Meeting Called On Spring Turkey Season In County

Bill Stewart, president of Edwards Plateau Game and Wildlife Association says that a special meeting of all Sutton County ranchers will be held at the 4-H Center at 8 p.m. Tuesday, August 5, for the purpose of discussing pros and cons of a spring turkey gobbler season.

At the meeting it is hoped that a large number of persons will be present in order to recommend a course of action to the Sutton County Commissioners Court based on a majority opinion of the ranchers.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has issued a proclamation which permits the taking of an additional turkey gobbler during the spring season in Kerr, Kimble, and Sutton Counties. The special turkey gobbler season will be April 25 through May 2, 1970. The adoption of this season is subject to approval by the county commissioners court in each of the three counties.

A representative of the Parks Department will be present to discuss the spring turkey hunt and to answer questions concerning it.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Edwards Plateau Game and Wildlife Association to inform the ranchmen and to give each an opportunity to voice opinions said Stewart.

They plan to be here Friday, August 8, for a barbecue luncheon at the city municipal park as guests of local Lions. Departing for Kerrville after lunch, they will tour the Lions Crippled Children Camp Friday night, then Saturday drive to the LBJ Ranch and on to New Braunfels for a party and overnight stop.

They will also visit with the Texas Legislature. They plan to have lunch at Villa Capri with Austin Lions, and back to Dallas in the afternoon.

August 19 through August 23, the group will tour East Texas, spending most of the time in the Houston-Galveston area.

The German youth, who come from all over Germany, will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bushong, Mr. and Mrs. Surry Shaffer, and seven selected Texas youths. Bushong is director of the German Youth exchange program.

Those making the tour include Wolfgang Biedermann, Heinz Block, Stephen Bruhl, Hans Ulrich Buckenberger, Gilbert Burk, Michael Eckhardt, and Wolfgang Ehrmann, Wolfgang

Hunting Seasons And Bag Limits Set In Each Of Ten Regulatory Districts

Hunting season and bag limits in each of the 10 regulatory districts in Texas have been released.

Deer season and bag limits have been set in the Edwards Plateau district consisting of Bandera, Burnet, Blanco, Comal, Crockett, Edwards, Gillespie, Hays, Kerr, Kendall, Lampasas, Llano, Mason, McCulloch, Menard, Real, San Saba, Schleicher, Sutton, Travis, and Val Verde Counties.

The season is November 8 through January 1. Bag limit is three deer—no more than two bucks. Antlerless deer may be taken by permit only, in designated areas. Javelina and squirrel—no closed season and no bag limit.

Regular turkey season will be November 8 through January 1 with a bag limit of two turkeys—gobblers or bearded hens except in Bandera, Crockett, Edwards, Kerr, Kimble, Menard, Real, Sutton, Schleicher and Val Verde Counties where the bag limit is two turkeys—either sex.

Plans call for an experimental spring turkey season in Kerr, Kimble, and Sutton Counties from April 25 - May 2, 1970 when hunters may take an additional gobbler.

In the Trans-Pecos area, deer season is November 29 through December 14 with a bag limit of four in the aggregate not more than one may be a buck mule deer; not more than two may be buck whitetailed deer; not more than three antlerless deer. Antlerless deer may be taken by permit only.

Antelope season in the Trans-Pecos area is October 4 through 12 with a bag limit of one per season by permit only.

SEEKING LISTINGS

The Chamber of Commerce is seeking listings of hunting facilities available here. Doyle Morgan, secretary of the organization, said that he was receiving an increasing number of calls for information on hunting leases available.

He said that of the 168 questionnaires mailed to land owners in January, only 6 had been returned and three places were listed as being available.

In an advertisement in another part of this paper the Chamber of Commerce provides forms for land owners to fill out if they want to be included in the free listing the chamber provides.

