IN ROCKY AREAS IN WEST TEXAS, Oasis Pipe Line Company used a blasting method based on aluminum metal as reaction fuel to blast trenches for the pipe. Rock then is removed from the trench with a backhoe. A minimum covering of three feet on the 36-inch line from West Texas to the Houston area was used. Ditches in very rocky areas, such as this, required additional depth to permit laying a six-inch earthen pad under the line.

Young People Recount Perception Of Europe

Six local young men and women left here in June for a 43-day People-to-People visit in England, France, Belgium, Austria, Switzerland, Germany, East and West Berlin, Denmark, The Netherlands and Russia. Traveling with a group of 91 associated Citizen Ambassadors, all members of 4-H Clubs, they are sharing their observations, of the customs, people and points of interest, each in his or her own way, with our readers. The following were submitted by Susan and Billie Ann Stewart, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stewart.

GERMANY—by Susan Stewart While in Germany we saw many interesting places. We first stayed in West Berlin and took a tour of East Berlin.

West Berlin is very Americanized, other than the wall and guards separating the two sides. East Berlin, which is under communist rule, is very drab due to the gray color of all the buildings. The people dress in dull colors and hardly ever smile.

The people of West Berlin realize they are surrounded by Communism, but don't seem to worry about it. They live similar to Americans, although the children work much harder in school. They each learn English, German, Russian, and one other foreign language in grade school. Social sciences are stressed very much.

The second place we visited was Munich where the Olympics

Oasis Pipeline Schedules Completion Of Pipeline Work In Area Next Month

Oasis Pipe Line Company's pipeline from West Texas to the Houston area has been scheduled for completion next month. Owned 50% by Houston Natural Gas Corporation, Oasis represents a $150 million investment.

Houston Natural began acquiring gas reserves in West Texas in 1969 and since that time has been involved in an aggressive expansion program to bring West Texas gas to consumers on the Texas Gulf Coast. The 333-mile, 36-inch intrastate line from Coyoana in Pecos County to New Braunfels will be completed early this month. The 333-mile section will be tied into a 146-mile segment from Houston to New Braunfels that was completed in the summer of 1970.

Initial capacity of the completed line will exceed one billion cubic feet per day. An existing transmission and gathering system in West Texas is part of the project. The 508-mile transmission system is approximately the distance between New York and Detroit.

The part of the line in this area has been constructed by McVean & Barlow. This is known as the Sheffield to Sonora section.

The Mi Vida Plant in Ward County—purification and desulfurization of natural gas—went on stream in the summer of 1970 with a design capacity of 300 million cubic feet per day. It has been expanded to a design capacity of 425 million cubic feet per day.

The Gomez Plant in Pecos County, with a design capacity of 140 million cubic feet per day has had a duplicate unit installed to bring capacity to 280 million cubic feet per day.

Keeping the pressure constant on the big line are compressor stations at Bakersfield, Ozona, Junction, Comfort, Waha and Prairie Lea with a total compression of 98,500 horsepower.

Pipe was secured by Kaiser, A. O. Smith, Bethlehem Steel and U. S. Steel.

A FATEFUL CHOICE

Winners in next Fall's elections at the Presidential and Congressional levels will find themselves confronted with proposals and issues involving fundamental changes in the American economic and political system. They will have to help decide, for example, how far the government is to pursue a course toward total domination of the health care system. Is there to be an all-out compulsory national health insurance program or will the nation's lawmakers see fit to preserve the framework of the private practice of medicine and the principle of free choice for doctor and patient alike. In order to clarify its position on the health care issue, the medical profession—through the American Medical Association —is presenting a statement of its views on medical care in the form of an advertisement in the official programs of both the Republican and Democratic national conventions.

The statement is typical of the strong support which physicians give to constructive change in the medical system of the U.S. It reveals that the medical profession is on record in favor of government support for expansion of medical schools.

Doctors favor increased financial aid to medical students, expanded nurse training programs, physician assistant programs, clean air legislation and finally a national health insurance program "which preserves a physician's freedom to practice as he thinks best, provides for the patient's freedom to seek the type of plan he prefers, and relies on private rather than government administration."

