Bob Bullock Campaigns Here

Bob Bullock, former Secretary of State, and now a candidate for State Comptroller, campaigned in Sonora last week. Bullock, 44, is the first Democratic candidate to announce for state office.

Born in Hillsboro, Bullock received his bachelors degree from Texas Tech in 1955 and earned his law degree in 1958 from Baylor Law School.

He served two terms as a member of the Texas House of Representatives, Chief of the Anti-Trust and Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office and Chief Legal Counsel for the Governor.

Most noteworthy, however, was Bullock's tenure as Secretary of State of Texas. There, he worked hard to clean up campaign financing in Texas, and developed a fair and economical elections system.

Folklife Festival

Visitors to San Antonio this weekend are in for a big dose of nostalgia as the second annual Texas Folklife Festival gets into full swing.

The festival opens Thursday, today, for a four-day run at the Institute of Texas Cultures grounds on HemisFair Plaza.

Twenty-eight hundred participants from 126 cities in the state will be on hand to show an estimated 100,000 visitors how Texans of all races and national origins have fun.

The huge variety show will feature the foods, songs and dances, celebrations and customs of the state's 26 ethnic cultures. The festivities will include 32 games, contests and demonstrations, 55 artists and craftsmen, 12 special exhibit areas, plus 1,800 persons dispensing tasty foods from 24 cultures.

Seven hundred entertainers will perform their specialties during the festival, and, in addition, visitors will have the opportunity to partake in 24 of the state's top festivals and celebrations.

New this year is a 3,500 sq. ft. Pioneer Bush Arbor, constructed by San Antonio's Turtle Creek Optimists Club. The rustic structure will be the setting for old-time music and gospel singing. Visitors can sit on the grass, take part in sing-alongs and eat old fashioned ice cream.

A frontier section, complete with log cabin, corral, cane and grist mills, will be the site for many pioneer-type games and contests. Children at the festival can make their own pioneer toys, play in a haystack and slide down the grassy slopes surrounding the Institute.

Four acres have been added to the festival grounds this year to accommodate the expanded show, and an additional 30,000 sq. ft. of shade will be provided. The flow of pedestrian traffic will be eased with three additional entrance gates. Two stages have been added and there will be continuous entertainment on all eight stages. All entertainment is free once visitors have paid the modest admission -- $1 for adults, 50¢ for children under 12.

In addition to the countless activities at the festival, visitors can tour the Institute's exhibits which tell the story of Texas' cultures, see the unique dome show every half hour and view the new Texas Ranger 150th Anniversary exhibit.

Free shuttle bus service will be provided during the four-day event. The buses, decorated with colorful festival banners, will pick up passengers every ten minutes from major downtown parking lots.

Festival Manager O. T. Baker said, "The festival is the biggest entertainment bargain in the Southwest. But more important, we encourage participation in an atmosphere of family fun. Every effort is being made by exhibitors to hold the line on food prices."

Screwworm Cases Total 3 In County

Another case of screwworms on the Estes Adams Ranch 35 miles east of Sonora on the North Llano River, brings Sutton County cases to three, all of which have been on the Adams Ranch. Screwworm infestation was found in cuts on freshly sheared goats.

Announced recently by officials of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Screwworm Eradication Program, new cases have brought the Texas total up to 1410 confirmed cases.

The preponderance of these cases were in the South Texas region. Brooks County led the list with 144 recorded cases, followed by Kenedy County with 67.

Other South Texas Counties recording screwworm action were Jim Hogg, Starr, Kleberg, Hidalgo, Duval, Willacy, Jim Wells, Zapata, and Live Oak.

Elsewhere in Texas, scattered cases were reported from El Paso, Hudspeth, Zavala, Jeff Davis, Haskell, Bosque, Stonewall, and Gonzales counties.

Intensive sterile fly release procedures are in effect in the Kenedy, Jim Hogg, Brooks, Starr, Willacy and Hidalgo County region in an effort to control the problem.

Dr. M. E. Meadow, veterinarian-in-charge of the Screwworm Eradication Program, urges livestock owners to carefully watch their animals for signs of screwworm infestation and submit samples of larvae found in wounds for identification. Both Coral and Korlan are USDA approved sprays for screwworm prevention and owners are urged to spray their herds where possible.

Its Only Right

Trapped in limbo between the living and the dead are 1,363 U. S. servicemen reported missing in action in Vietnam. Only the return of these men could alleviate their wives' heartache, but the federal government is trying to lessen some of the hardships of the fatherless families by awarding generous sums of money and benefits to the wives. If a husband's status changes from MIA to KIA (killed in action), government aid increases.

