Touring Girl Scouts Arrive Here Friday

Local Girl Scouts Tammy Hodges, Carla Jungk, and Lena Laxton look on as Mayor Bill Gosney proclaims this week as "Trails of Texas Tales Week" in Sonora in honor of the tour stopping here Friday. Below, Marlene Evans and Bill Webster look over the Courthouse lawn in setting up space for the barbecue being held for the girls that will be here from all over the United States, Canada and Bolivia. Gosney along with Sutton County Judge Charles Sherrill will be a part of the welcoming committee when they arrive.

A national entourage of Girl Scouts will begin a West Texas tour Friday with Sonora and the famous caverns as the initial stop of the trip.

The girls, 100 strong along with their 20 adult supervisors, will arrive at the Caverns of Sonora at 10:30 a.m. with tours of the "world's most beautiful caverns" as the first stop of the event, sponsored by the El Camino Girl Scout Council of San Angelo and entitled "Trails of Texas Tales."

Participants were selected from all over the United States as well as Canada and Bolivia. Among the girls making the tour is Tammy Duren of Sonora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Duren.

As the groups of girls conclude their tours at the caverns, they will be bussed to the courthouse lawn for a western style barbecue complete with all the trimmings.

Oscar Galindo and his band will provide a variety of western and Spanish music for the girls' entertainment.

Wanda Bible will have her collection of western art on display and the Sonora Art Club will also be displaying paintings at the courthouse from 1-3 p.m.

Tours of the Miers Home Museum are also being planned with help from the Chamber of Commerce Red Carpet Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wade, Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Lea Allison and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mayfield donated meat for the barbecue.

The girls began arriving in San Angelo Tuesday. Other stops on their tour include Piedras Negras, Fredericksburg and Langtry, home of the legendary Judge Roy Bean.

Activities slated for the event include a rodeo, a chuckwagon supper and a stagecoach ride.

The high school age girls applying to participate in the Trails of Texas Tales cited a variety of reasons for wanting to tour West Texas.

Many of the predominantly eastern girls wrote the El Camino Council in hopes of "seeing the Real West," "going to a rodeo," "riding like the cowboys did" and learning the true story of the "capture of the West." One girl explained her interest by saying, "I watch a lot of John Wayne."

A Pennsylvania Girl Scout is trying to "Learn as much as I can about the U.S. Calvary" and hopes a trip will be of help.

An applicant from Arkansas wants to know whether Texans are different from normal people. Still another is hoping her trip to West Texas will help her understand Oklahoma.

It is apparent that a number of girls have heard about Texas tall tales from the way they make a point of saying they are good listeners in their application to the El Camino Council.

For example, 80 percent of the girls were convinced that "mesquite" was usually defined as "a small Mexican child selling things." Lyndon B. Johnson was supposed to have discovered Texas and the correct method of mounting a horse involves poster board—according to the out-of-state Girl Scouts, anyway.

Marlene Evans, local neighborhood chairman for the Girl Scouts, Lou Thomas, Chamber of Commerce manager, and Sheriff Bill Webster have all been working on the arrangements for the big day.

Mrs. Evans stated she hoped a large crowd would turn out to welcome the groups when they begin arriving at the courthouse around 12:15.

"It is very rare the number of times a town like Sonora gets a national, really international, event like this," she said. "A large crowd on hand will certainly help the girls' impression of West Texas, and the publicity for Sonora will be tremendous."

She also urged parents of young Girl Scouts to bring their daughters to meet the girls.

"Too often girls drop out of scouting as they get older, thinking it is something for kids, but the ones who stay are usually the cream of the crop," she added. "It would be a good incentive for the younger girls to see the opportunities that open up in the later years of scouting."

Grand Opening Planned For Photo Ranch Thursday

The formal grand opening of the Photo Ranch, Sonora's first photography studio ever, is planned for Thursday from 10 a.m. till 12 noon. Owners Jerry and Nancy Johnson plan a round of gala festivities including having the Chamber of Commerce Red Carpet Committee on hand for the ribbon cutting at 10 a.m.

Coffee and cookies will be served during the festivities, and Toby Gibbs will provide organ music.

