

Driver of this butane/propane truck, Juvenilo Ibarra of Eagle Pass, was killed instantly when his truck was in collision with a pickup, driven by a Sonora man. The accident occurred May 7 at 8:55 a.m., during a heavy rain that had begun earlier in the morning. The truck, belonging to Eagle Oil Company of Eagle Pass, was traveling north on U.S. Highway 277 South, 8.3 miles south of Sonora on what is known as the 9 mile bridge, when a pickup driven by Federico Guadarrama of Sonora, traveling south went out of control striking the truck. On impact the truck blew a tire causing the driver to lose control and strike the side of the bridge. The bridge railings are believed to have punctured the tank, causing it to explode and burn, killing the driver instantly. The explosion blew the tractor loose from the trailer, sending flames over approximately two acres of wet grassland. Walter Wallace, Department of Public Safety patrolman, was in charge of the investigation.

Rabies Scare Subsiding

No more positive cases of rabies have been confirmed as of news time Tuesday although officials of the Sonora Animal Hospital state that both the head of a fox and that of a dog have been sent off to be examined.

Approximately 60 animals have been picked up by city officials and brought to the pound since a rabid dog in the city limits sent the scare of another rabies outbreak throughout the county.

These sixty animals were only the ones that were picked up and not claimed. A number of others have been redeemed from the pound and a few pet owners have paid fines for letting their animals run loose.

Veterinarians at the local hospital for animals state that while the rabies outbreak looks hopeful, we are still not completely safe and that pet owners should still observe the same precautions as in the past weeks. Initial scare of the disease is quieting some but persons are reminded that this does not alter the city ordinance pertaining to pets running loose.

Dogs who have been exposed to rabies can remain well for up to six months before revealing signs of rabies, stated Dr. Mike Keller, local veterinarian. He added that foxes and skunks may carry the disease for as long as two years before symptoms occur.

Two persons underwent rabies inoculations resulting from contact with the rabid animal found in the city earlier in the month. In addition to contact with these two persons, at least 13 dogs were destroyed after being bitten by the animal.

TEXAS FARM BUREAU INSURANCE
For questions & appointments call 387-2270

Does fire insurance for a business include materials in current inventory?

Whether or not inventory is included depends on the wording which was used on the Fire Policy. A Fire Policy covers one of three broad categories. These categories are: (1) stock, (2) furniture, fixtures and/or machinery, and (3) contents. Stock is defined as all stocks of merchandise, including packaging materials. Furniture, fixtures and/or machinery include all contents not included as the building or stock. Contents includes all property included in the definition of stock and furniture, fixtures and/or machinery. Therefore, if the policy reads "stock" or "contents" the inventory would be covered in case of fire. . . "contents" being the most comprehensive coverage and the one most frequently used with Fire Policies.

Her Camelot styled cap, covered in Chantilly lace, held a five-tier tulle veil which was also edged in lace. She carried a delicate cloud of baby's breath with white roses and carnations. Miss Debbie Hard, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Miss Pat Garmon was bridesmaid. Attendants carried spring baskets filled with blue and white daisies.

Fred. C. Walker of Hobbs, New Mexico was best man to the bridegroom. Bill Mobley of Sonora was groomsman. Serving as ushers were Robbie Hard and Ricky Hard, brothers of the bride.

Allen Stewart and Greg Stewart were candlelighters. Mrs. Charlotte Wilson provided wedding music with Mrs. Dave Locklin, soloist.

A graduate of Sonora High School and Jean's College of Beauty in San Angelo, the bride is a hairdresser at a local shop. The bridegroom is an engineer at a local firm.

A reception was held in the fellowship room of the church following the ceremony. Serving in the houseparty were Mrs. Bill Mobley and Mrs. Glen Kemp. Ms. Bettye Stewart presided at the guest book.

Following a wedding trip to Del Rio, the couple will make their home in Sonora.

REHEARSAL DINNER

A rehearsal dinner, honoring the couple and their attendants, was held at the Methodist Church Fellowship Hall Friday evening. Hosting the dinner were Mmes. Dave Locklin, Glen Kemp and Bettye Stewart.

Awards went to Homemaking I students Maria Perez, garment most complimentary to girl; Alma Gonzales, garment best illustrating 1976 Spring styles; Janie Welch, best modeled garment, and Vicki Phillips, girl who

THAT VITAL SOMETHING

The trust of a child is a beautiful thing. Do you merit it?

Sure, you work hard every day to keep up payments on the nice, modern house where he has a room of his own — with enough toys in it to make two kids happy. You give him the best modern medical and dental care. You even started a special bank account for him — for the years when he will be going to college.

But — haven't you missed something? In your concern for his mental and physical well-being, haven't you overlooked that elusive, vital "something" called the soul?

Remember, man is neither all mind nor all body. He has a spiritual side, too!

'75 Human Rabies Disclosed

On August 15, 1975, a 14 year old Mexican-American girl was admitted to the Los Angeles County- University of Southern California Medical Center with mental confusion. The most prominent sign was hydrophobia; she gagged and choked when sipping water from a glass, but could drink with a straw. Besides gagging at the sight of water, she seemed to be afraid to wash her hands.

When examined, she was oriented, talkative, and had a fever of 38.8 degrees C. The only abnormal physical findings were abdominal pain in the left lower quadrant and tenderness in the left costovertebral angle. Neurologic examination was normal. A white blood cell count showed 15,500 cells per ml, with 88 percent polymorphonuclear leukocytes, 10 percent lymphocytes, and 2 percent monocytes. Urinalysis showed 5-10 white blood cells, many red blood cells, 3+ protein and 4+ bacteria.

