

MEMORIAL DAY

In times of peace...in times of war...men and women of the armed forces have stood ready to protect our ideals of democracy. We will not forget their heroic deeds, for they were done in the name of freedom. We cannot forget their loyalty, for it gave their struggle meaning, and kept this nation strong. And we must not forget them, for they gave their lives so that this nation might live. On Memorial Day, let's pay grateful tribute to those who lived, and died so courageously for their country.

Poerner, Sadler In Primary Run-Off

by Wes Burnett

John Poerner, candidate for an unexpired Railroad Commission term, says the major issue in the June 3 Democratic run-off is his opponent Jerry Sadler.

Calling Sadler a "public disgrace" last week, Poerner added that "I'm going to smoke him out...his tree has no limbs, it's riddled with moss."

Sadler has consistently refused to face Poerner at public meetings, even though Poerner has repeatedly attempted to arrange debates with Sadler.

Poerner said many people remember Sadler's name, but some don't remember why.

Sadler was involved in a 1969 fight with the Texas House of Representatives, which ended when the House voted to censure him. Sadler was land commissioner at the time.

The censure was for handling a Spanish treasure find off the Texas coast. Many of the artifacts have since been recovered, but more are thought to be missing.

The controversy arose over an alleged agreement between Sadler and the salvage contractor.

"The only issue is Sadler," Poerner commented on a recent trip to West Texas.

"Sadler's winning would be an embarrassment to Texans," Poerner added. "They (the voters) must know what the name (Sadler) represents and stands for."

Sadler is the only state official ever to be censured.

The railroad commission, while covering numerous aspects of transportation in the state, also handles the regulating and prorating of all gas and oil, surface mining as well as insuring conservation and land restoration.

Poerner has a history of personal respectability and high level performance of his duties, before and after joining the Railroad Commission.

He is a rather quiet and studious man from Hondo who has ranched and been in the banking business.

He knows the oil business first hand, but has set his holdings into a trust while he serves on the Railroad Commission.

Democratic Run-off Election June 3

A run off election in the Democratic primary will be held June 3 when John Poerner and Jerry Sadler will vie for the November place on the ballot for the position of Railroad Commissioner.

Absentee voting for the run-off started Wednesday.

In accordance with Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act, the Democratic Executive Committee of Sutton County has decided to consolidate all of the voting precincts for this election.

All persons wishing to cast a ballot for railroad commissioner in this primary should plan to vote at the courthouse. This will help simplify the election as well as cut down on expenses.

Historical Society Meets Thursday

The Sutton County Historical Society will have a committee meeting at the First National Bank Thursday from 2-4.

The committee has been set up to assist anyone who needs help in writing family histories for the Sutton County History Book.

C of C Officials Seek IH 27 Through Sonora

Sonora Chamber of Commerce directors at a special called meeting last week voted to establish a committee to win approval for the IH-27 route through Sonora.

Immediate past-president John Tedford commented, "We need to start working right now if we're going to get IH-27 routed to Sonora..."

"We also need a broad-based community-wide support for the plan," he continued.

Newly elected chamber president Wes Burnett appointed newly elected vice-president George Kellogg to head up the IH-27 Committee.

Kellogg will be calling on chamber of commerce members to work with him on the committee. "Anyone who would like to help should call me at 387-3539," Kellogg emphasized.

The special meeting was called to elect officers, following the recent election of board of directors.

Mike Hale was voted to continue as treasurer and new board members Jerry Gilley, Glen Fisher, Effie Harle, Dorcell Young and Durwood Neville, were welcomed.

Board members expressed their appreciation to Tedford for his service during the past year, and pledged an active and aggressive chamber calendar.

The next regularly scheduled meeting will be held Thursday, June 1 during a noon luncheon at the Commercial Restaurant.

and this year as a french horn player, she will be a member of a brass ensemble going to state competition.

Letter to the Editor

Editor,
 Please allow me to clear up any possible misunderstandings that may occur as a result of an article in "The Devil's River News" on May 17. The article concerned the city council meeting and a petition that I and others are circulating.
 True, the petition deals with the Little League Park, but there are three other important points to the petition.
 The second point deals with the formation of a parks department to build and maintain a proper park system. This department would answer to city and/or county government and in turn to the citizens.
 The third point is concerned with the Park Association land and facilities. We feel the city and county should attempt to procure the land and improvements. If they are unsuccessful then a new park site should be found.
 The fourth point urges the use of our taxes for recreational facilities instead of relying on the inequitable donation system: a system that is unfair to the few individuals and businesses that are continually called on to donate.
 The petition will be presented to the city and county at a future, appropriate date. Anyone having questions concerning this petition may contact me at my home phone after four p.m.
 Thank You,
 Greg Morris

Miss Anna Kay Phillips entertained the large crowd that attended graduation services Friday night. Miss Phillips, accompanied by the Sonora Bronco Band, sang "The Way We Were", for her graduating classmates.

