Superintendent Reassigned as Consultant Trustees Begin Search for New Head of School District

The long-simmering issue finally came to a head at the Sonora Independent School District's regular monthly meeting last week as Superintendent Dr. Joe Andrews was reassigned as a consultant for finance and budget.

After the executive session at the end of the Tuesday night meeting, the Board reopened the meeting and voted to recess until 10 am Wednesday.

The school's attorney, Don Hensley of Austin, was present and the Board again went into closed session. After going back into open session, Jimmy Condra moved that Dr. Andrews' contract be revised to re-assign him to serve as consultant of school finance.

The motion carried with Condra, Bud Whitehead, Scott Shurley, Dr. Johnny Fields and Sam Stewart voting for and Mar Adele Balch voting against. Sam Perez, present the night before, was absent.

Dr. Fields made a motion W.A. McAndrew be appointed as interim superintendent, effective immediately, and that a search begin immediately to hire a new superintendent. The motion carried unanimously.

Board President Stewart then read the following statement:

"The Board of Trustees of the Sonora ISD has voted to revise the contract of employment of the superintendent, Dr. Joe R. Andrews. Dr. Andrews will no longer serve in the position of superintendent and will now assume the duties of consultant for school finances and budget. Both the Board and superintendent have agreed that the action is in the best interest of the school district. W.A. McAndrew has been appointed acting superintendent until such time as a new superintendent is appointed by the board."

Stewart then called for a motion to adjourn the meeting, much to the chagrin of a very vocal audience, and said anyone wishing to speak to the board could do so at the next regular meeting at the allotted time or ask to be placed on the agenda.

A revised copy of Dr. Andrews' contract and a release of liability signed by the Superintendent were both attached to the minutes of the meeting.

Under the provisions of the contract, he will retain his current salary of 17,500 over the state base along with all current benefits including housing and travel expenses.

It was also agreed for the Board to retract the letter dated April 6 and to remove it from his personnel file.

The previous night, Shurley gave a report on the long range planning for building programs, explaining that the architectural route is more expensive than the college planning services, but the college planners can only look at the school plant and projected enrollment and make recommendations. The architectural firms can go into the actual costs of their recommendations, he said.

The Board agreed to contact some other firms, both architectural and college services.

Dr. Fields made a motion to pay the current bills less $37.50 for a personal bill of his listed on Hensley's statement, and the motion carried.

Phillip Bryant, representing HNG Oil Co., appeared before the Board stating that HNG had never received formal acceptance of the land offered to the school several years before.

Stewart told Bryant the Board was very appreciative of the company's offer and a motion to accept the land carried unanimously.

Athletic Director Jerry Hopkins made a report on findings of the insurance committee.

He recommended a policy from Keystone Insurance Company that would pay the first $150 of treatment regardless of other insurance coverage, then would pay the unpaid balance of other coverage.

The cost for high school football players would be $45, $3 less than the old policy, but the cost for all other students would be $15, $4 more than the old one.

The Board voted to accept the policy.

The Board also voted to allow the County to use the Vocational Building and adjoining parking lot during the general elections every two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Green had also asked to be placed on the agenda to explain why the calendar money raised by the band has been placed in a separate account from the Band Boosters' regular account.

In other action, it was agreed to allow the band to purchase 25 additional uniforms. Band Director Ed Martinez explained the current uniforms were ordered when eighth graders were in the band and many of them were too small.

The only action taken after the Tuesday night executive session was to re-elect Suzanne Alley Whitworth as an aide for the severely handicapped for the coming year.

Sutton County 4-H'ers Capture Team Title at Wool, Mohair Show

Sutton County 4-H'ers, despite winning only the range judging, still piled up enough points to far out-distance the competition in the 44th Annual Sonora Wool and Mohair Show, and Bryan Hunt and Joe Will Ross took individual honors in the exhibition competition.

The Sutton County judges under County Agent Preston Faris as coach accumulated 6,065 points, more than 400 ahead of second place San Saba County with 5,609. Runnels County was third, and Tom Green took fourth.

The Sonora bunch got a double in range judging as Glen Love, Mike Friess, Matt Miller and Steve Love won the junior division and Lance Love, Joe Will Ross, Miles Miller and David Love won the senior competition. Susan Eddy is the range coach.

The win also gave the senior team the E.B. Keng Memorial Trophy presented annually by the Edwards Plateau Soil and Water Conservation District to the high range judging team.

Individual judging honors went to Matt Miller, second in range; Mike Friess, third in range; Joe Will Ross, third in range; Steve Love, fourth in wool; and Lance Love, third in wool.

Bryan Hunt was a clear winner with his wool exhibits, winning every range and registered class including champion range wool fleece, champion registered wool fleece and grand champion wool fleece.

He was also the winner of the Joe and W.F. Berger Memorial Trophy presented annually by Mr. and Mrs. L.P. Bloodworth and Larry and Chris Berger to the premier wool exhibitor.

Joe Will Ross won the champion registered mohair fleece and grand champion mohair fleece, but was edged out for champion grade mohair fleece by Ben Lockhart of Edwards County.