Also on hand will be Larry LeBlanc, sales representative for H&H Color Labs of Houston, and Wayne Haub of Raytown, Mo., president of the company.

Everyone attending will also be eligible to register for a drawing that will give the lucky winner a free sitting for a family portrait and a 16x20 color picture.

The Johnsons opened the Photo Ranch, now located at the Old Elliot School, in May, 1979.

They are members of the Wedding Photographers International, Texas Professional Photography Association and Permian Basin Professional Photographers and have attended numerous schools and seminars to help them get the best results for their customers.

The studio specializes in all types of photography, both indoor and outdoor sittings, and is able to obtain all kinds of photographic supplies for their customers.

They can also order from a wide selection of wedding invitations, napkins, and other accessories and also handle stationary and business cards.

Nancy readily admits their photography hobby started "because we enjoyed taking pictures for various occasions, and they finally opened the Photo Ranch, but more as a sideline.

The business took off and Jerry and Nancy soon found themselves with much more than just a small business on the side.

The Johnsons urge everyone to attend the grand opening and enjoy visiting and browsing through the store.

"We want to make this the biggest and best grand opening Sonora has ever had," she said.

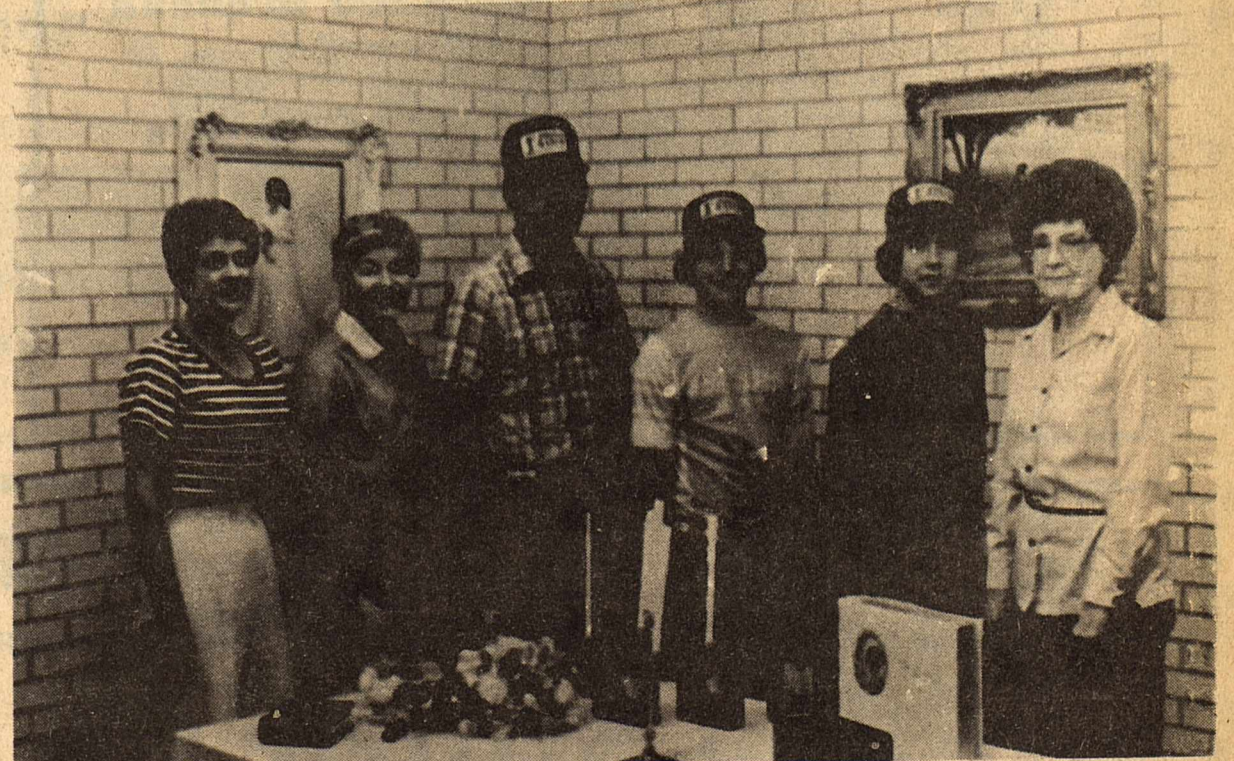

Photo Ranch owners Jerry and Nancy Johnson along with their employees and family display their bridal room in preparation for their grand opening, set for tomorrow from 10 am to 12 noon. The public is cordially invited to the festivities which will include the ribbon cutting at 10 a.m.

