Every time an election comes around, someone always gets on their "high horse" about the responsibility of the citizen to get out and vote.

It seems that the approach should be totally unnecessary when there is so much at stake. When many of the proposed amendments effect us locally it should be to each qualified voters interest to take part.

The people and issues up for election are essentially YOUR people and your issues in that the choice is yours to make.

People always amaze me. Sunday night at the Parish dinner of St. John's Church the two guest speakers did just that.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Timberlake of Victoria spoke to the parish members on what their religion meant to them personally. When I heard the proposed topic, I fully expected the same old terminology used for this sort of speech; the "Dutch uncle" bit all of us have heard at one time or another. It was quite different this time, however, with both expressing a sincerity that was unusual in my experiences.

Both said the realization of their faith came from their misguided doing of "good deeds", not for their faith, but for themselves. Their ideas and ideals provided some good food for thought.

Ranch Garage Burns Seven Saddles Lost

A garage on the Bill Stewart ranch was destroyed by fire Wednesday, October 19.

The structure was used for storage purposes and according to Mrs. Bill Stewart, seven saddles and some antique furniture were lost.

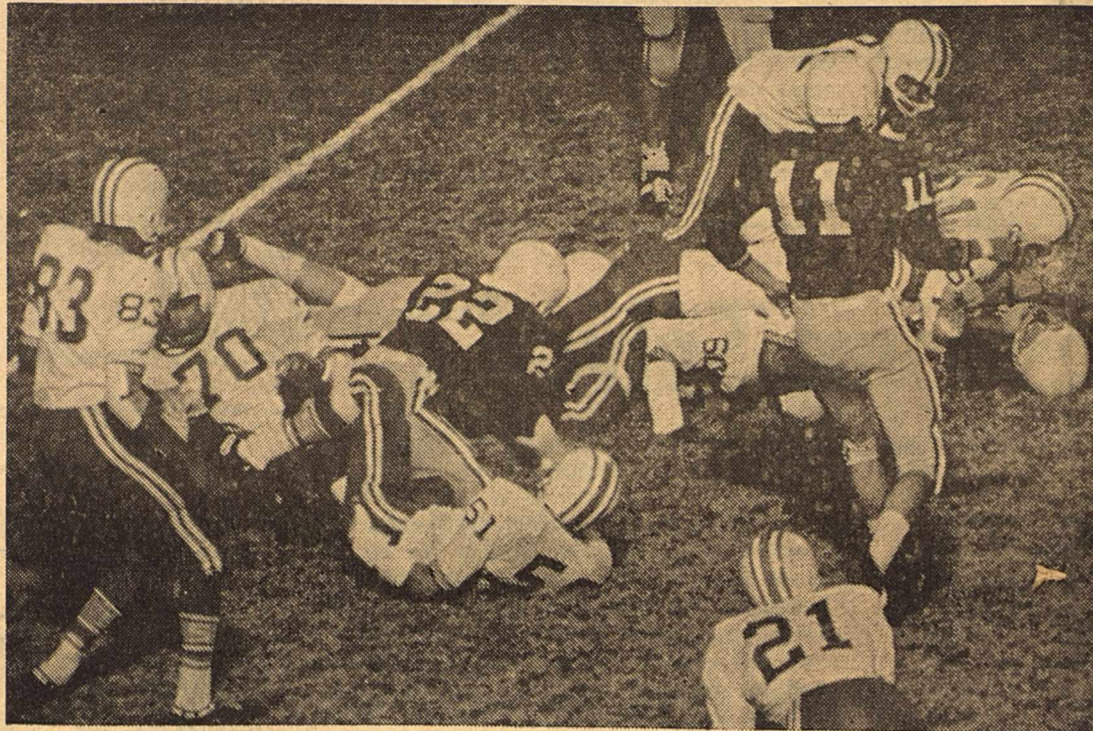

The fire-damaged building was not discovered until the next day. Mrs. Stewart said she suspected the fire had been started by a gas hot water heater housed in the garage.

Historical Marker Planned for Road At Old Fort Terrett

Official Texas Historical markers for the Military Road connecting Fort Terrett and San Antonio, the first Junction Postoffice, and the first Kimble County Saw Mill will be dedicated at services in the Kimble County Courtroom on Sunday afternoon, October 30, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Joe Felps, chairman of Kimble County Historical Survey Committee, will be mistress-of-ceremonies.

A history of the Fort Terrett to San Antonio Military Road will be reviewed by Mrs. Virginia Taylor of Austin, translator of Spanish documents in the General Land Office. The old military route was a supply line from U.S. Army Headquarters in San Antonio to Fort Terrett, 1852-54. In the 1850's, two-thirds of Texas was held by Comanches or threatened by raids. Posts such as Fort Terrett stood from the Red River to the Rio Grande for protection. The Fort Terrett road paralleled Johnson (Elm) Fork of the Llano, and crossed the Main Llano near Junction. The Army closed Fort Terrett in 1854, but settlers used the route as their main road to San Antonio. It appeared on Kimble County maps until 1930. Parts of the road are still visible. The marker will be erected near Segovia.

The public is invited to attend the dedication of markers for the three recorded Texas historic landmarks.

BRONCO DEFENSIVE TEAM of Nino Perez, Monte Dillard, Bert Bloodworth, Alex Castro, Wade Stokes, Ernest Barrera and Brent Johnson swarm in on Eldorado quarterback, D. Halbert before he can release the ball.

Broncos Whip Eagles 25-0 In Action-Packed Rivalry

In a wild scoring second quarter the Sonora Broncos beat the Eldorado Eagles 25-0, here, October 21. After a scoreless first quarter, the first Bronco tally came after a 90-yard drive in the first 30 seconds of play of the second quarter. Halfback Ed Lee Renfro punched the ball over from the one-yard line. The two-point conversion attempt failed.

