New Lamb Products Tests Planned

A $23,650 research grant from the American Sheep Producers Council has been made to the Texas A&M University Agricultural Market Research and Development Center. Purpose of the award is to support market testing of a completely new line of lamb products.

Dr. Robert Branson of the A&M Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department, center coordinator, said the tests will be made in Tyler and in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

He said the grant contract is the 15th research project of the center since its beginning in February of last year. Grants received by the center now total $137,500.

Branson explained that the test will be supported by television and newspaper advertising, and the cooperation of major food chains in Tulsa and Tyler.

"In addition to test-marketing seven cuts of lamb, the ability of the new products and the accompanying advertising to increase total lamb sales in the two cities will be measured," the economist pointed out.

Product sales will be measured by a series of retail food store audits. Consumer opinions of the new lamb products and advertising penetration will then be obtained by household surveys.

The research, Branson said, will be designed and conducted by the center in cooperation with Lou Havrilla, project director of the American Sheep Producers Council. Testing will take about five months and will start in late September or early October. Monfort Packing Company in Colorado will supply the new lamb products.

Earwood Award Given Ex-Governor Of Texas

The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association honored its only living charter member at the 55th convention by presenting former Texas Governor Coke R. Stevenson with the Fred Earwood Memorial Award.

Created some two years ago by TS&GRA directors, the Earwood Award is the highest award of distinction given by the association. Following the death of Fred Earwood, friends and associates brought about the formation of a special fund to memorialize him. Each year some deserving person whose contributions exemplify Earwood's dedication and efforts for the welfare of all sheep and goat producers is recognized.

Coke Stevenson of Junction was singled out for his continued support and aid to the sheep and goat organization for over 55 years. Since the first meeting in Del Rio in 1916, his services and advice have aided in the building of the Association.

Following his retirement from public service at the state level, Mr. Stevenson's life has been a time of enrichment for him as a human being. He has developed in Kimble County one of the finest ranch properties in the hill country. Stevenson and his son's holdings total more than 14,000 acres and in some seasons as many as 7,000 wild deer roam over their grazing lands with the sheep and goats.

KIMBLE COUNTY HISTORICAL SURVEY SETS FLEA MARKET
A flea market and wildcat show is planned for Saturday, August 1, and is being sponsored by the Kimble County Historical Survey committee.

It will be held on the courthouse square, and articles will be sold, traded, swapped, bought or displayed, according to the committee. It is being held for the benefit of the museum. Those wishing to sell may rent space for $3, with each person furnishing his own table.

and Charlie W. West, 19 years.

Truck driver award certificates are issued for accident free driving records for one year through as many years as districts have drivers who qualify. Beginning with the tenth year, a pin is issued in addition to the certificate.

The operator of a truck must have been free from accidental injury to himself or passengers, damage to his vehicle or cargo, or other vehicles and property.

Hot, Dry Weather Hurts Rangelands

By E. B. Keng, SCS Technician

Hot and dry July weather has been the rule thus far this summer. A wet winter and spring produced lush weed growth in April and May, but rainfall in most of the Edwards Plateau soil and water conservation district was short or nearly absent in June and July.

The spring weed crop drained soil moisture to a low ebb and production of summer grasses has been greatly curtailed. Lacking normal May and June rainfall, grass for fall and winter use may well be in short supply.

Many ranchmen are hedging against a grass shortage through early marketing of lambs and calves. This not only reduces the animal load on the summer vegetation, but allows breeding animals additional opportunity to go into the winter in good condition. Early culling of old or less desirable livestock will also help get livestock numbers in balance with a short supply of range feed.

On most ranches in the area this is the second or third unfavorable summer following an abnormally wet winter. Many bare spots have appeared on rangeland where warm season grasses have been weakened by drought or overuse.

These bare areas contributed to a tremendous crop of bitterweed where the plant was present.

Frequent and prolonged drought is the most predictable element of West Texas weather. Ranchmen should make every effort to adjust livestock numbers early, in an attempt to keep a grass cover on the land. More and more ranchmen are adopting a system of deferred and rotated grazing which will help improve their rangeland.

"Turk Martin Fund Drive"

A resolution was presented and passed at the Sonora Elks Lodge meeting Monday to instigate a Turk Martin Family Assistance Fund Drive. The resolution was backed by a basic appropriation from the Elks Lodge to be added to by general donations from Sonora and surrounding area citizens.

