Indians Capture First Half Of L L Crown

by Bob Granger

Displaying poise, confidence and overall good play, the Indians took both games in Little League action last week to capture the first half Little League crown. Going into last weeks play, the Rangers had an outside chance for the crown but the Indians refused to cooperate.

The Indians had a scare Tuesday night as the Astros had the Indians down by a count of 4 - 1 going into the bottom of the fifth inning, but the Astro defense went to pieces as the Indians scored 6 runs and won 7 - 4. The Astros were the only team to pin a loss on the Indians the first half, but the Indians didn't let it happen a second time.

TUESDAY GAMES

Everyone was treated to two thrilling games as the Rangers and Indians both had come from behind victories to keep the title up for grabs going into Thursday action. The Rangers scored four runs in the last inning to edge the Cardinals 6 - 5, while the Indians racked up the Astros 7 - 4.

THURSDAY ACTION

Knowing a win would sew up the crown, the Indians coasted to a 8 - 0 win over the Cardinals. Highlight for the Indians was a three - run "homer" by Mike Lopez in the second inning. This was the first home run hit by an Indian this year.

The Rangers almost pulled another win out of the fire as they scored 4 runs in the fifth inning to take a 6 - 3 lead into the last inning, but the Astros decided it was their turn for heroics as the Dome men scored 4 runs in the sixth and then held the Rangers scoreless to take a 7 - 6 win.

City Council Approves Electric Rate Adjustment

Members of the City Commission accepted electric rate recommendations prepared for the City by Electric Power Engineers, Inc. of College Station, in a meeting Thursday, June 14, at the City Hall. Present were Mayor pro tem, Walter L. Pope III, Commissioner Mrs. T.K. Nevill, City Manager Alex Binford, City Secretary, Mrs. James L. Robbins, and a representative of the firm, Jimmie McCord, of College Station.

The new rates were recommended after an extensive study of the municipal system's revenue and operating expenses of the past several years was made. The commission feels that the additional revenue is necessary in order to offset increased costs of fuel, parts and labor and to finance needed improvements now being made in the generating plant and distribution system.

In most cases the new rates will be slightly less or equal to those now being charged to residents of Ozona, Eldorado, Junction and other cities in this area.

The new rates will show a small reduction in the cost of electricity to those residential customers that are not presently using an electric range, water heater or clothes dryer. To those customers using only one of the above mentioned appliances the cost will show a small increase or remain unchanged, depending on the amount of electricity used. The sharpest increase will be to customers now using a combination of either an electric range and water heater or a range and clothes dryer. A special rate will be available to residential customers using electric water heaters. A special winter rate is available to residential and commercial customers with a minimum of 5000 watts of fixed electric space heating.

In most instances commercial users can expect an increase in their cost of electricity. The cost to the schools, churches and hospital will increase due to being classified as commercial customers under the new rate structure. In the past these customers have been billed under residential rates. These customers will be contacted individually and given an explanation as to changes they may expect under the new rates.

The new rates also contain a fuel adjustment clause whereby any increase in the cost of fuel over 32¢ per million BTU's will be added to the customer's bill, and the cost of fuel at less than 26¢ per million BTU's will be subtracted from the customer's bill. Fuel adjustment is now being used by most electric utility companies.

Due to the necessity of special metering, some commercial customers will be billed under the old rate structure until new meters are installed. Additional ordinances adopted by the commission include the following:

- An ordinance authorizing a $3 charge to the account of any person or firm attempting to pay for utility services by

- An ordinance calling for a reconnection charge to be made if utility service is discontinued due to non-payment of bill. A charge of $5 will be made for regular hours reconnection. For after hours reconnection, the charge will be $7.50.

- An ordinance to create a disaster fund for the electric department. Three percent of the gross revenue of the electric department will be set aside annually until the fund reaches an amount equal to 10% of the system investment. It is estimated that it will require ten to twelve years to establish this fund to the 10% of investment figure. Monies from this fund would be used to make repairs and restore service in the event a flood, tornado, ice storm or any other catastrophe should strike.

