

Mrs. Williams Wins Contest

Mrs. Jerry L. Williams was the winner of last week's football contest. Her entry was the only one to miss only one game, and she will take home the $20 first place prize money.
Dora Mata won second place, edging out Arturo M. Gandar and seven other entries who missed two games on the tie breaker.

Others missing two games were Eugene Reyna, Kevin West, Elva Martinez, Joe B. Luttrell, Jesse Bustamante, Derrel Alley and A.E. Prugel.
The games most often missed were Texas Tech over Baylor, Texas A&M over SMU, Miama over Dallas and St. Louis over the New York Giants.

Rape Suspects Arrested After Manhunt Monday

Two suspects are in custody following a massive land and air manhunt Monday morning involving the Sutton County Sheriff's Department, the Sonora Police Department, the Department of Public Safety, and U.S. Border Patrol, the Parks and Wildlife officers, and two private planes operated by Robert Kelley and John Cotten.

The suspects, Michael J. Hanson, 25 of Phoenix, Az., and Ronald William Atkinson, 27 of Detroit, Mich., were arraigned before Sutton County Justice of the Peace Mat Adams Monday afternoon.

Each was charged with aggravated rape and aggravated robbery with bond set at $20,000 for each offense on each subject.

Details
At approximately 6:30 p.m. Monday morning Sheriff Bill Webster and Deputy Sheriff Joe Fincher received a call from a woman who claimed she had been raped.

Upon investigation, the woman and her male companion, both of Canada, claimed they left San Antonio heading west on IH-10 and picked up the alleged suspects somewhere between San Antonio and Boerne.

Approximately five miles west of Sonora, the two hitchhickers allegedly pulled knives on the couple, forcing them to a location on a ranch off Ranch Road 1989, two miles off the Caverns Road exit.

According to the lady, at that time her companion was tied up and bound, and she was assaulted by each of the suspects.

They were also robbed of approximately $500.
With the description given by the couple, the search was begun.

Sheriff Webster arrested the suspects around 2:30 at the El Paso Natural Gas Plant, six miles northwest of Sonora.

ESA Sponsors Program: Coping With Children

The Kappa Gamma Chapter of ESA will present a program by Wanda Myers on coping with children.

The program will be centered on the frustrations of raising children, and Mrs. Myers is a nationally recognized authority on the subject.

Until July, 1977, Mrs. Myers was an administrator for Region V Education Service Center.

She received her B.S. from Lamar University and her Masters Degree from Texas A&M.

Mrs. Myers claims her years of college training and consulting as her most valuable experiences.

She has also served in various posts related to diagnostic work and was a therapist at the Irene Stacy Community Mental Health Center in Butler, Pa.

Mrs. Myers, who was elected to the Outstanding Young Women of America in 1970, has also written several publications relating to early childhood, behavior management and supervision skills.

Mrs. Myers has developed a special interest in behavior management. For several years, she has received instruction in research and techniques for implementing behavioral programs.

She has conducted approximately 300 groups for a variety of public and private agencies.

Mrs. Myers has also taught courses at Lamar University in both the Department of Continuing Education and the Department of Special Education.

In addition to her private consulting practice, she has been engaged to address the membership of several state conferences regarding the positive approach to changing behavior.

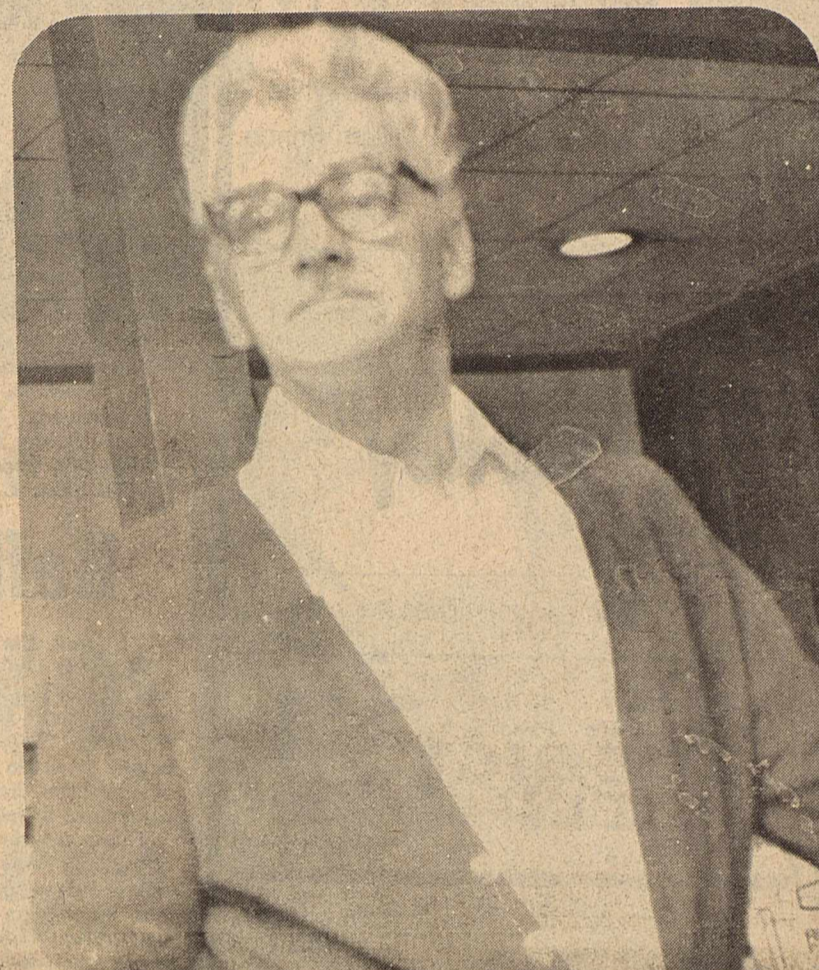

For the past six years Neurosurgical Associates of Steubenville, Oh., has retained Mrs. Myers as a behavior specialist on a regular consultative basis.

