REMEMBER... IT'S NOT WHETHER YOU WIN OR LOSE, BUT HOW YOU PLAY THE GAME. Indian Coach Bill Savell and Ranger Coach Eddie Smith don't seem to agree on who gets the trophy. A Co-Championship was declared at the end of second half Little League play Monday night.

These Little Leaguers seem to be enjoying themselves after the end of Little League play. The youngsters were treated to a swimming and refreshment party Monday night. Most of the kiddos clowned around a bit after several weeks of exciting ball game action.

Rangers, Indians Share LL Crown

After surrendering the first half crown to the Indians, the Rangers came roaring back Monday night with a convincing 9-6 victory over the Indians and wrapped up the second half championship with a fine 5 win-1 loss record.

Both teams roared into the Monday night title game with convincing victories over the Astros and Cardinals Friday. The Indians pounded the Cardinals 14-3 and the Rangers shellacked the Astros 13-6 with a big 7 run second inning the Astros could never overcome.

In the title game, the Rangers scored 4 runs in the second and third innings to take a 8-0 lead before the Indians could score. The Rangers made the most of their nine hits to score nine runs with timely hitting and good defensive play. The Indians finally came to life in the fourth and sixth innings to score five runs but could not quite close the gap. Being held scoreless in the fifth inning probably put the game on ice for the Rangers. Joey Kirby went all the way for the winners on the mound. Joey gave up 6 hits and registered 8 strikeouts in a winning effort. On the losing side, Mike Lopez surrendered nine hits and struck out 11 Rangers.

Due to both teams having identical win-loss records for the season and not enough time left to have a playoff due to All Star practice, a Co-Championship was agreed upon for each team.

All Stars To Host Ozona Team Monday

With regular season play finished, the All Stars can settle down and get ready for their meeting with the Ozona "Stars." The Sonora boys have already had several workouts but due to the holiday break, the boys have been unable to really settle down and get ready. Sharp competition is taking place for each position as there are several boys that are capable of playing anywhere.

Ozona will be coming in with revenge in their eyes as the Sonoran's racked them 15-2 last year. At this point nothing is known as to the strength of the Ozona team, but if past performance is any clue, the Ozona team will be strong as usual.

The Monday game will begin at 8:30 p. m. at the Sonora Little League Park. The winner will play Big Lake in Big Lake at 8:30 p. m., Thursday, July 19.

Everyone is urged to attend and support these youngsters. They richly deserve our support for they represent our fine community in a very worthwhile program. Many people have been involved in the LL program this year and we wish to congratulate each one for a job well done.

Time For A Blend

Motorists of the future, because of tough emission standards required by federal law, may find their new automobiles leading them down a dead-end road to "... poor gasoline mileage and disappointing performance, compared with today's cars," according to a major oil company publication.

The law has a commendable goal: cleaner air. However, scientists and engineers working on the problem are finding that, "The gain in clean air will be minimal, compared with the gains already made, while the cost will be several times higher than the cost of emission control equipment in today's cars." Laws written in haste to satisfy the impatient are likely to prove futile and maybe even harmful in the end. Common sense, therefore, demands that this law be reviewed and rewritten along more realistic lines.

The ecology movement for blue skies and sparkling clean water must push forward. The existence of future generations depends upon its success... but its zeal must be tempered with reality. When that blending of enthusiasm and logic occurs, we should be able to surmount any environmental problem that arises, while still allowing technology and progress to bring a better life.

Jeopardizing The Future

Even if there is not actual gas rationing, the realities of the energy crisis are likely to hit vacationers this summer as they drive into a service station, ask the attendant to "fill 'er up," and are told that shortages require only a limited number of gallons be sold to a customer, and that prices have risen to anywhere from 45 to 55 cents a gallon. If motorists experience such moments of frustration, they should keep in mind that the problem is not the result of oil industry action to curb supply and raise prices. The gasoline shortages are primarily due to two factors: environmental opposition to refinery construction, and the lack of action from government in providing a clearly defined national energy policy to encourage adequate development of domestic oil and natural gas supplies.