Second Thoughts

by Claude T. Driskell
 Congress has some critical problems which are confronting it. Problems on which action is long overdue, and problems on which our very survival might depend. Almost any interested high school student can lay the problems out for you.

Since 1973, the absolute necessity, and urgency of a realistic energy program has been obvious to everyone. A program enforcing conservation and the development of alternate energy sources for use when the fossil fuels are depleted.

The illegal alien problem, overshadowed by H.E.W. action to prevent the integration of ethnic groups within the economic arena, is a problem that must be solved.

Legislative action is required to allow the president to develop and conduct a realistic foreign policy without being second guessed by Congress.

The decision is overdue, from both the President and Congress whether we are going to take action in Africa, or let that resource rich continent fall by default to Russo-Cuban Combo, wiping out any security of our oil supply. We really have no choice.

The list goes on and on; tax reform, social security, tax refund, inflation-problems we have plenty of, buried in committee and various other forms of limbo. If you think about the matter, the question of whether or not Congress has the capability of taking decisive action arises. The evidence at hand, unfortunately, at this time, would indicate a NO answer.

It is a Democratic Party dominated Congress, and somehow I cannot find Carter listed as a Republican. It would seem that the responsibility for inactivity is not hard to isolate, but the voters never equate malfunctioning government with a party, so default is quite common, with certain economic implications.

If Congress wallows in lethargic indecision, the same certainly cannot be said of the cancerous bureaucracy. Through the medium of so called interpretation, the citizenry is subjected to a lethal dosage of bureaucratic legislation, sidestepping the provisions of the Constitution.

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms proposed to initiate a program of firearms legislation (of the bureaucratic variety) to require the registration of firearms, even though our representatives in Congress had indicated that Congress was against such a program. If it were an isolated incident, it would have no significance, but it is one of literally hundreds, and portends a virtual deluge of bureaucratic legislation (with or without Congressional approval).

Hopefully, Congress will realize in time that the executive poses no greater menace to Congressional power than Congress' own stepchild, the bureaucracy. If Congress fails in that recognition, our only hope is the voter, who has demonstrated over so many years that his only tool against incumbency is senility.

All the voter needs to do is effect a complete turnover of Congress for three successive terms. If every incumbent is voted out for three successive elections, Congressional listening to voter desires would improve, considering the present performance without detriment to Congress.

Horse Judgers To Compete

The Sutton Co. 4-H Senior Horse Judging team will travel to College Station to compete in the State 4-H Round-Up June 6-8.

This team has been quite active in judging contests this year.

In October, team members and coaches traveled to Waco and participated in the Heart O' Texas Fair. The team tied for 9th and 10th at this contest and gained a great deal of practical experience.

In January at the Ft. Worth Livestock Show, team member Marshall Doran was the high point individual in performance judging and the 9th high point individual over-all.

At the district judging contest in College Station, the team placed 2nd over-all.

Tonia Mittel placed 2nd high point individual over-all and Marshall Doran placed 3rd high point individual over-all.

Team coaches are Maggie and David Walsh, who have worked with the team for the past two years.

Assisting them are Mr. E.J. Freeman of Freeman Bit Co. of Moran, who worked with the team on performance events, and Mr. Tom Gibbs from Wichita Falls who worked with the team on showmanship.

There was laughter and friendly conversation. There were smiles and loving glances. They were well fed and healthy. They were feeding each other.

In many ways our lives on earth are like the visions in this man's dreams. Seeing our own situation we can curse our plight and our fellow man, or we can make the best of what we have, helping others along the way.

After 29 Years... Mrs. Nellie Moore Ends Teaching Career

by Kay Holdridge
 What do these people have in common? Edwina Hawkins Friess, Laney Cook, Dick Hearn, Tina Whitehead Edwards, Jane Neill Cooper, Bud Halbert, Warty Alley, John Allen Ward, Charles Cusenberry, Royce Mears, Kay Holdridge, Alex Castro, Mike Gosney, David Whitworth, Ed Renfro, Primo Gonzales, Bruce Kerbow, June Alexander Sutton, Craig Parker, Scott

English. She taught in the Falls County and Limstone County schools before coming here.