Turk Martin, native and longtime resident of Sonora, was seriously injured in an accident in Mexico. He was hospitalized in an Albuquerque, New Mexico, hospital, but was moved July 9 to the Veterans Hospital in Long Beach, California.

Turk's wife, Margaret, and their two daughters, Tammy and Cheryl, are living in Hobbs, New Mexico.

Interested donors may leave contributions to this worthy cause at the First National Bank or contact one of these Sonora Elks committeemen:

Dr. Ron Williamson, Buddy Joe Brown, Guy Thomason or Bude Lee Whiddon.

The most effective single force in building a good community is a good newspaper.

"Grassroots Opinion"

GOTEBO, OKLA., RECORD-TIMES: "One man tackles the hard job first and keeps on until he completes it. He succeeds, goes up the ladder and pays taxes to help support the government by income payments. Another man does the easy job first and sidesteps the hard one. He fails in business or loses his job and the government helps support him out of the first man's taxes. Nevertheless, most of us would rather be the first man."

which... issued a report on 'Federalism and the Academic Community.' The report covers political science courses offered in colleges and universities throughout the country. The survey concluded there is an urgent need for colleges to reexamine political science programs and to strengthen curriculum in local government, state government and intergovernmental relations."

COUNCIL BLUFFS, IOWA, FARMER-LABOR PRESS: "Millions of our tax dollars are spent on cleaning trash from the streets of this nation's cities every year. This money is wasted because with a little effort on the part of each of us, there would be no trash on the streets. Instead of throwing papers and wrappers on the street, why not stick them in your pocket until you get to a trash can? Instead of throwing cigarettes out the window of your car, why not use the ashtray as it was intended to be used? And keep a litter bag in your car for the odds and ends we're all tempted to toss out the car window. Care enough to make the effort to keep litter where it belongs."

ODESSA, TEXAS, AMERICAN: "People forget that American was born poor." is the caption on an advertisement... in... Editor & Publisher, the trade weekly of the newspaper business. Contrary to those who claim that all Americans had to do was scoop their wealth off the land so rich in natural resources, and unlike those of other countries who lived in lands of great natural wealth which remained almost untouched until recent years, the colonists, immigrants and their descendants toiled long and laboriously, coupling their toil with imagination, ingenuity and mental might to make productive use of their environment."

KINGSBURG, CALIF., RECORDER: "The realization is rapidly growing throughout the country that all the nation's domestic ills cannot be solved by Washington," but this realization apparently has not yet dawned on many college teachers and authors of textbooks. This is a conclusion of a 26 member Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ... He's Discovered Key For Learning When Taxes Should Be Increased

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-sweet ranch on Dry Devil's River reviews the tax situation this week in his own peculiar way. Dear editor: Government officials are always hunting for new sources of tax revenue, in fact one state is offering a reward to anybody who comes up with a new idea for more money but I doubt if it'll be paid as the only source of taxes so far in the history of the human race has been people and I don't see any prospects for any change in the system. Therefore the problem narrows down to a matter of timing—when does Congress for example figure the people can stand a little more taxing without changing Congressmen, and the best method of gauging this was proclaimed by a Congressman in an article I read in a newspaper last night.

According to him, this is no time to increase taxes because "the people are in no mood for it." Now if Congress at any time is in doubt about the mood of the people for more taxes, I'll be glad to take the conduct of a fair price to conduct a nation-wide opinion poll, with more accuracy than any other poll, including the British ones.

I'll guarantee that without even leaving the front porch of my house on this bitter-sweet ranch I can tell you exactly what the mood of 95 percent of the people is, in this country or any other on earth, on the question of raising taxes. Furthermore, while I'm conducting the survey, for an additional fee I can determine how 95 percent of the people feel about increasing governmental services. I can even narrow it down to any particular city you name. For example, my survey will show that New York City wants less Federal spending on non-essentials and more Federal spending on New York, Cincinnati? Ditto. Chicago? Ditto. You name the town or city and I'll supply the ditto. Yours faithfully, J. A.

