Deer Supply Adequate, Says State Game Official

"The Sutton County deer population declined slightly this year as compared to the peak year of 1966," said Henry Burkett, guest speaker at the annual pre-season hunting party held Tuesday, November 7, at the 4-H Center. Burkett is regional director of Region I of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in San Angelo. He was a game official in Sutton County several years ago.

Burkett said that the fawn crop this year was only a 36 percent crop. Last year's crop was twice that percentage. Burkett attributed the fawn rate to the extremely dry weather in the county, particularly in the southern portions. The total drop in the deer population amounted to about 26,000, Burkett said.

The game official recommended that ranchers encourage a larger doe harvest this year. He said that the current buck to doe ratio was about 4-1. A 2-1 ratio is considered to be ideal.

The annual party is sponsored jointly by the chamber of commerce and the Edwards Plateau Game and Wildlife Association. New officers for the association were elected at the meeting. Lawrence Finklea will serve as the new president, Bill Stewart as vice president and D. C. Langford as secretary-treasurer.

Wool Entries Due By November 18

Deadline for entries in the Make It Yourself With Wool Contest is November 18. District competition will be December 2 in the Eldorado High School.

Mrs. Henry Speck Jr., District Chairman, reminds contestants to make a garment they will enjoy wearing, using an up-to-date pattern and a new color.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. A. E. Prugel County Chairman.

"Income from hunting in Sutton County has jumped from $250,000 several years ago to $1,000,000 last year," said chamber of commerce manager Bob Johnson.

He emphasized that the majority of hunting income is from day leasing. Johnson said that in the past most ranchers were interested only in season leases, but have since found that day leasing provides the greatest return for the whole community. He predicted that the 25 shooting preserves in Sutton County should boost the county income to $1,500,000 this year.

The Sonora chamber of commerce will maintain their hunter information bureau this year as in the past. Johnson said that someone will be on duty to help any hunter find the type of lease he desires. A large chart in the office shows location of leases, cost and availability of antlerless deer permits.

Most leases in the country are now booked for the first two weeks of the season. "It seems as everyone wants to hunt during those first two weeks," Johnson said.

The season will open Saturday, November 11, to begin the popular fall sport. Deer hunting has grown in popularity throughout the state. According to the Parks and Wildlife Department, free hunts on state management areas are being swamped with applications.

B. E. "SALTY" BARTON

"Salty" Barton Named Manager

B. E. "Salty" Barton has joined Stockmen's Feed Company as the new manager, replacing Jimmy H. Harris, who resigned to take the job of city manager.

Barton is originally from Sweetwater and has spent 16 years in the feed business. He has worked in the feed business in Clovis, New Mexico, and Abilene and traveled for a feed concern throughout the West Texas area.

Barton was born in Nolan County and attended public schools there.

He became manager effective November 1.

Minister's Mother Dies in Kilgore

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Shirley Guthrie Sr., in Kilgore Saturday, November 4.

She is the mother of the Rev. Alan Guthrie, who was pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd here from 1958-1961.

Burial was in a Kilgore cemetery and services were held in First Presbyterian Church in Kilgore.

Community Service Set at St. John's

The annual community Thanksgiving church service will be held this year at St. John's Episcopal Church at 7 p.m., November 22.

Guest minister for the program will be the Rev. George R. Stewart, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Presbyterian, U.S.

Lee Way Drivers Move from Sonora

Lee Way Motor Freight Inc., has transferred five of their drivers based in Sonora to new locations effective Sunday, November 5, according to Melvin Glasscock, driver for the firm.

Except for Glasscock and O. F. Willford, all will be moved to San Antonio. Glasscock will remain here and Willford will go to Balmorea.

M. C. St. Clair, R. M. Ferguson, W. I. Joy and Robert Griffin are the other drivers. The drivers left Sunday, but most of their families are still here.

Glasscock said the move came about as a result of a change in the operation of the company. He said that San Antonio would now become a main base of operation for the trucking firm.

On the Black Gap Management Area alone, 10,037 applications were made for the free hunt on the state land in Brewster County south of Marathon. Only 1,002 could be accepted.

Texas has seven such areas which are opened to a public hunt each year and names are drawn to fill the quota of hunters. Most all of the areas received several times as many applications than could be accommodated.

Great concern is being placed this year on hunter safety. According to the Texas Safety Association, Texas will have more hunters in the field than there are soldiers in Vietnam.

The safety organization noted that each year many hunters are killed when they are mistaken for a deer, a quail, or even a rabbit. "Blind" shooting at sounds in deep underbrush is the sign of a dangerous "greenhorn." A hunter should fire only when he has positively identified his target as legal game.

Hunters, except duck hunters in blinds, should wear bright red or yellow caps and jackets to make identification easier for other hunters.