Community Outlook

By Don Holdridge

The balanced budget being proposed by many in the federal government is one of the best actions contemplated in recent years. Deficit spending by the federal government is the biggest, single factor in our soaring inflation. It only makes sense that when the feds print more money to pay their bills, each of our dollars are worth less.

But a second look tells us that this balanced budget would not be all it's cracked up to be. Instead of bringing government expenditures under control, the feds are talking about balancing the budget through increased tax revenues—taxes that the working people of this nation will have to pay directly out of their pockets.

"In-formation", the newsletter of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association carried the figures from the proposed budget of how much increase in revenue the treasury will receive from various taxes:

Individual Income Tax $38,000,000,000; Social Security Tax $25,000,000,000; Windfall Profit Tax $15,000,000,000; Gasoline Conservation Fee $13,000,000,000; Withholding on Interest and Dividends $3,000,000,000; Excise Tax $2,000,000,000; TOTAL INCREASE $96,000,000,000.

According to the publication, this figures to an increase in taxes of $1091 per taxpayer. I'm mad, too, Eddie Chiles.

A recent Associated Press story run in most daily papers quoted many congressmen as saying there was no way they could balance the budget because inflation kept driving the cost of everything up.

This seems to be another case of our elected officials getting the cart before the horse. Excessive federal spending is the major cause of inflation, yet when our officials talk about the one measure that can bring it under control, they use inflation itself as the reason why they can't control it. But then, the government has never been known for doing things very logically.

IT SEEMS THE WEATHER HAS BEEN THE MAIN TOPIC OF CONVERSATION LATELY. The heat wave running throughout the Southwest is the worst I can ever remember, at least this early in the year.

People seem to be spending as much time under the air conditioner as possible. Tempers seem to have a little shorter fuse lately, and our only renewable source of energy, the human kind, is at a near-crisis level.

The weather experts, if you can call them that, have said there is little or no relief from the heat in sight at least through the middle of July. If June was so hot, what will July and August, the two hottest months be like? Only time and a few more heat related deaths will tell.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

Former Texas governor Dolph Briscoe was walking up the side-walk alone as I crossed the street to the San Antonio Convention Center.

Like me, he was going to the 6th annual Convention of the Independent Cattleman's Association. We walked together and visited about the cow business, the mohair industry and his lifestyle after leaving Austin.

"Retirement is very dull," stated Briscoe. "About the greatest joy I have these days is speaking at these meetings and seeing my rancher friends."

He said South Texas was very dry again. As I visited around the ICA convention, I learned conditions were approaching the same peak as the drought of the 1950's.

Briscoe, who is perhaps the largest single landowner in the Lone Star state, told ICA members that inflation and excessive government interference are the greatest problems facing the nation today.

The former governor asked cattlemen to demand a balanced federal budget and to support an amendment to the constitution requiring the balancing of the budget.

Bill Dyer of San Saba, also attending the ICA meeting, said his area could use another rain "to cool things off if nothing else."

Raymond Hicks of Bandera stated: "What we need is a good rain but we need less days at 110 degrees. These hot days can ruin us faster than anything because we lose what we already have."

Frio County Agricultural Agent Brett Highland said: "This area is known as a place of perpetual drought interrupted by occasional floods, but this is really bad."

Repeal Sought

TSCRA Aims at Windfall Profits Tax

The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association took dead aim on the windfall profits tax law during their summer board meeting in Waco and called for a repeal of all taxes levied on natural resources and products of the land.

TSCRA further asked Congress to amend those tax laws that "threaten the maintenance of a decent standard of living for those who have invested and now are receiving modest income from royalties."

The resolution, forwarded to the U.S. Congress, was one of five policy statements approved by more than 350 cattlemen from San Angelo, said the association supported the budget requests of the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratories, including the building addition at Amarillo, provided it is within the guidelines set forth by the Governor and the Legislative Budget Board.

