SONORA BRONCOS CAPTURED FIRST at Eldorado track meet Saturday with an overwhelming 190 points, leaving the second place team far behind with only 98 points. Here Bill Mitchell showed fine form and good speed as the muscular senior pounded out a 23.5 in the 220 to take 5th. His time was the third best time recorded this year by a Bronco. He also placed 4th in the shot put. Bruce Kerbow scored 39 points and was named high point man in division II. Steve Street contributed 33 points to the winning effort. This Saturday the Broncos will travel to Robert Lee, hoping to add a #2 victory.

W.L. (Bill) Morriss Candidate For Reelection Pl. 3

W. L. (Bill) Morriss is a candidate for reelection for Place 3 on the Board of Trustees, Sonora Independent School District. Morriss, who came here in 1946, was born in Kerrville, and is engaged in ranching and the trucking businesses. A veteran, he served in the United States Navy.

He and his wife, the former Louise Hankins of Rocksprings, are parents of three daughters, Mrs. Jim Brooks, Molly and Lucy. Morriss has served three terms on the school board, serving as board secretary, and as president of the board this year.

In announcing his candidacy he said:

"Most Texans have heard that the Federal Courts have declared the present method of financing our schools is unconstitutional. Consequently, our public schools system is in a stage of transition clouded with uncertainties.

Therefore, I firmly believe that my years of experience as a board member qualify me to more adequately serve in this capacity for the next few years while our schools are going through this change which will be difficult. Many proposals to meet the court's requirement have been made by various groups. Some have merit while others do not. My experience will aid in this decision.

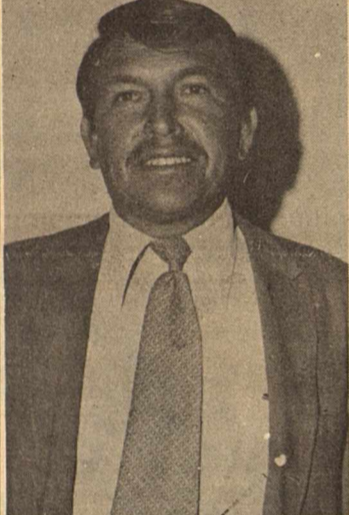

If reelected, I promise to represent all regardless of race, color or creed. My belief is that students, parents, and teachers should provide them with the language and number of skills as well as with the attitudes that enable them to be successful in their chosen vocation.

Finally, I promise that I will be a good and faithful steward of your tax dollar while striving to my utmost ability to make decisions that are for the best interest of our youth. No public servant could be asked to do more."

Caverns Cited

In a new book (copyright 1973), published by Reader's Digest, "Scenic Wonders of America", the following reference to the Caverns of Sonora appears:

"Caverns of Sonora. Discovered and opened to the public (for an admission charge) only a few years ago, these caves are slowly becoming better known as some of the most beautiful in the country. Despite their remoteness, on a back road southwest of the little desert town of Sonora, they are well worth the effort to reach them. Delicate crystalline formations grow in remarkable profusion, and shimmer in a rainbow of colors."

Pete Gomez Seeks Place 4 In School Board Election

Pete Gomez has announced his candidacy for Place 4 in the School Board of Trustee election April 7, 1973. Gomez is a native Sonoran, attended public schools here, and graduated in 1953. He earned a diploma from the Air Force Academy as a road and ground specialist, and is employed by the Texas Highway Department. He is a U.S. Army and Air Force veteran.

Gomez is the past District Chairman of the American GI Forum, and member of the Tom Davis VFW post. He has been active in community affairs, and has been active in many community undertakings. He served as chairman for the American Red Cross Project Find, and is in charge of the Sutton County Chapter of the Red Cross.

He is an active member of St. Ann's Catholic Church, and is a member of the building and finance committee. Gomez is a board member of the Sonora Childhood Development Center. His wife, Irene, is a Licensed Vocational Nurse. They have four children—Gloria Ann, 13, Mary Helen, 12, Pete Jr., 10, and Janice, 5. In announcing his candidacy for Place 4, Gomez said:

"I am entering this election because of my sincere interest in the educational system of our city. My exposure as a member of the Advisory Committee to the School Board has provided me with a challenge to become a functioning part in the decisions that affect our children's education.