Before shooting, a hunter should make sure that no one is in his zone of fire. This is particularly true when hunting in underbrush as bullets fired from high-powered rifles travel great distances.

Amendment Voting Set at Courthouse

Sonorans will go to polls Saturday, November 11, to vote on six proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution.

According to county clerk, Erma Lee Turner, the courthouse will be the only voting place in this election. She said that the polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

"Although Saturday is the beginning day of hunting season I would like to encourage everyone to vote," she added.

City Commissioners Engage Engineer Firm

Sonora's city commissioners have secured an Austin engineering firm to draw up an agreement for planning the relocation of city power lines crossing the proposed Interstate Highway 10.

The firm, National Engineering Company will submit contracts to the city, subject to approval by the Texas Highway Department, for the relocation. The contract will outline costs involved in the moving of power lines.

Since the relocation is done at the request of the Texas Highway Department, the city of Sonora will be reimbursed by the state for all engineering and construction costs. The contract must be approved not only by the state, but also by the Bureau of Roads since federal funds are being used on the project.

The same engineering firm will also submit a contract to the city for the planning of future electrical facilities and development. Mayor A. E. Prugel asked for the estimate so a study can be made of the existing electrical facilities and any future needs. The proposed study would also include a study of potential commercial and residential suits within the city for future use.

The action was made in the regular meeting of the commissioners Monday, November 6.

In other city business, the com-

Ranchers Warned About Water Rights

A landowner who signs an oil lease without careful study may be signing away the right to all the water under his land, the president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association warned. Worth Durham of Sterling City, who appeared before the Texas Supreme Court on behalf of TS&GRA in a water-rights case, said an oil company attorney told the court his firm had a contractual right to take as much water as necessary for secondary recovery (waterflooding), even if this meant draining all the water from under the land.

Most standard oil lease contracts today carry a clause specifying the right to use fresh water for secondary recovery. The landowner should always be careful that this clause is stricken before he signs the contract, said Durham.

He added that though they don't like it, oil companies can almost always use salt water or other means to achieve secondary recovery. Fresh water once pumped into oil-bearing strata is forever lost.

MRS. JOHN A. WARD VISITS Mrs. John Allen Ward and Anne Elizabeth of Philadelphia, Pa., spent several days on the ranch with Mr. and Mrs. John Ward.

"BIG A IS JUST A BOY when it comes to growing okra," says Mrs. Duard Archer as she displays the 14-foot stalk growing in her back yard. A. W. Awalt, whose 11-foot stalk appeared in last week's paper, drew an exclamation from Mrs. Archer that she has to have binoculars to see the top of her plant.

CINDERS

by Jim Barnett

West Texas has been condemned for numerous things.....no rain, too much dust, not enough people ... just to name a few.

But now, criticism has come to West Texas about its air.

Allison Sanders, columnist for the Houston Chronicle, reports that one of his reporters returned to the bayou city after a trip to Big Bend complaining about the quality of the western atmosphere.

Sanders' reporter told him, "You have no idea how fresh air smells. Without the hydrocarbons and other elements provided by our ship channel petrochemical plants, it's weak and tasteless as watered wine."

He went on to say that West Texas air doesn't have enough body to support life except for those poor souls who have managed to adjust to it through the years.

At that, the reporter, Jim Curran, is said to have raised the window and taken a few deep breaths. He then said, "That good old sulphur really does something for air; there's nothing like a fine smoggy morning in Houston."

Sonorans Surprised By Actor's Visit

Small towns are almost always caught by surprise when celebrities come to town and Sonora was no exception last week when veteran Hollywood actor, James Stewart, or someone who looked just like him, came to town for a haircut, shampoo and shave.

Stewart, who is appearing in the movie, "The Bandelero," now being filmed at Brackettville and on the Devil's River, visited Philip Cooper's barbershop, Monday, October 23.

Cooper said he really didn't know who he was, and Stewart introduced himself by another name. He added that it was "just like old-home-week" when Stewart talked to Jack Ward and George Wallace. Cooper said the topic of conversation revolved around TV actor Dan Blocker ("Hoss" Cartwright) and his days in Sonora.

Cooper said that Stewart is the only celebrity he has had in his shop that he knows of. He mentioned that although he is now a "celebrity" barber his prices will remain the same.

HENRY BURKETT, REGIONAL DIRECTOR of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in San Angelo, shows a chart depicting the deer population in Sutton County during the past 13 years. The chart showed a decrease this year under the peak population of 1966. Burkett said that although there was a decrease in numbers, adequate deer were still in the county.

Broncos Defeat Sanderson Eagles, Meet Iraan to Decide District 8-A

In a near repeat performance of the 1966 contest, Sonora defeated winless Sanderson 58-0. Last year's score was 63-15.

