Interstate Highways are very much in the news today and of special interest since Sonora will have one on the back door-step. It's not unusual to travel 600 miles a day on the new super highways but just think about that first trans-American highway back in 1915: Lincoln Highway.

That first super highway was, by today's standards, a super "mud hole", which took the rare tourist through every town from the Atlantic to the Pacific, if it didn't rain.

A good time back in 1915 was something like 200 miles a day at 20 miles an hour.

In the works now are 41,000 miles of super highway from coast to coast... the largest public works project in history. In all, the planned 41,000 miles will take up almost two million acres of right-of-way... an area larger than Delaware.

De Witt C. Greer, state highway engineer, once said "This nation doesn't have superb highways because she is rich. America is rich because she had the vision to build such highways."

Whatever the truth the conditions of our national and state highways cause a growing sense of pride.

Sunday, February 18, has been set aside as "Safety Sunday" by Governor John Connally as a day to consider the moral obligations of the Texas driver to his fellow man.

Connally recently said, "It is essential that drivers realize that safety is a matter of moral responsibility and abuse of it is a violation of the most precious gift... life itself."

Despite yearly safety campaigns urging motorists to display the utmost of care, 3,500 motorists die and an estimated 200,000 are injured.

Sunday is picked for the day to urge safety to allow ministers to do their part in remembering the moral aspects of safety.

J. E. Adams Seeking Re-election As Commissioner

J. E. Adams has announced his candidacy for re-election as commissioner, Precinct 3. Adams said that he felt it was a privilege to serve the people of the eastern part of the county and asked their help in the coming election to be held May 4.

DONALD VAUGHN, BORDER PATROL INSPECTOR, is presented the sustained superior performance award by William T. (Bill) Toney of Del Rio. Vaughn was presented the award for the outstanding performance of his duties through the past year.

School Completes New Teachers Home

Another addition to the Sonora Independent School District has been completed. The new teacher-home constructed by the school district was accepted in the regular meeting of the board Monday, February 12.

Contract price for the home was $20,913. Wallas Renfro was the contractor. Athletic director, Jerry Hopkins, will live in the home.

New Equalization Board
In other school business, the board appointed three new members and two alternates to the Board of Equalization.

New members are Mrs. Tommy Thorp, Jack Kerbow and Stanton Bundy. Alternates are Dick Black and Clayton Hamilton.

Duties of the equalization board are to evaluate property taxable by the school district and hear complaints in regard to evaluation of property.

Guidance and Counseling

An outline for a formal counseling and guidance program in the high school was submitted by principal David Williams for board approval. Superintendent Ralph Finklea said Sonora High School had always had a program, but never formally organized as this one is. The outline has been evaluated by David Pauley, director of guidance and counseling for the Texas Education Agency. Pauley said the plan is a very excellent one "particularly for a smaller school."

L. W. Elliott School

A proposal to construct a fence around the playground at L. W. Elliott School by the PT-A was approved. Gary Gardner, principal, said that many of the PT-A members were concerned about the danger of children straying into the streets at the playground. Gardner said PT-A funds would be used and the board approved the project and voted to help the PT-A if necessary.

New Contracts

The board approved the renewal of contracts for the principals of each school in the district. The contracts will be for two years.

Jerry N. Shurley To Seek Office Of County Attorney

Jerry N. Shurley, Sonora attorney, has announced his candidacy for the office of county attorney. He is presently serving in that office.

In announcing for office, Shurley thanked the people of Sutton County for their past support and asked for their vote in the May 4 Democratic primary.

DELEGATES NAMED

Mrs. Edwin Sawyer, Mrs. James Menzies, Mrs. Albert Ward and Mrs. Bill Morris will be delegates to the Heart of Texas District Convention of Women's Clubs. The convention will be held March 19 and 20 in Brownwood.

ATTEND MOTHER'S FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart attended the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Enoch Hayes in Whitney, February 4. Mrs. Hayes was 88. Also there were the Stewart's children, Mrs. Peter Bretsky of Evanston, Ill., and Sp.5 Samuel James Stewart of Denver.

Mark Jacoby, Debbie Galbreath Named in Top Ten of 4-H Club

Two Sonora youths, Debbie Galbreath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Galbreath, and Mark Jacoby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Jacoby, have been honored among the top 10 4-H members in Texas.

The honor was made at the 13th annual Rural Youth Awards Banquet held Friday, February 9, in San Antonio. Each year the top ten members of 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers of America and Future Homemakers of America are honored at the banquet.

Both have been active members of the Sutton County 4-H Club.