I believe in having open communications among the school, community and administration. I feel that I can provide the essential input that is desperately needed on our school board decisions, since I possess bilingual and bicultural abilities that are representative of one-half of our student population.

Finally, I wish to solicit the support of all the people of Sutton County in my endeavor in this race."

Pecan Program Set

When it comes to pecans, the homeowner and the commercial producer may value their trees for different reasons, but topics of concern to both are to be discussed at the Sutton County Pecan Educational Program, in three parts March 22 (today).

Of interest mainly to homeowners will be a clinic at 7 p. m. in the 4-H Center where specialists will tell, in relation to both pecan and fruit trees, how important it is to select the varieties best adapted to the area, what to do for the tree while it is being established and developed, the ways of controlling insects and diseases, and still other things to be done in caring for the tree.

Speakers will be horticulturist B. G. Hancock and economist Robert H. Kensing of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, much of whose talks will be based on research by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

At 9:30 a. m. is a field tour of commercial pecan plantings at the Robert Allison Ranch, and at 1:30 p. m. a second tour will be at the W. L. Miers orchard. Both tours will begin at the 4-H Center at 9:30 a. m. and 1:30 p. m., respectively.

The March 22 events are part of the long-range efforts of the Sutton County Program Building Committee, and have been arranged by County Extension Agent Clint Langford.

Since he has lived here, he has served on the A.S.C. Advisory Board for two terms; president of the Sonora Park Association for two years; Round-Up Boss for West Texas Boys Ranch, and a director in the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association. He and his family are members of Saint John's Episcopal Church.

He and his wife, Tommy, have three children, Espy, Lea, and Kelly.

In announcing his candidacy for Place 4, Whitehead said: "I believe that a good parent-faculty relationship is the backbone of a strong school system; therefore, I shall always have the time to visit and discuss with you any matter that concerns the school community. I shall appreciate your vote in the April election, and if elected, I will do my very best to provide a sound and well-balanced school program.

Spring Comes Again

"When Spring unlocks the flowers to pain the laughing soil," wrote Reginald Heber, a wonderful thing happens: the Earth bursts forth in a vibrant splash of color, and the air is sweet with the scent of growing things.

renewed life and happiness, with a lesson to teach if man will but listen. In essence, the message is that man's world will be only as good as he makes it. He can follow nature's lead and channel his energies into constructive directions--or he can destroy this planet.

As this new season dawns, let us hope that it brings greater freedom, peace and understanding to a troubled world, and inspiration to the human race to rededicate itself to creating a better way of life.

The occasion was a moonlight picnic and a large number of Sonora people joining Mr. and Mrs. Brooks and family and Mrs. Brooks' sisters and the neighbors in partaking of a splendid feast of chicken, salads, cakes, pies etc. The night was delightful and the company congenial. VIEWPOINT

by T. DRISKELL

The idiot box, known in polite circles as a television, has certainly had a marked impact on our society. It has transformed us into a nation of non-readers. It has also sharply curtailed the capability of imaginative visualization. You do not agree? You are invited to look around you. Try to use the language above the two to three-syllable street level words and see how many young (or adult) people you can talk to. You'll find yourself a linguistic loner.

Take a look at the best seller list. Pay more attention though to the laborious third-grade reading technique an average housewife uses to read any best seller of sufficient obscurity or brutality to attract her attention. There are exceptions, of course, but those obscure, brutal fiction books did not get on the best seller lists because other books outsold them.

Even more appalling is the intellectual level of television advertising. Look at it from a detached objective standpoint if possible. Do a little thinking about what the level has to say about the intelligence of the population it is directed toward. We can look at a few specifics.

