City Accepts Bids On Town Property

Bids on recently advertised city properties from Rex Merriman and W. S. Anderson were approved Monday when City Commissioners met at the City Hall for their regularly scheduled meeting. Lot 6, Block 1 in the Homeland Addition was sold to Merriman with lots 1, 2, Block 27A, known to most as the City Park area, going to Anderson. Commissioners also approved payment to Wilson Paving Company of San Angelo for street repair work done recently on city streets.

Officers of Sonora FHA met with the commission to present their plan and request supporting funds in making repairs and possibly fencing the area known as La Pizcota or Liberty Park located on Gonzales Street. City fathers agreed to contribute an undetermined amount to this project.

An ordinance approving certificates of obligation were okayed making payments to Fairbanks-Morse for labor and materials on improvements made earlier at the generating plant; to Electric Power Engineering Inc. of College Station, and to McCall, Parkhurst and Horton, a legal firm located in Dallas. All above mentioned firms were connected with electrical system improvements. OTHER CITY BUSINESS The current tax roll was improved and a report from William Fox of San Angelo, who is a consultant engineer was heard. Fox's report in-involved the key rate on fire insurance and the study of city water and sewer departments. It was agreed by the commission to set up a disaster fund for the electrical department allotting 3% of total revenue each year to a special account for such a disaster or emergency, that the need for additional funds would be required.

SPECIAL MEETING A special meeting has been called for Monday, October 15 to further discuss plans to change our present form of city government to the aldermanic form of government. This form of city governing would involve more representation for city residents.

In concluding the meeting, an agreement with West Texas

Utilities regarding electrical facilities was tentatively reached. City representatives, instead of purchasing a new generating plant for the City are contemplating contracts with West Texas Utilities to supplement additional electrical needs.

Texas 4-H Youth And Adult Leaders Observe 4-H Week October 7 - 13

4-H youth and their volunteer adult leaders throughout Texas and the nation are "getting it all together" as they observe National 4-H Week, October 7-13.

"Traditionally, since 1927, National 4-H Week has been a time for 4-H'ers, their leaders and friends to take stock of the year's accomplishments and achievements," says Dr. Don Stommer, state 4-H and youth leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "4-H Week has been a time to look to the future of 4-H in each community, the state and nation."

"4-H Gets It All Together" is the theme of this year's observance and in countless ways, 4-H has "gotten it together" by involving more young people between the ages of 9 and 19 than ever before. Latest available figures show some 5.5 million young people across the nation participate in 4-H annually. About 146,000 of these are in Texas, notes Stommer. 4-H groups exist in nearly every United States county and in about 85 countries around the world.

"Begun after the turn of the century as an educational program for rural youth, 4-H today brings together both rural and urban boys and girls of all racial, economic and social backgrounds," points out the Texas A&M University System 4-H leader.

The 4-H program is designed to appeal to young people whether they live on a farm, in the suburbs or in the city. And through individual and group efforts they learn about the world around them, other people, customs and lifestyles -- like and different from their own.

"and that's what the theme '4-H Gets It All Together' is all about. It's about young people of different backgrounds getting to know each other and interacting and working together to solve mutual problems, such as energy, fuel and electric conservation; improving health habits and standards; protecting our natural resources; and better agricultural efficiency," says Stommer. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H, through its county Extension agents, works closely with the youth of the state in providing an exciting and challenging 4-H program, notes the 4-H leader. And dedicated volunteer adult leaders, almost 14,000 in number, give of their time and efforts to "make the best better" in 4-H.

MAYBE JACK SYKES, SAM DAVID Hernandez and Mike Stewart have big smiles on their faces because of the score but most likely its because of the conditions of some of their fellow players. These three boys, who are still on the injured list, were probably the only Broncos that were identifiable Friday night. Field conditions after a two day rain, made mud pies of the players. The announcer at Menard had trouble reading the players numbers and on a few occasions just had to refer to the runner or tackler as 'the muddiest kid on the field'.

Broncos Take District Win 46-0

The Broncos should be getting accustomed to playing on a wet, water soaked field after their game in Menard Friday night. The Broncos came back powerful after a four game losing streak to overpower the Yellowjacket team by a score of 46-0. The wet conditions on the field caused a number of fumbles and penalties but all in all the Broncos played good football. Bruce Kerbow added 18 points to the score picking up 163 yards in 11 carries to score three touchdowns. Freddie Vigen carried 13 times for 82 yards and one TD. David Wallace, who had been on the injured list since the pre-district game against Llano, came back Friday night with five carries and a total of 59 yards to add another TD to the Bronco scoreboard, Henry Mata added six points after carrying the ball twelve times and picking up 82 yards for the home team. Mata also kicked the ball true for four PAT's and one TD called back on a penalty. Back-up quarterback Hector Perez, who saw quite a bit of action in the second half of the game carried twice for 8 yards. A long pass from quarterback Paul Browne to Randy Hill added another six points for the Broncos. Browne carried the ball three times scrambling from the line of scrimmage to gain nineteen yards. He completed two long passes out of four for a near perfect record under those weather conditions. Two defensive linebackers, Curtis Mooney and Richard Dunnam, who saw their first action Friday night on the varsity squad, did a really fine job of defending the line. Mooney had 16 tackles to his credit while Dunnam had 13. Other linemen, Donald and William Thompson dumped 13 and 8 Yellowjackets while Bob Whitehead added another 9, Wallace, 8, and Mark Parker, 6. The Menard team could only manage three first downs against the Sonora line. The Broncos had 26 first downs for the night, 10 penetrations, 480 yards of rushing, and 49 yards passing to make their total yardage for the night at 529. The Broncos have an open date this Friday night but will meet the Robert Lee Steers at Bronco Stadium October 19.

