County IH 10 Final Links In Making

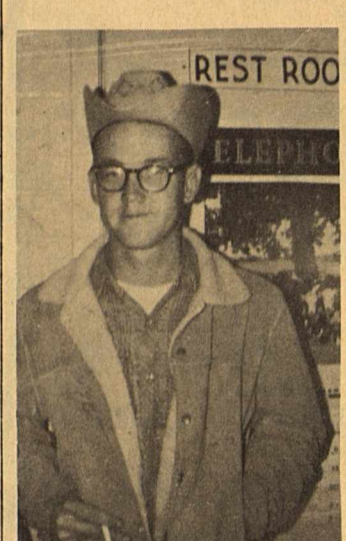

Hopefully, one of the final links in Interstate Highway 10 construction will begin soon as an announcement was received from the Texas Highway Commission last week approving construction for an expressway facility on IH10 in Sutton County.

The project on IH10 extends from a 0.3 mile west of Sonora, eastward to 0.9 mile east of U.S. Highway 277, a distance of 1.5 miles. Estimated cost of construction is approximately $2.9 million.

The Texas Highway Department was directed to proceed with construction of grading and structures for the facility, according to the release.

Contracts for the construction could be let as early as July.

Presently construction on the 14.335 mile section of IH10, five miles east of town and extending 19 miles east near the Baker Road is progressing pretty much on schedule. The project began June 8, 1970 and completion is expected October, 1971. Borsberry Construction Company, Inc. of El Paso, contractors, estimated the project would require 325 working days.

With the IH10 construction complete west of town to within seven miles of Ozona, the awarding of this portion of area construction would leave a mere four miles to connect the interstate highway locally. When entirely complete, this magnificent four-lane highway will converse the state from Beaumont, to El Paso, pass through Houston, San Antonio, Fort Stockton and Van Horn.

R. A. McCulloch is Resident Engineer for the Texas Highway Department and Joe Lane is Resident Engineer in charge of IH10 construction.

Edwards County Reports Screwworm Case Last Week

One more screwworm case was reported by the Mission Screwworm Center in Edwards County Friday, bringing the week's total to four. The state and national tally is now 41 cases. Earlier in the week, single cases were found in Kinney, Real and Hidalgo Counties.

Dr. M.E. (Cotton) Meadows, Jr., veterinarian in charge of field operations at the Screwworm Center, urged producers to continue sending in larvae samples. "Our samples are declining, and it is important to know where the cases are in order to treat those areas immediately," he said.

The Edwards County case was located on a ranch near the Barksdale community and was collected from a swine. The earlier cases came from infested wounds in sheep, goats and cattle.

"Let's keep on the alert for screwworms," Dr. Meadows added, "all livestock is susceptible if wounds are present, and good management practices by livestock producers in the state can help us reduce the present infestation and prevent an outbreak."

An application for a post charter for membership in the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization has been approved for Sutton County, according to Phillip Cooper.

Cooper said an organizational meeting has been planned for tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 at the courthouse. Twenty-seven veterans have indicated they will apply for membership. VFW members of surrounding counties plan to attend the meeting and help to organize the Sutton county group. Cooper urged all veterans to attend the meeting.

WHAT WILL INTERSTATE 10 do to the face of Sonora? With approval of construction for an expressway facility in Sutton County, it's possible the contract could be let in July. Joe Lane, resident engineer, sketched over this aerial photo of Sonora in 1969 to show the path of the coast-to-coast highway, and that portion to be constructed within the city limits.

Research Station Sets Angora Field Day

With the largest number of Angora goats being raised in the Edwards Plateau region, of primary interest to producers in this area is a goat field day scheduled at the Agricultural Research Station Tuesday, June 15.

Last year much interest was shown in the field day when about 150 persons attended the all-day affair at the station 26 miles south of Sonora. The majority of those attending the meet were from Sutton, Edwards, Bandera, Kerr and Kimble Counties.

A Junior Angora Goat Judging contest, sponsored by Texas Angora Goat Raisers Association and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will begin at 8 a. m. In charge will be Jack Groff of Kerrville and Hayden Haby, county agent, Edwards County. The contest is open to 4-H members, F.F.A. groups and other interested youth who might wish to participate.

Serving as master of ceremonies will be Bill Sims, executive secretary, TS&GRA. Dr. Leo B. Merrill, in charge of Sonora Research Station, will welcome visitors and make announcements.

Others appearing on the program include Dr. J.R. Gallagher, McGregor Research Center, who will speak on comparative efficiency of fiber production of Rambouillet sheep and Angora goats. Dr. R.E. Branson, department of agricultural economics, Texas A&M University, will discuss market potentials for goat meat. Noel Fry, president of the Mohair Council, will discuss activities of the council.