Local people who have attended Mrs. Myers' programs describe them as very informal and low-key and as very interesting, informative sessions.

The program is scheduled for Thursday in the Sonora High School CVEA Building beginning at 7:30 p.m. and is open to the public.

The FHA will provide free baby sitting in the homemaking room during the program.

Ernie Budd has been hired as the new airport manager by the Sonora Airport Board, according to board member Joe Klowski. Budd and his wife Rose were formerly in Van Horn where he was airport manager there. "We really like the city and have found the people very friendly," Budd said. "We hope to remain here a long time." The Budds have four sons, all married.

Turkey Walk Set For This Saturday

Potential walkers in the first annual Sutton County Turkey Walk will be knocking on doors and ringing telephones around the community between now and Saturday, according to Rev. Jim Miles, President of the local chapter of the American Heart Association.

Walkers are attempting to gather pledges of 25c to $1 or more per mile from local persons as they make preparations to walk the 16 mile course on Saturday.

Those who wish to participate by walking may pick up forms at most local business or at the schools.

Walkers will gather in the parking lot of the First Methodist Church at 9 this Saturday morning.

Minors are reminded that parental permission slips must be signed before they are eligible to enter the walk.

Those who earn $50 or more will receive a certificate redeemable for a turkey.

The public is encouraged to support the walkers and to help stop America's number one killer, heart disease.

Firemen Host Shoot

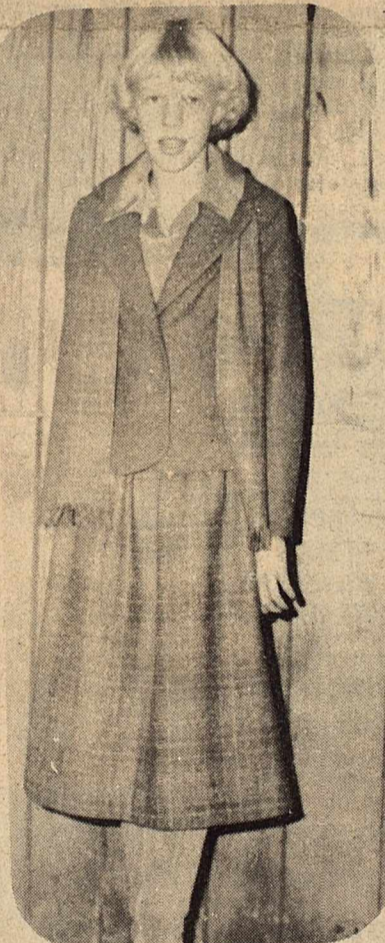

The Sonora Volunteer Fire Department will hold a turkey shoot Saturday at the caliche pit next to the Cemetery and the HNG office from 9 a.m. til 5 p.m.

The entrants will shoot free-handed at 100 yards and will have the choice of using a scope if they wish.

The skeet shoot will consist of five shooters with 10 birds apiece with the winner to receive a turkey.

For more details contact any member of the fire department.

The firemen urge as many people as possible to enter as they do need the funds.

Lora Lee Kordzik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kordzik, tied for first place in the pre-teen division of the District Make It Yourself with Wool Contest held in Mason last Saturday.

Bud Smith, Sonora volunteer fireman, sprays down the S&S Casing office as other trucks get hooked up to combat the fire last Wednesday night. The fire started around 7:30 p.m. and was a total loss, but the quick action of the fire department prevented any other serious damage.

Members of the Sonora Bronco Band celebrate after the announcement of their number one rating after the U.I.L. Marching Contest held Saturday in Brady.

The band received a 'one' from all three judges. Sonora and Brady were the only two Class AA bands Reflections...

by Rev. Jim Miles
Election day has come and gone. The smoke has begun to clear, and hopefully the mud has begun to settle after one of the most hard fought campaigns in recent years. There are three groups of people who will be talking about the election this week. As I reflect upon them, I would like to share the following insights.
First, there are those whose candidates were elected. Their responsibility is to be humble to victory, and to see, over the next years, that these candidates do what they promised.

Then, second, there are those whose candidates were beaten. It falls their lot to be honorable in defeat. They bear the burden of being the loyal opposition in this nation where the majority rules.
Finally, there are the great majority who will cry the loudest, complain the most, and perennially shout loudly and vociferously from the housetops that the country is going to the dogs.
These are the non-voters, those whose apathy denied the country of an important opinion.

To this final group we must say you have no complaint coming.
Paul wrote in his letters of the responsibility of Christians as "citizens." It is more than our right, it is our obligation as the body of Christ to cast our ballots for those who will represent us to see that the rights of all are protected and the cause of Christ is furthered as much as it is possible in this imperfect world.
To ignore the voting booth is to miss the mark of personal Christian integrity.

and rescue the one in the water.
Nearby a young lady sat in a boat equipped with oars but she made no move to save the man thrashing in the water and calling out for help. Someone in another boat saw what was going on and rushed to the scene to pull the young man out. As they passed by the young lady who did nothing they asked her why she hadn't acted. She replied sweetly, "But I prayed for him."
This is the sort of thing that turns people off from Christianity and yet it does not represent anything but an aberration. The young lady said she prayed for the college student in trouble, but not really!
If her prayer had been sincere she would have placed herself at God's disposal for a positive answer to the prayer. She would have been praying for God to help her as she rowed and risked herself for another. Instead, she thought she would just shift the responsibility to God and praise or blame him for whatever happened.
Christianity, on the other hand, proclaims that in Christ is the Word made flesh.
God in Christ is no spiritual apparition. We see Christ meeting the world and its' challenges to his ministry. He lets us know that we live our eternity now and that what we do or don't do is significant here and hereafter.
It makes all the difference in the world what we do with the material of life, whether it be our bodies or our substance. Whatever of this world is dedicated and given to God for his use are means of grace to those who receive it. Christ gives us the courage to dare and to do, to risk and to trust.