School Board To Conduct Adult Education Survey

Members of the Board of Trustees of the Sonora Independent School District decided to conduct a survey to determine the number of adults in the area who would be interested in attending classes in adult education when they met Monday in the Superintendent's office for their regular meeting. Major objectives of the program are: Providing adults basic reading, writing, speaking, and mathematics skills, and general knowledge acquisition through the eighth grade level of competency or an accepted minimum performance level. Preparing adults for competitive and successful results in the General Educational Development (GED) test. Preparing and assisting adults to complete high school credit programs. To be eligible for enrollment an individual must be beyond the age of compulsory school attendance and must not have received a high school diploma or a certificate of equivalency. In other business at the meeting, minutes of the previous meeting, the financial report and bills payable were all approved by the trustees.

Authorization was made for Superintendent Ken McAllister to purchase a cooler-freezer for the school cafeteria. The purchase will be made from Angelo Refrigeration Service in San Angelo. The transfer of funds from the band and athletic budget fund to the respective activity funds was made along with an amendment passed providing school bus drivers with a

Opportunity Knocking

After a stint in the armed forces, many servicemen have returned to civilian life proficient in military weaponry and with more than a passing knowledge of brass polishing and hand-to-hand combat. These are hardly skills which society is clamoring to use. Now one of the goals of the new volunteer army will be to provide servicemen and women with an education which will equip them for productive lives after they leave the service.

During the next year, the Defense Department will spend $6.6 billion on programs ranging from high school to college courses. At 1,000 high schools, two-year community colleges and four-year universities which have been signed up as "Serviceman's Opportunity" institutions, military personnel will be able to receive not only vocational training but advanced college degrees. The education will be free, and the servicemen and women will be paid while they learn. The military education program is a sound idea. One can only hope that many young people will see it as the opportunity it is and take advantage of it.

New Twists In Consumerism

We Americans are a proud independent people, and history has proven that we will not tolerate very much government interference in our lives. This helps explain why projects run on a private, local level, such as the Better Business Bureaus, find a special place in the hearts of the people.

To watch the Better Business Bureaus in action is to better understand the American mind, for the BBB's are an excellent example of the spirit of voluntarism which we hold so dear. Ever since their inception six decades ago, the BBB's have sought to upgrade the performance of the American marketplace without government help and now, with the Council of Better Business Bureaus as a head coordinating agency, the BBB's are stronger and more effective than ever before. This cohesive group of businessmen, citizens and professionals, operating in 137 U. S. cities, has come up with some important new twists in the consumer movement, called Consumer Councils. Nearly 2,000 consumers have eagerly joined these Councils, working in such diversified activities as investigative shopping, mediating and conducting consumer educational programs for senior citizens and the poor. Each local consumer Council is under the guidance of a consumer specialist who has been trained by experts. The Bureaus that have tried such a program report community understanding of BBB goals and methods has grown through public involvement.

So it is that we have been able to keep the free enterprise system on its toes, without "Big Brother." The Better Business Bureaus can state, "We have validated our basic premise that once consumers know that business cares and that business offers viable alternatives for solving the problems of buyer and seller, consumers respond positively to voluntary regulation."

A Bishop Looks at Life

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

A NOTABLE ANNIVERSARY There is great interest here in the fact that this year is the 100th anniversary of the birth of the distinguished American author, Willa Cather. People here believe it is fitting that a U. S. postage stamp is being issued in her honor. Miss Cather had a "love affair" with this part of our country. She made repeated visits to New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado. Here she wrote the masterpiece for which she is best known, Death Comes For The Archbishop. (Lovers of this book will be interested to know that the New Mexico author Paul Horgan is engaged in research for a definitive biography of the person who inspired this novel, Archbishop J. B. Lamy.)

This anniversary is of particular interest to Mrs. Jones and myself. We started coming to this area more than thirty years ago and have spent some part of the year in "the land of enchantment" ever since. Our interest was deepened by Willa Cather's great book. During one of our early visits we re-read the novel, and as we did so we visited each one of the places described in the Bishop's journeys.

Many writers have attempted to put into words the charm and beauty of the American Southwest, but no one has so vividly portrayed the land and its people as did Willa Cather. In one passage she speaks of the clouds:

"Here there was always activity overhead, clouds forming and moving all day long. Whether they were dark and full of violence, or soft and white with luxurious idleness, they powerfully affected the world beneath them. The desert, the mountains and mesas, were continually reformed and recolored by the cloud shadows. The whole country seemed fluid to the eye under this constant change of accent, this ever-varying distribution of light."

