

44th Annual Wool Show Activities Start Today

The 44th Annual Sonora Wool and Mohair Show and National 4-H Wool Judging Contest gets into full swing today culminating in the luncheon and auction of the junior show champion at 11:30 am Thursday.

The open show includes both junior and adult exhibitors of wool and mohair as well as junior and senior wool, mohair, livestock and range judging.

The national wool judging contest, added to the show in 1947, this year will host teams from Colorado and Wyoming, two from New Mexico and probably Tom Green and Kendall Counties from Texas.

Teams other than the Sutton County 4-H'ers entered included Val Verde, Kimble, Runnels, Kendall, Edwards, San Saba, Tom Green and Uvalde through Monday morning. Others may have entered later.

The annual events are sponsored by the Sonora Lions Club, Sonora Wool and Mohair and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

According to Sutton County Agent Preston Faris, the auction is a new feature of the show which should hopefully help draw more participation in future shows.

Last year's grand champion exhibitors were Rick Powers of Sutton

County, bags of wool; Bryan Hunt of Sutton County, wool single fleeces; Dana Davis of Uvalde County, mohair single fleeces; Bryan Hunt, junior premier wool exhibitor; and Ben Lockhart of Edwards County, junior premier mohair exhibitor.

Senior team winners last year were San Saba County, livestock; Sutton County (Lance Love, Rex Surber, Fran Friess, and David Love), wool; San Saba County, mohair; and Sutton County (Brad Johnson, Marla Van Hoozer, Julie Stewart, and Fran Friess), range management.

Rex Surber in the senior division and Steve Love in the junior division last year carried on a long tradition of Sutton County 4-H'ers winning high individual honors.

Sutton County senior winners over the past few years include Surber, 1979 and 1980; Paula Friess, 1977 and 1978; and Larry Finklea, 1974.

Sutton County junior winners include Love in 1980; Joe Will Ross in 1979; Rick Powers, 1977 and 1978; Paula Friess, 1976; and Mark Van Hoozer, 1974.

Several special awards are also presented each year. Among these is the Joe and W.F. Berger Memorial Trophy presented by Mr. and Mrs. L.P. Bloodworth and Chris and Larry Berger to the premier junior wool exhibitor.

The Fred T. Earwood Trophy is also presented annually by Mrs. Fred T. Earwood and Mr. and Mrs. Armer Earwood to the premier mohair exhibitor.

The other special award is the E.B. Keng Memorial Trophy presented by the Edwards Plateau Soil and Water Conservation District to the high scoring range judging team.

Former Sutton County Agent Clint Langford of Kerrville is serving as general superintendent of this show and Virgil Poloccek is the program chairman.

Division superintendents include Armer Earwood, mohair; Norm Rousselot, wool; and Albert Ward, bags.

Judging the contests will be Jack Groff, George Ahlschwede, Bob Ragsdale, and Larry White. Assisting them will be LeRoy Hoermann, Gill Engdahl, Poloccek and Tom Payton.

Glen Fisher is chairman of the overall show committee. Other members of the committee are Norm Rousselot, Armer Earwood, Vestel Askew, James Hunt and Albert Ward.

A complete list of the various committees is given inside today's DRN

School Board Accepts Plans For Snack Bar Conversion

Ron Smith of West Texas Coffee and Equipment in Abilene spent over an hour with Sonora Independent School District Trustees presenting a plan for converting the Sonora Junior High Snack Bar into a facility capable of serving Class A lunches.

Under his plan the snack bar would still be retained, a specification several Board members had expressed hope for earlier.

The need for the facility stems from overcrowding in the current cafeteria at the elementary. The Board last year rejected two proposals--one for a new cafeteria and the other for enlarging the current facility--as too expensive.

SISD dietician Ebbe Sutton told Board members an average of 850 students a day were being fed in the cafeteria with as many as 900 on some days.

By providing the lunchroom facilities in the junior high, 150 junior high students and 70-80 high school students who currently eat in the cafeteria could be moved from the old facility. In addition, fifth graders could possibly be brought over from the middle school for further relief.

Smith's plan would move the current serving counter out into the room eight feet to allow more space, but even he admitted the plan has limitations, mainly due to a lack of space for walking and counter-top work areas.

