Sonora Tackles Ozona After Ballinger Loss

The Ballinger Bearcats crushed the Sonora Broncos Friday night in a non-district clash in Ballinger Stadium by a score of 25-0. The Bearcat defense held the Broncos scoreless through the entire game, allowing them only 126 yards and six first downs. Their offense romped over the Sonora defense scoring four touchdowns.

came on a 22 yard end run by halfback Roy Ramos.

The Broncos will meet the Ozona Lions this Friday night at 8 p.m., in Ozona's Lions Stadium.

CINDERS

Compliance with the Truth in Lending Law which went into effect recently is causing its share of headaches in Sonora.

The law's purpose is to make sure the consumer knows the amount of annual interest he is paying on money he uses in the form of loans or credit.

But the effect is also to place an added burden on both lending agents and merchants who have a carrying charge on unpaid balances.

The portion of the law which is causing Sonora merchants the most trouble is the statement that says, "If a carrying charge is added to one past due account during the billing period, EVERY bill sent out that month must carry the same information of terms and annual interest rate charged on this type of account."

In other words, if a merchant has a special credit arrangement, such as a revolving charge account with a customer, where a specified amount or percentage of interest is charged per month for carrying a balance, the merchant must have this interest and carrying charge information printed on the statement he sends to every one of his customers even if he only charges the interest or carrying charge on only one account during the month.

In the interest of using up old statements that are on hand, some merchants have ignored the law while others have stopped charging a carrying charge until the law is better understood.

One Sonora merchant, who used stickers in an effort to comply with the law, inform customers of the credit information, and use up his stock of printed statements, found that some of his

Neither team was able to score in the first quarter. Ballinger drove 36 yards in five plays to score early in the second period. Kyle Bradley passed to end Howard McDaniel for 17 yards and the touchdown. The PAT was not good.

A few minutes later in the same period, the Bearcats scored again after a 62 yard march. Fullback John Patterson dived over from one yard out for the goal. The kick again failed.

The third quarter ended when neither team was able to mount a sustained drive.

The Bearcats made two touchdowns in the fourth quarter, the first on a 16 yard run by halfback Jimmy Gomez following a seven play series that racked up 50 yards. Robert Booth kicked the point after. The final score

P-TA Abandonment To Be Discussed Tues.

Whether to abandon or continue the Parent-Teacher Association will be the topic of discussion at the first regular meeting to be held in the Central Elementary cafeteria October 7 at 2:45 p.m.

An executive meeting was held last week by P-TA officers, Ken McAllister, superintendent of the schools, and Clay Cade, principal of Central.

Discussion of discontinuing the P-TA program in the school system came about when interest fell off during the 1968-69 school year. The officers and faculty seemed to be the only ones in attendance at the meetings and officers were hard to obtain. This year there are only four officers serving on the committee, and a total of eight are needed to make the slate of officers complete. Mrs. Buddy Brown, president,

Cheerleaders Ask Fans To Help Yell

The Sonora High School cheerleaders Trouba Teaff, Susan Stewart, Marilyn Morgan, Jessie McCutchen and Becca Keath have requested that all the football fans to do the following two yells with them at the football games:

WHO ARE THE BRONCOS?
Cheerleaders: Who are the Broncos?
Crowd: We are the Broncos.
Cheerleaders: What kind of Broncos?
Crowd: Sonora Broncos
All: Well, Yell, You Broncos, Yell!

BRONCOS HAVE GO POWER
Broncos have, gooooo Power!
(Pause) Bronco Power!

said that Mrs. Calvin Van Hoozer, Mrs. Blanton Thorn, and Mrs. Clarence Cockrell are now serving as officers.

If the P-TA program is to be continued there will be need for four more officers.

Mrs. Brown says a box will be placed in the principals office in the Elementary School for those interested in voting on the continuation or abandonment of the association and she urges all parents and teachers who will be unable to attend the regular meeting to vote in this way. Those attending the meeting will have the opportunity to vote at the meeting.

There will be no program at the October 7 meeting, as the officers feel all their time should be given to the business meeting. Mrs. Brown also added,

32nd Lions Club Auction Sale Gets Underway Tuesday, Oct. 7

Would you like to be a buyer that goes on record as paying for a loaf of bread or a jar of jelly a price that is unheard of anywhere but Sonora? To make this 32nd annual Lions Club Auction Sale the success it has been in the past bidders will gather at the 4-H Center on Tuesday night at 6 p.m. A free barbecue will be served and then Lem Jones of Phoenix, Arizona, will begin the auctioneering, as he has done for so many years.

Bidding on the mystery package is one of the highlights of the Lions Auction. With the celebration of its 25th birthday, the Package should again be one of the interesting items offered this year.

W. L. Miers paid $200 for the privilege of purchasing the Mystery Package last year to set an all time record for the highest price paid to date. Miers was also the first purchaser. Over a period of 24 years the Package has brought a total of $2,007.50.

Some of the items offered bidders for the home this year include an outdoor gas light, cash box, blanket, coffee maker and gas grill. For the campers, fishermen or those looking for an excuse to get out of town there is a picnic basket.

The car owner is sure to need something from the selection of anti-freeze, oil, tissue dispenser, booster cable, polishing cloth, oil filter, or litter container.

