Newspaper folks seem to have taken newspaper publisher, Horace Greeley's words, "Go west young man", as the gospel.

Many of the great newspapers in Southern California and Arizona are the result of eastern reporters and editors taking this advice. One of the famous newspaper men of that time, George Wilkins Kendall, founder of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, came west. But not so far west as the others or to engage in the newspaper business. He came to west central Texas to raise sheep.

Kendall settled in the Fredricksburg area during the 1850's and is regarded as one of the pioneers of the Texas sheep ranching industry.

In a collection of letters written to a ranching friend in Vermont by the newspaperman-turned-sheepman, Kendall related his first visit to his ranch and his encounter with his shepherd.

He wrote that his herder looked like a hermit, armed with twin Colt revolvers, two Bowie knives and a sawed-off double barreled shotgun for protection against Comanches.

Kendall was astonished at the harshness of the land and the determination of people. He had expected quiet, green, pastoral scenes that he was familiar with from his travels to sheep-raising areas in Scotland.

He stayed, though, until ill health forced him to return to the east.

Things probably have not changed much since that time except for the Comanches, the price of wool, and the gospel of "Go west young man".

Bishop Jones to Speak

The Rt. Rev. Everett H. Jones, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of West Texas will preach at St. John's Church Sunday, November 6 at 5 p.m.

Supper will be served in the Parish House following the service. All are welcome to attend both the service and the supper.

THESE HORSES are a few of those to be sold at the first horse sale to be conducted by the Sonora Livestock Exchange. Thirty of the horses were sired by Dixie Poco Bell.

Livestock Company To Have Horse Sale

The Sonora Livestock Exchange will hold its first horse sale Thursday, November 10 at 1 p.m.

To date, some 30 horses have been consigned to the company for the coming sale.

Horses up for sale will include those sired by Dixie Poco Bell, great-grandson of the famous Poco Bueno.

'Spooks' Take Over Sonora For Annual School Carnival

The "spooks and goblins" took over the city Halloween night for their annual Halloween Carnival.

At least twelve different classes, and organizations sponsored activities which were held in downtown Sonora.

Activities ranged from bingo, sponsored by the band members, to a popular sponge throwing contest using some of the faculty members for targets. The elementary school children held a "spook's parade" on Main Street and later a costume contest. The three contest winners were Mike Street, William Carroll and Julie Ann Carroll. Judges for the costume contest were Mrs. Shelley Lowe, Mrs. J. W. Neville and Mrs. Eula Newell.

High point in high school activities was the crowning of the Halloween Carnival Queen by Ted Fish, Student Council president. The senior class nominee, Linda McCutchen was crowned as Queen. She was escorted by

The Queen is chosen by popular vote of the student body after each class nominates their candidate.

Sonora High School Principal, Doyle Morgan, estimated the profit from the carnival to be about $1600. The profit each class or organization makes is used for their own activities.

Garment Line Shown

The spring line of garments manufactured at the garment division of the El Dorado Woolen Mills here was finished in time for showing at a Dallas apparel buyers market.

In all, 18 designs, created by Reg Manning of Ozona, were shown. According to Warren Wallace, superintendent of the factory, over 200 pieces were sold at the market, bringing an estimated $2,000.

He added that all the new garments were shown in the high-fashion section rather than in the sportswear part of the show. "If they could have been shown in the right section, we would have had greater success", he said. He also mentioned that the line had never before been shown and that the reception they had was very good for a new line of clothing.

Wallace praised the Sonora workers for their enthusiasm in preparing the clothing for the showing.

He said, "they even worked during their lunch hour to have the line ready".

Library Club To Sponsor Book Fair

Sonora High School will sponsor a student book fair November 7-11. Students will be able to browse and purchase books from 2:50 p.m. to 4 p.m. in the school library.

The book fair committee invites all students, parents and visitors to attend the fair. The fair will help spark interest in reading and building home libraries in addition to providing contributions to a worthwhile project.

The school will earn 20 percent of all sales and profits will be used for buying necessary reference books and materials for the library.

Sponsor of the fair is the Library Club with Terry Hardgrave serving as chairman of the event. Committee members are Brent Johnson, Linda McCutchen, Jane Sawyer and Jackie Cargill.

Books on display will include classics, fiction, biographies, science and reference books.

Broncos Beat Jackets 48-22 In Season's Wildest Duel

In the Menard amphitheater-like football stadium, the Sonora Broncos racked up their seventh win of the season by a score of 48-22.

The score was not a clear indication of the type of football played. Most fans would possibly rank the game as the most exciting thus far in the season.

The scoring duel started when Bronco defensive back Mike Gosney grabbed a pass intended for a Yellowjacket player on the first play from scrimmage. Gosney carried the interception from the Menard 25-yard line into the end zone for the first score of the game. Sonora quarterback Laney Cook made the extra point for a score of 7-0 in the first 1:25 of the game.

Sonora scored again on a hand-off play from Laney Cook to back Ed Lee Renfro. The play covered 60 yards and Cook's extra point quickly raised the score to 14-0.