The medical profession has proposed a plan that would remove economic barriers between the poor and mainstream medical care and would insure everyone against catastrophic medical costs. It is doubtful if any group of private citizens has gone farther than have doctors in accepting—or proposing—basic alterations in their way of life and livelihood in an attempt to meet the needs of all the people.

A Bishop Looks at Life

UNITY IN DIVERSITY

By Everett H. Jones,
Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

The late Peter Marshall, who served for a time as chaplain of the United States Senate, once began a session of that body, when he knew there were some very controversial matters to be discussed, with this appropriate prayer: "O Lord, help us to reason without being unreasonable; help us to differ without being difficult; help us to disagree without being disagreeable."

In a year of national political conventions, followed by a national election, we are constantly confronted with the deep differences of opinion which exist among the American people. It is likely that the differences will become larger rather than smaller as the election nears. We are often tempted to become sharp and even bitter in condemnation of a point of view with which we are in complete disagreement.

We need to remember that the right to disagree is fundamental in a democracy. It is the chief distinction between democracy and totalitarianism. It is not only right, but it is healthy. Out of conflict and disagreement a new synthesis of truth often emerges. We discover that one side is not all false and the other all true, but that each has a measure of insight to contribute to a wider and fuller understanding.

The reason we can disagree without being disagreeable is that the things which unite us are so much greater than the things which divide us. Families need to remember this, as individuals have their inevitable differences. Churches need to remember this when denominational differences (or differences within a denomination) are allowed too much importance. Men in common community effort need to remember this. And especially this year, Americans need to remember this!

We are not great because we all agree, but because we have an underlying unity in the midst of rich and interesting diversity.

The time will pass more quickly for little folk who are sick, if you slip small candies or other little gifts in the pocket of clean pajamas. Another plan is to make a mail box out of a shoe box, and drop in cards and small favors from time to time.

From Odds and Ends—Principal topic of conversation around the county (as around all of Texas) is the weather. Here it's unbelievably hot and undeniably dry. In central and east Texas it's undeniably hot and unbelievably wet.

Our sometime friend and erstwhile writer Peter Sederstacker (alias Hondo Crouch) of the Comfort "News" put it this way. It will be hot tomorrow with the high in the low 90's and the low will be high.

Mrs. Arthur Carroll was hostess to the Tuesday Night Bridge Club. Mrs. Earl Duncan actually held slam, high and bingo. She was awarded the high score.

Lorrie Powell has returned to her home near Fort McKavett after a ten-day visit here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Hunt while her parents were in Colorado Springs.

From Son-of-a-gun: The Corner Drug has been shifting furniture like mad for the last three days. Probably a superstitious effort to keep the hired help on their feet. Nonetheless, the move is an improvement and gives much more space than the old arrangement.

We were in early the other morning looking things over and by watching out of the corner of my eye, finally caught the secret of Dave Locklin's tasty coffee. He doesn't use water—just melts the beans.

Then Tuesday night Pat Lyles and Bob Teaff staged a donkey ball game at the football field. All these years Pat has been trying to throw Bob and that night he finally got the job done by talking Bob into riding one of the donkeys, a real buckner. The donkey got to first base, but Bob had to walk.

T. J. Coffman who ranches down on Devil's River, was in Sonora several days last week shaking hands with numerous friends. Mr. Coffman likes his new home very well, his only objection is that it is too far from Sonora.

John Moore the inspector for the Cattleman's Association with his family were in Sonora Wednesday on their way down on the Llano, on a pleasure trip.

H. Diebitsch was in from his ranch Thursday.

H. G. Justice and family left for the promised land Wednesday. They will prospect in the Pecos Valley country and expect to travel all summer and next spring will probably find them in Oregon. Wherever they locate the News wishes them success.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ...