Shortly after the first score, quarterback J. V. Cook connected with a long aerial to Ed Lee Renfro for the second Bronco score of the second quarter. The play covered 60 yards. Again the two-point attempt failed. When the Eldorado offense bogged down late in the second quarter, the Broncos took over and moved for another score with one minute left in the half. The scoring drive covered 70 yards with fullback Mike Gosney pushing over from the two-yard line. The third point after touchdown again failed. After the half, both teams tightened up their defenses and another Bronco score wasn't made until well into the third quarter.

back David Wuest kicked the extra point to give the Broncos a final score of 25-0 over the Eagles. Potential All-State Quarterback Laney Cook was sidelined early in the game after being shaken-up on a play.

Department of Commerce Releases Data On Sutton County Farms and Ranches

A total of 144 farms was counted in Sutton County during the 1964 Census of Agriculture, the U.S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census reports.

In the last previous Census of Agriculture (1959), the total counted in the county was 135 farms. The term "farm" applies to both farms and ranches.

The 1964 total is published in a preliminary report on the county just issued. The report also shows that average farm size in the county was 8,587.2 acres and that the average value of the county's farms (land and buildings) in 1964 was $375,234.

Other important county statistics in the report are:

1. Value of all farm products sold by farms in the county in 1964, $4,416,341; in 1959, $4,562,124.
2. Value of all crops sold by county farms in 1964, $29,254; in 1959, $27,609.
3. Value of all livestock and livestock products sold by county farms in 1964, $4,265,510; in 1959, $4,534,515.

Information obtained for the first time in an agricultural census included the amount of income received by the county's farmers ($121,577) from recreational services as well as data on the use of pest control chemicals in the county in 1964.

A Census of Agriculture is taken every 5 years in years ending in "4" and "9" to gather information on the nation's agriculture resources and production. The data are needed to make decisions affecting many segments of the U.S. economy. The 1964 farm census was the 18th in a series that began in 1940.

The preliminary report for the county contains more than 500 facts about agriculture in the county. Among additional facts it contains are the number of farms by size, type, and economic class; the num-

Mrs. Alvis Johnson Named Top Worker In Cancer Society

Mrs. Alvis Johnson, president of the Sutton County Unit of the American Cancer Society, was recognized as one of the top volunteer workers in the ACS at their state convention this month.

She was one of 20 workers out of 15,000 that were honored, according to the Rev. Arno Melz, Sutton County delegate to the convention.

Dr. Charles F. Browne was named to the Board of Directors of the State Medical Board while at the meeting.

During their regular meeting the local unit made plans for increased cancer education within the county. The Rev. Melz expressed a desire to get one of the new traveling mobile education units to visit in Sonora. The mobile units provide a place for showing slides and other types of visual aids within a community as a part of the society's education plan.

Put Sonora On Someone's Map

Sunday will be a big day in Sonora...not necessarily a big day for Sonora...but a big day in someone's life because of Sonora.

Sunday is CROP day. The youth of the city will be calling on the citizens of the city for their contributions to this cause. The Halloween "treats" they collect will go to the needy people abroad.

Because of CROP and you, deprived children will be provided with milk and foods. Because of CROP and you, disaster victims will be given emergency aid. And because of you and CROP, self-help materials and food-for-wages will go into development reconstruction and rehabilitation programs throughout the world.

The community CROP appeal is sponsored by Ministerial Associations, councils of churches and similar organizations throughout the country. Locally it is sponsored by the Sonora Ministerial Alliance, of which the Rev. Arno Melz has been appointed chairman.

When the youngsters with the orange and yellow CROP tags come to your door on Sunday, you can do your part to make it a big day in someone's life by giving generously to put a small part of Sonora on someone's map.

DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ:

T. V. Problems Solved

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River apparently has had his television set repaired, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
I knew it would be mastered sooner or later, and can now report that television, according to an advertisement I read in a newspaper last night between westerns, has come of age.

As I understand it, one of the problems of television has been that people go to sleep while watching it and the set keeps on working. If you're watching it from a bed or couch, you might sleep all night with the set still going. If you're in a chair and doze off, you might get waked up when Thrush sets off an explosion to destroy North America. Just because a program is dull is no sign it's quiet.

According to this advertisement, however, the problem has now been licked. A company has come out with a set that automatically turns itself off.

I don't have the details, but I presume you look over the night's television programs, figure you can stay awake through the first two or three, but estimate along about half way through the fourth you're likely to doze off. So you set the automatic switch, and can go to sleep anytime, even through the first or second, still knowing the set will blink off by itself. This is one of the greatest strides I guess television has made.

Incidentally, I have long wondered why the television rating firms, instead of putting a gadget on selected people's sets to record when they're turned on, don't put the gadget on the people themselves to record when they're awake. Unless they're both going at the same time, the test is unreliable.

None the less, I am pleased to know that television has whipped one of its major problems.

Newspapers and books, of course, did it hundreds of years ago. Ever since they were invented, you could go to sleep reading a newspaper or a book without worrying about turning anything off. It's good to know you can now safely televise yourself to sleep.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE REV. ROSS WELCH makes an early contribution to the local CROP collection. Collectors are Jane Sawyer and Linda McBride. Sonora youths will start the regular collection Sunday, October 30.

Sonora Churches Plan CROP Program

Governor John Connally has designated Texas Crop Week as the week of October 24 to 31.

Texas young people of various church organizations working together in their communities will be among thousands of CROP workers during the Crop Week as they call from door to door in their communities seeking "treats" for needy people abroad.

CROP is the Community Food Appeal of Church World Service and collects food, fibre and cash in communities throughout the United States for the world relief programs of the churches. It has become as much a symbol of Halloween to the young people of Texas as the traditional "trick or treats", black cats, pumpkins, and the rest.