The third Bronco score came on a repeat performance of the play that scored the second touchdown. Ed Lee Renfro broke away on the Sonora 42-yard line and carried the ball to the Menard two-yard line before being brought down by a determined defender. On a quarterback sneak Laney Cook pushed the ball over. His extra point try was blocked by the Menard line to make the score 20-0.

On a well-executed draw play, Ed Lee Renfro moved the ball to the Menard 13-yard line following Menard's set of downs after the kickoff. The Broncos went to the air with a quick toss from Laney Cook to Ed Lee Renfro for another score. Laney Cook's kick was deflected by heads-up play on the

On the next set of downs for the Broncos, it appeared they were headed for paydirt again after a 55-yard pass play which brought Sonora to the Menard five-yard line. Menard held the Broncos for three plays and on a fourth down pitch-out Gregory Neel recovered Noe Chavez' fumble.

With this morale builder under their belts the Yellowjackets began a long drive. A perfectly executed screen pass moved the Yellowjackets to the Sonora eight-yard line. Menard's excellent quarterback Jack Kothmann tossed a pass to John Bradford for the first Menard score. Kothmann connected with an aerial to Gregory Neel for two extra points with only 45 seconds left in the first half to bring the score to 26-8.

After play was resumed after the halftime activities, the Broncos got their scoring machine going again. Ernest Barrera intercepted a pass and took it to the Menard four-yard line. Barrera then punched the ball over for the touchdown bringing the score to 32-8. The two-point conversion by Laney Cook was good to raise the Broncos score to 34 points.

Menard got on the scoreboard again with an aerial from Kothmann to Eddie Wallace after the Sonora score. The pass hit Wallace in the end zone from the 10-yard line. Menard had started the drive on their own 30-yard line. The two-point conversion attempt failed to make the score 34-14 in favor of the Broncos.

The Yellowjackets still had some sting left in them and came back rapidly for another score. Kothmann again connected with a pass to Wallace which covered 65 yards and gave the Bronco fans a twinge of fear. The twinge became greater when the Yellowjackets scored another two-point conversion to bring the score 34-22.

After that Menard score, the Broncos settled down to play football and controlled the scoring for the remainder of the game.

The next Bronco score came on an interception by Ernest Barrera which he ran back to the Menard 18 yard-line. On the next play Mike Gosney took the ball over for the score. A two-point aerial from Laney Cook to Noe Chavez was good to make the score 42-22.

Scoring ended with an exchange of short gainers by Gosney and Barrera moving the ball to the Menard one-yard line. Gosney finally punched the ball over for the score. The conversion pass failed and ended the game with a final score of 48-22 in favor of the Sonora Broncos.

Sonora will meet Sanderson in Bronco Stadium, November 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Preparations Being Made For Annual November 8 Pre-Season Hunting Party

Preparations are under way for the annual Edwards Plateau Game and Wildlife Association's pre-season hunting party sponsored by the Sonora Chamber of Commerce and the Downtown Lions Club.

The yearly event is scheduled for November 8 at 6:30 p.m. in the 4-H Center. The featured speaker at the barbeque supper will be Dr. Leo B. Merrill.

Preparations for 300 guests have been made and numerous door prizes will be given.

On the meat soliciting committee are George Brockman, Walter

Pope, Jimmy Harris and George Wallace.

E. B. Keng, Tom Davis, Preston Love, Shelly Lowe, Pete Thompson, T. C. McCutchen, John Mittle, W. J. Thompson, Bob Teaff, Joe Lane, Pat Reardon, G. H. Davis, Corky Schwenning, L. P. Bloodworth, Sam Jones and Lin Hicks will be on the serving committee.

Registration will be handled by Lawrence Finklea assisted by Nina Langford, Helen Johnson, Jodie Finklea and Fran Johnson.

Jimmy Harris, Lions Club president, said the public is invited to the event.

Landowners Issued 77 Deer Permits

Only 77 landowners in Sutton County have drawn their antlerless deer permits for the coming hunting season according to Game Warden Nolan Johnson.

He said that those being picked up were based on the allocation of one permit per 50 acres of land.

Shooting Preserve licenses have been issued to only 80 landowners thus far this season. At this time last year 110 licenses had been issued.

Johnson said that both licenses and antlerless deer permits could still be picked up at the Sonora Chamber of Commerce office.

P-TA Meets Tuesday

The November meeting of the P-TA will be held Tuesday, Nov. 3, at the Central Elementary School cafeteria.

Ralph Finklea and Mrs. Ross Welch will discuss "The Individual Learner Comes First." The fifth grade will furnish music under the direction of Mrs. Charles Brown.

District Make It Yourself With Wool Contest Scheduled Dec. 10 in Ozona

The district Make It Yourself With Wool Contest will be held in Ozona at the Civic Center Auditorium on December 10.

The contest is open to girls and women beginning with age 10. Judging will be based on workmanship, beauty of design, coordination of design and fabric with the individual, and appearance in fashion.

Contestants are urged to use new patterns and new colors, especially unusual bright color combinations. Teen-age fashions are emphasizing sleeves—long, full, puffed, trumpet and tight and fitted. Also, smocking, yokes, pleats and low waistlines are popular.