This humanitarian gesture speaks volumes for the American way of life, for it shows how important the individual and his problems are to the community. One widow, for example, found she was eligible for payments totaling $91,000 initially and $822 a month thereafter. Once a death certificate is issued, a widow is eligible for immediate payment of $15,000 in National Survivors Life Insurance. Other monetary compensation includes special savings trust funds, immediate gratuity payments, social security tax refunds and payments, a monthly dependent indemnity compensation and educational assistance.

The vast majority of our servicemen performed valiantly in a war-torn land so far away. It is only right that we honor them now by caring for the loved ones they left behind.

Learning The Basics

A survival kit for shoppers does not have to be elaborate. It need only contain eight basic rules compiled by a leading consumer specialist and the phone number of the nearest Better Business Bureau.

Here's how it works: Rule 1 Read the label; it contains important information on contents, use of the product and special tips or warnings. Rule 2--Understand the guarantee, and file it for future reference.

Rule 3--Shop price and quality. An inexpensive product of inferior quality is no buy. Rule 4--Know the cost of credit; include the accrued interest on the loan with the total cost of the item.

Rule 5--Read the use and care instructions. Produce breakdown, especially of appliances, may often be traced to improper use and handling by the customer. Rule 6--Check the seller's reliability. The best way is to get in touch with the Better Business Bureau. The BBB system, operating in 137 U. S. cities under the leadership of the Council of Better Business Bureaus, has had years of experience in handling consumer/business disputes and their reliability reports are very accurate. Rule 7--Ask who services it. This is a major source of customer dissatisfaction. Ask for a BBB reliability report on the firm if you question its servicing capabilities.

As a consumer spokesman has noted, "In today's huge and bewildering marketplace, intelligent buying has become an art in itself, and the successful shopper takes time out to learn a few ground rules." The wise consumer also turns to the Better Business Bureaus for information, advice and arbitration if a difficult consumer and business disagreement should arise. With so many aids at our fingertips, we should be able to guide our shopping carts with greater ease and confidence than ever before.

Something To Think About

The experience of growing up in Oregon in the early 1900's has been recaptured in a heart-warming little book, handwritten and illustrated by Martha Hebert Blakely. Country Life was rough in those days, but a cheerful acceptance of it permeates the book. Says the 72 year-old author, "We came up the hard way but I expect it was good for us. . . Can you imagine the present generation living without running hot and cold water, electricity, radio, television, automobiles, washing machines, vacuums, nylons and many more modern conveniences?" She continues, "We had to carry all our water from a spring, about a quarter of a mile, mostly uphill. We caught rain water for washing clothes. . ."

We are left with this observation, "I wonder if we ever stop to think what we have now and thank God for it all, and stop complaining about what we don't have. . . . Because we had so little we were always so grateful for what we had. If our families now could feel that way they would be happier. They have so much and don't realize it." It's something to think about.

A Bishop Looks at Life

A MESSAGE TO YOUTH

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

I know of a teacher who wrote a letter to his students as he parted from them at the end of the school year.

It is so full of wisdom and love, so full of the guidance I would like to see given by teachers, parents and friends of young people, I share parts of it with readers of this column:

"Don't be afraid to be wrong, to be kind, to be last - if to be first means that you must be inhuman and greedy. Choose rather to be last and human and generous."

"If you seek the cheap, the false, the plastic, you will probably find it. Be genuine - be real."

"Beware of power, for it will corrupt even the best of you. Whatever you do, do it well."

"The struggle to know yourself will last a lifetime. Beware of self-satisfaction. Life is a journey, not a destination."

"Be vulnerable. Take risks. You are becoming. You are growing. Playing it safe, never being open and vulnerable, these are characteristics of the dead, not the living."

"Lose everything but your sense of humor. When you have nothing - laugh!"

"Don't be afraid to cry genuine tears - for lost friends, for joys shared, for hopes shattered, for good times and bad, for what might have been and what is, for your dreams and your fears. Sometimes there is no other cure save the salty taste of tears."

"I'll remember each of you until the day I die. I'll remember you as brothers and sisters. When you have gone to new places across this country, I want you to know that I cared."

Viewpoint

by T. DRISKELL

Last week we looked at a glimmer of light in our internal economic picture. It would seem fitting therefore to take a look at the external economic picture. There is little light in evidence and we have an urgent need to drill some holes to let the light in. We simply cannot maintain our present approach to international economics and diplomacy with any figment of survival expectations. Wilson, President Woodrow that was, received many plaudits for introducing "shirt-sleeve" diplomacy and we have followed it. Now, 55 years later, we are at a stage which must be considered "undershirt diplomacy" because we do not have our shirt anymore - we were long since beaten out of it. It is not too surprising that the economic picture is almost identical.

What is wrong with Americanism and Americans for America? Why must we continue to nurture our psychopathic delusion that we are responsible for the welfare of the whole earth? The road doesn't have a highway number, but it is a sure path to economic disaster. We as a nation are worm-eaten from the world-responsibility complex from the dome of the Whitehouse to the low middle class living rooms.