The youth will join other CROP workers in the state who are seeking contributions of grain, cotton, rice, livestock and cash for the overseas material aid programs.

CROP is able to provide emergency supplies for disaster victims, milk and foods for deprived children in school feeding programs, self-help materials and food-for-wages in development reconstruction and rehabilitation projects with the contributions received in the community appeals throughout the United States.

The local community CROP appeals are sponsored by the Sonora Ministerial Association, by the Youth Council, and by the local CROP committee formed by the churches.

The youth who will be seeking to help needy people abroad through CROP during Texas Crop Week will be identified by an orange or yellow tag identifying CROP and Church World Service. They will call on Sunday afternoon, October 30.

GREEN NEWS

There was lots happening around the old golf course Sunday afternoon. Things were kind of slow getting started but we finally rounded up enough golfers to have six teams in a mixed foursome.

The winning team was Bobbie Fawcett, Ed Grobe and Gene Bishop. They came in with two under.

There was a tie for second place. Pauline Thompson, Ann Hill, John Bell and Louis Davis had to play Peggy Trainer, Lee Patrick, and Pete Thompson for the honor.

The hero of this story was Louis Davis and his golden putting ball. He came through at the crucial moment to win second place for his team.

the worst score of the day.

GN
Some of our men golfers went to Del Rio over the weekend to play a little golf.

George Johnson and Mickey Powers went as partners and Tommie Thorp went down to play with Raymond Morgan. They must have had a real good time but I didn't see them wagging any trophies home.

GN
I know there's probably a lot of people that are getting sick of seeing Sammie Espy's name in here every week but she and Bobbie Fawcett won the ladies day play last Wednesday.

GN
If we could get some more of you gals out to play at one o'clock on Wednesdays we might pick up some different winners.

GN
After the tournament Sunday, a bunch of the men got up a pitch and putt contest. That went on so long without a winner turning up that they finally conceded to Jackie Sharp for pitching up the closest to the cup.

GN
It was so dark by that time I don't know how they could tell who had even hit the green.

GN
Eight or nine teams got together Sunday night for a putting contest. Jimmy Powers and Ann Hill won first round and Peggy Trainer and Whiskey Hill won the second round.

GN
There should have been an award presented to Lin Hicks and Jimmy Harris for being the most enthusiastic team.

GN
Ed Grobe was heard moaning and groaning all over the golf course Sunday because he had the play in the mixed foursome. And after it was all over, his comment was "Sure am glad ya'll decided to have this." (He won a bunch of new golf balls.)

Conference Planned On Cattle Feeding

Space age developments which are rocketing the Southwest into the leading fed beef production center in the world will be featured at the sixth annual Southwestern Cattle Feeding Conference in Lubbock, Texas, Dec. 6.

High on the list of subjects which progressive feeders are talking about these days is steam flaking of grain, and this topic will be covered in detail by Dr. William H. Hale of the University of Arizona, recognized as one of the leading authorities in the nation. He will also discuss other factors having significant impact in cattle feeding circles in his address, "New Methods in Grain Processing."

Lloyd Bergsma, director of the division, said headquarters for the conference will be the KoKo Inn Motor Hotel. Information in regard to the 1966 conference can be obtained by writing the TSCRA Cattle Feeders Division, 410 East Weatherford St., Fort Worth, Texas.

WAGGONER CARR, Conservative Democrat and ally of Gov. Connally, has been attorney general of Texas since 1962 and this year received the highest of honors: He was named the nation's outstanding attorney general. Two years ago he received the highest vote ever accorded a candidate in Texas for that office.

Previously he served with distinction for a decade in the Texas House of Representatives where he showed legislative skills and parliamentary fairness that should be invaluable if he goes to the United States Senate. He was twice elected speaker of the House, an honor given to only two others in Texas history.

Carr has shown courage and vigor, as attorney general, in defending the rights and sovereignty of his state in the face of unjustified federal encroachment. He did not knuckle under when the Justice Department in Washington tried to dictate election procedures in Texas, and his pledge is to put the rights of the states and of a representative democracy first if he goes to Senate.

Aside from personalities, there are important considerations in this race of interest to Texans who want to preserve the conservative but progressive political structure in this state.

As a conservative Democrat, Carr is a vital part of the conservative, middle-of-the-road coalition headed by Gov. Connally. His election would strengthen that structure. It would also weaken the threat of dominance in Texas by the Yarborough liberals.

As the only Democratic Senator in Washington from a predominantly Democratic state, Yarborough enjoys tremendous power in patronage and other matters. Election of Carr would reduce Yarborough's power- and at the same time help to preserve the structure in Texas which so far has resisted control by radical minorities, labor bosses and doctrinaire liberals.

(Excerpts from a nonpartisan editorial in the Sunday, October 23, Dallas Morning News which reviewed both candidates' qualifications, saying that Texans were fortunate to have a choice between two men of proved integrity who have legislative experience, a devotion to public service, and a knowledgeable approach to the complicated issues of statecraft.)

Milk Has Effect On Weaning Weight

Agricultural researchers at Texas A&M University say their findings show that the amount of milk produced by a beef cow has the single most important effect on the weaning weight of the calf. J. K. Riggs, Department of Animal Science at A&M, says research has shown that milk yields is significantly affected by breeds or cross of cow, age of cow, and sex of the calf nursing the cow. Mature cows produce the most milk and wean the heaviest calves. First-calf heifers produce the least milk and wean the lightest calves and cows with bull calves produce more milk than those with heifer calves.

Five new screwworm cases were detected in Sutton County during the past week with one each on the Bryan Hunt, Stella Keene, Bobby Martin, Annella Stites and Robert Halbert ranches.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Too Many Facts

Sculpture is an abstraction. The figure takes shape as the artist, wielding his chisel, cuts away from the original block all that is surplus.