TSCRA also endorsed the brush control, range improvement and beef cattle production research programs of Texas Tech University and recommended the continuation of the university's line-item funding for brush control research in the amount of $650,000 annually. TSCRA requested that the appropriate state agencies reinstate line-item funding for the school's beef cattle production research in the 1981-1983 biennium for the amount of $228,823 for 1982 and $244,823 in 1983.

TSCRA also sent a resolution to the state's legislative leaders supporting a request by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station for new funds for beef production research, feeder cattle health and nutrition research, bovine brucellosis research and new research in range management in the Corpus Christi area.

Citing the longtime, valuable contributions to the beef cattle industry from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, TSCRA committed its support to salary increases for Extension personnel, the addition of an Extension veterinarian for brucellosis, an area livestock specialist for the Coastal Bend area and two foods and nutrition specialists.

Bill Helming, president of the Kansas-based consulting firm of Livestock Business Advisory Services Inc., gave a detailed outlook for the cattle industry in the coming year and decade. He advised that the nation's cattle herd, which had been liquidated drastically in recent years, will rebuild at a restrained rate in the next few years because of eight factors. Consumers will have limited beef supplies because of high interest and inflation rates cattlemen face, higher energy costs, large meat supplies primarily from pork and poultry, restrained consumer demand for beef, grain prices rising faster than beef prices, the nation's economic and political instability and renewed emphasis on crop production in the previously heavy cattle producing areas in the Southeast U.S. U.S. Congressman Marvin Leath of the 11th District stirred the cattlemen to their feet and was interrupted at least three times by applause while giving a rousing speech on free enterprise and the conservative viewpoint.

Committee chairman holding meets were George

E. Light II of Lytle, fever tick subcommittee; J.E. Birdwell II of Lubbock, animal health; John Merrill of Crowley, agricultural research; Jack Shelton, soil and water resources; William B. Blakemore II of Midland, land use and the environment; Alfred Negley of San Antonio, Cattle PAC (political action committee); and James L. Powell of Eldorado, taxes.

Roy Wheeler Re-elected As ICA President

Roy Wheeler of Pleasanton was elected to his third term as president of the Independent Cattleman's Association at the 6th annual convention in San Antonio, June 26-28.

Wheeler, owner of the Atascosa Livestock Exchange, said he appreciated the unanimous support shown by members of the ICA House of Delegates. He said he is proud of the financial strength ICA has acquired during the past two years and called that an indication of the widespread support ICA has in the counties of Texas.

ICA goals for 1980-81 will be to find a solution to the inequities of the ad valorem taxation system and to promote expansion of foreign markets for domestic beef, according to Wheeler.

The ICA House of Delegates also unanimously passed a resolution announcing ICA's opposition to the windfall profits tax.

Wheeler urged ICA members and all those affected by the windfall profits tax to attend a special hearing in Austin, July 17, at 10 a.m., at the University of Texas Special Events Center, 1701 Red River. The hearing is being held by U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen who is sponsoring legislation to exempt royalty owners from the tax.

Wheeler said the tax is devastating to the thousands of royalty owners living on fixed incomes and retired in rural areas, ranchers, farmers, and some city dwellers who will be unable to continue their present way of life because of the tax.

"It boils down to the fact that we're shipping our money from Texas to Washington so Mr. Carter can spend more money on his bureaucracy," said Wheeler.

Elected to serve on the executive board with Wheeler were Dr. C.E. Payne of Bryan, 1st vice president; Bill Whitehead of Sonora, 2nd vice president; H.C. Youmans of Beaumont, secretary; and Joe Conti, Jr., of Victoria, treasurer.

Elected to fill positions on the ICA Board of Directors were Fred Brown of Gonzales, C.P. Hamer of Giddings, Hollis Gilfillian of Hamshire, Guillermo Benavides of Laredo and Sedley Martin of Leesville.

Because of an amendment to the by-laws calling for redistricting of councilor districts, vacant councilor positions will be filled at a later date. Executive Secretary Donald Hoffman will be contacting the county officers and directors to set up district meetings for election of councilors. Councilors already serving will remain.

