The competition was fierce with little white men popping up all over town last weekend, but this had to be the largest snowman built as it towered approximately seven feet high. A rare Sonora snowfall dumped three to five inches of the powdery crystals around the county.

SISD Authorizes Suit Settlement

The Sonora Independent School District Board of Trustees authorized attorney Craig Porter to attempt a settlement of the suit filed against the district by J.D. Burk.

After spending nearly 1 1/2 hours in executive session, the Board voted for Porter to try to settle the suit in an amount set in the closed meeting.

The suit stems from the construction of the school's vocational building for which Burk was the contractor.

The Trustees held the building was not satisfactorily completed, and held approximately $80,000 in contingency until completion.

Burk felt the building was complete and filed the suit against the SISD and architect Augie Saxe.

The Board also voted to rehire Curriculum Director W.A. Mc-

Andrew and principals Clay Cade, Mario Soltello, Smith Neal and James Bible for the coming year.

A lengthy discussion was also held with Cade and elementary physical education teachers Carole Karnes and Bill Dempsey about the possibility of constructing some type of indoor recreation area for P.E. students.

The Trustees agreed to look into the cost of converting the elementary auditorium into a gymnasium or covering the old tennis courts. Another option which had been discussed earlier would be the conversion of the old cafeteria if a new one is built.

Superintendent Dr. Joe Andrews presented Board members with a schedule for the April 4 trustee election. The Board will officially call the election at their regular February meeting.

Andrews also gave figures for school enrollment at 1,271 total with 290 in high school, 301 in junior high, 320 in middle school and 357 in elementary.

Andrews also commented the school had a 95 percent attendance record which is considered excellent. The Board again discussed setting policy on minimum educational requirements for personnel, but made no definite decision.

Andrews read a letter from Pat Mosely concerning the traffic congestion around the schools, and Board members suggested looking into initiating some type of honor patrol.

Sales Tax Rebates Show Increase For Sonora

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Thursday made payments totaling $33.1 million to nearly a thousand cities levying the optional one percent city sales tax.

The payments represent the first rebates to cities this year who collect city sales tax and about $10 million more than the cities received in January of last year.

Sonora and Eldorado both showed dramatic increases in the amount of sales tax received for the month.

The City of Sonora received $19,659.88, a 209 percent increase over the $6,360.62 from 1979.

Eldorado showed a 112 percent increase from $2,762.24 last year to $5,873.36 this period.

Other area cities showing increases were Ballinger, $6,419.99, up 71 percent; Big Lake, $10,977.52, up 154 percent; Iraan, $4,756.

11, up 53 percent; McCamey, $2,938.35, up 59 percent; Menard, $1,420.31, up 32 percent; and San Angelo, $225,712.63, up 40 percent.

Mertzon with $1,621.48, Rankin with $1,431.70 and Rocksprings with $1,910.12 all went without a first month payment in 1979.

Only Brady with an 11 percent drop to $12,923.20 and Del Rio with a two percent falloff to $43,852.18 showed losses among area cities.

The biggest check—$6.6 million—went to Houston, a 31 percent increase over last January's check.

Dallas received a check for $3.7 million, a 42 percent increase over the $2.6 million received last year.

Fort Worth will receive a check for $1.2 million compared to $971,920 for the same period last year.

San Antonio will receive a check for $1.7 million this month compared to $1.3 million for January of 1980.

The city sales tax is collected along with the state sales tax by merchants and businesses and rebated monthly to the cities in which it is collected by the Comptroller.

March Of Dimes Mothers March Begins Jan. 26

The 1981 Mothers March for March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation will be held in Sonora during the week of January 26 to continue funding the battle to prevent most serious child health problems.

Miss Vivian Mears, Mothers March chairman, said, "Every year more than 250,000 newborns come into this world suffering physical or mental damage due to birth defects." "We are soliciting funds door-to-door and by mailers, and by student coin envelopes as our response to this tragic health reality," she said.

"This is the 30th anniversary of the Mothers March which began in Phoenix, Arizona in 1950. Today the volunteer appeal is held every year by the more than 800 March of Dimes chapters throughout the country," she said.

"The Mothers March is not only a fund raising event," she explained, "but also an opportunity to acquaint as many people as possible with the tremendously needed work being done by the March of Dimes."

Programs of research, medical services, public and professional health education are major ways in which the March of Dimes is working to prevent birth defects in local communities and nationally as well.

"We are community-minded," Miss Mears said. "Because birth defects are far more widespread than many people might first think, the Mothers March offers all of us an opportunity to learn and to do something positive in battling this scourge of innocent children."