The win will pit the Broncos against the Iraan Braves this week to break the tie in District 8-A. Iraan defeated Ozona Friday 28-14, their last obstacle to cinch a tie with the Broncos. A loss to Iraan would give them the district title and a tie game would result in a toss of the coin to determine who represents 8-A in bi-district competition.

Scoring against Sanderson was limited to the first half of play, with the Broncos racking up 23 points in the first quarter and 30 in the second quarter.

All-State halfback Ed Lee Renfro led the scoring parade for the Broncos with 22 points. Fullback Mike Gosney scored twice and halfback Richard Perez scored once. End Dennis Schmidt also scored a touchdown and kicked for an extra point.

The winner of the crucial November 10 game here will probably be pitted against the winner of District 7-A of far-west Texas. The top team in that district is Canutillo, which is located a few miles north of El Paso. In their last game they defeated Clint 42-7. Canutillo sports an unbelievable lineup of eight returning defensive and offensive players.

A Piece of the Country

Traditionally, veterans of duty in the armed conflicts of the United States have been compensated for their time and efforts. In Texas, veterans have been rewarded for risking their lives for freedom since the time of the Republic. In those early days public land was given to veterans, but all of the public land in Texas has disappeared.

In 1949, when thousands of American GI's had returned home (and some had not) the Veterans Land Program was created by the Texas Legislature.

Under this program as a veteran could buy land for a small down payment, low interest rates and payments covering a period of 40 years.

Through the years it has been a program that has not cost the taxpayers any money for its operation but has made money through the interest on these loans. This is something unusual in government projects.

While the old program sees to the needs of the veterans of Korea and World War II, no provision yet covers the returning veterans of Vietnam, and one will not, unless the people of Texas go to the polls and vote for the proposed amendment to the Constitution giving them the same opportunity to acquire land.

If the proposal is passed in the all veterans of World War II, Korea and Vietnam will be able to purchase land. Each will be able to purchase up to $10,000 worth of land with a five per cent down payments for as long as 40 years. Only other costs are legal fees, not to exceed $150, and interest fees of not more than four and one-half per cent. Provision has also been made for easy transfer to another veteran or non-veteran.

But only you, and your vote, can give the Vietnam veteran something he has fought for.... a piece of his country. Support the veterans land amendment November 11.

The Devil's River Philosopher sez:

It's Pretty Hard to Outsmart Women Unless You Are a Fashion Designer

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River is bound to be headed for trouble, if he's going to discuss women's fashions, as he does this week.

Dear editor:

This is entirely out of my field, like a Congressman's voting to epornize in his own district, but in a completely idle moment the other day I was flipping through the pages of a newspaper a man had handed me in Sonora the day before I think to get rid of me, and without realizing it got over into the woman's section and couldn't help noticing some of the current styles, which I understand are called mini-skirts.

Like Dean Rusk when asked a question on a delicate phase of Viet Nam diplomacy, I have no opinion on this matter, but I got to thinking. Surely, I said, while everybody knows women will wear whatever the designers decide they should up to a certain point, what'd I'd like to know is can they be hornswoggled into buying mini-rain coats to match their mini-skirts?

I'd no sooner thought of it than up jumped a fashion picture of a woman in a mini-rain coat.

What in the world do they do when it rains, I wondered, stay half-wet? The thing was getting more preposterous.

Then I looked again. You're not going to catch a fashion designer missing a sales area. The woman was wearing hip-boots.

The article under the picture explained what any clod-hopper should have guessed, the rain falls not only on the just and the unjust but on the bottom half as well as the top half, and a mini-raincoat calls if you want to be in the height of fashion and not half-wet, for hip-boots to match.

It's pretty hard to out-smart a woman, unless you're a fashion designer.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

A PARSON'S EYE-VIEW OF SONORA

BY THE REV. ROSS T. WELCH

The crucial game is tomorrow night. And some sportswriter who apparently watched the Iraan-Ozona game is convinced the Braves will win.

That puts the Broncos back in the position from which they played most of their games last year and did not do too badly. I do not know if the above mentioned prognosticator saw the Ozona-Sonora game or not.

For those who saw both games, it was pretty obvious the Lions were not playing the same brand of ball. Part of that, of course, was the team they were playing—and Iraan does have a good team.

But, if our team is anywhere near full strength and does not get some real bad breaks—we think the Broncos will repeat as champions of District 8-A. Anyway—cold or colder, we shall all be out there giving them the kind of support they deserve.

Apparently, more Sonora fans went to Ozona than to Sanderson last week. So—if the coaches who did go with the team need any advice—it should be forthcoming at the drop of a Stetson.

We don't usually offer advice; but one weakness that was pretty obvious—the Lions got through the Brave line and rushed the passer right handily. At times it seemed the Lions could gain more ground if Iraan had the ball than if Ozona controlled it.

The hunting season is here, and that brings some outside money into town. It will put some folding green into some wallets that were on a reducing diet all last summer when it would not rain. But it won't do anything good for the church attendance.

