Girl Scout Week March 10-16

During the week of March 10-16, the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. will be celebrating their anniversary. This year the organization is 62 years old. However, the movement is far from old or even old-fashioned in its ideas. Since the time Juliette Gordon Low called a few girls together for the first Girl Scout meeting in Savannah, Georgia on March 12, 1912, Girl Scouting has grown to serve almost 4 million girls in America.

R. Hill, C. Pope Named All-District

Randy Hill and Cora Pope, representing Sonora's varsity boys and girls basketball teams, were chosen to the 9-A All district squad.

Both are senior students at Sonora High School. Honorable mentions went to Paul Browne, junior; Karen Hemphill, senior, and Sheila Alexander, junior.

Local Scouts Hold Car Wash

Members of the local boy scout troop will hold a car wash all day Saturday, March 16 at the Glascock Shell Service Station.

This project will help promote "Project Soar", a national environmental campaign being carried out by scouts. The local campaign will be to clean up that portion of the Llano River located in Sutton County.

Boy Scout leaders noted that local scouts will clean out the debris from the river as well as along the bank.

The Llano River extends some eight miles in Sutton County. Scouts will charge $1 for each car washed on the above date.

Girls aged 6 to 17, Campus Girl Scouts (college students serving the community through local Girl Scout Councils), troops on foreign soil (for U. S. citizens living abroad), and adults in various fields subscribe to the ideals expressed in the Girl Scout promise and law.

The program provides opportunities for girls with the help of volunteer adults to experience, to discover, and to share girl-planned activities that meet their own needs and interests. These activities encourage personal, social, ethical, and individual skill development through a wide variety of projects in service, social and environmental action, youth leadership, and career exploration; foster a sense of oneness and interdependence with others, and promote active participation as citizens in their homes and communities, the nation and the world.

Girl scouts of the El Camino Council are celebrating Girl Scout Week in many ways such as going to church together on March 10, conducting flag ceremonies at school, preparing displays for school bulletin boards, and displays for stores in various towns. A number of the troops will have Father-Daughter banquets, have camp outs and wage a clean-up campaign in their neighborhoods.

Each day of the week has been set aside for emphasis of one area of the Girl Scout Program.

Jr. Hi. Tracksters Take 6th Place

Coach Tally Kelso's junior high girl tracksters placed sixth overall in the Eldorado meet held over the weekend.

Fourteen teams participated in the event. Kelso noted that this was quite an improvement over last year with the Sonora girls placing in every event except the 330 dash and the 80 yard hurdles.

Those individuals placing in the meet were Terry Simpson, second in the 660; Abby Sanchez, third in the 60 yard dash and 6th in the 100 yard dash; Kim Cox, fifth in the 60 yard dash and 6th in the 100 yard dash, and Becky Cavaness, fifth in the 220.

Alan Saunders States Candidacy To Mayor Post

Alan W. Saunders, Sr., announced Tuesday that he is seeking election to the city post of Mayor. In making his announcement Saunders made the following statement:

"I feel that I am fully qualified to be your Mayor. As you know many things in Sonora can be and must be changed if Sonora is to progress and stay abreast of the expansion and growth brought about by the gas boom we're experiencing. If I am elected your Mayor, I will endeavor to bring needed changes to the city which will benefit the majority and make Sonora a better place to live and work.

A vote for me will be a vote for progress, not isolationism. Vote for the candidate of your choice, but vote. And when you vote, be sure and vote for an Aldermanic form of City Administration. We need it."

A native of Sonora, with both his father and grandfather serving as county surveyors, Saunders is a graduate of Sonora High School and served 24½ years in the Air Force. He and wife, Ann, live at 1412 Mesquite Street.

He is a graduate of the Command Staff Course and Air Command College in Montgomery, Alabama. While serving in the Air Force, Saunders was director of operation, wing level with six groups and twelve squadrons. He commanded air rescues in Vietnam, Thailand and Laos for fourteen months and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, three Bronze Star medals with V device for valor, five air medals and fifteen other awards and decorations.

He is a member of the Lions Club, Texas Pecan Growers Association, a charter member of the Texas Floraculture Research Association, past vice president of Flowers By Wire, Inc., senior vice commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars, and is presently state chairman of the Vietnamese American Association of Texas.

A bid of $3056.00 was accepted from Joe David Ross for Tract 14 of the city owned property in the vicinity of Interstate Highway 10. This tract of land is located next to the tract also owned by Ross, that houses the new Dresser-Atlas building. An industrial type business will be located on the newly purchased property.