Keynote speakers for the Friday, June 27, general sessions were former Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe, private Washington consultant Harry McAdams, who once headed Briscoe's State of Texas office in Washington, Texas A&M agricultural economist Dr. Ernie Davis, U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen's agricultural assistant Marty Clayton and U.S. Sen. John Tower's agricultural assistant Terry Stark.

Ben Oldag, KTRH Agri-News director, was speaker at the Friday luncheon.

Briscoe called for a balanced federal budget and an end to revenue sharing. He condemned the federal brucellosis eradication program as being "counterproductive" and said the program "forced upon the states and the cattle industry" is "a glaring example of federal bureaucracy running wild." "he said that more than $406 million has been spent on the program.

TIPRO President Urges Attendance

In one of the strongest worded statements yet delivered by the segment of the oil industry representing small interest holders, the president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, L. Frank Pitts, urged Texas royalty owners to attend a July 17th United States Senate Finance Committee field hearing of be held in Austin at the 18,000 seat University of Texas Special Events Center.

Pitts stated, "The so-called windfall profit tax is robbing royalty owners all across Texas. The federal tax guzzlers have decided that royalty owners, especially retirees, pensioners, and elderly who live on fixed income, are to be punished along with the multi-national oil companies.

Lloyd Bentsen, will be taking testimony on his and other proposals to exempt royalty owners from the Crude Oil Windfall Profit Tax Act of 1980.

Pitts stated further, "This is not just a tax on oil, it is a tax on people, on rural towns, on jobs, and primarily on Texas. This tax will cost Texas $65 billion directly over the next ten years, and untold billions in indirect economic damage to every segment of Texas. If you are a royalty owner or a property owner you should be in Austin on July 17 at 10:00 am. Every time a penny of revenue from the windfall profit tax hits the federal kitty the economic crunch is felt in Texas," stated Pitts, "and I hope angry Texans by the busload will converge on Austin to show their indignation."

"Get to Austin," said Pitts, "to show your support of Senator Bentsen's effort to take this unjustified tax off those who can least afford it. Every royalty owner needs to show that he or she is not going to stand for this governmental confiscation."

The Senate hearing, chaired by Texas Senator

Bentsen Slates Austin Hearing

Oil Excise Tax. The hearing will be held on July 17th in Austin at the Super Drum. The bill would exempt the first 1,000 barrels of production by independents and would exempt royalty owners altogether. PBPA and other organizations are urging as many people as possible to attend the July 17 hearing in Austin.

In other energy news, three oil companies have agreed to share the cost of the beginning work on a natural gas pipeline from Alaska across Canada.

Exxon, Arco, and Sohio Alaska Petroleum Company have joined with a group of seven gas pipeline companies in putting up 500 million dollars to start work on the project.

The 4,800 mile line would cost about 23 billion dollars and is scheduled for completion in 1985. The financial arrangements have not been made and it's expected to take some time before they are completed.

Doctor John Hanigsberg of Tempe, Az. has found a way to get back at the OPEC countries for high oil prices. Doctor Hanigsberg treats several students from OPEC countries who attend Arizona State University.

When he sends them their bills he adds a surcharge that doubles the cost of his services. The students don't pay their own medical bills; they are paid directly by their governments. All the bills have been paid in full, with no questions asked.

Hanigsberg urges every American who deals with a person from an OPEC country to add a surcharge. By the way, the Doctor is donating the extra money to charity.

Our energy statistics this week include a look at gasoline consumption and the rig count nationwide. Americans used 4.8 percent less gasoline last week than they did a year ago and the rig count is up 821 or 41 percent over this same time last year in America.

RRC Approves Amendment

The Railroad Commission has approved amendments to one of its statewide rules that are intended to speed the determination of oil and gas discovery wells and ease producer requirements under the federal Natural Gas Policy Act.

Adoption of the amendments to Rule 41 was voted by Chairman John Poerner and Commissioner Mack Wallace during Monday's weekly conference on Oil and Gas Division matters. Commissioner James E. (Jim) Nugent was absent.

