, president of El Dorado Woolens, Inc., will be at the regular Downtown Lions Club meeting in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church Tuesday, September 6.

The purpose of Wallace's presence will be to discuss the actions taken to date on the establishment of a garment factory in Sonora and the actions which are yet to be taken toward that end. Another meeting on the same day has been scheduled at 3 p.m. at the bank with Sonora's businessmen and civic leaders. This meeting will be of a more complete nature than the one at the Lions Club, and the discussions will be led to a complete understanding. El Dorado Woolens is presently in the midst of an expansion program in the mill and garment cutting and sewing operation, a necessary part of which is the acquisition of additional equipment and training of personnel and supervisors. This is now being accomplished in Sonora as the building formerly occupied by the Sonora Gas Company has already been leased for the installation of the garment factory.

The city is now in the process of spraying areas where mosquitoes are most prevalent and taking other measures to make ponds and standing water unsuitable for the further breeding of the harmful insects.

People in residential areas are urged to help rid the city of a potential health hazard by emptying all containers or other items of water that have become breeding areas.

Pettiet Auto Moves To New Building

A new 36x60 fiberglass-insulated metal building on U.S. 290 across from the Conoco Station is the new home of Pettiet Auto Parts. Herman Pettiet, owner, said that the move was almost complete from the former location at 119 S. Main.

Pettiet originally came to Sonora about a year ago. His company offers auto parts and performs auto repair, including engine rebuilding.

Bronco Boosters Elect Officers, Plan New Season

The Bronco Booster Club held its organizational meeting for the new school year Monday.

Officers elected were James Trainer, president, Wallas Renfro, vice-president and Warren Hemphill, secretary-treasurer. Two new directors were elected and two directors were reelected from last year. The new are Tommy Thorp and Pete Cook. Reelected were John Mittel and Dick Street.

The club has purchased a new movie camera to supplement their other camera for filming Bronco sports events.

Their next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, September 6.

School Begins Today

The 1966-67 school year for Sonora Public Schools got under way today as youngsters of all ages converged on Central and Elliott elementary schools, Sonora Junior High, and Sonora High School.

The pupils saw several new additions and changes as three of the schools had various improvements during the summer.

New light fixtures were installed at the L. W. Elliott Elementary school and the rest of the first floor at the Junior High was remodeled for classrooms and offices.

Students at Sonora High School were probably shocked by the age of some new "pupils" who were "attending" school for money rather than knowledge. These so-called pupils were really workmen who are finishing up on the construction at the school.

Work will continue after school and on weekends to finish up the installation of new ceilings and lights in SHS. A new heating system will also be installed. Work has already been completed on the new lockers, and the rest of the construction should be finished in a few weeks.

Eden Couple Robbed

Two armed men robbed Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pfluger of Eden of $500 in cash and jewelry valued at over $4,000 Friday. They are the parents of Robert Pfluger, formerly of Sonora.

The couple were bound with bed-sheets by the robbers while their home was searched. About 45 minutes elapsed before they were able to free themselves. The men were armed with a sawed-off shotgun and a pistol.

The robbers remained in the Pfluger home from 8:45 to 9:30 p.m. They had their faces covered with stocking masks and wore socks over their shoes.

Authorities were unable to find any evidence in connection with the crime. The couple was not injured.

Broncos Continue Practice, Scrimmage Del Rio Thurs.

The Sonora Broncos have cut their practice sessions to one a day and are in the process of preparing in the scrimmage played against the first scheduled football game to be played with Class AA Ballinger on September 9 in Bronco Stadium.

Labor Day Tourney, Meeting Scheduled

The annual Labor Day Club Tournament of the Sonora Golf Club has been scheduled for Sunday and Monday, September 4 and 5.

The fee for entry in the tournament is $5, and those who wish to enter must play a 9-hole qualifying round prior to 7 p.m. Saturday. The score-card and fee must be turned in to the Pro-shop. Medalist competitors must play 18 holes in a foursome either Friday or Saturday.

A free fried chicken supper for all club members and their families is scheduled at 5:30 to 6 p.m. Monday evening.

