Crises in government and high levels of education might seem to be far from the concern of people in Sonora: at least to the extent it affects them personally.

Much has been revealed in the news media recently about the activities of the Central Intelligence Agency in relation to financial support of educational organiza-

Before we began our discussion, I fully expected him to reveal that he was the local 007, in band director's clothing.

As it turned out, he had one "tongue-in-cheek" statement.

He said, "The Sonora High School band is not now and has never sively by the school. Since everybody in education has been called ject for a change."

What has the HIP done so far? Consulting Psychiartrist Dr. A. J. Bankhead of Tyler says: "The whole attitude and morale of the patients has been changed. Discipline problems are less; the men are easier to handle."

Consulting Psychologist Fagan Thompson of Shreveport: "I am impressed with the attitude of the men in accepting the program with enthusiasm."

One of the patients best summed up the situation: "It's our program--the first thing we've ever had here, and we don't want anything to happen to it."
