Credit Card Abuse Charges Filed Here

Two persons were charged in Justice of the Peace Mat Adams' court following their arrest in Ozona on charges of credit card abuse.

Three Charged With Theft

Three men were placed in Sutton County Jail Monday following the investigation into a theft that occurred sometime over the weekend at the construction site of the Lone Star Gas Plant. More than $1600 worth of tools were discovered missing Monday morning when construction workers returned to work.

Charged with theft in the incident are Billy Eugene Coats, Jimmy Dickey and Curtis Hardy, all of who list their addresses as San Angelo.

Sheriff Pryce Taylor, who investigated the incident, says all stolen items have been recovered.

The suspects, Clifford Ray Tuberville of California and Ronald E. Erskin of Arizona, were arrested following a report from a local service station and grocery store owner that two men fled his business while attempting to pay for gasoline with a major oil company credit card.

The incident occurred at 6:30 p.m., Sunday. Subjects were advised of their rights and bond was set at $2,500.

Paul Neluns Killed In Crash

Paul Neluns, 23, was pronounced dead at the scene by Peace Justice Mat Adams, following a one-vehicle accident on Ranch to Market Road 1312, west of Sonora. The accident occurred at 11 p.m., Saturday night.

Harold C. Miller Hired As Elementary Principal

Mr. Harold C. Miller, who has been elementary principal at Spring for the past six years, has been hired by Sonora Public Schools, to serve as principal of the Elementary School here.

He will fill the vacancy of Clay Cade, who resigned that position to go into another profession.

In addition to his six years in Spring, Mr. Miller was also assistant principal in Huntsville and was a teacher and coach in the Killeen Schools.

He received his bachelor of Science and Master of Education degrees from Sam Houston State and also has an administrative certificate from that university.

Married, and the father of a ten-year-old son and eight-year-old daughter, he has been active in such community affairs as Cub Scouts, Little League and civic clubs.

Miller and his family are members of the Methodist Church and plan to move to Sonora in mid-July.

Trustees Approve Bid For More Classrooms

The Sonora Independent School Board of Trustees met June 8 and received bids for cafeteria renovation and construction of another metal classroom building; considered promotion policies for the Junior High School; appointed a lunchroom representative, commodity representative, and textbook custodian; approved the Title I, guidance and summer recreational programs; employed teachers, and voted to purchase property.

Bids for renovation of the cafeteria were received from West Texas Coffee and Equipment and Angelo Refrigeration and Restaurant Supply. The lower bid, submitted by Angelo Refrigeration and Restaurant Supply, was approved. The renovation will include purchase of new equipment and minor remodeling.

Construction Begins On Bond Road

Construction was scheduled to begin Monday on a 5.4 mile section of R.M. 1691 (Bond Road) South of Sonora according to State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT) District Engineer D.R. Watson.

Allen Keller Company of Fredericksburg is the general contractor on the project, Joe W. Lane, Supervising Resident Engineer in Sonora, is in charge of construction for the department.

This road is heavily travelled by oilfield equipment. Due to limited funds available to the DHT for construction and the nature of this project, no detours will be provided for the public. All traffic will be carried through the construction. Because the contractor will have people and equipment working on the road, those travelling this area should drive with caution and obey warning signs and flagmen.

The project is being built at a cost of $204,332 and is due for completion by mid-October.

Due to the increase in enrollment, a new 6-classroom building is needed by the beginning of the 76-77 school year. Mr. Calvin Motl of San Angelo is constructing the new building and completion date has been set for September 1.

Promotion policies for the Junior High School were approved by the board. These are in line with the promotion policies that have been approved for the Elementary School.

In other business the board appointed the superintendent textbook custodian, lunchroom representative and commodity

Sonora Girl Injured

Three Sonora girls were involved in a car-motorcycle wreck June 8 with the driver of the motorcycle Paulette Quick, receiving extensive leg injuries. She was taken to a San Angelo hospital.

Traveling with Miss Quick was Terry Duckworth, who escaped injuries.

Driver of the car, Peggy Lynch, was turning onto Highway 277 from the IH10 access road and collided with the motorcycle traveling north on 277.