The annual meeting and election of new directors will be held immediately following the supper, Monday night. A slate of nominees will be presented by the nominating committee. Nominations from the floor may be made, and a report of the condition of the club will be made.

In the tournament there will be trophies for flight and consolation winners and runner-ups. A prize will also be awarded flight winners in the losers flight.

Trophies for the tournament are being donated by the First National Bank, Neville's Department Store, Twin Oaks Motel, Web Elliott Agency, Buster's Package Store, Thorp's Laun-Dry, Stockmen's Feed Co., Kerbow Home Hardware and The Ratliff Store.

Also, Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co., Big Tree Restaurant, Teaff Oil Co., Pearl Distributing Co., Smith Motors, Davis Insurance Agency, Westerman Drug, and Sonora TV Service.

The Sonora Broncos have been plagued with an unusual number of injuries and illnesses during the early practice sessions. Several of the regular players are not expected to be back in action until after the season gets under way.

Of the Ballinger squad, Hopkins feels that they are a "good" team with lots of spirit and a winning tradition. Hopkins also feels, however, that the Broncos have the determination and potentials to upset the big Bearcat team.

The following is a list of the varsity football players:

Lewis Stockton Is New Sonora Barber

Stockton Barber Shop, located next to Piggly Wiggly on Main Street, is Sonora's newest business addition. Lewis Stockton, owner, has recently moved here from San Angelo with his wife, the former Mrs. Natalie Baker, a former Sonoran.

The one-chair shop features all new, modern barbering equipment in a building which has been newly redecorated and air conditioned.

The Stocktons will soon move into their Sonora home, the former Jerry Hopkins residence.

Lutherans Schedule Special Services

A special Thanksgiving service will be held at Hope Lutheran Church Sunday at 2:30 and a dedication of the new parsonage and open house will follow.

The Rev. Norbert Roschke, circuit counselor, will be present for the dedication and the Rev. Arno Melz, pastor, will conduct the special service. The public is invited.

Tomahawks to Taxes

An episode out of Texas history recounts the heroism of a country "schoolmarm." It was in the later 1800's and one morning as the young woman was conducting class someone noticed the approach of an Indian raiding party.

Quickly, the teacher shooed her young pupils out a rear window, telling them to hide in the brush. With the children out safely, she stationed herself in the doorway of the frail little school, hoping to delay the Indians and save the youngsters.

The delay was accomplished and the students remained safe. But the teacher never recovered from the many arrow wounds she suffered in taking her brave stand.

Today, Texas school teachers do not have to stand between their students and marauding Indians. But they still stand between the child and a greater menace, ignorance. It was the strong resolve of the early settlers and those who kept the schools that the risk of physical harm from raiding savages was less a danger than ignorance. Thus, they sacrificed much to build schools on the bleak plains and in the lurking darkness of the primal forests. Without such selfless sacrifice how could America have ever grown or even survived?

To have good schools today, we need sacrifice only taxes and lend moral support to keep the precious, indispensable process of education alive, a bargain at any price. Considering the sacrifices for schools made by Texas settlers, today's school taxes may be even more of a blessing than a bargain. The early schoolmarm, at least, would agree.

J. A. Challenges Scientists

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bittered ranch on Dry Devil's River apparently knew about as much about astronomy as he does farming, his letter this week indicates. We don't have time to straighten him out.

I was sitting on my front porch out here enjoying a moonlit summer night last week, to be exact it was Tuesday night, and I remembered reading earlier in the day in a newspaper I'd found the day before that the U.S. satellite in the latest moon shot was having a little trouble with its cameras, plus the fact the orbit around the moon wasn't at exactly the level the scientists wanted. Sometimes it was too close, other times too far away.

Then I glanced up at the moon. No wonder they're having trouble. It was just half a moon. You'd think, with all the brains they've got and all the money, somebody would have thought to look at a calendar and say, "Whoa, we can't make a perfect orbit around half a moon. Wait till it's completely round."