Willa Cather had profound admiration for the Indians' relation to Nature. "In the working of silver or drilling of turquoise the Indians had exhaustless patience; upon their blankets and belts they lavished their skill and pains. But their conception of decoration did not extend to the landscape. They seemed to have none of the European's desire to 'master' Nature, to arrange and re-create..."

"This was not so much from indolence, the Bishop thought, as from an inherited caution and respect. It was as if the great country were asleep, and they wished to carry on their lives without awakening it; or as if the spirits of earth and air and water were things not to antagonize and arouse."

"When they hunted, it was with the same discretion; an Indian hunt was never a slaughter. They ravaged neither the rivers nor the forest, and if they irrigated, they took as little water as would serve their needs. The land and all that it bore they treated with consideration; not attempting to improve it, they never desecrated it."

Viewpoint

By T. Driskell

Being upstaged is a little nerve shaking, so it requires writing a little preface. A lady's letter to the editor in last week's paper rather left me like the proverbial fish out of water. She demonstrated meticulously logical thinking and much to my chagrin she also writes better than I do, however her ideas are valid so here goes reiteration.

Sonora has dropped four football games and I hear vitriolic comments about the coach and profanity about the players from the stands. In the interest of justice there are a few facts to look at, lest our perspective be completely lost.

What is football? It is a game. Why is it played? Three principal reasons: 1. To enhance a sense of unity in the school. 2. To facilitate both physical development and a capacity for teamwork in the players. 3. For the pleasure of the players. Way, way down on the list (a footnote virtually) is to enhance the citizen's interest in the school.

Against this background, let's analyze the situation of the 1973 Sonora High School football team. First the material. We have good strong linemen and adequate backs, but it seems that break away speed is lacking and the passing game does not have the precision it might develop. Admittedly the tendency to dribble the football (and it ain't easy) has been critical in the four losses. It can happen to any football team, if the Texas Longhorns keep it up Darrel Royal will be known as "Curly" (and grey). Material may not be not all we have enjoyed in the past, but it is good enough, that is not the difficulty.

The coach, much maligned recently, is a confirmed producer, using a sound operational formation and techniques. Look at his record, look at the performance of his past teams. Sonora beat him twice, I believe, in the playoffs over the years--not on coaching ability or material. Have you ever heard of luck? Think back on one of those games. The fault does not lie in our professional coaching staff so we must look elsewhere.

What do we have left? The fans and that insidious group of subversives which we must call "unpaid coaches". What do they do? They try to put pressure on one sort or another on the coaches, they talk to the players in such a manner to create little animosities which make a fully integrated team impossible. Who are the subversive unpaid coaches? If you are one, you know it and, please, desist.

The profane fans in the stands are not helping one bit. Those players on the field are amateurs, playing for their pleasure and yours, at the risk of permanent physical injury. You are in no position to verbally abuse a man who is doing his best--if his best is not good enough, you go home, or do not come to the game. True his best may not be good enough, but that is the way life is.

Most players on the field have mothers in the stands. Like the Ladies' Home Journal says, "Never underestimate the power of a woman." Keep up the distasteful berating of the players and you'll see Sonora's great record of zero wins equalled again. Think about it, how does a total of five men left on the bench, after the team has been fielded, grab you? Kid yourself not, those gals can, and will, do it--some lip-buttoning is in order.

Menard is the first game that counts--so let's get with it. Everyone has his job. The offensive line showed occasional brilliance in hole opening at Ozona, timing was a little off, but not that much. The team needs to put aside all petty animosity and get precision into their game. That team can be a winner if they can remember: "If the unpaid coaches were that sharp, they would be on the staff." Precision timing and sound fundamentals are synonymous with winning--only the team can do it.

The coaches have the job of getting the most out of the available material and an inalienable right to freedom from outside interference. Their decisions must be their own and if the unpaid coach tries to influence or coerce those decisions it is hoped that the coaches will look carefully to determine which is his or her best eye and spit right in it. Moulding the team is the responsibility of the coaches and the coaches alone, allow them their prerogatives!

Constitutional Scholars Opinions Differ Regarding Fate of Veep

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on the Dry Devil's River gets into some deep matters this week, more or less. Dear editor:

This is not only out of my field but also over my head but for the past few days I've been struggling over how we can use our Constitutional scholars.

According to what I've been reading in the newspapers, there is a great division of opinion in Washington and around the country over what the right to withhold his tapes even if they might contain evidence in a criminal trial, or over the question of whether a Vice President can be indicted before he's impeached.

Some Washington officials say yes to both questions, others say no, so what do they do? They call in outstanding lose or draw. This our team when it wins concept and the coaches' team when it loses must go. Those boys are doing their best, and every fan must be behind them and the coaches. If we fans have that capability--we'll get out of the district, if not, like a well known university in east central Texas--there's always next year.

By the time you read this the Menard game will be water under the bridge. What the water upstream looks like is dependent on the fans. I am not finger-pointing, that is your job. If you are an unpaid coach or a fan prone to profanity directed personally it might be suggested that you utilize the tooth covering nature provided you with in a process known as mouth closing. Our team will make it if superfluous dead weight is not imposed on them.

Constitutional scholars. And what do the scholars say?

Some say yes, some say no. In other words, after a lifetime spent in studying the Constitution, the scholars can't come any closer to a unanimous agreement than the rest of us, most of whom have never read the Constitution all the way through in the first place.