Mrs. Moore was living in Mart when she was approached by Mr. Stringer, then the superintendent of the Sonora Independent School District, to come to Sonora and teach. This was during WWII when there was a tremendous shortage of qualified teachers.

Mrs. Moore and her sister both came to Sonora. Mrs. Moore taught for two years in SHS as the homemaking teacher. After her marriage to Sutton County rancher, Andrew Moore, Mrs. Moore moved to Elliott School and taught sixth, seventh, and eighth grade Language Arts for seven years. She made the change in order to spend more time at home with her family which later included a son, Andy, and a daughter, Angie, both of which graduated from Sonora High.

In her 27 year career, Mrs. Moore worked in all areas of the school.

high school and Elliott, Mrs. Moore moved to Central Elementary where she taught sixth grade Language Arts under Principal Ralph Finklea. The sixth grade later moved to the Junior High when Bill Gosney became principal. Mrs. Moore moved right along with her subject. She was later teaching under the principalship of Smith Neal where she continued until her recent retirement.

Mrs. Moore has become an institution in the Sonora Schools and the school district will surely miss the dedication of such a hardworking teacher. Through the years, she has seen change of all kinds.

She has seen seven superintendents come and six leave. These include: Stringer, Polly Wells, Mr. Brodhead, Rex Lowe, Finklea, Ken McAllister, and Dr. Joe Andrews.

Other changes include curriculum changes such as the addition of new math, linguistics, and modern methods in the lower grades. She has changed and adapted to these changes. She does think that the trend in education is back to the basics of reading, writing, and arithmetic and this is as it should be.

Students of today are not as prepared in basic reading and math as they once were because of the addition of science and geography in the first few grades.

She, too, has seen a change in the attitude of the students and parents. People as a whole are not as concerned about their education as they once were she thinks. As is true in all things, trends come and go, but she, like most teachers, believe that education is vitally important and the trend will come back where education will be the number one concern of teachers, parents, and students once more.

Laughingly, Mrs. Moore recalled some of the experienced she has had in her total 29 years of teaching. She remembered a polished ping pong paddle that was used on many a noisy, disruptive student. Buck Bloodworth decided that he needed it and swiped it, thus saving countless students swats with the paddle.

I remember, however, that Mrs. Moore was never at a loss for ideas. Believe me, a sharp rap across the knuckles with a ruler worked just as well!

She recalls also that the Parker Twins and John Webster Elliott thought making and throwing spit wads was fun. They decided that all that was good for was writer's cramp after Mrs. Moore made them write an essay on why spit wads were not to be made and thrown in the classroom. One of the Parkers ended his theme with, "Besides school is for learning and not for goofing off." That was just what Mrs. Moore thought and taught. School is for learning and she dedicated her life and her efforts to that idea.

Many a young girl and boy have been influenced by her teachings and her high standard of conduct. Next September will not be the same without her.

Mrs. Nellie Ruth Moore was presented a gift by Junior High Principal Smith Neal when they and other members of the faculty and staff met for lunch last week at the Sutton County Steakhouse.

 In what was reliably reported to be the best all round wool sale in Texas history, the Sonora Wool and Mohair Company announced Thursday that it had sold approximately 1,500,000 pounds of graded twelve months wool and fine ungraded twelve months wool to R.R. Martin of Williams and Whitney Company of Boston, for an average of 80 cents a pound. A small lot, 75,000 pounds, went for 60 cents.

Eighteen Sonora High School seniors will complete their public school careers Monday night at the football field when they receive their diplomas. Valedictorian of the class is Sue Wendt and salutatorian is Jewel McGhee.

Several parts of the county received additional rainfall Monday and Tuesday.

74 Years Ago
 Jim Barton was in for the roping and as usual had a good time.

Floyd Estes came in from Abe Myers ranch Thursday to take in the roping, but had another engagement and did not see the roping.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Turney left Comstock Tuesday on a visit to Mrs. Turney's mother.

E.A. Earwood and son G.C. were in from the ranch Thursday for supplies and to attend the roping and dance.

May 22, 1958
 Rev. J.E. Ethridge is retiring this week from the Baptist ministry after 43 years of service to congregations in Texas, 15 of which he has spent in Sonora as pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Jack Rape has assumed operation of the new Phillips 66 station located at the junction of U.S. Highway 290 and 277.