It's simple. Cut an apple in half, then try to draw a circle around it. Anybody can tell you one edge of the circle will be closer to the round side than the flat side. You mean to say those scientists have gotten so bogged down in figures and calculations and formulas and paper work they haven't looked up and noticed what shape the moon gets into occasionally?

Moreover, have they thought about the problem they'll have when they actually try to land a man on it? What do they think will happen if they land him there during a quarter-moon? If he lands on the inside of the curve, you know he's going to slide.

If I was an astronaut, the first thing I'd do is get me a calendar and explain to the scientists that it's printed right there: on such and such a date, the moon will be a quarter-moon; a little later, a half-moon; and finally it'll be round. Then's the time to send me up.

If the space scientists don't subscribe to The Devil's River News I suggest you clip this letter out and send it to them, before they make any more busts.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Sandwich Snacks
Pureed apricots mix with cream cheese and chopped pecans to go on thin slices of white bread for luncheon with salad.

Scramble eggs with minced onion, green pepper and cooked leftover ham to go into a buttered bun. It's hearty.

Have some cold roast beef left? Thin slices of this placed on rye bread with Bermuda onion slices, anchovy fillets and Thousand Island dressing taste good to famished husbands after golfing.

Make some crabmeat salad, spread on buns, top with cheese (processed American) and broil until cheese melts a bit.

Brown ground beef with chopped onion and your favorite seasonings. Just before serving, fold in sour cream and heat through gently. Serve on buns.

Mashed avocado mixed with lemon juice, worcestershire sauce, crumbled bacon and a bit of salad dressing offers a tempting spread for toast.

Helen's Favorite:
Sherbet Salad (8 servings)
2 packages (3 ounces each) lime-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 pint lime sherbet
1 can (11 ounces) mandarin oranges, drained
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add sherbet and mix well. When partially set, fold in oranges and whipped cream. Pour into well-oiled mold (1½ quarts). Chill.

There are several things you can check when shopping for a house: Cabinets add to the kitchen's attractiveness and usefulness. Check to see that the finish is smooth for easy cleaning inside and out, whether they are made of wood, metal, plastic or painted. Quality cabinets approach good furniture in the amount of finishing and craftsmanship involved.

Appliances that come with a house are often bare-minimum

"That patient in 403 won't try to go home again — I hid his clothes."

Take a Look At Kitchen of New House

The kitchen is generally the most important part of a new house for a woman.

If the kitchen is not comfortable for her to work in, then she probably will be dissatisfied with her new home says Mrs. Jane Berry, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist at Texas A&M University.

Builders sometimes keep expenses down by using materials of less quality than you prefer. Ask about the basic construction materials used in your kitchen, keeping in mind ease of cleaning and use. For instance, is the floor surface all vinyl, vinyl-asbestos or asphalt tile? Are you satisfied with outlets, lighting, ventilation, counter surfaces, and sinks?

It pays to be a detective when you are considering a major investment like a house. A little "sleuthing" now will save you trouble in the future.

Mr. Farmer — Mr. Rancher:

Too many short-term debts can cripple your total credit program, tie up operating capital and cause you to miss opportunities that require immediate funds. For these reasons, it can pay you to consolidate your short-term obligations with a long-term, low cost Land Bank loan on your farm or on your ranch.