"The plan should be good for a maximum of 400 students plus the snack bar," Smith said.

He said the serving number was limited more by space than equipment. "If you're looking for something to solve the current problems, this should handle it for another two years, depending on the growth factor," he said.

Although a few revisions were made in Smith's equipment recommendations, his price total excluding carpentry, wiring and plumbing was $55,300.

Smith said the work could be complete by Sept. 1 if the go-ahead was given by June 15.

At the urging of Superintendent Dr. Joe Andrews, the Board voted to have Smith make the minor revisions in the plan, prepare the specs and return them as soon as possible and ask for at least two more bids on the actual work before June 15.

Board President Sam Stewart asked Smith for a rough estimate on the cost of a central kitchen and he told him approximately $120,000 of equipment would be needed in addition to a 3,000-4,000 sq. foot building.

In the only other business, the Trustees, approved the job description for the director of business and accepted the resignation of Terry Campbell.

Campbell's resignation was the only action taken after a 2½ hour executive session. The majority of the closed session was spent in conference with the school district's attorney, Don Hensley of Austin.

Swimming Pool Hours Announced

The Sonora Public Swimming Pool opened its summer season on May 26. The hours during the summer will be from 2 pm until 6:30 pm seven days a week.

Admission to the pool is $1 for persons over 12-years of age and 50 cents for those 12-years old and under. Baskets are 25 cents each.

The pool is owned by the City of Sonora and managed by Oliver and Gary Wuest.

The lifeguards this summer are Bill Dempsey, Tonya Evans and substitute Deena DeMarco.

The swimming pool is available for private parties between 7 and 9 pm. (each night by reservation only). All interested persons should contact Gary Wuest at 387-5221 to reserve the pool and get more information concerning parties.

A large pool, ranging from two feet, six inches deep to 10 feet deep is equipped with low and high diving boards and a slide. A pool is also available for small children and novice swimmers.

The water in both pools is treated with certified chemicals to keep it clean.

Refreshments are also available each day at the bath house.

On July 11 registration will be held at the pool for private swimming lessons and for a ladies' water exercise class.

For more information concerning these classes, contact Wuest at 387-2729 or 387-5221.

Loeffler Issues Statement On Israeli Bombing Raid

Jim Overton, press secretary to Congressman Tom Loeffler, called Tuesday morning to issue a statement on Israel's bombing of an Iraqi nuclear facility.

Although admitting they were still pretty much in the dark, he said, "We must be concerned that the Israeli raid may complicate our peacemaking efforts in Lebanon as well as delay settlement of other Arab-Israeli problems in an already tense region."

"In addition, it raises the spectre of a continued Soviet presence and penetration into the Middle East. It is a matter which must be monitored very closely."

Sonora School System Releases Results Of TABS Testing

A report of the results of the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills was made public at the regular June board meeting.

The Texas Assessment of Basic Skills is a series of three tests taken by students in the third, fifth and ninth grades in early spring. Subjects tested are reading, writing and mathematics.

This statewide testing program was mandated under Senate Bill 350 passed by the Texas Legislature in 1979. It was implemented by the Texas Education Agency in 1980.

The testing was completed several weeks ago in Sonora and in other schools throughout the state, and the test results were received in May. Individual test results which will be kept confidential, have been sent home to the parents.

"On the whole, we were very pleased with the results of the TABS Tests", Dr. Joe Andrews, Superintendent of Schools, says, "but we feel it will point out areas where improvements in our basic program can be made.

Lt. John Fritts Reports To Laughlin AFB June 3

Second Lieutenant John Clinton Fritts, son of the Rev. and Mrs. John W. Fritts of Sonora, reported for active duty and pilot training at Laughlin AFB, Texas on June 3.

He is to receive training in the T-37 jet trainer and then the T-38 during his 49 weeks of training at Laughlin.

Fritts graduated from Texas A&M University on May 8 and was commissioned as a second Lieutenant United States Air Force that same day with his oath of office administered by his father, Chaplain (COL) John W. Fritts, USAF (Ret.).

He was Scholarship Officer of his squadron and was elected as the outstanding senior of his cadet unit. He was a captain in the Corps of Cadets.