The prime objective is to display the beauty and versatility of the fabric, according to Mrs. A. E. Prugel.

Mrs. Buster Deaton of Ozona is district director and Mrs. A. E. Prugel is County director.

Questions about the contest should be directed to either of these women.

Sonoran Nominated

Jan McClelland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McClelland has been nominated for the Gaillardians at Southwest Texas State College.

Nomination for the honor is based on high academic record, character, personality and popularity. Nominations are made by the various organizations.

Mr. and Mrs. McClelland will attend a reception, presentation and dance given for the nominees. Six men and women will be chosen at the presentation for the distinct honor.

Voting Places Named

Voting places by precinct have been named by County Clerk, Erma Lee Turner, for the November 8 General Election.

Precinct 1 voters can vote in the Sutton County Courthouse, Precinct 2 voting will be held at the Sonora Wool and Mohair Company, Precinct 3 voters can cast their ballots at Cedar Hill School and Precinct 4 voting will be at the Dantes Reiley Ranch house.

According to Mrs. Turner voting times will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., November 8.

For the convenience of voters confined to wheelchairs, a permanent

Those 16 Amendments

The ballot for the November 8 election is not as complicated as it may first look to the unsuspecting voter who goes to the polls unprepared. Fully one-half of the sheet is devoted to 16 constitutional amendments; the other half offering the voter columns headed Democrat, Republican, Constitution, and Conservative parties, and one headed write-in—for those who are hard to please.

The following brief break down of the 16 constitutional amendments is supplied through the courtesy of Senator Murray Watson. Here's an easy way to familiarize yourself with the amendments. Clip this and save it for study between now and November 8.

Amendment No. 1 — Provides tax assessment of agricultural land and upon factors relative to its use. (H.J.R. No. 79)

Amendment No. 2 — Authorizing creation of airport authorities. (S.J.R. No. 1)

Amendment No. 3 — Withdrawing Arlington State College from participation in Permanent University Fund. (S.J.R. No. 39)

Amendment No. 4 — Increasing terms of office or directors of conservation and reclamation districts. (H.J.R. No. 21)

Amendment No. 5 — Authorizes Legislature to provide for retirement, disability, and death benefits for county employees. S.J.R. No. 4)

Amendment No. 6 — Providing for payment of assistance to survivors of law enforcement officers, firemen, and prison employees. (H.J.S. No. 37)

Amendment No. 7 — Repeals the poll tax and requires annual registration. (H.J.R. No. 13)

Amendment No. 8 — Permits persons to vote for state officers and President and Vice-President without having met present residence requirements. (H.J.R. No. 24)

Amendment No. 9 — Increases number of judges on the Court of Criminals Appeals to five and lengthens the term. (S.J.R. No. 26)

Amendment No. 10 — Provides stability for school taxes or bonds voted regardless of any changes in district boundaries. (H.J.R. No. 65)

Amendment No. 11 — Allows issuance of additional bonds by the Water Development Board and expanding uses of such money. (S.J.R. No. 19)

Amendment No. 12 — Provides for methods of dissolution of hospital districts. (H.J.R. No. 48)

Amendment No. 13 — Authorizes legislature to provide for consolidating the functions of government within large counties. (H.J.R. No. 69)

Amendment No. 14 — Allows members of the armed forces to vote in Texas upon satisfying requirements. (H.J.R. No. 38)

Amendment No. 15 — Authorizes the use of private and federal funds through the state for training the handicapped by private and local agencies. (S.J.R. No. 33)

Amendment No. 16 — Establishing the date on which newly-elected members of the Legislature qualify and take office. (H.J.R. No. 1)

DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ:

Problems Are Solved Like Leaks

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River has found a big stack of newspapers, which may explain a much longer letter this week.

Dear editor:
An unusual thing happened to me a few days ago. I didn't find just one newspaper, I found a whole stack, tied with a piece of string in a ditch alongside a road out here near this bitterweed ranch, but they weren't all recent papers, some of them were several years old.

Just to be doing, I brought them to the house and started reading, and you know what, I have hit on a new theory of how the world solves its problems.

For example, a few years ago the Suez Canal was the big crisis, England threatening to go to war over it, every newspaper headlining the problem every day. Statesmen all over the world were conferring about it and everybody was giving advice.

But I kept reading the old papers and gradually the Suez Canal disappeared from the headlines on the front page, moved over to the inside, and then disappeared altogether.

I followed several other big problems like this, and they all disappeared, but not once was it ever explained how they were solved.

Here's where my new theory comes in. My theory is that the world solves its big problems like the itinerant repairman who fixed a leak in my neighbor's house.

This neighbor had a small leak in the roof over his kitchen, and his wife nearly nagged him to death about it. He tried, but he just couldn't fix it. Every time it rained a little trickle of water came down through the ceiling.

One day this itinerant repairman came by and my neighbor grabbed him. "Can you fix a leaky roof?" he asked.

"Sure I can," the man said. "That's my specialty."

"You guarantee it?"

"Certainly. Show me where it's leaking."

He looked it over, said he'd fix it for $25.

"Go on about your work, I'll go up in the attic and get at it," he said. In an hour he was back down.

