Continued Rainfall Sets July Record

The heaviest rainfall in over a century, many Sonora ranchmen could claim, fell in the area in July. San Angelo's 104-year record shows one July (1880) with 10.26 inches of rain. San Antonio in 85 years can boast only 8.19 in July. Fifty years of rainfall records at Sonora's Experiment Station shows one possibly "wetter" July (1938) with 12.87 inches. In July, 1938, the Wool House recorded 13.17. Rainfall totals in the Sonora area since rain started July 24, vary from some six inches to over 13 inches. Rainfall intensity varied from torrential to very slow. With some six inches of rain draws did not run on the Leonard Gibbs ranch. With over 13 inches southwest of Sonora the old "dump ground" draw was higher than at any time in the memory of local residents. Ranch-to-market roads closed from a few hours to several days included the Hill road, Bond road and the Juno road.

Moisture penetration into the drought-depleted soil also varied tremendously. After six inches of rain bare rangeland showed moisture penetration to only eight inches, while nearby grassed areas were wet to over 24 inches.

The ten days of cloudy, cool weather accompanying the moisture is ideal for grass growth. Rangeland with good "turf" of strong plants will produce abundant growth from stored moisture. Weak, overgrazed plants will green up, but will need more rain in ten days to support growth.

A few representative rainfall totals for the 10-day period include Mrs. E. D. Shurley, over 13 inches; Thomas Morris, 10 plus; G. H. Davis, 9.50; Joe Lane (deBerry), over 11 inches; Experiment Station, 7.50; Edwin Sawyer, 7.00 and Sawyer Eagle Well Ranch, 8.00.

Kindergarten Sign-Up Set

Kindergarten registration will be held at Sonora Elementary Monday and Tuesday, August 9-10, from 9 to 11 a. m. and 1 to 3 p. m., said Clay Cade, principal.

There will be a tuition free Kindergarten class for non-English speaking children, who are at least 5 years, 2 months of age, and a tuition Kindergarten.

The criteria for the tuition Kindergarten is that a child must be 5 years of age on or before September 1, 1971. A pupil may withdraw from the class at anytime, but one doing so, may not re-enter, Clay advises parents. Tuition fees are $20 monthly, due on or before the first day of each month.

Birth certificates are required by state law of all pupils entering Kindergarten or first grade.

Also on these dates and at the time stated, all pupils who are new to the community, grades one through five are asked to register at Sonora Elementary, with grades six through eight to register at Junior High.

It will not be necessary for pupils who were attending Sonora Elementary at the close of school to pre-register, Cade added.

Mrs. Maria Rouche Dies After Illness

Mrs. Maria Rouche died July 28, 1971, in Hudspeh Memorial Hospital, following a long illness. She was born in 1884, in Mexico, and had lived here for the past 35 years.

Services were held Thursday at St. Ann's Catholic Church with burial in Sonora Cemetery, directed by Ratliff-Kerbaw Funeral Home.

Survivors include a son, Antonio Martinez.

Three Companies Plan $125-Million Pipeline

The Dow Chemical Company, Houston Natural Gas Corporation and Tenneco have reached agreement in principle on a plan which will result in an immediate 333-mile westward extension of the 36-inch intrastate natural gas pipeline now being operated by Intratex Gas Company, an HNG subsidiary, between the Houston area and New Braunfels, just north of San Antonio.

Intratex Gas Company recently opened offices in the building formerly occupied by Davis Insurance Agency. C. B. Partin of Houston, is presently assigned here as office manager, and Mrs. Wayne Shaw is office secretary.

Partin said the company plans to maintain an office here for sometime, and he added that company personnel have been well pleased with the cooperation of persons they have contacted since their arrival.

The extension, also 36 inches in diameter, will be constructed from New Braunfels to near Coyanosa in Pecos County, where it will interconnect with an existing Intratex transmission system in the Delaware Basin of West Texas.