He Wonders If The Scientists Finally Are Running Out Of Something To Do

Editor's note: The Dry Devil's Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River takes a jaundiced view of science this week. Maybe his water pump broke down.
Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night space scientists are going to launch a satellite next year that'll circle the earth every 18 days and supply man through photographs with some of the following information:

(1) Where new highways should be built.
(2) When a farmer should plow his land.

(3) How much pollution is flowing into the country's rivers and lakes.

This is startling news. I had no idea the highways planners had run out of places to pave over and are being forced to call on a satellite to discover new spots.

As for farmers needing somebody to tell them when to plow, maybe a few bachelor farmers are in that shape, but not the rest.

Make your utility aprons with a series of deep pockets across the bottom. They give you convenient storage space for the "picking up" that's always part of housecleaning.

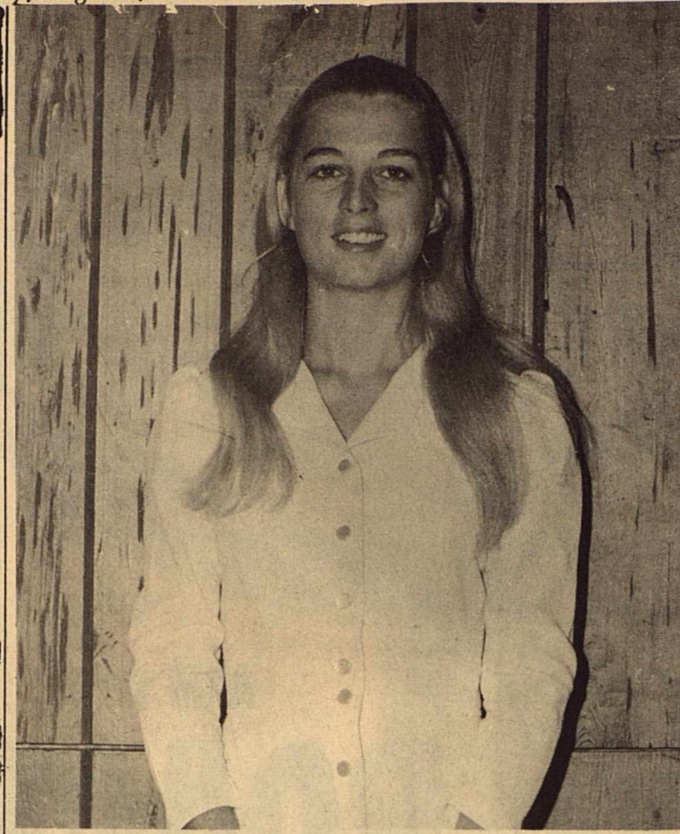

Is Now The Time To Buy Land?

Acquiring that farm might seem more practical with financing through the Federal Land Bank. Land is easier to pay off when costs are amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less. Ask us for help: We know land values; we will inspect the property. We will then try to make a loan that meets your exact needs.

- Beany Egg Salad
- 6 hard-boiled eggs, coarsely chopped.
 - 1 can (1 pound) pork and beans.
 - 1/4 cup chopped green onions, including tops.
 - Pfeiffer Caesar Dressing (to taste).

 - 1/4 cup minced parsley.
- Drain beans. Add remaining ingredients and toss lightly. Serve on chilled salad greens. Makes 6 servings.

please stop throwing bottles, cans and other trash on the course. There are trash cans at every tee box, by the cart sheds, and all around the club house. -GN- Golfers who think carts cannot be overturned should discuss this with Bill and Becky Glasscock. During the rain we had Monday, they were rushing back to the club house and slid over. Neither was hurt and the cart is still intact. -GN- The Ladies Auxiliary is working frantically to get ready for this weekend. If anyone would like to help, please call Muriel Brown.

COFFEE, TEA AND CORNPLASTERS

There aren't many of us left who remember Sixbey's General Store. It was more than a store; it was a gathering place, a news bureau, a bright spot in a boy's summer afternoon.

You would come in from the hot dusty street, and the shaded store was cool. Immediately you encountered a tantalizing blend of scents — apples, licorice, spices and smoked ham. Grown-up conversation enhanced your feeling of excitement as they viewed and reviewed town happenings. You always took a long time to decide between a chocolate or a lemon drop, so that this exciting visit could be prolonged.