You do not believe it? Look closely at modern history, specifically at Lend-Lease, United Nations Relief Agency (used by Russia as a political tool in Eastern Europe), The Truman Doctrine, The Marshall Plan, and a dozen other abortions of common sense. What did they cost us in terms of our national assets, and corpses of our young men strewn on foreign soil. What did we get for those "boon doggies"? The only tangible seems to be a delay of a post war recession, but far cleaner is the National Debt. Our complex, on the national level, we cannot afford.

I have seen the beggars before the mosques in Cairo, Istanbul, and Port Said. I have also seen the street beggars in India, but the most persistent vociferous beggar I have ever encountered, I purchased for $375 from Sears a color television set. Day and night I am harangued to donate, and almost half of the requests are aid for foreigners. Do we have no want here in America? Are all our children well fed and adequately clothed? America should take care of Americans first. What a dent those hundreds of billions of our dollars could have made if applied at home.

Foreign trade is also the victim of our complex - our major exports are food commodities, against the crop limitation of the past - virtually out of our own mouths. Our production costs are too high, but that is not enough, when we export manufactured goods, they encounter subtle government induced complexity. These foreign government induced complexities make manufactured goods' export too difficult. Our sick complex comes into play again and we let down the barriers resulting in a flood of foreign goods on our market.

Let us consider the Japanese, as an example, not too untypical.

They set the value of the yen at a point far below its purchasing power. Then they take actions, not necessarily overt, to restrict the yen to their internal market. This gives them a distinct price edge on the world market. They sell their goods abroad, so comparatively few yen leave home. Their goods flood our market, erasing American jobs and the Tokyo banks store their dollars in bales.

With a jumpy dollar - those Tokyo bales are coming back to America - where they are buying tangibles, but only tangibles which will accrue in value. Stocks, land, companies, resources - their buying runs the gamut, and its volume and extent is alarming. If it is allowed to continue, history will record that Japan could not conquer us, but due to our own stupidity or complex, they bought us. How will your children like being a colony of Japan? I will be gone, but I do not believe it would please me at all.

This trend must be reversed and it requires action on three levels: national, corporate, and individual. First, the State Department and Congress must replace rabid idealism with realism. All foreign trade must be reciprocal, rigid import controls, and a flexible tariff structure must be introduced to give us control within the U. S. of shennannigans like the yen handling. We can no longer afford to stand there like a sick sheep and see ourselves looted. Second, both management and labor must get together to accomplish a cost of production reduction through wage and profit limitations.

Third, every American, must when he buys a foreign product, (When an American made product is available within 25% of the price) realize he is guilty of something somewhere between poor judgment and economic treason. It is easy to say, but you have a hard time

Sort and save with an electric home laundry pair

Electric washers and dryers have a setting for all fabrics. It's as important to sort for fabric types as it is for color fastness. Many fabrics do not need a hot water cycle, so you save on water heating. Wait and wash a full load and save on water, too.

Miss Beth Davis Becomes Bride In Catholic Ceremonies Saturday

Miss Elizabeth (Beth) Davis became the bride of Jerry Lewis Barton Saturday, September 1 at St. Ann's Catholic Church. The Rt. Rev. Michael Fernandez officiated at the ceremony. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey DuRussel and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bell of O'Donnell.

Providing wedding music was Mrs. James Wilson, organist and vocalist was Miss Irene Davis, sister of the bride.

Serving her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. John Klein of Austin. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Victor Meitzen of Kingsville, Mrs. Coley Howell of Adamsville and Miss Irene Davis of Austin, all sisters of the bride.

Mr. David Franklin of O'Donnell served the bridegroom as best man. Jimmy Barton of Dumont and Monty Barton of O'Donnell, brothers of the bridegroom, and Tom Ed Vestal of O'Donnell were groomsmen. Ushers were Mike Barnes and Larry Tyler of O'Donnell. The bride chose a white satin gown with a dotted swiss overlay. Ruffles on collar and hem, accented with lace trim, were featured on the gown. The bride also wore a short veil.

Mrs. Barton is a graduate of Sonora High School and a junior student at Southwest Texas State University at San Marcos.

Beginning of the year TWO

How did we ever get into the habit of looking backwards? By-product of some shoddy mathematics, no doubt. If the day you are born is your birthday—then it's undoubtedly your first birthday. And when you are a year old you should celebrate your second birthday, and begin your second year.

Of course, we are not seriously advocating that everybody add one to his next birthday. That would be too confusing for certain friends of ours who are 39 and holding!

But you will agree, won't you, that on birthdays we ought to be looking ahead? The only year we can do anything about is the one we're about to live. Opportunities do a great deal more for human character than memories, no matter how fond the memories.

The churches with their tremendous resources for spiritual training and growth always celebrate our children's birthdays by looking ahead.