With grateful hearts, we thank all those who did so much to help us in our time of grief. May we offer our humble thanks for your comfort and love. The family of Alfred Cooper 1c46

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Glasscock are parents of a son, Tommy Ray, born here July 13. The baby weighed 6 pounds. In Sutton County's only political race, Alfred Cooper (employee of Sonora Food Locker) was elected justice of the Peace over incumbent, George Barrow. DDT fogging of Sonora and parts of the county was mostly done at night due to high winds reported R. M. McCarver, city manager, this week. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Awalt entertained with a supper at their home Thursday night. The guests played croquet and were served a chicken supper. Miss Jackie Gwen Wardlaw accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Jack Wardlaw, left to attend a banquet in Ft. Worth honoring winners in the recent state soil conservation contest. She placed first in the state and will later go to Colorado—her award for winning first in the state.

Commissioners elected were C. W. Adams, Sam Kames, Lee Morris and Joe F. Logan. Some fight promoter might get an idea from this: J. R. Barton of Wichita Falls and a state Game Warden recently saw a pair of jackrabbits boxing. The rabbits repeatedly jumped high in the air and hit each other with their hind feet. Finally, without either knocking out the other or apparently gaining the advantage over the other, they departed, each in a different direction. 65 YEARS AGO S. H. Stokes sold to Wm. Sultemeyer 1260 goats at $2.50 kids included. Fred Millard of Sonora bought from Sam Nicks 25 fat cows at $14.80 per head. Bart DeWitt of Bracketville, who has been visiting his uncle Jas. Cornell for some time left for San Angelo Tuesday to attend a business college. Mr. and Mrs. Font Mayfield were in from the ranch Wednesday shopping. John A. Martin sold his 14 section ranch in Edwards County to E. R. Jackson of Sonora for $7,000.

Forest Beeman who has been with W. J. Fields for about twelve years has sold all his cattle. He sold to J. R. Robbins and Will Clendennan 100 head of stock cattle at $12 per head. Forest does not know what he will do for some time. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lem Stokes on Sunday, March 8, a girl. Will G. Brown and Sam Merck were among the ranchmen in Sonora Tuesday from the Frank Defeats country. They are "farming some" and report conditions favorable. W. B. Silliman and Frank Murchison, well known and prominent citizens of Schelicher County, were in the Sonora country this week looking for a few hundred steers to put in the Territory.

Mack Finds Perseverance Pays An often repeated cliché "perseverance pays off" has certainly been true for Mack Mayhew, 1961 Sonora High School graduate, who hopes to earn a degree from the University of Houston in August. Mack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mayhew, joined an army reserve unit when he was seventeen and upon graduation from high school, he left for six months training. When he had fulfilled his army commitment he went to Houston and found a job with Ryder Truck Lines. For sometime he worked and attended night school at San Jacinto Junior College in Baytown. Twice he had to withdraw from school because his hours conflicted with his work, and he lost the credits he might have earned. During high school days, Mack was an average student, like most of us and studying did not come easily. Nevertheless, he kept plugging along. In December of 1965 he married Jean Edwards. She had also attended San Jacinto Junior College and was working for a chemical company in Pasadena. Mack's mother, Mrs. Mayhew, gives his wife much credit for encouraging him to continue with his studies and work towards a degree. He found it necessary to change jobs since a conflict in his work once more compelled him to quit school. Presently he is working at the loading docks for the big trailer trucks. The work is far from easy, but the pay is high. His working hours are 6 p. m. to 11 p. m. and during the day he attends school at the University of Houston. Many times he has become discouraged and felt that he. grind of work, study, work, study, was too grueling. There were times when he was sure he could not make it, but now that the end is in sight he is already talking about continuing his studies. He has been studying business and is contemplating the study of law. It has taken Mack eight years to get this far, but with his kind of determination, it's a pretty sure bet that he can pursue another course of study if he decides that is what he wants to do. We salute Mack Mayhew, and are proud to call him an "ex". (Editor's note: We feel that many ex-students of Sonora High School are deserving of recognition for efforts in furthering their formal education, or perhaps success attained in their work. We would like to recognize these young men and women if our readers will help us locate them and point out their achievements to us.)

A Bishop Looks at Life

ABOUT RETIREMENT

By Everett H. Jones
 Retired Bishop of the EPISCOPAL CHURCH

There are now more than 20 million people in the United States over 65 years of age. Since some persons retire at a still earlier age, the total number of those facing the problems of aging and retirement is still larger.