At last, by implication, after ten thousand years of search, man has found the aphrodisiac. It is smoking cigar tobacco wrapped in cigarette paper. There is though, a fleeting impression that the logical choice from the standpoint of reliability and intrinsic value would have been the baby cat. The cruelty is evident when you consider that the ad implies anyone can take on the esthetic appeal of the actor by smoking.

Is our national pastime, as implied, fondling toilet tissue? That is repeated so often it leaves that impression. We sit back and look, and wonder where all the sexual deviates come from. We raise heck about pornography, but we let rubbish like that be heaped on developing minds hour after hour and never raise a finger.

What sort of social behavior is advocated as acceptable for your children? Making all possible mouth noises when eating cereal? Beautiful behavior for a sty, but somewhat questionable for the dining room. Day after day such rubbish is poured on the American children.

Look at the advertising position or social habit. For example, a young girl climbs into a car with a stranger and climbing out when he shifts incorrectly. Certainly it is not a procedure conducive to longevity in Boston, judging from their newspapers. Still, there it is on national T. V.

Unfortunately, there are certain inalienable laws which govern man. As a former professor of mine used to put it, "Man operates in an arena governed by three principle rules: 1. Man is universally lazy, and works out of necessity, not desire. 2. Nature is niggardly, it is mathematically impossible to get something for nothing, but the converse is easy. (If you ever think you are getting something for nothing--watch out you are about to be cheated). 3. The material wants of women are unlimited. (Accounting for most of man's progress--and the need to work).

These rules are valid, and the first and second apply to our use of TV. We are spoon-fed intellectuals who do not have to read or imagine because we are told a simple-minded story and shown a picture. Man does not have to read or think so he does not. Niggardly nature operates over a time span to remove powers which are not used. The logical thing to anticipate, therefore would seem to be a gradual decline in intellectual level.

Looking at the level of TV advertising, one wonders if the level is misdirected, or conversely if we have an intelligent enough citizenry to maintain democracy. If we have that intelligence now, after a couple more generations of rubbish bombardment we will not retain it.

THE DEVILS RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ:.....

He Admits Things All Over Have Left Him As Confused As Everybody Else

Editor's note: The Dry Devils Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devils River seems clear this week about his confusion.

Dear editor:

This has been a confusing week the serious-faced news analyst began on his daily slot in the evening T. V. news the other day and what else he said I never found out because I immediately got side-tracked into thinking about that first sentence.

A confusing week? I'll tell you, anybody who can stretch his confusion out over a full week is scattering his attention over too wide a span. If he'd have said, "This has been a confusing half hour," I'd figured he was in better command of the situation.

Take some examples. How are you going to stay unconfused when a bunch of terrorists slaughter some diplomats or a group of Olympic athletes for no good reason at all? Trying to defend against things like that is like trying to defend against a lightning bolt. Who can think straight about where they may strike next? Or for that matter, what airplane is going to be hijacked next?

Do you know anybody who knows anything for sure about the causes of the fluctuations of the dollar in the world markets? All I know is that while Europeans may not want to buy any dollars, they sure will accept them free, but that doesn't clear up anything other than shedding a little light on human nature.

Is there anybody who can think straight on the proposition of bombing Hanoi one month and paying for the damage the next? You know any economist who wouldn't go to pieces if we turned inflation over to him with instructions to solve it on the basis of his theories?

How about drugs? Now there are some people who are clear about that. They think anybody who uses any kind ought to go to jail, until somebody in their own family is found trying the stuff.