"It's fixed," he said.

"Now you guarantee it?" my neighbor asked.

"If water comes down through that kitchen ceiling the next time it rains, I'll refund your money the next trip I'm by here."

Sure enough, a few days later it rained and not a drop of water came through.

"Well, finally," his wife said, and my neighbor sighed and said he was glad that problem was licked.

A week later it rained again, and the water began to trickle through the ceiling into the kitchen.

My neighbor rushed up into the attic to see what had happened.

Under the spot where the water was coming through the roof was a bucket. It had held all the leak from the first rain, but was now full and overflowing.

That, if you ask me, is the way the world solves most of its big problems. Just temporarily, but it's fine while it lasts.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

FAMILY POT LUCK

BY HELEN HALE

Sauce Magic
Horseradish Sauce is one of the easiest to make for it contains only whipped cream into which has been folded horseradish. It's great with beef of any kind, hot or cold, as well as fish.

Canned mushroom soup, thinned with cream, and to which has been added whatever chopped pimiento you have, is excellent for meat loaf or beef.

Those creamy frozen mixed vegetables can be added as a sauce to the menu which includes pork, beef or broiled fish. Colorful, too.

Herb butter is good on chicken or fish. Simple to prepare, just melt butter in saucepan or skillet and add thyme, sage and chopped parsley to it.

For a tomato sauce that goes with anything, use an 8-ounce can of tomato sauce, 2 tablespoons bottled steak sauce, a bit of prepared mustard sauce and some ground cloves for seasoning.

Brown mushroom sauce is easy to make by browning mushrooms with onion in butter, then adding a tablespoon or so of lemon juice and a can of beef gravy to heat through.

Helen's Favorite:
Lamb Loaf
(6 servings)

2 cups soft bread crumbs
2/3 cup milk
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 chopped onion
1 1/2 pounds ground lamb
1 chopped canned pimiento, drained
1/2 cup sweet pickle relish, drained
2 teaspoons salt

Mix all ingredients lightly but thoroughly. Press into a loaf pan 9" x 5" x 3" in size. Bake in a moderate (350° F.) oven an hour. Let stand 10 minutes, then slice to serve.

Marketing Costs Control Beef Price

A steer isn't all steak. When a 1,000 pound steer of high quality is marketed from a feedlot, about 400 pounds will be removed before the retailer buys its carcass explains County Agent D. C. Langford.

Thus the retail outlet receives only about 60 percent of the steer's original weight. By the time the meat is prepared for display, another one-fourth of the carcass weight is accounted for in waste such as bone, fat and trimmings. Much of this waste comes as a result of changing consumer preference for closely trimmed meats and boneless cuts, says Langford.

Sixth Annual Horse Short Course Scheduled November 6-8

Texas A&M University's sixth annual Horse Short Course November 6-8 can boast entertainment features in addition to up-to-the-minute educational subjects. A polo game is set for 3 p.m. the first day. Players are students and former students of Texas A&M and Texas Technological College. Demonstrations of a variety of horse types are scheduled for 7 p.m. the second day in the Animal Science Pavilion. Events are cutting horses, Shetland harness, Arabian classes, polo pointers, jumping, and Appaloosa Trail Horses.

Program chairman B. F. Yeates, Extension Service animal husbandman, said nationally known authorities have been lined up as speakers and panel members for short course subjects.

A short course topic expected to draw much attention is a panel discussion on ethics in the horse business. Areas to be covered are stud manager and mare owner, buyer and seller, owner and insurance company, veterinarian and client, owner and trainer, and exhibitor and judge.

Bob Gray of Houston, publisher of "The Horseman" magazine, is the ethics panel moderator. Panel members are Dusty Rhoades of Odessa, president of the American Quarter Horse Association; Jim Wales of Refugio, secretary, Texas Appaloosa Horse Club; Louis Pearce of Houston, president, Houston Livestock Show; and Lester Goodson of Houston, AQHA past president.

Short course talks start at 9 a.m. Nov. 7 with an address of welcome by A&M President Earl Rudder, followed by Dr. O. D. Butler, A&M Animal Science Department head, discussing the Texas horse industry. Next are Welch and Pumphrey explaining the importance to the breeder of developing outstanding cutting and race horses.

The ethics panel concludes the program that morning.

Afternoon subjects and speakers are "Horse Feeding Investigations at Texas A&M" by Dr. L. H. Breuer, Animal Science Department; "Research on Equine Nutrition," Ed Honnen of Denver, Colo., vice president and chairman of the Research Committee, AQHA; and "Inbreeding and Outbreeding" and "Fundamentals of Reproduction" by Dr. T. C. Cartwright and Dr. A. M. Sorensen, A&M Animal Science Department.

The final afternoon session is a panel discussion on settling mares. The November 8 program deals with immunization for disease prevention, internal and external parasites, infectious anemia, and causes and prevention of lamenesses. Dr. M. R. Calliham of the

A&M College of Veterinary Medicine will preside.

Speakers are Dr. W. M. Romane, Dr. J. P. Smith, Dr. R. W. Moore, Dr. W. C. Banks, Dr. R. S. Titus, Dr. C. L. Boyd, Dr. W. A. Wolff and Dr. R. L. Bullard, all A&M veterinarians.

