

School Board Renews Contracts

All elementary, junior high and high school teachers' contracts were renewed by the Sonora Independent School District board of trustees at the regular monthly meeting last night.

Trustees also set the election date of April 1 for Place 1 and Place 2...with absentee voting at the school administration office and election day voting at the court house.

Don Lawson has filed for re-election in Place 1 and Lin Hicks currently serves in Place 2. Hicks has not filed for re-election.

Trustees also named Jerry Johnson as election judge, Wanda Van Hoozer as alternate judge, Vivian Mears and Lana Smith as absentee clerks and election clerks Gloria Lopez, Roberta Garrett, Eva Perez and Liz Hemphill.

Trustees also heard a report from Houston architect Augie Saxe concerning delays in the vocational training building. Saxe explained that the contractor, J.D. Burk of San Angelo, had offered several reasons for the delays...including difficulty in finding masons for the concrete block tile construction, weather, suppliers and architect specifications.

Saxe told the trustees that it is evident the contractor is not moving as quickly as might be expected and that he planned to meet with Burk today for the second time in the past three weeks.

Trustees reviewed the budget and received a report from superintendent Joe Andrews showing school enrollment at 1,157, down six from January with 589 in elementary, 283 in junior high and 285 in high school.

A contract was approved with Teo Castro for spraying of the 75 school owned pecan trees in February and May for .

Trustees also accepted a bid from Humphrey Pest Control of San Angelo for treatment quarterly to school owned apartments at the rate of $12 per quarter for all six units.

Andrews reported to the board that Coach Bill Bundy had received an invitation from Ozona and Big Lake offering their gyms as a neutral site for junior high basketball games with McCamey. The new arrangement allows for continued junior high contests staying within the 100 mile travel limitations.

Andrews also informed the board that a Texas state comprehensive assessment test will be administered in the spring to 150 students, selected by the state according to birthdates. There will be 50 nine year-olds, 50 sixth graders, 25 13 year-olds and 25 17 year-olds tested.

A question was raised about crowded high school class rooms and Andrews reported that there are six classes with more than 25 students and the highest is 29...most academic classes have less than 20 students, Andrews told the board.

Trustees also agreed, with James Hunt not voting, to purchase three city blocks and a one acre tract of land west of the football stadium from Hunt and James Powell. The land is to be used for visitor parking, bus maintenance and parking and a possible practice field. The board authorized payment of $18,720 for the property.

Former Sonoran Killed in Del Rio

Graveside services were held yesterday afternoon in Sonora Cemetery for 22-year-old Alice Ruth Cook, a former Sonoran.

Miss Cook was born April 12, 1955 in Sonora and graduated from Sonora High School in 1973.

Survivors include her father, Vernon Cook of San Angelo; her mother, Mrs. Lila D. Cook of Del Rio; three brothers, Jess David Cook, J.V. Cook and Laney Cook; and one sister, Christa Kay Cook.

Miss Cook was found at her home at 310 W. 3rd Street in Del Rio Monday morning dead of gunshot wounds. Del Rio Justice of the Peace Officers said no final ruling could be made in the apparent homicide until final police reports are studied.

She had been shot twice with a 30 calibre rifle, once in the arm and once in the head.

Construction workers found the body of George Bruce Adams, 28, shortly before 8 a.m., Monday morning in the driveway of a house under construction. He had been shot once in the head. A rifle and notes were found with the body.

Notes found with the body of Adams said, "I'm sorry, Alice is dead and I'm tired of living." Identification and an address found on the body sent police to the 3rd Street address where Miss Cook's body was found.

Police estimate Miss Cook was shot between 2:30 and 3 a.m. Neighbors reported hearing shots around that time.

Arabs Buying Lamb

Ever since the Arabs learned to change oil into gold, they've been spending that new-found wealth all over the world in conspicuous ways. Now they're spending it on sheep -- in one manner or another.

Strange as it may seem for descendants of some of the world's first shepherders to be ranging across the globe in search of woolies, it's altogether true. New Zealand and Australian sheepmen are filling most of the orders, but it's not because the American industry hasn't been asked. We just don't have the stock to spare.

Our domestic sheep industry has benefitted from the increased Arab demand, however, at least in the opinion of New Zealand and Australian spokesmen.