Cost of the project, scheduled for completion by the summer of 1972, will be approximately $75 million. Including the present Intratex lines, the total investment by Houston Natural, Dow and Tenneco to provide access to substantial reserves of West Texas gas for the Houston-Gulf Coast market will be in excess of $125 million.

The agreement called for the organization August 1 of a new corporation, to be owned 50% by HNG, 30% by Dow and 20% by Tenneco. The new corporation, as yet unnamed, will construct the extension and will acquire from Intratex the 142-mile Houston to New Braunfels link and a segment of the transmission facilities in West Texas. Ultimate throughput capacity of the completed system will be 1.2 billion cubic feet per day without looping.

HNG's initial equity capital contribution will consist of the Intratex properties which will be transferred to the new corporation. The initial contributions of Dow and Tenneco will be made in cash. All additional capital required to complete construction will be derived from long term borrowings by the new corporation. Intratex will continue to acquire reserves and will provide supervision and services in the operation of the entire West Texas to Houston system.

HNG purchased its first reserves in West Texas in October, 1969, and a month later announced long range plans for a 500-mile transmission line to coastal markets. Gathering, transmission and purification facilities in West Texas and the initial mainline segment from New Braunfels to Houston were completed in the summer of 1970. Pending construction of the planned westward extension, a pipeline owned by others has been utilized to deliver gas from the Delaware Basin to Intratex at New Braunfels under a transportation agreement which expires in 1973.

HNG began its own exploration and development program in West Texas with the acquisition late in 1969 of Roden Oil Company. Roden Oil, which will be combined later this year with Houston Natural Gas Production Company to form the new HNG Oil Company, is drilling actively in Sutton County and other West Texas areas. Reserves developed will be directly accessible in most instances to the Dow-HNG-Tenneco transmission line.

1142 Horses Receive VEE Vaccine In This County

By D. C. Langford, County Agent Through July 28, 1142 horses had been vaccinated in Sutton County for VEE (Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis). Only a few horses remain to be vaccinated in the county and owners of these horses should contact the Sonora Veterinary Clinic and make an appointment to vaccinate the horses.

Since 100 doses of the vaccine must be mixed at one time and used within twelve hours, it is important that the horses be grouped for vaccination to prevent the waste of vaccine.

The bulk of horse owners in Sutton County have been mailed their VEE vaccination certificates receipts which they must have in their possession when moving horses on public roads in Texas. The remaining receipts will be mailed by the County Agent's office as soon as they are processed. Horse owners are reminded that horses must have been vaccinated for 14 or more days before they can be moved.

Continued rains will probably cause increased mosquito problems. Stagnant water and other mosquito breeding places should be treated to help control the possible spread of VEE.

Flood Prevention Dams Lead Protection During Heavy Rains

By E. B. KENG, SCS Technician

With most of the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation district measuring from 6 to 13 inches of rain during the past ten days, concern quickly switched from drought to flood control.

With thirteen flood prevention dams on Dry Devil's River and Lowrey Draw, Sonorans could sleep in peace with any flood threat extremely remote. Most of the rainfall on the watershed fell relatively slow, and runoff was moderate.

With over eight inches on the deBerry and adjacent ranches, however, Site 8 on the G. H. Davis ranch caught far more floodwater than at any time since the structures were completed in 1961. The flood pool at Site 8 was approximately half full.

The flood pool is being slowly drained by the automatic drawdown pipe. This pipe is largely responsible for the flow of water running through Sonora for the past ten days. Following

Facts And Opinions

According to "The Montana Citizen", a publication of the Montana Chamber of Commerce, "The cost of living continues to climb upward for most Americans, and the retailer is too often wrongly accused as villain. Actually, he is the least to blame, for no retailer forces the kinds of purchases that are pushing total expenditures skyward. Does the grocer insist that food baskets be filled with household items such as dustpans, garden fertilizer, and plastic dishes...cigarettes, beer, paper plates and cups, bubble bath and magazines... Certainly, increased labor costs, taxes and insurance have all contributed to the higher prices we pay for necessities. However, the biggest cause of great expenditures probably comes from our voluntary decisions to buy objects and services we could actually do without. The Main Street businessman merely makes those goods and services available which his customers demand. If he doesn't his competitor will--and therein lies the foundation of our free enterprise system."