The resignation of the recently appointed tax assessor-collector, Mrs. Carolyn Sorenson, was accepted. Mrs. Mona Dillard, who served as tax assessor before taking a leave of absence, was re-appointed to the position. Several proposed revisions to the city plumbing code were discussed at length at the meeting. The proposals were tabled until professional advice on the matter could be obtained.

Improvements to City Water and Sewer Systems were approved and authorization was

Field Day Scheduled March 13 At Sonora's A&M Research Station

Animals in the 25th annual Ram Performance Test gained more weight per day, as a group, than those in all previous years.

The record daily gains were announced by Dr. Leo B. Merrill of the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research Station, site of the annual performance testing and of the annual Sheep and Goat Field Day, set for March 13, this year.

Merrill, professor of range science in the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and supervisor of the local unit, said ranchers could spend the morning of March 13 inspecting both the 151 rams and the records in the latest test.

After a barbecue lunch, dutch-treat and catered by the Sutton County 4-H Club, the field day guests will hear discussions of the drouth patterns in Texas, the visual appraisal and ultrasonic procedures in evaluating lamb carcasses, the M-44 in predator control, the relation between wool and the energy crisis, and the current feed situation.

John Fredrick Griffiths, professor of meteorology and state climatologist at Texas A&M, will discuss the Texas drouth patterns. He is a graduate of the University of London, with degrees in theology, mathematics, meteorology and physics, and the author of 71 professional articles and 7 books.

Texas Public School Week

The first Texas Constitution in 1845, authorized support for a system of free schools to provide an equal opportunity for all. This provision has always been a part of the great American dream. In Texas, we have provided vast sums of money to support this dream.

The last session of the Texas Legislature took a long look at the Texas Public School System. They wanted to know if some schools were better than others. They wanted to know whether some schools were better financed than others. They wanted to know if some schools had better facilities, better and superior scholastic systems.

When was the last time you took a look at the schools your children attended? Texas Public Schools Week is this week, March 4-8. It will provide you with the opportunity to see your schools in operation during that week, all classrooms--elementary through high school--will be open to the public for visitation. This is an excellent time for you to find out what kind of school your children attend.

Texas Public Schools are your concern. Your tax dollars go to support and maintain them. Your children's future rests on the kind of education they are receiving today.

Is your school system providing your child with the values and skills, the means of living productive lives in a complex social environment? Find out all you can. Visit your local schools during Texas Public Schools Week--March 4-8.

Plenty of Warning

Today's energy shortage embodies a chronological record of public and official apathy to known facts that can only be described as incredible. Consider a few quotations from the remarks that have been made over the years by leaders in public and private life relative to tax and regulatory policies of government that began undermining our energy-based society more than 20 years ago.

Most of the following comments relate to the folly of imposing public utility regulations on natural gas producers. In 1953, the vice chairman of the Committee on Mineral Law for the state of Texas warned of this type of regulation: "Imposing utility rate base will offer inadequate incentive to producers... the consumer as well as the producer will profit from the absence of federal regulation and both will suffer from its imposition." Shortly after the Supreme Court decision that imposed this type of regulation on gas producers, the president of a major oil company noted that: "With demand increasing and the rate of discovery decreasing, after a time a definite shortage of gas occurs... the net result to the consumer is a shortage of supply and an increase in rates." The warnings continued to come through the years. In 1957, President Eisenhower, in a Budget Message to Congress, said: "Legislation freeing gas producers from public utility type regulation is essential if the incentives to find and develop new supplies of gas are to be preserved..."

In 1961, the chairman of the Federal Power Commission stated: "We cannot expect him (the gas producer) to continue risking his money exploring for gas at the pace which the national interest requires." A Houston, consulting geologist in 1960 said: "I can safely predict that between now and 1975 we will have an energy crisis in this country. Then the people will say 'the industry is to blame, why weren't we told?' Well, I'm telling them now."

The energy crisis is no mystery. Its cause and its cure have been known for two decades by competent energy authorities. Their recommendations have been ignored.

But it took the Americans to make the lemon tree bear fruit in a new way. Typical of American ingenuity is that now a dash of lemon freshness has been added to new menthol Twist cigarettes. It tastes fresher than ordinary cigarettes and gives a smoother cool.

Viewpoint

BY T. DRISKELL

Gold, a metal bordering on being totally worthless in the industrial world, seems to be going out of sight in price. The price of a metal which is of little use other than as a chemically inert plating material, is of little consequence. The motivation, behind the price rise, however, is singularly significant to you and me so let's take it apart and look at it.