David Creek and an unidentified Ballinger player scramble for a loose ball in the Broncos' loss to the Bearcats in last week's loss to the Bearcats. The contest was the District 8-AAA lid lifter for both teams.

JV Boys Trip 'Cats

Sonora junior varsity boys, paced by a 31 point performance by Ronnie Anderson, blew by Ballinger in a high scoring 61-51 District 8-AAA opener last Tuesday night. Ballinger edged ahead in the opening period, 12-10, but by halftime the Broncos had cut the margin to one point, 30-29.

The Sonora cagers hit 73 percent from the floor in the third quarter as they went on top, 45-40, then outgunned their visitors, 16-11, over the final stanza. Sonora hit on 53 percent of its field goals during the contest that kept their record unspoiled for the season.

DeVoe Smith also hit in double figures with 14 points, followed by Joey Samaniego with eight and Matt Favila and Victor Garcia, both with four.

The JV hosts Coleman Friday night, then travel to Brady next Tuesday to complete the first round of district competition.

They also play in the Eldorado JV Tournament this Thursday through Saturday.

Softball Meeting Set

The Men's Softball Association will hold an organizational meeting tomorrow (Thursday) at 7 p.m. at the YNG Building on the hill.

All persons interested in softball are strongly urged to attend.

Sonora's varsity girls opened the first week of District 8-AAA play with a split of their two games, easing by Ballinger, 49-35, then falling at Comanche,

Girls Split First District Tilts

43-33, on Friday night. The Sonora press and fast break made the Ballinger game a runaway as the Bronco girls made a surprisingly easy win over a defending district champion team that had beaten the Broncos last year and returned every starter. The game was close until the final minute of the opening stanza when Rosa Noriega stole two passes and trotted downcourt for the easy layup. Annabelle Gonzales repeated the act and Sonora had a 12-4 first quarter lead they never relinquished. Noriega topped the Sonora scoring with 17 points, followed by Jessica Robledo with 14, Tonya Evans with eight, Gonzales and Paula Friess with four each and Julie Stewart with two.

A grueling six-game schedule in eight days along with the 180-mile bus trip may have been too much for the Broncos Friday night in Comanche as they took the entire first quarter to get in gear.

By that time the Maidens held a 19-5 lead the Broncos could only chip away slightly at.

Robledo was the top point producer in that contest with 19 points, followed by Noriega with six and Gonzales and Friess, both with four.

The girls tangle with a tough Coleman team in Bronco gym Friday night, then travel to Brady Tuesday as they try to end the first half of district competition with at least a second place showing.

Boys Fall To Ballinger, Comanche In League Openers

The Sonora Bronco boys saw their league record fall to 0-2 as they opened their District 8-AAA schedule with losses to Ballinger on Tuesday and Comanche Friday night.

Ballinger jumped to a 19-4 halftime lead enroute to a 49-28 victory.

Cold shooting in the first half proved too much to overcome for the Broncos as they stayed virtually even with the visiting Bearcats in the second half.

David Creek paced the anemic Sonora scoring attack with 10 points, followed by Johnny Doan with six, John Blankenship and Scott Savell with four each and Allen Stewart and Armando Martinez, both with two.

The game at Comanche was an entirely different story as the Indians stole the ball in the waning seconds to clinch a 37-35 squeaker.

The score was deadlocked, 14-14, after the first quarter as they slipped out to a 32-27 edge over their

JV Girls Stumble

The Sonora junior varsity girls could seldom find the inside of the bucket last Tuesday as they dropped their first District 8-AAA game to Ballinger here, 46-16.

Ballinger jumped to a 10-2 first quarter lead, then ran the score out of reach at half time, 23-10.

The Sonora fivesome could muster only six points the entire second half.

Debra Maldonado and Lora Lea Kordzik each canded six points for the Broncos, while Kristi Hill and Sonya Ridgeway both nailed two points.

The girls will play in the Eldorado Junior Varsity Tournament this Thursday through Saturday. They will also have district games against Coleman here Friday night and at Brady Tuesday night.

SISD Releases Football Finances

The Sonora Independent School District recently released its financial statement for the 1980 football season showing gross receipts of $25,714.18 and disbursements of $33,847.98.

The Eldorado game had the highest gate receipts, totaling $4,401.35, while the Brady game tallied the most for an away game at $1,774.

The school district received $2,027.50 from their share of the bi-district contest in San Angelo.

Junior high and junior varsity games brought in $1,212.35 of the grand total, and another $152.40 was brought in from miscellaneous sources.