Other Areas Left Bone Dry

Showers Favor Parts of County

By E. B. Keng, SCS Technician
Showers during the past 10 days have brought temporary relief over parts of Sutton county from the bone dry period which started in May and early June. Though the rainfall pattern has been extremely erratic, some areas have received up to 3.5 inches from several showers. Other areas have been completely missed.

Parts of Sonora received approximately two inches of moisture early this week, following light showers last week. Herbert Fields reported 3.5 to 4 inches during the past 10 days on his ranch four miles southeast of Sonora.

The rain showers have been of the thunderstorm type, and were accompanied by brilliant light-

A rash of range grass fires were set, with as many as three burning at one time. Fires have been more abundant in central and west Texas this year than in the past 25 years—because of the tinder dry grass.

Mrs. Henry Greenhill was in the office the other day buying a clothes-marking kit for her daughter, Mary Lena, who will be a student at San Angelo State University this fall.

Having already been through the process of sending one girl to college (Sue attended the University in Austin), Mrs. Greenhill said she was sending Mary Lena to a school nearby.

This, she said, was because she had had to make so many trips to Austin to see a homesick Sue. She just wasn't going to drive that far this time.

After warning me that my time was coming (I have two daughters), Mrs. Greenhill related the following story:

While Sue was at the University (making calls home regularly) there came a collect call to the Greenhills from Austin. Naturally Mrs. Greenhill accepted the charges. The girl on the other end was sobbing so heartbrokenly that she could only say, "Mother, I'm in a lot of trouble."

Finally, Mrs. Greenhill took command of the situation and said, "Sue Greenhill, you stop bawling and tell me what's wrong."

"Mother, what's wrong with you? — You aren't my mother! — and slam went the receiver on the Austin end of the line. Mrs. Greenhill said she still wonders who the girl was and what was her problem.

"We Always Froze To Death"

TWO OF THESE MONSTROUS STOVES were purchased in 1937 by the Fort McKavett PTA to provide heat for the historic fort community's school. Mrs. Frances Fish, Texas Parks Department assistant, explained that the stoves were built to burn coal, "but we used wood, and always froze to death!" Although she is now a Menard resident, she attended the Fort McKavett school and later taught classes. School was held by soldiers from 1868 to 1883 and continued by the community until May, 1952. Mrs.

Fish said during succeeding years everything but the stoves was removed from the school—even the blackboards. "But since the stoves were bigger than the door (they were assembled after they were brought in) folks couldn't take them off." Mrs. Fish has an office in the school and is usually there on Monday and Tuesday. Visitors will find her interested in the future of the fort as restoration proceeds and also informed on the history and background of Fort McKavett.

Economic Highlights That Affect The Future Of All People In Our Nation

History has shown that once nations embark on a course of monetary inflation, they find themselves caught in a web from which there is no escape. However, in the case of the U.S., the maxim that history repeats itself may hopefully be proven wrong. Among a minority of economic crystal gazers who foresee an eventual return to an era of monetary stability and normal growth is that highly respected institution, The National Industrial Conference Board. Mr. Martin R. Gainsbrugh, senior vice president of the Board, recently addressed a meeting of the Edison Electric Institute on "What Is Ahead For The Economic Climate?" His remarks provide a brief but penetrating appraisal of the future that is both instructive and constructive.

Based upon National Industrial Conference Board studies, Mr. Gainsbrugh believes the 1970's will see a restructuring of the economy and a prolonged period of "disinflation." He gives five fundamental conclusions for this outlook, together with the assumptions underlying them.

First there will be an improved output of marginal workers—assuming better and more widespread training of the hard-core; more effective meshing of educational inputs with job requirements; and development of national measures of job vacancies.