The 11.6 million cubic foot balloon carried a payload of 3,000 pounds and was afloat 14 hours before coming to rest in Sutton County. Flying at 115,000 feet, the balloon was being flown for Dr. J. Ormes, an experimenter for the Nuclear Guarded Space Flight Center in Maryland.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ.....

Miscellaneous Items Uncovered While Cleaning Off Desk

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on the Dry Devil's River this week checks over some of his un-used notes.

Dear Editor:

Some men I understand won't leave work in the afternoon till their desk is cleared off, some clean their desk off once a week, some once a month, some every spring. I have never been bound by such rigid rules. I clean mine off when it won't hold any more.

It reached that peak yesterday and here are a few items I picked up after they fell on the floor:

(1) It seems to me that while it might be asking too much of human nature to expect to have politicians who won't lie, it looks like some of the more notorious ones would learn to at least stop lying about their lying. It makes you wonder about a politician's intelligence when he looks into the TV camera and says "I never was in her apartment," only to have it come out that actually he was there twice a week for two years. It looks like Congress has to do either one of two things: straighten up, or ban investigative reporting.

(2) As Mark Twain said, some people will lie on credit when they could tell the truth for cash.

(3) I understand the big New York City University has closed down because it's broke. Congress ought to do something about that immediately. You start closing down public outfits because they're broke and what do you think will happen to Washington?

(4) According to a statistical firm, what a person earns from January 1 to May goes for taxes, and it's not until May 2 that he actually starts working for himself. It has taken us 200 years to go from No Taxation Without Representation to No Representation Without Taxation.

(5) Washington has a hard time learning. It has been denouncing Cuba for sending troops to Angola, when it ought to be sitting back grinning. If Cuba hasn't learned from us what it can cost a nation to send troops to a country half-way around the world, it ought to be her worry, not ours.

My desk is now cleaned off. I didn't know it was that color.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Crime Prevention: ...Who Needs It?

By Sgt. Sidney Lyle

Crime prevention: Who needs it? With crime of burglary, theft, and assault on the increase, we all need it. Crime prevention, like the medical field, finds it necessary to identify the disease in order to prescribe the remedy. So let's look at just one type of crime, burglary. Most people think of the burglar in terms of the professional criminal they observe on television.

Actually, the difference between the average burglar and his television counterpart is so great it would take an enormous imagination, and an act of congress just to associate the two in the same train of thought.

The average burglar is between the ages of twelve and eighteen years old (hardly the professional type). He is a below average student, or a dropout. His actions will usually cost the victim more financial loss due to vandalism than the value of the items taken, and he is seldom alone in the criminal act, and lives within six blocks of the victim.

Most of his residential victims are selected on the basis of one major category, that is working households. Unlike the commercial victim a residence is usually targeted for daylight crime. The reasons are numerous. People will leave their homes unlocked, because it is too inconvenient to unlock the door when they return, or they will leave the doors open so that their children can get in after school. Not only does this make the thief's work a snap, it further reinforces his belief that crime does indeed pay.

So with this approach, let's look at both sides of the problem, first of all, only 23 percent of the total burglaries are ever cleared with the arrest of the offender. Even in most cases where the offender is arrested, recovery of the stolen items are only partially achieved, and restitution becomes a laughing stock of the criminal justice system.

Many people who have never been burglarized will openly boast, "I don't have anything a burglar would want." That attitude is not only incorrect, but it also helps the thief. If we become careless in our efforts to maintain the basic security of our homes, we will likely become his next victim.

When we lock our homes with locks that work, encourage your neighbors to look after each others property, leave a light on at night, and become aware of criminal opportunity, we will have reduced the likelihood of becoming a burglary victim by 85 percent.

The fact is, only 15 percent of the thieves are really determined to get into your home, and if they want in that bad, the chances are you will not be able to keep them out. Fortunately most burglars are not that determined. They are looking for the easy opportunity, the one carefree habit that makes the criminal's job profitable. We must not permit carelessness to override good judgement. We are all responsible for preventing criminal activity. Crime prevention is not what someone else does. Crime prevention is what each citizen must do in order to preserve his sense of well being, and maintain the ownership of his personal property.