Our town has changed since then. For those of us whose memories linger in Sixbey's Store, it hardly seems the same place.

Yet one thing's the same. At the corner of Elm and Main, St. Mark's steeple still points skyward. Man's need for God never changes. And the Church remains constant as it teaches the truths of God's love and presence.

Accent on Health

When the school bells ring this fall, Texas school children will be among the best-immunized in the country.
The reason, according to State Health Commissioner Dr. James E. Peavy, is the state's compulsory immunization law. Under the regulations, grade school level children (and those attending day care centers) must be immunized against five communicable diseases—diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, measles and rubella. Measles immunization is not required if there is a history of measles illness. And smallpox, which originally was a required immunization, was removed from the list by the State Board of Health, which sets immunization guidelines for schools.

Junior high school, high school and college-level students have lesser requirements for immunizations, said Dr. Peavy. Immunizations should have been started by last January 1 and must be completed, according to age levels, before starting school this fall.

Dr. Peavy said the immunization law is a good one—one that had been needed for a long time. It forces parents to protect their children and in so doing protect themselves, their friends and relatives from these preventable diseases.
"We are anxious to have children immunized long before they start to school," said Dr. Peavy. "In fact, they should start in the first year of life," he said.

All schools will be required to maintain records of the immunization status of individual students, and this is a king-size job. Total registration for special education, kindergartens and grades one through 12 is expected to surpass 2.8 million students. Of these, almost a quarter-million will be entering first grade.

Snack Foods Can Be Nutritious

Americans nibble between meals, in front of the TV set, at parties and on the run.
"This conspicuous consumption of so-called 'junk' foods, costs us more than two million dollars a year," said Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The specialist said that a constant agenda of round-the-clock activities combined with the popularity of convenience snack foods leaves little time for balanced meals.

Commonly eaten snacks such as candies, chips, cakes and soft drinks are high in calories and low in other nutrients. That's why they're called 'junk' or empty-calorie foods.
"Snack foods may fill you, but provide little nutrition unless you choose your snacks in the same way as you would plan a well-balanced meal—with common sense," Miss Springer said.

Between-meal snacks can make a difference in the way you look and feel, according to the Texas A&M University employee.
"Every bite you eat becomes a part of you," she said. "Since you don't always eat all your food in three meals of the day, snacks should be a part of your food plan. By choosing your snacks in relation to foods eaten at mealtime, you get extra health insurance."
Snacks can be nutritious. If meals are low in calcium or protein, you can pick up these needed nutrients by including milk, cheese or ice cream as a snack.

For a cool, refreshing and nutritious snack, why not try milk in a la mode—a tall glass of cold milk with a couple of spoons of your favorite ice cream? Or to cut down a bit on calories, try the same snack using skimmed milk and ice milk in your favorite flavor. Sherbet with fruit juice is also good.
"Thirsty, calorie-conscious individuals can try their favorite fruit and vegetable juices," Miss Springer said. "They're a lot better for you than a soft drink."
Fresh fruit is an easy and nutritious snack. Dry fruit offers another easy, quick snack. Raw vegetables make another good snack. Try carrot curls, celery sticks, radishes or raw cauliflower.

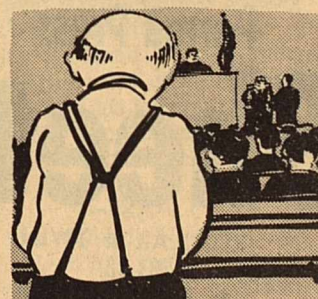

BOND SALES FOR JUNE TOLD
During June there were new purchases of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds amounting to $565 according to George H. Neff, county chairman. Sales for the first six months totaled $6,979, or 60 percent of the 1972 goal of $20,000.