Thirty-six seniors will graduate Monday on the lawn of Central Elementary School. John Ed Nevill, president of the class, will preside over the exercises.

Budgeting Time With Convenience Products

Now that time, as well as money, has become a precious commodity we need to budget it wisely. Many homemakers no longer spend hours in the kitchen preparing meals. They rely heavily on convenience foods and partially prepared products to save time and energy.

It is always a good idea to keep an emergency supply of canned, bottled and packaged foods on hand—the kind that can be served instantly or with a minimum of preparation. Yesterday's cake and fresh fruit become an exciting dessert fondue when dipped into melted concordgrape jelly. Stretch a small amount of hamburger by making it into meatballs and serving with prepared spaghetti sauce. Combine two or three different varieties of canned soup for a spur-of-the-moment first course. Make fancy desserts in a jiffy. Take ordinary pound-cake, slice into three layers, spread bottom two layers with one jar of concordgrape preserves, assemble, frost and sprinkle with chopped nuts. Presto! An easy, elegant torte.

Suggested here are two fancy desserts made with convenience foods. Their ease of preparation makes them suitable for both parties and family meals. For the French Peach Tart a frozen pie crust, packaged pie crust mix or your favorite pastry recipe can be used, depending on the length of time you want to spend. The filling is a luscious concoction of whipped cream laced with orange-flavored liqueur. Canned peach slices are then attractively arranged over the filling and glazed with a mixture of concordgrape jelly and lemon juice. Additional whipped cream is piped around the edge of the tart and sprinkled with crumbled peanut brittle or chopped nuts for garnish. Brandied Strawberry Sauce is something you will want to keep in your refrigerator at all times to perk up ice cream, fruit or pudding. This beautiful ruby-red dessert sauce combines concordgrape jam, brandy, chopped strawberries (fresh or frozen) and lime peel.

FRENCH PEACH TART

- 1 package pie crust mix or 1 frozen 8-inch pie crust, baked and cooled
  - 1 tablespoon orange-flavored liqueur
  - 2 cups sweetened whipped cream or prepared whipped topping
  - 1 can (1 pound) peach slices, well-drained
  - 1/2 cup concordgrape jelly
  - 1-1/4 teaspoons lemon juice
  - Sweetened whipped cream
  - 1/4 cup crumbled peanut brittle or chopped nuts
- Prepare pie crust mix according to package directions and shape into 8-inch tart pan or pie plate. Stir liqueur into 2 cups whipped cream; chill.

Just before serving, spoon whipped cream into pie crust. Arrange peaches on top. Melt concordgrape jelly with lemon juice. Spoon over fruit. Garnish with additional whipped cream and peanut brittle. Makes one 8-inch pie.

Note: 1 package vanilla pie filling cooked with 2 cups half-and-half and thoroughly chilled may be substituted for the 2 cups whipped cream.

BRANDIED STRAWBERRY SAUCE
1/2 cup concordgrape jam
2 tablespoons brandy
1 teaspoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon water
2 cups coarsely chopped strawberries, fresh or defrosted frozen
1 teaspoon slivered lime peel

Combine concordgrape jam and brandy in saucepan. Heat, stirring, until jam is melted and heated. Blend cornstarch and water; stir into syrup. Cook, stirring, until sauce is thickened and smooth. Add strawberries and lime peel. Heat sauce, stirring occasionally. Serve warm over ice cream, fruit or pudding. Makes about 2 1/2 cups sauce.

FACTS & FIGURES

The number of taxpayers itemizing deductions decreased from almost 50 percent in 1970 to less than 25 percent today. That means fewer are able to deduct from their taxes contributions to churches and other charities.

In the last eight years, the government has increased the standard deduction allowed for charitable contributions five times, causing churches and other charities to lose about $5 billion in contributions in the process.

Texas Oil & Gas... More Texas Drilling Helps Gas Situation

By H.B. (Hank) Harkins, President, Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association

The effect of federal price controls and uncontrolled prices on drilling and development in Texas is reflected in the latest estimates of the state's natural gas and crude oil reserves.

Texas' natural gas reserves did not drop as fast last year as they have annually during the past decade. The rate of decline for the 2.5-trillion cubic feet (Tcf) drop in 1977 was 3.8-percent. That compares with an annual average decline of 9.2-percent in the four previous years.

But, crude oil reserves last year dropped 759-million barrels — some nine-percent — compared with a six-percent average annual decline during the previous six years.