The short course ends with a question-the-experts session moderated by Butler.

Work

"Whatever your task, work heartily, as serving the Lord and not men" — Colossians 3:23

To some people, work is an ugly word. To some, work implies physical labor... a job that cannot be done without getting your hands dirty, without perspiring, without a blister or two. Within your physical capabilities, never fear honest work. There can be great satisfaction in doing well any task that needs doing. The man who digs a ditch, if he digs it straight and true, can be proud of the job he has done and, especially gratified, if he is secure in the knowledge he returned a full day's work for a full day's pay. Do not concern yourself over things that you cannot do; spend your time doing well the things you can.

Choose A Proven Leader In State Government ... Vote For Democrat Waggoner Carr!

WAGGONER CARR, Conservative Democrat and ally of Gov. Connally, has been attorney general of Texas since 1962 and this year received the highest of honors: He was named the nation's outstanding attorney general. Two years ago he received the highest vote ever accorded a candidate in Texas for that office.

Previously he served with distinction for a decade in the Texas House of Representatives where he showed legislative skills and parliamentary fairness that should be invaluable if he goes to the United States Senate. He was twice elected speaker of the House, an honor given to only two others in Texas history.

Carr has shown courage and vigor, as attorney general, in defending the rights and sovereignty of his state in the face of unjustified federal encroachment. He did not knuckle under when the Justice Department in Washington tried to dictate election procedures in Texas, and his pledge is to put the rights of the states and of a representative democracy first if he goes to Senate.

Aside from personalities, there are important considerations in this race of interest to Texans who want to preserve the conservative but progressive political structure in this state.

As a conservative Democrat, Carr is a vital part of the conservative, middle-of-the-road coalition headed by Gov. Connally. His election would strengthen that structure. It would also weaken the threat of dominance in Texas by the Yarborough liberals.

As the only Democratic Senator in Washington from a predominantly Democratic state, Yarborough enjoys tremendous power in patronage and other matters. Election of Carr would reduce Yarborough's power- and at the same time help to preserve the structure in Texas which so far has resisted control by radical minorities, labor bosses and doctrinaire liberals.

(Excerpts from a nonpartisan editorial in the Sunday, October 23, Dallas Morning News which reviewed both candidates' qualifications, saying that Texans were fortunate to have a choice between two men of proved integrity who have legislative experience, a devotion to public service, and a knowledgeable approach to the complicated issues of statecraft.)

Education Will Be Number 1 Problem In Legislature Session, Says Barnes

Education is the No. 1 problem that will face the next legislature, says Ben Barnes, speaker of the Texas House.

Addressing the 40th annual meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association recently, Barnes said we will spend twice as much on education in 1966 as in 1963.

He emphasized that "we are already experiencing an enrollment problem. By the year 2000, our population will double, from 12 million to 24 million," Barnes predicted.

Enrollment in the 22 state-supported colleges and universities was 200,000 this fall, Barnes said. "But this will double to 400,000 in five years," he added.

The legislature must consider money, planning and construction of buildings—and the problem of finding space for the buildings is becoming more complex all the time," said Barnes.

Another major problem in education, he said, is the high percentage of students who do not complete high school. Only 54 in every 100 students graduate from high school, and only 36 go to college. Then only 18 get bachelor degrees, and only 1 of the original 100 gets a master's degree or Ph.D."

Barnes emphasized that Texas schools are providing only 11 percent of persons with graduate degrees needed by industry.

Yet more important, said Barnes, is the problem of the 46 who do not graduate. "Here, vocational and technical training is needed to help them increase their income."

Tourism, highway safety and water resources are other matters that will face the legislature next session, Barnes told the Texas homemakers. More laws concerning safe roads and driving are expected to come before the 60th Legislature, Barnes said.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER NEWS

Cattle Lice Control Important In Winter

A noninfectious disease which attacks the cerebral cortex of the brain of affected animals has been tabbed by veterinarians as "polioencephalomalacia."

So far, it has not been reported in Texas but has been described in Colorado, Wyoming, South Dakota and Michigan, says Dr. C. M. Paterson, Texas A&M University Extension veterinarian. He adds that a severe type and a mild type of the disease have been found.

The severe type is usually seen in feedlot cattle. In early stages there is marked muscular tremors and twitching of ears, eyelids and facial muscles. Vision is impaired. The milder type is observed in pastured cattle in the summer. Affected animals separate from the herd, push against solid objects and become blind. Twitching of the face or ears, simulated chewing motions and excess salivation is seen. Animals are not able to take roughage into the mouth. There is no fever and the disease runs its course in from one to several days, says Paterson.

The severe type kills about 90 percent of the diseased animals and about 50 percent of those affected by the milder form die. Recovery may be associated with mental dullness and impaired vision.

Polioencephalomalacia affects animals mostly in the 12 to 18-months age group in the Hereford, Angus, Holstein, Shorthorn and Guernsey breeds.

The veterinarian says specific cause of the disease is unknown but toxins found in feeds have been suspected. There is no specific treatment, but Michigan reports indicate that injections of B complex vitamins apparently relieve some animals.