Stieff reproduces George Washington's only luxury at Valley Forge.

The authentic Washington Camp Cup.

The originals were made in 1777 of melted-down silver dollars. They were the only touch of elegance Washington allowed himself in his austere winter camp.

Now the Valley Forge Historical Society has appointed Stieff - only Stieff - to reproduce for your pleasure these graceful tumblers. And with good reason. Stieff reproductions are as authentic as history. Come in and examine the 8 ounce Washington Camp Cup. In sterling and pewter.

Second Grade Says Thanks

Halloween has come and gone. Costumes have been packed away for next year, and decorations have been taken down. But thoughts of witches and vampires remain, and the second grade teachers and students would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the people responsible for making our "Spook House" at the Halloween Carnival such a success.

First, a special thanks to Friess Brothers Feed for the use of their truck and to Joe Friess for such constructive ideas.

Also, a thanks to Bruce Kerbow for the use of one large wooden box and to Steven Chandler, who delivered it.

To Jane Lynch and Charles Russell, who made excellent vampires, and to all of these parents and friends, who gave so willingly of their time and effort: Mary Adele Balch, Pat Burnett, Linda Cayce, Sue Flynn, Rex Ann Friess, James Merrill, Judy Miles, Linda Perkins, Cheryl Skains, Melissa Teaff, Linda Todd, and Frances West, we say "thank you".

We appreciate it.

Nora Galindo Semi-Finalist In Miss Teenage Pageant

Nora Galindo of Sonora is one of the 36 semi-finalists for the 1979 Miss Teenage Abilene Competition, announced Ducan Associates, Pageant Coordinators.

The semi-finalists represent 18 area high schools and junior highs from the 25-county distribution area of the Dr Pepper Bottling Company of Abilene. The 36 semi-finalists for the Miss Teenage Abilene title were selected from a field of 88 candidates representing 21 towns from the 25-county area.

The girls were selected on the basis of test scores from a written evaluation held Tuesday, October 24.

The semi-finalists will now go on to participate in preliminary judging Saturday, November 4.

After completing preliminary judging, the semi-finalists will begin rehearsals for the Miss Teenage Abilene Pageant, which is sponsored each year by the Dr Pepper Bottling Company of Abilene.

The current Miss Teenage Abilene is Margaret Massey of Abilene.

Janice Grider Weds Mark Holt Saturday

Miss Janice Gail Grider became the bride of Mark Holt Saturday, November 4 in candlelight ceremonies held at the local First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Clifton Hancock, pastor of the church, officiated. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Don Grider and Mr. and Mrs. Elton Holt, of Sonora. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Grider of Abilene are grandparents of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of sata sheer enriched with re-embroidered lace and long bishop sleeves. The see-thru neckline was accented by a crystal pleat covering falling over the empire bodice.

A soft semi-flow shirt and chapel length train fell to a semi-flow ruffle that marked the hemline. Her veil was of illusion enhanced with lace medallions and held by a Camelot hat.

She carried a nosegay of daisies and baby's breath with velvet streamers.

Mrs. Jack Prough of Abilene, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Miss Mendy Holt, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Wayne Doyle and Mrs. Sharon McLeod of Abilene, were bridesmaids.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Steve Drake of Corpus Christi. Groomsmen were Arnold Norman, Jim Gulley and Jack Lawson, all of Sonora.

Ushering guests were Mel Holt, brother of the bridegroom; Scott Brasher, and the bride's brother, Kerry Grider of Dallas.

The bride's nephew, Donald Prough of Abilene, was candlelighter and ring bearer.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Sonora High School. She is presently employed by Braden Motors and her husband is an employee of Halliburton.

Following a short wedding trip to Corpus Christi, the couple will make their home in Sonora.

Miss Grider, Party Honoree

A bridesmaids luncheon was held Saturday at the home of Mrs. Jack Kerbow honoring Miss Janice Grider.

Hosting were Mrs. Kerbow, Mrs. George Wallace and Mrs. Pete Thompson.

The bride's chosen color of blue was used to decorate the party rooms.

A salad plate and dessert was served.

Along with the honoree, those in attendance were the bride's mother, Mrs. Don Grider; her grandmothers, Mrs. Dick Dickerson of Lockesburg, Ark. and Mrs. R.C. Grider of Abilene; the bride's sister, Mrs. Jack Prough of Abilene; the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Elton Holt; his grandmother, Mrs. Nina B. Puckett; and his sister, Miss Mendy Holt.

Others attending were Mrs. James Wilson and Mrs. Wayne Doyle.

Nursing Home Celebrates Halloween

Residents of the local nursing homes were entertained with a Halloween party at the nursing home October 30.

Local merchants, Modern Way Grocery, Food Center, Hershel's Foodway and members of the First Baptist Church GA's, contributed candy for the affair.

Members of the nursing home wish to extend thanks to the above merchants for making the party a success.

Haynie Davis Celebrates Ranching

Sunday, November 12, 1978, is an important day for G.H. (Haynie) Davis, for it marks the seventy-fifth year that he has lived and ranched in Sutton County.

Mr. Davis arrived in Sutton County by covered wagon, together with his parents, brothers, and sisters, the evening of November 12, 1903.

Except for time spent at A&M College and in the United States Navy, he has ranched continuously north of the Sonora city limits.

His daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Tedford, are honoring him with an informal reception at the Davis Ranch home from 2 until 5 p.m., Sunday, November 12.