For a thief to commit a crime, two things must be present: desire and opportunity. There is nothing we can do about his desire to steal, but we all can do something about the opportunity for him to carry out that desire.

Crime prevention. Who needs it? With crime increasing eleven times faster than the population, you need it.

Warm Weather Signals Poisonous Snake Season

With warm weather and more opportunity for people to work and play outside, it pays to be aware of poisonous snakes.

Southwest Texans have several poisonous snakes in their environment and should be able to identify and recognize these potential hazards. There are certain steps which can be followed in reducing the threat of these reptiles.

The snakes most common in this area of the state include the western diamond rattlesnake, the broad-banded copperhead, and the (cottonmouth) water moccasin.

"The rattlesnake is the most common threat in South Texas. Understanding the environment in which he flourishes and knowing his habits is a good protective measure for residents of this area," said Clint Langford, Sutton County Extension Agent.

He said all the poisonous snakes in this region of the state share several common characteristics. Aside from his rattle, which may be lost by some natural calamity, or color, the rattler shares his head shape, facial pit, fang and eye type characteristics with both the copperhead and water moccasin.

"All these snakes are called pit vipers, and their venom is hemotoxic (working in the blood stream to break down cells, blood vessels and heart action)," Langford said. "Other similar characteristics include a head distinctly somewhat triangular, elliptical eye pupils (cat-eyes) and fangs which are hollow and moveable.

One mistake among Southwest Texas homeowners is how to keep poisonous snakes away from homes and other types of structures frequented by people. There are no chemical repellents or poisons that are practical for this purpose, according to Langford, but there are some suggested practices which are helpful.

He said these include removing trash piles, discarded lumber or roofing materials, rocks, wood piles and other items which would be attractive as hiding places for snakes.

Another practice is to keep weeds and grass cut short. Rats and mice on the premises should be controlled since they provide a food source for snakes.

All cracks, holes and openings of every type around the structures should be sealed with lumber, screen wire or other suitable materials. Snakes can enter nearly any small opening, from the ground up to four feet. Houses should be tightly underpinned if snakes are a problem.

What if someone is bitten? "There are snake bite first aid kits available commercially," the county agent said, "but if a person lives in an area where poisonous snakes are a problem, he or she should consult a local physician for treatment information."

In Scotland it was once believed that throwing salt into brewing liquor would keep witches from it.

How can I give a gift of a life insurance policy to my children without losing my annual gift tax exclusion?

You lose your $3,000 annual gift tax exclusion when a policy is written where restrictions are placed upon the donee's right to receive benefits or to exercise ownership... making the policy a gift of future interest. If a parent disposed of all rights to a policy by making it a gift to his three children: Minnie, Mary and Joe (all adults), "Share and Share Alike... Survivors or Survivor," he has given a gift of future interest. Joe can't borrow on his one-third of the policy without the written consent of his sisters... restricting his right to receive benefits and to exercise ownership. This problem can be avoided by writing three equal and separate policies... one for each of the children. An existing policy can be re-written, using the original date of issue... applying the same solution.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN — Our office recently hosted the 70th annual meeting of the National Association of Attorneys General, where attorneys general from more than 40 states and U.S. territories met to exchange interstate ideas on mutual concerns such as consumer protection, environmental control, and law enforcement.

The N.A.A.G., which functions under the aegis of the nonprofit Council of State Governments, meets in annual and mid-winter working sessions that create a climate for rapid, effective communication between attorneys general when states' rights authority becomes an issue of litigation.

In the San Antonio meeting, the theme of "Strengthening Law Enforcement Cooperation" was set in dialogues with officials of the U.S. Justice Department, the Environmental Protection Agency, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, the Federal Trade Commission, and other federal, state, and local agencies and officials.

Attorneys general, our top legal assistants, and guest participants from all branches of government heard addresses by U.S. Attorney General Edward H. Levi and Congress Member Barbara Jordan of Texas. Levi urged state-federal cooperation in developing a policy on computerized criminal histories to speed up criminal investigations; avoid unnecessary duplication of effort, and increase accuracy.

These and other resolutions such as the proposed model legislation related to receiving stolen goods that could have a direct effect on Texas consumers will be analyzed in future "Consumer Alert" columns.