Miss Galbreath is currently the sweetheart of the club and serves as president of the 4-H horse club. She has also been an active member of the senior horse judging team which placed fourth in the 1967 District Six contest last year.

She also has been active in horse shows and won Grand Champion mare honors with her registered Quarter Horse "Little Dandy Bee", in the State 4-H Horse Show in 1967. She also won the third place award for horse record book in this district.

Mark Jacoby is a Gold Star winner, the highest county 4-H award. He is now president of the Sutton County Club and was recently elected regional president of the organization.

lected regional president of the organization.

Jacoby has been active in various activities and was recently the recipient of the 1967 4-H Public Speaking award.

He was a member of the senior 4-H livestock team last year that won fourth place honors in the District Six contest. He was also second high individual in the contest.

Jacoby swept the finewool lamb classes in the recent 4-H livestock show here with wins in both lightweight and mediumweight finewool and best pen of three lambs. He also won Grand Champion honors for his breeding Hereford in the same show.

Mrs. Turner Named

Mrs. Erma Lea Turner will serve as Easter Seal representative and treasurer for the 1968 Easter Seal Appeal in Sutton County, it was announced by Robert W. Milam, M. D. of McAllen, president of the Easter Seal society for crippled children and adults of Texas.

Texaco Rejects Purchase Option

Texaco, Inc., has forfeited its 30-day purchase option on the city's 1.09 acre tract of land at the future intersection of Interstate Highway 10 and U. S. Highway 277 North.

The purchase option was submitted by Texaco to the City Commissioners at the January 8 commissioners meeting. According to Mayor A. E. Prugel, an official of Texaco said, by telephone, the oil company would not exercise its option to purchase the land.

New Electrical Circuit

The city project for putting a new electrical circuit into operation by summer is now under way, according to city manager Jimmy H. Harris.

Harris recommended the plan to the commissioners several months ago. Estimated cost of the poles, transformers, and other equipment is $7,500.

The plan calls for all of the work to be done by city employees rather than a contractor. Harris said utilization of city workmen will save the city about $6,000 in construction costs.

The new lines will improve the quality of power in West Sonora during times of peak power usage, Harris said.

Broncos and Braves Meet In District Contest Friday

The Sonora Broncos, eastern zone basketball champions, will meet their west zone counterparts, the Iraan Braves, in San Angelo Friday for the District 8-A championship.

Game time will be 7:30 p.m., Friday, February 16, in San Angelo's Central High School Gymnasium. According to superintendent Ralph Finklea tickets will cost 50 cents for students and $1 for adults. He said there would be no advance ticket sales.

In the final district game of the season, Sonora defeated Junction

MITCH TRAINER DRIVES IN TO SHOOT against the Junction Eagles in the last district game of the season. Kerry Joy (33) is moving in for the rebound. The Broncos won the game 72-36 and will meet Iraan for the district championship Friday.

72-36. The ill-fated Eagles had only two of their regular starters in the lineup, one of which was injured. The win against Junction not needed to win the eastern zone due to the previous win-loss records of the zone teams. Iraan defeated top-rated Ozona last week to clinch the west zone championship.

Woman's Club Plans Annual Art Show Featuring Elementary Children's Work

Art work in three different media will be judged in the annual Sonora Woman's Club art show March 21.

Exhibits of paintings, drawings and crafts will be on display from both L. W. Elliott and Central Elementary School. Otis Lumpkin, an art instructor at Angelo State College, will judge the entries.

Lumpkin is a Texas-born artist with degrees in art from the University of Arkansas and East Texas State University.

His paintings hang in Nelson Gallery-Atkins Museum, in Kansas City, Missouri; Arkansas Art Center in Little Rock; and in David Gallery in Houston.

In the last three years he has shown paintings in at least six exhibitions including the "Texas Annual", sponsored by the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts and "Selected Painters, U.S.A.," sponsored by the Mulvane Art Center of Topeka, Kansas.

Lumpkin has also had a one-man show at the Parthenon, Nashville Tennessee.

Work will be divided into four different classifications by grade. Kindergarten and first grade students will form one classification. Second and third grades; fourth, fifth and sixth; and junior and senior high students will form the other three classes.

"The purpose of the art show," said Mrs. Armer Earwood, art committee chairman, "is to encourage an awareness of the need for art in developing creative expression beyond the limits of our language."

All show entries must be in by March 15.

Armer Earwood On African Tour

Armer Earwood, Sonora rancher, is touring South Africa as one of three representatives of the Mohair Council of America.

The three Texas ranchers will remain in South Africa for 25 days studying the South African mohair industry. The others are James L. Powell of Schleicher County and Al Dishman of Uvalde.