I'm not going to say that the scholars have wasted their time, but I suspect they've been given the wrong questions. You don't have to have memorized the Constitution to know it doesn't say anything about tapes, but if you got as far as the 8th grade you know it says all men are created equal, not necessarily in talent and brain power but equal before the law, and it doesn't excuse even Presidents and Vice Presidents from this splendid treatment of the human race.

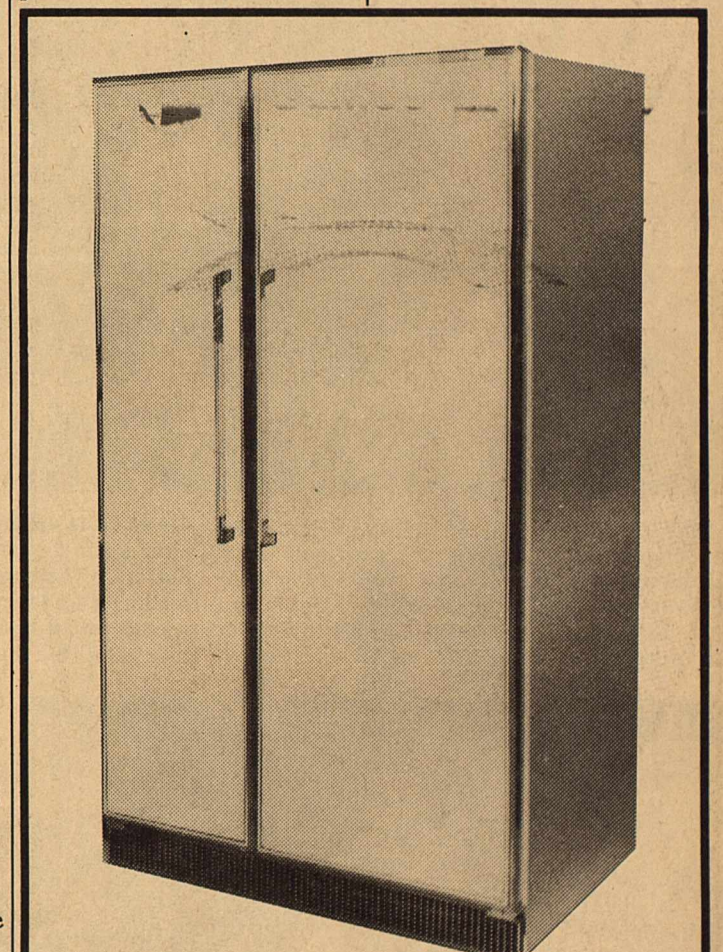

I didn't intend to get so serious, I just wanted to point out that when you consult more than one scholarly authority on any subject you're likely to come out with more than one answer. If you want to know what the Constitution says on most issues, figure out what would be fair and you'll find that's what it was trying to say.

I don't think the Constitution says anything about this, but after a lifetime of scholarly studying of the matter, I've noticed that in the long run you wind up tired--or than in the short run.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Hospital Auxiliary

BY JAN VANDERSTUCKEN
The Lillian M. Hudspeth Memorial Hospital Auxiliary met in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Browne for a luncheon. The food was delicious as is typical of the Browne cuisine. Many thanks to Maxine for the time and effort contributed. It was an event enjoyed by us all. 24 members attended the luncheon. The Auxiliary was pleased to hear that we now have two new members.

It was voted on and carried that a birthday party be given each month for the nursing home patients who have birthdays during that month.

Games were discussed for the nursing home patients such as bingo parties, complete with prizes for the victors. Special games such as 'wheel chair' basketball and volleyball were suggested.

Mrs. Gene Martin, director of nurses, gave a brief talk on ways the members may help nursing home patients. The meeting was adjourned until November. All members left with new knowledge on how the auxiliary can help the patients and fill a more helpful role in the community.

Mrs. Hite Hosts Scramble Bunko

High was won by Mrs. Hite; second high, Mrs. Robert Taylor; low, Mrs. Ann Boyd; and bunko, Miss Pat Neill. Others in attendance were Mmes. Carl Hard, Louis Olenick, W. H. Hill, Clifford Green, Wes Granger, Kyle Donaldson, Carl Teaff, and Lila Mae St. Claire.

Band Boosters

The following band parents are reminded to bring two dozen sandwiches for the Thursday night football game. Dominguez, Gibbs, Guzman, Wills, Brown and Castro.

Those asked to bring two dozen cupcakes each are: Gomez, Pete Virgen, and Black. Game time is 5 p. m. and parents are asked to have their food items there before 5 p. m.

Larry Berger In Theatre Role

Larry Joe Berger will be performing in "Richard of Bordeaux", North Texas State University's first theatre production this season. The Gordon Daviot drama about Richard II of England begins at 8:00 p. m. each evening, October 9-13.

Berger, son of Mrs. Nancy C. Berger, is a freshman speech and drama major at NTSU. He will play the part of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Sutton are now making their home in Dimmit where Eddie is employed by an accounting firm and June is working for a medical doctor. Both Suttons are also attending classes at West Texas College.