This cold weather reminds me of my boyhood on the Divide in Sterling County. Those were the days when you made a buck any way you could so honestly.

My older brothers and I had a string of traps in the canyons. I was not a good trapper. I always dreaded catching something—because it was usually a skunk; and I had no desire to associate with a skunk—dead or alive.

It also meant getting up at 4 a.m. on a cold morning and running the trap line before time to walk two miles to school. . . . Skunk hides were not worth much, especially if they had any white stripes on them, as most of them did.

One winter an old mare died while snow was on the ground. We took advantage of the situation to set our traps in the snow around the carcass and caught a coyote. That pelt brought about $3 and we were elated.

Two of our neighbor boys took their trapping far more seriously. They would skin their catch and stretch their furs in the mornings before they went to school. They would arrive at school about 10 a.m. when the belly of the old coal-burning stove would be red hot. Hands half frozen, they would naturally crowd as close to the stove as they could get.

If their catch the night before had included a couple of skunks, imagine what the atmosphere in that over-heated schoolroom was like!

I sometimes wonder how the teachers ever taught us anything in that rural school. We had classes from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., with an hour off for lunch and two 15-minute recesses. During that five and one-half hours, the teacher was supposed to hear all the classes of eight to 10 grades and give any help she could to those who needed special attention.

Most of our teachers—and some of the best—had little college training; they had graduated from some ten-grade high school and attended a summer "normal." But we made our assignments, graduated some of our papers, and hastily reviewed our lessons with us.

When we got into high school and transferred to the county seat school, where we competed against students who had been accustomed to having one teacher for each grade, we never thought of ourselves as being handicapped, but quietly took our places at the head of the class.

But I am certainly NOT pinning for the 'good old days' in the field of public education. The old system simply could not provide the kind of education required by modern scientists and technicians.

We understand the Sam Joneses and Bill Whiteheads, who attended a party at Del Rio the other night honoring the cast of movie stars on the set at Happy Shahan's Alamo Village, were a little disappointed. Dean Martin did not show. His excuse—he had been playing golf all day and had not had time to get 'in shape' to meet his public.

The last time we asked superintendent of schools Ralph Finklea when the new gymnasium would be ready, he replied, "By New Year, I hope."

I see by the papers where it will not be long until we can expect to pay up to $500 a day for a hospital room. If funeral costs go up in proportion, I do not know what poor folks are going to do. We can't afford to try to stay alive and we can't afford to die. Ervin Willman is building a greenhouse in his back yard. This should afford both Jennie and Ervin many hours of pleasure and help them keep their yard—a spot of beauty.

Good luck to the Broncos! Good shooting to the hunters! And a Merry Christmas to my congregation!

Club Women Meet For Discussion

Mrs. Bill Morriss, president of the Sonora Woman's Club, presided at the regular meeting and luncheon of the club members November 2.

Mrs. Stanton Bundy discussed the role of women throughout the history of Sutton County. She described the appearance and talked of the work of the early Nomad-Indian tribes that came here seasonally. She also told about the early-day white settlers and the homemaking role of the women—the chores they performed for their families, their social life and their community service.

Mrs. James Hunt accumulated numerous antique items from various persons in the community and they were displayed during the meeting and added visual interest to the topic.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Malmstrom and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Young spent the weekend in Brownwood at the Lake.

DISPLAYING ARTIFACTS from Spanish-speaking countries are Karen Hemphill, Michelle Rousselot, Cora Pope, Bruce Kerbow, Bill Finklea, and David Wallace. The display was part of a fiesta program of the fifth and sixth grades at Central Elementary School and included a Spanish stage production.

Artifacts, Plays Highlight Fiesta Held by Central Spanish Students

Grades five and six of the Central Elementary School recently displayed items from Mexico and other Spanish-speaking countries. Mrs. O. L. Richardson Jr. brought many of the artifacts used in Spanish-speaking and Indian countries of South America and explained their uses.

Mrs. Albert Martin said that the items drawing the most interest were poisoned arrows and spears and oars used by Indians in or near the area of the head hunters. Chocolate pots, wine glasses, spurs, stirrups and various other items used by the people of South America were also shown. A carved wooden stool on display had two uses—providing a seat or a bowl for eating.

Among the items brought by students were serapes, ponchos, a mantilla, and a bull fighter's cap and cape. Swords, bayonets, guns and knives reflected the weapons used by Moors and early Spaniards in America.

Several parents, friends and pupils from other classes attended the program presented by students. Grade 5 classes sang, counted and carried on conversations in Spanish. Grade 6A presented two plays in Spanish, "En El Parque", and "Los Tres Osos" (The Three Bears). Spanish class 6B presented "Corrida de Toros," and "Caperucita Roja," (A Bull Fight and Little Red Riding Hood).