A barbecue lunch catered by Sutton County 4-H club will be served at 12 noon.

Following the noon meal, Allen Dunbar of Rocksprings will discuss briefly the income picture from Angora goats. Dr. James W. Bassett, department of animal science of Texas A&M University, will report progress on the mohair defect study.

"A Look at the Nutritional Requirements of the Angora", will head the topic to be discussed by J.E. Huston of A&M University.

Dr. Maurice Shelton of the McGregor Station and Joe Stewart of the Sonora Station, will jointly review the research progress with the Angora goat.

Final event of the day begins at 2:15 p. m. with presentation of judging contest awards by T.L. Brooks, president, Texas Angora Goat Raisers Association of Leakey.

Mr. Ralph Beznar director regional motor carrier officer, U.S. Dept. of Transportation advised that these regulations only apply to drivers engaged in the over-the-road interstate transportation of commodities.

A Calendar Of Fact And Opinion

The most comprehensive report on international educational and cultural exchange programs, published annually by the Institute of International Education, reports that 134,959 foreign students and 12,659 foreign scholars studied in the United States in the academic year 1969-70. The foreign student and scholar population represented an 11 percent increase over last year's total. The number of U.S. students and scholars abroad declined slightly. There were 25,117 U.S. students reported as regularly enrolled in foreign colleges and universities in 1968-69.

According to "Seventy-Six", a publication of the Union Oil Company of California: "More than half the volume of the world's ocean shipping is petroleum."

According to The Elks Magazine, "It's not funny but...inflation has inspired a raft of jokes here. One of the more popular is about the man who went to a supermarket to do the family marketing for the week and was asked by the bag boy whether he wanted a shopping cart. 'No thanks', he answered, 'I won't need one. I've only got a twenty on me.'"

The Public Service Company of Colorado observes, "Since the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1776, America's lumber industry has produced enough lumber to build a seven-foot boardwalk from earth to the sun. Despite the annual harvest by man and loss by nature, the nation's forests are continuing to produce wood faster than we are using it."

Mr. Art Brown writes in "The Sample Case", a publication of The Order of United Commercial Travelers of America, "Low cost accident-free driving may be likened to a wheel of which you, the driver, are the hub. From the hub of the theoretical wheel go four major spokes—skillful driving, a sound car, knowledge of the law and courtesy."

Columnist Bill Vaughan says, "In the search for jobs by 1970 college graduates, accountants had the best luck. Even when times are bad, industry apparently has to know just how bad."

WITH A GRAIN OF SALT Nearly everyone knows what it is like to pay interest on debt. Nearly every family makes interest-bearing payments on a car, on a home or on some other item. No one escapes the necessity of paying interest when they borrow money. It is the wage that money earns for people who have savings to invest.

Even government pays interest on money it borrows from its citizens. At the close of the federal government's fiscal year last June 30, 1970, the federal government owed its citizens the incomprehensible sum of $383,427,640,000. The interest on that debt last year cost the federal government over $19-billion—more than the total expenses of the federal government for the first 117 years of our history. It was also more than the total federal budget for any single year until 1942. The next time someone tells you government debt means nothing because we owe it to ourselves, take it with a couple of grains of salt. Only the bankrupt fail to pay their obligations—including interest.

Looks at Life A Bishop Memorable Moments

By Everett H. Jones Retired Bishop of the EPISCOPAL CHURCH

A few days ago my attention was arrested by a suggested early morning prayer: "O Lord, help me to keep relaxed and calm all thru this day, and make some moment memorable."

My first thought was a happy realization that no day is wasted or routine or boring if it contains at least one memorable moment.

Then I began to say to myself, "But what is a memorable moment? I cannot be aware of such moments unless I know what I am looking for." So I began a list (it is only a beginning!) and I pass it on: It is a memorable moment when I have a glimpse of unusual and breath-taking beauty. It has been said that every experience of beauty is an experience of God.

It is a memorable moment when a look, a word, or an act makes me know I am of concern to another human being. It is also memorable when I express this kind of love by a look, a word, or an act. Baron von Hugel once said: "Christianity means caring. Caring matters most."

It is a memorable moment when I reach a decision, perhaps after an inner battle, that represents courage, faith and commitment. Thomas a Kempis said, "The perfect victory is to triumph over ourselves."

It is a memorable moment when, even for a few seconds, I am so caught up in a purpose, a cause, or a need I am trying to meet, that I completely forget myself.