MAXINE REILEY

THIS FAMILIAR Grandmother is on hand to watch grandsons on the football fields at most every game. Much likeness may be compared here with a daughter, who also lives in Sonora. Last week's guess who was J. W. Elliott and he was not born in Sonora as this writer implied but nonetheless, I was correct in calling him a Sonoran.

Visiting

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Howell and Franklyn Louise Perryton visited recently with his mother, Mrs. J. F. Howell. While in Sonora they also visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Henry. The Howells travelled to Austin to attend the Texas Tech-Texas University football game where they were met by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen of Perryton and Miss Kay Allen of Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cusenbary have recently returned from a tour of the New England states and report the trip was very enjoyable. They also spent ten days in Boston visiting with relatives.

Historical Society Meets At Museum

Members of the Sutton County Historical Society met Tuesday at the Miers Home Museum. The historical survey committee discussed plans to place a marker on the jail, which is the oldest building in the County which is not marked. Construction began on the jail in approximately 1891.

Members also decided at the meeting to hold open house at the Museum from 5-7 p. m. on October 21. The purpose of the open house is to display the many items of interest on display at the museum and to encourage others to bring items of interest to the museum.

The goal of the committee is to get something to represent each and every family in the county.

A meeting of the Edwards Plateau Historical Society was held in Eden recently with local historians, Mrs. Ben Cusenbary and Mrs. Bryan Hunt, attending. Members of the committee will meet in Sonora next October.

Those attending the local meeting were Mrs. Bob Vicars, Mrs. Bryan Hunt, Mrs. Alvis Johnson, Mrs. Ida Mae Kerbow, Mrs. Rex Cusenbary, Mr. and Mrs. Collier Shurley, Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Hardy and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cusenbary.

It's a new Land Bank serving a new agriculture in new ways

Over the next ten years, agriculture will require a minimum of $60 billion in new financing to meet unprecedented changes and challenges. Because there is a Federal Land Bank—created to insure an abundance of capital at reasonable rates—you can have more confidence this need for credit will be met.

The Land Bank will continue to obtain loan funds in the nation's money markets on the very best terms it can. It will continue to make financing available to farmers and ranchers at reasonable cost. And with increased flexibility now permitted by the Farm Credit Act, it will help more people in more ways.

Today, more than ever, you should understand the operation of your Federal Land Bank. If you are not an Association member, let's get acquainted. If you are a member, let's get better acquainted. Let's work together... to build a secure place for you and your family in a viable, prosperous agriculture.

UGLY OR

BEAUTIFUL?

It all depends on whether or not you are a lobster-lover. To those who enjoy this succulent fruit of the sea, a lobster is a thing of beauty. To others it seems incredibly ugly.

Beauty is "in the eye of the beholder," but, contrary to another old saying, it is not skin deep. True beauty often can't be seen at all. It is something you feel, something of which you are aware—not necessarily seen.

Beauty, for instance, surrounds you when you walk into a church. There is something in the atmosphere that you can't quite define. No matter what's been happening to you, in God's Home, you feel a sense of peace, of sanctuary.

Had that experience lately?

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

For the first 122 years of Texas' statehood, our laws "protected" women when they were involved in property contracts. One law required that when a married couple prepared to sign a deed or similar property contract, the woman had to be taken into a separate room "privily and apart from her husband," and asked to swear that her spouse had not "coerced" her into signing. By the time we reached the middle of this century, however, it was obvious that many women not only held "the pursestrings" for their families, but were contributing significantly to family incomes. Organizations of women, such as the business and professional clubs began lobbying for liberalizing the laws relating to women's property rights, and by 1968, the "privily" swearing and many other statutory hindrances to the economic rights of women were wiped from our Texas law books.

In a subsequent session, the Legislature erased many more discriminatory references in the state laws, and this year--1973, the lawmakers went a step further. Through passage of a bill by Rep. Sarah Weddington of Austin and Sen. Bill Patman of Ganado, the lawmakers amended the Texas Consumer Credit Code to prohibit the denial of credit and loans on the basis of sex. The new law relates to credit transactions involving interest charges of more than 10%, such as installment loans by banks and savings & loan institutions, consumer finance companies, automobile dealers and secondary mortgage lending firms; most revolving charge accounts, and most credit card accounts. The types of complaints which had led the legislators to write the bill included charges that issuers of credit cards, such as oil companies, had refused credit to single women, and that some lenders had required mature single women to get male relatives to co-sign, even though the women had substantial salaries. The sex-discrimination ban provides that a person is entitled to establish credit in her own name, rather than having to make loans and revolving charge accounts in her spouse's name. If someone believes he or she has encountered a violation of the law, two avenues of action would be open: 1) A complaint could be lodged with the Texas Consumer Credit Commissioner, or 2) the consumer could file a civil suit against the lender, who could be required to pay actual damages or $50 (whichever is greater) if found guilty of a violation. As you doubtless know, another law also became effective August 27, which gives Texans in the 19-20 age group majority rights. All of this "coming of age" for Texas women and youths of both sexes means, of course, that they not only are gaining "rights", they are assuming new responsibilities. While credit cannot be denied on the basis of sex or age, a lender or merchant retains the right to refuse to extend credit for normal causes, such as a poor credit history. If you have reason to believe that you have been discriminated against unlawfully in a credit transaction, take the matter up first with the management of the firm with which you are dealing. Quite often, that will solve your problem. If you have any questions, do not hesitate to contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division in Austin, Dallas, Lubbock, El Paso, San Antonio or Houston.