I could go on for a, dismally long time, mentioning traffic accidents, crime in the streets, welfare, poverty, busted railroads and airplane companies bailed out by the government, guided missiles pointed in every direction including toward us, high taxes, tax dodgers, draft dodgers, baseball strikes, bankrupt cities, basketball recruiting scandals, graft in high places and low too if you can figure out a way to swing it.... I say, I could go on but there's no point. If anybody's not confused in this day and time, he's just not paying attention.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

invitation of the bells

America is a land of bells!
Wedding bells, door bells, dinner bells, school bells, sleigh bells . . . all speak of a country where freedom from tyranny exists.
Chimes also keynote freedom of speech as commentators broadcast the news. Typewriter bells ring out freedom of the press. And church bells, whether they be the musical chimes from a cathedral's spire, or the ding dong from the steeple of a village chapel, typify freedom of religion.
Churches throughout the land are open to all. Inside their doors, we cast aside worry that shackles our hearts in this atomic age. We find strength and courage to face the unknown future. Our faith, hope and trust in God, who says, "Fear not; for I am with thee," is renewed and peace fills our anxious souls.
Let us accept the invitation of the bells to "Come and worship," and go to church regularly.

Are you renting land...

when you should be renting money?

There are many good reasons why it takes some land of your own to be sure of a future in agriculture. You're always welcome to drop by our office and talk over the advantages of taking out a long-term mortgage on farm or ranch property. Right now could be the best time for you to start using borrowed money to buy land... instead of using your own money to rent or lease.

Game And Fish Law Hearings Coming Up Tues.

Texas hunters and fishermen have approximately one billion dollars invested in their equipment, and soon they will have the opportunity to put their voices where their money is. The opportunity will come when Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials hold public hearings in counties across the state concerning changes in laws affecting fish, game animals and fur bearing animals.

The meeting here will be held at the 4-H Center, Tuesday, March 27, at 10 a.m. Clayton Garrison, executive director for the department, said the hearings are the first step toward setting the coming hunting and fishing regulations. The proposals will be set forth at the hearings, and citizen comments will be invited.

Detailed reports of the hearings will be submitted to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission. The reports will be used by the commissioners when they are considering changes in game and fish regulations.

Garrison said department officials are hoping for a good turnout at the public hearings. "Citizen participation at these hearings is absolutely essential if we are to get a full picture of many variables affecting fish and wildlife programs," he said. "We sincerely urge anyone interested in our fish and wildlife resources to attend these local hearings."

Coffee Break

Donkeys aren't allowed to sleep in bathtubs in Brooklyn and it's against the law to hitch a crocodile to a fire hydrant in Detroit.

In Mississippi it's unlawful to play the "Missouri Waltz" on the piano at any hour of the broadcast day. New Hampshire has a law that holds that when two motor vehicles meet at a highway intersection, each must come to a full stop and neither shall proceed until the other has gone.

Looking for a hobby? New York author, Dick Hyman has spent his spare time and written a number of books on the subject of goofy law. These laws or ordinances seem strange probably because they have outlived their usefulness and some we can hardly tell were ever useful. But they still remain on the books of these cities and states.

Now most of us will agree that Texas most likely doesn't have any such laws but...no automobiles may come within three miles of the city limits of Silverton...OR...in Amarillo it's against the law to take a bath on the main street during banking hours.

In Hot Springs, Ark., it's against the law for anyone to gargle in public.

In Yukon, Okla., it's against the law for a patient to pull a dentist's tooth.

Outdoor toilets are the only wooden structures permitted in the fire zone in McPherson, Kansas.

It's illegal to wash false teeth in public drinking fountains at McLouth, Kan.

Saco, Mo., forbids any person to wear a hat which may frighten "timid persons, children or animals."

Bicyclists in Osceola, Mo., must politely request permission of all drivers of horse drawn vehicles before passing them along the road.

It's against the law to toss a snowball in Oklahoma City.

David Nance was initiated into the fraternity at that time. Cleveland attended the University's Recognition Convocation where Joe was recognized for his work at Texas Tech University. He holds a 3.5 grade average.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Awalt were their grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Awalt and also Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Levitt, all of San Angelo.

Myrtle and Monroe Wright of Tuscon, Arizona, are here visiting her mother, Mrs. Joe Logan, and Mr. Logan for a week.

Visiting here this week were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Trainer and Jack Trainer, all of Pasadena. They also visited at Lake Amistad, meeting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Trainer of Pasadena, there.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carroll were in Galveston over the weekend visiting their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Darcy Carroll.