The Devil's River Philosopher Sez... He Finds Hope For Environmentalists Hunting New Things To Deplore

Editor's note: The Dry Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on Dry Devil's River discovers new horizons for environmentalists this year.

Dear editor: For a while I was worried about some of the environmentalists, that is, the newcomers who got in late on the act, not the genuine ones who are on firm ground when they attack the pollution of rivers, lakes, oceans, parks, roadsides and the air we breathe.

But it's pretty hard to establish a permanent organization with a president and all against swordfish and corn flakes, so I was pleased when I read in a newspaper last night that a scientist has come up with a brand new one. It's automobile tires. Not the tires themselves, it's what goes with the rubber when it wears out.

According to him, 340,000 tons of rubber a year disappear into the air or somewhere as tires go from new to threadbare on the streets and highways of America, not counting, I presume, that left by teenagers who dig out because I've seen their skid-marks still on the highway.

Now 340,000 tons of minute particles of rubber dumped into the atmosphere every year is something I hadn't thought about, but it sure opens up new horizons for environmentalists running out of something to point their finger at, some of whom were reduced to denouncing paper cups.

A Bishop Looks at Life Light - Bearers

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

A friend of mine has just returned from a tour of Europe. He says that he spent much time trying to put together the bits and pieces of history as they confronted him in the various places he visited. It was comforting, he said, to note that thru all the ups and downs of kings and empires someone kept the lamp of religion burning.

His statement brought to mind the conception of Christian history as a relay race in which the burning torch of God's Truth has been passed from person to person and from age to age. As one writer has summed up this story of twenty centuries, "One loving heart set another on fire."

There are those today who believe we have entered a new Dark Age in which the religious heritage is seriously endangered; the lamp of vital religion is burning low, they say. There is much to support their fears: the spread of pornography, sexual license, and venereal disease; the unchecked growth of drug addiction; the breakdown of confidence in our political institutions and our political leaders; the decline of courtesy and polite language; the almost total loss of reverence.

While some people spend their time bemoaning these alarming aspects of modern life there are others who see in the situation a new challenge to repeat the historical precedent observed by my friend in his European tour. They would say that the times present an opportunity to be part of the historic Light-bearing brigade, a call to be vigorously involved in keeping the lamp of religion burning.

Those who answer this challenge are convinced that we dare not cut ourselves off from the hard-won inheritance of moral values and insights that life without this heritage will soon become brutal and meaningless; and that some future generation will be profoundly grateful to those of us who in this generation, both by word and example, do not allow the divine fire to be extinguished.

Coffee Break

by Shirley Hill

Next time Texas has drouth conditions, give me a vacation. Boy, did my vacation break the drouth! Nine days off and eight days of rain. Now I'm not really knocking the rain but nine hours at Six Flags in the rain is almost unbearable.

The rain has brought on a few other problems I've noticed while making the business places Monday selling ads. Most of the places I went have drop cloths and buckets to catch the rain falling through roofs that were not accustomed to all this precipitation--the 'Devil' being no exception.

Laura Odom paid her annual visit to the news office Tuesday morning. She is usually our first customer each year to renew her subscription, which comes due September 1. Laura like many other people I've noticed the last couple of days was sporting a sweater. Kinda' unusual for August in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Preston have returned from a vacation trip to parts of California, Arizona, New Mexico and Nevada.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Drennan of Coleman were Sonora visitors over the weekend. Cheerleaders for the 1971-72 school year are in Dallas this week attending a cheerleading school at SMU.