Fred Campbell Elected Director Of Texas Wool Warehouse Association

Burlington Industries Wool Company vice president for wool procurement, Wylie McDonald, spoke to the annual meeting of the Texas Wool and Mohair Warehouse Association and stated his firm's position in regard to tying of Texas wools. "We would like to express our opinion on the subject to tie or not tie Texas 12 months wools. There has been a trend in recent years not to tie the 12 months wools, and we are encountering some problems with these untied wools at our mill.

1. If wools are graded or skirted, it is not necessary, for our purposes, to have them tied. This is, of course, assuming that the "grading" is uniform for both length and grade.

2. We would prefer to have all other original bag Texas 12 months wools tied."

The Warehouse Association's annual meeting was in Del Rio at the San Felipe Country Club. Officers elected for the coming year were Joe Almond of Del Rio, president; Murph M. Compton of Menard, first vice president; George C. Taylor of San Angelo, second vice president; and C. A. Dishman of Uvalde, secretary-treasurer. Directors elected were Almond, Compton, Taylor, Dishman, Weldon Cloud of Lampasas, Joe Ed Hill of Eldorado and Fred Campbell. Clay Jackson, out-going president from San Angelo, will serve as "ex officio" director for the term of one year. Jackson was elected as the Association's delegate and director to the American Sheep Producers Council. In closing out his year as president he stated that he felt the wool and mohair warehouses had experienced an extremely good year due to good wool and mohair prices. He also reported on a proposed research project at the Textile Research Center at Texas Tech which would compare the Australian wools with American wools as far as their manufacturing qualities are concerned. This would show whether or not the Australian wools should be bringing so much more than the Texas wools.

No site was set for the next annual meeting. The group was hosted to dinner following the meeting by Del Rio Wool and Mohair and Producers Wool and Mohair.

Multiple Sclerosis Conquest Near

The largest medical award in American history--$100,000--is now being offered to the individual(s) who discovers a way to control and/or cure that "great crippler of young adults," multiple sclerosis (MS). That is exciting news, indeed, especially for those between the ages of 20 and 40 who have all potential victims of the dread disease.

This generous award, given by New York philanthropist Ralph I. Straus through the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, should do much toward hastening the conquest of MS--a disease which, along with related disorders, has grounded approximately 500,000 Americans. Yet despite its danger, few of us know what multiple sclerosis is. Briefly, MS is a disease which attacks the central nervous system, destroying patches of the nerves' myelin sheathing, which is then replaced by scar tissue that interrupts and distorts the flow of nerve impulses.

When MS is finally overcome, most of the laurels will go to the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. Through the vigorous efforts of this large voluntary health agency, over $20 million has been poured into research programs alone and millions more for patient services since the Society's inception in 1946. The Society's 193 chapters and branches, 59 MS clinics, centers and clinical programs as well as 102 cooperating hospital clinics have brought relief and hope to MS patients and families.

Multiple sclerosis strikes hundreds of thousands of Americans down in their prime, but thanks to the massive campaign that has been dedicated to the eradication of that crippling disease, the future looks promising. Public support of such endeavors will decide just how promising.

Texas Highway Dept. Achieves National Honors

The Texas Highway Department, recently commended by the State Legislature for its broad range of travel programs, has again achieved top national honors from Discover America Travel Organizations, Inc., the country's overall travel trade association.

For an unprecedented third time within six years, the coveted annual Discover America Award was presented to the Texas Highway Department at ceremonies in Lake Placid, New York, on October 1. Competing against all other state, federal, and territorial travel offices, the Highway Department took the 1973 award for its innovative highway InfoBord program introduced this year. No other travel organization in the nation has ever received three DATO awards for its tourist programs.

Ramsey Pollard, awards chairman and vice president of "Resort Management Magazine," made the announcement before 600 leaders of the nation's travel industry assembled for DATO's annual travel conference at Lake Placid. Pollard quoted Texas Highway Commissioner Charles E. Simons, who earlier had described the state's new InfoBord program as "the most significant development in highway travel information since Texas established the nation's first highway tourist bureaus in 1936."

The highway InfoBord program is currently under development to provide travel information along the state's Interstate and primary highway routes. With the forthcoming elimination of most roadside billboards, InfoBords in highway rest areas are designed to picture and interpret scenic, historic, and recreational features of the immediate area.

Colorful 3x3-foot InfoBord panels may be read at leisure by motorists who stop in elaborate new rest areas that feature drinking water and rest rooms in addition to the customary picnic pavilions. When the program is completed, 188 InfoBords will interpret Texas attractions for more than 44,500,000 people a year.

Luther DeBerry, state highway engineer, said "This new concept puts travel information where travelers are... on the highways." He explained that InfoBords capitalize on the travel style of modern tourists, which is unplanned flexibility. DeBerry also noted that the concept for interpreting the surrounding countryside overcomes the nationwide sameness of Interstate Highways that have earned the label "tunnels of isolation."