The bi-district game with Stamford grossed $8,350 with $487 going for officials and 2,027.50 for the visiting team's share.

Other expenses for the contest included $2,500 for the visiting team's travel guarantee, $835 to the Interscholastic League, $35 to film the game, $396 for film processing and $42 for footballs.

Rosa Noriega puts in the first of her two layups after a steal that staked the Sonora girls to a 12-4 first quarter lead over Ballinger last week. The baskets gave the girls the momentum to capture their first District 8-AAA contest.

Sporting Chance

By Don Holdridge

Here it is folks, the long awaited Holdridge special prediction. I know all of you have been waiting with bated breath for this, but you'll have to wait a few more paragraphs. (Of course, you know to place your bets on the team I don't pick.)

The biggest news in sports last week, or at least the one that may have the most far reaching effects, was the decision of the NCAA to accept women's athletics.

The battle lines are drawn for the women already have their own organization, the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women, and the AIAW is mad.

For years, the all powerful NCAA looked on sports for the weaker sex as second rate. Title IX changed the outlook for women's athletics, forcing equality. The AIAW was already there when the changes started taking place.

The female sports in colleges have grown in leaps and bounds over the last decade, ever under the watchful eye of the AIAW.

Now the men want a piece of the action, too. NCAA affiliation could have some positive effects such as more television exposure, but most women fear their sports will soon become the bloody recruiting battlegrounds the men have now. Currently under AIAW rules, the feds can only be recruited through campus visits--no home visits.

There are other problems too numerous to mention, but it appears the NCAA has jumped in over its head. Let's hope it doesn't drag the women down with it too.

SUPER BOWL XV

Philadelphia Eagles vs. Oakland Raiders

With a sharp look, it would appear on the surface the Eagles would have to be the choice to win the Lombardi Trophy this year.

After all, didn't they have the best record in the NFL this year. Didn't they knock America's team out of a division and NFC title?

They do have Ron Jaworski who may just be the best quarterback in the league. They also have Harold Carmichael who just may be the most dependable receiver in the league. And they do have a hobbled Wilbert Montgomery who limped his way to a playoff game rushing record against the Cowboys.

Their defense is no slouch either, being led by the likes of Jerry Robinson and Carl Hairston.

So there's a winner. Right? Well, maybe. Oakland is one of those teams that wasn't supposed to be here. In fact, they weren't even supposed to be in the playoffs.

But a funny thing happened. They won a wild card berth, then their first playoff game and their second playoff game and finally, the AFC championship.

Mostly they did it with a rejuvenated defense led by the Defensive Player of the Year, cornerback Lester Hayes. All the little guy from A&M has done this year is to intercept 13 passes, three more in the regular season, and head one of the stingiest defenses in the league.

Of course there's the birdman. Ted Hendricks used to be called "The Stork", but now they should call him "The Sphinx". He has literally risen from the ashes to again be recognized as one of the best linebackers around.

Speaking of rising again, take a look at Jim Plunkett. The Quarterback from Stanford came into the league as one of the most heralded signal callers in college history--and fell flat on his face.

He wasn't a starter at the beginning of the season, but took over when Dan Pastorini was injured and has been a major force in getting them this far. His statistics haven't been that impressive, but he seems to have a knack for winning.

Oh, yes, the winner. Super Bowls have become as much of a media hype as they have a championship game. The players can easily get carried away with all the goings-on.

That is particularly an advantage to the Raiders, several of whom were there at Oakland's last Super Bowl. They know what its like and how to avoid it.

Philadelphia may have also blown everything out against Dallas in the NFC title game. It was a near perfect performance, but those don't come along every game.

Having been there before is probably the biggest advantage for the Raiders. Only Pittsburgh has won its first Super Bowl against a team that has been there before, and only Green Bay and the New York Jets have won their first big game.

The talent is with the Eagles, but the odds seem to favor the Raiders. Oakland 24-20

El Paso Exploration Completes Extending In Tuscaloosa Trend

The El Paso Company today announced that its gas and oil exploration and production subsidiary, El Paso Exploration Company, and its partners successfully completed a test of an extension well in the deep Tuscaloosa Trend in southern Louisiana.

The Jumonville #2 well, located on the company's North False River area of interest in Pointe Coupee Parish, Louisiana, on a four-hour test flowed gas at a stabilized rate of 6.9 million cubic feet per day plus 533 barrels of condensate through a 15/64-inch choke with a flowing tubing pressure of 5,436 pounds from perforations between 18,386 and 18,412 feet.