During his period of study at Texas A&M University he was elected as the outstanding sophomore, outstanding junior, received the Big Ag award for building esprit in his unit as a sophomore. From the days when he was a sophomore until graduation he served in the capacity of the scholarship officer or non-commissioned officer of his unit.

Fritts is a layreader in Saint John's Episcopal Church and was active in religious affairs at A&M.

He now joins with his father and his brothers in service in the military. His older brother, Frederic William, was a Combat Infantryman who was awarded the Bronze Star and Silver Star before being killed in action as a paratrooper in Vietnam.

His brother, John Richard, served in the United States Air Force during the Vietnam War and is now a member of the United member of the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

Chaplain Fritts, initially an infantry officer, served on active duty or on reserve or National Guard service from August 28, 1940 until May 1, 1976.

Gardening Tips

Put Irrigation Water In Plants' Root Zones

By Ruth Taylor
By putting irrigation water where it is needed, in the root zones of plants, gardeners can grow healthier plants, save water and conserve their own energy.

If you've been drenching your vegetables with a hose or overhead sprinkler, you are wasting water. First, a good portion of that water is lost to evaporation, some of it before it reaches the ground. Second, you are watering not only the vegetables, but also the walkways between the rows, the edge of the garden and the leaves of the plants for the most part don't need the moisture. You are also helping weeds along by giving them as much water as you give your crops.

The effects of drip irrigation are much different. An emitter placed close to the ground releases a slow trickle of water right at the base of your plants. With a sprinkler, it takes 40 minutes to water a 100 square feet to 12 inches deep. It can take as little as 15 minutes for water to reach a depth of one foot with the drip system.

The most basic of all drip-type systems is the soaker hose. That is simply a plastic hose with holes that let water drip out in small quantities. It is not quite as efficient as the more sophisticated emitter hoses, but it is cheaper and works well on closely spaced crops such as lettuce or radishes or on intensive planted beds.

Mulching also conserves water. Hay and leaves or black plastic placed between rows holds moisture.

We hear a lot about using cotton hulls for mulch, but I would personally want to know what chemicals were used to defoliate the cotton when it was harvested.

Singer Program Set At Methodist Church

On Sunday, June 14, the congregation of First United Methodist Church will share in a special youth-oriented worship service at 10:55 a.m. as Jim Newton, Songweaver shares his musical witness.

Jim Newton, from Bedford in the Dallas-Ft. Worth area, weaves a tapestry of love and music. He blends the realities of life with the message of love. Jim's performance is both entertaining and educational, stimulating and thought provoking. He has an energy, a commitment, a style, which demand and deserve to be appreciated.

Newton will continue his songweaving following morning worship as those who will join a covered dish luncheon in the basement. Everyone is cordially invited to attend this special youth-oriented event. First United Methodist Church is located on the corner of Water and Oak streets across from the Post Office.

Agent Urges Roundup Attendance

Ranchers and land-owners from around the country will gather at Del Rio this summer for the International Rancher's Roundup. The big meeting is set for August 10 through August 14 at the Del Rio Civic Center, many experts believe the roundup could become the largest such event ever held in the Southwest.

More than 100 speakers from seven prominent ranching states have been confirmed, including Texas Agricultural Commission Reagan Brown.

Sutton County Extension Agent Preston Faris says

three days of general and concurrent educational sessions await the visiting ranchers along with tours of Mexican and Southwest ranches.

Faris says the concurrent sessions will present ranchers with the latest technology for better management of domestic ranch animals, wildlife, animal nutrition, range resource conservation, ranch business and mineral lease agreements.

Agricultural representatives from several countries will be present to discuss their ranching situations and what they need from American producers. Foreign market expansion and the long-term outlook for world-wide economic changes and government policy related to ranching will be examined.

Faris added that information presented during the Roundup will help ranchers solve their problems.

The pre-registration deadline for the conference is June 30, because of the differences in registration fees after the June 30 deadline, Faris encourages prospective participants to request their pre-registration packet promptly. The address for rancher roundup is available from the county extension office by phoning 387-3101.