Second, there will be intensification of domestic and international competition. This conclusion is based more on fact than assumption. The United States is confronted with increasingly intense competition from abroad. Witness the recent unfavorable trade balance. The overhang of idle capacity intensifies domestic competition. Jointly, this will alter the ability to pass on wage in-

John Poerner Explains Wage Bill

By Representative J Poerner
Credit for Tips, Meals and lodging

In the case of tipped employees (those who regularly receive more than $20 a month in tips) the amount of tips received can be credited against the minimum wage in an amount determined by the employer, but not to exceed 50 percent of the minimum wage. A tipped employee, therefore, can be paid as little as 62½ cents per hour until Feb. 1, 1971, and then as little as 70 cents per hour.

The cost of meals and lodging furnished to employees may be included in computing wages.

Reporting
No reports or record keeping of any kind is required. The only paper work required is that each worker is to be given a written statement of his earnings, signed by the employer or his agent. (See below). Although reporting and record keeping is not required, the best protection against unjustified claims is to keep records.

Employees Statement for Employees - Penalty for False Statements
Employers are required to furnish a statement to each employee at the end of each pay period, showing the employee's name, rate of pay, total amount earned, the amount of deductions, the net amount, and the total number of hours worked (if paid by the hour) or the total units of production (if paid by a piece rate basis). The statement can be in any form determined by the employer, including notations on a check given to the employee for his wages. The statement must be signed by the employer or his agent.

Knowingly giving a worker a false statement of earnings for the purpose of depriving him of wages to which he is entitled under the law is a misdemeanor punishable by fine of not less than $100 or more than $500 or confinement in jail for not less than 5 days or more than 30 days, or both.

Enforcement
There is no enforcement agency other than the courts. Employees can sue employers for failure to pay the minimum wage. If successful, they will recover double the amount by which they were underpaid, plus attorney's fees and court costs.

The Meaning of the Term "man-day" in Relation to the Exemption of Certain Agricultural Employers
"Man-day" means any day when an employee works at least four hours.

Farmers are exempt from the law if they use less than "300 man-days" of labor in any quarter of the year.

To illustrate: If a farm has one employee who works at least four hours each day for five days each week this would be 5 "man-days" per week. A quarter consists of 13 weeks, so during a quarter this employee would put in 65 "man-days." If the farmer has two such employees the total "man-days" for a quarter would be 130; if he has three the total for a quarter would be 195 "man-days" would be 260, and for five employees total "man-days" would be 325. Thus, the farmer can employ four persons the year round, working their five days a week and still be below the "300 man-days" that bring him under the Act. An employee who works six days a week for 13 weeks accounts for 78 "man-days". Therefore, a farmer can employ 3 persons the year round, working their six days a week, and remain exempt from the law.

Clearly small farmers are exempt from the law, along with many who are not so small.

Farm operators who are approaching the "300 man-day" level in each quarter of the year would be well advised to keep records so as to substantiate their exemption if it should be challenged in a law-suit.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Share-the-cost Passengers
"As long as you are doing the driving, let me pay for the gasoline."

Suppose that you, as the driver accept this kind of offer from your passenger. Could such an arrangement knock out your liability insurance in case of an accident? After all, liability policies often do say that the driver must not use his car to carry "passengers for hire."

Nevertheless, in a number of cases, courts have held that the insurance coverage is still in effect. They reason that a casual payment by a passenger, just to be sociable, does not really mean he is hiring the car.

But suppose the arrangement is somewhat more formal. Take this situation:

A young man heading for a Florida vacation took along three passengers—all of them strangers. Before they started on the journey, he collected from each passenger a flat fee as payment for transportation.

Here, after an accident on the highway, the driver was informed by his insurance company that this liability policy did not protect him.

And, after litigation, the court agreed with the insurance company. The judge said that even though the driver was not a regular "carrier", he had indeed been carrying "passengers for hire" on this occasion.

In the final analysis, your insurance coverage will depend on the exact language of your own particular policy. Many modern policies do have a specific provision allowing you to carry—on a share-the-cost basis—such passengers as friends, neighbors, fellow workers, or school children.

It is a wise precaution, before collecting any but the most informal contributions from passengers, to check your insurance policy first. Otherwise, you may be caught without an insurance umbrella when you need it most.