Something similar happens in a trial. The issues take shape as the judge, wielding the rules of evidence, seeks to cut away whatever is surplus—facts that are not "relevant" to the case. The purpose is to remove those facts that are not important, the better to see those facts that are.

Which facts are relevant? Basically it's a matter of common sense, applied to the circumstances of the individual case. Thus, in a murder trial, the fact that the defendant owned a gun might well be relevant—but not if the slaying was done with a dagger. For then, ownership of the gun would have no logical connection with the murder.

Even if there is a connection, a fact may be held irrelevant if the connection is too slight. Consider these examples:

In an assault case, the court ruled out evidence that the defendant was found drunk—a considerable time after the crime had been committed.

In a theft case, the court ruled out evidence that the defendant often used profanity.

In an abduction case, the court ruled out evidence that the defendant knew a man who had a police record.

Each of these rejected facts might have been interesting enough as a conversational tidbit. But none of them shed much light on the issues before the court. Worse, they could easily have had a prejudicial effect on the minds of the jurors.

To the person on the witness stand, it is often frustrating to be hemmed in by rules of evidence. His instinct may be to tell his story, wide-open style just as he would at the dinner table.

But, besides the danger of prejudicing the jury, there is the practical necessity of curbing people who can't seem to stick to the point. Too many witnesses resemble the fellow of whom Abraham Lincoln once said:

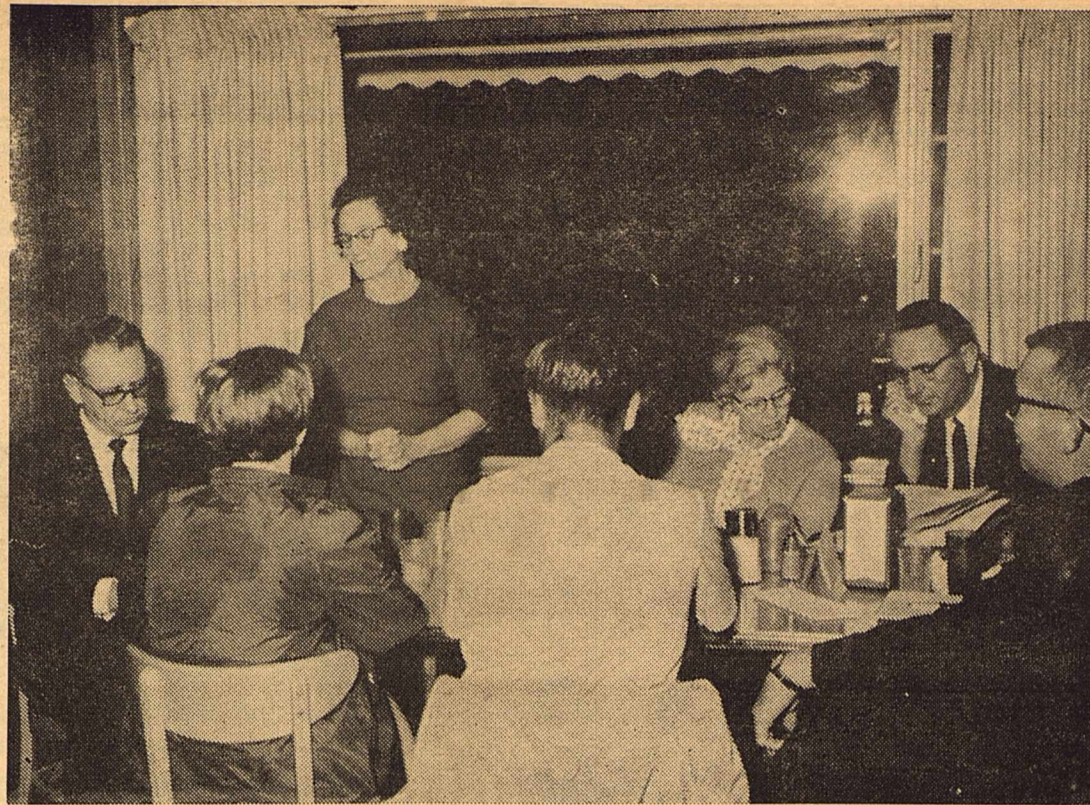

"He can compress the most words into the smallest ideas of any man I ever met."

Frost Killed Plants State Seeking New Warden Trainees Cause Cattle Death

Frost and freezing weather will soon be widespread and with the change in weather plant growth is affected. When the growth of all members of the Sorghum family, including Johnson grass, sudan, milo, forage sorghums and all hybrids, is stopped by frost, they sometimes develop a high prussic acid content and a hazard to grazing livestock.

Certain chemical changes occur in the frost-wilted plants, and are responsible for the prussic acid development, explains County Agent D. C. Langford. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a very short time after the damaged plant is eaten. Whether a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how soon a veterinarian can get to it, says the county agent.

Additional information is available from veterinarians and county agents on questions relating to the grazing or harvesting and storing of frost wilted plants.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is accepting applications for prospective State Game Warden trainees leading up to competitive examinations at eight key state cities in November.

Successful candidates receive $397.00 a month while studying and $453.00 per month after six months on-the-job training. They are requested to contact the nearest Parks and Wildlife Field Office or write to the Personnel Office, Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin, Texas. Completed applications must be received by the Department's Personnel Office, no later than November 4, 1966.

Applications meeting the initial requirements, such as high school graduate, within the 21 to 40 age bracket plus physical requirements, will be assigned to take written examinations at eight locations.

Applicants qualifying under a rigid selection process involving personal interviews, background and character checks, will be given an extensive training course, including one semester at Texas A&M University.