Friends are cordially invited to drop by to visit with Haynie and Florence as they celebrate this occasion.

Annual or Yearly Angora Field Day Held Last Wednesday

The annual Angora Goat Field Day was held last Wednesday at the Texas Experiment Station with over 120 people attending a series of informative lectures concerning the goat business.

report on the use of range management to improve nutrition and production in goats.

lunch, Ford Oglesby, an independent mohair buyer from Eldorado, gave an explanation of marketing practices used by growers and warehousemen to improve buyer acceptance of mohair.

Austin Millsbaugh, executive director of the Mohair Council of America, presented a report on the past year's activities by the Council and outlined other ongoing or upcoming programs.

Sonora rancher Armer Earwood presented a program on the selection of Angora goats for improved kid crops and hair production.

Jack Groff, a sheep and goat specialist with the TAES in Kerrville, reported on the chute cutting of Angora goats to aid in marketing mohair.

Dr. Carl Menzie, Resident Director of the Texas Experiment Station in San Angelo presented a report on the present and proposed Angora goat research.

Dr. George Ahlschwede, sheep and goat specialist with the TAES in San Angelo, conducted the observation of Angora goats in pens, explaining the results of varying demonstrations.

The field day was co-sponsored by Texas A&M University, Star Sheep and Goat Task Force, Texas Wool and Mohair Warehouse Association, Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association and the Mohair Council of America.

Ranchers Beware

Frost Can Produce Prussic Acid Poisoning

Frost will be hitting Sutton county before long, and this could lead to prussic acid poisoning in livestock grazing certain pasture grasses and forages, points out Clint

Langford, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Although many plants contain the toxic material that causes poisoning, those causing the highest mortality in livestock when grazed after they have been frozen and wilted are Johnson and Sudan grasses and sorghum or hybrids of these.

rain. As far as prussic acid poisoning is concerned, the poison acts rapidly and can kill animals within minutes. In most acute cases, animals become affected within 10-15 minutes after eating toxic material and can die in two or three minutes.

is not exchanged to the tissues. This also causes the blood to appear bright red. To prevent prussic acid poisoning in livestock, Clint outlines these steps:

Glen Fisher's Wool and Mohair Report

The mohair market remains strong although demand is still somewhat weak for yearling type hair. A sale in Uvalde last week produced very good prices and approximately 150,000 pounds was sold. The adult went from $5.08 to $5.40, the higher prices being paid for what was described as fine adult. The yearling hair sold from $5.40 to $6.50 with the bulk bringing $5.70 to $5.90. After that sale, their is only about 200,000 pounds of hair left in Texas; most all of it is yearling. Here at Sonora we have near 50,000 pounds of yearling and will probably have a sale in a week or two if it has not moved. Some contracting is taking place for spring adult with prices staying around $4.50. A few firms are inching up slightly and competition may force the contract prices higher as we get closer to the spring shearing season. Last week a sale was held in Africa on the Basuto hair which is a little lower quality than the South African clip. I have not received reports on that sale. Also, the 5th South African sale was held yesterday. This leaves them with only two more sales and one more Basuto sale to close out their fall sales.

College Station or Amarillo. Local veterinarians will be happy to submit samples for you.

The overall key to preventing prussic acid poisoning in livestock is to be aware of plant materials that may cause poisoning and then to keep cattle from grazing such plants until a safe period has passed, points out Clint.

Questionnaires Sent To Area Ranchers

From mid-November to early January, many Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop or livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service or will be personally interviewed by the Service's field staff.

Accurate estimates have always been of great importance to producers and are even more important in light of the supply-demand situation facing agriculture today. Data collected in this survey will provide an accurate picture of agriculture for each county and for the state of Texas. Each farmer or rancher receiving a questionnaire is urged to fill it out carefully and return it promptly to the Agricultural Statistician in Austin. Individual reports are confidential and used only for state and county estimates.

Second Thoughts...

by Tom Driskell
Contemplating what one is told is a new dawn on the political and economic horizons there is a sneaking intuitive feeling that the possibility exists that the solar disk may be going down instead of up a harbinger of a somewhat dark period. Further investigation reveals that intuition and logic may not be that far apart.

Carter proved himself to be a true Southerner, but somehow he inverted the postulates of Jeb Stuart, and charged into the economic fray "lastest with the leastest". His economic program was beautiful, as far as it went, but then the ghost of voluntary restraint reared its ugly head. Its effectiveness is about the same as a temperance lecture to an alcoholic who has just fallen off the wagon, and been run over by it, after five years of sobriety.

One must, however, sympathize with President Carter, the buzzards of forty years of Democratic fiscal impropriety are coming home to roost and you and I find ourselves under the roost. The result is not too difficult to anticipate, nor the recipients of the undesirable effects too difficult to identify.

Carter and his staff are indirectly talking to you and me. The delay has placed our dollars at the benevolent mercy of the Japanese, the Arabs, the Germans, and down the road the Mexicans. You and I must restrict our consumption of imports; gasoline or whatever. We must seek our American products and stick to purchasing them. Our labor force must produce its output at a competitive price. We cannot restrict the purchase of imports by trade barriers, but it is imperative that we restrict them by individual effort. If you and I fail in this, our next generation will be back to outhouses and we can use the dollar to keep the drafts out, it will hardly have enough retained value for that purpose. It is up to us as individuals to prove that we are capable of self government through self control. This is a rather urgent matter, because much of the free world hangs on our economic well being. In this struggle, we have one certainty; no help can be anticipated from a plastic bureaucracy, especially one tainted with corruption.

Comedy talkathon is over, thank goodness. It was a terrific deluge on television, with actors demonstrating a sincerity worthy of an academy award. The ongoing farce with more episodes than any self respecting "soap opera" would dare exhibit was titled "Political Campaign". A friend of mine taped much of it, and we plan to bury the tape in his rose garden, anticipating prize roses as the result.