Representatives from the "down-under" countries recently told U.S. sheepmen that the Arab buying has taken some import pressure off of our lamb industry. The occasion was the joint convention of the National Wool Growers and the National Lamb Feeders Association in Denver.

Australian Meat Board official Harry Bryant told American sheepmen that no large volume of Australian lamb could be expected to enter the U.S. market as long as Arab imports remained high. Of an estimated 42,000 tons of lamb to be exported from Australia this year, Bryant said that only about 7,000 tons will be sent to countries outside the Mideast.

The majority of lamb imported into the U.S. originates in New Zealand, however, and that country's sales stateside have been averaging about 20 million pounds.

Unlike most current lamb importers, the Arabs prefer to receive their lamb with the beat still working. They do their own slaughtering after receiving in order to have fresh, not chilled or frozen, meat.

At any rate, though U.S. sheepmen may cuss the Arabs over the high price of pickup fuel, they could owe them a thank you when their sheep go to market.

Sonora Offers Best Shopping Convenience And Easy Access

The development and growth of our nation's giant shopping centers grew out of the need for convenient shopping facilities for the family, but in the last 10 years, they have become more inconvenient than the original shopping areas they were built to supplement.

In a study of the business areas of Sonora, it has been found that our families are just minutes away from any business they want to visit.

Store-side parking makes the shopping comfortable and easy. The availability of products and merchandise is as great or greater than in the average shopping center.

Credit services, lay-away policies, personal interest of businessmen and salespeople all combine to make it easy to shop in Sonora.

"EASY SHOPPING IN SONORA" is a natural theme for this week's campaign of our business community.

The businessmen urge you to consider the time and cost of traveling to a giant shopping center somewhere out of our community. They urge you to consider the inconvenience of distance between the actual parking place and the store you wish to visit.

The long and tiresome walk from store to store and the lack of personal attention and interest of each business.

You will truly realize how convenient, comfortable and pleasant it is to shop in Sonora.

Check the section of advertisements in this newspaper for "EASY SHOPPING IN SONORA"

Edwina Braden To Lead Bellringers

Edwina Braden of Sonora will lead Bellringer workers in a house-to-house drive during May, Mental Health Month. "Proceeds will benefit the Mental Health Association in Texas," said Shirley K. Camfield, state President of the voluntary citizens' association. As a non-governmental agency the association can and does speak for the consumer—the person who needs professional help for an emotional disturbance. "The association is a moving force to get services established where there are none. It also serves as a monitoring agency to see that treatment services are doing what they were up to do," said Camfield. The Mental Health Association strongly promotes more community-based care as well as more research into the causes and prevention of mental illness. For free information about mental health topics, such as depression, contact the Mental Health Association in Texas, 103 Lantern Lane, Austin, Texas 78731.

filed by some 245,000 business outlets. "When gross sales for the fourth quarter of 1977 are tabulated, we expect the total sales for the year will show a substantial increase over 1976", Bullock said.

Home Bread Baker A Valuable Asset

Most people think high food costs mean dull food on the dinner table. That's not so if you have a bread baker in the kitchen. You'll save considerably on food costs and the family will enjoy treats you can't afford to buy at the supermarket. So pamper your bread baker. You have an asset that will pay dividends every day of the year.

Ingredients for yeast breads are among the low cost items in every supermarket. Yeast doughs are versatile, allowing you to add nutrition packed ingredients such as cheese, eggs, nuts, whole grain cereals and raisins. Combined with enriched flour, such ingredients help you pack a lot of nutrition into every baking.

The recipe for Sweet Potato Pan Rolls that follows illustrates how the addition of a vitamin packed vegetable takes to yeast dough. It makes two pans of rolls, serve one fresh and freeze the other for another day.

SWEET POTATO PAN ROLLS (Makes 2 dozen)

- 2/3 cup warm water (105°F.-115°F.)
- 2 packages Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast
- 2 tablespoons sugar

- 1-1/2 teaspoons salt
- 2 tablespoons softened Fleischmann's Margarine
- 1-1/4 cups lukewarm mashed cooked sweet potatoes or yams
- 3/4 cup currants
- 3 to 3-1/2 cups unsifted flour

Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle in active dry yeast; stir until dissolved. Add sugar, salt and softened margarine. Blend in sweet potatoes, then stir in currants and 2 cups flour. Add enough additional flour to make a stiff dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down; turn out onto lightly floured board. Divide dough in half; divide each half into 12 equal pieces. Shape each piece into a smooth round ball. Arrange in 2 greased 8 inch round cake pans. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Bake at 375°F. about 25 minutes, or until done. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks.