Teen Scene

By Carol Weston The Broncos defeated Iraan by a score of 2 to 1 in their pre-season scrimmage last Friday evening and, in spite of a heavy rainstorm throughout the game, all of the boys did a really fine job.

Because of the rain, the boys didn't get a chance to work on some things such as passing a great deal, but their running game was very good. Defensively, the Broncos are doing much better than the week before, and the defense should soon be catching up with the rest of the team in experience and confidence.

Much to the regret of everyone Jack Sykes will be out of play for six to eight weeks due to a broken collarbone which he received early in Friday's scrimmage. Sam David Hernandez has also been out the past week, and will probably not take part in the game this coming week either.

Coach J. T. Hill feels that the enthusiasm of the team is much better, and that the boys are all continuing to show the outstanding spirit and attitude they have exhibited in past seasons. Sonora's opponents throughout the coming season are going to be tough, but so are the Broncos. He is positive that each boy is ready for the first game and will respond very well.

The Broncos will begin regular season play against Coahoma here this Friday evening beginning at 8:00, so everyone be there to support them and witness their first in a long series of victories. SHS The Junior Varsity also played a really good game, and defeated the Iraan Junior Varsity 3 to 1. The Broncos will be playing in Junction this Thursday evening, beginning at 7:00. SHS The Junior High Colts will also begin their season in Junction this Thursday afternoon. The Seventh Grade game will begin at 5:00, followed by the Eighth Grade at 6:00.

The Future Homemakers of America have elected Margie Gutierrez to serve as President, Evangelina Pimentel as Vice-President, and Gloria Samaniego as Secretary. Ernestina Vasquez will act as Treasurer and Gracie Vasquez as Game chairman for the following year. SHS Mrs. Kordzik called a meeting of the Girl's Athletic Association last week for the purpose of electing officers of that organization. Those who will be serving are President Debra Tittle, Vice-President - Gloria Samaniego, and Secretary-Treasurer - Debbie Hard.

Dr. Charles Browne Attends Meeting

Dr. Charles F. Browne, President of the Sutton County Unit of the American Cancer Society represented the county as one of the approximately 350 delegates attending the 28th Annual Division Meeting of the Society, August 22 and 23 at the Shamrock Hilton, Houston. Coach Tom Landry, State Crusade Chairman for 1973, flew in from California for the meeting of the membership and returned immediately in order to accompany his Dallas Cowboys back to Houston for the game Thursday night. Chuck Browne accompanied his father to Houston and attended the game. Coach Landry was elected a Director-at-Large and to the Executive Committee of the Texas Division. He has expressed a desire to devote his spare time to the Society.

Mervella Bayh, wife of Senator Birch Bayh, Indiana Democrat, spoke at the Board of Directors Luncheon expressing encouragement for the thousands of women faced each year with mastectomies - surgery for removal of the breast. Mrs. Bayh National Crusade Chairman for 1974, underwent a mastectomy last October and since that time has given many women the courage to face the reality of breast cancer. She spoke in glowing terms of the help, psychological and otherwise, she was given by the Reach-to-Recovery volunteer who visited her in the hospital upon the recommendation of her surgeon. This ACS program is available in this district with selected and specially trained volunteers who have had mastectomies and who have been recommended by their surgeons and physicians for this volunteer work. They are available upon the request of the new patient's doctor.

Peter Graves, of TV's "Mission Impossible" will be New Program Assistant

Joe Zinser is the new Program Assistant for the Big Country Area of the American Lung Association of Texas. The announcement was made by Mrs. Dennis Dunnam, R. N., and Charles Browne, M. D., Sutton County Board Members. Mr. Zinser is a recent graduate of Angelo State University. He is a graduate of Brebeuf Preparatory High School in Indianapolis, Indiana and attended the Florida Institute of Technology in Melbourne, Florida before transferring to Angelo State in 1971. The new program assistant replaces Miss Joan Burkholder who was named Area Executive for the Trans-Pecos Area. Offices for the 32 county Christmas seal agency are at 1962 West Beauregard in San Angelo.

Business and professional men require high limits of liability coverage

People who attained age 65 in July, 1973, or later and who receive social security benefits will automatically be enrolled for both hospital and medical insurance under Medicare. They will receive a health insurance card. Information with the card will tell them to return the card if they do not want Part B. The only action necessary if they want the medical insurance coverage is to sign the card and keep it. The change was made to prevent loss or delay of entitlement to medical insurance coverage because of failure to file on time. For more information, contact your social security office.

Just before we left on our vacation, I gathered up my jewelry, silverware and other valuables and put them into a safe deposit box. It's a good thing I did. We came home to find our home broken into and ransacked. Was I thankful that our valuables, some with irreplaceable sentiment attached, were safe in the bank vault. SAFE DEPOSIT BOX RENTALS ARE REASONABLE AT FIRST NATIONAL BANK.