Ranchers are offered cup leathers for the windmill as well as sweat leathers and stirrup straps for their saddle.

Jewelry, an electric shaver, baby doll and pocket knife are among the gift items offered.

Along with Mrs. Oliver Wuest's homemade bread a wide selection of livestock for home consumption is to be offered to the bidders.

At the meeting of the Downtown Lions Club Tuesday, final plans for the auction were made. The town has been divided into four zones using Main Street and U.S. Highway 290 as lines. The zone merchandising solicitors are Buddy Brown, Earl Johnson, Jo Hardgrave and Darcy Carroll with John T. King, Bob Teaff, Melvin Shroyer, Bud Smith and Lester Byer assisting them. The vacant building selected to store this merchandise is beginning to look like a salesroom.

Persons wishing to make contributions in livestock instead of merchandise bring their stock to the Smokehouse or the Stockpens or contact George Wallace, Lin Hicks, Gene Wallace, Leo Merrill, Bill Morris or George Brockman. Livestock has been slow coming in this year and there is also a need for meat for the barbecue.

Another article in this issue goes into some details as to the spending of the money taken in by the Lions at the auction. This shows that this is a worthwhile night for bidders to give of their time and money beginning at 6 p.m., Tuesday, October 7.

Spending Of Lions Auction Money Explained By Lions Secretary

By E. B. Keng
Secretary - Treasurer

Where do your dollars go when you make a purchase at the Lions Club Auction sale or pay your monthly dues?

Sonora Lions Club members paid in $6900 for meals and club dues during the 1968-69 year. Dues and meal charges are $5 or $6 per month—depending on whether the month has four or five Tuesdays. The 31st annual auction sale grossed $5400.

How was this money used? The major portion—some $6400—was spent on youth activities. These expenditures included $1745 for Boy and Girl Scouts, $690 for the Wool Show, and $851 for operating the swimming pool. The Sonora Little League received $450, Sutton County Livestock show $82, and smaller sums were used to sponsor National Honor Society pins, Queen's contest, and the annual Speech Meet.

Some $4,500 was spent on adult activities, such as $100 for the Fire Department, West Texas Chamber of Commerce Dues $50, Lions-P-TA party $35, dinner for law enforcement officers $46, and the annual hunting party $35. Various other expenditures included $81 to the Sonora Welfare Fund, and $50 for the Sunken Garden.

Over $4000 was used to pay local womens service organization for preparing weekly luncheons. Dues to the International Association of Lions Club were slightly over $1000, and over $400 went to help support the Lions Crippled Childrens Camp at Kerrville.

During the past 31 years local ranchmen and businessmen have given outstanding support to the annual Lions Auction Sale. In a few fun-filled hours enough money is raised to enable the Club to support worth while projects that benefit the community.

The 32nd annual Auction Sale will be held Tuesday evening, October 7. The Sonora Lions Club will appreciate the continued support of the community and will pledge that your donations will be used for good causes.

Del Rio TV Corp. Will Send Crew To Sonora Monday

The Del Rio Television Cable Corp. sent a second letter to Norman Rousselot concerning the work to be done in Sonora in connection with the updating of the system here.

Glen Scallorn said he had received word that the TV company will have a construction crew in Sonora on Monday, October 6. This is the crew that will build the line to the golf course.

Also the company has decided to start this same crew on the rebuilding in town as Selma Dickson feels this work can be done without much interference.

Scallorn said, "I will keep you informed as to the progress of the microwave".

SONORA WOMAN'S CLUB WILL MEET TODAY

Members of the Sonora Women's Club are urged to attend the first meeting of the year. According to Mrs. Jerry Don Balch, president, this will be a luncheon meeting at 12:30 p.m., Thursday. Mrs. Sara Schwiening of Del Rio will be the guest speaker and her topic is rehabilitation.

Trustees Hold Special Meeting

A special meeting of the trustees of the Sonora Independent School District was held September 25. Those attending were Armer Earwood, chairman, Gene Shurley, Bill Tittle, George D. Wallace, L. P. Bloodworth, Bob Teaff and superintendent Ken McAllister.

At this time the Board elected to transfer $10,000 out of the activity fund into the general maintenance to meet September expenses. This action was necessary at this time because the tax funds and state money will not be received by the school in time to meet expenses.