Girls Varsity Loses Big Game To Crane

by Don Holdridge
Becky Cavaness hit two clutch shots at the end of regulation time and the first overtime to pull Sonora even, but the last second heroics were not enough as Crane went on to capture the district championship and the top end of a 57-52 double overtime game.

The first, a 25-foot shot under heavy defensive pressure, popped the net after the buzzer and evened the score at 42-42.

The second was almost identical to the first tying the game at 50-50.

Sonora had led the game the entire game until the fourth quarter when Crane got the hot hand, outscoring the cold-shooting locals 12-6.

Foul trouble hurt the girls all night. Cavaness picked up three quick fouls. She was held scoreless in the initial period as Jamie Condra and Paige Pollard posted all 11 points.

The tables reversed in the second stanza with Cavaness hitting all 10 points.

Kim Cox picked up her fourth foul early in the second quarter, and had to watch from the sidelines until she returned at the beginning of the final quarter.

Cox picked up her fifth foul almost immediately, forcing Pollard to switch to defense.

She, too, bit the dust in the first overtime.

Sonora went into the last period leading 36-30, but Crane reeled off four unanswered baskets to go ahead 38-36.

With eight seconds remaining the Golden Cranes appeared to have a lock on the game with a 42-40 lead and their best free throw shooter at the line.

The shot bounced off the rim though, Jane Wallace grabbed the rebound and threw the ball to Cavaness to set up the dramatic shot at the buzzer.

It appeared to be an instant replay in the first overtime, with Cavaness leading by two, Wallace again grabbed an errant free throw and hit Cavaness at the opposite end of the court. Cavaness fouled out early in the second overtime, and Condra's two points were all Sonora could muster against Crane's five.

Cavaness again lead the scoring with 27 points while Condra was second high with 16. Pollard contributed seven and Gloria Gomez two.

Jane Wallace and Pam Powers both had good games shutting out the hot-shooting Crane offense.

Wallace pulled down eight rebounds and Powers gained four.

Bronco Boys Fall Victim to Crane

by Don Holdridge
Dispite constant foul trouble, the Bronco boys gave a good Crane team a close race for three quarters before falling 75-57.

Johnny Creek, Dan Lawson and David Reyna all fouled out and Pat Street finished the game with four personals.

Dispite the fouls and the usual size difference, the local cagers trailed by only two points at the end of the first quarter, 14-16.

Even at halftime Crane could only forge ahead by nine, 36-27.

By the end of the third quarter the Golden Crane edge had swollen to 11, but the locals managed to cut the lead to eight twice before finally succumbing.

Bruce Phillips led the Broncos scoring while Street with 12 and Lawson with 11 both finished in double figures.

Eddie Favila with six and Creeek and Reyna with four each rounded out the scoring.

Lawson had 11 rebounds and Reyna five to head the rebounding column.

J.V. Girls Trounce Crane

by Don Holdridge
Led by Annabelle Gonzales 15 points, the junior varsity girls constructed their best offensive outing of the season, destroying Crane 61-16.

All around the court, it was the best game of the season as the girls continued fast breaking and pressing the Cranes into near extinction.

All three squads played near perfect defense, allowing Crane only two points in the third quarter and skunking them the final period.

Despite a slow start, the cagers final generated their offense, romping for 21 points in fourth quarter enroute to a season high 61 points.

Cody Gold was second high scorer with eight points, while Janie Gold and Mary Gomez tallied six each.

Emily Elliott, Prissy Cook and Alissa Adkins had four each, and Paula Friess, Linda Smith, Judy York, Stacy Chandler and Rae Ann Draper each had two.

7th Grade Boys Lose, 35-16

By Kay Holdridge
The seventh grade scored only 3 points in the last three quarters as they lost 33-16 in their final outing. The boys scored 13 points in the first quarter and had no trouble breaking the Ozona press. The defense crumbled and the offense couldn't hit the basket in the remaining 3 quarters. Mental mistakes and turnovers plagued the boys.

David Chandler hit for 7 for high point honors and Chris Reynolds added 6. Marney Sorenson added 2 and Espy Whitehead sunk a free shot. Chandler played a good all around game according to Coach David Patton.