In other city business payment of $21,807.52 was approved for Utility Equipment Company, and $4,606 to Ken Braden Motor Company for a city truck.

Some discussion was also held in regards to seeking federal aid in extending sewerage facilities in Sinaloa and Loma Alto additions.

Then as now, the participants were high government officials. But in that incident, the confessions were voluntary!

It all came about when the Jewish nation, after 70 years of captivity in Babylon, returned and rebuilt the ancient gates of their capital city. One of these was the Water Gate.

A mass meeting was convened at this gate to discuss the fact that the clergy, political leaders and average citizen alike were disobeying the laws God gave to Moses a thousand years earlier. Two of these same laws... "Thou shalt not steal," and "Thou shalt not lie." ... are prominent again in today's Watergate affair.

In the earlier event the people broke out into weeping and confession when they realized how many of God's laws they themselves had broken along with their leaders.

But it ended for the good of all concerned. A national reform was decided on, and an agreement reached for everyone-politicians and average citizen alike - to obey all of God's laws thereafter. A happy celebration was begun, giving gifts and feasting, because everyone felt so glad that righteousness had again prevailed and God's laws were being enforced again.

Efforts Planned In Hiring Deputy

In an effort to alleviate some problems within the city regarding law enforcement with what is thought to be an inadequate force, the City Commission voted Thursday in a special meeting to adopt a joint County - City proposal concerning employment of an additional deputy to work with Sheriff Pryce Taylor and Deputy Mack West.

The City proposed to furnish an automobile for use by the deputy and pay one-half of his salary, with the County paying the other half, maintenance on the automobile, and expenses.

Advertisements for bids for furnishing the City a car will be published. Applications for the job have been under consideration for sometime, with the final selection of a deputy to be made by Sheriff Taylor.

The Bible Tells Of Water Gate

A contemporary translation, The Living Bible, published two years ago and now appearing on best seller lists, tells about weeping and confession of national sins at Jerusalem's Water Gate, 2500 years ago.

Then as now, the participants were high government officials. But in that incident, the confessions were voluntary!

It all came about when the Jewish nation, after 70 years of captivity in Babylon, returned and rebuilt the ancient gates of their capital city. One of these was the Water Gate.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

MILNOR, N. D., SARGENT COUNTY TELLER: "With the price of beef at the level it is today, most of us don't dare pay much attention to steaks but we thought you might be interested in knowing the life-span of an average steak. The average life-span of a steak is about 32 months. It breaks down like this: gestation period of nine months, then 18 months of growing up with the mother and on the range, and finally five months in the feedlot. Under Secretary of Agriculture J. Phil Campbell said consumers must realize how long the biological process is and how long it takes before their demand can be reflected back through the marketing system to the cattleman. 'Unfortunately,' he added, 'in these days of instant coffee and instant mashed potatoes, there's no such thing as an instant increase in beef supplies.' Maybe this has something to do with the cost of beef."

TURLOCK, CALIF., JOURNAL: "Judging by the loud hollering along the Potomac, most Congressmen literally believe in Artemus Ward's famous quip: 'Let us all be happy and live within our means, even if we have to borrow money to do it with.'"

CARSON CITY, MICH., GAZETTE: "Where else could we live, outside this United States, where the government pays some farmers not to produce and some unspoused women... to reproduce."

MACON, MISS., BEACON: "I see where every time somebody gets held up or murdered with a pistol, we hear loud screams for legislation to outlaw firearms. After which, of course, we would need laws to outlaw autos, germs, rich food, etc., which kill more people than guns. But all of this would be futile. We already have laws which outlaw killing, but nobody wishing to kill pays much attention to them."

because the only sensible penalty for violation of same has been outlawed."