Guard-lite is the name for the automatic outdoor dusk-to-dawn light being installed throughout the service area of West Texas Utilities, to light up and help guard commercial buildings, equipment storage areas, churches, schools, warehouses, motels, parking lots and homes in rural or secluded areas.

At Dusk a photo-electric cell switches the Guard-lite on automatically. At dawn it turns it off again. Throughout the night, your Guard-lite helps bring you greater convenience, security from prowlers and vandals, safety from accidents, and adds a touch of prestige to your property.

The Issues Within the Fifth Proposed Amendment for Your Election Nov. 11

Amendment No. 5—H. J. R. No. 12
This proposed amendment adds a Section 49e to Article III of the Texas Constitution. The new section authorizes the Parks and Wildlife Department or its successor to issue and sell general obligation bonds of the state in an amount not to exceed $75 million with an interest rate not to exceed 4½ percent per annum. Money received from the sale of the bonds is earmarked for the Texas Park Development Fund.

Got something you want to give away FREE? The Devil's River News runs classifieds free of charge when the item is to be given away free. Phone 387-2222

Background: With certain limited exception, Article III, Section 49, of the Texas Constitution prohibits the state from creating any debt by or on behalf of itself. An amendment is therefore necessary for the Parks and Wildlife Department to issue general obligations bonds to finance park development.

ARGUMENTS

For: 1. The State of Texas needs to begin a program of land acquisition and development for park purposes to meet the demands of a growing population and to stimulate tourist trade.

2. The Parks and Wildlife Department estimates that revenue received from park admission fees will be sufficient to pay the principal and interest on the bonds.

Against: 1. Estimates of money needed to pay principal and interest on the general obligation bonds are at best theoretical. It is possible, though not likely, that the entire bond issue could be issued the first year.

2. Public law 88-578, the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act of 1965, provides federal funds on a matching basis for state park acquisition and development.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE THIS IS THE WORLD'S LARGEST PRUNE? Costumes in the carnival contest were imaginative, as illustrated by this unique costume. Even the parents had trouble identifying their own children.

The Issues Within the Sixth Proposed Amendment for Your Election Nov. 11

This proposed amendment provides that non-elective state officers and employees may serve, under certain conditions set forth by the Legislature, in more than one office or position of honor, trust, or profit under the state or the United States. Limitations include the requirements that the second office or position be of benefit to the state or be required by state or federal law.

At present, Section 33 directs the Comptroller not to draw or pay any warrant on the treasury for a person holding more than one office or position of honor, trust, or profit under the state or the United States. This means that a person holding two offices or positions now covered by Section 33 may not receive compensation for either office or position.

ARGUMENTS

For: 1. By permitting non-elective state officers and employees to serve in more than one non-elective position in certain instances, the proposed amendment would make highly qualified and expert personnel available for additional state service at no additional cost to the state, and thereby obviate the employment of special consultants in many instances. In the same way, the proposed amendment would make it possible for personnel of our state-supported schools to serve on national boards with a strong influence on allocation of federal grants.

2. Adoption of the proposed amendment would bring Texas into competition on equal terms with other states not so restricted when opportunities for participating in the various federal programs by this means are presented and would promote intergovernmental cooperation.

GREEN NEWS

Witches, ghosts and goblins, preoccupied this reporter's time last week. The spooks didn't scare me away though, so I'm back with the news.

On October 25, auxiliary day, the winner of the "legs" was Dorothy Ratliff from Eldorado.

The club tournament, hole play, has been going on for several weeks. The results so far are: Mary Lois Brown won her first match with Yvonne Carroll. Dorothy Ratliff won her match with Jo Neville. Monica Davis won her match with Reba Gilmore.

On November first, Wanda Cahill won 2 "legs." More matches were played in the club tournament. Wanda Cahill won over Sammie Espy and Ann Hill won her match with Gladys Mittle from Eldorado. Also, Ann Herrmann won her match with Floy Tate. Mary Lois Brown lost her second match to Monica Davis.

Wanda Cahill and Ernestine Hext, Eldorado, won first place in the first flight during the one day partnership tournament of the San Angelo Country Club.

Remember to post all points on the board for the point system play that is now in progress. This play will run through November 1. In figuring out your score be sure and use your handicap. A bogie, one above par, counts one point. A par counts two points. A bird, one below par, counts three points. An eagle, two below par, counts four points.

If anyone has any news they would like to put in the Green News call 7-3184.

Santa Fe Executive Refires at Angelo

Everett A. Tusha, division passenger and freight agent for Santa Fe Railway at San Angelo, retired October 31, after 52 years of service.

Thirty-one of those years have been spent in San Angelo, and have earned the veteran traffic executive the sobriquet "Mr. Santa Fe" in that community.

