Workmen are busy trying to complete remodeling at the Junior High School building before the first day of classes. When work is complete, three new rooms will be available for classes in the building. Two of the rooms are what was originally the cafeteria of the old building and has in the past few years, been used as store rooms. These rooms will be used for art students and science students. The textbook room on the second floor has been renovated and will be used for a special education classroom. Textbooks will be stored in a basement room. The old rock building, that has almost become a landmark in the county, was built in 1904. In August of 1913, $18,000 in bonds were issued for the south extension to the building.

Baytown Man Injured In Auto Accident

Two one-car accidents occurred in the county July 19 sending one man to the local hospital with injuries.

At 4 a.m., two Baytown men were traveling east on IH10 17.1 miles east of Sonora when the driver, Lionel Joseph Thompson, ran off the road losing control of the auto and hit an embankment.

A passenger in the car, Terry Glenn Alfred, who was also the owner of the vehicle, was taken to Hudspeth Hospital by local ambulance service.

A Houston man, Gerrard Wyld, who was traveling east of IH10 escaped injury when he lost control of his vehicle causing the U-Haul trailer he was towing to overturn.

The incident occurred at 7:30 a.m., 5.9 miles west of Sonora.

D.P.S. patrolman, Archie Crenwelge, was the investigating officer at both accidents.

Nance Free On Bond

Cleveland Nance, Jr., is free on bond after being charged July 20 with evading police officers, evading arrest, aggravated assault on a police officer and four traffic violations.

Charges were brought against Nance after Patrolman Joe Fincher and Game Warden Rodney Knight observed him striking a car at the intersection of Highways 277 and 290. After leading officers on a chase through various sections of town, Nance abandoned his vehicle in the east part of town. Bond was set for Nance before Justice of the Peace Mat Adams.

Sonora Lad Bitten By Stray Cat

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jones, of 902 Tayloe were advised by the neighbor that the incident had occurred and police were summoned to apprehend the animal. It was then taken to the local vet clinic where the head was sent to Austin for observation.

THE VIEWS OF OTHERS ARE IMPORTANT TO MAKING BALANCED POLICIES

Our government was designed to operate with a series of checks and balances. The balances were to come from the stability resulting from powers shared among the executive, legislative and judicial branches. The balancing procedures provided for by the Constitution must also find some means of expression through good legislation, which needs to find an equilibrium between opposing and often contentious forces.

Washington now has countless groups that urge their special viewpoint on legislation. It is not surprising that these groups should exist, since the demands on legislators are so varied that they cannot possibly keep up with, for example, all of the 18,000 bills that have been introduced in the 94th Congress. Nonetheless, some of these groups would be more persuasive if they would try harder to understand the views of others.

When I was at the Democratic National Convention last week, a young man came up to me and asked me to support legislation to protect against the inhumane treatment of baby seals. I assured him that I favored such legislation and would indeed support it. He then proceeded through several other instances of inhumane treatment toward animals and of proposed legislative solutions, and came to the question of the killing of coyotes. At that point, I asked him whether he had ever seen, as I have, young lambs bleeding to death after a pack of coyotes has passed through, savaged them, taking blood from their throats, and leaving them to die slowly. I suggested the use of a sodium cyanide gun, which kills in three seconds, is far more humane to the coyote than the coyote is to the lamb. Then I pointed out that if coyotes were running loose in the streets of New York, removing meat from the supermarkets and destroying the livelihoods of people there, that he might wish to rethink his attitude toward these predators. He was astonished, and first suggested that perhaps the government could provide special fences to fence out coyotes, demonstrating a sense of geography more attuned to Manhattan than to the vast expanses of sheep ranches in Texas. I pointed both to the difficulty of fencing such areas and the unworkability of fencing coyotes. He asked sincerely, if naively, whether the coyotes could somehow be made to practice some kind of birth control. Obviously, he did not understand the problem.

My point is not to attack environmentalists nor to choose easy targets for ridicule. The environmental movement over the past 15 years has awakened Americans to a great deal that is important in our national heritage and has encouraged us to preserve landscape and buildings that might otherwise have been lost forever. My point is, rather, that organized groups that attempt to guide legislators and inform them about their particular concerns would be more effective if they sought both to understand in advance the views of others who might disagree with them, and if they would show respect toward the people whom the legislator is in government to represent. The American nation has heard many dissident voices and has seen confrontations and "demands" from many quarters. But the significant ability of our nation to balance various demands and to blend many cultures and ideas is no less important today than in earlier times, and those who wish most effectively to influence public policy would do well to recognize that tradition and to act with a goal of balanced policy.