REDWOOD FALLS, MINN., GAZETTE: "The United States government would do well to get over the notion that cutting off U. S. aid to a foreign country, or threatening to do so, is somehow akin to blackmail. We consistently loan money and credit haphazardly, and feel aggrieved each time another government thumbs its nose at Uncle Sap."

PITTSBURGH, PA., BROOK LINE JOURNAL: "One of the most serious problems facing American business is productivity--how to increase the output of goods or services without a corresponding increase in the cost of materials or labor. The mechanisms for increasing productivity already exist... What seems to be lacking, it was pointed out, is a national will to continue to truly progress. Pride of workmanship is a failing ideal. People seem content with the status quo. Leadership is the vital missing ingredient... And... that leadership should start with the White House, since the federal government generates 20 percent of the Gross National Product, and carry all the way through to the baker and the candystick maker."

COTTAGE GROVE, ORE., SENTINEL: "If a bureaucrat were drowning in the ocean, we have a hunch he'd probably pause long enough to write some rules and regulations as to how it should be done."

BREDA, IOWA, NEWS: "The happiest people are not necessarily those who receive the largest salaries or the most public acclaim. A feeling of wholesome and enviable well-being is to be found among millions of plain people who are giving to their daily tasks their best effort, and are meeting their obligations to their families and their neighborhoods squarely and honestly."

SHELBY, N. C., CLEVELAND TIMES: "Here's a good incentive for keeping that... resolution to clean out your office files: The Wayhauser Company of Federal Way, Wash., held an OUT (Oust Unneeded Trivia) Day recently. Company employees threw out an amazing 422 tons of paperwork and junk. In the process, the company reclaimed 22,880 square feet of floor space and cleared out the equivalent of 1,050 four-drawer file cabinets. Figuring the cost of file cabinets at around $150 each, they saved $157,500 in future file cabinet purchases alone. That should be incentive enough for anyone."

Viewpoint

by T. Driskell
It has come to the point where the word "selective" is one of the most objectionable in the English language.

Time was when we had a government of law abiding men objectively applying law through an overt comprehensible philosophy of enforcement. Almost every facet of our social, political, economic and moral environment which you choose to view gives no evidence of a clear cut code, but only a positive overwhelming stench of selectivity.

Watergate, of which I am almost as tired as I used to be of Jackie Kennedy and earlier Grace Kelly, is evidence that we are in an era of selective respect for the law -- "to heck with the means -- only consider ends." Watergate, the national T.V. show, is a reflection on you and me, and our philosophy of life and our social practices. It also brings out pretty strongly our honor where responsibility for subordinates is concerned. It, I believe, must be conceded that we are being governed by a group who has plainly shown that both selective application and selective adherence to the law as its policy. Make no mistake, I am not attacking the Republicans because I can see no changes when the Democrats are in power. What I am attacking is my philosophy and yours and the shenanigans we will put up with like a herd of mentally retarded sheep. You and I cannot sidestep the responsibility, nor if we behave like a donkey in marking our ballot, can we expect not to have full burro treatment after the election is over.

Selective justice has been with us for years. A summary of IRS records will show that there is a difference in the treatment received by corporations and by small taxpayers. Look at the tax settlements in the justice department -- hair curling. For years your chances of being executed for a capital crime were tied to your economic status. The pendulum has swung back. Suppose that you are a small businessman who was murdered in a holdup of your business. How does the protection of you and your family's rights stack up against the murderer's rights protection in a courtroom? How will the meted justice compare? He may be given life (he'll be in circulation in about fifteen years). You? You will be in the "skull orchard" forever.

The best example of selective justice is: Suppose you violated a sworn trust and published SECRET government papers. The law is clear -- you have violated it, but that is not the question decided in the courtroom. The court rules on whether or not some over zealous government people violated an implied law (created by the legislation of the courts). The conclusion is that the government people misbehaved -- so we decide you are guiltless when the violation of written law as passed by our legislative branch is obvious to a child. That is selective justice. I can visualize no hope whatsoever of correcting this trend. It may be possible, however, that when it requires a Supreme Court decision for the individual citizen to effect a trip to the bathroom the trend will change, but I doubt it.