Tusha will be honored at an informal "traffic family" dinner at the River Club, October 27, hosted by R. T. Snook, traffic manager, Amarillo.

Tusha and his wife, Alice, plan to continue living at 2219 Chestnut in San Angelo in their retirement. Their one son, Edwin, resides at Lubbock, and they have two grandchildren.

The Issues Within the Third Proposed Amendment for Your Election Nov. 11

Amendment No. 3-H. J. R. No. 17

This proposed amendment to Section 49-B, Article 111, of the Constitution of the State of Texas extends the service-connected date for eligibility until the "date of formal withdrawal of United States troops from the present armed conflict in Viet Nam." Whereas the present constitutional provision leaves it to the Legislature to define the qualifications of "Texas Veterans" eligible to participate in the program, the proposed amendment would incorporate these qualifications in the Constitution itself. The amendment would require, in addition to the prescribed military service, that the veteran (1) be a citizen of the United States and a bona fide resident of Texas at the time he files his application to purchase land; (2) not have been dishonorably discharged from the armed services; and (3) either be a bona fide resident of Texas at the time he entered the armed services or else have resided in Texas at least five years prior to the date of filing his application to purchase land. These requirements, in the main, are the same as those prescribed by statute. The amendment, however, would not require, as does the present statute, that a veteran be resident of Texas at the time he entered the service. If he has been a Texas resident for five years prior to his application to purchase land, he may qualify.

1. It is only fair that the men and women of Texas who have served their country during the present hostilities in Viet Nam and East Asia receive the same benefits which have been made available to veterans of World War 11 and the Korean conflict. It is one of the most effective and least costly means by which Texas citizens can express their gratitude to veterans for their wartime service.

2. The veterans' land program has boosted the state's economy and will produce an eventual profit on the $400 million from the sale of bonds used to finance veteran land purchases.

3. The program is without cost to the taxpayer. In fact, the difference in interest paid of the bonds and that received from the veteran puts the program on the credit side of the state's profit and loss ledger.

1. It is not the function of state government to engage in the loan business. The veterans' land program, in this respect, may be considered unfair to private enterprises.

2. During the 16 years that the veterans' land program was open for applications, it would seem that all veterans who are interested had sufficient time to make application for these funds, and it is still too early to provide for the service personnel of the Viet Nam war. The availability of "cheap money" tends to invite purchase of land by some veterans who neither need nor plan to use it for productive purposes.

3. The fact that the electorate has twice vetoed proposed amendments to increase the fund and extend the duration of the program shows clearly that Texas citizens are tired of the program. The program has officially terminated, and it should not be revived.

The Issues Within the Fourth Proposed Amendment for Your Election Nov. 11

Amendment No. 4-H. J. R. No. 6

This proposed amendment adds a Section 52e to Article 111 of the Texas Constitution. The new section authorizes counties to pay the medical expenses, doctor bills, and hospital bills for sheriff, constables, their deputies, and other county and precinct law enforcement officials who are injured in the course of their official duties. Law enforcement officials so injured may also be paid their maximum salaries by the county during their incapacitation or hospitalization until the expiration of their term of office.

ARGUMENTS

Article 111, Section 52, of the Texas Constitution prohibits any county, city, town, or other political subdivision of the state from lending its credit or granting public money or thing of value in aid of, or to, any individual association, or corporation. The proposed amendment provides an exception in favor of county payment of county and precinct law enforcement officials' medical expenses resulting from injuries occurring during the performance of their official duties. It also permits payment of maximum salaries to these officers during their incapacitation or hospitalization.

ARGUMENTS

For:

1. Counties should be allowed to pay medical expenses of county and precinct law enforcement officials who are injured while performing their official duties. These officers are not now covered by workmen's compensation, and the financial burden placed upon them and their families by injury in the line of duty is often insurmountable.

2. It is becoming more and more difficult to recruit law enforcement personnel, and the knowledge that medical expenses are covered for injuries sustained in the course of duty, as made possible by this proposed amendment, should make positions in law enforcement more attractive. Any incidental benefit that a county can offer a prospective applicant would be an invaluable aid in promoting effective law enforcement.

Against:

It is unfair to select a certain class of public employees for special treatment. Other county employees should have the same benefits that the proposed amendment provides for law enforcement officials. Since the proposed amendment is permissive, rather than mandatory, its adoption could result in a multitude of county policies, some paying all, a part, or none of the medical benefits proposed. Thus, the advantage of attracting competent personnel to law enforcement work by counties providing these benefits would create greater hardship on counties unable to or unwilling to make these benefits available as they compete for law enforcement personnel with counties in better financial condition.

This is the age of the machine, even in hunting!

Latest gimmick for outwitting wily creatures is an ordinary tape recorder.

Equipped with an appropriate distress tape, this compact little battery powdered machine brings critters like foxes, coyotes and bobcats running toward the hunter.