"Pore" Fawn Swims Lake For Refuge After Dawn Show

One of those "pore, itsy, bitsy, orphaned fawns" misguided but well-meaning folks are trying to adopt nowadays put on a dawn show that still has the Lake Austin early risers gasping. Part of the payoff climax happened on Herbie Habitat's premises but characteristically he was pondering protocol inside his lake place and missed the classic capers. Next-door-neighbor Norman Childers had the ringside seat when suddenly the pristine silence was shattered by a great clatter on the hillside back from the lakeshore. Childers, standing in his backyard areaway, naturally glanced toward the hill. Quicker than his own reaction was a spotted object hurtling down an eight-foot wall and skidding on the concrete driveway. It was one of those "puny, fragile fawns" that had been spooked by man or dog. Giant police dogs that roam the area are much larger than a newborn fawn. Some of the other species blitzing the brush would even frighten the canines. But now the fawn straightened up its spindly legs and, noting the startled Childers, leaped a low decorative fence into Herbie's yard. Obviously the target was the safe, soothing waters of Lake Austin. Alas, one more obstacle, Herbie's four tame ducks, snoozing after a long, hot night sneering at the pestiferous raccoons and foxes, really spooked the feeble fawn. It then hit the after-burner, made a skidding left turn, leaped the fence back into Childers front yard, hurdled the uplake fence, and came within a few feet of smashing through a picture window of another home. Seeing itself in the glass was too much, so the mighty midget, turned right, leaped a lake front sidewalk and hit the water paddling. And at last it was safe on the famous Leonard East ranch. No dogs, no poachers there. Certainly no misinformed do-gooders trying to keep an "itsy, bitsy fawn" from having fun.

STATE FAIR TO FEATURE RARE "SHEEP OF THE WORLD" DISPLAY

An exhibit of the finest sheep trophies of one of the world's great hunters—Herb Klein of Dallas—will be a featured attraction at the 1966 State Fair of Texas October 8 through 23 in Dallas. The rare exhibit in the Museum of Natural History will display some of the best of Mr. Klein's trophies of 13 of the 14 major species of wild sheep found on the six continents of the world. Above, Mr. Klein is shown with the most difficult trophy of them all, the North American desert sheep.

Deer Season Opening Set For November 12

Deer season will be November 12 through December 31 in the Edwards Plateau area covering Bandera, Blanco, Burnet, Crockett, Edwards, Gillespie, Hays, Kerr, Kimble, Llano, Mason, McCulloch, Menard, Real, Schleicher, Sutton, Travis, and Val Verde counties. The usual provisions are made for the patient nimrod who likes his wild meat in small quantities. That would be the squirrel hunter, particularly in areas of East Texas where the hunting pressure on the bushy tails requires harvest regulations. Some areas, minus hordes of the sophisticated small game hunters, still have an open season on squirrels the year around. The fall seasons have been itemized, on the basis of field studies and counsel with landowners and sportsmen, in the 184 counties over which the Commission has regulatory responsibility. The other counties function under Legislative determination of seasons, bag limits and other provisions. set, with extra trimmings for the whitewings. Even the trophy hunting elite will have their day through the special conducted harvest of surplus Aoudad sheep in the Palo Duro Canyon country. The bag limit will be 2 buck deer with no more than 3 in aggregate. Antlerless deer may be taken in designated areas by permit only. Archery season in Kerr and Kimble counties will be from October 1 through October 31. There will be no closed season on javelina and squirrel with no bag limit. Quail will be in season from November 12 through January 31 with a bag and possession limit of 12 and 36. The turkey season will run from November 12 through December 31 with a bag limit of 2 turkeys, gobbler or bearded hen. The most comprehensive wildlife harvest plans in Texas history have been mapped almost in their entirety by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission. From now on its strictly up to the weather to maintain the number of birds and animals calculated as available for the fall hunts. The 1966 big game season has expanded opportunities for the sportsmen, and scatter gunners may look ahead to normally generous or expanded quail and dove hunting. Waterfowl enthusiasts will have a second straight warmup through an experimental late September teal hunt. Final decision on the duck and goose season cannot be made until late August to climax conferences on the regional and national level. The "luxury bracket" seasons—white-winged doves in the Rio Grande Valley and antelope in the Trans-Pecos, Panhandle, Permian Basin and limited other areas—are

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Visitation Rights
When Alice divorced Jim, she was given custody of their three-year-old son. However, Jim had visitation rights every Sunday afternoon. He would call for the boy at 3 p.m., take him out for a few hours, and then return him at dinner time. But one thing rankled Alice. "It's those between-meal snacks," she complained in a court hearing. "Jim never fails to feed the boy something while they are out. That is bad for his health. Therefore, I would like to have Jim's visitation rights ended."

well restore them later if the offending parent mends his ways. For example: A court revoked its ban against a mother who, although once an alcoholic, had quit drinking, found a good job, and gained a respected place in the community. In fact, even if a parent has been barred because of flagrant adultery, visitation rights may be restored when there is enough evidence of reform and repentance. Thus, an adulterous mother who remarried and led a blameless life for several years was able to regain the right to visit her children. The court said: "A child's welfare is best served by fostering the virtue of filial piety, even toward a parent who once had erred, but who has long since reformed."

