Halliburton Does Record Fracture Job Near Sonora

The Sonora District of Halliburton Services completed a record frac job Wednesday, September 19. The job was on the Morriss Brothers well A-#1 located some 25 miles south-southwest of Sonora in a region known as the Caverns Blacktop.

According to Max Martin, Amoco spokesman, "the job was unusual because of the attempted high rate and high pressure for this area." Approximately 63,000 gallons of frac fluid and 140,000 pounds of 20-40 frac sand were pumped into the strawn limestone formation at a rate of 12 barrels a minute. The maximum treating pressure achieved on this job was 12 thousand pounds per square inch, and the pumping rate averaged 23 1/2 barrels a minute. Pumping was completed in one hour due to the high pumping rate.

This job was the first of its kind for Amoco in this area. They have, in the past, pumped at a rate of 12 barrels a minute with the maximum pressure at 8 to 9 thousand pounds per square inch. The high pressure and pumping rate achieved on this job had not, until now, been achieved in this area.

Halliburton had approximately 20 pieces of equipment on the location, and a number of key representatives from both Halliburton and Amoco were on hand for the job.

The end of a long day. Halliburton and Amoco located on the Morriss Brothers ranch southwest of Sonora last Wednesday. personnel completed a record frac job on this well.

The West Texas Flyers had a fly-in here in Sonora last weekend. The flying club from around West Texas flew here to spend the weekend in Sonora and tour the

The Bronco JV beat Big Lake last week 14-8. Pictured above the Bronco ballcarrier is tackled after the gain. Leading the blocking are No. 50, John Pollard, No. 75, Tom Schabel, and No. 33, Scott Savell.

"Crazi Raz"

Sonora-Eldorado Have Good Chance To Win

Through three weeks, "Crazi Raz" is batting 74%. Last week's predictions were four of fourteen with Tech and Arizona finishing in a tie. Upsets took their toll on "Crazi Raz" and the football contest entrants. The biggest upset had to be the A&M - Penn St. game. Now the Aggie fans do not have to ask the question, "who is Tom Wilson."

In attempting to keep the same teams in the prediction mill, there are a few lame ducks in this one, but here goes, anyway.

Sonora vs. Big Lake. The Broncos will have another good football team to play this week. Big Lake is solid all the way through. But, being somewhat prejudiced, "Crazi Raz" will stick with Sonora by 6. Eldorado vs. McCamey. The Eagles suffered their first loss last week but McCamey won't be as tough as Ozona. Eldorado by 12.

Angelo St. vs. East Central St. The Rams put their winning streak on the line but, this will not be the game to stop it. ASU by 5.

Arkansas vs. Tulsa. Arkansas doesn't have a lame duck, but Tulsa is not in the Razorbacks league. Arkansas by 12.

Texas Tech vs. Baylor.

This game will be the high light of the SWC this weekend. Tech has made good showings but assuming Baylor still has enough players to take the field after the Alabama game the Bears should win by 3.

Houston vs. West Texas St. This is one of those. Somebody at WTS needs their head examined. Houston by 18, or more.

Oklahoma vs. Rice. And this is another one. Oklahoma by 30 at least.

SMU vs. Tulane. The

Broncos Take Second Loss But Are Improving

The Broncos took their second loss of the season last week at the hands of a good football team from Mason. Mason has an exceptionally good team for a Class A team.

Mason got two touchdowns in the first half and another in the fourth quarter before Sonora could penetrate the Puncher goal line. However, the Broncos drove to the Mason five yard line after the Punchers first score, but failed to score. A touchdown there, and, well, it could have been a different ball game.

Rex Surber got the Bronco touchdown when he received good blocking from the left side of the Sonora line and went in from four yards out. The touchdown was set up by a fumble recovery by David Sanchez at the Mason eight yard line.

This week's opponent will not be any easier. Big Lake has a solid football team with most of last years players returning. The game will be at Big Lake at 8:00 p.m.

At the Bronco Booster Club meeting Monday night Coach Hopkins said, "Mason did a good job blocking us." The Coach also felt that the Broncos were improving and did play a better game inside. Again last week, the big plays hurt the Broncos. Coach Hopkins is pleased with the effort the team is giving and hopefully by district game time the Broncos will have improved enough to be competitive in district play. Coach Hopkins had praise for the offensive play of Rex Surber and the defensive efforts of David Reyna.

Ponies travel to New Orleans to take on Tulane. This one is a toss up with the SMU number one quarterback out for the year. But the freshman look good on the Hill Top. SMU by 3.

Texas vs. Missouri. The Longhorns are in for a battle. The Tigers are rated high and could embarrass the crew form Texas. Toss up, Missouri by 1.

Texas A&M vs. Memphis St. The Aggies will be high after their upset of Penn St. but you never know. A&M by 6.

UT-Arlington vs. TCU. The Frogs finally found someone their own size. TCU by 14.

LSU vs. USC. The number one USC team will have to work a little bit in this one but will prevail. USC by 7.

Nebraska vs. Penn St. Upset last week, Penn St. will have blood in their eyes. Another toss up, Nebraska by 1.

Michigan St. vs. Notre Dame. Notre Dame will be hard on Michigan St. Should be a close game with a field goal the deference. Michigan St. by 3.

Ohio St. vs. UCLA. UCLA has shown some muscle but they will have trouble with the Buckeyes. UCLA by 4.