Disaster Loan Applications Available

Applications for assistance in the disaster stricken county of Sutton will be accepted by Farmers Home Administration until June 29 for production losses.

Emergency loans for farm and ranch operators are available through the Sonora or Eden county office of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), according to Ben T. Rucker, Jr., FmHA County Supervisor.

Rucker asked that those who need farm credit as a result of drought Sept. 1, 1979 through Sept. 1, 1980 make their needs known at the Farmers Home Administration office at Sonora or Eden.

FmHA loans covering actual production losses may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock, or to meet interest and depreciation payments on current real estate and chattel debts.

Other loans, beyond actual losses, can be made for annual operating expenses or to make major adjustments in a farming or ranching operation.

"Funds can be used for essential operating and living costs," Rucker said.

Loans covering actual losses are made at an interest rate of five percent and are scheduled for repayment as rapidly as feasible consistent with the applicant's reasonable ability to pay.

Loans beyond actual losses have various maturities, depending upon the purpose of the loan.

To be eligible for an emergency loan, an applicant must have suffered losses from the disaster and be unable to get credit from other sources.

Emergency loans can be used to help the operator restore damaged farm and ranch operations and additional loans based upon the emergency designation can be used to reorganize the farm for greater efficiency and better production.

Rucker asked that those who need farm credit as a result of the disaster make their needs known at the Farmers Home Administration office in Sonora, located in the ASCS office, on Thursday following the second Wednesday of each month from 10 am to 12 noon, or at the Eden Farmers Home Administration located in the ASCS building.

Rucker's office period in Eden is each Monday morning from 9 am to 12 noon. Address: Box H, Eden, TX 76837; Telephone 915-869-3941.

Brucellosis Committee Named

A livestock producer committee has been named for this area to assist in implementation of the Texas brucellosis program. Members are:

Jimmy Bader, Brackettville; David Bean, Ozona; Jess Burner Jr., Tornillo; Dr. Charles Edwards, Marfa; Ben F. Gearhart, Marfa; Joe Hargrove, Uvalde; Larry McBee, Del Rio; John M. Moore, Pecos; Lloyd Otten, El Paso; Gerald Puckett, Fort Stockton; Martin Wardlaw, Del Rio; and L.D. Whitehead, Fort Davis.

McBee is chairman. The committee is one of 15 throughout Texas. Commissioners of the Texas Animal Health Commission have named one committee for each of the 15 TAHC areas. This group represents TAHC area 5.

"Selection of these committees is a major step forward in the Texas Brucellosis program," John Armstrong, Kingsville, chairman, TAHC, said. "All members are actively engaged in livestock production, and their suggestions and recommendations as to how to improve and implement the Texas Plan for brucellosis control will be invaluable to Commissioners and the entire staff of the TAHC," Armstrong explained.

Brucellosis is a highly contagious disease of livestock. It affects the reproductive organs resulting in abortions, partial loss of milk production, weakened calves, and in some cases sterility in bulls. In humans, brucellosis is known as undulant fever.

Members of the committees were selected from names submitted to the Commissioners by various segments of the livestock industry. "These are not 'rubber stamp' committees. We have members who come from all persuasions. We believe we have committees which will provide us with practical advice, which we will incorporate wherever possible in the Texas brucellosis program," Armstrong said.

More than 600 names were submitted statewide for consideration. A total of 180 producers were selected and have agreed to serve for terms ranging from two to six years.

"The entire livestock industry should be grateful to these producers who have volunteered their time in this endeavor," Commissioners said.

Taiwan Trade Pact Set For Signing This Month

On a recent trade mission to the Republic of China (Taiwan), Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown was assured by officials there that a new five-year trade agreement between the U.S. and Taiwan has been agreed to in principle, and all that remains is the formal signing of the pact. This will assure that the door remains open to billions of dollars worth of agricultural and industrial trade between the two countries, and will mean millions in trade for Texas.

The formal signing ceremony for the agreement, which will be in effect until 1985, will probably take place in June in Washington, D.C.

"Continued sales of farm products will mean millions of dollars for Texas," Brown said. During the past year 51 percent of the 632,000 bales of cotton exported to the Republic of China came from Texas. Texas is the third largest exporting state in the nation.