Generally speaking, the law prefers—primarily for the sake of the child—to keep parental ties intact. While visitation rights are often modified, they will not be cut off altogether without a compelling reason.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

THE FAMILY

Sometimes, when a child gets into trouble, a parent will shout to the world, "I don't know why the child does such things. I have given him everything. I have done all that a parent can do!"

This may be true. Yet, sometimes, the "everything" that the child gets includes only the things that can be acquired with money or through influence. Surrounded by luxury, by emphasis on "the easy way", a child may still feel that his parents have "short-changed" him.

In the parent-child relationship, there is no substitute for mutual respect. The child respects the parent who offers guidance, who demands obedience, and who tempers discipline with a measured amount of understanding and love. On the other hand, the parent shows indifference rather than concern by being overly-protective and by giving so much to the child that there remains no reason, no incentive for trying to get something for himself.

A gift is not always a sign of love and affection; it is sometimes a concession, or something given because the giving takes only a moment of one's time.

That word—"togetherness"—does not mean "everyone must come to breakfast and to dinner." It has a deeper and more demanding significance.

A Parson's Eye View Of Sonora

by Rev. Ross T. Welch

Bang! Bang! We wish some computer-minded person would figure up the cost in shells, etc. of harvesting one pound of edible dove meat. We suspect it would put dove meat in the 'delicacy' column. But until some person with a computer-brain looking for material for a master's thesis comes along, the dove hunters can bang away in complete forgetfulness of the cost of the meat they so proudly provide for the family table.

No wonder they call the poor birds, mourning doves. Their cousins, the pigeons, are much bigger targets and provide more meat. Is there ever an open season on pigeons?

In religious symbolism, the dove represents the Holy Spirit, and is generally associated with gentleness and purity. Better say no more—we might spoil someone's hunting.

Albert Ward referred to this coming Labor Day weekend as "Memorial Day weekend." Even though this was not intentional, probably, it was not inappropriate. Just think how many families will have to remember it as a memorial day for some relative who was rushing somewhere to get in that final fling before school really gets under way.

The only trouble with this Mile-before-breakfast Trotting Club is that two of the three trotters seldom ever show. It is hard to make one's self do that fourth lap, when there is no one there to go along.

The Rev. Kermit Gibbons, district superintendent of the San Angelo District of the Methodist Church, and Jack Kerbow, chairman of the official board, First Methodist Church, have called for a Church Conference, following a brief session of the Quarterly Conference, Sunday evening, Sept. 11, for the purpose of deciding which plan of building or remodeling the church will follow. At a church conference every member of the church eight years of age or older is privileged to vote. The Discipline requires ten-day's notice, and notice is hereby given.

The Methodists will dedicate and put into use 200 new Methodist Hymnals at the Sunday morning worship service. Over half of these have been dedicated as memorials or in honor of living persons. Others will doubtless be so designated, now that they are in use.

How many fans have been going to football games all their days and have never bothered to learn what the officials' signals mean? The two signals that most fans do recognize are the ones for 'offsides' (hands on hips and both elbows extended) and for touchdown or field goal (both arms extended up-right over the head).

Three other commonly used signals which you may not recognize are (1) unsportsmanlike conduct—both arms extended full length at shoulder height parallel to the ground; (2) illegal use of the hands—right hand grasping left wrist; and (3) delaying the game—arms crossed over the chest.

Perhaps you will enjoy the game more and get the word more quickly if you recognize a few of the signals given by the officials.