Sonora Newspaper
Sonora, Texas

Dear Sirs:

We were in your lovely and most friendly town on the 5th or 6th of Oct. We were very impressed with the friendliness we saw there, in fact, so much so that my husband stopped for gas. When he was finished, thinking I was in the back in the Campster, he drove away and left me and my two dogs.

I happened to still be in my sweat shirt and pants, where I'd been faking my daily double that morning.

My husband thought it was very funny, but I failed to see the joke in it.

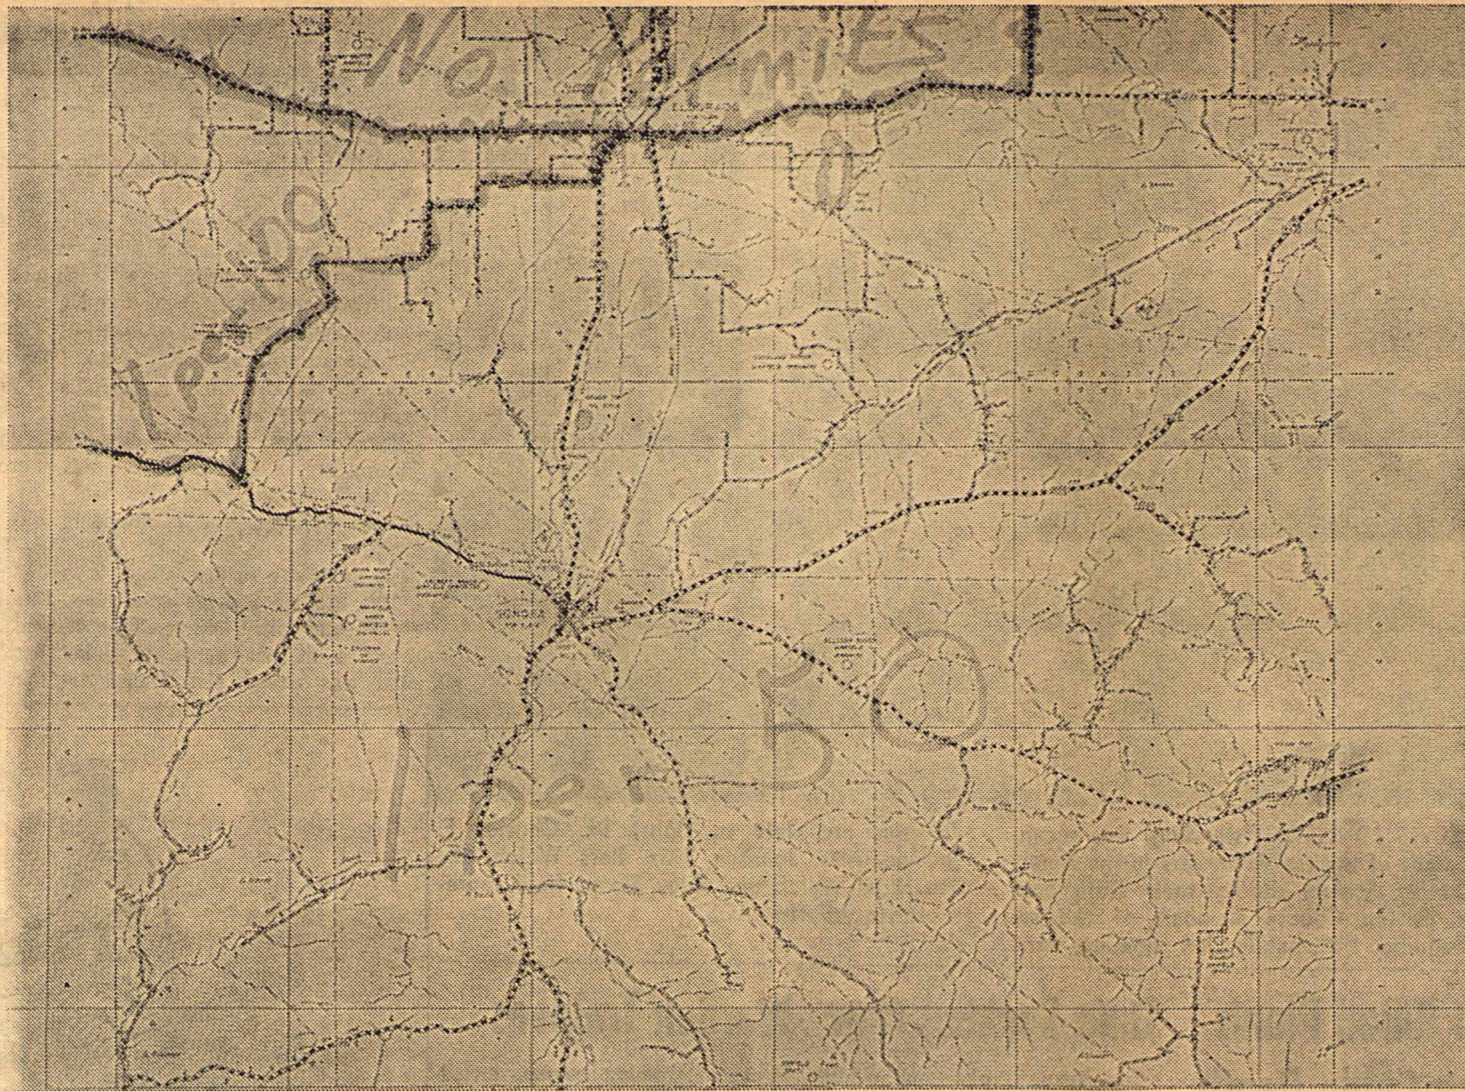

Some friends of ours stayed in Sonora the night after we did. They saw an item in the paper about this, but not knowing it was us, they did not keep it. I presume it was the Sonora paper. If so and you still have a copy of it, would you please send me one.

I would like to frame it and hang it in my husband's den, where he has been since then.