It is a memorable moment when I understand with a fresh intensity how completely I am dependent on others, and how rightly the Bible says "We are members one of another." (Ephesians 4:25)

It is a memorable moment when above the noise and confusion around me I hear the still, quiet voice of God and know that He is near. Said Henry Vaughan, the 17th Century English poet, "Prayer is the world in tune." It is the same experience we sometimes call communion, or revelation of faith.

THE LAND

THE LAND is one of man's most valuable assets—we think it is prime collateral. In the past 54 years the Federal Land Bank of Houston has made almost 200,000 loans on Texas farms and ranches.

In other words, we specialize in making farm and ranch real estate loans—long term loans with prepayment privileges.

THE DEVILS RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ....

He Has Some Questions About A New Truth-In-Advertising Rule Passed

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Dry Devil's River discusses potatoes and politicians this week, we believe. Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a newspaper the other day and am just now getting around to thinking about, the Food and Drug Administration in Washington has come out with a new truth-in-labeling rule. Under it, if a grocery store advertising Idaho potatoes, for example, those potatoes have to come from Idaho, Louisiana hot sauce has to come from La., etc. Can't be selling Arkansas potatoes in an Idaho sack or Idahos in an Arkansas sack. This rule was demanded by either the potato or the sack people, I don't know which.

I guess there's some point to this, although it's impossible for me to tell where a potato came from, if the gravy's made right. As for Louisiana hot sauce it's all what you're used to, I guess, as the people in Chicago say about their mayor.

However, this truth-in-labeling can be carried too far. For example, if you think right hard you probably can think of one or two people acting as Congressmen who are clearly mis-labeled. Is the Food and Drug Administration coming out with a rule against this?

Of course you might argue the Food and Drug Administration is talking only about items that are for sale, but it's entirely possible those Congressmen could meet those terms too. Or take some State Legislators... but I won't get into that. When a man makes his point he ought to stop and leave something for his readers to fill in on their own.

Come to think of it, how about cafes that serve home-cooked meals a mile from any home? And won't Boston-baked beans get mighty cold if they're served in Sonora? Not even a super-sonic plane we can't afford could get them here that fast. Rules sometimes get pretty complicated. I believe in truth in advertising all right, but if the next step is to require complete truth in Congressmen, for example, or complete truth in people, you've got a mighty unwieldy job on your hands. Yours faithfully, J. A.

ALONG THE TRAIL

Novices tend to follow the path, especially when it is straight and narrow. But even with experienced riders there can be unexpected turns, and it's possible to get lost.

In life there are very few straight paths. It is extremely easy to come upon an unexpected turn, and to encounter doubt, confusion, even despair.

Horseback riding is not compulsory. But you do have a life—and you have to live it. The way is up to you. If we get lost, we can give up, but with the help of the Church, you will find a trustworthy guide which will renew your faith and clear the way to the path of eternal fulfillment.

Coffee Break
 by Shirley Hill
 From all reports, moans, groans, and skinned shins, the baseball game Friday should prove to be an interesting show. Mothers of local Little League teams have been practicing for their game to be played at 7:30 Friday night at the little league field to raise money for new uniforms.
 Boy, am I glad my days of Little League are over. Last Friday they had their first practice session and from all reports I'm not too sure there will be enough left for two teams as previously planned.
 But, everyone go out and support these mothers in their endeavor. It should be fun!

Summer comfort will be yours with electric air conditioning. It's the smart way to beat the heat!

But an electric air conditioner does more than cool the air; it filters out dust, dirt and pollen, too. Doors and windows may be closed, keeping out noise and outdoor dust and smoke. Housekeeping is easier with this help from an electric air conditioner.

Another big benefit from electric air conditioning is moisture control. Air conditioning removes excess moisture to reduce humidity in the home.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Ad Piracy

Poster ads for a circus were so eye-catching that a printer made up some copies—without asking anyone's permission. The owner of the circus promptly filed suit, charging infringement of copyright. But in court, the printer argued:

"Mere advertisements cannot be copyrighted. The Constitution says copyright is intended only for the 'useful arts'. That means something on a higher artistic level than just ads, which are plain commercialism."

Nevertheless, the court ruled that ads are indeed protectable by copyright and held the printer liable. The court said the Constitution drew no line between high-brow and lowbrow art.

In earlier years, many courts did draw such a line. But today, almost everywhere, ads are entitled to the same copyright protection as a book or a painting. Courts have recognized that a great deal of money and a great deal of talent are now going into the creation of ads.

It is still true, however, that a copyright won't stand up if the ad is dishonest. Thus:

A series of ads was developed by a sales agency, to be used by piano dealers. When one dealer began using the ads without permission, the agency sued him for copyright infringement.

But the judge refused to mix in, when he discovered that the ads were riddled with deceit.

"The law should extend its protection," he said, "only (to ads) that speak the truth."