In his book, "The Critters Come When Called," Russel Tinsley, outdoor editor for Austin American-Statesman, points out that the tape recorder has replaced the portable phonograph as the best device for calling predators. Thanks to transistors, tape recorders today are small and compact in size, and some actually can be carried in the coat pocket.

However, the recorder lacks the necessary volume for calling nature's killers from any great distance. To overcome this obstacle, the Burnham Brothers of Marble Falls, devised an amplifier-speaker system that plugs into a recorder to more than triple its output of sound.

All a person needs to do is wander into the woods, then switch on the machine and let the tape do the calling for him. And he'd better be watching with gun held ready. Newest calling recorder is a cartridge-type job that plays continuously. No rewinding is necessary.

Four different tapes are enclosed in a plastic holder that the hunter inserts into the machine. Caller simply chooses the distress sound he wants, by pushing a button and prepares for action.

But the recorder is just part of the story. Equally as important are the tapes themselves.

When electronic calling was in its infancy the available records were simply recordings of someone using a mouth-blown call. But today the records and tapes carry authentic distress sounds of animals and birds.

These recordings are made by capturing creatures alive, getting their distress call on tape, then releasing them unharmed.

One very effective tape is the shrill of a woodpecker in trouble. The Burnham Brothers made this particular calling tape by placing a net over a hole pecked in the wood siding of a house and tapping on the plank until the bird flew out and into the cord mesh.

When so held, the bird shrieked piteously. A very sensitive tape recorder captured its distress cries. Then the woodpecker was released.

Similar tapes were made with jackrabbits and cottontails. One tape even has the clucking of a chicken on the roost. Promise of a tasty chicken for dinner is, obviously, one sound that no meat-hungry predator can resist.

Your Questions On the Draft . . .
Editor's note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 702 Colorado Street, Austin, Texas 76701. He will welcome your questions.
Q—I'd like to appeal my classification. How do I do it?
A—All you need to do is write your local board and request an appeal within the time specified following your classification, normally 30 days.
Q—Somebody told me there's a shortage of tool and die makers and this exempts tool and die makers from the draft. Is that right?
A—No, they're not exempt. An individual tool and die maker may be deferred, but a blanket deferment of all tool and die makers is not permitted by law. Draft boards have authority to defer all kinds of persons employed in industry, farming, or other occupations if they find the action necessary in maintaining the national health, safety or interest. But each case must be considered on its individual merit.
Q—Can men who go to Canada to evade the draft ever return to the United States without being prosecuted?
A—The Department of Justice will have to decide in each individual case, since prosecution is a function of the Justice Department and not of the Selective Service System. Failure to send an address change or to obey a lawful draft order in Canada are violations subject to prosecution.

Every fall when the leaves turn red, I pay a visit to New York City. There's magic there for me. A pulse of excitement rides the autumn air and no matter what I'm doing, riding the bus on the avenue or browsing in a bookstore, I'm invigorated.

I see exciting plays, visit art galleries and indulge in my love for museums. Shopping in large department stores intrigues my woman's heart. Each year I save some time to sit on a bench and watch the people go by.

I return home refreshed for another year—determined to work harder at my typewriter and improve my work. I am inspired to perfect my craft.

Church-going does the same thing for my inner life. An hour of meditation and worship sends me home with a fresh outlook and a firm resolve to reflect God's love more clearly in the coming week. I am inspired to perfect my life.

Your church is the key to a full life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

FIRST BIRTHDAY
Now listen here folk to my sad tale,
Today's my birthday and I'm going to wait.
I'm a year old and had to eat store cake.
Looks like someone would care enough to bake!

But daddy had to work, and mommy has the flu,
Aunt Rosie is far away, and granny is too.
Opened up my presents and got a pretty ball
Everyone loves me, mommy best of all.

How To Become A Christian

ow to become a Christian; part 4H
Mark 16:15-16 Jesus said, "if we believe his gospel and are baptized, we shall be saved." He said Luke 24:46-47 that "repentance and remission of sin be preached in his name, beginning at Jerusalem." Beginning at Jerusalem Peter said, "repent and be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ, for the forgiveness of your sins, and receive the gift of the Holy Spirit."

We read Acts 2:22-41 that 3000 souls were saved by believing and being baptized; Acts 8:12-13, we find that the samaritans were saved by believing and being baptized; Acts 8:13 Simon believed also and was baptized and continued with Philip; Acts 8:26-40 the eunuch believed, went down into the water, both he and Philip, and was baptized; Acts 10:48 Peter commanded Cornelius and his house to be baptized; Acts 16:14-15 Lydia attended to the things that were spoken of by Paul, and was baptized. Acts 16:30-34 the jailer, when told what to do to be saved, believed and was baptized, likewise the Corinthians; Acts 18:8, the Ephesians; Acts 19:1-5, and the conversion of Paul (saul), Acts 22:1-16. The Romans believed Rom. 1:8 repented, 6:11, confessed, 10:9-10, and they were baptized into Christ, and into his death, 6:2-4, and were made free from sin, 6:17-18.