Accent On Health

Sooner or later everyone will find the need for a family health record, and if you don't have one, now is the time to start keeping it, advises the Texas State Department of Health.

If you have a youngster about ready for school, you'll realize the necessity of having accurate and current records. The health record can be of permanent value for the children's school records, for insurance data, and for your family doctor's use.

An individual health record can be had free of charge from the Texas State Department of Health in Austin.

Start it off with a brief listing of family history. Enter the date and place of birth of each person, and the place and date and cause of death of any deceased. Also enter pertinent information and the medical facts about each family member, such as the presence of chronic illness or physical handicap.

Next, start a section for dates of immunizations, being sure to provide space for each member of the family. Allow room for entering dates of immunizations against whooping cough, polio, measles and typhoid fever. Don't forget to include the dates of booster shots.

In a section of general information list such things as the type of blood each member of the family has and the drug sensitivities or special allergies of each. If the RH factor is known to be present in anyone, be sure to record it prominently.

The health record ought to include a check list of who in the family has had the more common diseases of childhood—chicken pox, mumps, measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever, diphtheria. Most of these are diseases of childhood, but sometimes an adult is exposed. German measles is a serious threat to expectant mothers, and mumps is a dangerous disease in any adult.

Dates of physical examinations, with a line or two for notes of special advice or instructions that followed the check-up, should be noted in the health record. So should illnesses requiring hospitalization, listing the nature of illness or injury, name of physician and hospital, dates of entry and discharge, length of illness, and type of surgery, if any.

Finally, list the family's health and accident insurance information for quick and easy reference when needed.

Cool Corn Quickly For Best Results

The less time from field to fire the better for sweet corn.

Warm temperatures and time causes it to lose flavor and tenderness, says Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist. Natural corn sugar begins to change to starch within 20 minutes after picking.

Sweet corn should be cooled as quickly as possible. Sugar conversion to starch increases rapidly as the temperature increases. While as much as 50 percent of the sugar may be lost in a day's time at a storage temperature of 86 degrees F., only about 8 percent is lost if the corn is stored at 32 degrees F.

When shopping for fresh corn, look for: corn in ice or refrigerator displays; even rows of fresh, tender, plump, milky kernels—just firm enough to offer slight resistance to pressure.

Fresh corn can be stored for a day or two if wrapped in plastic or put into a tight container. For good quality, corn must be kept cold and fairly moist. Use as soon as possible.

Water Rights Claims Filing Due Sept. 1

County Agent, Clint Langford reminds local persons using water from a stream or a lake that they should get in touch with the Texas Water Rights Commission, Box 12396 in Austin by September 1 if they plan to continue to take water from these sources.

Under the new Water Rights Law, everyone who claims a right to use water from a stream or a lake, except those using it only for domestic or range livestock purposes must file a claim by September 1 of this year. This includes all who have been using water for recreation, feed lots, water flooding, irrigation, mining or municipal purposes. Persons who have been using water under "Riparian Rights" must file for a permit also, as these rights will be converted into permitted rights under the new law.

Farm and ranch users whose ponds are used only for domestic purposes and for watering livestock are exempt, but if the pond is used for recreation, feed lot, or other purposes, a claim should be filed.

Forms for filing water rights claims are available at the County Agents office.

Looking At Life

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church
The Soul Speaks

Last week we began an imaginary dialogue between the body and soul. We did this to help people see the right relationship between these two aspects of human life. It is time for the soul to speak, but first let me point out that I mean by "soul" that part of each individual which transcends the physical—the part which loves and hopes and prays. Now listen:

"I am glad to have a chance to speak. Often I am not given the hearing I would like to have. There are even some people who do not believe that I exist. They think that nothing is real unless you see it with physical eye or touch it with physical hand. In an age so given to material concerns, I suppose I should not be surprised when I am ignored.