Here's wishing the coaches and the Bronco players a very successful season. It is no particular advantage to have pre-season billing as the top team in the district. It means you will be the team to beat in every game you play. Good coaches can turn this psychological disadvantage into a real challenge. It means there can be no let-downs all season if it is to be successful.

A rather unusual development—Jim Barnett, the handsome young man who has come to work on the staff of this newspaper is unmarried.

Robert Pfluger was back in town Monday. Said the thieves who came to his father's home near Eden, took the money and jewelry they could lay hands on and left his parents tied up, were very courteous and spoke good English, but they were deadly in earnest. They made a mistake, however, entered the wrong house.

Glad to see some work being done on the river bed of the Devil's River. It may be a dry river, but it could be transformed from an eyesore to a place of comparative beauty. Let us get behind the project and change a liability into an asset.

We have a new barber in Sonora, his name is Lewis Stockton. His wife was Mrs. Ray Baker and lived in Sonora many years. Welcome home!

A little cultivated land on a ranch surely pays off a year like this one, even in Sutton County. Ben Cusenbary has harvested a hay crop, has grazed one field and saved his pasture for winter, and has one field with lots of good feed still on it.

He has some of the prettiest range cattle we have seen. His "wild" turkeys are so tame they graze in his back yard and do not panic when he steps out the back door.

You will not find many houses anywhere around that have been built as long as Ben's house has that are in as good repair or look as modern.

Teachers were busily engaged the past few days trying to make their home rooms as attractive as possible. There's more to teaching school than meets the average layman's eye. Ralph Finklea, primary principal, said, "I think I have the best faculty I have ever had in Sonora."

Congratulations to the Scouts who received tangible evidence at Tuesday's Lion Club meeting of their dedication to the program of Scouting. Next to the Eagle award, we think the nicest award Scouting gives is given through the churches—the God and Country Award.

One of the things we regretted leaving behind when we came here was a class of five boys who were about half way on their program to earn this distinction. Are there any candidates in the local troop?

The business men of Sonora can look for an invitation to meet with representatives of the El Dorado Woolen Mills Tuesday, Sept. 6 at 3 p.m. to acquaint the Sonora business community with the plans for establishing a garment factory for the woolen mills here in Sonora.

Snips, Quips, and Lifts

by Lottie Lee Baker
Forty-three years ago today—
Lottie Lee and Hubert were wed—
"Let's try life together"—
Hubert to Lottie Lee said.

So the years have passed by swiftly—
Their skies haven't always been blue—
But it's easier to take the sunshine with rain—
Especially when there are two.

—Most people like hard work—especially when they are paying to have it done.
—When you sing your own praise, you always get the tune too high.
—Family jars do not preserve happiness.
—Some men are like blisters—they never show up until the work is done.

—It is next to impossible to sling mud with clean hands.
—Too many folks go through life running from something that isn't after them.
—Some folks appear busy—but all they're doing is picking up the beans they spilled.

—What you hear does not seem half as important as what you overhear.
—There is often as much independence in not being led, as not being driven.
—The person who always looks down his nose gets the wrong slant.

God's Armor

"Put on the whole armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the wishes of the devil."
—Ephesians 6:11

The armor of God is faith and through faith we are constant and of straight purpose. Temptation surrounds us. It is not always easy to recognize. It is often in the form of a promise. It may present an idea or an opportunity that speaks of great personal gain, with "none the wiser." There is great strength in the love of God. It is not a strength of caution, but a strength of awareness. God's way is the right way; faith in this simple concept is strength to meet any need.

Coopers Honored At Albuquerque Coffee, August 23

Mrs. Patrick Henry Cooper and Miss Betty Jack Cooper were the honorees of a coffee given by Mrs. James Leon Thompson and her daughter, Miss Sandra Lee Thompson in Albuquerque, N.M., August 22.

About 75 friends of the two families were present. Wedding gifts were displayed in the Thompson home.

Mrs. Edith Phillips of San Antonio, aunt of Miss Cooper, was present for the coffee.

Church Luncheon Scheduled Sept. 11

The September parish luncheon at St. John's Episcopal Church has been rescheduled for September 11.