Mrs. Lois Kelley and her daughter, Miss Sandra Kelley, of El Paso, are visiting her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nevill this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Slatton and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McKay attended the wedding of Mrs. Slatton's niece in Eastland over the weekend. They also attended a family reunion at Lake Cisco Sunday.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Santos Lopez are their three granddaughters of Houston.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Rode were Barbara Barnes of Yoakum, Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Taylor, Ginger and George of Big Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Brad Henley, Dixie, Leddy and Rode of Hubbard.

Mr. and Mrs. John McClelland are in Houston this week where John is receiving medical treatment.

Martha Simmons is in California visiting this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Garnett, pastor and teacher at Primera Baptist Church, are attending the Thirteenth Annual Drug Education Workshop, August 5-7 at Baylor University in Waco. The workshop is co-sponsored by Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education and Baylor University.

Mr. and Mrs. Artie Joy were honored on their 43rd wedding anniversary with an open house held at the Parish Hall July 20. The event was hosted by their sons and families, Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley Joy, Kerry, Lesa, Tobin and Mitzi; Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Joy, Yvette, Trudie, Bret and Robbie Ann. Friends and relatives were served coffee, tea, punch and cake by Misses Trudie and Lesa Joy and Miss Yvette Joy registered guests. The cake, made and decorated by Mrs. A. Z. Joy, featured a family tree and was used as a centerpiece.

SONORA DUPLICATE BRIDGE Five-table Howell was played Monday night when players met at the golf clubhouse for bridge. First place winners were Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Herrmann; Helen and B. L. Blakeway of Eldorado placed second; third, George Cox and Mark Tillman of Ozona; fourth, Fayla and Tony Cheatham of Eldorado, and fifth place winners were Fred Adkins and Mrs. Lottie Adkins.

Recent visitors of Mrs. Miers Savell were her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shannon and sons, Matt and Savell of Roswell, New Mexico. Also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shannon, Sr., of Big Bend National Park and Mrs. Frank Demere, Jr. and children, Janet, Wade and Craig of Water Valley. The Shannons are enroute to Houston, for a visit.

Visiting Mrs. J. F. Howell last Thursday were Mrs. J. M. Pirkle of McCamey and Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil Howell and son Jerry and grandson Randy, all of Sunnyside, Utah.

Dr. and Mrs. Johnny Fields are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Howell in Perryton this week.

Firemen's Corner

by YVONNE CARROLL
 According to the semi-annual Fire Report submitted to the city and county by Darcy Carroll, fire marshal, there have been a total of 21 alarms from January, 1971, through June 30. Included in these alarms were six in the city limits, 10 in the county, one out of the county and four false alarms.

Representatives from 479 towns were at the Firemen's Training School (the municipal section) at A&M University during July. Each summer there are three schools: the municipal school, the industrial school and the spanish-speaking school. The Spanish-speaking school is especially for firemen from other countries.

Besides the 1,231 students attending the school there were 426 instructors and administrators and 313 visitors.

A special thanks to Rip Ward for the donation of a new battery for the pumper truck. Eighteen firemen were present at the July 28 fire meeting. Gene West and Hollis Rogers will be in charge of the drill for the next meeting on August 11 at 8 p.m.

Steady does it

My sons, Jack and Freddie, are great surfboard riders. They can outride me any day, and because there's not much at which they can beat me (yet), they are tickled pink about it.

I don't mind. I remember how proud I was the day I beat my Dad at golf. He shook my hand and acknowledged that I was growing up.

I learned much from Dad. He was a lot of fun, and yet I valued just as much his serious moments. There was no doubt about his deep and abiding love for God. The memory of his quiet voice speaking of God steadied me through several rough spots in my life.

That's why on Sunday mornings I start to church with a boy on each side of me. I want God to be a reality in their lives as He has been in mine.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Value of Personal Belongings

Your coat disappears from a checkroom. Your curtains are damaged at the laundry. Your couch is stained by water leaking down from an upstairs apartment. Assuming you are entitled to compensation, how much money can you collect? What is the value, in dollars and cents, of your personal belongings?