"However, I find this neglect amazing because I am the unique and indestructible reality of each person. I am that which relates him to God the Creator. When we are told that God "made man in his own image", this does not refer to the body; it means that a man has an invisible inner entity (i.e. the soul) capable of communion with God. Indeed this is what distinguishes a man from the beasts of the field.

"My main problem is that I am undernourished. I do not get the food I need to grow and develop, such food as spiritual study, prayer, meditation and worship. I am sometimes allowed to starve for so long that I almost die. In this weakened condition I am not able to exercise the control and direction of a human life as I was commissioned to do. My friend, Brother Body, takes over the authority that rightfully belongs to me.

"I do not want to be an alarmist, but there are tragic consequences when I am forgotten. Jesus sounded this warning years ago: 'What does it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his soul?'"

VITAL BRIDGE

Living on an island has its problems! Islands are just fine . . . until you run out of bread or need the refrigerator fixed. That's why we built this rustic bridge last summer. It's safer for the children than our old boat, and it links us with our neighbors if we or they need help in a hurry.

There is great need for another bridge these days . . . not of wood or stone, but of understanding between the world's people. "No man is an island . . ." We are all children of God, made in His image.

The Christian Church is the living bridge that seeks to unite men everywhere in the fellowship of Jesus Christ, the Prince of Peace. By supporting your church and striving to live by its teachings, you help to span the gulf of ignorance and fear that still separates us from our brothers.

Jerry Phillips Car Stolen Last Week Found In Del Rio After Abandonment

High school basketball coach Jerry Phillips' 1969 Pontiac sedan was stolen last Tuesday about 6 a.m. The car was recovered at Del Rio, last Thursday after it had been abandoned earlier. Damage to the auto was estimated $200-$300 which occurred when the culprits evidently hit a highway marker.

It is suspected that two Mexicans who fled Tom Green County jail Tuesday found the Phillips car with the keys in it and took it for their escape to Del Rio. The Leroy Whitworth car was reportedly stolen first then later abandoned somewhere in the vicinity of the Phillips home, when the gears locked on the car.

Officers are looking for a man who rented a boat on Lake Amistad and disappeared after leaving the stolen Phillips car. Sgt. Don Lee of the Department of Public Safety said a man rented a 16 foot boat at Amistad Fishing Camp in Rock Canyon Tuesday and left a car, which later proved to be the Phillips car.

Dave Crowley, who runs the Amistad Fishing Camp, said Friday morning the man told him at the time the boat was rented, he would be on the lake 2 or 2½ hours at the most. Crowley was away from the camp that night and when he came back his wife told him the boat was missing. The DPS checked with the national park service and found out the marina on Diablo East had reported a man in one of Crowleys boats had bought gasoline there.

Deputy Sheriff Calvin Wallen checked with Mexican authorities to see if the boat had been sighted on the Mexican side of the lake, but as yet there has been no word.

Deputy Sheriff Pryce Taylor contacted here Tuesday morning, said so far as he knew there still was no trace of the boat nor the occupants.

The Fenced-In Village

It was the first home in Tyler County. But that was only the beginning of firsts for this structure. It was constructed by James Barclay, first Tyler County Indian Agent, who became the first county tax assessor-collector.

Barclay, appointed Alabama-Coushatta Indian agent by Republic of Texas President Sam Houston, built his home of 18-inch hand-hewn yellow pine split logs. Area Indians made the building a cooperative effort by helping him raise logs for his home.

During his life in Tyler County, Barclay was a busy man, holding many county offices including a judgeship, and traveling to the state capitol as a representative in the Legislature.

Barclay's home was built near Big Cypress Creek on the Alabama-Coushatta Trace or Spanish Trail in 1842. It became known as the fenced-in village.

Located nine miles southwest of Woodville, the Barclay home is still occupied, as it has been since its construction, by descendants of the builder. Its present owner, W. H. Risinger, is the great grandson of James Barclay.