The latest Discover America Award is the third national citation to the Texas Highway Department for a series of outstanding travel programs. The first award was garnered in 1968 for the department's tourist bureaus and travel literature including the new "trail" concept of pleasure driving routes. The second DATO award came in 1971 when a lavish, full-color guidebook of more than 200 pages was named the finest travel literature of the year from among the 50 states.

On a distinguished roster of members DATO includes a variety of travel-oriented government agencies, the nation's leading magazines and newspaper, air, rail and bus carriers, major metropolitan convention and visitor bureaus, and a host of the foremost tourist attractions from throughout the country.

the extra point and the score stood at 27-0 at half time. Behind the impressive blocking of the offensive linemen, the Colts chummed out 251 yards in the first half of play. These linemen include Junior Luna, Joey Kirby, Mike Jones, R. B. Alexander, Dan Lawson, Kent Cagle, Billy Bob Galbreath and Chase Snodgrass.

Ozona was unable to muster any serious threats until late in the fourth quarter. Hard running Cub tailback, Joe Sanchez, punched the ball down to the Sonora 4 yard line before time ran out.

Eighth Grades Loses To Ozona

The 8th grade Colts were unable to get it all together for that initial touchdown play against Ozona. Numerous times they were in range but Ozona's defense doubled their effort. The Colts had a 8-0 lead over the Colts through halftime. The Colts made two more touchdowns in the 4th quarter, making it 22-0 for the Ozona team.

Teen Scene

By Carol Weston

The mighty Broncos galloped over the Menard Yellow-jackets last Friday evening and began its District competition with an outstanding victory of 46-0. The boys played a really fine game, in spite of the rain and muddy field, and showed a great deal of improvement since their game the week before. The coaches feel that the boys are doing a much better job of being in the right places and doing the right things, and that this victory of the Yellow-jackets has helped their outlook and attitudes greatly.

All of the boys got the chance to play quite a bit, so that all were able to gain some experience during the game.

This week is an open one in Sonora's schedule, so all of the players who have been injured will be able to take part in the play again before the Robert Lee or Wall game. This should also help the Broncos in district play, as it has hurt them some to have these players out of play during the first few games. The Broncos and their coaches appreciate very much the support which the townspeople have shown throughout the beginning of the season and will be preparing in the next few weeks to make this season an outstanding one for Sonora.

SHS
The Junior Varsity and Freshman Broncos lost to the Ozona Lions last week in very close games. The Freshman team has gained some experience in the last couple of weeks and is showing a lot of improvement since their first game.

SHS
The Junior High teams were split again as the Eighth Grade Colts were defeated 0 to 22 by the Cubs, and the Seventh Grades scored another exceptional victory of 27-0 over the Ozona's seventh graders.

This Thursday afternoon all three games will be played in Sonora; the Seventh Grade game will begin at 5:00 p. m., the Eighth Grade at 6:00 p. m., and the Junior Varsity at 7:00 p. m. The evening should prove to be a disappointing one for both the Eaglets and the Eagles from Junction.

SHS
Class meetings were held last week to select nominees for Halloween Queen. Debra Tittle was selected by the Senior Class, and Carol McAllister was chosen as the Junior Class nominee. Representing the Sophomore Class will be Marsha Finklea, and the Freshman Class selected Flaire Lane as its queen nominee. Meetings will be held again this week to vote for Halloween Queen, and the results will be announced at the beginning of the Carnival.

SHS
The Senior Class began the annual magazine sales this Tuesday morning and will be covering the town in the next two weeks. The class has been divided into two teams, boys and girls, that will be competing against each other in attempting to sell the largest number of magazines.

Any person who, for some reason, did not receive magazines which they ordered last year is asked to contact any member of the Senior Class or Mr. Smith Neal.

City Manager Meets With FHA

Mr. Alex C. Binford, City Manager, met with members of Sonora FHA at their regular meeting on October 2 to discuss traffic hazards in Sonora. He congratulated members for their interest, saying that this was the first Sonora organization which had made inquiry.

He explained that street lights cannot be installed at any intersection on Highway 290 without permission from the Highway Department and their last survey did not show sufficient need. However the city requested another survey. This is particularly important to high school students who must cross these intersections for lunch since they have only 30 minutes.

Some traffic hazards around the school will be helped when the new school parking lot is finished. The city manager stressed rules such as school bus parking are under the authority of the school.

Mr. Binford stressed that no traffic rules can be enforced based on tradition; there must be recorded city ordinances before a rule can be enforced.

He explained three steps in teaching a small child to safely cross a street. During October each FHA member will go, during her study hall, to a Kindergarten room to help a child learn traffic safety. A committee will also plan a safety game to be used in each Kindergarten.

Members are making plans to place play equipment in La Plazita on Gonzales Street for small children. The industrial arts club will help with this project. They plan to supervise play at various times later in the year. Margie Gutierrez, club president, along with two other officers met with the City Commission Monday, to present their plan and request some supporting funds for fencing the park.

Antlerless Deer Tags Available At County Courthouse October 29

Landowners in Sutton County, located in the Basin Game Management District, will have an opportunity to pick up their antlerless deer permits and special antlerless deer tags October 29 at the courthouse.