Homemaking Hints & Tips For Safety & Economy

CLOG-FREE DRAINS

Clogged drains are the most common plumbing problem we face. But happily they are also the easiest to prevent!

Clogs are formed by materials like grease, food scraps, hair and even soap scum that collect at the base of the U-shaped pipe under the sink.

Here are some tips to keep your drains running freely:

- * Don't put fat, grease or oil down the kitchen drain.
- * Use a sink strainer to trap food particles.
- * Don't flush coffee grounds down drains.
- * Don't dispose of hair from combs and brushes in the sink.

Once you become aware of how to prevent clogs, it's easy to make sure your drains remain clear.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Our Consumer Protection and Insurance, Banking, and Securities Divisions, along with the State Securities Board, which our office represents in litigation, have moved successfully to stop fraudulent Schedule "D" offerings to potential investors in oil and gas well drilling ventures in Texas.

But there are other ways in which inexperienced investors may be approached by unscrupulous promoters offering a chance to "make a killing" by investing in drilling ventures.

One area which some former fraudulent Schedule "D" offerors are reportedly moving into is the "private offering" of an investment opportunity, since a "private offering" does not have to be registered with either the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission or the State Securities Board.

A legitimate private offering must meet certain criteria: there must be no public solicitation of investors; there must be no more than 35 investors; there must be some "relationship of trust" between the investors and the offeror (for example, all might be relatives or friends of the offeror); and generally the investors must be relatively sophisticated about investment matters.

Our office is studying reports that some former Schedule "D" operators are misusing the "private offering" exemption in much the same way Schedule "D" was being misused.

Another method by which some unscrupulous former Schedule "D" operators are reported to be continuing their efforts to obtain money from investors is the federal oil and gas lease lottery business, or the "simultaneous offering" as it is officially designated.

The federal government each month offers oil and gas leases on government-owned land through a lottery system operating in 11 cities (none of which is in Texas). Participants pay a $10 fee and agree if they win to pay the first year's rent of 50 cents per acre on the lease within 15 days after the lottery. Lottery winners hope to sell drilling rights on the land to oil and gas companies and reap a percentage of any production.

There are many reputable individuals and service companies that assist persons wishing to participate in these lotteries. Their services usually include helping the layman decide which lease lottery is a likely prospect, filing for that lottery on behalf of the investor, arranging to resell the lease if the investor later desires, and sometimes paying the first year's rent within the 15 days for lottery winners. For their services, these promoters and service companies get a fee that may range from $20 up to several thousands of dollars.

Our attorneys point out that unscrupulous promoters and service companies may recommend leases that have little prospect of oil and gas production, they may try to purchase a winner's lease rights for less than they are worth, and some companies have been charged with mail fraud in connection with the lotteries.

They also caution that even when you deal with reputable promoters your chance of winning a lottery is very small, and there's a good possibility that if you win, you could get stuck with a lease on land that is worthless for drilling.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ.....

He Figures Out A Solution For Delegates Who Mill Around

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterwed ranch on the Dry Devil's River watched the Democratic National Convention on television, his letter this week indicates.

Dear Editor:

It's too late to do anything about it now, but during the Democratic National Convention the main problem it seemed to me, since the platform and the nominee were settled on ahead of time, was getting the delegates to stay in their seats and be quiet.

The TV cameras kept showing the delegates milling around and talking while the chairman pounded his gavel. Part of this I suppose was due to the upbringing of the delegates, most of whom I'm convinced had parents who kept telling them to be quiet when they were children and couldn't make it stick. I kept expecting a voice on TV to come on saying "Do not adjust your seat, this is a political convention you're watching."

Some of the inattention of course was caused by the speeches, some of which were so dull you knew for sure the speakers had written them themselves.

Regardless of the difficulty, the problem ought to be solved. Such a spectacle going out on the air could damage a party's image, and would have if it had gone into more homes, which it would have if there hadn't been regular programs on other channels.

Therefore I have rolled up my sleeves and tackled the problem. Oh I know people will say it can't be solved, that it's like trying to solve inflation, when any thinking person knows the way to stop inflation is to make other people reduce their prices and leave mine alone.

But I have the solution. It came to me during the first two hours of the convention.