For assistance with a consumer complaint, contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division or your county or district attorney.

Select Strawberries Wisely

Economy in shopping during strawberry season begins with knowing how to choose the best quality berry, especially for traditional shortcake. Even though prices are reasonable during berry season, select carefully and don't buy for size alone. Look for berries with full red color, bright luster, firm flesh, and the cap stem still attached. Berries should be dry and clean. Avoid berries with large uncolored areas or with large seedy areas indicating poor flavor and texture. A dull shrunken appearance or softness signifies overripeness or decay.

For economy of time, it's wise to have envelopes of Dream Whip whipped topping mix on hand so that it's freshly available. Prepare according to package directions and note that you can also use skim milk, low fat milk, or reconstituted nonfat dry milk instead of whole milk. Bake a batch of individual shortcakes with homemade goodness to go with those special strawberries and fresh-tasting whipped topping.

FRESH SHORTCAKES

- 1-3/4 cups unsifted cake flour
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind (optional)

Melted butter or margarine
1 envelope whipped topping mix
1 quart fresh strawberries, sliced and sweetened

Mix flour with sugar, baking powder, and salt. Cut in shortening. Combine milk and egg. Add to flour mixture with rind; stir until soft dough is formed. Place on lightly floured board and knead 20 times. Roll or pat 1/4-inch thick, and cut with floured 3-inch biscuit cutter. Place half the circles on ungreased baking sheet and brush with melted butter. Top with remaining circles; brush with butter. Bake at 425° for 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown.

Separate halves of shortcakes while still warm. Prepare whipped topping mix as directed on package. Fill and top shortcakes with strawberries and whipped topping, allowing about 1/3 cup strawberries and 1/4 cup whipped topping for each. Makes 6 shortcakes.

Schwenings Hold 29th Reunion

Sixty-four family members and eleven guests were present over the weekend when the descendants of the late Sophia and Fritz Schwening met at Camp Allison for reunion.

The Schwenings came to the United States from Germany in 1878 and their descendants have been holding a reunion for the past 29 years.

At 88 years of age, Alfred Schwening, Sr., the only living child of the Schwening couple, claimed the honor of being the oldest family member present. Mr. Schwening and his wife, Tot Schwening, were able to attend the reunion for the first time in several years.

Travelling the farthest to attend were Jan and Fred Van Schoubrouek of California. Mark Schwening, five-week-old son of Ann and Fred Schwening, was the youngest in attendance.

Curt Schwening, Jr., and Jean Schwening Campbell were elected to serve as officers for the coming year.

A Bishop Looks At Life

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop

Of the Episcopal Church PUTTING OUT FIRES

Recently a businessman who is a friend of mine took me through his factory. He had just installed a new sprinkler system which was guaranteed to prevent a destructive fire. He pointed out to me that whenever the temperature in any part of the factory reached a certain height the sprinklers would automatically go into action to protect his property.

The thought came to me as I remembered this visit that all of us need a spiritual counterpart of this fire-fighting device. We need a built-in system that will put out the fires of anger, or resentment, or prejudice before they have a chance to make headway in our souls.

Life is full of irritating situations, and difficult people, and unexpected emergencies. It is almost impossible to prevent the sudden rise of an ugly emotion; it happens before we know it. The important question is: What happens then? Either it gets out of hand and drives us to words and actions we regret, or we have a fire-fighting apparatus ready to take control at once.

There has always been a familiar bit of advice about counting ten before speaking in one of these tense situations. The Bible points to a deeper kind of solution through the habit of speaking to God before speaking to people. It assures us that the fire of His love is able to put out any earth-kindled-blaze—if only we let Him into our souls at once.

One of the great verses in Scripture reminds us: "He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city". (Proverbs 16:32)

Pecan Clinic To Be Held In Leakey

A problems clinic for pecan producers will be held on a farm near Leakey Thursday, June 17 at 1 p.m.

The half-day clinic will be held on the J.C. "Red" Wright farm and commercial producers, homeowners and others interested in pecan production are invited to attend.

"The program will center around informal discussions, and our purpose will be to discuss some of the more pressing problems facing the Southwest Texas pecan industry," said Zan Matthies of Eagle Pass.