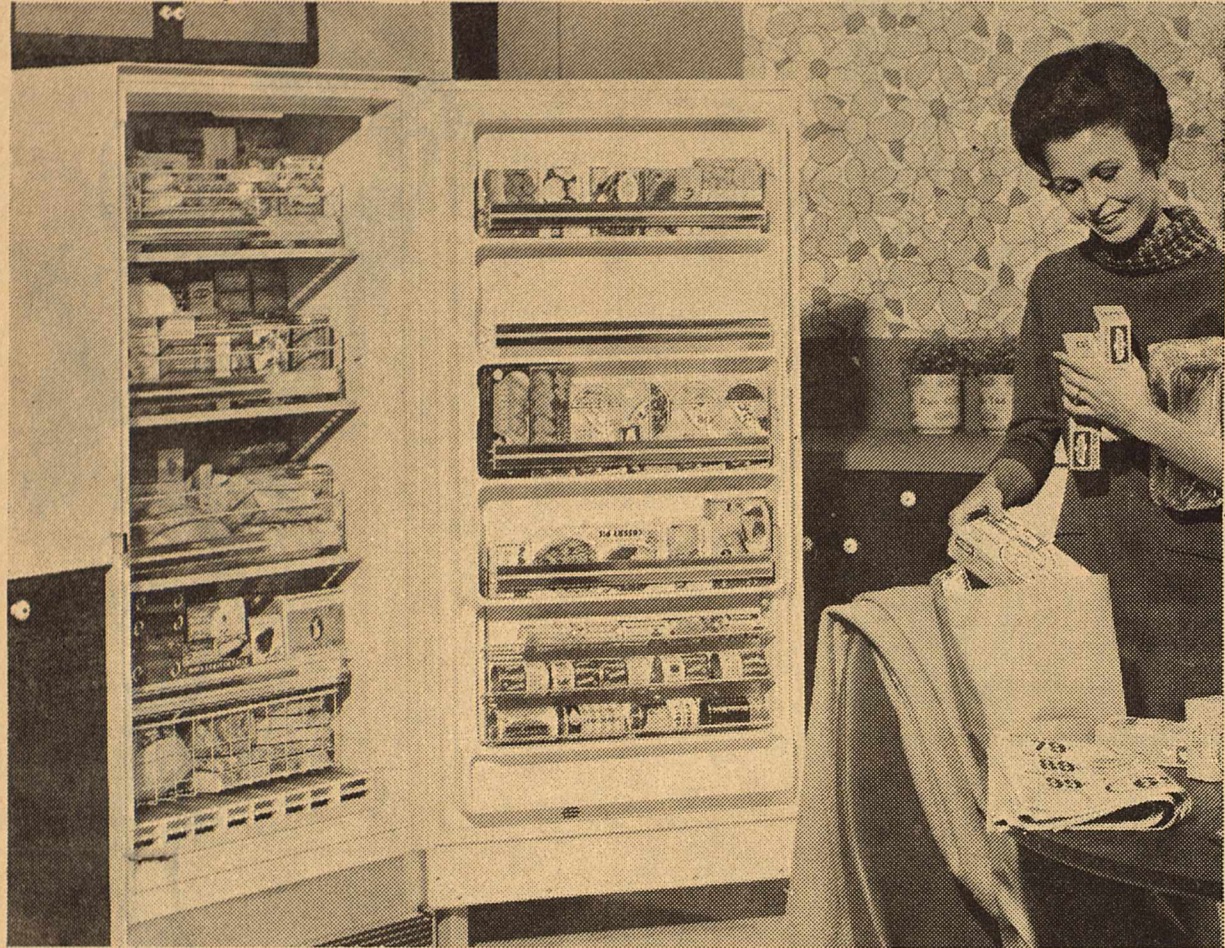

Special antlerless deer tags are issued in lieu of permits in some counties according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

The difference, say officials, is that permits are issued in limited quantities based on overpopulation of deer, carrying capacity of land and in ratio to the proportion of land having surplus deer. Further, no antlerless deer permit may be issued later than ten days before the opening date of the hunting season. Special tags are used where either-sex hunts are approved. There are no limitations on the number of tags a landowner may obtain since the hunts are designed to allow full landowner control of deer harvest.

with a food freezer!

Even during a price freeze, food prices vary at different times of the year. When food is plentiful, prices are low. Out-of-season foods cost more.

But with an electric food freezer, you can buy in quantity when prices are lowest ... and eat this same food later in the year when food prices are high. Take advantage of this bargain. Pay low "in-season prices" the year around! See your favorite electric appliance dealer today. Find out how you can freeze food prices with a thrifty electric food freezer.

THE MAUD S SALOON was a familiar gathering place for the men of Sonora in the early 1900's. Saloons were then a place for men alone as women libbers were a little short in demand. If you're a woman's libber or just a male chauve-nist, you'll enjoy riding in a new '74 Ford. Sonora Motor Company has a Ford car or pickup to please everyone.

I read these bank ads about saving money for peace of mind. Well, here's a piece of my mind. It really works! Just saving $10 per week, in 3 months I've got $130 in the bank plus interest. I can think of plenty of ways to spend it but I'm not going to. Just knowing it's there makes me feel good.