The answer to the milling around delegate problem is seat belts. Lock 'em in. When the chairman's gavel falls, it hits a button that makes every un-fastened belt in the hall shriek with that awful buzzing sound car owners know about. With two-thirds of the belts buzzing away, the noise will be so fierce and ear-splitting the delegates will sit down and buckle up to keep from going insane. Once buckled up, the release button for all is maintained at the chairman's podium. First-aid people will have to be stationed around the hall to take care of over-enthusiastic delegates who try to leap to their feet and pull their seats up by the roots. This won't cost much. There are thousands of unused seat belts available in cars all around the country.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

You'll probably sleep a lot better, some psychologists say, if you furnish your bedroom in soothing colors. Traditional blues and greens are still used, but earth tones, such as rust and brown, may prove just as relaxing.

WEATHER MEDICINE
In ancient times people believed that ill health was brought on by adverse weather. Even after Pasteur proved his germ theory, the idea persisted. In fact, today, this ancient notion is being re-examined.

A team of doctors, geologists and meteorologists, are collaborating to find answers to the phenomena of weather over disease. It has been proven that drops in barometric pressure and electrical agitation bring on complications to diseases. How? and Why? is not known; but a new science [Biometeorological Medicine] is being developed to study the problem.

Curiously, this new branch of Medicine was conceived over a thousand years ago; when Hippocrates suggested, "Doctors should have full knowledge of the weather, so as to practice the art of Medicine with success."

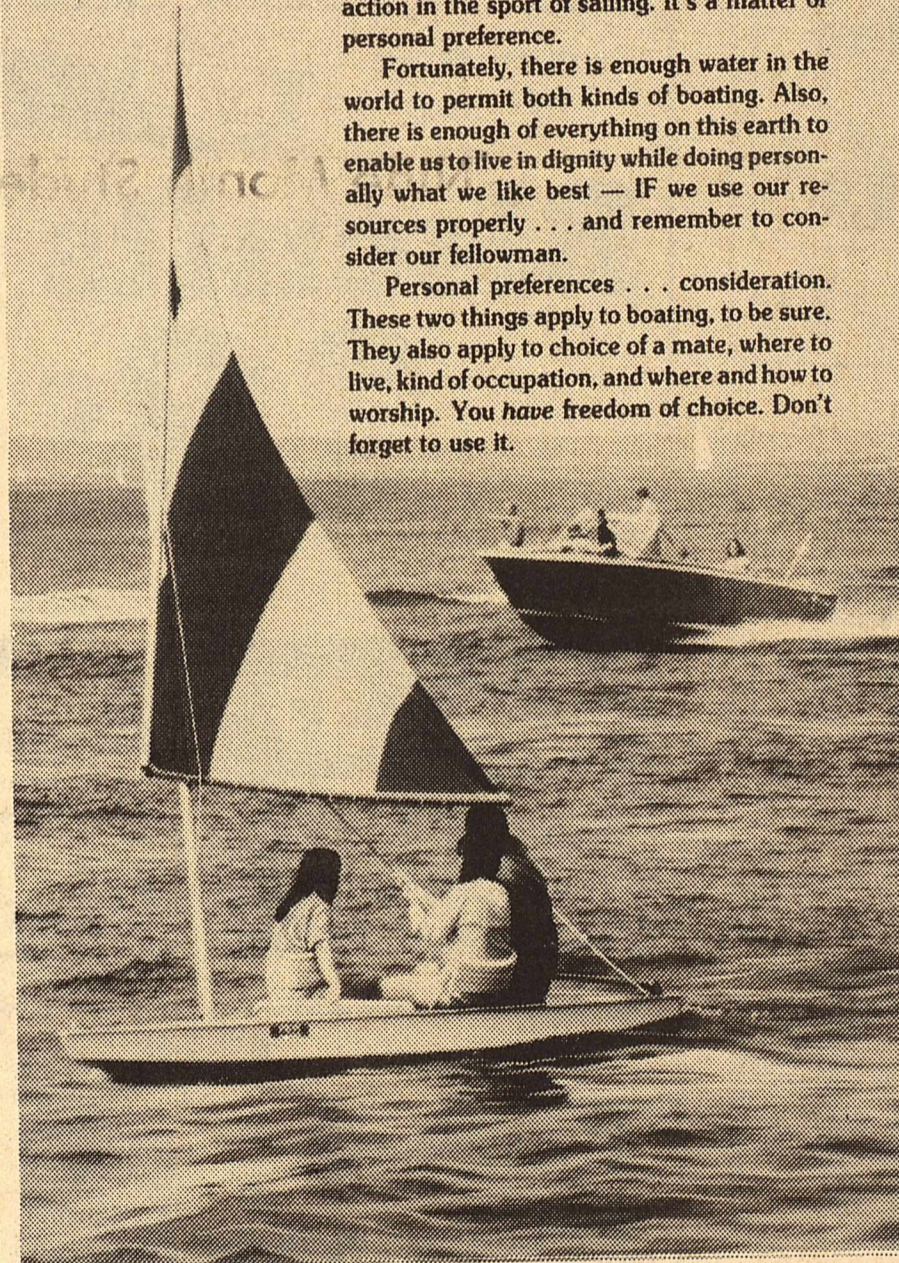

Rain or shine, you can expect prompt, dependable, and up-to-date medical supply service at BRONCO PHARMACY, 116 N.W. Concho. PHONE: 387-3534

Preferences

People who are sailboat buffs look down their noses at powerboats. Conversely, those who prefer powerboats think there is too little action in the sport of sailing. It's a matter of personal preference.