Symptoms of the disease may be confused with many others which affect the brain including rabies, sporadic bovine encephalomyelitis and listeriosis. A specific diagnosis may be made in the laboratory when the brain is examined by a pathologist. The disease also affects sheep and may be seen in other domestic animals. It has not been reported in man, and should not be confused with poliomyelitis.

Pesticide Users Should Use Care

The responsibilities of pesticide users end with the safe disposal of surplus material and "empty" containers, reminds County Agent D. C. Langford.

Regardless, he adds, of the disposal method hazards can be minimized by draining any pesticide remaining in the container into a pit (18 inches deep) dug in sandy soil if possible; rinsing glass and small metal containers several times and putting the rinse water into the pit; keeping lids and bungs tightened at all times when containers are not being used and keeping all "empty" containers in a secure storage area until safe disposal can be made.

Combustible containers, such as cardboard boxes, paper bags and plastic containers should be burned but only when conditions will not cause smoke to drift over nearby homes, people, livestock or crops. Avoid breathing smoke or fumes from the burning containers advises the county agent.

Metal containers should be punctured on all sides and crushed. Glass containers should be crushed and both types should then be buried in a pit dug on level ground away from homes, wells, streams, crops and livestock, suggests Langford. And, he cautions, don't burn weedkiller containers.

He emphasizes the importance of storing remaining pesticides in a separate building, room or enclosure. The storage area should be kept dry, well ventilated and under lock and key. Weedkillers, herbicides or defoliants should be stored in a separate room. Storing and disposing of pesticides and their containers in a safe manner is an important part of pesticide safety, concludes Langford.

Does anybody know what to do in Vietnam?

How do you answer that, if you're a Senator? If you've been there, it's a little easier.

John Tower didn't have to go to Vietnam. He had every reason, but membership on the Armed Services Committee doesn't demand it. He could have settled for one tour, but he went back. His hunch was right, there was more to learn. Insight, gained the hard way. But, Defense is a hard job, whether you're in uniform ... or watching over the needs of those who are.

John Tower went to Vietnam to look and listen. Long sessions with our boys, and the men who lead them, have given this Senator a better understanding of why we're there. He now understands more of what needs to be done. And, to do it, what we need more of ... and when.

John Tower is in a position to do something with what he learned. In committee, and on the Senate floor, he has worked to see that funds are being made available to win the war ... urged support of the opinions of those in the field who know how to win it. And, through talks with our people, Texans now know why it's necessary to win.

Junior Senator?

Re-elect Senator John Tower—he's doing a good job for Texas

Who's worried about my right to work except me and my wife and kids?

Tamper with the rights of the individual, and you'll get a rise out of Senator John Tower ... every time. He rose recently and led debate which helped save our Texas Right-to-Work Law. It was his second defense in ten months, but probably not his last one. Those who seek repeal of Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act say they'll be back. There's a question yet to be answered to John Tower's satisfaction, "Why should a man be made to pay tribute to earn his daily bread?" Meanwhile, he will continue to work to preserve the individual's right to decide whether to join or not join a trade organization. An interesting thing. You can be for the individual, and not against the group. John Tower's point: "If I were an industrial worker, I would join a trade organization and be active in it. But I wouldn't want to be told I had to join." See the difference? John Tower does.

The major incident this past week was the annual Halloween Carnival. Linda McCutchen, the Senior class candidate, was crowned as queen of the carnival. Lilia Perez, escorted by Noe Chavez, was the Junior class candidate. Representing the Sophomore class was Jane Sawyer. Monte Dillard accompanied her. The freshman class chose Carol Adamson to run for queen. Ted Fish escorted her upon the stage. Laney Cook, the vice-president of the Student Council, Jim Fish, crowned her as queen and presented a bouquet of red roses to her.

After the parade, the Halloween Queen opened the carnival. The different school classes and clubs were represented with various booths. The carnival was a success, with most organizations showing quite a profit.

Janet Johnson and Prissy Howell took a trip Saturday. First they went to Ballinger, and then to San Angelo. What girls won't do just to go shopping!

Kaye Ellis spent last weekend in Menard with Kerry Gaye Williams. Guess who was home this weekend? You guessed it—a whole bunch of college kids! Some of these were Joyce Hearn, Junior Seydler, Dick Hearn, Billy Sam

WHO'S Who . . . the little one, that is. She's a freshman; the big one is the little one's sister. She's a senior this year.

Chadwick, Bill Glasscock, Jack Hearn, Carl Teaff, Libb Wallace, Jimmy Frank Richardson, Mike Wuest, and Jack David Wardlaw. What did I tell ya?

Laney Cook, Bert Bloodworth, and Mike Gosney went to College Station this weekend to see the A&M-Arkansas football game. Laney went to talk to Coach Stallings. From the stories they told, I gathered that they must have had a great time. Bert came back with a large supply of Arkansas hats!

The combined church youth groups marched for CROP Sunday afternoon. The groups collected about $60 more than was collected last year.

Kaye Ellis and Chris Berger plan to go to Kermit Saturday to attend the 4-H Gold Star Banquet.