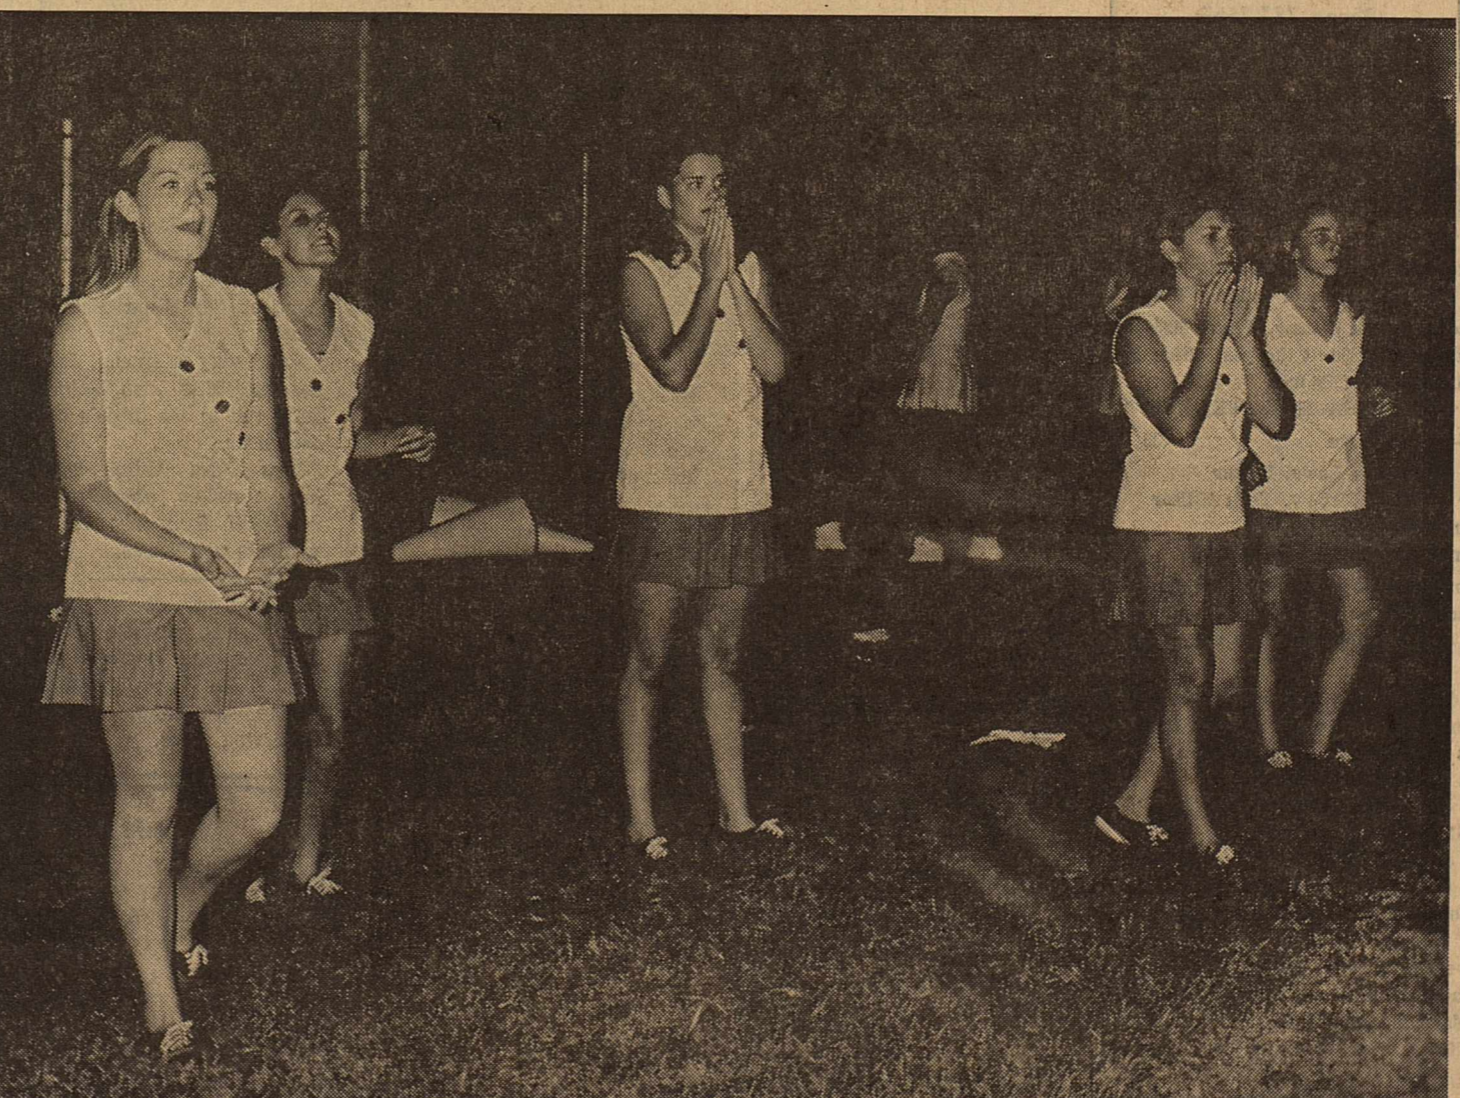

McAllister expressed the appreciation of the school officials for the assistance the firemen gave before and during the Big Lake game. The firemen are in charge of most of the parking of cars in and around Bronco Stadium. During game they help by keeping unauthorized personnel off the football field.

HOMEMADE FOOD ITEMS BRING HIGH AUCTION PRICES

Home made food items from Sutton County kitchens continue to be a favorite item at the Annual Lions Club auction sale.

Prices paid by bidders for items such as home made bread, cakes, pies, jelly and peppers indicate that the way to a man's pocketbook is through his stomach.

Those wishing to give such items for auctioning may bring them to the Devil's River News. They are encouraged to do this no later than noon Tuesday, in order that the item may be included on the printed sales list that is passed out at the sale.

and Jessie McCutchen seem to be engrossed in the outcome of a Bronco Play.

The Coming Of Autumn

Early risers don't need the calendar to tell them that autumn is here. The official date of its arrival was September 23. But long before then cool, crisp mornings, the smoke-scented air and the hint of color on foliage and trees have heralded the coming event.