Legal Examiner Snadra K. Joseph, in recommending approval of the amendments, advised the Commissioners that the set of amendments bore several changes as the result of comments received after publication of staff proposals in the May 16 issue of the Texas Registrar. She said the changes provide greater specificity and clarity.

Also, she cited, a proposed change pertaining to notice requirements had been dropped from the original amendments draft. It will be the subject of a future rulemaking proceeding.

--Eliminate duplication of effort in making determinations within the Oil and Gas Division.
--provide for administrative approval of new discovery applications under certain conditions. The director of the Oil and Gas Division could approve discovery applications if no protests were lodged.

--update, clarify, simplify and consolidate the requirements for receiving a new field designation and/or allowable.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR FOR TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

Once again, Congress appears to have forgotten one of the most important qualities of good government-resisting the temptation to "help" when all that's required is an absence of interference.

The Senate has passed the conference report on the Energy Security Act, often called the "synfuels bill." It creates the Synthetic Fuels Corporation, an independent, federally owned government corporation which is to provide private industry financial assistance to produce liquid and gaseous fuels from coal and lignite, shale, tar sands and heavy oil. Certainly, its goal is worthwhile. We must develop these resources. But the reason such a push is necessary now is in large part due to past federal tampering with the free enterprise system. And this bill is a classic example of government trying to solve a problem it helped create by mindlessly throwing large amounts of government money at it.

Some technologies for developing liquid and gaseous fuels from sources other than the conventional forms of oil and gas have been around since the beginning of the twentieth century. In fact, many large American and European cities had "synthetic fuels" plants that converted coal into gas for street lights in the 19th century. Before World War II, the U.S. Bureau of Mines began funding coal-to-oil research. But the projects never reached the commercial stage because conventional oil and gas were less expensive to use than the converted coal. Government controls to keep oil and gas prices artificially low helped retard development of synthetic fuels.

With skyrocketing oil and gas prices, the situation has changed. Synfuels production on a commercial scale may now be an economically feasible alternative. Yet private investors have balked at committing the billions of dollars necessary to build commercial-scale synthetic fuels plants. Why? A major reason is overregulation and the uncertainty of government policy.

Increasingly burdensome and constant changing State and Federal regulations, overly restrictive environmental protection standards, and the ever-present threat of unfounded and obstructionist lawsuits have made most companies understandably unwilling to take the necessary financial risks.

Because of such government-induced uncertainties and delays, some limited federal financial assistance is probably needed to stimulate investment in these risky, capital intensive projects.

In my view, however, the $20 billion synfuels program now headed for final congressional approval goes well beyond what is reasonably required to stimulate this new industry. Nor, in my judgment, is there any justification for the creation of another government agency or federal corporation to administer such a program.

The development of a viable synthetic fuels industry is essential to utilize most effectively our abundant energy resources such as coal and oil shale. That can best be done, however, not by massive new programs of government assistance, but through the efforts of private industry. Private industry can and will do the job if we simply eliminate the layers of government overregulation which now stifle investment in these synthetic fuels projects.

GRINDING IN THE NIGHT
By Lonnie M. Pollard, D.D.S.

An estimated one in 20 adults and three in 20 children unconsciously grind their teeth at night. It is the sound of bruxism. While the noise may disturb spouses or children, it has a far more distressing effect on the sleeper.

Nocturnal grinding can exert thousands of pounds of pressure per square inch on the surfaces of the teeth. It can be rough not only on teeth but on supporting bone, the gums, and jaw joint.

For many years, bruxism was attributed to the release of tension from emotional stress. However, many dental authorities today believe that the causes exist in the patient's mouth. Night grinding may be an unconscious effort to correct irregularities of the chewing surfaces of the teeth. Dentists term this malocclusion. They grind away to eliminate a spot that is too high or to find a comfortable place to fit the upper and lower teeth together.

If you have this nightly grind problem, your first stop should be your dentist's office...before you do any serious damage to your teeth.

Bishop Moves Into Second In Men's Action

With two victories during the week and an assist from Hooper, Bishop took sole possession of second place in the Men's Softball League last week.

The Bishop squad Downed HNG, 11-1, then used a Robert Day home run to take Casparis, 27-17, in a slugfest.