The Constitution guarantees individual rights under the law, and our effective legislative force (the courts) have interpreted it to mean opportunity equality -- very well. Do we have equal opportunity? I put it to you that even that is selective. Suppose I am poor and between 18 and 24 (the age is wrong but the economic status is not). Where am I? I go to the government for a small business loan. If I am a minority group my chances are good -- if I am a caucasian, I have had it! That is bad enough, but it is not all -- my education has been biased, my opportunity for an educational loan is hardly equal and my university has had its standards affected -- all due to the Holocaust Environmental Workers, facetiously called Health Education and Welfare. Their selectivity in the field of opportunity is hardly a point for debate. If you are a caucasian and 18 - 24 you are in a unique historical position. I defy you to show me one other example of a majority that has suffered from what effectively is persecution.

I am not trying to stir things up, but develop in my mind a path to the middle of the road, essentially a simple social, ethical, legal code where we can live, develop, and enjoy the benefits of a society without bias. Having watched the "red necks" and the "radicals" for my entire life, I wonder if it is possible, and the corollary of the practicality of the continuation of democracy in an atmosphere where the individual has neither the desire nor the capability to personally govern himself.

A Bishop Looks at Life

What is Loyalty?

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

One of the many moral questions raised by the current Watergate investigation is this: What does it mean to be loyal?

This question is relevant because so many of those involved in the affair justify their actions by saying they were being loyal to the President or to their superiors in the political structure.

One is reminded of the famous Nuremberg trials after World War II. Again and again Nazi leaders justified their inhuman behavior in terms of loyalty to the Fuhrer or his representatives.

The first step in clarifying our thinking is to recognize the many kinds of loyalty there are in life: loyalty to one's family, to one's friends, to one's business or vocation, to one's community, to one's nation, to one's church, to one's moral standards and ideals.

We need also to remember that loyalties can conflict with each other. For example, one's loyalty to an employer might conflict with loyalty to ideals or standards. Even national loyalty can be in conflict with moral loyalty.

Therefore our only safe course in life is to keep our loyalties in the right order, to have the right priorities, to put first things first.

For genuinely religious people there is no question what loyalty comes first. They believe in judging every decision and action by the question: Is this according to God's will?

A good Biblical example is found in the 5th chapter of Acts. When the public officials told Peter and the other apostles they must not teach about Jesus, the reply was: "We ought to obey God rather than men."

Often in recent days I have thought of some words Abraham Lincoln said when he was campaigning for one of his first offices: "You may burn my body and scatter my ashes to the four winds of heaven, but you will never get me to support what I believe to be wrong."

A CLEAN HOUSE has more sales appeal. So if selling your home, conduct a clean-up campaign before it's shown to prospective buyers.

The Devil's River Philosopher Sez.....

He Thinks He Has Found Why China And Russia Aren't Producing Enough

Editor's note: The Dry Devil's Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River thinks he has discovered Russia's and China's agricultural blunder, his letter this week reveals. Dear editor:

As I understand it, America's reserve supplies of farm products are now down to their lowest in many years, mainly because we've been selling a lot of the stuff abroad, particularly to Russia and China.

I have long wondered, why is it that Russia and China, with as much farm land as we've got, can't produce enough to feed themselves?

I have now found out. According to an article I read in a copy of Newsweek I bought last week because it had a picture of a horse on the cover-- I remember saying to myself, you mean they've got horses involved in the Watergate mess now? -- to continue, according to it, China's leaders for example for years have been sending city people such as school teachers, office workers, lawyers, newspaper people and such like out to help work the land.