Purdue vs. Oregon. Purdue needs to run up the score to keep their national ratings. Purdue by 28.!

Regeon-Phillips Exchange Vows

Mrs. John Phillips, III

Miss Nanetta Lavon Regeon of Bellville, Texas, became the bride of John Alexander Phillips III of Sealy, Texas in a double ring candlelight ceremony performed at the First United Methodist Church, Fayetteville, Georgia, Sunday afternoon, September 2, 1979 at three o'clock. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Regeon of Fayetteville, Georgia, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Phillips, Jr. of Cypress, Texas. The Rev. Fred G. Shellnut was the officiating minister.

The traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. Sandra Barge at the organ which also included the "The Lord's Prayer". The wedding ceremony was taped and recorded.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a formal length gown of white quiana with a scooped neckline accented with lace appliques. The full A-line skirt swept into a chapel train edged with lace. Her waltz length veil of white illusion was edged in lace and fell from a fitted cap of silk with lace appliques and seed pearl trim. She carried a multi-color cascade bouquet of roses, corn flowers, gyp, carnations, baby's breath, and greenery. The diamond heart-shaped necklace worn by the bride was a gift from her great grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Goodwin of Hobbs, New Mexico.

For something old, the bride wore a gold wedding ring which had belonged to her great grandmother, the late Mrs. Anna Regeon; for luck she carried a 1956 penny, the year of her birth. Her something borrowed was a gold and silver spur pin given to her mother by her father before they were married, and she wore a traditional blue garter.

Miss Resa Regeon of Fayetteville, Georgia, who attended her sister as maid of honor, wore a maroon floral print cotton gown with narrow straps. The bodice was trimmed with velvet and lace. The skirt was edged in lace. The bridesmaid, Miss Rhonda Regeon, sister of the bride, of Fayetteville, Georgia wore a similarly styled gown of navy floral print cotton. They carried round bouquets of mixed multi-colored flowers.

David Phillips of Cypress, Texas, brother of the groom, served as best man, and the groomsmen were Andrew Phillips also of Cypress, Texas and a brother of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a street length blue dress with a floral design. She had a white cymbidium orchid corsage.

The groom's mother's dress was a white dress with a navy floral trim. Her corsage was a white cymbidium orchid corsage.

Rhonda Regeon and Andrew Phillips were acolytes. The wedding reception was held at the bride's parents' home following the ceremony. The table was covered with a blue cloth with a white lace overlay and centered with a multi-colored flower arrangement. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with yellow, blue and green flowers and surrounded by daisies and greenery. The miniature bride and groom figures on the cake were encircled in white silk flowers with yellow centers. The punch bowl encircled with daisies and greenery complemented the bridal table. Cake and punch were served by Mrs. Shawnee Williams and Mrs. Barbara Lilley.

The bride's book was presided over by Miss Carol Loftin of Cypress, Texas, and Miss Audrey Thompson of Fayetteville, Georgia.

The bride is a graduate of Sam Houston State University, Huntsville, Texas with a B.S. Degree. She is employed as a State Social Worker in Bellville, Texas.

The groom graduated from Texas State Technical Institution, Waco, Texas, and is employed by Ford Motor Company in Houston, Texas.

The grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Cashes W. Taylor of Sonora, Texas and great grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Goodwin of Hobbs, New Mexico.

The groom's grandparent is Mrs. Rhoda Phillips of Bellmore, New York.

The couple's wedding rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bride's parents at their home in Fayetteville, Georgia, Saturday evening, September 1st.

After their honeymoon in Orlando, Florida, the couple will reside in Sealy, Texas.

C Of C Still Going Strong

by Lou Thomas, Manager.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce (Abilene), and supported by the Sonora Chamber of Commerce, bulletin in September stated that WTCC continues to maintain a policy of total opposition to any type of federally controlled health insurance.

WTCC strongly opposes so-called "Windfall Profits Tax". The House passed version sets tax at 60 percent, pending before Senate Finance Committee. Shelley Chaney, assisted by five committee members is busy making plans for the Red Carpet Committee Talent Show.

Debbie Metzger and her Newcomer's committee are doing a great job of trying to find newcomers to be interviewed.

A representative from the Social Security Administration will be at the Sutton County Courthouse from 9 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. on October 18th.

Did you know that the tourist industry in Texas is a $6 billion-dollar industry? Who benefits from tourism? Just about everyone, but we often encounter the attitude that only lodging, food, attractions, transportation, etc., benefit from travel spending. Actually, studies reveal that travel spending spreads throughout the economy.

Attended an organization (lots of organizing) meeting with coordinators for the Sutton County Game Dinner to be held this year on November 20th. Meeting was held in the home of Patsy and Corky Schwiening. Attending the meeting were: President Bob Brockman, Vice President Scott Shurley, Assistant Treasurer Suzy Rosford, Overall Chairman Bill Stewart, Chamber of Commerce President Glen Fisher, Bob Caruthers, Joe Haire, Preston Farris, J.T. Hill and Dee Tyler. The menu is enough to make your mouth water: venison, quail, dove, javelina, smoked turkey, cabrito and beefalo.

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors voted to ask for donations from Chamber of Commerce members toward the purchase of a gun to be donated to the Sutton County Annual Game Dinner, rather than pay it from the general fund. Two Chamber of Commerce members have donated toward purchase of gun: Thomas Morris and Mrs. Ruth Espy.