Decisions to increase imports of crude oil may ameliorate the fuel shortage problem somewhat for the summer. But most industry spokesmen feel the situation will continue to worsen in the longer run unless more refineries are built. For that to happen, according to Business Week Magazine, Washington must make radical changes in its energy and environmental policies. The magazine said: "... no refinery knows what the gasoline rules are going to be some three years hence when a new facility could be expected to be running." To design a new refinery, it is necessary to know what type of gasoline will be needed to run the automobiles built years hence to meet federal and state antipollution standards at that time. Also, refinery design has to be tailored to fit the crude oil that a plant is to process. For example, foreign oil has different properties than domestic crude. Adding to the problem, said a petroleum industry spokesman, is the fact that, "Every time an oil company wants to build a new refinery, another environmental group objects to it." Consequently, it's becoming increasingly difficult for companies to find suitable sites on which to build.

We can no longer afford the luxury of a leisurely approach to solving the nation's energy shortages or impediments which hinder the development of our natural resources. A long range and consistent national energy policy is needed now. Action by government is imperative and further delay jeopardizes national economic and military security.

Summer Season

Summer's golden glow brings to people of all ages a heady sense of freedom and joy of being alive. It's a time for watermelon and ice cream, sunbathing and baseball games, a time to slowly savor and enjoy to the fullest. Summer is get-away-from-it-all-and-take-a-vacation-time, and it began June 21. This most favorite of seasons holds a treasure of memories for each of us. Who will ever forget things like the day they first learned how to swim, or those scrumptious picnics which tempted even the strictest of dieters?

Yes, summer is an unforgettable blend of work, play and laughter whose magical spirit has been sought by poets for centuries. Perhaps Winnifred Welles has captured it best: "Once, on a cliff, I saw perfection happen. The full, gold moon was balanced on the sea, just as the red sun rested on the moor. The summer evening ripened and fell open; And people walking through that fruit's rich core, Were suddenly what they were meant to be."

Wise Land Use

Federal, state and local governments are moving more deeply every day into the role of land managers. Landowners, whether they are residential, farm or industrial are being told with ever-greater decisiveness how they can use their lands.

Some see this gradual encroachment of private property rights as a necessity. Yet it should not be forgotten that private ownership of land is the very foundation of American system of representative government and our basic political and economic liberties. Moreover, contrary to certain idealistic views, land and resource development---and control---must have a more tangible goal than merely satisfying a sense of aesthetics. Land must be utilized for industrial plants as well as public parks. A prominent utility executive has testified before a congressional committee on "the importance of land banking for future generating plants and transmission lines." Land use policies must avoid "zoning" the country into energy starvation by preventing power companies from building new facilities as needed.

In a similar vein, Agriculture Secretary Earl Buttz, recently named a counselor to the President for natural resources, has commented, "As natural resources counselor, my philosophy will be that all of us must search ceaselessly for the solid common ground between economic interests and environmental concern... Because a vibrant economy and inventive technology are basic prerequisites to solving our environmental problems." There can be no solution to those problems in a course that relentlessly obliterates the principles and rights of property ownership.

HEALTH & SAFETY

Mainly for Mothers

POISONING OR UPSET STOMACH?

A mother found her three-year-old son crying in the bathroom. Noticing the half-empty container by his side, she correctly assumed her son had just swallowed some of mommy's hand lotion. The mother grabbed him up and drove off in haste for the hospital emergency room.

Any mother might have reacted in the same way, often the wrong way. Her correct response would have been to 1) note the substance and amount ingested and 2) call the local poison control center, her pediatrician or the hospital emergency room. She would have learned that most hand lotions are non-toxic, avoided the mental anguish and the risk of an automobile accident while driving to the hospital.

The Council on Family Health, sponsored by the manufacturers of medicines as a public service, urges mothers to be aware that many common household products are relatively safe if ingested by children. The list, according to the Council, includes: perfume (in normally small volume), shampoo, liquid make-up, floor wax, birth control pills, indoor paints, toy pistol caps, plastic putty and vitamins (though not iron pills).

With thousands of accidental poisonings occurring each year, primarily among children under age five, parents should strive to keep all non-food products stored out of children's sight and reach. This especially true of medicines, petroleum products such as lighter fluid, dishwashing liquids, close of swimming lessons are: Inez Chalk, Norris Dean Loeffler, Pat Carroll, Charles Minnick and Jo Ann Featherston.

