Phone News to Hazel McClelland, 387-2513

Mrs. Lin Hooper and son, Craig have returned home to Greenville, after spending a week with her family, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Whitworth, Steven and David.

Just Arrived

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bob Ellingson of Winslow, Ariz., have announced arrival of a son, Kenneth Lang, born July 24, 1969. He weighed 8 pounds. The Ellingsons also have another child, Tanya, who will be 2 in December. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Glasscock of Sherwood and Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Locklin.

Microwave Ovens Cut Cooking Time

Microwave ovens may replace conventional methods for barbecuing of meats and poultry; they do the job more than three times faster.

Conventional methods of barbecuing are time-consuming and cumbersome.

Researchers at Southern University, Baton Rouge, La., working under an Agricultural Research Service contract, compared microwave oven-smoking and conventional hardwood coal barbecuing on fresh pork, ham, beef, and chicken. Actual cooking time by microwave was only 3 minutes a pound for spare ribs and chicken halves, 5 minutes for beef brisket, and 6 minutes for fresh ham.

A trained taste panel rated all meats barbecued by microwaves as good as meats over hardwood coals.

Pieces cooked by microwave were cooked in a separate unit, while those barbecued over coals were smoked during cooking. Combined cooking and smoking time a pound by the microwave technique was one-third or less than for conventional methods.

The newness and excitement of school has worn off and has been replaced by an attitude of tolerance. The upcoming football game has put some of the excitement and stars of anticipation in the eyes of avid fans. The teachers have had trouble suppressing the bubbly energy of the students from running over. Classes have been interrupted numerously to discuss the team and the only outcome of the Bronco's first game, Victory!

The United Youth Fellowship met for an organizational meeting Sunday night in the home of Miss Betty Jack Cooper. About 30 high school students were on hand for hot dogs and to enjoy planned recreation. Bert Bloodworth played and sang several of his own compositions. It was an enjoyable evening for all attending. Another meeting is planned for next Sunday beginning at 6:30 at the First United Methodist Church. Supper is planned and will be followed by a film entitled "The Parable". This film was on exhibit at one of the world fairs and is considered to be one of the best in its category. Jan McClelland is also a leader.

The first football game is in Winters tomorrow night. This is only the beginning of the long season in which the Broncos will have to try their best if they are going to retain their No. 1 ranking. No football team can be No. 1 if it has no support to help it along. So I'll see you at the pep rally Friday afternoon in the old gym at 3 p.m. and again at Winters Friday night. BRONCOS PLUS DETERMINATION ADDED TO TOWN SUPPORT YIELDS IN THE PRESENCE OF COMPETITION — VICTORY!

PRIZED POT—Reconstruction of one of the few pottery finds in the Big Bend area is one of the time consuming chores of Mrs. Joy Gill, designer of the Museum of the Big Bend. The pot and other artifacts are one of six displays in the museum's Indian section.

Museum of the Big Bend Opens Aug. 1 On Alpine's Sul Ross State University

Attendance at the Museum of the Big Bend on the Sul Ross State University campus topped 3,000 during the first month of operation. The museum opened August 1 and has averaged 100 visitors daily.

One of the most popular displays in the new museum has been the Indian history wall. Four cases are on display in the section, devoted to Indian dress, surface finds and cave finds—the latter two displays representing artifacts found in the Big Bend area—and Indian basket work.

One of the more popular display cases contains a carved Indian head wearing a plains Indian headdress. The Indian head was carved in mesquite by Maisie Lee of Marathon. Other artifacts in the display include a shield made of buffalo hide which is covered with doe skin, a metal tomahawk, arrowheads, and an Apache bow and arrow.

Indian artifacts found in fields, mountains, and stream beds are displayed in a separate case. The artifacts include a burial sack, sandals, arrows, and beads. Mrs. Gill estimates that the articles are from a period from 1800 to 1875 in the era before the tribes were moved to reservations. Articles found in caves are displayed in a separate case. James Chapman, trainer, and Richard Thompson, General Manager of Ruidoso Downs are shown at right.

List of Outstanding Horses Entered In Goliad Races Sept. 27-28, Oct. 4-5

The Goliad Futurity with an estimated purse of $25,000 has one of the fastest groups of 2 year olds ever entered in a Texas futurity. Over 50 two year olds still remain eligible for the 350 yard dash to be run at Goliad during their September 27-28, October 4-5 race meet.

Included in the illustrious field is Top Divi, owned by Lukin Gilliland of San Antonio, fourth in the recent All American Futurity; Go Together, All American finalist owned by Harriett Peckham of Richmond; Speckled Hen, owned by Will F. lying to me." "But, says Raun, "if such an event were true, some herpetologist who spends his life studying snakes could not help but have witnessed it; none has."

Now Hanie differs with Raun—because he's seen the occurrence. He said that once he had a mama rattler and three babies cornered on a ledge, and that the old rattler opened her mouth and the young slithered inside.

Maybe Raun's herpetologist friends should get a rattler in the same situation, because the snake - swallows - young idea is quite prevalent with old timers who have killed their share of diamondbacks.

Questions that came to mind after I had talked with Hanie were:

1. Did the young in seeking safety, run for cover and think that Mama's mouth was as good as a rat hole?

2. Was mama rattler's mouth open to strike the aggressor or invite the young into a place of safety?

3. Has anybody seen the baby snakes emerge from the mother's mouth? How long did they stay inside? Since mama digests raw meat all the time I would think she'd have a hard time stopping this process for the sake of the kids.

I don't doubt that snakes swallow their young, but I do wonder if the little ones come out or just become part of mama's lunch—should mama escape her aggressor.

Davis says he's also read columns by sportswriters saying javelina hogs are not dangerous, even if wounded. Having been treed twice by wounded javelinas, Davis takes exception with these writers, too!