There you are. There's the answer. If you want to hold crop production down, just turn your farm over to a bunch of city people. Put a banker in charge of maintaining your tractor, a school teacher in charge of planting, an insurance man in charge of plowing, some college kids in charge of hoeing, a city councilman in charge of fertilizing, a newspaper man in charge of harvesting, a lawyer in charge of sales, and I guarantee you won't add a thing to the nation's farm surplus.

On the other hand of course if you put farmers in charge of running cities, what would you come up with? Probably with cities like New York or Chicago that are facing bankruptcy and clamoring for more Federal aid. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Coffee Break

by Shirley Hill

A week of rest and relaxation behind me leaves me with only a few choice words... who needs it???

To start my week off we made a trip to Lubbock where I was awarded the title of mother-in-law. Now I don't know how a mother-in-law is supposed to act but questions from a few well-meaning friends on the subject have led me to believe that I'm supposed to think up some real wild surprises for this lovely girl who took one of my babies away.

I'm not sure whether this new title is supposed to be a promotion or a demotion. Giving up my son to such a young and beautiful creature after these just nineteen years makes me wonder if it isn't what my own mother-in-law means when she looks at me in that tone of voice and shakes her head in amazement. Just wondering where she went wrong in the beginning?

The wedding was lovely and the bride looked so relaxed and at ease. How come the mother of the bridegroom was so disgruntled and kept feeling like she left part of her underclothes back at the motel?

Being ushered down the aisle by my other small son... only 6' 2" with legs making up the 6', in a long dress sweeping the floor, at 25 miles per hour, was an experience everyone should experience. Only to get to your allotted pew and find someone sitting there already. Waiting in the aisle for some dozen or so people to all get the message to please move to the right a little led me to believe that these two young people should have gone on to Mexico and gotten married in the beginning.

But I'm going to practice up on being a mother-in-law and try to stay away from mirrors. Do all mother-in-laws have to look like the bottom of a fish bowl the morning after?

Miss Patricia Carroll

Carroll, Taylor Wedding Held Friday

Miss Patricia Ann Carroll and Frank Taylor were married at Hope Lutheran Church, June 15 at 2 p.m. The Reverend A. B. Wagner, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring rites.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Pat Carroll and Mrs. Ruth Taylor.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's gown was of organza with pearly chantilly lace bodice and long tapered sleeves. Lace formed a high neckline above a sheer yoke with covered buttons marking the center front of the bodice. Lace appliques accented the slightly gathered skirt. Sheer lace edged the chapel length mantilla veil.

The bridal bouquet consisted of a variety of spring flowers.

Mrs. Oliver Wuest provided traditional wedding music.

Miss Ella Hollmig was maid of honor, and Miss Brenda Carroll served her sister as bridesmaid.

Keith Nolan of San Angelo served as best man, and Billie Cash Taylor was groomsmen. Serving as ushers were Kevin Taylor and Mike Carroll.

A reception was held in the Church following the ceremony.

Members of the houseparty included Mmes. Jimmy Simmons, Keith Nolan, Robert Taylor and Miss Vivian Miers.

After a wedding trip, the couple will be at home here.

The bride is attending Sonora High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Sonora High School and attended San Angelo State University. He is employed by a local drilling company.

HOW SMALL, YET HOW BIG

How small a man seems — walking down a lonely road on a rainy day, with gaunt trees towering over him.

How small man is, and how frail in body. The trees in the picture and even the chimneys on the old house will probably long outlive the man.

Yet how big man is — in the things that are not of the body, but are of the mind and soul. God has not made man mammoth. But He has made him potentially great — if he will but accept the blessings given him, and use the tools of Christian teachings.

Man finds in the Church, the encouragement and the instruction to enable him to make from his God-given divine spark something great and enduring — and of benefit to all human-kind.