According to Walter Pfluger, secretary of the Mohair Council, the purpose of the trip is to study the entire mohair industry there, from shearing all the way to advertising and product development.

The program of study is being co-sponsored there by the South African Mohair Board.

The trio will spend most of their trip in Port Elizabeth and Johannesburg.

Sonorans Win in Fort Worth And San Antonio Livestock Shows

Sonora's all-girl 4-H Club grass judging team took fourth place in the Fort Worth Livestock Show Saturday, February 3. According to team coach Edgar Glasscock, 48 county teams were entered.

Members of the first team are June Alexander, Patti Richardson and Janet Pope. Second team members were Cora Pope, Sarah Allison and Shelia Alexander.

June Alexander placed fifth in the contest with a score of 389. A score of 400 points was the highest possible figure in the contest.

Walter Pope and Edgar Glasscock accompanied the team to Fort Worth.

San Antonio Show

In the San Antonio Livestock Show Sonorans placed in several sheep and Quarter Horse events.

Winners include a fifth place by Ralph Mayer's gelding shown by E. J. Freeman. It placed in the halter event for Quarter Horse geldings foaled in 1965.

George E. (Bud) Smith won the champion Rambouillet fleece honors. He showed the first and second place yearling ram in that class.

Another Sonoran, W. L. (Tom) Davis showed the first place Rambouillet aged ram.

Chris Berger, a Sonoran now enrolled in New Mexico Military Institute, placed in all classes of Delaine-Merino sheep with first for his aged rams, yearling ewes, and also Grand Champion finewool fleece of the show.

Sutton County placed first for the Best County Exhibit of the wool show. Sterling County was second and Kendall County third.

Junior Wool Show

In the Junior Wool Show Debbie Howard placed second for her Rambouillet ram, third and fifth with yearling ewes, and John Da-

JIMMY H. HARRIS, newly elected president of the Chamber of Commerce, talks over industrial development with Bob Johnson, manager, and Marion Elliott, outgoing president. Meeting for an installation breakfast Friday at French's, the group also named John T. King vice president and Warren Hemphill treasurer. Other new and carry-over directors attending included Walter Pope, the Rev. Ross Welch, Buster Shroyer, Earl Johnson and Edwin Sawyer.

NAMED TEXAN OF THE YEAR—Each January the Texas Press Association designates a native born Texan, now residing outside the State and bringing honor to the state, as its TEXAN OF THE YEAR. This year the selection was from the field of sports. Chosen was Raymond E. Berry, outstanding end for the Baltimore Colts. Berry, born in Corpus Christi and reared in Paris, has been with the same National Football League club for the past 13 years. TPA President Harold Hudson (left) of Perryton is pictured here helping the sterling athlete hold his award-winning copper engraved plaque. Presentation was made by President Hudson on behalf of the newspapers of Texas for Berry's outstanding accomplishments, gracious charm, Christian leadership and conduct both on and off the field of play.

Firemen's Corner Jubilee Editions

The most effective way to fight a fire is to prevent its starting. We have an unfortunate habit of dismissing most fires as "accidents" or "unavoidable". But, how unavoidable was it really? How unavoidable is a carelessly discarded cigarette, or overloaded electrical circuit, or poorly maintained heating and cooling equipment?

We must not ignore the fact that fires are avoidable. Fires should not be considered as "accidental" or "unavoidable". Structural fires can be prevented. Fires are caused by us; men, women, children, of this country, of this state, of this city. We must reform our habits and educate our citizens as to the actual causes of fires.

It has been said that in addition to the human element, the leading causes of fires are ignorance, carelessness, and poor housekeeping. Education and training can eliminate the ignorance, and good example can eliminate the carelessness and poor housekeeping habits.

Fire prevention is something we must believe in, practice constantly, and something we must live. If we are going to reduce the terrible loss of life and property, fire prevention must be included as an integral part of our daily operations.

387-2424

Mrs. Leon Neely will host the fire auxiliary meeting Tuesday, February 13, at the fire hall.

Searching Your Car
If a policeman stops you for a traffic violation, may he search your car?
This question might seem minor. But it raises some major constitutional issues. According to the Fourth Amendment, you are protected against "unreasonable searches." And evidence obtained from such a search cannot be used against you in court.
But what is "unreasonable?" Gradually, through a series of court rulings, several basic rules have become fairly well established.
For one thing, the search is not lawful if the motorist was stopped on a trumped-up charge, merely as an excuse for making the search.
In one case police suspected that a certain car contained illicit lottery tickets. To find out, they halted the car for "passing on a curve"—even though passing on that particular curve happened to be perfectly legal.
As it turned out, the police did indeed find lottery tickets in the car. Nevertheless, this evidence was held inadmissible in court, because there was no valid basis for the arrest in the first place.
Nor is the search lawful, even when there really was a traffic violation, if the search has no logical relation to the violation. Thus, police who stopped a motorist for making an improper U—turn were held not justified in searching the car for narcotics.
On the other hand, police who stopped a motorist for drunk driving were held justified in looking for whiskey. Their discovery of a bottle of gin, half empty, helped afterward to convict the motorist of driving while intoxicated.
Furthermore, the search is lawful if, after the car is stopped, police observe some telltale sign of criminal activity.