The rush to gold can hardly be described as other than sheer panic. That is precisely what it is--many small investors rushing to convert their assets into gold. If you are so inclined remember that there is an old adage (which has proven itself to be true much more than half the time) which says, "The small investor is always wrong!" Stifle your inclinations, gold prices will go down.

The panic has developed against the present world background. We, and all the men and women of the world, have been confronted by crisis after crisis leaving us uncertain of tomorrow and more uncertain of our values of today. It is an inherent characteristic of man (and woman) that he (or she) must have something to believe in and derive a certain security from that belief. As hard as you may find it to believe - the crisis ogee is apparent only like a schmo looking over the fence - the worst, much worse is yet to come. Can your beliefs and values stand the impact?

We Sonorans apparently should look at the values and beliefs we exhibit. We are fragmented and broken into cliques, with considerable lack of consideration across ethnical, economic social and clique lines. "Things" and a display of "wherewithal" real or imagined, seem to dominate our values. There is little if any, doubt that the values and beliefs we harbor today do not have the "hang in there" ability in time of stress which the values and beliefs of our fathers demonstrated. Have we prostituted our values and ethics to progress liberally accelerated by a national addiction to advertising for the purpose of selling products we did not need in the first place? We shall see, because crises in our near future we have a surplus of, instead of grain and gasoline in the past.

Really, it is somewhat a pity that we will not be able to sidestep most of the crisis developed impacts, because we have an ideal opportunity to do so, and a lot of distinct advantages. We are a small town and about 50% of the population is known to each of us. Can we not revert to the Christian ethic, as written instead of as generally practiced? What is wrong with the productive work ethic of our fathers? Where did it go? It is supposed that it has long since been donated to the "wet backs". Can we as a community revert to a basic logical consideration for others ethic? Judging from the rest of the world's urgent grasping search for the idolatry of gold the odds are against it. We can hope though, because the alternative is simply national, state, and more important to us, local chaos.

All the efficiencies of local loan service.

What do you expect from an agricultural loan? Long terms? Reasonable charges? These traditional advantages have been offered by the Federal Land Bank for over a half-century. But the Land Bank also provides personal attention and prompt service. We're the local lender who understands local needs. Come to the Land Bank... for many good reasons.

The Devil's River Philosopher Sez.....

Old Adages Brought Up To Date And Editor's Worth Discussed

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on the Dry Devil's River reports on several things this week which we have no comment on.

Dear editor:

I've got this neighbor out here who came busting into my house the other day and said, "Talk about shortages. I tell you, when they start kidnapping newspaper editors there's bound to be a shortage of kidnap victims."

"Now wait a minute," I said.

"What editors are you talking about?"

"And talk about inflation," he went on. "Seven hundred thousand dollars for one editor."

"What's wrong with that?" I asked. "I mean, how much do you think the average editor is worth?" No, skip it. Let's not go into that."

In fact, I'd better change the subject in a hurry. Lately I've been bringing some old sayings up to date, like "Early to bed and early to rise, in these daylight saving times makes a man go to sleep with the sun in his eyes."

Or, a penny saved won't even meet yesterday's rise in the price of a gallon of gas.

Some of them don't need changing, like honesty is the best policy. Can't you just hear all the people being indicted in the Watergate mess saying, "Doggone, why didn't we think of that?"

And there are still great morals to be drawn from some of the older sayings. Take the one about the lack of a horseshoe nail. You know: For want of a nail the shoe was lost. For want of a shoe the General's horse went lame. For want of a horse the battle was lost.

The moral to this is simple. End war. Stop making horseshoe nails.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

6 WAYS TO CONSERVE AND SAVE

ON HOME LAUNDRY

1. Wash and dry a full load, but never overload... it is essential for each item to move freely for proper cleaning and drying.

2. Choose the correct cycle for washing modern materials. Perhaps hot water isn't needed, and only a gentle drying temperature.

3. Too much detergent can clog machine and drains... always measure, don't guess. Follow the manufacturers recommendations for your equipment. Mixing brands of detergents can cause graying of clothes.

4. Many manufacturers of permanent press garments recommend machine washing and machine drying for best results. Following instructions on the garment tag can preserve the life of your clothing and give you wrinkle-free clothes without need for ironing. A big savings!

5. An important maintenance function for you to do is to clean the lint trap and lint filter on both washer and dryer after each load of a full day's use of your home laundry.

6. Never-Never pour bleach directly into the washer with clothes in it. Always dilute bleach before adding it to wash water. Also, timing is important. Bleach should be added after the clothes have washed at least 5 minutes.

Snips, Quips & Lifts

BY LOTTIE LEE BAKER
—Every man must do his own growing, no matter how tall his grandfather was.