A news item received from the Fort Concho Museum announces the completion of a Public Speakers Directory. The directory was made possible by a grant from the Texas Committee for the Humanities and the National Endowment for the Humanities and can be found at Tom Green County Library, A.S.U. Library, Public Information Office at City Hall, Chamber of Commerce, and San Angelo I.S.D., all in San Angelo.

The Chamber of Commerce office received notice from West Texas Chamber of Commerce of their Mid-Year Meeting to be held in Amarillo on October 11-12, with an invitation extended to Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and Chamber executives. Highlights on the agenda will be the Annual Cultural Achievement Awards presentation, with this year's recipients being: Tumbleweed Smith (Bob Smith Lewis), Big Spring; Carson County Square House Museum, Panhandle; Lubbock Arts Festival; and Willie Lucille Reed Rowe, Fort Stockton. Committee meetings on Thursday will include a special presentation on water legislation of particular importance to West Texas. Friday morning a program will be presented on political action, providing valuable information on political action committees. Entertainment for the meeting includes a poolside reception followed by dinner and entertainment at the County Squire Dinner Theatre. Registration fee will be $30.00 per person.

Main-Water St. Petition

In last week's "Devil" the City Council meeting report was a paraphrased account of the meeting. As such the Main-Water Street Petition was not quoted verbatim. Nelson Stubblefield has asked that we print the petition as it is written.

The following is a verbatim copy of the petition presented to the City Council at last week's meeting by Nelson Stubblefield.

We, the undersigned, citizens of Sutton County, Texas hereby request that the variance granted by the City of Sonora, Sutton County, Texas to Mr. Walter Pope in regard to the City Street at the corner of Main and Water Streets be rescinded for the following reasons:

1. That if allowed to stand, would set a precedent so that in the future it would be impossible to refuse a request from any landowner or business for similar variances.

2. It constitutes a hazard to safe driving on main street and water street.

3. All of the adjoining landowners and business owners of property on main street were not notified of the action to be taken by the City Council in allowing such variance.

We respectfully request that the City Council of the City of Sonora, Texas rescind such order and restore the streets to their original status.

Communication Is The Key

Communication is one of the keys to effective leadership. And communication relies heavily on good listening, contends a sociologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. However, effective listening is difficult because a person's mind is occupied with other things. One listens with only about 25 percent effectiveness. To be a more effective listener, be interested in the speaker and what is being said, listen to learn, and extract the main idea.

Top Golfers To Be In Abilene

Six of the top touring professional golfers in the nation will play in a special pro exhibition match to open the new Fairway Oaks Golf Course in Abilene on Monday, October 1, Hal McGlothlin of Fairway Oaks, announced Friday morning.

All proceeds from the event will benefit the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. Abilene's own PGA professional Charles Coody will be joined by Don January, Ben Crenshaw, Lou Graham, J.C. Snead, and Lee Trevino.

Warm-up at the driving range will be at 11:30 a.m. with tee-off time at 12:30 p.m. Only 1,000 tickets at $5 per person will be available.

Fairway Oaks members will have ticket reservation priority by invitation. Any remaining tickets will go on sale to the public starting Monday, September 24, at the Fairway Oaks Information Center.

The Abilene Jaycees will serve as course marshalls and gallery marshalls.

In 1979, Crenshaw was the winner of the Phoenix Open; Trevino, the Canadian Open, and Graham, the Philadelphia Classic. The magnificent new Fairway Oaks championship course was designed by Ron Garl, well known golf course architect, in collaboration with Coody. Many of the greens have been designed to be similar to the finest courses of the PGA tour. A 20-acre lake and the gently rolling fairways enhance the beauty of the course.

Letter To The Editor

To The Editor,
Devil's River News
Sonora, Texas 76950

Last Saturday, twenty seven fliers and their families flew into our airport (in nine airplanes) to visit Sonora and our caverns. They were members of "The West Texas Fliers" with headquarters in Midland and members from all over West Texas. About half of the group spent the night here in our local motel and of course each of them ate all their meals here in our restaurants and spent money in our town.

Even though this was their second or third visit here, and even though they had notified our Chamber of Commerce and our Airport Board at least six weeks in advance of their visit, no official recognition was given them nor were any efforts made to welcome them! Our airport operator serviced their airplanes and sold them gasoline and helped them find transportation in various and sundry borrowed cars and vans. Although the local newspaper was given advance notice of their pending arrival and several calls were made to the photographer, no one showed up to record the event. When I was informed of this, I took my camera out there and made some pictures of the group in between my calls to the hospital emergency room, and I did my best to welcome them to Sonora. I made excuses for the members of the Airport Board who were all out of town and for the Chamber of Commerce and for the local newspaper photographer, etc.

I am embarrassed, disappointed, and chagrined that this visitation from a distinguished group was so completely ignored by the people it should have concerned and I sincerely hope it never happens again!

D.E. Owensby, M.D.

Eat Slower-Lose Weight

Eat more slowly for weight control, advises Frances Reasonover, a foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

If a meal is eaten quickly, more food is put into the body before hunger is satisfied, she points out.

It takes about 20 minutes to begin to digest food so that a person no longer feels hunger.