Let us observe a few examples from the foregoing scriptures and see, not one sinner was told to pray, not one was told to be born again. After Christ died, he and his apostles both, told people plainly what to do to be saved.

Since God is no respecter of persons, all had to do the same thing to be saved, although every requirement is not stated in every case, but plainly implied; yet baptism is named in every case.

Observe that salvation and rejoicing are always after baptism. Acts 2:47 he added all who believed and obeyed to the church, his church, and he built only one, Matt. 16:18; Eph. 1:22-23; 4:4; 1 Cor. 12:20.

Observe again that baptism is always the same hour, day or night. It is the final step in conversion to Christ. No one was saved by faith only, and no infants were baptized.

To be a Christian is to do as the apostle Peter said, Acts 2:38 "Repent and be baptized in the name of Christ, for the forgiveness of your sins." Also 1 Peter 3:21 "the like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us"; be a christian only, join Christ Body, the Church of Christ.

We follow the simple worship of the early Church of Christ in breaking bread on the first day of the week (Acts 20:7), using vocal music only, preaching, praying, and giving according to our prosperity.

Won't you come and worship and serve God until death, with us in the church of Christ, and let heaven be your home eternally when Jesus comes again.

Call or write Ben Perkins, Box 1008, phone 387-2743, Sonora, Texas. Rom. 16:16 "the Churches of Christ salute you."

Teen Scene

by Georganne Schwiening

Now that the Halloween carnival is over, we can think only of this week's ball game. This Friday's game will determine who will be champions in our district. We all know that Iraan has a good team but how can they beat the Broncos? With our good coaching staff and good teamwork from a bunch of great Broncos—plus the support of everyone—why shouldn't we win!

Time certainly has flown by lately. Here it is nearly six weeks time again.

We have gained several new students at school lately. We wish to welcome all of you.

The junior high football team played Menard last Thursday. The score at the end of the game was tied.

School was dismissed at 2:30 on Tuesday because of P.T.A.

Also Tuesday there was a southern assembly program. The speaker told us several stories about spies and of how they risked their lives while on a mission. The speaker was given a standing ovation after he had finished talking to us.

Has anyone seen Austin's dishwasher hands lately? It might have something to do with his being lab assistant.

See you at the game Friday night. Everyone come and support the Broncos!!!!

Firemen's Corner

Special holidays mean special fun, but often they bring special fireworks, Christmas trees or holiday candles can be fire dangers around the home.

An adult should supervise any holiday fun that involves fire hazards. A grownup should handle the matches on these occasions. Fire dangers involving the Christmas tree can be minimized by using fireproof tinsel and only approved lights and cords.

Burning the autumn leaves is a job that fascinates children. Persons burning their leaves should be sure that children play away from the area. Also, be sure the fire is built well away from buildings and pick a day with little or no wind. Never leave a fire unattended.

Besides the holidays with fireworks and special hazards there is another danger in homes that have open heaters or fire places. The special danger in these cases are the children and their house robes and clothing. Children may accidentally back up or brush against heaters. There are many highly inflammable materials used in the making of clothes. Sometimes a mere brush against a heater can cause the clothes to burst into flames.

Speaking of highly inflammable materials, be sure when you buy dolls or stuffed toys for children that the materials are approved. Several years ago some foreign made dolls had to be called back because of the highly inflammable fabrics.

The ladies auxiliary will meet Tuesday, November 14. Mrs. Kyle Donaldson will host the meeting.

We welcome Mrs. Ray Mathis and Mrs. C. W. Cockrell into the ladies auxiliary.

387-2424

The men's regular fire meeting was November 7. A report on this meeting will be given next week.

Mrs. Barrow Hosts Bridge Party

Mrs. George Barrow entertained a bridge club at her home November 6. A dessert was served.

Members were Mmes. Earl Duncan, L. E. Johnson Jr., Louie Trainer, Bob Vicars, R. A. Halbert, P. J. Taylor, Belle Steen, W. O. Crites, Arthur Carroll and Ernest McClelland.

Guests were Mmes. Eulah Newell and Shelly Lowe.

Mrs. P. J. Taylor won high for club, Mrs. Lowe won high for guests and Mrs. Newell won slam prize. Mrs. Belle Steen won the bingo prize.

Table cut prizes were given to Mmes. L. E. Johnson Jr., Louie Trainer and Arthur Carroll.

Card of Thanks

We are trying very hard to thank each and every person but it seems impossible.

Through John and his staff, may we express our many, many thanks to all of you for your kindness during our recent loss. Ervin and Jennie Jackie, Peggy and Kathy