Last week's "Who's Who" was Laney Cook.

Mike Sims is expected home during the last part of this week. We're looking forward to seeing you again, Mike!

Gary Hardgrave was in Austin this weekend visiting Dorr Scherz. He also saw Dick Hardgrave while he was there.

The Broncos scored another victory Friday night in Menard. The football game this week is with Sanderson, in Sonora. Let's win district—at least!—Broncos!

A Parson's Eye View of Sonora

By Rev. Ross Welch
Missed my first game Friday night. Wanted to get to San Antonio before it was too late. We figured we would not be missing much of a game. I had averaged the scores of my thirty young prognosticators, and came out with a score of 40 to 3.

But I hastened out to get a paper Saturday morning in San Antonio, found the 'High School Football Game Results' column. It was in fine print and I did not have on my tri focals. Painfully I worked my way down to the next to the last listing and it read, "Menard, 48; Sonora, 22."

I rushed to get my glasses and confirm the tragic data, then said I to my sleeping wife, "This HAS to be a misprint!" Could not confirm my convictions until we stopped at the first drive-in grocery coming in to Sonora Sunday afternoon.

After reading the dry statistics in the daily paper, I am convinced that Menard has developed a good passing game.

The Southwest Conference race finds SMU in a rather shaky first place. We T-toppers really dropped a tear for the poor Aggies—the way those Razorbacks rooted them around was a shame. I am well aware that they could storm back this week in the Cotton Bowl and I will have to eat humble pie. Anything can happen in this unpredictable conference—so one had better take his glory while he can.

On behalf of the hungry (overseas) who will live because of your gifts, on behalf of the young people who gave their Sunday afternoon soliciting financial assistance for CROP, and on behalf of the Christian Rural Overseas Program of Texas, on whose official board I have served these thirteen years; I wish to express a sincere thank you to all who shared in the nice offering you made Sunday afternoon.

Preachers are notorious for their over-estimations when they tell how many parishioners were in public worship; but three of us established the fact that—according to the old mathematics—we will be able to send about $200.00 to the State CROP office. This is an excellent increase over the previous year.

According to George Stewart, my Presbyterian colleague, there were thirty-eight dedicated and enthusiastic young people working—the best from at least six churches, and as many denominations. Again, "Thank you!"

The United Christian Fellowship, made up of the youth of all participating churches, will have a scavenger hunt Sunday afternoon, beginning at 6 o'clock.

Don't be surprised if some enterprising group of youngsters let you scan their list and supply anything from an empty buttermilk carton to a tame tiger's tail.

At our Homecoming Service at St. Mark's Methodist Church in San Antonio last Sunday we saw the John B. Abbott's who sent greetings to the Robert Halbert's. It seems John came out this way to do some cow trading, and was genuinely impressed with the size of the ranches and the quality of the cattle they produce.

We do not think we need remind anyone in this area that next Tuesday is election day. Whatever else one may say about local politics no one can say the people are lukewarm on political issues. Sutton County voters may try to achieve their ends by using different political parties; but so far as we can tell they are all trying to achieve the same end.

As one lady expressed it, "It doesn't matter whether you are Democrat or Republican, just so you are Conservative."

Any way you look at it, we expect a large percentage of eligible voters will cast a ballot Tuesday—and a larger number of our citizens are eligible than ever before in a general election.

Everything is in readiness for a new channel to be added to our local television menu, except one small piece of equipment, called a 'wave guide'. This is supposed to be on its way and will not take long to install.

This new channel will carry the educational program of Station

KLRN from 8 in the morning to 4 in the afternoon. This program is sponsored by the University of Texas and other colleges and universities in the area.

From mid-afternoon to midnight or later the channel will carry the Spanish-speaking program heard in the San Antonio area as Channel 41. We feel sure that families where Spanish is spoken will be grateful for this consideration.

After considerable probing—by telephone—we gleaned this bit of information. The new seven-digit dialing system will go into effect in Sonora, as of Nov. 30.

New numbers have been distributed—so far as we have determined—to places of business, not to residences. We are sure the others will be out soon. This will call for a new directory, of course.

If the sampling is to be trusted, there is no relation between the number you now have and the one to be issued. When the new system is in effect we suppose it will be possible for kids away from home to direct dial your number by using ten digits—915 387 plus the four last number in your telephone listing. That is—unless your kids are like mine—call collect. You still have to obtain permission to place a 'collect' call.

Miss Jessie Lem Johnson, bride-elect of Jack David Wardlaw, was honored with a kitchen shower and coffee at the Louie Trainer home October 29.

Hostesses were Mrs. Louie Trainer, Mrs. Miers Savell, Mrs. Bryan Hunt and Mrs. Ernest McClelland.

The serving table was laid with a white, lace cloth and the centerpiece was composed of white and blue mums in a silver dish. A silver coffee service decorated one end of the table. Miss Diana Cahill served coffee while Miss Sue Price, Miss Johnson's roommate, helped guests with the register. The house was decorated with fall flowers. About 35 guests were present.

If we do, games close enough for most fans to attend would be aired by delayed tape recording . . . games so far away that most people would be unable to attend would be scheduled live.