Fortunately, there is enough water in the world to permit both kinds of boating. Also, there is enough of everything on this earth to enable us to live in dignity while doing personally what we like best -- IF we use our resources properly . . . and remember to consider our fellowman.

Personal preferences . . . consideration. These two things apply to boating, to be sure. They also apply to choice of a mate, where to live, kind of occupation, and where and how to worship. You have freedom of choice. Don't forget to use it.

McClellands Associated With Local Insurance Firm

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McClelland, formerly of Littleton, Colorado, have moved to Sonora where they will be associated with James Hunt in his insurance agency. Also moving with the McClellands is their daughter, Carra Lee.

McClelland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McClelland, is a 1962 graduate of Sonora High School and holds a B.B.A. degree from North Texas State University in insurance. He has served with the United States Army in Viet Nam and has been senior casualty underwriter, casualty supervisor and office manager of various insurance companies in the Denver, Colorado area.

Mrs. McClelland and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Von Struve, III, are native to the Lubbock area but have lived in Littleton since 1961 where Mr. Von Struve is an aeronautical engineer. Mrs. McClelland is a graduate of the University of Denver, where she majored in fine art. She has had extensive experience in the insurance profession.

Social Security Representative Sets Visit

He will be at the County Courthouse on Thursday, August 19 from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time. Persons who are unable to meet with him are encouraged to call the office in San Angelo. Residents of Sonora may call toll free by dialing "Operator" and asking for "Enterprise 2058."

Police Reports

On July 21 police investigated a report from Herbert Jones of 902 Tayloe Street, who reported that his son had been bitten by a sick cat. The cat was picked up and left at the local animal hospital.

Mike Stallard of the local ambulance service and Officers Jones and Kemp answered a call to 602 Rock Avenue July 24. Upon arrival officers found Ms. Myrtle Smith, 72 of Abilene, unconscious. Witnesses stated the victim had suffered a heart attack. Ms. Smith was transferred to the local hospital where she was later pronounced dead.

A report at 2:30 a.m., July 25 alerted police that a car had struck a utility pole on Rock Avenue. The car, a 1975 Chevrolet, was driven by David Sentena who suffered minor cuts in the accident. He was taken to Hudspeth Hospital and later released into the custody of officers.

At 6:15 p.m., on that day police broke up a fight between two youths. Both were released. The affray occurred at Chestnut and Water Streets.

Miss Tammy Van Hoozer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Van Hoozer, was a recent participant in the District 13 4-H Dress Revue in San Antonio. Also representing Sutton County was Miss Charla Hudnall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dell Beckham.

The power mower has become a part of the Texas family scene, but it can be as dangerous as a coiled rattlesnake.

There's no refuting the labor-saving qualities of mowers, but they should be handled as carefully as you would a rattler, says Dudley J. Johnson, chief of the Consumer Health Bureau of the Texas Department of Health Resources.

Cuts, bruises, and puncture wounds are typical of the injuries which the machines can inflict. The gasoline used to power these mowers causes fire which have killed people and burned down the home of others, says Johnson.

More than 50,000 adults and children are treated each year in hospital emergency rooms for injuries associated with power lawn mowers, says the U S Consumer Product Safety Commission. These are the more serious injuries requiring medical treatment. There is no clear picture on the number of minor injuries treated at home.

Accidents can happen in many ways. *Nancy was mowing long, wet grass when it became clogged in the discharge opening. When she tried to dislodge it, the whirling blades struck her fingers. One finger was amputated.

*Jim's father was mowing grass in a hickory tree grove. A nut struck by the blade ricocheted off the house and hit Jim, blinding the right eye.

*A man using a riding mower on a steep backyard terrace started a sideways turn. The machine rolled over. His left leg was so severely cut it had to be amputated.

*Mr. Smith was mowing a lot with a garden tractor when he backed up, striking his son who had been playing behind the tractor. The boy's left foot was amputated.