The days of autumn known as Indian Summer have been well named. There is something about the smell of fall that is easily identifiable with quiet woodland paths that for uncounted centuries knew nothing but the tread of wildlife and mossed Indians. This is the vision of America that so many of us would like to preserve as nearly as possible in fact as well as fancy. And thanks to the efforts of a great many citizens in public and private life, the prospect is growing that the vision will be preserved. Forest trails and wilderness areas are now classed among the nation's most treasured assets.

Don't Blame The Farmer

As everyone knows, the U. S. farmer is the most productive on earth. One farmer now produces enough to feed 45 persons as compared with 15 in 1948. The American farmer has increased his productivity through the use of new techniques, hybridization of plants and animals and other advances that are products of agricultural research.

Logically, people wonder why, if output per farmer has increased so dramatically, food prices are so high. The truth is, as Mr. Charles B. Schuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, points out, that the U. S. farmer, to achieve his efficiency, "has had to increase his purchased inputs such as fertilizers, chemicals, machinery, and other equipment. These inputs make up more than half of the total resources that are used in farming and explain why farmers are so hard hit by spiraling inflation."

Food costs as a percentage of our disposable income have declined from 23 percent in 1951 to 17 percent in 1968. If anything, the farmer deserves a higher reward for his efforts than he has been receiving. Individually, his productivity has been rising in relation to his earnings, while of late, the productivity relative to wages of those in many other lines of activity has been declining.

What's Right?

Mr. Ross E. Harlan, utility executive, World War II Air Force veteran and an active leader in youth work, points out a few of the things that are right about America. Here are some of them: "For every Hell's Angels motorcycle gang, there are thousands of Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops and Camp Fire Girl troops. For every long-haired, uncouth, repulsive hoodlum, there are untold multitudes of decent, upright young ladies and gentlemen who are the hope of the world. For every school dropout there are countless brilliant students who study infinitely harder than their parents did. For every crook in business, there are innumerable honorable and upright men who would go bankrupt before they would be dishonest—For every draft card burner, there are thousands of young men who are giving their last full measure of devotion in duty in far-off Vietnam. This is what is right about America."

Rusted Money

While bankers, economists, government experts, boards and commissioners issue ponderous statements about inflation—that few can understand—the entry of a college student in an imaginary diary dated July 15, 1972, tells the story of inflation in plain English:

"The young man walks into a restaurant. 'I'll have a cheeseburger,' he says. 'How much?' Says the counterman: 'That's $8 and $1.60 tax makes $9.60.' 'How do you sell them so cheap?' 'Vol-um-n.' 'Well here's a $500 bill and let's see if I have the 60 cents. Nope, all my change rusted a-gain.'"

Rusting money is a good synonym for inflation. It's what happens when governmental monetary and fiscal policies corrode the value of a nation's medium of exchange—its money. Of late we have heard much of soaring beef prices. Supply and demand and inflation—rusted money—have pushed prices up. Soaring meat prices are but a part of the trend that includes everything from chewing gum to theater tickets and comic books. As a matter of fact, meat prices, in the view of farm authorities, have been low in comparison to production costs. Be this as it may, supply and demand in a free market are now pushing prices up. Beef consumption has nearly doubled since 1951, and prices are at a 17-year high. Yet there is more to the story than these figures indicate. Disposable income spent for food declined from 23 percent in 1951 to 17 percent in 1968. Moreover, the efficiencies of mass production and mass distribution have tended to hold costs down.

One of the strongest counteractive forces to inflation has been the competitive, free market as epitomized by those high volume, minimum-priced retail distributors, the supermarkets. Irrespective of what they are called—mail order houses, variety stores, department stores, chain stores or what have you—the nation's modern, high-volume retail institutions are the best assurance that our rusted money will go as far as possible commensurate with the times.

Senator Carlson: Wanted A Man-Who Will Stand

A former U. S. Senator from Kansas, Frank Carlson, was a frequent leader of the Senate breakfast groups which meets every Wednesday morning to pray together and ponder the issues of spiritual heritage. About 20 Senators of all denominations and from all parts of the country are usually present.

At a meeting on June 19, 1968, Senator Carlson so impressed his listeners that permission for publication was granted to U. S. News and World Report and in turn Electric Times printed, "Wanted A Man - A Man Who Will Stand."

Men who are not for sale;
 Men who are honest, sound from center to circumference, true to the heart's core;
 Men with consciences as steady as the needle to the pole;
 Men who will stand for the right if the heavens totter and the earth reels;
 Men who can tell the truth and look the world right in the eye;
 Men who neither brag nor run; Men who neither flag nor flinch;
 Men who can have courage without shouting it;
 Men in whom the courage of everlasting life runs still, deep, and strong;
 Men who know their message and tell it;
 Men who know their place and fill it;
 Men who know their business and attend to it;
 Men who will not lie, shirk or dodge;
 Men who are not too lazy to work, nor too proud to be poor;
 Men who are willing to eat what they have earned and wear what they have paid for;
 Men who are not ashamed to say "NO" with emphasis and who are not ashamed to say "I can't afford it."
 God is looking for men. He wants those who can unite together around a common faith—who can join hands in a common task—and who have come to the kingdom for such a time as this. God give us men.