Furthermore, only the specific details of an ad—the words, the drawings—are protected, not the general idea.

In another case a merchant advertised a contest in which people were supposed to write letters, telling why they liked to shop in his store.

Later, another merchant announced a contest along the same lines, but describing it in different language. Was this an infringement of copyright?

A court said no, since only the general idea had been copied. If general ideas were copyrightable, said the court, one person could stake out an entire field of thought and keep it as his own private monopoly.

Drought Prevails

by E.B. Keng, SCS Technician
Drought continues to plague most of the Edwards Plateau soil and water conservation district. May, the month with the highest long-time average rainfall, slipped away with only light showers.

June, with characteristic high daytime temperatures, is here. Based on long-time rainfall records, the odds for receiving drought breaking rains have greatly decreased. A quick glance at the 1888 to 1965 San Angelo rainfall records showed only two years in the 97 year period that June received over three inches of rain following a May with 1 inch or less. In 1878 May showed .17 and was followed by 3.31 inches in June. In 1952 .62 fell in May, followed by 3.47 in June.

Most ranchmen have reduced livestock by selling dry and cull animals and young lambs and calves. Some of the basic breeding herd animals are now being sent to market.

Grass growing rains could come in June—and more remotely in July or August. September, however, is the next month when good rains are really expected. Sonora Experiment Station rainfall records show that only 17 Septembers during the past 51 years received less than two inches of rain.

If a good grass stubble is on the land and heavy rains come early in September, some winter feed can be produced before frost. If the range is bare when September rains fall, it is very probable that little grass will be produced.

Ranchmen have very serious decisions to make, now, on how many livestock to keep or to sell. No information is available on when or how much rain will fall. Market situations later in the year are another question mark. The availability and price of hay, grain and protein supplement this winter is important.

Drought is the most dependable climatic feature in this area. We will probably never be able to completely avert the many economic problems associated with extended drought. The ranchman who stocks moderately during seasonal periods and keeps a good range cover of strong grasses will be able to ride out droughts with the least economic losses.

Notes On Nature

by E.B. Keng, SCS Technician
Wild animals and birds found in Nature provide beauty, interest, and entertainment for many people. A few notes gleaned from Utah Science on a wide range of wildlife are of general interest.

The use of the words "frog" and "toad" is often confusing. In general, frogs have smooth skins and toads warty skins.

The California Condor, largest living bird of North America, attains a wingspread of nine feet and a weight of 20 pounds. The female Condor lays no more than one egg every other year. Both parents spend an average of 45 days incubating the egg, five months brooding the chick, and nine months feeding it after the youngster has left the nest. The Condor ranges from 40 to 50 miles daily in search for food.

Rattlesnakes shed their skins about three times a year, acquiring a new rattle each time. Beavers have an average life span of 10 to 12 years.

The coyote ranges over more of the U.S. than any other single species of wildlife.

Bears eat heavily during the summer months in preparation for winter hibernation. One male gained 92 pounds in 4 days during June and July.

The winter coat of the white-tailed deer is so well insulated that the animal can sleep in snow all night without melting it.

Green News

A major catastrophe has happened to one of our golfers—Sammie Espy broke her little toe. Almost everyone on hearing this bit of news chuckled softly before expressing their sympathy to her. Sammie hasn't let her broken toe hinder her game though. We, her golfing friends, can assure you of this because we all handed over our quarters after losing to her Monday afternoon.

—GN—
Sonora was represented by seven women at the Big Lake Golf Tournament. There were four there also that belong to our association from Eldorado. Earnestine Hext and Rose Doyle won the Championship Flight with Jo and Chicken taking third place honors. Luck played a part in this when it was announced that they were tied for third—Chicken cut the ace of spades to cinch it for them.

Eddie Kinser and Mary Waldren won second place in the First Flight. The Second Flight was won by Elaine Donaldson and Martha Black. Lunetta and Marilyn won third in the Second Flight.

Our golfers from Eldorado really did come in with honors. Earnestine also won the Medalist and Eddie had the longest drive and won the low putt trophy.

LOOKING BACK...

INDEPENDENCE DAY IN 1923 was probably a torrid one, but note the white shirts and ties of the men. The tent in the middle of the street and the flags were part of the celebration. The absence of paved streets and the board sidewalks were the norm for Sonora 42 years ago. Utility lines and the tin Lizzies show modernism was already on the march. About 1929 the board sidewalks came up, as the old yielded itself to the new. This panorama shot of the city is a picture of three main streets in Sonora, with Main Street in the middle, present C. G. Morrison Store end of Concho Street on the left, and the Elliott Chevrolet part of Concho on the right.