The clinic will be sponsored by the Southwest Texas Agricultural Resources (STAR) Program Task Force on horticulture. Matthies is chairman of the task force.

God changes things

An empty spider web hangs suspended in a dry bush, a mere pattern of gray trembling in the breeze.

On a Sunday morning, people from many walks of life, carrying a myriad of joys and burdens, enter churches to worship.

Dew falls and the sun rises. God moves in the lives of His people.

Clothed now in dew, the once drab spider web becomes a chandelier of crystal rainbows—royal purples, velvet violets, fiery reds, some flecked with brightest gold.

People emerge from our churches, apparently unchanged, yet—different. What is the new meaning in their lives? What the deeper understanding? How has peace and confidence been renewed? A mystery? Perhaps! But not beyond experience.

Won't you join us in church this Sunday? Together, we will learn from the God who changes things.

The POWER of PRINT in AMERICAN HISTORY

NEWSPAPERS AND PUBLIC OPINION

This article is adapted from a program of historical monographs created by the St. Regis Paper Company in an effort to rededicate our heritage and renew our pride in our country's achievements.

The first American newspaper, Publick Occurrences Both Foreign and Domestic, published in Boston in 1690 lasted just one issue. It was immediately suppressed by Royalist officials, offended by its inclusion of gossip about the French King. That issue, however, set three enduring American journalistic traditions: it met the hunger for news, it added sensational detail and it got into trouble.

Another paper was in trouble in 1733. John Peter Zenger's New York Weekly Journal took on the tyrannical Royal governor. Jailed and tried for libel and sedition, Zenger was acquitted when his lawyer declared: "The question before the Court... is the cause of liberty, the liberty of... speaking and writing Truth." Freedom of the press had won its first battle.

After the Revolution, advancing technology brought great changes, including the penny dailies. They needed larger circulation, which led to crime reporting, humorous features and the first newsboys. They also gave the people realistic news, exposed abuses of power, treated local and human interest news seriously and helped ameliorate social ills.

The Civil War supplied the first long-running story covered directly and intimately by American newspapers, with full reporting from the battlefields. The war stimulated new technology. Communications were speeded by the steamship, the railroad and the telegraph. New machinery made large newspaper runs possible.

With the approach of the 20th century came yellow journalism named for the first color comics, the "Yellow Kid." The greatest news-maker of the time was William Randolph Hearst who manufactured the war fever that led to the Spanish-American War. Bad news from Cuba sold papers and Hearst made sure he got it.

In the modern era, the wire services, products of electronic technology, blossomed. They provided instantaneous universal tidings and proved standardizing influences on the news.

Today, at its highest level, the press stands as a living bulwark of our democratic institutions—and a continuing witness to the pervasive power of print.

Softball Scores

In Monday's slow pitch softball games Dowell took a surprising win over Brittain's team with a score of 25-15. J.C. Chandler was the winning pitcher. The Independents won over Dresser Atlas with a score of 12-11. Ralph Crowover was the winning pitcher.

Tuesday's action saw the Misfits beat the Bushwackers' team 28-9. The late game Tuesday was played by Thompson's Texaco and H.N.G. Oil with a shutout pitched by Bill Thompson. The final score was 10-0.

Hooper Trucking and Bible Welders played the first game Wednesday with Don Bible pitching for the winning team. Final score was 15-9. Amoco played H.N.G. Propane in the second game. H.N.G. won that game by a 16-15 edge. George Kellogg was the winning pitcher.

Westex and H.N.G. Propane played the first game on Thursday with H.N.G. victorious by a score of 25-22. Dowell defeated Hooper Trucking in the second game by a score of 11-9.

"Paths to the Presidency"

If the political predictions that have now concurred in certainty that Jimmy Carter will be the Democratic nominee for President are upheld, as they appear likely to be, we will have seen an interesting phenomenon. For the first time since the Civil War and the second time since the Constitution, a man from the deep South may be elected President. Virginia has provided five Presidents, and Texas, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Missouri have each provided one, but the only President that the deep South has produced was Zachary Taylor of Louisiana who held office only one year. Even though most were among the earliest states in the Union, the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Florida and Arkansas have never provided a President. Georgia might now do so.