An imaginative exterior featuring wing-walls is only one of the "extras" built into this home. Other attractions include an open stairway which gives the interior an airy, atrium effect. Patio doors of ponderosa pine open the second-floor front to a spacious deck and the year-round beauty of rustic surroundings.

Spice Added To Basic Home Design With Features of Ponderosa Pine

After they check the essentials, most househunters look for the extras that will make this house THE one. So, a wise builder provides them in his homes.

An attractive example of the extras a medium-priced home can offer is a 9-room house in Clinton, Conn. Essentials include three bedrooms, three baths, a living room, kitchen, and dining family room. Extras are an imaginative exterior decor, unusual room lay-outs, special interior touches, and a charmingly finished attic.

The two-story house provides immediate visual interest with wing walls jutting down from the roof and up from the ground. They meet to provide privacy walls for a wide wooden deck that runs the length of the second floor front. Hardboard siding in a rough sawn gray finish is contrasted by a yellow-painted entry and windows and a dramatic slash of yellow from roof to the ground on the side wall.

An atrium effect was achieved in the interior with an open wood stairway from the entrance foyer to the second floor; where an open hall borders the stairway perimeter. The entire front of the second floor opens through sliding wood patio doors to the deck. Result is an engaging aura of outside airiness and sunlight.

Because of the large glass areas, builder Robert Braum chose ponderosa pine patio doors and windows. The units are high-quality and precision-made for easy installation, offer the natural insulation of wood sash, and come in stock sizes—Which keeps down costs. He also chose ponderosa pine for all millwork and for louver doors which he used extensively throughout the house. "Wood," he feels "makes a warm interior, and allows duplication of either colonial flavor or contemporary designs. Ponderosa pine reflected the rustic feeling of the locale, and made it easy to match window and door stain to exterior finishes."

Perhaps the most ingenious feature of the house was conversion of the attic into a "hide-away" study and play room. It has a balcony effect, with an open balustrade overlooking the central stairwell.

This and two awning windows in the back wall give plenty of ventilation and sunlight. The original retractable attic stairway was retained as the attic entrance.

Other special features include a flagstone floor in the foyer, lots of "hidden" storage, a pull-man laundry in the downstairs bathroom, and handsome antique brass hardware on all cabinets and doors.

The house is one of ten custom houses planned for an 11-acre community called Hemlock Hill. All will be designed by architect Richard McCurdy for "compatibility" with each other and the rustic surroundings.

Survey on Littering Critical of Men

A recent Gallup survey shows men litter nearly twice as much as women. Also, people between the ages of 21 and 35 litter twice as much as those between 35 and 49, and three times as much as people over 50. Large families are more likely to litter than small ones, and farmers and residents of small communities litter more than people who live in big cities.

The Gallup survey gave insight into why people litter. Those admitting to littering said they had done so for one or two basic reasons: carelessness, laziness, indifference; or because no trash receptacles were available. The survey concluded that programs of public education are essential if a sense of personal responsibility for litter is to be created.

TEEN SCENE

By KAY KERBOW

The Broncos are having a rough preseason schedule playing four AA schools and one respected class A school. They have won one and lost two and travel to Ozona Friday for their fourth game of the year. The coaches and the team members aren't satisfied with this showing.

One of the SHS coaches said, "We haven't thrown in the towel yet, a few fans may have, but we haven't."

A loyal fan is one who supports his team even when the chips are down and I know Sonora is full of loyal fans, so there should be a full stand in Ozona Friday night.

SHS —

Here it is six weeks test time already. It seems we just walked into class for the first time instead of the 30th time. (If you are wondering, six weeks with five days in a week is 30 days of school.) Periods one, three, five, and seven tests were given Wednesday with two, four, and six on today.

SHS —

Halloween queen was voted on Friday but the results won't be divulged until the night of the carnival. The senior candidate is Ana Maria Fernandez while Missey Brown represents the junior class. Jessie McCutchen and Sarah Allison are running for the sophomore and freshmen classes respectively. May the cutest "witch" win.

SHS —

The Bronco band has received many compliments on its Friday night performance. In future performances, according to band members, many more intricate patterns will be executed. The band is on the road to improvement, by this time next year, we may possess a number 1 band to go along with a number 1 football team.

Someone mentioned keeping a list of the times twirlers dropped their batons, so twirlers beware! However, I don't think a list will be necessary because of the quality of talent found in the band's twirlers.

SH —

The football boys aren't the only ones putting in strenuous hours of work and sweat. The basketball girls are working on fundamentals in P.E. Class. A marked improvement due to work and a year's experience has been noted. The junior girls are coached by John Partin and the high school by Bob McMinn. Intra squad games are to help the girls cope with pressures of regular games. A rewarding season seems to be in store for the girls this year.

SHS —

See everyone in Ozona when the Big Reds will get back on Victory Road!!

Firemen's Corner

The Great Chicago Fire was on October 9, 1871. In 1911, the Fire Marshals Association of North America set aside October 9 as Fire Prevention Day. In 1922 the seven day observance of Fire Prevention Week began upon the recommendation of a committee of the National Fire Protection Association.