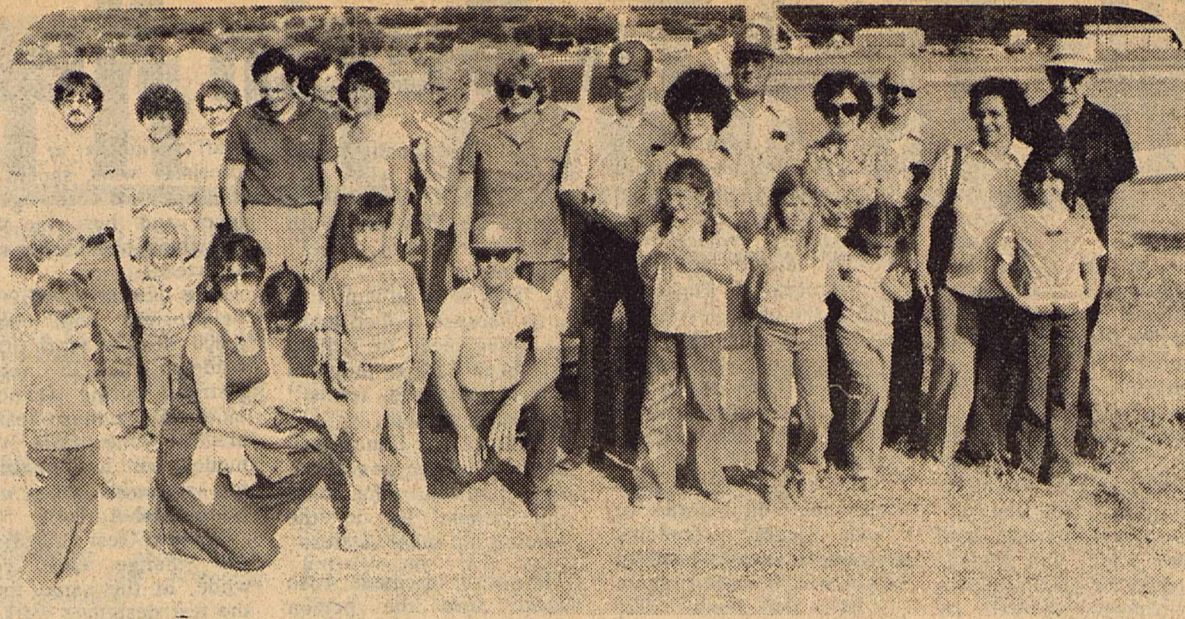

Tips for Eating Slowly
Here are some ways to slow down eating:

- Put fork, knife, spoon or finger foods (sandwich) down after every bite.
- Taste, chew thoroughly and swallow the food before taking another bite.
- This is hard for a while if an individual is in the habit of loading up the fork before swallowing what is in the mouth.
- Stop eating in the middle of the meal or snack, and wait two minutes by the clock, or count to 120. This gives the body more time to begin to digest the food and to feel satisfied before overeating.
- Leave the table and come back after two minutes, or talk to someone during this time. Be sure it is a pleasant conversation.
- Use a fork or spoon to eat everything.
- Avoid bending over the plate while eating. Sit up straight and bring the food to the mouth--not the mouth to the food.

Count the number of bites taken in one minute. A small counter may help. Try to eat slowly enough to be the last one finished eating--without taking second helpings.

Use a smaller plate than usual, and take smaller bites.

Basic Skills Test To Begin Next Spring

The State Board of Education Saturday (Sept. 8) took its first major step toward implementing mandatory tests in the basic skills with approval of a $118,446 contract awarded to the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N.J.

The Texas Assessment of Basic Skills, this state's first mandatory public school test program, will begin next spring as some 450,000 fifth and ninth grade students are tested in reading, mathematics, and writing. Third graders will be added to the annual program in 1980-81.

The contract awarded Educational Testing Service will cover test development and field testing from September 10, 1979, through January 7, 1980. It will include: (1) Development of reading and math tests for fifth grade; (2) development of writing tests for fifth and ninth grade or "exit level" students; (3) field test administration and analysis of results for the Texas Education Agency. Students completing the third, fifth, and ninth grade each year will take the tests in late March or early April, depending on local school schedules. Results will be reported by the end of May of the same school year.

Ninth graders who do not score well may re-take the test each year they are in high school. However, this repeating will be designed solely to help the teacher pinpoint weak areas for more intensive instruction.

"The whole testing program is designed to help the student and the school improve achievement," Joe Kelly Butler of Houston, chairman of the State Board of Education, points out.

"For this reason, results will be reported in a manner that will help everyone become more effective. Individual student results will be made available only to the student, parent or guardian, and the school personnel directly involved. School principals will receive summary reports on the performance of students in their building. District-wide summary reports will be presented to each superintendent.

Overall student performance, both by individual campus and by district, will be reported each year to the general public by the board of trustees.

Each test question will relate to a specific objective or skill students are expected to learn by the time they complete the third, fifth, ninth grade or "exit level," Alton O. Bowen, Texas Commissioner of Education, explains.

"We use the term 'criterion-referenced' simply because it is a short way of saying the answer to each question must lead back to a specific objective," Bowen explains.

These objectives are not new in Texas. First developed during a series of statewide workshops in 1973-74, the reading and math objectives formed the basis for the Texas Assessment Project, last year's sample statewide test program. However, one of the grade levels has changed under the new plan mandated under Senate Bill 350, the public school finance law passed by the 60th Texas Legislature.