Appraisals by the American Petroleum Institute and the American Gas Association list slightly less than 8.5-billion barrels of crude oil and approximately 62.2-Tcf of natural gas in Texas' fields at the end of last year.

As the free market price for natural gas produced and sold for use in Texas increased in the 1973-1977 period, Texas producers responded with increased drilling. They set a new gas well completion record every year in an effort to meet demand. By the March-May quarter of 1977, Texans were using nearly 68-percent of the state's natural gas production.

The average price of intrastate gas went from 14-cents per thousand cubic feet (Mcf) in January, 1973, to an average price of $1.04 per Mcf in the March-May, 1977, quarter. In 1974, producers in Texas made 1,843 gas well completions; in 1975, 2,135; in 1976, 2,443, and last year, 3,064.

In contrast to the free market that exists for intrastate gas, about 90-percent of Texas' crude oil production remains under federal price controls. Only production from stripper wells, those yielding 10 barrels or less of oil per day, is exempt.

The higher price allowed for so-called "new" or upper tier oil helped stimulate drilling for oil last year. The oil well completion total of 6,533 was the highest in 13 years. But, this was far short of the annual average of more than 11,000 completions during the 1950s, when reserves averaged 14.7-billion barrels.

As Texans look toward their future energy needs, which must be satisfied from today's oil and gas reserves, they are seeing a demonstration of the power of the economic incentive provided by a free market. Oil men expect a turnaround in energy supplies when Congress learns this lesson.

Fiesta del Concho Scheduled

Fiesta del Concho 1978 in San Angelo is going to be bigger and better than ever in its six year history.

Doyle Geiser, chairman for the fiesta, has announced that the nine day festival from June 17-25 will have more events than ever and will be more fun for everyone.

Some old events have been "beefed up" along with the addition of some new events. The river parade, one of the festival's most popular events, is being expanded with five more barges and is being developed as a grand extravaganza.

Fiesta del Concho has added new events such as the Joie Chitwood Thrill Show, a skateboard exhibition, a frisbee contest, an executive pentathlon and a delicious taste of West Texas at an old fashioned barbecue.

San Angelo expects more people to come from around the country to attend events. Old events which have continued to be tourist favorites are the armadillo races, the children's show, the dinner theatre, the talent show and the horse races.

Johann Sebastian Bach had 20 children.

Jack Burch, Consultant In West Indies Gave Project

Jack Burch, cave developer of the local Caverns of Sonora, returned May 14 from a nine day stay in St. Thomas Barbados, West Indies where he was called as a consultant in the work on the Harrison's Cave in St. Thomas.

Burch was a member of an eight man team headed by Mr. Russell Gurnee, president of the National Speleological Foundation of the United States.

This group of men were in the company of a tour which included Prime Minister Tom Adams. The Prime Minister told the group that it was hoped the project will be opened as a tourist attraction within a year.

Also on the tour was Mr. Ole Sorenson, discoverer of the cave and consultant to the project. Mr. Sorenson has been replaced by Mr. Otho St. Hill.

The cave is said to be a type of water cave with a number of lakes, waterfalls and pools as added attractions.

A written report of the Barbados project should be submitted to the government and a second scientific report will be published in a bulletin of the National Speleological Society as an example of cave development and cave management techniques.

Dorella Myers was the only participant in the junior division and will represent this division in district competition.

Texans Ask: "Why Doesn't Someone Stand Up And Take Washington Lead"

by Congressman Bob Krueger

"Why doesn't someone in Washington stand up and take a lead?"

This question, put to me by a man from Comfort writing to express his feelings about the urgent need to stop inflation, echoes the sentiments of a hundred more Texans whose letters pour into my office daily.

Last week in Washington, I introduced an amendment which would have cut federal spending by two per cent in all but three important budget categories: national defense spending, agriculture and veterans benefits.

The amendment would have decreased the federal budget, and therefore the federal deficit, by $7 billion. It would have helped halt inflation by curbing government spending and the expansion of the federal bureaucracy.

And, combined with a realistic, across-the-board tax cut, it would have stimulated growth and development in the private, rather than public sectors.

Perhaps most importantly, passage to the amendment would have indicated to not only the American people, but to our friends in other countries, that Congress is willing to work toward a strong, sound economy.

Unfortunately, my amendment was defeated, and the House approved a $500.9 billion budget. And strangely enough, many of the congressmen who voted against decreasing the deficit, said they did so because people will suffer if government programs do not increase.