Enough study and research have been done on this subject so that we can give a few basic principles of guidance for those concerned:

—It is important to face retirement long before the time of retirement. Those who are most upset by this new experience are those who have done the least thinking about it in advance.

—This planning should include where you are going to live (there is much to be said for not leaving familiar friends and surroundings); how there will be adequate income; and forms of activity that will be interesting and satisfying. There are now trained retirement counselors and tests are being devised for those retired, or about to retire, to find vocational aptitudes (often ones unsuspected) to give meaning to one's latter years.

—Those who have made the most of the retirement experience are those who have shifted from a philosophy of doing what is assigned to one of discovering how to invest their abilities and experience in constructive ways.

—There is often a need for emotional and spiritual adjustment, especially for those who are suddenly deprived of large responsibilities. This may need to be talked out with a close friend, a minister or a counselor. If this aspect is not dealt with there is danger of self-pity, withdrawal from social life and self-depreciation.

—A valuable practice is to remember the privileges of retirement: escape from constant pressure, the new perspective that comes with more leisure and detachment, the opportunity for selective involvement in the needs of the community; greater freedom to express concern and interest in the personal problems and sorrows of those around us.

To sum it up, retirement can be a creative and enjoyable way of life if we approach it rightly.

Museum News

The Sutton County Meiers Home Museum was visited the past Thursday by Dr. Kate Adele Hill of San Angelo and Fred A. Carpenter from Texas Tech University.

Dr. Hill and Carpenter made visits to several ranches regarding the historical past of this area. Carpenter, a member of the staff of Texas Tech University, represents the Southwest Collection Archives for the American Southwest.

In these archives family histories including old bibles, diaries, letters and pictures can be permanently recorded and filed for future generations. He will return to this area for more information and anyone wishing to contact him may do so through museum members or by writing him at P. O. Box 480, Brownwood, or at the university.

Other visitors at the museum Thursday were Mrs. Collier Shurley, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph VanderStucken and James Hunt.

Mrs. W. T. Hardy kept the museum open last Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Bernice Savell will be at the museum this Thursday afternoon.

George Wrights Visiting Here

Mr. and Mrs. George Wright and their children are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wright. Wright is principal of a 550 enrollment American school in Jeddeh Saudi Arabia. An employee of Trans World Airlines, the family has visited twenty-one foreign countries. They will spend a week in Ireland and Scotland later this summer before returning to Arabia.

Wright, a 1955 graduate of Sonora High School, has been at Texas Tech for the past month under TWA sponsorship, and has just completed requirements for his Texas Superintendents certificate, with forty hours above his Masters degree.

Mrs. Wright teaches one of the three sections of first grade. Their son, Lance, is a second grader; Robin is a fourth grade student and their other daughter, Susan, is in kindergarten.

The Wrights will leave for Ireland via TWA from Amarillo, July 28.

Gary McGilvray Honor Student

William Gary McGilvray, son of Mrs. Mary Ruth McGilvray, was one of the more than 500 engineering students at the University of Texas, who were announced as honor students for the spring semester.

In making the announcement, Dean Eames F. Gloyna, said eligibility is based upon a student's having maintained at least a 12-semester-hour course load throughout the semester with a minimum grade-point average of 3.250.

Is it fun to be SURPRISED?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Still in Dispute

It is still a disputed question among historians as to whether Babylonian or Egyptian civilization came first. Possibly, both countries took their first steps toward culture at about the same time.

We think we have trouble! Have you ever realized how unfortunate the letter E is? It is always out of CASH, forever in DEBT, never out of DANGER, and always in HELL. On the other hand, however it is never in WAR and always in PEACE, and we are deeply indebted to the little letter since it is the beginning of EXISTENCE, the beginning of EASE, and the end of TROUBLE. Without it there would be no MEAT, no LIFE, and no HEAVEN. It is the center of HONESTY and although it starts off in ERROR, it ends by making LOVE perfect.

W. L. (TOM) DAVIS explains some of the types of barbed wire to a visitor at the dedication ceremonies held recently at the Miers Home Museum. Davis has an extensive collection of the many types of barbed wire, and he displayed a part of the collection at the museum. Another outstanding display at the museum placed there especially for the ceremonies, was a gun collection belonging to Bill Stewart. Stewart is the owner of a large number of rifles and pistols. One particularly interesting one was a small palm pistol, widely used by gangsters during the mobsters reign in Chicago.