For the 2 weeks prior to admission she had had lower back pain and dysuria, and for 5 days she had had fever and difficulty swallowing. Two days before admission she had complained of a burning sensation of the sole of her left foot, and the day before she was hospitalized, she had had auditory hallucination.

On August 16, the patient became confused, and deep tendon reflexes were noted to be absent. Over the next 24 hours, the patient's condition worsened, and loss of sensation to pin prick, hypoventilation, and flaccid paralysis developed in rapid succession. She underwent endotracheal intubation and was put on a respirator. An electroencephalogram showed diffuse slow waves with no focal lesions.

On August 19, 4 days after admission, a corneal touch preparation was negative for rabies antigen by the fluorescent antibody. (FRA) test. However, a skin biopsy from the posterior nuchal region was reported positive for rabies antigen in parafloccular neurons by FRA (test performed by Dr. Donald Blenden, University of Missouri). A serum specimen obtained on August 25 was positive by indirect fluorescent antibody test. Hypotension associated with vasomotor and autonomic instability developed, and isoproterenol infusion was required. The patient died on August 31 after her fourth cardiac arrest in 24 hours.

Mice inoculated intracerebrally with saliva obtained on August 19 died or exhibited paralysis by September 8, when they were killed; brain material was positive for rabies by FRA. The patient's brain was also FRA-positive on postmortem examination.

Although the girl and her parents were questioned repeatedly, they did not give a history of the patient's having been bitten or scratched. The family had lived in Mexico until December 1974 and had had 5 pet dogs. They reported that of the dogs, a puppy, seemed especially vicious in the late summer of 1974 and bit several relatives; it ran away in September. In November, the puppy's dam was inactive for 2 days, refusing food and water; then she died.

This is the second case of human rabies reported in the United States in 1975. The first case was in a 60-year-old farmer and part-time trapper from northwestern Minnesota who had been bitten by a stray cat. The case in the girl represents the rare occurrence of disease without a history of known exposure. The average incubation period for rabies is 20-60 days. However, in fewer than 1 percent of reported rabies cases in humans has the incubation periods been 1 year or more. In these cases the possibility of a more recent exposure could be ruled out.

Goodfellow Carnival

Thirty-five opportunities for fun will be available at the Second Annual Armed Forces Day Carnival to be held Saturday, May 15, at Goodfellow AFB. Everyone is invited to this carnival and all profits will go to local charities and to the base unofficial funds.

The carnival starts at 11 a.m. and continues until 7 p.m. At that time, a dance will begin and continue until midnight.

C. B. Assn. Reports

By Association Reporter

On April 15 a film entitled, "Where Seconds Count", was shown at the Memorial Building in Eldorado. With the CB Association hosting, special invitations were sent out to 150 CB operators. Those attending braved a severe storm to see the movie.

A discussion on how CB could be organized in our area of counties to support emergency situations, was carried out by members and guests. Sandwiches, cake, chips, coffee and soft drinks were served.

On April 24 and 25 members of the CB Association journeyed to Twin Buttes for two days of camping and fishing.

Some of the members provided tents and others had campers for the overnight stay. We had four boats for fishing and caught a sufficient number of fish for pan frying the first night. Forty members furnished additional food and shared in chuckwagon supplies with each other. The CB Association does not have any dues for members to pay, but with activities the group finds its treasury growing constantly. Sales and donations have also helped provide the needs of all on an equal basis.

The CB Association members gather together from Eldorado, Sonora, Ozona and Rocksprings. While sitting around the campfire members discussed the building of a pontoon boat for the enjoyment of all. The boat will be thirty feet long and eight feet wide, providing a long cabin enclosed area containing a portable CB, refrigeration and galley facilities for those wishing to remain inside on fishing trips. A San Angelo businessman has offered to provide the base-trailer for this all-in-one unit boat. A power plant will also be used for electric needs. Our once a month

NEW FOOD
In a hungry world, facing serious shortages, old foods are being replaced by new substitutes. One notable example is SOYBEAN.

Known to Orientals for centuries, and still a mainstay of their diet, the Soybean had never made it to the American table. Now, it is emerging as a prime source of protein, more nutritious than that in milk, meat and eggs. It is cheaper, too! Milk requires one acre of land to produce 40 lbs. of protein; Soybean crops would produce 10 times that amount, at less cost and less labor.

Soy based foods are becoming popular not only in health and diet stores, but also as staple products such as "burgers", salad oils, margarine and a variety of commercial foods. Experts foresee that soon, Soybean farming will be one of the most useful crops in this country.

FHA Installs New Officers

New officers of Future Homemakers were installed on May 4 in the Homemaking Department.

Preceding the candle lighting ceremony Margie Gutierrez, outgoing president, reminded members that the organization had its 30th birthday last year. She recalled some outstanding events and impressions of her 4 years in FHA in Sonora High School.

The traditional candle lighting ceremony was presented by the outgoing officers. Each officer installed her successor.

Irma San Miguel, new president, thanked members for the honor conferred on her and briefly mentioned some special plans for next year.

Following installation there was a tea honoring senior members of FHA and mothers of all members. Each senior member was presented with a charm. Margie Gutierrez who is the chapter sweetheart, was presented with a special charm.

New officers besides the president are Linda Castilleja, vice president; Lesa Gonzales, secretary; Susanna Noriega, treasurer; Carmen Lira, parliamentarian; Gloria Salazar, historian, and Mary Sue Galindo, game chairman.