Sonora Varsity Girls' defensive guard Jane Wallace [right,13] stretches to keep a Crane forward from hitting the basket during the action Friday here. Crane won in double overtime by a slim margin to win the district championship.

8th Boys Win

By Kay Holdridge
The eighth grade boys terminated the 1977-78 basketball game with a 26-22 victory over an Ozona team who had beaten them twice previously. The boys were determined to end the season with a win and played with desire and hustle. Both teams used aggressive defense to control the offense.

Sonora averaged 8 points per quarter and led 13-9 at the half. The boys were ahead 21-12 at the end of 3 but a 5 point offensive output in the final quarter allowed Ozona to narrow the gap.

Joe David Favila led the scoring with 11 points. Scott Savell hit for 8 for second highest honors. Fred Sutton Netted 3 and Allen Stewart and John Blankenship had 2.

The boys finished their season with a record of 10-3 and were coached by Oliver Wuest.

Slow Pitch Meet Set

There will be a meeting of the men's slow pitch softball league February 22 at 7:00 P.M. at the Petroleum Club.

On the agenda of the meeting is the election of officers for the coming year. A general business meeting will be held with discussions of the years teams and schedules.

Last year the organization had nine teams and they expect to have at least that many teams again this year. They invite any new teams to join to make this years season better than last year.

J.V. Girls' Mary Gomez [center] and Linda Smith [right] press one of Crane's girls during the Sonora girls' strong win over Crane last Friday.

Sonora J.V. boys were soundly defeated in their game against Crane here last Friday. J.V. defenders fight for the rebound in the game played in the old gymnasium.

RRC Chairman Attacks Jackson's Compromise Plan

The chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission has expressed astonishment over charges by Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Washington, that a newly adopted rule of the Commission dealing with gas production was a price-fixing scheme.

Commissioner Mack Wallace declared the intent of the rule... "to increase accuracy in determining the market demand for Texas-produced gas and to insure consumers are adequately supplied as far as possible" - is totally opposite to the interpretation given by Jackson in a nationally televised talk-show recently.

The new rule of the Commission's Oil and Gas Division went into effect last Monday, ten days after Wallace had delivered to Jackson's office an overview of the contents and purposes of the new regulation.

Jackson is chairman of the Senate Energy Committee and a key figure in House-Senate conference efforts this week to hammer out a compromise natural gas regulation bill. Jackson raised the price-fixing allegation against the Railroad Commission during an appearance on "Face the Nation," a weekly network program emanating in Washington.

In one segment of the Feb. 6 broadcast, Jackson observed that "the Texas Railroad Commission, turned around and in the name of conservation, allegedly curbed--ordered the curbing of production, which, of course, is clear price-fixing in my book, and those are things that we're looking at."

PUNISH TEXANS
Jackson went on to state that "any state that attempts to limit production would be the first one that we would, under an emergency, take gas from that state, rather than from the next state." Wallace said he is "disappointed" by Jackson's "negative connotations and inferences implying ulterior and harmful end effects of the new rule."

Wallace noted today that the only production rule adopted recently by the Commission is the gas market demand rule which provides a more workable method for equitable allocation of gas production allowances in given fields of the state.

PROTECT PURCHASERS
"The new rule enables purchasers of natural gas to adjust their purchases to consumer demand and it protects correlative rights by requiring simply that they take gas equitably from all producers in any given reservoir," the Commission chairman explained.

"In no way does the rule curb production," he emphasized.

Wallace said the rule had been misinterpreted in the Washington Post editions of Jan. 25 and "now Sen. Jackson seems to have misinterpreted it before a nationwide television audience."

In a hand-delivered letter to Jackson's office on Jan. 26, Wallace offered to send the Commission's special counsel, Rex White, to Washington to explain the new gas market demand rule to the Senate Energy Committee.

The Commission chairman said the offer still stands.

In the January letter to Jackson, Wallace wrote that he understood the senator "again" is sponsor of legislation which would authorize federal allocation of intrastate natural gas and that the basis "for your renewed efforts" was an article appearing in the Jan. 25 edition of the Washington Post.

Without describing the contents or title of the new rule or citing attribution or source, the newspaper article claimed, "Texas has taken steps to limit natural gas production to prevent a temporary gas glut from forcing down prices."