A son named James Rex, was born to Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hutcherson in a San Angelo hospital July 4.

In honor of his third birthday, Freddie Fields was honored with a picnic at the City Park, by his mother, Mrs. W. J. Fields, Jr.

The Devil's River Philosopher Sez.....

He's For Letting Kids Learn Some Things On Their Own On T.V.

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on the Dry Devil's River comes out in defense of children this week, we believe.

Dear editor:

According to an article I read in the newspaper the other night while I was resting from working all day watching the Watergate hearings, the television industry has drawn up a code of ethics for commercials shown on children's programs.

One of the rules forbids ads that "exploit children," that claim that "if children have a certain product they are better or stronger than those without it," unless the claim can be documented.

I don't know much about children's programs, except those the networks put out every night for adults, and I guess children shouldn't be exploited when they're so many adults around to be taken in, but I was just thinking. Children may learn faster than we realize and discovering hoakum in childhood may be sound training for adulthood.

For example, there are lots of grownups now who, when they were 8 or 9, scraped up a dime to send off for that advertised marvelous gadget you could put under your tongue and throw your voice. I can still see the ad with the youngster standing there with a smirk on his face while his voice comes out of the ceiling to the amazement of young and old alike.

Nobody ever learned to use the gadget, all anybody could get with it was a distorted sound that fooled nobody, but a lot of youngsters, after they discarded the thing when they couldn't sell it to a friend at a discount, did learn the first step in not being taken in.

Of course, kids shouldn't be exploited, but a kid that has to eat a certain kind of breakfast cereal for four years before he catches on he's not any stronger than the kid down the street who eats oat meal may have a hard time when he grows up catching on to the fact 50 percent of what a candidate says maybe ought to be taken with a grain of salt, any kind of salt, not just the special brand he's seen advertised on television.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Green News

by Monica DuRussel

Our Fourth of July Tournament was a lot of fun. The play for the day was 'Kings and Queens', and the team of Harvey DuRussel, Wanda Neville, Gary Hardgrave, Norman Rousset and Trouba Derrick was first place winners. Second place winners was the team of George Johnson, Steve Thorp, Whiskey Hill, Chicken McMillan and Jo Neville. They had to play seven extra holes to break a tie of the team of John Bell, Mitch Mitchell, Ben Snodgrass, Poochie Olson and Jo Luttrell. The winning putt was made by Chicken.

After the game, a great fried chicken supper was served to the crowd, which had been prepared by real gourmet cooks -- namely, Jackie Sharp, Cullen Luttrell, Johnny Howard and Freddie Huckabee who were here all the way from Las Vegas.

Everyone had a grand time, and it was such a nice way to spend a safe and peaceful 4th of July.

Over the week-end, the Club had some more big doings. The annual 'Father-Son' Tournament was held Saturday and Sunday... more fun and excitement!!! After the teams were finished Saturday night, a great hamburger supper was fed to the contestants and their families.

Sunday was a thriller, too, especially for Shorty Taylor, who made a hole in one on number nine.

In the championship flight, number one winners were Ray and Randy Waterhouse of San Angelo. Second place was won by Norm and Mark Rousset while the team of Al and Larry Ricci of San Angelo came in third. Oliver and David Wuest placed fourth.

The first flight was won by Lawrence and Steve Taylor of San Angelo. Bob and Greg Corkins of Alpine came in second with Warren and Craig Talliferre of Ozona taking third. Jo and Gary Hardgrave came in fourth. Bob Snodgrass hit the jackpot in the second flight when he won first place with his brother, David and third place with his son, Robin. Second place was won by Bob and Scott Barber from San Angelo with fourth place won by Ed and Mark Mattingly of San Angelo. The third flight was won by Tommy and Steve Thorp. Second place went to E. L. and Tommy Dann of Lampasas and third place to John and Mike Hughes of Brady. Bill and Billy Matlock of Robert Lee won fourth in the flight.