Down to bare essentials, probably the only significant thing in the recently past election was the fourteen year in the senate seat. Seniority is the paramount rule that the congressional game (and from the results it has to be some sort of inane game) is played by. Granted equal incompetence one who never had his name on a bill, and one who avoided pointing out how many bills with his name on them passed—seniority stands out as the issue. Could we Texans, in the light of diminished influence due to loss of seniority in Congress afford to sacrifice fourteen years more? Time will tell, if a recession comes, and the risk is high, Republican seniority might be an asset.

One wonders to what lengths the deterioration must go to grigger corrective action, and make those "Super Congressman" to be, as described by themselves, in their campaigns, to get to the problems at hand instead of digging through past rubbish looking for a faux pas of bygone days. The responsibility still rests with the voter—Did you vote?

Work got into full swing last week on the addition to the present Church of Christ Building. When completed two classrooms, a meeting room and an enlargement of the auditorium will be added. Members are doing the majority of the work themselves.

Drilling Permits Down for '78

Applications for permits to drill oil and gas tests in Texas totaled 16,747 in the first 10 months of 1978, compared with 19,869 in the same period of 1977.

Applications to drill, deepen, plug back and for service wells in the 1978 period amounted to 19,723 against 23,103 in the year-earlier period, the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division reported in a preliminary summary.

The report showed 968 applications to drill new oil and gas tests were filed from Oct. 16 through Oct. 31, 1978. Applications to drill oil and gas tests totaled 1,194 in the year-earlier period.

The report also showed 24 oil discoveries and 46 gas discoveries were completed in Texas in the Oct. 16-31 period.

Oil discoveries included six in West Central Texas, three each in the Refugio, Southeast Texas, San Angelo, and Midland areas, two each in deep South Texas and the North Texas areas, and one each in the San Antonio, East Texas and the Panhandle areas.

Gas discoveries included 18 in the Refugio area, 17 in deep South Texas, five in West Central Texas, three in Southeast Texas and one each in the San Antonio, East Central Texas and East Texas areas.

The Oil and Gas Division listed 11,859 oil, gas or service well completions in the first ten months of 1978, up from 10,933 a year ago.

There were 349 oil completions in the second half of October 1978 against 350 in the same period last year. There were 214 gas completions in the 1978 period against 219 in the year-ago month.

In the Oct. 16-31 period, 161 exploratory and field tests wound up as dry holes.

Oil Allowable Down

Average calendar day allowable of Texas oil production as of November 1 totaled 3,605,304 barrels the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division reports.

This legal rate of flow from 181,358 wells on allowable schedules compares with 3,629,610 barrels daily on October 15 when 182,204 wells were listed.

Estimated actual production in November is approximately 2,829,000 barrels daily and compares with actual production of 2,981,685 barrels in the same month last year.

The Commission lists 9,109 oil fields in the state on November 1.

Poerner Addresses Energy Bill Problems

Railroad Commissioner John H. Poerner assured a large group of Texas natural gas operators that the Railroad Commission will try its best to simplify burdensome new rules caused by the very complicated natural gas legislation recently passed by Congress.

Intent of the Natural Gas Act of 1978 is for the states affected to administer some provisions of the legislation. Poerner was the luncheon speaker during the third day of a gas proration rules and forms educational seminar put on by the Railroad Commission for gas operators. Purpose of the seminar is to familiarize operators with the forms and filing procedures of the Commission.

Poerner said the Commission has already begun the process of learning the finer details of the new federal natural gas legislation which is expected to be signed into law soon.

"It is incumbent upon the Railroad Commission to administer the provisions of the bill to the best of our ability even though it may be contested in the courts," he said.

According to the energy and transportation official, the Commission's legal staff has spent many long hours in Washington trying to persuade the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission to accept the RRC's data and procedures without the necessity of very costly and detailed data that will add to the administrative burden.

"We will attempt to minimize confusion and to issue rules and regulations that are concise and not ambiguous," Poerner assured his audience.

In his talk, Poerner gain pointed to the unfairness of the energy legislation as it affects Texas and other major energy producing states: "The State of Texas compares to the child of a large family who saved his money, planned for future hard times, and when shortages did occur, was called upon to share with his brothers and sisters."

"The passage of the Natural Gas Act of 1978, soon to be signed by the President, tracks that line of thinking. The President will have the power to allocate our reserves to other states that have not planned for the future."

Poerner asserted that historically, federal legislation has destroyed many of the benefits that were rightfully Texas', pointing to the millions of acres of public lands which our (state's) forefathers set aside for the benefit of public education and which will now be disturbed under the federal energy law.

"We as Texans and primarily you, as gas producers of this state, have all been high on action and low on administrative debate," Poerner maintained. "Your production has paid for so much of our education and one-fourth of the cost of our state government."

Poerner concluded: "I want to assure you that this is one Railroad Commissioner who will continue to fight for your independence to produce with the least amount of regulation and intervention."

Grass Tetany Threat to Cattle Herds

Cattle in some parts of Texas may find lush forage to their liking this time of the year, but the grass could be a "death trap."

The problem afflicting cattle, especially cows in late pregnancy or early lactation, is known as grass tetany or grass staggers, points out Don Dorsett, forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Grass tetany is caused by a deficiency of magnesium in the animal's diet," explains Dorsett. The problem is most prevalent in early spring and late fall when forage is often lush but is low in magnesium. Dry grasses can also be a factor once cold weather hits.

"Grass tetany is most often a problem when cows are on a strict grass diet. It is particularly prevalent in pregnant cows or those with young calves that have a high energy requirement which cannot be met with grass alone," notes Dorsett.