Brown has signed contracts for 450,000 bales of cotton sold on 733 private transactions in the past two years. In recent years, $160 million worth of Texas cotton has been purchased. "17.2 million tons of grain, including wheat, corn, soybeans, and rice will be bought in the next five years. Also hides, peanuts, milk products, seed, livestock breeding stock, mohair and wool will be U.S. exports to Taiwan. All of these are produced in Texas," Brown reported.

"In addition, literally billions will be spent for U.S. industrial goods, including coal," Brown said.

Two Screwworm Cases Discovered in Marfa

Two screwworm cases were confirmed in sheep in the Marfa area Wednesday, Dr. John Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, reports.

"We don't want to be alarmists, but this is a situation that will need to be watched closely," Dr. Holcombe said. The two cases were found in lambs on a ranch between Shafter and Marfa in Presidio County. This makes four confirmed screwworm cases for Texas this year.

"All livestock producers throughout the state need to be mindful that we could have problems again with screwworm cases. Producers need to submit suspected samples to the fly lab at Mission," Dr. Holcombe said.

A variety of measures are being taken in the Marfa area to contain any further outbreaks. Sterile screwworm flies from Mexico will be air-dropped in a 25 to 40 mile square area

Consumer Awareness Needed

Consumer awareness of natural gas systems and how they operate can be an important factor in improving safety and efficiency, according to Texas Railroad Commissioner Buddy Temple.

In a statement prepared for delivery to the State Senior Citizens Association convention May 29, Temple said that with 500 gas companies and about 110,000 miles of gas pipelines in Texas, the Commission has a big regulatory responsibility. He noted that even though the Commission has a continuing monitoring program, consumer awareness can improve system safety and efficiency too.

Temple said consumers can check three things that the Commission itself checks when it examines a gas utility. First check the amount of gas lost or unaccounted for with a call to the gas company. Leaks in the pipeline system or errors in gas meters can cause losses. A lost or unaccounted for figure of two percent is reasonable.

The background and training of the people running the system is also important and should be checked, according to Temple. Finally, consumers should ask about leak surveys. Federal regulations require that residential neighborhoods be tested for leaks annually.

Temple also described the Commission role in regulating natural gas rates. Each city council in Texas has jurisdiction over the rates of the gas company serving that city. However, if the city and gas company can't agree on rates, the matter can be appealed to the Railroad Commission.

Temple pointed out that the Commission does regulate gas rates in unincorporated areas. There, he said, the Commission generally sets rates at about the same level as rates in the nearest city.

Looking into the future, Temple's statement listed some of the effects that federal decontrol of natural gas prices will have in this decade. He cautioned the senior citizens in the audience to expect shortages, curtailments and price hikes.

PBPA Report Congressmen Continue Work on WPT Exemptions

Congressman Kent Hance, Democrat from Lubbock, and Tom Loeffler, Republican from Hunt, are working to have the 1,000 Barrel Exemption from the Windfall Profits Tax put in President Reagan's Tax Bill.

If the exemption passes, it would apply only to independent producers and royalty owners.

The Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Dan Rostenkowski of Illinois, said he is considering the 1,000 Barrel Exemption, but hasn't made up his mind as yet. Hance is a member of the Ways and Means Committee.

A spokesman for the Treasury Department said the Reagan Administration has no specific position on exemption independent and royalty owners and their stand would depend on what the entire tax bill looks like.

If Hance and Loeffler and Senators Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower are successful, producers and royalty owners would be able to keep 50.9 billion dollars over the next nine years according to the Joint Committee on Taxation.

And, the 1981 PBPA Energy Scholarship Award winners were recently announced.

They are Monica Blair, Midland High graduate; David Dunton, Midland Lee graduate; Warren Neff, graduate of Goddard High in Roswell, New Mexico; and Mark A. Patterson, graduate of Odessa Permian. There are 16 students now enrolled in the Scholarship program.

The 1981 PBPA Energy Secretary of the Year, sponsored by Dick Gaddy, is Joyce O'Bannon. She is secretary to Ted Collins, Jr. of American Quasar Petroleum in Midland.

Our congratulations to these winners and our thanks to Ben Hoffacker, outgoing Chairman of the Scholarship Committee.