This year Fire Prevention Week will be observed October 5 through October 11. Each and every day fires in the United States claim an average of 33 lives, 1510 homes, 167 apartments, 23 schools, 10 churches, 21 hospitals and nursing homes, 149 farm buildings, 126 industrial plants, and 208 stores, restaurants and offices.

In the United States in an average year at least 6,500 lives are lost in fires in homes, substantially more than half of the nation's total of 12,100 fire deaths per year.

2,100 children are killed by fire, one-third of whom are alone or without proper supervision at the time of a fire emergency.

$425 million worth of housing, furnishings and personal belongings are lost in some 612,000 separate fires.

Our Newsletter

By O. C. Fisher

Laws which when enacted often sound innocuous and desirable may turn out to be replete with booby traps and loopholes.

Here are two examples: Last July the Congress enacted the 136-page 1968 Housing Act, which was described by the Washington Post as a "housing bonanza," and by another as an "omnibus monstrosity." No one would dare estimate the ultimate cost to the taxpayers, but it clearly would be up in the billions. This Great Society answer to the nation's housing problems provided goodies galore for almost everyone except the poor taxpayer. Some of us opposed it, but to no avail.

Included were provisions which gave vast authority to HUD to help pay interest charges, rentals, taxes, etc., on behalf of those in low income brackets, related to their housing.

Under a home-purchase authority HUD recently announced the plans to have 511 housing units constructed in San Antonio to sell up to $17,000 each to those earning between $3,000 and $6,000—with no more than 20 percent of the purchaser's monthly income to be paid on the purchase price. Uncle Sam is to pick up the balance, estimated at about $1,000 a year per unit, and the commitment is to continue for 25 years.

I have lodged a vigorous protest against this and any other similar projects wherever located. While there is need for better situations to housing problems, the subsidy involved here is obviously exorbitant and is manifestly unfair to the taxpayers who must work for a living and help pay the bills. Why use a 5-ton truck to do the job of an ordinary pickup?

Another example is Great Society's celebrated 1964 Civil Rights Rights Act, of which the late Martin Luther King was one of the principal architects. It was an omnibus hodge-podge of "goodies," designed to prevent racial strife and take care of about all the accumulated racial gripes. I joined with other in opposing its enactment, but to no avail.

Among scores of other bombshells uncovered in the law is the provision which allows HEW's brainbusters to impose compulsory busing of students across cities in order to comply with bureaucratic whims. A good many who voted for the bill will tell you today: "I didn't dream it authorized compulsory busing."

Excessive Watering Drowns Plants

Do your house plants die? You may not be watering them right. This is especially true during the winter months when plant growth is very slow because of the low light intensities, says Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist.

We frequently get impatient and apply additional water and fertilizer hoping to make the plant grow large and healthy. Actually during winter periods the plant is producing very little food and can not grow rapidly. Overwatering is the worst offense during periods of slow growth, emphasizes the Texas A & M University horticulturist. Plant roots must have air as well as water. If the soil stays saturated with water, little or no oxygen can reach the roots. This results in loss of the small feeder roots and eventually death of the plant.

Never water plants by rule of thumb such as every other day or twice a week, Janne cautions. Once the soil is thoroughly moist, water them only when they need it.

In watering houseplants supply sufficient water so that it runs through the potting soil into the saucer below. Always discard the excess water that drains through the pot into the saucer to prevent the accumulation of soluble salts in the potting soil.

Plants in a cold room need less water than those in a warm dry atmosphere. Flowering plants and those with much foliage require more water than those without blooms or with very little foliage, he adds.

For small fry: Insert lollipop sticks into firm bananas. Dip in melted chocolate bits that have been cooled until just warm. A favorite treat.

Recognition Given Will's Museum In Western Stamp Collector Magazine

Will Smith, curator of Will's Museum, received a copy of Western Stamp Collector, said to be the World's greatest newspaper for stamp collectors, and was surprised to note that assistant editor Harold P. Lopes, a visitor at the museum this summer, dedicated his entire column "By The Wayside" to his visit to the museum.

Summer is at hand and most of us it means vacations. Modern super highways throughout this broad land makes many of our interesting places easily accessible.

If your vacation takes you to the large state of Texas, make it a point to stop at Sonora.

Sonora is 65 miles south of San Angelo and 87 miles north of the border town of Del Rio.

A little over a year ago, Will and George Smith, and their sister, Nell Holman, opened their two room museum just off U. S. Highway 290 West in Sonora.

Actually, for Will Smith, the museum started 42 years ago with a stamp collection and now he has more than 100,000 pieces of postal paper, many of which are in his "Parade of Nation's" museum exhibit.

The exhibit includes photos of flags and heads of state, plus stamps, from 75 countries. The photographs and other data were sent to Will Smith from 125 embassies in Washington.

Included in the "Parade of Nations" display are individual framed photographs of all US Presidents. Frames of the four assassinated presidents are bordered in black.

A copy of the Monroe Doctrine is framed with stamps of every country in the Western Hemisphere.

For those who are interested in sea shells, there is a South Pacific shell collection which Smith says is topped only by one now in our 50th state, Hawaii. There are many more displays which will be of interest to all the family.

First items to be deposited in the museum were Smith's stamp collection and his brother's extensive Indian artifact, gold spoon and coin collection. The building itself, an old house, took about a year of preparation, and an addition to double the display area is planned.