To prevent grass tetany, the specialist suggests supplementing cattle, especially cows, with a grain or other high energy, magnesium containing feed and establishing legumes in grass pastures.

Legumes contain adequate amounts of magnesium to meet animal requirements.

When should a cattleman suspect grass tetany in his herd?

"The physical symptoms are broad and include a depressed appetite, nervousness, stiff movements, twitching of the muscles, extreme excitement, grating of teeth, convulsions, coma and finally death of the animal," explains Dorsett. "From the onset of the symptoms until coma usually takes less than 10 hours, and few animals survive once coma is reached."

Although physical symptoms of grass tetany appear suddenly, the condition actually occurs over a period of several weeks, notes the specialist. Live-stock can store magnesium in their bones, and during short periods of deficiency in feed, they have the ability to use this magnesium. However, when the stored supply is exhausted, the physical symptoms appear, first in older animals.

Oil Production Down

Texas oil production averaged 2,817,440 barrels daily in August 1978, down from 2,828,540 barrels daily in July.

The August allowable totaled 113,066,296 barrels for the month.

The preliminary August summary indicated Texas oil production was 22.75 percent under the allowable for that month.

Reported and estimated unreported production of Texas crude oil totaled 87,340,653 barrels in August 1978, the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division reports.

Broncos Face Crucial Test

With the possibility of a district championship hanging precariously on the odds of a coin flip, the Sonora Broncos face a must-win situation as they entertain the Crane Golden Cranes at 8 p.m. Friday night.

The Cranes sport a strong offense. Rocky Rives is a super passer and running backs Dwayne Draper and Carl Gibbs are both among the top rushers in the district.

Through their first six games Rives had hit on 38 of 80 passes for 674 yards, six touchdowns with five interceptions. His three favorite receivers are Andrew Hannon (15 catches for 381 yards and four touchdowns), Rodney Roussarie (eight catches for 154 yards and one touchdown) and Gilbert Sena (12 catches for 118 yards and one touchdown).

Going into last week's game at Ozona Gibbs was second among the league's runners with 537 yards on 92 carries, and Draper was fourth with 478 yards on 117 carries.

The Golden Cranes also sport a very solid defense according to Hopkins, running basically a five-man front with a lot of stunting.

A slot-T formation was the best description Hopkins could give of the Crane offensive alignment.

The Broncos staged an almost miraculous fourth quarter charge to tie Kermit 14-14 Friday night after suffering the first three periods in the doldrums.

Fullback Wayne McLaughlin scored twice on runs of six yards and one foot to give the Broncos a chance at the district title.

The first touchdown was set up after R.B. Alexander recovered a fumble, and the second drive came after a short Kermit game.

Hopkins had no explanation for the sudden turnaround in the final stanza, saying only that the team got some good breaks and was able to take advantage of them.

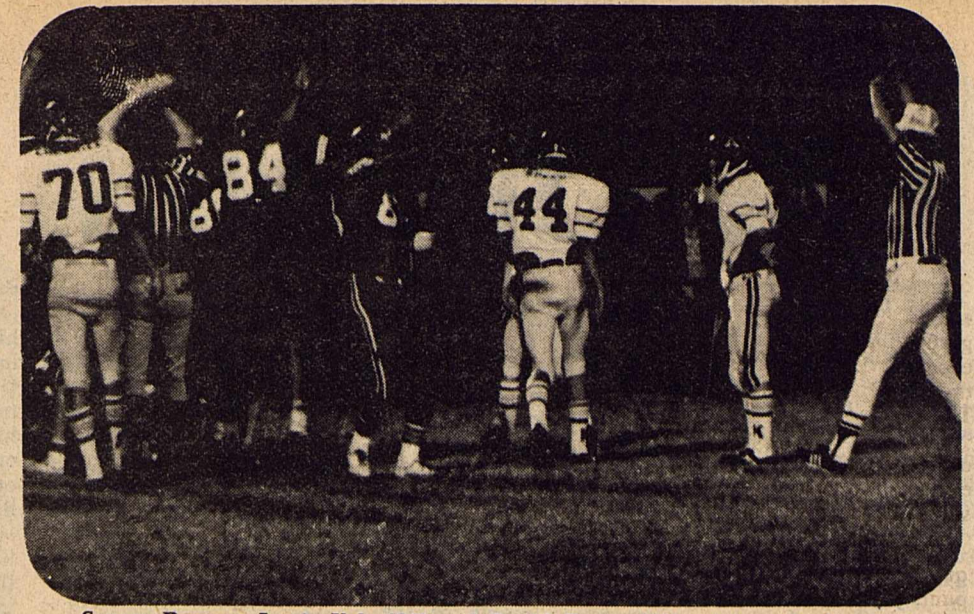

The Bronco mentor said the squad was making a lot of mental mistakes and the timing was poor, although the game film showed they actually played better than anyone had thought.

"We don't really plan to do anything different against Crane," Hopkins said, "but their stunting defense does take away some things you can do."

The Red Hosses should be in good shape for the Friday night clash with Manuel Lopez, out since the second game of the year, and David Sanchez, absent from last week's contest with a hand injury, back in action.

Hopkins noted John Paul Bautista as having a good game blocking on the offensive line while George Wipff had an outstanding game on defense.

Sonora Broncos Jesse Vela [84] and David Reyna [83] celebrated after R.B. Alexander's fumble recovery. The recovery set up the start of a Sonora rally which saw the Broncos score two touchdowns to tie the Kermit Yellowjackets, 14-14. The Broncos will host Ozona Friday night at 8 p.m. in a crucial district contest.

Seventh Graders Clobber Junction Eagles in 12 - 0 Rout

by Coach Charles Adams

The Sonora seventh grade Colts defeated an excellent Junction team by the score of 14-0 last Thursday.