A simple test was suggested by the proprietor of a restaurant, after a woman's coat vanished from his checkroom.

"We will pay her what it would cost to buy a secondhand coat of similar quality," he said in a court hearing. "After all, that is what she lost—a secondhand coat."

But the court awarded her substantially more than the secondhand value. The judge said that, in her eyes, it was her own personal garment—not just a "secondhand coat."

Generally speaking, in fixing damages for personal belongings, the law will take the viewpoint of the original owner rather than of the person responsible for the loss. Accordingly, it relies mainly on the original cost of the item (minus depreciation).

What if the lost or damaged merchandise was part of a matching set? May you collect for the entire set? The law usually says yes, again taking the viewpoint of the owner.

Thus, when five out of a set of eight matching drapes were ruined at the laundry, a court held the laundry liable for all eight. The judge said that since the customer would have to buy a whole new set, this was the truest measure of the harm she had suffered.

Nevertheless, the law does not ordinarily grant compensation for values that are strictly sentimental.

For example, suppose those drapes happened to be especially precious to the woman because they had been made by her late mother. Obviously, this would heighten their value in her own eyes.

Yet, because this factor is so purely personal, it would not be counted against the laundry as an element of damages. The law would consider it unfair to place upon the laundry a special responsibility about which, when it accepted the drapes for cleaning, it knew nothing at all.

Wool Production Remains Profitable To Ranchers

by D. C. Langford, County Agent

One hundred Sutton County area producers graded 731,999 pounds of wool during the 1970 shearing season and marketed it at an average price of 49.8 cents per pound.

Thirty producers marketed 131,144 pounds of ungraded wool at 45¢ per pound. The state average price received for wool in 1970 was 42¢ per pound.

The incentive payment on wool in 1970 amounted to 105.1 percent. When this incentive is added to the price received for wool, the graded wool returned the grower is $1.02 per pound; the original bag returned the grower 92¢ per pound and the state average priced wool returned the grower 86¢ per pound. This is a difference of 10¢ per pound in favor of graded over ungraded Sonora wool and a difference of 16¢ per pound in favor of graded Sonora wool over the average price received for wool in Texas with the Government incentive added.

The 731,999 pounds of graded wool brought Sonora area ranchers a total of $746,638.98 with the government incentive payment included. At original bag prices this same amount of wool would have brought growers $673,439.08. The graded wool returned the 100 growers $73,199.90 more than a like amount of original bag Sonora wool. The graded wool also returned local growers $117,119.84 more than a like amount of wool would have returned the average grower in Texas who does not grade his wool, package it properly and market it on its merit.

The government incentive payments on wool and mohair have been extended through the 1973 marketing year with the price of wool being supported at 72¢ per pound. Under these conditions growers receiving wool prices in excess of the national average price received for wool are assured of 72¢ or more for their wool through 1973. Under these circumstances it would appear that wool should be a prime consideration in sheep selection programs and that every effort should be made to prepare wool for market properly and to market it on its merit.

Lamb prices have been good and it appears that they will remain good for the next few years because of the reduced number of sheep in the U. S.

Under good management finewool sheep in Sutton County have produced fleeces that weigh in excess of 10 pounds and have weaned over a 100% lamb crop that has averaged more than 75 pounds per head. At $1.02 per pound of wool and 25¢ per pound of lamb, incentive included, this would amount to $10.20 for wool per ewe and $18.75 for lamb per ewe for a gross return of $28.95 per ewe. This would be a gross return of $144.75 per animal unit of sheep which would compare favorably with other classes of livestock on a unit basis.

Ranchers who are considering going out of the sheep business because of high production cost and low wool prices should study the overall sheep and wool situation as compared to the alternative livestock enterprises they might consider changing to before making a final decision.