The Scotch government spinning school in the 17th century gave each student a spinning wheel as a graduation present.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Greatest Show on Earth"

Day after day after day in a Los Angeles courtroom, an elderly gentleman sat attentively in a back row seat. He had no stake in any of the cases. He knew none of the participants. But when asked why he was there, he had a ready reply:
"Because this is the greatest show on earth."
Courtroom scenes do provide the central drama in countless movies, plays, and television programs. Yet, surprisingly few people go to see the real thing. Unless highly publicized, trials often take place with no spectators at all.

Why don't more people visit courtrooms? Perhaps they feel reluctant to "listen in" on the private lives of others.
But in the eyes of the law, the anonymous spectator, far from intruding, actually plays a useful role in our scheme of justice. It is his very anonymity that makes him effective. Judges, lawyers, witnesses, and jurors, not knowing who the stranger might be, have an extra incentive to be conscientious.
People may also be court shy because they just do not realize how remarkably open our courts are. The United States Supreme Court once observed:
"We have been unable to find a single instance of a criminal trial conducted (in secret) in any federal, state, or municipal court during the history of this country."
True, access may occasionally be limited for some special reason: to prevent overcrowding, to keep order, to protect children.
But as a rule, you may walk into a court as freely as into a church, with no one at the door to check your name or ask your business. When the judge in a murder trial ordered that "respectable citizens only" would be admitted to the courtroom, his order was thrown out by an appellate court as "preposterous."
Of course, around Law Day each May many people do go to court to watch justice in action. But the courts are just as open (and just as interesting) all year long. In a sense, that is what Law Day is all about.

County Ag Agents To Attend State Meet In El Paso

A large number of the 365 county agricultural agents, associate and assistant agents of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be on hand for the annual meeting of the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association at the Hilton Inn in El Paso August 6-8. Sonora will have representation at the meeting through a promotion display of "Eat More Lamb". Smoke lamb from Branding Iron Smoke House will be served at a snack bar set up for this purpose. Highlighting the meeting will be a banquet Tuesday evening at 7:30. During the banquet special recognition will be given to seven outstanding agricultural leaders who have been named as "Men of the Year in Texas Agriculture." The awards will be jointly presented by Haws and Uvalde rancher Dolph Briscoe, the Democratic nominee for governor, who received the "Man of the Year" award in 1965.

Seven county agricultural agents will also be recognized at the banquet. They are the recipients of the Distinguished Service Award, the highest award given by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents.

Lions District 2A1 Has Cabinet Meet

Lions District 2A1, of Lions International met for the first Cabinet meeting of the 72-73 fiscal year with Ewart Phillips of Brownwood introduced as the new District Governor. The meeting was held in San Angelo. District 2A1 comprises some 3110 Lions of the 42,000 Lions in Texas.

Plans for the mid-winter conference in Ozona were laid for January, 1973, and for the Lions' District in San Angelo in April, 1973. Cabinet members were introduced and chairmen of various committees named. Serving on the Past District Governor's Advisory committee is A. E. Prugel, along with Joe Pond of Big Spring, Carl Hyde of Midland and Homer Hodge of Winters.

Of particular interest to the people of Texas and of the immediate district, is the formation of the new District 2A1 Eye Bank. Long having served the people of Texas in sight conservation, the scope of Lion's service is now broadened with the forming of this new organization.

Information concerning this notable service of the Eye Bank will soon be available from all Lions in your area.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Article VII, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended by adding a Section 6b, to read as follows: "Section 6b. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 6, Article VII, Constitution of the State of Texas, any county, acting through the commissioners court, may reduce the county permanent school fund of that county and may distribute the amount of the reduction to the independent and common school districts of the county on a per scholastic basis to be used solely for the purpose of reducing bonded indebtedness of those districts or for making permanent improvements. The commissioners court shall, however, retain a sufficient amount of the pus of the county permanent school fund to pay ad valorem taxes on school lands or royalty interests owned at the time of the distribution. Nothing in this Section affects financial aid to any school district by the state." Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1972, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment to allow a county to reduce its county permanent school fund and distribute the money to independent and common school districts on a per scholastic basis."