El Paso, together with Wagner and Brown, the operator of the well, of Odessa, Texas, each own a 37.5 percent working interest in the Jumonville #2 well. The remaining interests are owned by other companies and private parties. The company owns additional leasehold interests in the vicinity of the extension well.

The El Paso Company, in addition to oil and gas exploration and production, is engaged in natural gas transmission, chemical manufacturing and the marine transportation of liquefied natural gas.

DOE Grants Now Available

The beginning of the third annual "Appropriate Technology Small Grants Program" by the U.S. Department of Energy was announced Jan. 17 by G. Dan Rambo of Dallas, Regional Representative for DOE.

Approximately $800,000 will be available in the region's five southwestern states. In the previous two cycles, 116 grant awards totaling $1,516,852 were made in the region, which includes Texas, Arkansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Grant application may be obtained by writing to: Appropriate Technology Program, U.S. Department of Energy/6CE, P.O. Box 35228, Dallas, Texas 75235. Under the program, DOE makes grants available for development of a technology or process which is, when put into practice, the most appropriate for local cultural, economic and social conditions. It is geared for projects which are small in scale, decentralized and energy efficient; use local material, labor and ingenuity; not capital intensive; and maximize the use of renewable energy resources.

Eligible for grants of up to $50,000 are individuals, small businesses, state or inter-state government agencies, local non-profit organizations or institutions, Indian tribes, local or county government agencies, and colleges or universities.

All projects must be carried out within the five-state region. The deadline for submission is April 20, 1981.

Screwworm Plant Closes Doors

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's sterile screwworm fly production plant at Mission is closed down, effective January 5. This action marks significant progress in the effort to eradicate this serious livestock pest from the United States and all but the southern tip of Mexico.

Larvae of the screwworm fly feed on living flesh in wounds of warm-blooded animals. Repeated infestations, if left untreated, have killed cattle within ten days. Damage to the livestock industry before eradication efforts began were estimated at $100 million annually in the southwestern United States and $20 million annually in the Southeast.

Cooperative federal-state (or commonwealth) programs eradicated the screwworm in the Southeast in 1959 and in Puerto Rico in 1976. International cooperation has now rendered the southwestern United States and northern tier of Mexican states virtually free of the pest.

The basic tool in the eradication process is production and aerial release of millions of sterile male flies. Since female screwworms usually mate only once in their lifetime, the "sterile male technique" effectively breaks the insects' life cycle--eggs resulting from fertile female-sterile male mating will not hatch.

USDA officials point out that the success of the eradication program thus far, and the nature of the sterile male technique, combine to necessitate closing of the Mission rearing plant. With the United States and Northern Mexico practically free of screwworms, continued production at Mission creates a constant threat of fertile flies escaping to reinfest the now "clean" area.

The second major reason for the plant closure is that, as the eradication effort moves into Mexico, more and more sterile flies are needed to overwhelm native fly populations. A new screwworm production plant has been constructed near Tuxtla-Gutierrez, Chiapas (in the heavily infested southern portion of Mexico), with the capacity to produce roughly two-and a-half times as many sterile flies as Mission. Moreover, cost savings achieved by consolidating production efforts in the Tuxtla plant will enable USDA to produce many more sterile flies for the same number of dollars. This will also speed eradication efforts. Thus, eventually saving millions of dollars.

New Agriculture Secretary Faces Challenge Of Agencies

"The greatest challenge the new Secretary of Agriculture will likely face is winning support for his producer-oriented policy proposals within other agencies of government."

Several of the major issues confronting Agriculture Secretary Designate John Block are of direct interest to other government departments, according to Dr. Ronald D. Knutson.

Knutson, is an economist in policy and marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. He also has been serving on the staff of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Transition Task force for the incoming Reagan administration.

Knutson said agricultural issues where conflict are likely to occur among agencies of government include lifting of the Soviet grain embargo, increases in food prices, and proposals to increase price and income supports that have the potential for adding to government outlays.

Knutson, in an address before the Texas Farmers Union in Dallas Jan. 9, said that two major changes will occur within the USDA as a result of the election of Ronald Reagan as President and appointment of Block as Agriculture Secretary.

"First, USDA policy proposals and decisions will be more market-oriented. In this situation, forces of supply and demand are the prime determinants of farm prices and income," said Knutson.

This contrasts directly with the Carter Administration farm policies where prices of major food and feed grains have been maintained in a relatively narrow range, mainly through low release and call levels within the government-controlled but farmer-held reserve, the economist explained.