Of course, the safest procedure for the police is to get a warrant before making their search. But the law is less insistent on a warrant for searching a car than for searching a house.
The reason is obvious: whisking a car out of the jurisdiction is easier than whisking a house.
For example, while an officer was writing a ticket for speeding, a passenger in the car shifted his position — accidentally revealing a hidden pistol. The officer promptly made a search, discovering not only weapons but stolen merchandise as well. Under these circumstances, the search was held lawful and the evidence admissible in court.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

Some of us work so hard at fishing, we take all the joy out of it.

We spend so much of our time trying to catch a fish, or just covering the water, that we fail to get the complete relaxation that a fishing trip should provide.

Recently I was pleasure boating on a central Texas lake when I saw three fishermen, all of whom I knew. Each was working the shore line with his plug.

They had boated a few fish in the wee hours of the morning. But they hadn't caught a fish in more than two hours. Nevertheless, they were still hard at it—with the hot summer sun beaming down on them.

Before I got to their boat I could tell that each had lost its vigor. The men were tired. They admitted they had not stopped to rest all day.

I had a few bottles of soda pop in my ice chest so I pulled over to the shore, got out and offered each a drink and a chance to stretch his legs.

They had been sitting in a cramped position in the boat so long they could hardly stand. Their fish had been caught long before noon, but still they were plugging.

Too many of us fish that way. Most of the time we have but one day a week—sometimes only one a month—when we can get out and fish. Then, of course, we try to crowd everything into that one day. So we fish without regard for rest, or even food or drink.

I know a guide on a nearby lake who requires that his customers take time off to rest.

He gets them out at the crack of dawn, when fishing is at its best. About 10 o'clock he tells them they'll have just 30 minutes more of fishing. By 11 o'clock they are back at the dock.

He tells them to get into some lounging clothes, eat a good meal and meet him back at the dock at 3 o'clock. Then they will fish until sundown.

Once they've had a good meal, and their arms and bodies have had a chance to fully relax, they can fish hard the remainder of the afternoon and finish up at a time when the sunset is beautiful.

Another guide I know carries along a pint sized vacuum bottle of coffee for each fisherman in his boat. Along about 8 o'clock he stops for coffee and urges them to do likewise. At noon he refills each bottle with lemonade, orange juice, or milk.

With individual vacuum bottles each fisherman can take time out from fishing for a refreshing drink, then get going again. And without disturbing anyone else for a bottle opener, or rocking the boat while he rummages around in an ice chest.

A friend who recently made a float trip told me how that trip worked.

Each person also had his bottle of coffee. At 10 o'clock there was some fruit for them. At noon they pulled into the bank and spread out a picnic lunch.

Then they leaned back against a big tree trunk and just relaxed and talked or caught an hour of shut-eye. As a result they started out fresh again for the afternoon.

Chances are they didn't miss a fish during the time they were resting.

When night came they were not exhausted from beating the water with their lures. The trip was refreshing.

Q—I understand there is a new rule on dependent children of divorced parents. What is it?

A—A new provision added to the tax laws last year provides that the parent who has custody of the children for the greater part of the year will usually be able to claim their dependency exemption.

However, if the other parent contributes at least $600 during the year to the support of the child he or she, under certain circumstances, may be entitled to the exemption. There is also a special

Taxpayers Questions Answered by IRS

Q—My son held down a full-time job before going into the Army last fall. I just got his W-2 statement. Does he have to file a return?

A—Yes, your son has to file a return if he meets the filing requirements. However, if he is stationed overseas, he has additional time to do it.

Taxpayers overseas have an automatic extension from April 15 to June 15 to file 1967 returns. If your son is in Vietnam, his return isn't due until 180 days after he leaves there.

Q—What taxes can I deduct on my return?

A—State and local income, sales, gasoline, personal property, and real estate taxes are deductible. Deductions are not allowed for: Federal taxes, drivers licenses, state and local taxes on alcoholic beverages, tobacco and certain miscellaneous taxes. Also, the cost of auto tags are deductible only to the extent it is based on the value of your car.