Smith, 81, is the eldest of the three and the museum is now his primary pastime. He devotes 12 hours per day at the museum, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Will Smith is always ready to conduct a tour. There is no admission charge to the museum.

If any of you are down Sonora way, make this interesting museum a must. Even the non-collecting members of the family will find the displays both educational and interesting.

Screwworm Case Confirmed In Texas

Texas had a new screwworm case confirmed Tuesday in Jeff Davis County, north and west of the Big Bend region. This is the first case reported in Texas since August 13, when a case cropped up in El Paso County. Mission Screwworm Program officials warn that other fall cases are expected to occur and ask all producers to beef-up their reporting practices.

"We think there are unreported cases in the area now, for conditions are ideal for screwworms along the entire Rio Grande River from Brownsville to El Paso," cautions Dr. M. E. (Cotton) Meadows, Jr., veterinarian in charge of field operations. Livestockmen should double their efforts to let the Mission Lab know all suspected cases, he adds.

"Quick sterile fly treatment now—before cases become widespread—can bring the screwworm situation under control. But we have to know where the cases are in order to treat them," Dr. Meadows emphasizes. He said that a plane load of sterile flies was sent Tuesday from the Mission plant to Jeff Davis County for special treatment over the area where the case was reported.

Screwworm cases have been reported south of the Rio Grande River at many locations approximately 100 miles from the border. "We are concerned about the entire border area, since fall cases are likely to happen at any point from Brownsville northward between now and the end of November. The fall months are the most critical for the troublesome livestock pest," Dr. Meadows says.

He explains that the screwworm situation presently is similar to that of 1964, the best previous year from the standpoint of total numbers of cases. On September 24 of that year, the first case occurred after a mid-summer lull. The next week, there were several more cases; and each succeeding week saw the cases soar until a fall outbreak was at hand. "Good reporting now can prevent a large screwworm buildup this fall," Dr. Meadows emphasizes.

A Bishop Looks at Life Are We Omnipotent?
By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church
One reason for the decline of religious awareness in our time is that we have begun to think, often without realizing it, that we don't need God, that we don't have the limitations men had in the past, that there is no problem human ingenuity cannot solve. It is not hard to see why this kind of thinking has developed.
We stand in awe before our own achievement in sending men to the moon. We see how computers are daily reducing the human work load. Disease after disease is being conquered, so that our life expectancy today is twice what it was in the Middle Ages. Some scientists have even talked about eliminating death.
All through history there have been these illusions of human omnipotence. The Bible is a record of how God has repeatedly sought to make men face themselves—their sin, their need, their ultimate dependence. "Be still and know that I am God—not you": this is God's recurrent warning. Man's pride is forever blinding him to the facts of his human condition. He is reluctant to admit how much he does not know. He is ever more reluctant to admit how far short of God's purpose he falls both in his personal life and in his treatment of others.
The movement toward vital religious faith, for an individual or a culture, begins with the realization that the self is not God—that man is limited in power, knowledge and responsibility. He must look beyond himself. A man recently described this experience in these words: "I finally decided to hand in my resignation as manager of the universe. I was relieved to find how quickly it was accepted."
When we lay down the burden of omnipotence, life not only becomes much easier for us but also becomes much more worth living.

"He that hath an ear to hear let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the Churches." (Rev.)

I don't remember which I found first, Grandma's shoes or her letters. I do recall, that as I lifted things from her battered trunk, it seemed as though time had slipped backward. Suddenly, the lady in the faded family tintype became real to me.
Nicely polished and laced, her tiny shoes revealed that she was a petite person, neat and particular. A faded nosegay indicated a sentimental heart. "My dear son," her letters began, and as I read her words to that long-ago boy, my Dad, the reality of her love seemed present in the sun-drenched room. Outside the dusty window, a bee buzzed, and in that quiet moment I became acquainted with her personality.
Often, God reveals Himself to us in just such a way. By the beauty of His world, in the truths within His Bible, through the ministry of His Church, He discloses the fullness of His love.
Attend your church. Through worship and prayer, enlarge your understanding of God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A barbeque lunch will be served at noon, followed by a tour over several of the Station pastures. Dr. Leo Merrill will explain some major changes being made in the range research program. A change from dry animals to breeding sheep, goats and cattle will be of great interest to ranchmen. Several types of brush research will be started, along with new methods of deferred grazing.

Stocking rates will be increased from the present 32 and 48 animal units per section to new rates of 38 and 54 animal units per section for moderate and heavy grazing. The five pastures presently stocked at the 16 animal unit rate will be used for new brush and deferred grazing studies.

All ranchmen are urged to be present to see the station work now, so that they may better evaluate results of the new studies. Ranchmen in Zone 1 are especially urged to be present to elect a director for this area.

Texas State Fair Opens Saturday Space Age--Moon Year Exposition

Big Tex and his gigantic State Fair of Texas, the largest on earth, take a giant leap together into the Space Age with the Moon Year Exposition, October 4-19 in Dallas.

The four-story cowboy won't be swapping his 75-gallon Western hat for an astronaut's helmet. But the whole fair will have a strong space flavor mixed with the timeless taste of snow cones and hot dogs. A serious scientific exhibit will add its own excitement to the familiar Ferris wheel of fun, color and thrills.