The reading and math tests for ninth grade or "exit level" students developed as a part of TAP will be used again under the new test program, Bowen says.

Educational Testing Service under its four-month contract will build new exams for fifth grade students. (The Texas Assessment Project tested sixth graders based on sixth grade objectives last year.)

"We will be able to build on the sixth grade objectives, but there will naturally be some changes in the questions," Bowen adds.

The nationally-known testing firm will also build brand new writing exams for fifth and ninth grade or "exit level" students.

"This is a difficult test area because a good letter or other piece of writing has been hard to judge in purely objective terms," Bowen points out.

"However, Educational Testing Service has developed procedures for training people to do the scoring in other states.

The secret, of course, is to make sure the person scoring the test is able to make valid judgements about a piece of writing."

Months of preliminary work necessary to building the tests and setting guidelines for the contract have been completed by both curriculum and assessment specialists at the Texas Education Agency.

More than 40 public school teachers, curriculum directors, and principals have worked with Texas Education Agency staff members to decide precisely what should be measured at each grade level and how the test questions should be constructed.

The exams will be field-tested with some 8,000 fifth and ninth grade students in 75 school districts during October, 1979. Once these results are in, the final test models will be fine-tuned for statewide use next March and April.

Specific test questions will change each year while, at the same time, the test designers work to maintain the same level of difficulty, Bowen points out.

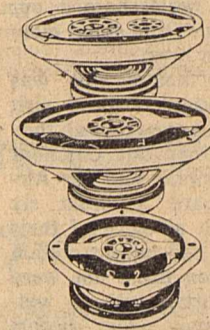

The annual examinations will administered by specially-trained personnel in each school district under the guidelines and supervision of the Texas Education Agency, Bowen adds.

The second Texas Assessment of Basic Skills contract will be submitted to the State Board of Education at its January, 1980, meeting. This contract will cover both the administration, scoring and reporting process for the first statewide testing program.

Bentsen Strikes Out Against Government Regulations

From the offices of Lloyd Bentsen.

We haven't always had a problem in this country with over-regulation by government. But we sure have one today.

The first regulatory law wasn't enacted by Congress until 1887, the 100th anniversary of our Constitution—and 111 years after the Declaration of Independence was signed.

That law, the Act to regulate Commerce, created the Interstate Commerce Commission which was the first and for 27 years the only independent regulatory agency in the Federal Government.

The Federal Trade was next, established in 1914. Then came other regulatory agencies: the Federal Power Commission, 1920; the Food and Drug Administration, 1930; the Securities and Exchange Commission, 1934; the Federal Communications Commission, 1934; and the Civil Aeronautics Board, 1938.

For more than 80 years, from the time of the first federal regulatory law in 1887 until this decade, government was concerned primarily with economic regulation.

Most of the mechanism for economic regulation came with the beginning of the 1970s: social regulation, Establishment of agencies as the Environmental Protection Agency, 1970; the Consumer Product Safety Commission, 1972; and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, 1973, have made it a whole new ballgame.

The cab, for example, has jurisdiction over a few hundred firms. The ICC over a few thousand. But EPA, CPSC, and OSHA have an impact on hundreds of thousands of firms, non-profit organizations and state and local governments.

Let me show you the impact of this new field of regulation.

The Federal Register is the book in which new government regulations are published.

In 1955 some ten-thousand pages were published each year in the Federal Register. By 1970, 15 years later, that number had grown to 20,000. Seven short years later, following the advent of social regulation, the number of pages in the Federal Register had mushroomed to 70,000.

As Chairman of the Joint Economic Committee, I have held hearings to investigate the economic impact of government regulation.

A study conducted for my hearings revealed that government regulation will cost business, taxpayers and consumers $102.7 billion in fiscal 1979.

As a result of the hearings I recently introduced legislation that speaks to some aspects of over-regulation. And I intend to press for enactment of that legislation in the coming months.

I have introduced a bill which would help to reduce regulatory cost by imposing a ceiling on the costs federal agencies can impose on the private sector. The goal is to reduce those costs by 5 percent a year for the next five years.

Witnesses testified at my hearings that conflicting federal regulations often put them in impossible situations. The owner of a sausage company testified: "In our plant, USDA requires that our sausage kitchen floors be washed repeatedly for sanitary purposes, yet OSHA rules that floors must be dry. What is a man to do?"

Last year the Senate approved a bill I introduced that has the President seeking out federal regulations that work at cross-purposes and eliminate the one which makes the least sense.

I am also going after some of the specific paperwork and red tape that accompany regulation.

For example, the Federal Housing Administration, the Veterans Administration and the Farmers Home Administration each have their own individual mortgage and note forms. I've introduced a bill to require them to adopt a universal form.

I have formed a Joint Economic Committee staff task force to search out further regulation reducing initiatives. In future months I expect to offer additional legislation in my efforts to cut the government's regulatory giant down to size.

Mail Order Shopping Tips

With gasoline prices on the rise, many consumers may turn to mail-order shopping as a way to save time and money.

However, past experiences with mail-order shopping have left many consumers dissatisfied.

The Attorney General's Office and other consumer complaint handling agencies report that mail-order problems are among the most frequently reported of all.

To avoid consumer problems, take these precautions:

1) Learn to spot an exaggeration. The small type often qualifies the big, bold headline.

Consider other places where you could buy the product at a lower price.