I would like to express our sincere thanks to the service station attendant, to "Trix", also to the sheriffs of Sonora and Ozona. They were all very nice and helpful.

Sincerely Yours,
Mrs. James E. Flynn

Does anybody know what's to be done about this inflation?

A Senator can help, if he wants to. And, we have one who does. John Tower.

You can blame fiscal foolishness for our record high cost of living. John Tower does, and he's not alone. He and other Senators have voted for federal spending cuts this year that have saved Texans, and taxpayers everywhere, more than $5 billion. Non-defense items they felt we could do without... if it would help slow the spiral. It may have.

Essential spending is another matter. As a member of two major committees concerned with defense and the economy, John Tower worked to add $1 billion in priority items important to Texans. Like soil and water conservation, school lunch and milk programs, farm and ranch disaster relief, land-grants for colleges—to name a few. He and others felt that $900 million more were needed this year to help educate returning Vietnam veterans, to boost the Nike-X anti-missile project, to build more Navy ships, to provide for military medical care. He voted for these and other essentials.

If you're keeping score, and some people do, Senator John Tower has helped trim $5 billion in fat... add back meat amounting to $2 billion... for a net saving of $3 billion in tax dollars. That sure could help a deficit budget.

Who said a Texas Republican couldn't be effective in Washington!

Re-elect Senator John Tower—he's doing a good job for Texas

A Parson's Eye View of Sonora

By Rev. Ross T. Welch
The editor says, "New deadline—copy has to be in on Monday. After a busy Sunday and before breakfast is ready, a principal calls and says, 'We need you at school this morning.' That surely cuts down on your meditation time—and a good column needs some meditation."
Romance does not have to die with advancing age, but it certainly gets more dangerous. The other night we started out to our Chevy thought my wife looked especially nice that evening; so I told her so and kissed her on the cheek—just a nice husbandly kiss. We had not walked ten feet until she fell flat on her face, and almost frightened the daylight out of me.
Guess after you reach a certain age, love is like Brylcreem—"A little dab will do ya'."

Say, that 4-H Banquet was very nice. We did not know there were so many awards. And just about everybody we knew was there. We were favorably impressed with the way Mark Jacoby, master of ceremonies carried out his assignment. If 4-H did nothing but train a few individuals to conduct a meeting as he did, it would be well worth while. And, of course, that is only one of the fringe benefits.
Sutton County has a right to be proud of its youth. We know of no community of this size anywhere where as many of the young people would like to come back to their home county to make a living. Of course, there will not be room for all of them. The rural population is declining rapidly. Everyone has to go to the big city to make a living. Too bad making money is not all there is to making a living.
As County Agent D. C. Langford pointed out, one of the secrets of having a successful 4-H program is to enlist the services of the right laymen to assist with the program. (That is true in church work also). This county is fortunate to have capable, college-trained laymen who are dedicated to the task of training the youth and who are willing to give time and support to this program. This is not to discredit but to compliment Clinton's ability and his work.
This is a county where the girls take a leading role in 4-H work also. The history-making all girls' grass judging team is a group to be proud of.

It was a handy thing that Debbie Galbreath had her family along to help her carry the trophies home. That beautiful new trophy case was a beautiful sight. And one could not glance at that thrilling array of trophies without realizing that some boy or girl in this county had taken a long stride on the path to excellence to be able to be represented there, in every instance.
Alvis Johnson does not talk a great deal, but this was his week to be mighty proud. Early in the week at the Sonora Chapter, American Cancer Society meeting, it was revealed that Mrs. Johnson's picture had been included in publication distributed at the annual state convention, as one of the outstanding workers in the State of Texas for the prevention and cure of cancer.
Then on Saturday night he watched Granddaughter Cecilia as she was presented the coveted jacket awarded to the 4-H Sweetheart.
One last reminder that this is CROP Sunday in Sonora. Jesus told his followers when they failed to minister to the needy in his day, they were failing to minister to him. If He were here today, He would probably be saying the same thing.
I know of no gift that I make where I feel as sure that a good portion of it is going to the very people Jesus described in his parable. One reason I can have this assurance is because I had the privilege of following one such shipment to its destination.
When the young people knock on your door Sunday afternoon and identify themselves as CROP workers, be prepared to give generously.
The united youth program on Sunday evening gives promise of outstanding success. Thirty-two young people attended last Sunday evening and gave the plan their full endorsement.
It is getting close to that 9 o'clock deadline—and the editor says it must be in, so here goes.

Sutton Ranchers Shown Advantages In Combining Ranching and Farming

A tour of irrigated farms in Sutton County, organized by county agent, Clint Langford and assisted by entomologist, Charles Neeb, Range Management Specialist, Charles Taylor and Bobby Ragsdale of the Texas A&M Extension Service was held recently.
The tour concentrated on the irrigated farming operations on the Mayer and Rousselot ranch. Mike Boatright, farm manager for Mayer and Rousselot explained to the group of about 20 local ranchers the types of irrigation and crops being grown in the area and the possibilities that exist in integrating ranching and farming operations.
In one large area, planted in milo maize, good success has been had by irrigation. The maize has been watered three times since it was planted in June. It is now almost ready for harvest. Water comes from a 165-foot deep well producing a yield tested at 1,850 gallons an hour. The first time it was watered the area required about 10 days to completely saturate the soil. The time for the second watering was cut to half of that time and the third watering only required one-third as much time.
Plans for the acreage call for combining when the maize ripens in several weeks. Boatright said, "we might graze lambs on the stubble after combining to get as much mileage from the crop as we possibly can". A member of the tour, Robert Halbert, asked "what would be the result of allowing lambs to graze on the ripe maize without combining?" Boatright said that, "wastage of the head of the maize would be out of proportion in cost to the value derived from grazing in that manner". E. B. Keng, Soil Conservation Service Technician, added that "it would be possible and much less wastage would occur if the maize was planted in rows". Boatright's maize is not planted by rows but by broadcast planting.
Other plots shown to the members of the tour included three types of Bermuda grass grown with irrigation. Boatright pointed out the N. K. 37 variety as the fastest growing and tallest of the three varieties. It was the consensus of the group that cattle prefer the N. K. 37 as far as palatability is concerned, but its production potential was unknown in comparison to the other varieties.
Mayer and Rousselot are also experimenting with two types of alfalfa under irrigation. According to Boatright, results of the new variety had not proved superior to the Sonora type which has been grown for several years by Mayer and Rousselot.