The Moon and Beyond is the title of this keynote exhibit, a comprehensive space show featuring a full-size mockup of the Apollo command module, authentic right down to the last control. The Space show will be in the New Dimensions Pavilion.

The Moon and Beyond comes to the State Fair of Texas from NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston. Arrangements for the show were launched by John Connally, ex-governor of Texas and an honorary fair vice-president.

Other lunar features of the 1969 fair will be the nightly Moon Year on Parade, Fashions That Follow Apollo in the Women's Department and a special planetarium show, Stonehenge man's First Link to the Stars, in the Dallas Health and Science Museum.

Owlets Lose To 8th Grade Colts

BY DARY

The 8th grade Colts had very little trouble in downing the Big Lake Owls 44 to 8 last week.

A very large crowd of fans and parents watched the strong line make way for Bruce Kerbow's five touchdowns. Freddy Virgen did a good job moving the ball, scoring a touchdown and making the extra point. David Wallace surprised the Owls by streaking around the end for an extra point.

Billy John Fay received a broken leg in the third quarter. The team will miss his services the rest of the season.

The Colts will travel to Eldorado Thursday to try for their third straight win.

Changes in Traffic Laws Reviewed By Patrolmen Webster and Hill

Highway patrolmen W. L. Hill and Bill Webster received an interoffice memorandum from Norman V. Suarez, legal advisor for the Department of Public Safety, concerning the new laws and revision of other laws that have or soon will become effective.

The law increases the penalty of minor in possession. A first offense minor in possession fine will be from $25 to $100, and a second offense will be brought before county court. Also there is an increased penalty in drug laws.

Some of the other laws pertaining to traffic are as follows: House Bill No. 12 requires that vehicles traveling at less than normal speed of traffic be driven in the right-hand lane or as close as practicable to the right-hand curb or edge of the highway. Senate Bill No. 74 is the implied consent law.

House Bill No. 84 establishes a new intersection right-of-way law. This is commonly known as yield to the right unless the intersection is marked. Yield to traffic on paved roads if you are traveling on an unpaved road.

House Bill No. 935 changes the "following too closely" law by changing from a reasonable and prudent test to a test covering due regard for the speed of the vehicles, traffic upon and condition of the street or highway and the fact that the motor vehicle can be safely brought to a stop without colliding into vehicles, objects or persons preceding the vehicle.

Noting a significant increase in fatalities on farm-to-market roads in the past month, the Safety Association suggested folks driving in rural areas observe the following rules:

—When traveling on an unpaved roadway, yield the right-of-way to vehicles traveling on a paved highway. Under a new Texas law, drivers may enter an intersecting paved roadway only when there is no chance of interference or collision with traffic on the highway.

—Be prepared for animals grazing near the roadway. They may suddenly cross in front of your vehicle.

—Look for narrow or rough shoulder areas and washed-out or rough spots in the highway that can cause you trouble in steering.

—Keep on your side of the roadway, even if it's narrow.

—Slow down for sharp curves and when approaching or crossing narrow bridges.

7th Grade Colts Whip Owlets

By Mike Street

Sonora 7th grade hosted the Big Lake Owls and defeated them 38-6.

Taking the kick-off from Big Lake, Sonora returned it to the 45 yard line. A fired up team continued to move the ball to the 25 yard line where Paul Browne tossed the ball to Juan Perez who was downed near the goal. This set up Sonora's first score by Paul Browne and the extra point by Alan Harris.

On Sonora's return punt, John Lopez recovered the on-side kick. The strong line provided the coverage Gabriel Espinosa needed to score another touchdown on a sweep play. Keith Kniffen scored the extra point.

Big Lake was unable to make much yardage but the Colts scored again when Alan Harris broke through and Keith Kniffen went over for the extra point. The second Colt team moved in and gained additional yardage.

The second half was a continuation of the first, with Gabriel Espinosa making the touchdown and Keith Kniffen supplying the extra point.

Big Lake's only score came from a short pass over the center and they were unable to make their extra point.

The 7th grade Colts will have an open date this week while the 8th graders travel to Eldorado.

Big Lake Beats Sonora "B" Team

By Rick Hill

Thursday night saw a merciless crew of Big Lake Owls run over our "B" team 40-6.

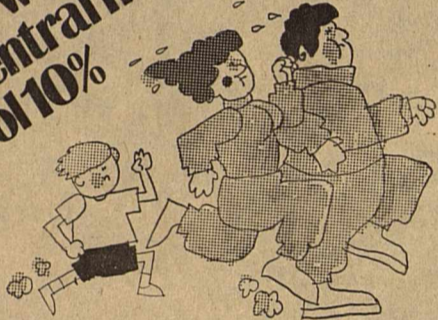

Big Lake running back, James Watson, showed his talents by scampering for four touchdowns while his fellow teammates added the finishing touches. Quarterback, Connie Smith, dived in from the one to put the cap on a Bronco massacre.

Sonora's total of 6 points came on a five yard dash by fullback, Henry Perez.

A weak defense, the inability to hold on to the ball, and poor tackling ability all aided in the Bronco loss.

The "B" team gets a chance to redeem itself this week when they take on the Owls once more. Game time is 6:30 p.m., Thursday, in Bronco Stadium.