Wallace advised Jackson in the January letter "the article grossly misstates the effect of a conservation rule recently adopted by the Railroad Commission, indicating that the rule was passed to limit the output and control of the price of natural gas."

Legal Action Urged To Fight Feds

Railroad Commission Chairman Mack Wallace and Commissioners Jon Newton and John H. Poerner have requested the Texas Attorney General to institute legal action to prevent enforcement of the "prime farmlands" section of the federal Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977 and related rules adopted by the Interior Department.

In a joint letter to Attorney General John L. Hill, the three Commissioners stressed that the federal law and rules jeopardize the development and production of 70 to 80 percent of all known near-surface lignite coal reserves in Texas.

Through its Surface Mining and Reclamation Division, the Commission exercises jurisdiction over surface mining of lignite coal and uranium operations within the state.

In the present matter a petition of review must be filed no later than Jan. 31 in order to be timely, they cited.

door to door preaching work, still they are striving to be model citizens in whatever community in which they live.

Advice was also given about identifying and resisting the Spirit of the World. One interesting comment was made: "The saying 'Everybody else is doing it' is really showing the Spirit of the world. With the increasing of lawlessness around us, and the drug abuse, immorality, excessive drinking that is happening, should we also take part? Really, though 'Everybody else is doing it' this would not be proper conduct for a Christian.

At the end of the Saturday program, how joyful the Witnesses were to see 26 symbolize their dedication to God by water baptism. These were people not acting on the spur of the moment, but who had studied the Bible for several months, possibly a year or more, and who know exactly what is entailed.

Wool & Mohair Report

Activity is beginning to pick up in the Texas Mohair market. Very few sales have been reported, but a small volume of spring adult has been contracted through various warehouses. It appears that a large price differential has developed between the coarser and finer adult hairs. The weather has held up shearing and price could be depressed slightly when clear weather comes and large amounts are shorn. Slight interest has been shown in the yearling and kid hair, but market is not established. Overall, demand seems strong. There is no activity for Texas wools. Shearing has begun in Arizona and reports are that a few clips of 61/62's sold grease basis at 65¢. At this point, finer wools price's are below 1977.

Sheep Industry Talk Falls Short

The U.S. sheep industry is still talking expansion or recovery, if you will, but official Jan. 1 stock sheep inventory doesn't show quite the same picture.

The nation's sheep and lambs totaled 12.4 million head, down three percent from the same date a year ago and seven percent off the figure shown two years ago.

All is not lost, however, because ewe lamb numbers, at 1.5 million head, were up six percent.

If it's honestly a trend, the next couple of years could show a turnaround or at least a measure of stability.

A number of individual states showed overall gains for the year; Texas recorded 310,000 head compared to 264,000.

Though it wasn't even alluded to in the purely statistical government survey, the predator problem ranks high on the list of deterrents to increased production.

Producers in the range states, in fact, group labor scarcity, desirable ewe lamb replacements scarcity and predator abundance as the major hurdles facing sheep expansion.

Adequate, even record lamb prices provide little incentive to the man who can't realize the benefits.

The high prices can even contribute to the ewe lamb scarcity; it's difficult to hold on to something that can bring big bucks in town.

Predators, too, can be seen as contributors to the other two problem areas.

As serious an effect as predation has on numbers in general, it's effect is multiplied when ewe lambs are the victims.

As for labor shortages, well, predator control efforts, though often producing poor results, generally cure idleness handsomely.

Predators are certainly not the only cause for the sheep numbers decline, but they will figure heavily in any turnaround.

The outlook in that respect, however, is not all rosy; and Interior Department spokesman recently told sheep industry representatives that a major review of the predator situation is afoot, but the end result is expected to be a report and an "option paper".

The last thing the sheep industry needs is more research and reporting on the status of the predator problem—even a little honest observing would beat the daylight out of another "official study" and consequent research report.

Not to panic though, the Interior Secretary has ordered his people to "accelerate" control efforts in problem areas.

If the first step in such an attack is to dive into a stack of papers, well, who's to argue with the logic of a bureaucracy?

M-44 Certification Set

Two meetings to certify ranchers and their employees for the purchase and use of the M-44 in Coyote Control will be conducted at the Sutton County 4-H Center next Tuesday, Feb 21.