ICA President Opposes USDA Plan

Roy Wheeler, President of the Independent Cattlemen's Association of Texas, says he is opposed to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's plan to buy frozen ground beef with soy protein added for use in USDA's school lunch program.

"The beef industry has already suffered enough due to lack of adequate markets and increased cost of production," said Wheeler. "It seems that our government has been a hindrance rather than a help to our industry."

USDA recently announced it is buying a mix of 80 percent ground beef and 20 percent hydrated soy. The purchases will be made with the same basic specification now being used in the regular ground beef purchase program.

Wheeler quoted Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker Foreman as saying, "If ground beef with soy added is acceptable for school lunches, it would lead to substantial savings for the program." "That may be true," said Wheeler, "but what is the value of saving money in one respect when you are contributing to the downfall of the most important segment of our country -- the food producers?"

The ICA president said he hopes the new Republican administration will guide the USDA into a more producer-oriented agency rather than a consumer-oriented agency "as it has been in the past."

He said one of the first priorities of the new administration should be to encourage and develop more markets, both national and international, for the "over-abundance" of quality beef available for purchase in the United States.

"Through the free enterprise system, the American producer has developed a

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

Since our visit last week, it rained again! I made a day trip down through Concho County, San Saba, Brady, Mason and Fredericksburg...and of course Copperas Creek in Kimble County...and its greening up. Yes, I mean besides the small grain patches, there is grass coming up fast in pastures. Things are looking a lot like spring already. At the same time we rush about trying to get the livestock fed and get back to the fireside as temperatures hang around freezing even at mid-day. Other than the greening in the pastures, its still very much winter.

Dr. James Nevins, soon to be retiring as superintendent of San Angelo schools, is a parttime stockfarmer in the Winters area. "Come next summer it appears as if I will not only be fulltime rancher but maybe time and a half," he commented the other day.

The reason: "My ranch foreman has retired," he adds. "Do you know where I can find a good hand?" Maybe someone in the Winters area can give him an answer. There is always a ranch job open somewhere in West Texas. Some mohair and wool is beginning to move in the 1981 markets. Mohair contracts on adult hair, spring clip brought $4.16 a pound. Wool activity, and not much of it, was quoted at 90 cents to $1.20 for lamb. Sanderson Wool Commission Co. sold about 25,000 pounds of remnant 12-month at $1.18; eight month at $1.17, clippings 75 cents.

San Angelo Stock Show & Rodeo Slated For March

Country-western vibrations have been tradition between the thrills and spills of broncs and bull riding during the nearly one-half century of San Angelo rodeos. The 48th annual presentation to be staged here March 11-15 will be no exception.

Headlining the 48th annual Stock Show and Rodeo will be another outstanding line-up of stars. Opening night will feature Louise Mandrell and her husband, R.C. Bannon, both popular in their own right. Louise is currently one of the stars of the weekly TV series with her sister, Barbara Mandrell, a headliner here several years back.

A matinee and evening performance Friday, March 13, will spotlight The Kennells. The father-daughter team quickly zoomed to top 20 status when they recorded John Denver's "Leaving on a Jet Plane."

With the release of "Women Get Lonely", Charly McClain established her singing career. She will appear in the remodeled San Angelo Coliseum Saturday in a matinee and evening show.

Closing the yearly rodeo on Sunday afternoon, The Thrasher Brothers, another group switching from gospel to country, will blend harmony and unprecedented rhythm to produce equally top entertainment.

Along with the featured stars will be the world's leading cowboys and cowgirls. They, of course, are the leading attraction of any rodeo. Scattered between the coliseum and midway will be the premium livestock from throughout the Southwest. "This year's show is shaping up to be our biggest and best yet," adds Robert Kensing, stock show association president.

The heat pump

"THE ELECTRIC SAVINGS MACHINE"

Stretch your energy dollars—install an energy-efficient electric heat pump

A heating system that's more than 200% efficient may seem like something out of the future. But it isn't. It's yours today, with the electric heat pump. Because when correctly installed in a properly insulated home, the heat pump produces two units of heat for each single unit of electricity it uses. It transfers heat that's always present in sun-warmed outside air into your home during the winter. And reverses the process, pumping heat outdoors during the summer.

If you have plans to buy, build, or remodel, or are looking for a new heating and cooling system for your home, call a local FACTORY TRAINED heat pump dealer or talk with WTU. We will arrange for a WTU heating and cooling specialist to contact you. Learn more about the easy-to-install, economical electric heat pump—your most energy-efficient heating and cooling system buy.