It is very clear to me from my mail, phone calls and personal visits, that the people of Texas and the rest of the nation want less, rather than more federal spending.

The people continue to reiterate the same statement: "Look, Government, you don't have to spend so much of our money for us, we can spend it on our own."

Their feelings are easily understood when you examine the case of one man from Richardson, whose story is not unique. This man's income increased by 248 per cent during the past 10 years while his federal income taxes skyrocketed by 387 per cent during the same length of time. It is obvious why he wants less government spending and more money channeled into private-sector development.

Of course responsibility dictates that not all federal programs can be cut. A strong national defense, a service which only the federal government can adequately provide, is essential—and my amendment would not have allowed cuts in that area.

It would also have excluded agriculture and veteran's benefits from the across-the-board cut. Congress has a responsibility to determine national priorities—and recent events indicate that federal aid to farmers should not fall on the chopping block at this time. Our responsibility to those who have served their country in a defense capacity is a long-standing obligation and one which I also felt should not be included in the decreases.

But overall, by making more efficient those programs already in existence, Congress could have approved my amendment and had sufficient funds to provide the services necessary to run this country.

To my colleagues who said people will suffer if government programs do not increase, I can only say this:

Millions of Americans like the man in Richardson are already suffering unfairly because the government bureaucracy is out of control and over-funded, and they are picking up the tab for it.

Common sense tells us that this country should not spend more than it makes. I, for one, will not ask our citizens for more than they can give.

Screwworms Confirmed In Coleman Co.

The third 1978 lab confirmed screwworm sample from a Texas animal, a calf in Coleman County, points up the need for watchfulness and care by all livestock owners, says Dr. M.E. (Cotton) Meadows.

Director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Screwworm Eradication Program, Meadows reports the case was treated May 11 by rancher A.G. Crosby of Leaday. He collected a larvae sample for lab identification.

The infested calf was treated two miles southwest of Voss. This is hundreds of miles from the only two other known 1978 Texas screwworm cases; one in Hudspeth County east of El Paso--the other in Presidio County southwest of Marfa.

After a 1976 season which saw 19,241 confirmed screwworm cases in Texas animals, Governor Dolph Briscoe declared a "Mission '77: Stamp Out Screwworm" campaign for the state last year. The year ended with only 39 confirmed screwworm cases on Texas animals.

This year the challenge is to keep screwworm populations from building to a high level in Texas, says Meadows. The Coleman County case poses many questions, observes the director of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) program.

It is too far from other known cases to have reached central Texas by natural spread. This makes scientists wonder if it originated with a fly that "hitched a ride" on a truck, in a car, or in an airplane.

Dr. Robert Miller, veterinarian in charge of fly distribution for the APHIS program, flew immediately to Coleman County to study this case and try to detect any other screwworm activity in the area. The Crosby Ranch case was treated with sterile screwworm flies by the same airplane that took Dr. Miller to the vicinity.

Glen Fisher's Wool & Mohair Report

The Texas wool market has been well tested the past week and prices remain steady to maybe even slightly stronger. Sales were held at Paint Rock on Monday and in San Angelo on Wednesday of last week and wools moved well.

The 12 months original bag brought from 80 to 98 cents with a couple of skirted lots bringing more than $1. At last report, the 8 months offering at San Angelo was not sold.

Also, it was reported this week that the bulk of the 8 months wool in Del Rio was sold.

This is the wool from the wool sale that was called off 2 weeks ago. The prices were not released, but it is believed that they were a few cents above what was bid at the sale.

Producers Wool & Mohair in Del Rio has contracted their entire fall mohair clip and this news has put the mohair trade in a turmoil.

Contracting is rampant in many places and we have several buyers offering contracts here at Sonora. At this time, we have not contracted any Mohair but Sonora Wool & Mohair Co. will respond to our growers requests.

The South African clip is nearly all sold and prices have been higher at each sale. The first fall clips in Texas will be coming off soon and a new spot market can be determined then. We look for good prices at this time.

Kimble County directors are Ted

Holekamp, N.K. Farmer, Robby Robinson, E.S. Herring and Jack Hoggett.

Directors at large are A.L. Kothmann of Menard and Steve Sykes of Christoval. Past Association presidents are Vestel Askew, Howard Derrick, James L. Powell, Gene Whitehead, Armer Earwood and Mort L. Mertz.

Honorary directors for life are Conrad Holekamp, R.A. Halbert, Thomas Morris, P.A. Hoggett, O.C. Fisher, Lea Allison and G.R. Kothmann.