Green News

by Monica DuRussel

The men had their annual Partnership Club Tournament last Saturday and Sunday. After play on Saturday evening, the men served a GREAT fried chicken supper to all the players and their families. The cooks who did the frying were W. B. McMillan, George Johnson,

Jackie Sharp, Cullen Luttrell, Lawrence Finklea and Ken Braden. Sunday, after all the playing was over, and the last putt had been putted, these gentlemen were the winners: Championship Flight first place winners were George Johnson and Batts Friend. There was a tie for second place between the Bob Snodgrass, Patch Chochran team and Joe Hardgrave, Johnny Howard team. After that playoff, Joe and Johnny proved to be the winners. Gary and Howard Derrick won first place in the first flight. Then there was another playoff for the second place winners. Kyle Donaldson, James Alexander against J. T. Hill, Jackie Sharp, J. T. and Jackie won that match. In the Second Flight, Mitchell and Kellogg were first place winners. . . .

and once again we had to go into another playoff for second place. This time the teams of Ben Cooper and Joe Stewart, and Father Mike Fernandez and Harvey DuRussel dueled it out with Ben and Joe winning. All in all, it was quite an exciting two days, and everyone had lots of fun.

The ladies who went to Lubbock for the Women's Open came home with nary a thing, but did they ever have a good time. That was almost two weeks ago, and they are still talking about it. If you want to hear some real stories as to what really went on, just contact Mary Barrow, Muriel Brown, Bobbie Fawcett, Sammie Espy or Poochie Olson. Any one of them can tell a good story or two.

Now the boys who went to Gatesville for two weeks have quite a different tale to tell. In their camp, only eight awards were given, and they came home with four of them. John Webster Elliott and Paul Browne won in the Florida Scramble; John David Cook for putting; and David Wallace for the most improved golfer. Others attending were Chuck Browne as counselor, Eric Olson, Mark Hemphill and John Martin Beckham. I understand all the boys have returned with the exception of Chuck and Paul who plan to stay a while longer.

MISS GEORGIA GERMANN OF Niobrara County 4-H, Wyoming and Monty Allen, Tom Green County 4-H'er were overall high and second high individuals when awards were presented at the annual Wool and Mohair Show's Award Banquet held Thursday climaxing the three-day event.

My banker explained, "a husband can have a savings account insured to $20,000; the wife can have her own account insured to $20,000; and they can have a joint (husband-wife) account also insured to $20,000, all at the same bank."

I like the idea - anyone know where my wife and I can lay our hands on $60,000?

TRUE, A JOINT ACCOUNT BETWEEN HUSBAND AND WIFE ALSO CONSTITUTES A SEPARATE ACCOUNT, INSURABLE TO $20,000. LET US AT FIRST NATIONAL EXPLAIN OUR VARIOUS INSURED SAVINGS PLANS TO YOU.

Medicare Extended To Disabled

Starting July 1, Medicare coverage will be extended to 1.7 million disabled people under 65. Disabled people who have received social security disability payments for two years or more will be able to get help from Medicare in paying their hospital and doctor bills and other covered services, according to J. M. Talbot, social security manager. Medicare was previously available only to people 65 and over.

Those eligible for coverage, Mr. Talbot said, "will include disabled workers, disabled widows and disabled widowers between 60 and 65, disabled mothers 50 or older who get social security benefits because they have young or disabled children in their care, and people who get benefits because they were disabled before age 22."

RECLINERS make big news this year—many have low-back styling and pop-up headrests. Also look for dainty, small-scale recliners for women and wing-back ones for Early American homes.

CUTTING BOARDS—particularly wooden ones—provide ideal breeding grounds for bacteria. Wash boards thoroughly with soap and warm water, then disinfect with chlorine bleach, suggests Judy Grubbs, foods and nutrition specialist.

Guess Who?

This young lady has grown up quite a bit since the picture was taken, but you shouldn't have any trouble recognizing her. Bet the girls at City Hall know who she is! Last week's 'guess who' was Vel Cole, Marilyn Adkins and Jackie Harris. Stop by their offices to see them more fashionably attired.