Prayer

"And the prayer of faith will save the sick man, and the Lord will raise him up; and if he has committed sins, he will be forgiven."
—James 5:15

Never underestimate the power of faith and prayer. But do not expect God to perform your own special miracle.
Faith and prayer are the basis of strength and offer reason for hope. Yet there is no prayer to bend God's will. Through faith, there is personal reward in knowing that we have met the challenge of despair and we have not been defeated.

RICHARD NORIEGA
Former Sonoran, SP4 Richard Noriega, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Noriega, has returned to the United States from South Viet Nam after serving a 12-month tour of duty with the U.S. Army.
Noriega moved from Sonora to San Jose, California in 1964 after attending high school here. He is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Santana Noriega.
He is spending a 30-day leave with his parents in San Jose before being reassigned to Fort Knox, Kentucky.

Egg Buying Now Simple Formula
You can figure the price of eggs by dividing 12 by the weight of the size of egg you are considering. On the average, small eggs weigh 18 ounces; medium eggs, 21 ounces; and large eggs, 24 ounces. Another rule is the 7 cent rule. Buy the large size egg if the difference in price is less than 7 cents per dozen. For example, if the large eggs are 63 cents and the medium eggs, 59 cents, buy the larger size because you are getting more egg for your money.

Teen Scene
by Margaret Bundy

Did you ever see as many college kids home as were here this weekend? There were thousands of them Andy Moore, Junior Seydler, Peggy Lynn Grobe, Dick Hardgrave, Anita Bassham, Eddie Sawyer, Bill Glasscock, Larry Bob Moore, Gary McGilvray, Gil Trainer, Mickey Hardegree, Jack Hearn, Joyce Hearn, Bill Chadwick, Bill Elliott, John David Fields, Dick Hearn, Rande Fawcett, Dick McMillan, and Ray Glasscock were all here! Tim Brown was home with a friend, Marshal. Jan Caviness brought her roommate, Tammy. Carl Teaff came home early Sunday with C. A. Miller, a friend of his at Angelo State. Mary Davis brought her fiancée, Coley Howell, to town.
Gary Hardgrave was out of town for the weekend. He spent the weekend with Larry Shroyer hunting.
Jimmy Morris has been driving around in a new car. He seems to like it a lot better than the one he used to have!
Louis Wardlaw is in the hospital in San Angelo. He had an operation on his knee Monday.
Grady Roe was in town this weekend. It sure was fun to see him again.
Did anyone see Jimmy Trainer Sunday afternoon? Was that your real face, Jimmy, or were you celebrating Halloween a little early?
Jimmy Morris is planning to go to Bryan Saturday to watch Texas A&M play football.
The cheerleaders put on a real cute skit Friday. They did "Girl's Idea of a Football Game."
Maxine Daves and Linda McCutchen, as the Eldorado Eagles, used ballet steps for warm-up exercises! Susan Prugel, Nedra Raye, and Prissy Howell were the mighty Broncos! And you should have seen the cheerleaders! Never before have I seen such beautiful, graceful, energetic cheerleaders as Jimmy Trainer, Mike Richardson and Al Elliott!
The 4-H club held their banquet Saturday night. Kaye Ellis and Chris Berger received the Gold-Star Awards. They will go to Kermit on November 5.
Laney Cook has really gone through some experience. He finally remembers who we all are, but you should hear some of the stories about what he did and said before he regained his senses after his football injury!
J. L. Hankins from Rocksprings was in Sonora Friday night. Other out-of-town visitors during the weekend were Jamie Lacey, Kay Harkey, James Height, and Munroe Dacy...all from Eldorado.
See y'all in Menard Friday night.

Cookware Finishes Require Much Care
Nonstick finishes being applied to every type of cookware available have revolutionized cooking today, says Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Texas A&M University home management specialist. She urges the buyer to keep these facts in mind, however: The new nonstick finishes are safe to use, yet require gentle treatment; nonstick finishes are easy to clean, yet it takes hot suds and careful scrubbing to get rid of the grease which accumulates; and discoloration can come from too much heat as well as skimpy cleaning.

Oats Popular Grain For Winter Pasture
Oats are the most popular small grain for winter temporary pastures but have the disadvantage of not being very winter hardy, says M. J. Norris, agronomist at Texas A&M University's Livestock and Forage Research Center at McGregor. He suggests sowing part of the winter pasture to more cold hardy small grains such as wheat, barley or rye or by planting a mixture of oats and wheat or oats and barley or ryegrass to hedge against winter

Good Weed Control Helps Plant Growth
Area Extension Plant Pathologist Robert W. Berry at Lubbock says we can no longer consider moisture and plant food conservation as the only reason for controlling weeds. We must also realize that in many instances good weed control is also a good plant disease control practice.

County Agent Warns Ranchers of Disease Teenagers Require Medical Attention

An outbreak of Encephalomyelitis among horses has become widespread in Texas according to the Texas Veterinary Medical Association. Reports of the viral disease have been made by veterinarians and horse owners alike in east, central and south Texas and in the Texas hill country. According to veterinarians and the TVMA the outbreak is believed to be the worst in many years taking its toll in deaths of from 20 percent to 90 percent of those animals infected and often leaving surviving animals with permanent brain damage. It is feared the disease may spread to all areas of the state.