All sheep and goat producers in District 5 are urged to attend this meeting. Now - more than ever before - we all need to work together to strengthen and maintain our industry.

Texans Get Chance To View Water Conservation

Two statewide meetings will be held in Texas to give groups and individuals a chance to state their views concerning present soil and water conservation programs and to propose needed changes or additions to present approaches.

The meetings will be held May 16 in Stephenville and May 18 in San Antonio. The Stephenville meeting will be held in the Humanities and Business Building on the campus of Tarleton State University. The San Antonio meeting will be held in the Fiesta Room of the Convention Center. Both meetings will start at 9 a.m. with registration beginning at 8:30 a.m.

"These meetings will be held to comply with provisions of the Resource Conservation Act of 1977," according to George C. Marks, State Conservationist of the USDA Soil Conservation Service.

The meetings are called by the USDA Soil Conservation Service and the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board. Both meetings will be co-chaired by Marks and Carl Spencer, Executive Director of the TSS&WCB.

Local meetings relative to the Act are being planned in each of Texas' 198 soil and water conservation districts.

"Soil and water conservation programs--from their beginning--have sought public participation and input," Spencer said. "The RCA Act further insures that conservation programs will continue to be responsive to public needs and re-affirms the need for public leadership. We hope to receive public input so a meaningful appraisal of grass roots conservation program will provide the means for their improvement."

However, Spencer said that the right to private ownership and management of land is one of the most cherished privileges of American citizenship. As the general public becomes more involved with the growing shortages of soil and water resources, we see more proposals in legislative form concerning what landowners ought to do in the way of erosion control, flood prevention, protection of wildlife habitat and providing public access to private property.

"Any approach to soil and water conservation problems or issues must consider that a high percentage of farm and ranch land is privately owned, and that the interests and owners must be served. Programs must be acceptable to them," added Spencer.

"Individuals or groups with an interest in conservation should attend one of the statewide meetings in a local soil and water conservation district," Marks said. "Interested persons are being encouraged to bring written or oral statements reflecting the direction they think conservation programs should take in the future. Such statements will be accepted, made a part of the record and considered fully."

From information and suggestions received at public meetings as well as data collected from surveys and inventories, RCA calls for determining:

- quality and quantity of soil, water and related resources,
- ability of these resources to meet current and future demands,
- changes in resource condition resulting from past uses, --costs and benefits of alternative soil and water conservation practices, and --alternative irrigation techniques and their effects on conservation and the environment.

Based on inventories, survey data and public input, the Soil Conservation Service will work together with conservation districts, state soil and water conservation agencies, local governments, and individual land users to enhance present conservation programs and set multiyear objectives. Accomplishments will be monitored at least annually.

"Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland has said that this law will help show the effectiveness of the 40-year partnership among the Soil Conservation Service, soil and water conservation districts, state and local governments and individual land users," Marks said.

"Together these groups and the public will make informed, long-range policy decisions about the conservation and improvement of our national soil, water, and related natural resources," he added.

"Laws pertaining to the organization and functioning of soil and water conservation districts provided that their programs and plans of work be developed by local people and be a voluntary program. No program is more acceptable to a landowner than a voluntary type and one in which he had a part in developing," said Spencer.

The appraisal and program provided for by the newly enacted law will be presented to Congress by the end of 1979. This will be followed by the first evaluation report on existing services of the Soil Conservation Service which is to go to Congress by the end of fiscal year 1982.

With the advent of hot dry weather livestock producers should be on the lookout for the appearance of pink eye in their cattle. "Pink eye" is an infectious eye disease of cattle of all ages and breeds, however younger animals under two years of age appear to be more susceptible than older ones.

June Production Allowable Meets Demand

The Railroad Commission May 16 set the statewide June production allowable for Texas oil wells at 100 percent of market demand for the sixteenth month in a row. Chairman Mack Wallace and Commissioners Jon Newton and John H. Poerner retained the legal producing rate after receiving floor nominations from major purchasers of Texas crude oil during today's monthly oil proration hearing here. Buyer nominations for June totaled 3,545,387 barrels daily, a decrease of 6,037 barrels from May requests.

owner, "I've done all I know to do."

The veteran petroleum conservationist criticized legislation that would deregulate natural gas prices by 1985, observing "that doesn't mean a thing in the world" for under the proponents' definition of exploratory wells, "we wouldn't have any new gas..."