—There, there little luxury, don't you cry, you'll be a necessity bye and bye.

—Isn't it funny that no one ever asks a man how he combines marriage and a career?

—Success is a matter of luck ask any failure.

—Be sure your brain is engaged before putting your mouth in gear.

—Nothing is easier than fault-finding; no talent, no self-denial, no brains, no character are required to set up in the grumbling business.

—Temper is what gets most of us in trouble. Pride is what keeps us there.

—Wouldn't it be nice to be as sure of anything as some people are of everything?

—Our language is funny—a fat chance and a slim chance are the same things.

—The person who turns loose and drifts with the current often gets into deep water.

—Instead of raising the price of a postage stamp, why don't they just use smaller stamps?

I still get a jolt that comes without fail when I dial "information" and the operator is male.

—Sit down strikes occur when workers won't stand for something.

Social Security Lists New Benefits

The Social Security Administration is asking for help in getting information to people who may be eligible for the supplemental security income payments that started in January for people with little or no income who are 65 or over or blind or disabled. Supplemental security information is being published in newspapers and on radio and television, however there is still concern that there may be people who will not hear or know about the program.

If you know of someone 65 or older who is in need, blind or disabled, regardless of age, who needs financial help and they aren't getting public assistance now, please make them aware of the new program. Suggest that they call the social security office in San Angelo (toll free-call operator and ask for Enterprise 2058) or the Red Cross SSI-Alert, 655-4347 to get more information.

Prayer is a party line

The man who prays can hear the prayers of others . . . especially when he prays for those human needs which are common to all men.

But even when he prays for needs that are solely his own, he knows that those who care for him are joining their prayers with his.

And God's answers come back along the party line.

You're never quite sure the message was meant for you. You are tempted sometimes to think it was intended for someone else . . . until you realize that this answer which God has inspired in your heart does fit your prayer.

There are times when it's good for everybody on the party line to pick up the phone at once . . . and speak what they all feel . . . and listen to what they all need to hear.

That happens regularly on Sunday morning.

Predator Problem Meeting Held

After two postponements, the meeting concerning the predator problem, which 21 senators had requested with Secretary of the Interior Morton, was held February 21.

Consensus of some in attendance was that not a great deal was accomplished at the meeting except at the conclusion Morton promised to review policies of his department on predator control and work with EPA and agriculture in an endeavor to solve the problem.

A scientist from the Interior Department stated at the meeting that there was not enough data on sheep and lamb losses available for accurate estimates but that 25 percent of the reports showed losses of 10 percent and another 25 percent of the reports showed losses of between 5 and 10 percent.

Acknowledgement was also made at the meeting that steps were being taken to permit use of the M-44 on public lands in emergency situations.

Senator Curtis of Nebraska noted that losses to coyotes in his state have increased by 140 percent over the previous year.

Wool growers are urged to continue all pressure possible for an effective predator control program.

It's Time For A Change

When city officials double your electric and sewer bills without a public hearing or explanation, IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE.

When city officials permit open burning of trash, garbage, refuse and dead animals, where the smoke, stench and germs blow across residences in the city day after day and across the slaughter house where animals are dressed for human consumption, IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE.

When city officials limit the growth of the city and the associated increase in business to the local merchants, by limiting the number of new residents that can tie in to the sewer each month, IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE.

When city officials pass an ordinance to control loose dogs in the city, which they admit are a menace and potential hazard to the life of residents of Sonora, due to the rabies epidemic in Sutton County, then do not insure enforcement of the ordinance, IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE.

When city officials permit General Telephone Company to provide sub standard service to the residents of Sonora year after year, without forcefully objecting to such service in writing to the home office G. T. E., IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE.

When city officials permit Divide Cable Corp., to renew their franchise, when they charge the residents of Sonora the highest price in the area for the poorest service, IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE.

If Sonora is to progress and its residents are to receive the kind of city administration they have a right to expect and deserve, we must have a complete change of city officials in the next election. This is one reason I have decided to run for the position of mayor of your city in the next election.

When you vote on April 6, vote for the aldermanic form of government for Sonora. They say two heads are better than one. Well, five should be better than two. Let's make Sonora a better place to live for ALL who want or need to live here. Let's replace the restriction of how many may move here each month, with a Welcome Wagon.

To Conserve Is Smart.

One smart way to conserve is to be more efficient with the use of energy in your home.

That means using natural gas for those jobs it does best—like cooking, water heating, clothes drying and heating your home. It's the most efficient use of energy for your fuel dollar.

The more efficient you are, the more you conserve and the more you can save. And that's real smart.