2) When ordering, be specific. Give a written description, the correct order number and price, and indicate if you would accept a substitute, and if so, what it is.

3) Don't send cash. Pay only by check or money order and include shipping and handling charges.

4) Write a complete description of the item, as well as the address of the company, on your check so that when the cancelled check is returned, you will have all of that information at your finger tips.

Or, keep a copy of your order with the date it was mailed and a photocopy of the check or money order.

5) When the order arrives, examine it immediately to be sure it is what you wanted and that it is in good condition.

Notify the company promptly if there is any problem.

Protect Your Valuable Papers

Loss Prevention--Valuable papers and records should be given maximum protection from damage or any natural storm disaster, advises the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. This will include all insurance policies; financial papers such as tax returns, mortgages, bank statements and notes, titles, deeds and wills; an inventory of household property; and personal papers such as birth certificates and military, education and health records.

A Sonora Pastor Speaks

The Reverend John W. Fritts, Rector, Saint John's Episcopal Church.

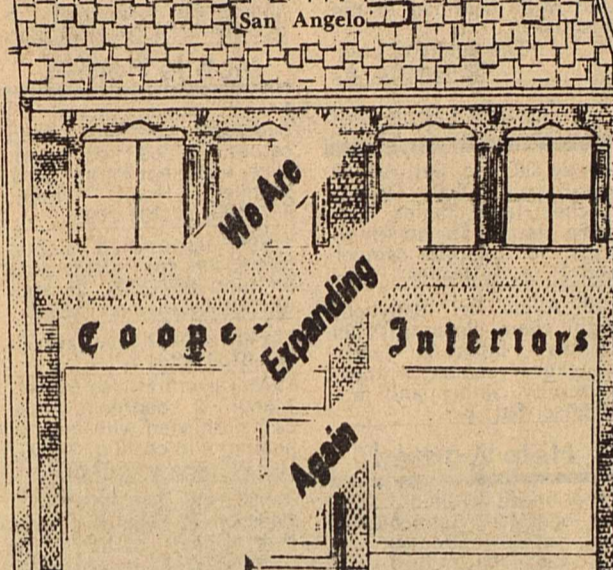

Hurricanes are a phenomena that we are all acquainted with. They make the news this time of the year, in particular. They are born in the doldrums, a quiet moist area where it appears nothing is happening. The air is still and calm. Only cursory examination would think nothing amiss. Gradually circulation of the air begins and gathers force and moisture. Before long things get out of control; high winds, heavy seas, downpours herald a full blown hurricane. As the hurricane moves in where people live it brings destruction and death. There are the hurricanes of human lives, too. Out of apathy born from a sense that all is well we may assume that a stillness of the spirit is quite alright. Nothing going on, no spiritual activity, nothing. So seeming disturbances to catch our attention. There is the sameness of things, the human doldrums. Neither nature nor the human spirit will abide lack of movement. Even the atom is constantly in motion. Our bodies, our minds and our souls require exercise. The hurricanes of the spirit come when people ignore the innermost longing of the human being for new adventures in living. People get hurt.

It has been said that we human beings are incurably religious and we must find expression for this part of our makeup. We are so constituted that it is essential for each of us to find a point of reference to give guidance to our lives. People can find God as a reference point for guidance and as the Person to whom commitment may be made. Commitment demands action and is the way the doldrums of life do not exist. Apathy is met and overcome.

Self-examination on our part will reveal to each of us a certain discontent with ourselves as we are. God will accept us as we are but he will not leave us that way. Here is a starting point that can issue in spiritual growth which can either eliminate or mitigate against the destructive force that builds up when people get tricked into thinking nothing need be done.

The Churches of Sonora welcome you...

Sutton County Ranch News

Name this Longhorn steer at ICA calf sale and win $100 prize.

ICA Names Mascot

Momentum is building quickly throughout the state for the Independent Cattlemen's Association 2nd annual statewide calf sale as hundreds of ranchers donate calves and other livestock for the fundraising event.

The sale will be held Saturday, September 29, beginning at 10 a.m. at the Atascosa Livestock Exchange in Pleasonton.

ICA President Roy Wheeler, owner of the auction, invites all livestock producers to participate, as funds raised through the calf sale will enable ICA to continue its fight for legislation beneficial to the agriculture industry. Last year's sale raised more than $100,000 for the Association.

"We are encouraged by the enthusiasm shown this year," said Wheeler, who is traveling through various counties in Texas in the weeks before the sale to solicit livestock donation. "We take this as a sign that the livestock industry leaders in Texas support our efforts to make the government responsive to our needs."

The success of last year's sale enabled ICA officials to attend all hearings concerning the federal brucellosis program—a program which could mean additional financial hardships for cattlemen if it is adopted in its present form. ICA will continue to present the viewpoint of the industry as long as it is able to do so.

"We thank all of those who helped us last year and urge them to double their contributions this year," said Wheeler.

A presale Cattle Drive Party will be held Friday, September 28, from 6 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. at the St. Andrews Catholic Church Hall in Pleasonton. Food and drink will be plentiful with a dance following the dinner hour.