September 11 is also the scheduled date for the fall session of church school to begin. Classes for youngsters four years-old through junior high school age will meet at 10 a.m. Sunday.

Sunday worship services will continue to be held at 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. each Sunday.

Site For Thompson-Cooper Wedding Dinner Is Albuquerque's Sun Room

The Sun Room of the Albuquerque Municipal airport was the scene of the wedding rehearsal dinner given for Miss Sandra Lee Thompson and Patrick Cooper by Mrs. Patrick H. Cooper and Miss Betty Jack Cooper.

Members of the wedding party present at the dinner included Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Brewster of San Angelo, Dr. Wilfred Sawyer of Albuquerque, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. James Leon Thompson, the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Mollands, grandparents of the bride, Mrs. C. T. Jones, grandmother of the bridegroom and Mrs. Cleve Jones Jr.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Milford Powers, Rick Powers, Mrs. Duke Wilson and Mrs. Jerry Don Balch.

The head table was decorated with a large lace umbrella used as a center piece. Cooper and Miss Thompson's places were marked by bride and bridegroom Barb dolls. Other parts of the table were adorned with wrought iron candle holders and yellow roses held in large black urns. Green trim with bronze and gold mums were used in the center of the table. Place cards were small, bridal books with the name of the bride and bridegroom and the wedding date printed inside.

Boneless gourmet breast of chicken Parisienne was the main dish.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By the Rev. Arno Melz

Pastor, Hope Lutheran Church
"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it." Proverbs 22:6

This week our thoughts turn to education as our children return to school rooms after a summer's vacation. For some children it is a new experience as they go to school for the first time. Many high school graduates are looking forward to college life with eager expectation mixed with a little fear. Education is a big part of our life and the life of a community. During the next nine months our activities will be centered around school activities.

School is an important part of a child's education, but it is only one of three places a child receives a basic education. The remaining two are the home and the church. While all are important, we must admit that the home and church are the more vital because here the child is taught spiritual as well as secular. The secular trains for a lifetime, the spiritual for eternity. Have you been giving your child training in all three places? Most people make a real effort to have their children in school every day, knowing that absences hinders the child's education. Do you try to have your child in Sunday school every Sunday? If not, can you give a good reason why not. Some day you will be required to stand before the Judgment Throne and give an answer.

How do you rate at home in your spiritual education? Many homes have dictionaries and reference books to help the child with their secular education. Do you have a Bible and some aids to help the child with his spiritual education? Our text tells us why the spiritual education is even more important than the secular, you are training your child in the way he will travel through life. Train them right and they will continue in this way the rest of their life. Teach them about Jesus and you will lead them to peace and happiness they can receive no where else. If you have failed this test, make a change this Sunday. Go to church and Sunday school with your child. Amen!

Thompson-Cooper Guests Honored By Savages in N. M.

Out of town guests for the Thompson-Cooper wedding in Albuquerque were entertained with a luncheon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Savage, August 24.

The guest list included Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Brewster of San Angelo, Mrs. Cleve Jones Sr., Mrs. Cleve Jones Jr., Mrs. Duke Wilson, Mrs. Jerry Don Balch of Lubbock, Mrs. Mickey Powers, Mrs. Edith Phillips of San Antonio, Mrs. Patrick H. Cooper, Miss Betty Jack Cooper and the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. James Leon Thompson.

Teachers Honored At Back-To-School Barbeque Supper

Members of the school board and teachers in the Sonora school system were honored with a back-to-school barbeque supper at the home of Mrs. E. D. Shurley, Tuesday. About 75 guests were present for the event.

The only hat left after the noon meeting of the Downtown Lions Club was not the hat Dr. W. T. Hardy said that he wore to the club. He will be happy to exchange with the person who also ended up with the wrong hat.

The Ralph Finkleas returned recently from a fishing trip to Port Mansfield. There they met with the Harold Odums, the Sam Hesses, and the Hudson Russells.

Miss Brenda Browne, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles F. Browne, is attending the Radford School for Girls in El Paso. She will be a sophomore in high school there.