BUT . . . we need evidence for prospective sponsors if you, the football fans, DO, INDEED WANT TO HEAR THE BROADCASTS. If you would like us to schedule play-by-play broadcasts of the Sonora games in the play-offs, let us know. Write a card or letter giving your opinion to RADIO STATION KCKG, SONORA, TEXAS.

TEXAS IS ON THE MOVE!

In virtually every field of endeavor, our state has made dramatic progress the past four years under the strong leadership of Governor John Connally. His administration's bold, yet sensible programs have helped provide new opportunity and a better way of life for all our people.

IMPROVED EDUCATION — Since 1963, state investment in higher education has doubled, and faculty salaries have increased 40%. State support of local public schools have increased 44% in four years, including a $100 million teacher pay raise enacted in 1965. Technical and vocational training programs have been vastly increased; junior college enrollment doubled during the current bi-ennium. Special literacy programs for migrant workers and their children have been expanded. A college student loan fund of $85 million has been established. And a special Governor's Committee on Public Education currently is studying all facets of elementary and secondary education.

WATER RESOURCES DEVELOPMENT — Long range planning and development have been given top priority. $100 million in bonds have been issued for development of needed storage facilities; authorization has been granted to expand this program to $200 million for the next two years.

CONCERN FOR THE AGED AND NEEDY — Since 1963, assistance to our elderly has been increased 27%. The Governor's Committee on Aging is continually working for the benefit of our senior citizens.

OUTDOOR RECREATION — More than $2 million has been invested in improving ten of our most attractive state parks during the past two years to provide additional recreational facilities.

INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION — A record 855 new industrial plants have been established the past three years, moving Texas into second place in the nation in industrial expansion. Last year, more than 23,000 new jobs were created in manufacturing alone — the best year ever for the Texas labor force.

INCREASED TOURISM — More than 12 million tourists visited Texas last year, adding more than $900 million to the state's economy, and creating 140,000 new jobs. The state's tourist advertising program has been sharply expanded.

MENTAL HEALTH AND MENTAL RETARDATION — New emphasis on prevention of mental illness and mental retardation has been achieved through establishment of new community centers, replacing the former practice of "warehousing" patients. Investment for research into causes of mental disorders has doubled the past four years.

BETTER HIGHWAY TRANSPORTATION — Texas has more farm-to-market roads than any other state — more than 35,134 miles. We lead the nation in construction of interstate highways, at a cost 40% below the nation's average.

COMBAT AIR AND WATER POLLUTION — New legislation for public health, "The Clear Air Act of Texas," provides state action to combat air pollution. Similar vigorous action has been initiated to control pollution of Texas streams, bays and estuaries.

NEW CULTURAL GROWTH — The Fine Arts Commission was established in 1965 to nurture the cultural enrichment of Texans. The state's cultural heritage will be preserved and portrayed in the state's pavilion at HemisFair '68 in San Antonio.

BUSINESSLIKE ADMINISTRATION — With unprecedented teamwork, our state government has operated responsibly and efficiently. The Legislature has finished its work on time in each session. Following a pay-as-you-go policy, we have maintained a healthy surplus in the general revenue fund without curtailing essential services.

HEALTHY, GROWING ECONOMY — Business activity rose 11% last year, as Texas continues one of the brightest growth areas. Employment and income are at an all-time high, unemployment at an all-time low. Despite increased responsibilities, our state government costs only $168.78 a year per citizen, fourth lowest in the nation. No broad-based tax has been enacted the past four years. Texas still has no personal income or payroll tax, no corporate income tax, and is one of few remaining states with a limited sales tax of 2%.

LET'S KEEP THIS KIND OF PROGRESS AND PROSPERITY FOR TEXAS! HELP GIVE AN OVERWHELMING MANDATE FOR THE VISIONARY LEADERSHIP OF DEMOCRATIC GOVERNOR JOHN CONNALLY AT THE POLLS NOVEMBER 8TH!

C. W. Taylor Family Entertains Guests

Guests were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cashes W. Taylor and Mrs. Elizabeth Goodwin over the weekend. They were Mr. and Mrs. Royce Regeon, and children, Nanetta, Resa, and Rhonda, Mrs. Eula Regeon and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Jones and their children, Michel and Sherry, all of San Antonio.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Palmer West of Eldorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Goodwin spent Monday and Tuesday at the home of Mr. Taylor's brother and his family, Basil Taylor, in San Antonio. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Taylor and their son-in-law's family, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Regeon and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Eubank and Mr. Scott and Leslie Lynn.

Mrs. Elizabeth Goodwin returned to her home in Hobbs, New Mexico Wednesday, accompanied by her daughters, Mrs. Palmer West and Mrs. Cashes Taylor.

Calvin R. Sanders Maintains Bombers

Airman apprentice Calvin R. Sanders, son of Mrs. Mandy Simmons, was graduated from a course in corrosion control at the Naval Air Maintenance Training Unit at Whidbey Island, Washington.

Sanders is attached to Heavy Attack Squadron 123 and will be performing maintenance on the heavy attack bomber "Skywarrior", which is the largest aircraft carrier based aircraft.