Do any of these accidents sound familiar?

There are accident patterns which are repeated time after time. These patterns are:

1. Contact with the rotating blade. This often occurs when the victim is clearing the discharge chute; when the victim adjusts the machine without turning it off and waiting for the blade to stop; or when the machine hits an obstacle such as a rock and the victim's foot slips under the housing.

2. Propelled objects -- Wire, rocks and twigs can be shot out either through the discharge chute or from under the housing. Many victims in these cases are bystanders.

3. Overturning -- Riding mowers used on steep slopes are involved in this type of accident most often.

4. Mower running over the victim -- This often occurs when a riding mower or garden tractor is being driven in reverse. Push type mowers are dangerous when the operator pulls the mower backward over the foot, or slips going uphill, allowing the mower to roll backward.

Experts at the Texas Department of Health Resources say that reel lawn mowers are safer than rotary lawn mowers, primarily because their blades move more slowly than those of rotary mowers. A common accident pattern with reel lawn mowers, however, is attempting to release the reel when it is jammed by a twig or other object without first shutting off the engine.

Since reel lawn mowers cannot cut tall grass efficiently, most consumers prefer rotary mowers. Almost 90 percent of all power lawn mowers manufactured each are rotary mowers. Their blades can reach speeds of 200 miles per hour and can hurl objects 50 feet or more, unless the mowers are equipped with chute deflectors. If your mower has such a deflector, don't take it off and thereby invite an accident to happen.

Gasoline should be kept in a well-ventilated area (away from your living quarters) and in tightly capped safety cans. Don't refuel a mower while it is running or while the engine is hot. And, never refuel a mower indoors because the unseen vapors may be ignited by a spark. Also, cigarettes and gasoline don't mix.

One other caution -- never start your motor or work on it with the motor running in an enclosed area where carbon monoxide can collect.

The Department of Health Resources wants you to have a pretty lawn this summer, but above all safety comes first.

Mrs. James Hunt Appointed Head of Volunteer Program

Mrs. Dolph Briscoe has appointed Mrs. James Hunt of Sonora county chairperson for the First Lady's Volunteer Program, Office of the Governor. Mrs. Hunt will be responsible for coordinating volunteer activities in Sutton County working with Mrs. John Cargile, regional coordinator, and Mrs. Sharall Grissen, special assistant of San Angelo who will coordinate volunteer activities in the 13-county area covered by the Concho Valley Council of Governments.

The Frist Lady's Volunteer Program was created by an Executive Order signed by Governor Briscoe in October, 1974. The order calls for the office to act as a liaison between the Governor's Office and other state agencies in seeking ways to develop and expand volunteerism and to make opportunities known to all communities.

The program is active in volunteer-support areas of adult basic education, special education, juvenile delinquency prevention, projects for the aged and others where volunteers can contribute to the community good.

AMERICA The Bountiful

Little Known Facts
About America's Greatness

America's great size has allowed her to be very generous with land. In colonial times even poor servants could rely on there being enough room on the land to start a farm.

America's greatly ingenious architects, such as William Jenny who originated the curtain wall style of architecture, helped bring about the skyscrapers that create room for large populations.

ICA Ranks Taxes, Land Use On Agenda For Coming Year

Delegates at the second annual state convention of the Independent Cattlemen's Association have ranked relief from rising property taxes and defeat of state and federal land use legislation high on the Association's agenda for the coming year.

Calls for action on taxes and land use were among several policy resolutions adopted at the four-day convention of ICA members from over the state.

The delegates also re-elected Goliad rancher T.A. Cunningham as president. Other officers elected were Dr. C.E. Payne, a Bryan veterinarian, first vice president; Roy Wheeler, Pleasanton, second vice president; John Nelson, Hempstead, secretary; and Bill Whitehead, Sonora, treasurer.

The tax resolution said that farm and ranch lands have reached their limits in property tax burdens and called on all taxing authorities to seek other sources of revenue. The resolution also called on ICA to seek coverage for "all family farms and ranches" of state constitutional provisions for assessment of rural lands at agricultural productivity value.

The land use resolution said the ICA "rejects all contentions that state government land use planning is an acceptable option" to federal land use threats which ICA has fought since its beginning. Keynote speakers during the convention included Sen John Tower, U.S. Rep. Bob Krueger, U.S. Rep. Alan Steelman, former Gov. Allan Shivers, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Texas Animal Health Commission chairman Norman Moser of DeKalb, Sen. Bill Patman of Ganado, Rep. Joe Hubenak of Rosenberg, and Rep. Susan Gurley McBee of Del Rio.