Porter thanked Wallace for the opportunity to speak and in concluding his remarks, said: "I use every forum because I certainly do not compromise on any kind of price control on crude oil or natural gas, and I'm not going to stop now."

Chairman Wallace reported that June nominations for the purchase of Texas natural gas totaled 23,103,367,000 cubic feet daily, an increase of two percent over May gas nominations.

Wallace also noted that crude and petroleum products imports into the United States were 7,631,000 barrels daily during the four weeks ended April 28, representing approximately 42 percent of current U.S. demand.

The Commission continued through June special allowables assigned to 11 fields for conservation purposes. The fields and their special allowables are:

East Texas, 86 percent; Kelly-Snyder, 86 percent; Fort Trinidad (seven fields), 80 percent; Louise, 80 percent; and Rice Brothers (Canyon) in Fisher County, 25 percent.

The next monthly oil and gas proration hearing is scheduled at 9 a.m., Tuesday, June 20 at the Driskill Hotel in Austin.

June nominations by major purchasers and changes from the previous month were:

Gulf Oil, R.M. Weise, 140,000 barrels daily, unchanged from May; Diamond Shamrock, John Munn, 36,000; Atlantic Richfield, Jim Woolley, 170,000, unchanged; Mobil, D.R. Wall, 345,000 unchanged; Continental Oil, Jerry Sellers, 55,600, up 600 "to bring nominations in line with purchase;" Texaco, John Lee, 127,000 down 3,000 "to bring nominations in line with purchases;" Union Oil of California, L.R. Williams, 95,000, unchanged; Sun Oil, Don Pierson, 131,000, unchanged.

Marathon, Michael McKown, 49,670, unchanged; Shell, Richard

Gonzales, 241,000, unchanged; Exxon, Jack

City Sales Tax Shows 5% Increase

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said recently that his office has mailed checks totaling $13.8 million to 898 Texas cities as their May share of the one percent city sales tax.

The May allocation brings collections for the year to $1.35 million, a 6.1 percent increase over the same period last year.

The City of Houston received the largest check $3 million. City sales tax collections there are running 8 percent ahead of last year.

Dallas—where city sales tax collections for the year are up 1 percent—will get a check for $1.5 million.

San Antonio will get a check for $731,267. Austin will get $458,667 and Fort Worth $451,380.

The local-option city sales tax is collected by merchants along with the state sales tax and rebated monthly to the cities by the Comptroller's Office.

Sonora's city sales tax total was $4,538.11 as compared to $6,760.02 for the same period last year.

1978 payments to date total $54,649.22. Last year's net payment $51,761.15 for the same period shows a 5% increase for the year 1978.

Experiment Station Sets Research Program May 30

"Soil and water conservation district directors and guests will have an opportunity to see research projects on different combinations of grazing management systems, brush control treatment measures, and how livestock respond to the combinations at the Sonora Experiment Station," said Jim Voulgaris, president of the Hill Country Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

"The tour of range research is a principal part of the Hill Country Association of SWCD's meeting on May 30, at the experiment station. The meeting will begin at 9:45 a.m.," added Voulgaris.

During the business meeting, Joe Antilley, member of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board and Kenneth Kuykendall, president of the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts, will present reports on the activities of each organization.

Dr. Leo Merrill, superintendent of the Sonora Experiment Station, will respond to questions relative to the tour. He will also discuss range nutrition studies being conducted at the facility.

Twenty soil and water conservation districts are members of the Hill Country Association of SWCD's. They are: Eldorado Divide, San Saba-Brady, Menard County, Kendall, Kerr County, Pedernales, Gillespie County Nueces-Frio-Sabinal, Edwards Plateau, Mason County, Devil's River, Upper Llanos, Medina Valley, Maverick, Bandera, Llano County, Crockett, West Nueces-Las-Moras, Upper Nueces-Frio, and Hill Country.

Current officers of the organization are: Jim Voulgaris, president, Harper; Guenther G. Ottmers, Jr., vice president, Fredericksburg; Bob Caruthers, secretary, Sonora; and Harold Kneese, treasurer, Fredericksburg.

Local S&WCD To Host May 30

The Edwards Plateau S&WCD will host the Hill Country Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts at the Sonora Experiment Station May 30 at 9:45 a.m.

Directors of the host district would like to extend an invitation to all farmers and ranchers to join them that day.

Those that plan to attend are asked to call Virgil Polocsek or Joe Ellis so that a head count can be obtained ahead of time in preparation of the noon meal.