It was a very physical contest as the hitting was extremely tough by both sides.

After a scoreless first quarter and exchange of punts, the Colts finally got going.

They drove the ball to the Junction six-yard line where Junction got tough. After several run attempts and two holding penalties the Colts were faced with a fourth and goal from the 35-yard line.

The Colts faked the sweep and Wendell Yarborough passed to Jay Thomas for the TD.

The Colts lined up as if to kick and holder Drew Wallace pitched the ball to Yarborough who covered the distance for the two points.

The Colts got another break just before the half when with 32 seconds left, Jeff Brittain blocked a Junction punt, and Sonora took over on the Junction 25-yard line.

On the next play Yarborough covered the 25 yards for the TD on a well-executed reverse play.

The extra point kick failed. This left the score 14-0 in favor of the Colts at halftime.

The second half saw Junction control the ball for all but 12 plays.

The defense, led by Ronnie Pollard, held together and did not let Junction score.

The Colts got a real scare in the middle of the third quarter when quarterback Brittain was injured and had to leave the field by ambulance.

He suffered a back injury, but is responding well and should play in Thursday night's game.

The Colts fought hard as they overcame 244 yards of penalties.

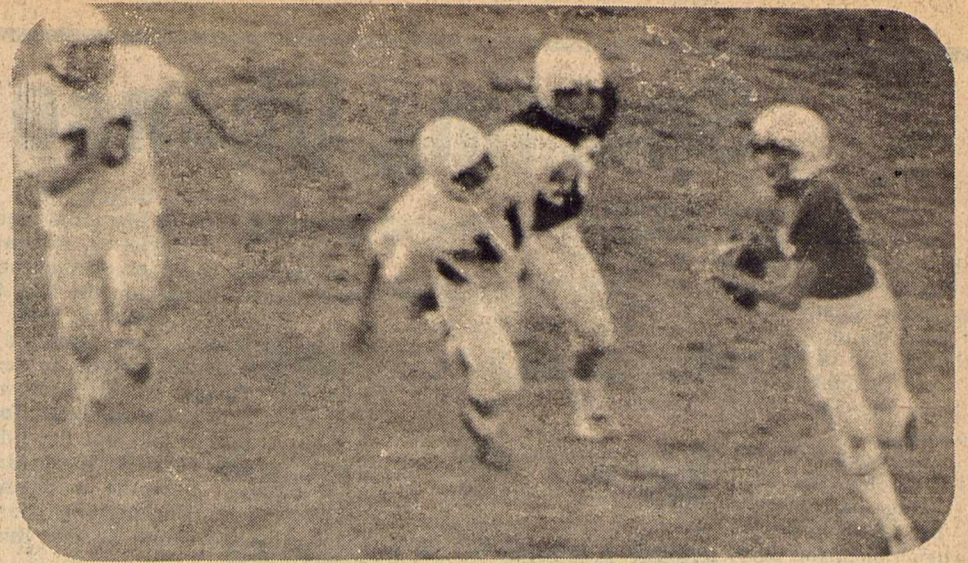

It was a good team effort and makes the season record stand at 4-3. The yardage totals were 149 yards rushing and 118 passing.

Yarborough had 57 yards on six carries and 45 yards receiving on two catches.

Vaughn had 45 yards on four carries; Martinez, 20 yards on four carries; Thomas, 16 yards on four carries and 35 yards receiving on two catches.

The Colts play Ozona here at 4:30 Thursday. This is the final game of the season so come and support the Colts.

Seventh grade quarterback Jeff Brittain rolls out for a gain in Thursday's 14-0 win over Junction. Brittain suffered a back injury later in the game, but is expected to play this Thursday against Ozona.

Sporting Chance

by Don Holdridge

Head coaches must have the most insecure jobs in the world next to a guide on Mt. Everest.

Emory Ballard is gone at A&M. Grant Teaff is probably already packing his bags at Baylor and Tom Landry better get the Cowboys going before he's the ex-dean of NFL coaches.

And to think I have such a plushy job. At least that's the way things seemed after this week's picking.

I managed to hit 16 out of 18, making me 135 of 178 for the season, a .758 percentage.

Things have really improved in my life now.

My wife has moved back home, my dog licks me when I open the door, the bank is now offering me more credit and my boss has just signed me to a long term, no cut, no trade contract (he cut my pay to do it, but three out of four ain't bad).

If I were smart I would probably quit while I'm back here, but if I were that smart, I'd be working somewhere else.

Sonora vs. Crane

"If" the Broncos can pull this game out, they could almost guarantee at least a tie for district. That could be a big "if". Sonora 21-14.

Eldorado vs. Junction

There are probably a few Class A teams around who can beat Junction, but unfortunately Eldorado isn't one of them. Junction 28-6.

Angelo State vs. Sam Houston

The Rams could be prime targets for an upset, riding a high after their strong showing last week. The Bearkats have been giant killers this year, but ASU will squeak by. Angelo State 21-17.

Southwest Texas vs. Abilene Christian

After getting whipped last week the Bobcats can't afford to lose another one if they want a shot at a NAIA playoff berth. Southwest Texas 17-6.

Texas vs. Houston

Anybody who can stop Danny Davis can probably beat the Cougars, but only one team has been able to this year. If anyone can stop him, it will be the Longhorn defense. Besides, they nearly always find some way to win in Memorial Stadium. Texas 28-21.

Baylor vs. Arkansas

If Baptists could excommunicate members, Grant Teaff would be next on the list. Arkansas 28-10.

Rice vs. SMU

The Methodists have promoted Ron Meyer, Mike Ford and Emanuel Tolbert to sainthood. Next year they'll be elevated to objects of worship. SMU 35-21.