Encephalomyelitis affecting the horse population in Texas at the present time is the same type of virus that has plagued the human population in Texas this year and in other recent years. Like in the human population, the mosquito is the primary agent that transmits the virus and it is spread to the bird population and then to horses and man.

Symptoms of the disease in the horse consist of lack of co-ordination, paralysis of the throat, loss of spirit and abnormal attitude and behavior. Most horses stand in a peculiar, unnatural stance with the head and neck drooped in a sleepy manner thus the common name of "Blind Stagers" and "Sleeping Sickness" are frequently used to describe the disease. Death occurs in three days to two weeks in animals lost to the virus.

The Texas Veterinary Medical Association warned that the disease is extremely dangerous to the horse population although there is no danger of spreading the disease from the horse to man. The Association urged that horse owners see their veterinarian immediately for advice and vaccination of their animals. Annual immunization of horses and other equine species is recommended in all areas having a history of the disease or a high mosquito population.

Sutton County Agent, D. C. Langford warns that conditions are good in this county for an outbreak of the disease.

Final Performance Of Prison Rodeo Scheduled Oct. 30

The fifth and final performance of the 1966 series of the Texas Prison Rodeo will come to a close here Sunday, Oct. 30 with the presentation of Roy Acuff, the "King of Country Music."

Joining Acuff in the final rodeo series will be Leon Adams, celebrated rodeo showman, whose specialty is riding horses "Roman Style" and doing a unique act with Brahman bulls.

Another crowd-pleaser is Candy Barr, former night club entertainer and ex-inmate. Candy will offer several vocals along with her own style of improvised dancing.

To help round out the fast-moving two-hour show held in the prison stadium, the program includes a host of inmate entertainment groups.

The rodeo begins at 2 p.m., and the pre-rodeo inmate musical show starts at 1 p.m.

The forgotten years in the medical profession might well be the 'teen years, says Mrs. Patsy R. Yates, Extension family life specialist at Texas A&M University.

Pediatricians care for the child until he or she is 10 or 12. Specialists in various diseases or in fields such as gynecology, geriatrics and surgery take over when the person becomes an adult.

Does this mean the teenager doesn't need medical attention? Quite the contrary, says Mrs. Yates.

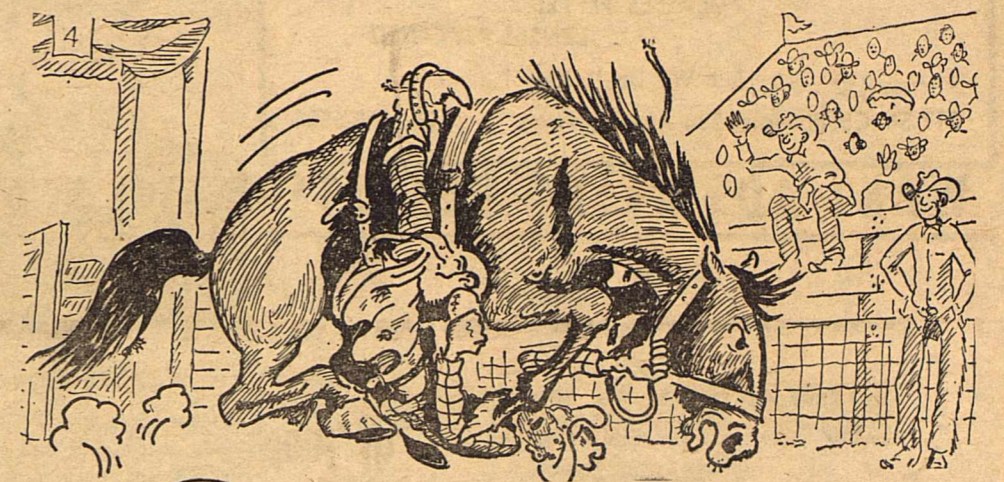

The adolescent period of life is one of rapid growth spurts, both physically and emotionally. The teenager is torn between feelings he had as a child, and those feelings now expected of him as he takes his place in the adult world. It is often a period in which malnutrition causes problems such as anemia, sight difficulties, acne, and emotional depression. These problems often have led to teen suicides, the fourth leading cause of teenage deaths in this country.

It is too easy for parents to pass off irritable, moody behavior or complaints about ill health as a stage or "just a period he's going through." Maybe it is, but a friendly competent family physician is one of the people every teenager should know well. He is often an emotional outlet as he plays his role of teen confidant.

Frequent physical check-ups can reassure both the young person and the parents that all is well. It may also point up the cause of emotional or psychological problems. Good health is vital to a happy, successful adjustment to any stage of life. It could be all important to your youngster.

Promotion Funds Are Appropriated

An appropriation for woven mohair and wool promotion of $17,500.00 was authorized by the Wool Committee of the American Sheep Producers Council. The announcement was made by G. C. Magruder Jr., President of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association on his return from Denver. Magruder is a member of the Wool Committee and a director of the ASPC.

This was unanimously approved by the Board of Directors of the ASPC on Friday, October 14. A request had been made by the Mohair Promotion Council for a joint promotional effort of this type. These funds fully match the $17,500.00 voluntary contribution which is being spent by the Mohair Promotion Council with the Eleanor Kairalla Agency in the woven promotion field. The specific promotion on this endeavor must meet with the approval of the Wool Committee of the ASPC.

This action is a direct result of the efforts of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association as an aid to the Mohair Promotion Council on a national level. Other Texans attending the Wool Committee meeting were TS&GRA 2nd vice-president Worth Durham of Sterling City and Walter Pfluger of Eden, treasurer of the Mohair Promotion Council and past president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association.