An added feature of this year's sale is a contest to name the Association's sale mascot. Last year, Happy Shahan of Brackettville, donated a Longhorn steer to the sale. The steer was sold and resold several times and the final purchaser was Wheeler, who donated the animal back to the Association. A $100 prize will be given by Wheeler to the individual who creates the best name for the steer. The only requirement for entry into the contest is for each contestant to buy a subscription to the Independent Cattlemen, the Association's monthly magazine. A panel of judges will select the best name from all the entries and the steer will remain the ICA Mascot as long as it lives.

Auctioneer for the sale is Clyde Holdcroft and Transportation Director is C.P. Hamer of Giddings. Those who need to make arrangements to have their calves transported to the sale should contact Hamer at 713-542-2929 or the Association office 512-836-1321.

Windmill Country

By Jerry Lackey

Johnny Hughes of Sterling City says September entered that area mostly dry across that area.

"It is so dry at the ranch, you can see a cow going to water a mile away," he exclaimed.

But it all depends on what part of the country one is in. This editor has been in over 40 West Texas counties in the last several weeks and I have seen contrast of a beginning 1979 autumn the like of a lush spring. On the other hand I have observed terrain much the way Hughes described parts of Sterling County.

Corky Schwiening walked into the Sonora Wool and Mohair the other day carrying some chain-saw oil in one hand and biting hard on a cigar and saying in between it was so dry in a strip south of San Angelo, "it looked like the dead of winter."

Having seen the area he was talking about on the way to Sutton County, I went on to inquire about the chain-saw oil.

"Well," explained Schwiening, "This first norther of the season caused me to look at the woodpile this morning. The way my wife burns wood, I need to start cutting early."

Vestal Askew, Sutton County Ranchman, also spoke of the dry country. "But, I can't complain.

We had it pretty darn good up to about 30 days ago," he said. "This cooler fall weather would be a good time for some good moisture, though."

House Debates-

Demands Made By The Leather Industry

Sheep & Goat Industry News

Late on the afternoon of Tuesday, September 18, the U.S. House of Representatives chose to listen to livestock producers, at least on one issue. The majority of House members voted against a measure that would have placed limitations on the export of hides.

That controversial measure, known as the Shannon amendment, had the backing of the domestic leather goods industry and, openly or otherwise, organized labor. It was strongly opposed by all major livestock industry organizations, including the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association.

That the House would consider the needs of western livestock producers over the demands of a predominately eastern-oriented industry was a gratifying step toward reason on the part of the legislators. That stockmen's legitimate needs prevailed over the pleas of organized labor was not only gratifying but somewhat surprising.

At that, the decision was by no means a runaway affair -- the measure fell by only about two dozen votes. It had been proposed as an amendment to a bill re-authorizing federal export limitation authority in general, and was prompted by claims from the leather goods industry that a shortage of hides was forcing up leather prices to the detriment of domestic manufacturers forced to compete with less expensive imports.

The worries were legitimate -- to a point. It's true that much of the domestic leather goods industry has been in a slump lately, and also true that leather prices have risen along with improved cattle prices. Opponents of the measure have pointed out, however, that higher leather prices are really not to blame for the industry's woes -- in fact, the cost of leather makes up only a very small percentage of the finished price of most manufactured leather goods and apparel. Indeed, it's been noted that leather prices have actually fallen several times in recent years while the finished cost of leather goods have climbed merrily along.

Where does the fault lie? Partly in outdated machinery and technology and partly in outrageous union labor demands.

Both of these problems can be traced in turn directly to the government, mostly federal but in some cases state government, too. Government regulations and tax policies have virtually guaranteed a shortage of investment capital desperately needed to update factories. The same government that blessed the industry with these problems also blessed it with labor laws lopsided enough to scare off what investments might otherwise have been forthcoming, not to mention strangling the industry outright.

The proposed amendment, then, would have been an attempt to dilute the problems caused by government meddling with another generous dose of government meddling. In addition, it would have deprived the U.S. economy of a much-needed export commodity valued at an estimated $600 million dollars annually.

Fortunately, someone caught on. Who knows? Maybe it'll start a trend!

Oil And Gas Drilling "Common Sense" Solution

Railroad Commission Chairman John H. Poerner recently said increased oil and gas exploration drilling and production in the U.S. and elsewhere in the Western Hemisphere is the "common sense" way to resolve America's current energy dilemma.

Speaking before the Beaumont Rotary Club, the energy and transportation regulatory official maintained that the U.S.—contrary to pessimistic claims that have been circulated—has a substantial reserve base of energy. "Until now, we have produced and consumed barely one-fifth of our proven, known fossil fuel reserves," Poerner reported.

"Our combined reserve and resource base of oil is twice our cumulative production to date, 70 times our total production in 1976, and 35 times our total consumption in that same year."

But, cautioned Poerner, optimum utilization of these energy reserves cannot be achieved with "a very strong, unwritten policy emanating from Washington" which demands energy for the U.S. at the lowest possible cost regardless of future consequences.

"There is no time to lose and all of us need to get behind efforts to bring common sense back in style," Poerner said in his appeal for accelerated domestic oil/gas exploration and production.

"The amount of domestic energy reserves we can add now depends directly on the amount of drilling we do. The amount of drilling depends on how much capital is available for this activity, and the amount of capital is dependent of the price we are willing to pay for our energy reserves."

The RRC chairman pointed to overregulation by the federal government as the root of U.S. energy problems.

"There is no more strictly regulated industry in America today than the energy industry," Poerner declared and further observed:

"Federal regulation of this industry has kept the free market economy from operating as it should during the past 25 years. As a nation, we have experienced artificially low energy prices due to regulation for so many years that any price increase is painful."