Several towns were represented in this tournament: Lampasas, Del Rio, Brady, San Angelo, Ozona, Robert Lee, Alpine, Junction, Dallas, and Seguin. All of the fathers seem to enjoy this tournament because they have a chance to be with those boys of theirs... and it's fun for us watching them have fun! There were two Grandfather teams also playing... Batts and Lee Friend and John and Gregg Tedford.

GN

The Club has a real friend indeed when in need... our metal tables and chairs were coming apart at the seams and J. D. Bishop, who has a welding shop here in Sonora, took it upon himself to mend the furniture. Thanks a lot J. D.

GN

The Club also has some new members: Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Anderson, Gary Hardgrave, Derrel Alley, the Wamell Avants and the Glenn Wilsons.

New auxiliary members are Jewel Bishop and Carol Thorp. So glad you all are with us!!

Looks like a jumbled mass of wires, doesn't it? But to experienced fingers, each line has a meaning, and by plugging the right cord in the right place, a miracle in communication is established.

Much in life seems hopelessly jumbled. Yet so many of our problems can be solved if we cut through the maze of our personal "tangled wires" and get to the heart of the matter. To do this, we need to know what is essential and what is non-essential. We need a sense of values.

In this complicated age, it is hard to simplify things. It is difficult to grasp and understand those basic precepts which have always endured and which will serve us in the years to come.

Go to the church of your choice next Sunday. Listen with open ears, mind, and heart. It may mark the beginning of a new, uncluttered channel of communication for you.

Area Ropers Highlight July Celebration

The highlight of the Sanderson 4th of July celebration was a matched roping between two fine young ropers of this area, Lindsey Hicks and Mack Altizer of Del Rio.

This was the first time for either young man to be entered in a matched roping, but both handled their speedy times with noticeable smoothness.

Lindsey won the roping by .4 of a second on four calves and his total time was 47.4 and Mack's was 47.8.

Local Lion Attends 56th Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Davenport have returned from Miami Beach where they attended the 56th Annual Lions Club International Convention.

Delegates from 146 countries including Red China attended the four day meeting, and enjoyed speeches by famous personalities such as Vice-President Spiro T. Agnew, Robert Muller, Director of the Cabinet of the Secretary General - United Nations, and Shirley Temple Black.

The Davenports reported that they enjoyed visiting many places of interest along their route -- especially the French Quarters in New Orleans where they marched in a two mile 4th of July parade and heard some "great" jazz music. The Davenports also reported that they traveled a total of 3600 miles and had no problems obtaining gasoline.

It Happened In Court

A lawyer was examining the witness.

"You say you had no education," he said abruptly, "but you can answer my questions smartly enough." "Well," answered the witness calmly, "you don't have to be a scholar to answer silly questions."

Guess Who?

'Guess who this week is a real easy one... just thought we would give you a little relief. Last weeks 'guess who' was our Mayor, Norman Rousselot. In case you want to avenge your culprits, Norm, you'll find them named below in a letter we received last week along with your picture.

Editor's note: The following letter was received last week. We thought it was so nice... Just had to print it.

Dear Sir:

I have received the Devil's River News for the past several years (a gift from Norm and Doris Rousselot). You would be surprised at how we look forward to receiving the paper because it always is of interest to learn what our many Sonora friends are getting done.

One item that has always been of particular interest to us is the "Guess Who!!" What a clever idea!!

Recently we had the pleasure of spending several days with Mayor Rousselot's mother (from California) and she commented that she, too, enjoys the Devil's River News. We put our heads together and came up with the idea of asking you to print Mayor Rousselot's picture in the "Guess Who" column. Mrs. Rousselot went back home and kindly found a picture of Norm when he was just a little boy. I am enclosing it in this letter and wonder if at any time in the future you could use it in your paper. We thought it would be a fun experience for him and his family, especially since they know nothing of this idea.

Thank you again for your pleasant reading.

Respectfully yours,
Mrs. Thomas L. Vance

Are you renting land... when you should be renting money?

There are many good reasons why it takes some land of your own to be sure of a future in agriculture. You're always welcome to drop by our office and talk over the advantages of taking out a long-term mortgage on farm or ranch property. Right now could be the best time for you to start using borrowed money to buy land... instead of using your own money to rent or lease.