The fact that Jimmy Carter, who in no way attempted to conceal or sever his southern roots has won popular support in primaries broadly enough to gain him a major party nomination suggests that much of the separation so long felt by the deep Southern states has passed. The legacy of slavery and segregation has been largely set behind; an era of new growth in economic well-being and civil rights to be shared by all seems likelier now than might have seemed possible in the 60's.

No other section of the country felt so discriminated against by the rest of the country as did the deep South, but the fact that a southerner could win such broad support in other states implies that the old prejudices against the South, like many of the former prejudices in the South, are fairly well dead.

One of the things that Mr. Carter's opponents frequently did not understand about his appeal was that it rested partly on his espousal of values that the South has long cherished: active religious faith, the values of home and family, a sense of being part of a particular geographical region and belonging to it and to its soil. Mr. Carter showed, as well, that through a process of political primaries, a person who has very few ties with the traditional political forces and political establishment figures can, with the devoted help of citizens with no experience in politics, win a nomination for the nation's highest office. Some years ago Ronald Reagan made his move to become Governor of our largest state without the backing of the political establishment or party leaders.

I remember being in England in 1960 when John Kennedy won the Presidency, and I observed that British commentators recognized that a young man like Kennedy was, in America, able to win our highest office without simply proceeding up the rungs of political ladder in the usual way. It would not have been possible in England or in European countries with the parliamentary system. It is possible in America. It is perhaps useful to remember in this bicentennial year that, although not easy, paths to highest office are probably more open to a wide number of our citizens than is the case in most of the countries of the world, even though most of them are much smaller. Paths may not be easy but they are present and open to people from within or without the political structure. And to people in all parts of the land.

People once believed that salamanders were unaffected by fire and could quench it by the chill of their bodies.

Girl Scouts Attend Camp

Sonora and Eldorado girl scouts attended four days of day camp June 1-5 at the Alice Jones Ranch. 37 girls and seven leaders attended.

During the outing, girls set up camp, made name tags, and a nature museum, hiked, learned new songs and games and cooked. Joe Bill Averitt spoke to the girls on soil conservation.

Mrs. Jones hosted the girls to a swimming trip on Friday and following this the girls began preparations for a program and refreshments for the entertainment of their parents.

On Saturday the girls cooked breakfast and prepared to leave ahead of the rain that had begun to fall. Watermelons were furnished the girls by Mrs. Jones.

Leaders working at camp were Kathy Payne, Stephanie Short, Pat Gentry, Kay Patton, Lou DuBose and Wanda Halford.

The scouts also express their thanks to Bill Gentry and J.B. Halford for their help.

Red Cross Asking For $500 From Sutton County Donors

Unprecedented major disaster expenditures have caused a financial crisis for the American Red Cross, the organization announced recently.

Expenditures or commitments to aid victims of natural disasters are approaching $33 million and resources are currently inadequate to support an expenditure of this magnitude.

The American National Red Cross has launched a $10,000,000 emergency disaster fund drive. The fair share quota for Sutton County Chapter in Sutton County is $500.00.

This disaster relief operation comes at a time when disaster expenditures exceeding $20 million for the 75-76 year are now depleted as Red Cross is now involved in relief operations following floods and tornadoes in Texas, Mississippi, Alaska, Oklahoma and Idaho. The Idaho Dam Break affected over 3,000 families in some 13 cities. This disaster may cost Red Cross over $2 million. In Tulsa, Oklahoma some 1000 families will need Red Cross help as a result of the floods there.

Red Cross disaster help includes, shelter, food, medical care, clothing, building repair and occupational supplies and equipment.

All Red Cross disaster relief is an outright gift. The Red Cross does not make disaster loans. It is a gift of the American people through the American Red Cross. Cash contributions are now being accepted by the American Red Cross through Paul (Preacher) White, local representative at 510 Wardlaw, or Roberta Garrett at First National Bank.

Now Is Time For Webworm Control

Second generation fall webworms are beginning to spread on pecan trees in the Southwest Texas area, and now is the time to relieve some of the devastating effects of these insects on pecans.