Hooper aided the cause with a mild upset of the Birds, 8-7, enough to offset a Jackie Willis home run. Willis and Steve Snelson both homered in leading the Birds to a 17-6 win over S&S to stay a half game behind Bishop at 14-5.

Hooper's victory, combined with a 7-0 shutout of Western, moved them into fourth place at 12-6.

The idle Whiz maintained their lock on first place the second round drawing to an end. The front-runners hold a 16-1 record.

The Patchers moved into fifth place at 11-6 with two victories. Jeff Doan homered in a 17-12 win over Casparis, and Danny Doan hit a pair of four-baggers in pacing a 17-7 victory over HNG. James Edmiston homered for Casparis in that game.

The third and final round of action starts next Monday.

ACS Effective In Cancer Battle

One of the most effective organizations working for the elimination of cancer as a deadly disease which kills many thousands of people every year is the American Cancer Society. This is a non-profit organization which is funded by volunteer gifts; and those gifts range from a few pennies to thousands of dollars.

Research in the past few years has discovered cures for some types of cancer, and there are now medicines being tested which hold great promise for the curing of others. Most cancer is now curable if discovered early enough, so always be alert to the warning signs of cancer.

and don't wait until too late to go for an examination.

Many people give to the Cancer Society to honor or in memory of loved ones. This is one way to give a Living memorial. The gift not only honors the one remembered, but it may be instrumental in saving many from death by cancer.

Duane Sewell, Account Representative, with Reagan Publishing Company of San Antonio was in the office last week and seemingly was very impressed with the reception he has received in Sonora. Said he found the people very, very friendly. We are indeed proud to portray that image to visitors and tourists!

It's interesting how a new train of thought can come to mind. After discussing industrial prospects, how you reach them, etc. with Don Holdridge and reading his column, contact was made with Danny Choate, Manager, Research and Data Services, Texas Industrial Commission, Austin, Texas. Choate will research to see if a feasibility survey has been made on the wool and mohair industry, and if so, where it can be located, etc.

Also, Tom Payton from the County Extension office in Sonora is going to contract Dr. Merrill with the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station and County Agent Preston Faris to see if a feasibility study of wool and mohair by-products, etc. has been made. Payton will also check to see if an agency in San Angelo could be of help.

Texas Industrial Update's latest issue noted that 12 Central Texas towns have gone under contract to Private Industry Council. Partial listing of the kinds of industrial development activities will be: (1) Conduct an advertising campaign in newspapers and trade journals in an effort to attract new industry (2) Follow up on resources from industrial prospects in an effort to obtain a placement of that industry (3) Prepare an audio/visual presentation to show prospective industries (4) Conduct a labor survey (5) Print an industrial survey brochure to give to prospective industries (6) Conduct a site survey to determine potential buildings and land where new industry could locate (7) Conduct an area statistical survey to prepare facts to be included in an industrial fact book (8) Develop and print a community profile brochure for use in contacting industrial prospects (9) Develop and print industrial and city maps for distribution to industrial prospects and (10) Train chamber of commerce personnel in industrial development skills. Our local industrial committee has already accomplished (2), (4), (6), & (7). City Manager Jim Dover informs that new City Maps will be available sometime in September of this year. Dover stated that the new maps will include current additions.

Friendly face around town this week was Virginia Weatherford, newcomer to Sonora. Watch for a news release on Virginia.

The C of C Board of Directors voted to have me work on the census, as there have not been enough applicants to ensure getting an accurate count for the 1980 census. Hours for the C of C will be 8:30 until 10:30 from Monday to Friday. Any questions arising or information needed can be handled by leaving notes on the C of C desk and return phone calls may be taken care of the following day. Also, a listing of rental houses is on the desk and may be copied.

Persons interested in entering the Llano Chamber of Commerce's 1st Annual Black Powder Shoot-Out and Wild Game Bar-B-Que Cook-Off on Saturday and Sunday, August 9th and 10th at City Airport and City Park may write for an information packet and Official Entry Form: Llano C of C, 700 Bessemer, Llano, Tx. 78643 or call AC915-247-5354. There is a deadline: First come, first served on contests and cook-off spaces unless advance registration is made.