TCU vs. Texas Tech

The contest should win the "dullest game of the week" award. Texas Tech (Ho-Hum) 17-0.

Nebraska vs. Oklahoma

Texas State University at Norman keeps rolling along, but not quite as fast this week. Oklahoma 31-17.

Louisiana State vs. Alabama

Bear Bryant clinches another Southeast Conference championship. So what else is new. Alabama 31-24.

New England vs. Houston

It's the Houston "Earliers" down week again. After Sunday Bum Phillips will have to say "wait until next year" again. New England 24-21.

Los Angeles vs. Pittsburgh

If I could get away with picking a tie I would, but I can't. The Steelers should be due to lose, though. Los Angeles 17-16.

Washington vs. New York Giants

The Redskins have never been great at holding a lead in the NFC East, only at catching up when they appeared to be out of the race. New York 21-19.

Green Bay vs. Dallas

The Cowboys have gone through their annual midseason four-game loss slump, so now they can get down to business—I think. Dallas 23-17.

Other Picks...

Philadelphia over New York Jets, 14-13; St. Louis over San Francisco, 31-10; Atlanta over New Orleans, 27-21; Cleveland over Denver, 14-10; Miami over Buffalo, 23-13; Tampa Bay over Detroit, 17-7; Minnesota over Chicago, 21-9.

Lou McMillon Cookie Chairman For GSA

Sonora Neighborhood Chairman Marlene Evans is pleased to announce the "Cookie Chairman" for Sonora will be Lou McMillon.

This position is one of the most important in the neighborhood Scouting program. Selling cookies is the big money making project for all levels in Girl Scouts. The success of this project is very important to each girl and troop.

Lou McMillon is another example of the busy person who still finds time to volunteer and give of herself to scouting. This is the third year for Lou as Sonora Cookie Chairman, and, we in scouting have nothing but praise for her. Lou has a talent for making everything go on schedule without undo stress.

The reason Lou gives? "I thoroughly enjoy scouts. It is so important to be involved with children and to help them form good habits that will guide them all their lives. I am not able to do alot, but I can help in this way".

Lou is married to C.A. McMillon, and has two children, Mike a freshman and Gina a fourth grader. They have a niece Linda, also a freshman, living with them. Mr. and Mrs. McMillon own and operate the Sonora Texaco service station and attend St. Ann's Church.

Bronco Bits

by Annabelle Gonzales

There was an extra amount of nervous excitement in the SHS halls this last week. The Broncos were going to play their first district ballgame against the Kermit Yellowjackets and the Mighty Bronco Band was going to Brady to compete in the UIL Marching Contest.

Congratulations to Ed Martinez and the Mighty Bronco Band for a job well done. They received a number one rating in the UIL Marching contest held Saturday, November 4. The band performed a fine routine, for all three judges awarded the Band with number one ratings.

The Mighty Bronco Band now has only two more steps to climb. They still have the Sight Reading and Concert contests. If they receive the number one rating in these two divisions, the band will receive the Sweepstakes. Good luck, Band.

The cheerleaders and GAA's put out a great deal of hard work this week. They set out Thursday morning with white shoe polish and painted all the cars near and on campus.

They made signs for the Varsity football players which said "To be proud is to be a Bronco." They had both the players' names and numbers painted on it with a picture of the Bronco. These were distributed to the players first period Friday morning.

Linda Smith, one of the Bronco cheerleaders, wrote a poem which included all the names of the Varsity players. This poem was read over the intercom system Friday morning.

The SHS halls were decorated with more signs and posters than usual. The band marched through the halls Friday afternoon and had the rest of the student body follow them to the pep rally.

The gym was also decorated. The poles and rails were wrapped with red and white streamers and balloons. A cake and cupcakes were made for the coaches and players. They were covered with white icing and had a red number one on top of them.

The pep rally was extra loud last Friday. The spirit plaque yell was won by the Juniors. The student body stood up through most of the pep rally. The student body is proud of the Broncos and support them.

The Broncos played a tough physical game against Kermit Friday. The score was tied 14-14.

The Broncos will play their next district ballgame against Crane, Friday, November 8, at 8 p.m. This will be their last home game.

This will also be the homecoming game and the football sweetheart will be announced. GAA members are selling mums for this occasion. Orders may be placed by calling the High School or by contacting a GAA member.

Thought for the week: "Don't think about what you could have done, but rather what you will do. Beat Crane!!"

Smoke Out Set For Nov. 16

The Great American Smoke Out has been set by the American Cancer Society for Thursday, November 16, 1978. This is a day when all smokers are encouraged to stop smoking for one day. The hope is, of course, that some who quit for one day might take that as an opportunity to decide to quit, period.

Last year's statistics indicate that a significant percentage of those who quit for the day had not begun smoking again for at least a month.

The Sutton County Unit of the AMCS will give you an opportunity to sign up for this one day of no smoking, probably on Friday, Nov. 10, by having two down town locations with material available. Watch for it.

Girl Scouts Want More Members

Sonora Girl Scouts have started with a bang! The town of Sonora has seen during this last month an example of Girl Scouts in action.

All of the Girl Scouts are excited with the activities and projects planned for the next few months.

It is not too late. There is still time for girls to sign up for scouting this year. We want many more girls active in scouting. Call 387-5254 or 387-2110 to find out which day your child will meet. With 10 troops meeting each week, we can find the day which best suits your daughter. Don't wait! Call today and start your daughter building memories that will last a lifetime. Join Girl Scouts today! Call 387-5254 or 387-2110.

Mums On Sale

Anyone who wishes to purchase a mum may call the school office at 387-3055 if you are not acquainted with a GAA member.

Members of the Girl's Athletic Association will be selling mums for the Crane football game to be held here November 10.

Deadline for orders is Wednesday, November 8.