"There are two early measures which can be taken to relieve the infestations of fall webworm in pecans in this area," said Clint Langford, Sutton County Extension Agent. "If homeowners will prune out and destroy these early generations near the ground or spray with an approved insecticide, they can reduce the damage later in the season."

He said most residents of this area are aware of the devastating effects webworms can cause on pecan trees. Besides hurting tree appearance, the webworms also cut down on the vitality of home-owned trees.

Dr. J.W. Stewart, an entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Uvalde said the webs first appear soon after pecan trees put on foliage in the spring and progressively spread throughout the season.

"The webs are made by caterpillars of a moth which we know as the fall webworm," Dr. Stewart said. "The insect overwinters as a pupa inside a net-like cocoon, and these cocoons are formed in leaf trash around the base of the tree or hidden in bark crevices on the trunk."

"White moths emerge from these cocoons during the spring months in this area and fly to the foliage of pecans, cottonwood,

Birthday Cake For America's Birthplace

The largest birthday cake ever recorded is to be the centerpiece of Philadelphia's Bicentennial celebration during the weekend of July 3rd and 4th.

A gift to America's birthplace from Kitchens of Sara Lee, the cake will rise five stories to a giant American eagle from a base 42 feet wide. If arranged in a rectangle, its surface would cover a regulation basketball court. Its volume, including a specially designed support system, is equivalent to about one million Sara Lee chocolate cakes.

Key feature of the massive birthday cake, as shown in the scale model above, is its eight octagonal tiers which will be decorated with highlights of American history. Starting with the Declaration of Independence and ending with the Moon Walk, these 120 scenes are to be depicted in icings and confections handmade by the pastry chefs of Sara Lee.

The cake will be displayed in Philadelphia's Memorial Hall, which was built for the nation's 100th birthday in 1876.

The first flags adopted by our Colonial forefathers were symbolic of their struggles with the wilderness of a new land, according to the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve. Beavers, pine trees, rattlesnakes, anchors, and various like insignia with mottoes such as "Hope," "Liberty," "Appeal to Heaven" or "Don't Tread on Me" were affixed to the different banners of Colonial America.

Lash seven quart size cans in a circle. Pad the circle and cover with a piece of carpet for a different kind of footstool.

State Estimates Layoffs Of 600 Persons In Sept.

Some 600 jobs in the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will probably be eliminated by September 1, 1976, according to Engineer-Director Luther DeBerry.

The new cutbacks follow earlier layoffs last fall in the department's efforts to shape leveling-off revenues to meet rising costs of highway work. Since September 1, 1975, some 2,250 jobs have been eliminated.

"Our dollar simply buys significantly less actual highway construction and maintenance than it did a few years back. That means fewer projects and fewer projects mean fewer employees," DeBerry said.

The number of department employees has been declining since a 1972 peak when many Interstate Highway construction projects were underway. For some time, not all vacancies created by retirements or resignations were filled. Last year, however, layoffs were required to balance obligations against revenues.

Statewide, the department's work force has dropped from about 20,000 persons in 1972 to 14,850 by September 1, 1976. DeBerry said it may be necessary to eliminate 800 other jobs next year unless additional revenues are made available to offset inflation.

If this cutback is necessary, jobs will be trimmed across the range of department positions, including professional as well as non-professional workers.

Funds for highway development are derived chiefly from state and federal taxes associated with the use of a motor vehicle. During the 1960s, the growth in vehicle ownership and in motor fuel tax collections was sufficient to offset effects of inflation.

In the early 1970's however, inflation reached double-digit proportions, while revenues available to the department continued at about the same rates and, later, the rate of growth began to decline.

Meanwhile, costs soared for highway construction and maintenance. It took $3.22 in 1974, for example, to accomplish the same highway construction that cost $1 in 1964.

"It is ironic that we must reduce our forces, laying off experienced people when a huge backlog of work remains to be done," DeBerry said. "However, resources now and in the future simply will not be adequate to meet other than the highest priority needs."

A statewide study now is being conducted by the department and a private consulting firm to determine needs and priorities.

In addition to personnel cutbacks, the department has instituted a wide range of cost-cutting moves.

DeBerry said the inflation revenues squeeze is not peculiar to Texas; many other states are experiencing the same difficulties.