The first meeting will be at 1:30 P.M. and the second meeting will be at 7:00 P.M. All persons who plan to purchase M-44's or associated supplies will be required to be certified as approved applicators by the Texas Department of Agriculture before they can purchase these items at designated firms.

A Texas Department of Agriculture representative will conduct the training meetings and certify the participants.

Dr. Dale Wade, Extension Wildlife Specialist from San Angelo, will also be present and bring ranchers up to date on new developments related to predator control.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Sutton County Extension Sheep and Goat Committee. Since predators are a threat to the sheep and goat industry in Sutton County and the entire area all sheep and goat producers from the surrounding area are being invited to attend this meeting.

Supplemental Feeding Needs Attention

Due to current tight profit margins in the beef industry, Sutton County producers must give close attention to supplemental feeding so that they do the most good with the least output, emphasizes Clint Langford, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He outlines some key factors for producers to consider in supplemental feeding programs:

1. Provide a good supply of minerals the year round. Minerals should provide salt and 8-12 percent of phosphorus and calcium.

2. Begin protein supplementation before cows lose a lot of weight and condition. Feeding should begin with the first killing frost. Feeding may also be necessary during drought conditions when grass is dry and tough.

3. For adequate protein, add a half to a pound-and-a-half of a 30 to 40 percent protein supplement to low quality forages daily. This stimulates digestibility and forage intake.

4. To hold supplemental feeding to a minimum, improve hay quality, control calving seasons so that high quality forage is available when cows and calves need it the most, and have cows in good condition at the start of the winter season.

5. When cows get in poor shape, either feed higher levels of supplement or be prepared for a reduced calf crop and lower weaning weights.

6. Use 1 to 2 pounds of high-protein, high-energy supplement that will help cattle clean up dead grass in the fall. Then provide good quality hay or hay plus supplement to keep cows in adequate condition.

7. Look ahead and try to stay out of situations calling for high levels of supplementation.

Browns See Mohair Trouble

The four new members of the Texas Mohair Producers Board will represent an increasingly troubled industry, according to Reagan V. Brown, Agricultural Commissioner.

Selected for six-year terms were Bob Childress of Ozona, J.W. Adams of Evant, Austin Millsbaugh of San Angelo, and Dan Davis of Uvalde.

The new board members, whose election was audited and approved by the Texas Department of Agriculture, will be sworn in March 30.

Referenda for assessments and elections are certified by TDA under the commodity referendum law. Producer organizations are established for joining marketing, research, education and promotion purposes.

"We've seen a continually strengthening mohair market during the past few years," Brown commented. The average price for a pound of mohair during the year of 1967 was only 41 cents, he pointed out, while average prices hit $3.55 per pound during mid-December and were at almost $3 by January 15.

"That attractive price doesn't tell all of the industry's story, however," Brown said. "The increase in price was caused by the producers' inability to meet market demands, mainly due to increased competition from predators."

"At its peak, the mohair industry in Texas was the largest in the world, producing around 30 million pounds of the popular fiber per year, compared to around 8 million pounds now," he said.

"We have large areas of the state which are no longer hospitable to goats because of predator populations," Brown said. "Many ranchers utilized the goats for important brush control work."

"A goat browses on a number of brush species -- particularly scrub oak -- providing an economical control method, plus a cash crop."

"The cover provided by this brush also protects a number of predators and the two just don't mix," Brown said.

Fire Ants Control Set

The persistent imported fire ant continues to move northward and westward over Texas, and several new counties have been added to a federal quarantine to halt its spread.

The quarantine, imposed by the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, now takes in all of Bastrop, Cass, Goliad, Hays, Lee, Travis, and Williamson counties.

The quarantined area of a number of other counties has been enlarged. These include Atascosa, Bee, Calhoun, De Witt, Ellis, Frio, Gillespie, Gonzales, Grayson, Kerr, Leon, Limestone, Refugio, Upshur, and Wilson.

The federal quarantine is designed to halt the spread of fire ants by restricting the movement of potential fire ant carriers, points out Dr. John Jackman, survey entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Quarantine restrictions limit the movement of nursery stock, soil, grass sod, hay, straw and used soil-moving equipment.

Such articles must be inspected, treated if necessary, and certified free of imported fire ants before leaving the quarantined area, explains the entomologist.

Jackman describes the imported fire ant as an aggressive, mound-building pest that doesn't hesitate to sting livestock, pets or people.