The Permian Basin rig count for last week was 430. One year ago it was 312.

February Output of Natural Gas Down From 1980

Texas oil and gas wells produced 514,044,045 Mcf of gas in February 1981, down 9.35 percent from field runs a year earlier.

Marketed gas production totaled 439,871,591 Mcf and reflected a 9.64 percent decrease from the February 1980 volume. Marketed production is the total gas to transmission lines, carbon black and plant fuel and lease use.

Gas exported from Texas in February totaled 248,655,925 Mcf. Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America was the month's largest exporter, moving 67,023, 957 Mcf. of gas of which 34,510,904 Mcf was Texas-produced gas.

Exports of Texas-produced gas in February totaled 185,187,712 Mcf, and reflected a 1.31 percent decrease from the year-earlier month.

Texas gas production in February came from 211,723 oil and gas wells.

In January 1980, Texas wells produced 583,259,315 Mcf of gas. Marketed gas production in January totaled 502,647,367 Mcf. January exports of Texas-produced gas totaled 205,068,679 Mcf.

Gas Use Predictions Proved In Error

By Sen. Lloyd Bentsen During Congressional debate on the Fuel Use Act in 1977-78, the prevailing belief was that the United States would experience serious shortages of natural gas by the end of the century, if not sooner.

However, that prediction has since gone awry. Unfortunately, though, federal policy in regard to natural gas has not kept up with the change in events.

The Fuel Use Act flatly prohibits the use of natural gas as boiler fuel for generating electricity after 1990 a response to the dire warnings sounded during the bill's debate.

With the passage of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978, though, the picture has changed, with producers looking for and finding substantial amounts of natural gas which had been previously uneconomical to produce.

Right now there are about 250 natural gas fired electrical generating units in the United States with a remaining useful life after 1990. The Fuel Use Act will force them to convert from natural gas to coal or fuel oil. This shift will cost electric consumers in Texas more than $16.7 billion.

Recently I testified before the Senate Energy Regulation Subcommittee against this costly, unnecessary law. I pointed out that it is technically and economically unreasonable in many cases to force these power plants to switch from natural gas to fuel oil.

The boiler of gas fired plant would have to be replaced, rail lines built, extra real estate and expensive environmental equipment would be required before the unit could burn coal. For these reasons, it would be cheaper to build a new power plant from the ground up than to convert an existing natural gas fired plant.

Conversion to fuel oil would be an equally costly proposition. Although we cut back on our use of foreign oil last year, the United States still paid nearly $80 billion for imported oil. If we force existing natural gas plants to switch to coal or fuel oil, our dependency on unreliable foreign sources of oil can only increase.

Current plans for one Texas utility call for it to spend some $19 billion over the next 15 years on new construction just to keep up with increases in demand. Converting still useful natural gas boilers by 1990 would add substantially to that capital outlay, since this company would continue to generate about 55 percent of its electricity with natural gas.

When Congress, as a result of the gloomy natural gas projections of 1977-78, mandated the conversion from natural gas it did provide for exemptions through the Economic Regulatory Administration. However, the national administration has indicated it wants to cut funding for ERA. If these cuts are approved, future administrative remedies will be unavailable -- a strong reason a legislative solution is urgently needed.

My proposal to revise the Fuel Use Act would let existing gas fired plants continue burning natural gas, but it would not permit construction of new units fired by natural gas. It is a conciliatory remedy; I hope that my colleagues in Congress will approve it --and spare the Texas consumer an unjustified, ridiculously expensive rate hike in his utility bill.

STATEMENT OF INTENT TO CHANGE RATES

General Telephone Company of the Southwest, in accordance with the Rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of rates in Texas effective October 1, 1981.

On April 28, 1981, the Public Utility Commission of Texas issued its order in Docket 3690, creating a separate Docket 3861 to consider the impact and effect of the accounting changes ordered by the Federal Communications Commission (CC Docket 79-105).

The Federal Communications Commission has changed the method of accounting for inside wiring costs associated with the one-time station connection, move, or change activity. The new rate schedule will increase the Company's gross annual revenue derived from local service by no more than three percent. The schedule of rates and charges is available for inspection at each Company business office in the State of Texas.