Any sound energy policy, maintained Poerner, "should take into account the advice of those who know how to produce the energy, and then we must strike down all the obstacles which lie between us and a successful resolution of the problem."

More bureaucracy will not solve the problem, he insisted.

Oil And Gas Discoveries Report

Texas operators reported 18 oil and 26 gas discoveries during the August 16-31, 1979 period, the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division announced recently. In the year-earlier period 27 oil and 42 gas discoveries were filed with the state's energy regulatory agency.

Through the first eight months of 1979, Texas operators have reported 832 gas and 315 oil discoveries, against 718 gas and 306 oil discoveries in the year-earlier period. Successful exploratory and field completions in the eight months of 1979 total 5,369 oil and 3,693 gas, against 5,607 oil and 3,679 gas completions in the same period last year.

Oil discoveries in the second half of August 1979 included five in deep South Texas, four in North Texas, two in the San Angelo area, and one each in Southeast Texas, East Texas, West Central Texas and the Lubbock, Panhandle, San Antonio and Midland areas.

Gas discoveries included six each in Southeast Texas, deep South Texas and the Refugio area, two each in West Central Texas and the Midland area and one each in North Texas, East Texas and the San Antonio and Panhandle areas.

In the August 16-31 period, operators reported 236 exploratory and field tests wound up as dry holes. There were 2,339 dry holes reported in the first eight months of 1979 against 2,723 a year earlier.

New applications for permits to drill oil and gas tests totaled 1,105 in the second half of August compared with 999 in the same period of 1978.

Applications to drill, deepen, plugback and for service wells in the August 16-31 period amounted to 1,240 against 1,167 a year earlier.

Operators filed 258 amended applications to drill.

There have been 13,641 applications to drill new oil and gas tests this year, against 13,269 in the same period of 1978. Applications to drill deepen, plugback and for service wells so far this year total 15,844 against 15,786 in the first eight months of 1978.

RRC Approves Agreement

The Railroad Commission recently approved a unitization agreement and secondary waterflood program that is expected to lead to the recovery of an additional 7,865,000 barrels of oil from a petroleum-producing sector in Gaines County.

The action involves the application of Samedan Oil Corp., Midland, to establish the South Central Robertson Unit in the Robertson and Robertson, North (Clear Fork 7100) Fields, some nine miles southwest of Seminole.

Commissioners Mack Wallace and James E. Nugent accepted the recommendations of Senior Staff Geologist Bill E. Watson and Legal Examiner Roger Schultz during the weekly conference on Oil and Gas Division matters. Watson and Schultz conducted a public hearing on the unopposed application on July 6.

In testimony during the hearing, a Samedan witness estimated that a $5.5 million-plus investment in the waterflood program will result in a future net revenue of $72,109,000 before federal income tax during the flood life of 241 years.

The unit agreement involves four oil reservoirs—Glorieta, Upper Clear Fork, Middle Clear Fork and Tubb Zones—underlying some 1,600 acres within the Robertson and Robertson, North Fields. Average depth of production is 5,760 feet.

The Robertson Field was discovered in 1942 and the Robertson, North in 1956. As of last March 1, combined production from the area of the two fields included in the Samedan application was more than 11.6 million barrels.

Windfall Profits Tax

If you check out the dictionary you will find a definition for "windfall" that reads, and we quote, "1: something blown down by the wind, 2: an unexpected, or sudden gain or advantage."

Mr. Carter has called for a "Windfall Tax on excess profits." He really doesn't mean that at all. His tax is set up on gross income, has nothing to do with profits and is a repeat tax on every barrel of domestic oil only from now on. Not one time; not unexpected and not on excess (whatever that means) profits.

Mr. Carter says we can take all this excise tax confiscation, and use it to develop synfuels and other energy. He says that will take all this unearned and undeserved profit away from the oil companies and give it to someone to develop all these new, exotic types of fuel.

If anyone stops for only a minute, to think about this situation, they will come up with the startling revelation that we're giving this money back to the oil companies!!! Who else has the know-how, the personnel, the techniques or the equipment! Certainly not the farmers, labor unions, Sierra Club, Ralph Nader or the Department of Energy. Cuss 'em all you want to, but the major oil companies are the ones who have been spending millions of dollars on developing shale oil; tar sands; liquification and gasification of coal; nuclear, solar and hydro energy. Much of the know-how has been around for 30 or 40 years.

It still boils down to the fact that none of it will come on stream until it is economically feasible. We don't need more federal bureaucracy or bungling. We don't need more energy laws, rules or regulations. What we need is decontrol at the wellhead and the country can quit worrying about where the energy will come from.

Spend a quiet evening at home without electricity... and see just how quiet it really is.

Forget about watching TV or listening to the stereo. How about reading a good book—that's a great idea if you do it before dark or if you plan on using Abe Lincoln's lighting, the fireplace.

Nobody has to tell you how important electricity is in your life. It surrounds you daily, lighting the way, entertaining you and making life more comfortable.

And that's the way it should be, but we at West Texas Utilities hope you'll use electricity wisely and efficiently. Make sure your home is properly insulated and weatherized, turn off unnecessary lights and appliances, and above all, watch that thermostat setting. These things not only conserve valuable energy, they can help to lower your monthly bills. And that's important now and in the future.