Ross was also awarded the Fred T. Earwood Memorial Trophy, presented each year to the premier mohair exhibitor by Mr. and Mrs. Armer Earwood.

The award is a traveling trophy. Ironically, had Lockhart won, he would have gotten to keep it permanently since he had already won three previous years.

The other top junior award went to Rick Powers who displayed the grand champion bag of wool.

Another treat was in store for the junior winners with the champions being auctioned off in hopes of creating more interest in the future.

Ross's champion mohair fleece was bought for $210 by Foodway, Food Center, Hill's Jewelry and Ken Braden.

Lockhart's champion range wool fleece was bought by Armer Earwood for $140.

Hunt's grand champion wool fleece was bought by Gene Wallace, Jim Cusenbary, Glen Richardson and Vestel Askew for $150.

His champion range wool fleece was bought by Nathan's Jewelers for $125 plus a $75 bonus in honor of Nathan Donsky's 75th birthday.

Rick Powers' grand champion bag of wool was also purchased by Nathan's for $600 with a $90 bonus in honor of Robert Halbert's 90th birthday.

In the open division, Foster Price of Sterling County won champion range wool fleece and grand champion wool fleece while Bill Karnes won champion registered wool fleece.

Lockhart's entry in the open division won champion grade mohair fleece and grand champion mohair fleece, while Karnes won champion registered mohair fleece.

Wesley Sawyer won grand champion bag of wool.

In the National 4-H Wool Judging Contest, Larimer County of Colorado won the title with 1,694 points.

Tom Green County, the only Texas entry, won second followed by Campbell County, Wyo. in third, Dona Ana County, N.M. in fourth and Roosevelt County, N.M. in fifth.

Randall Jenkins of Tom Green County was the high individual. See full results on Page 5.

Joe Will Ross displays his champion mohair fleece as auctioneer Don Cooper calls for bids. Ross's fleece brought $210 in the auction, a new feature of the show.

Glen Fisher presents Rick Powers with his plaque after he was named the grand champion bag of wool winner. His bag sold for $690 at the 44th annual event.

Comptroller's Record Show Sales Tax Increase in Sonora

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Thursday said Texas cities collecting the one-percent city sales tax have received $310.7 million in rebates during the first six months of 1981.

Houston's sales tax check for June is $5.9 million, bringing that city's year-to-date total to $64.2 million.

Dallas will receive a $3.3 million check, pushing the city's total for this year to $35.2 million.

San Antonio will receive $1.5 million this month, bringing the city's rebates for the first six months to $16.8 million.

The city's sales tax is collected along with the state sales tax by merchants and businesses and is returned each month by the comptroller to the cities which levy the tax.

little whiskey settlement across the river from the fort known in those beginning years as Saint Angela. Gideon could have graced the area where the restaurant now stands. The whole Concho Street was saloons in his day. In 1884, however, 26 East Concho was the site of the original San Angelo National Bank building. A year later, the bank acquired a new neighbor. Clint Johnson and J. Blake Taylor opened a "fancy" grocery store next door.

This is the beginning of the colorful and richly diversified history of Gideon's present post. The buildings have been restored to their original design and have been placed on the National Register as a historic site.

Our group still includes: ranchmen, bankers, lawyers, real estate and insurance men, mohair and cow traders, a shoe salesman and a few golfers and this newspaper columnist.

In some of Elmer Kelton's western novels, he tells about the Indians a century or so ago picking up their teepees and moving camp. They usually relocated near running water and buffalo herds.

Likewise, after 10 years at the Jackson House, my Round Table Breakfast Club of San Angelo has moved camp. We have moved at the invitation of Sergeant Major Joan Nobles owner of Gideon's Kitchen and Officer's Retreat. We brought with us our waitress of nine years, Mary Barton and our black cook, David.

The new gathering place is on the banks of the Concho River and is named for a buffalo hunter. Matter of fact, the name of the cafe was inspired by a fictional "Buffalo" soldier created by Kelton in his historical novel "The Wolf and the Buffalo".

Kelton's Gideon served as a trooper based at Fort Concho from approximately 1850 through the early 1880's. His life recounts the common struggle shared by Blacks and Indians for survival, for human dignity. The setting: the Double Mountains, Fort Concho and a

Summer Busy Time for Gardeners

For serious gardeners, the beginning of summer is a busy time. As temperatures reach 90 degrees or more, shade tomatoes, melons and other sensitive crops during the heat of the day if the plants do not provide enough shade from foliage.

Large tomato varieties will stop setting fruit during very hot weather, but will resume in late summer.

Carefully hose down soil around onion bulbs. Bend down the top two weeks before harvest, which should be around the first of July.

Keep cucumbers well watered to prevent hot weather bitterness. Cucumbers and summer squash respond well to manure feedings. If squash vines are wilting and show a yellow, sawdust-like frass near the base of the stem, this is a sure sign of infestation by squash vine borers. Sometimes you can slit the vine with a knife and remove the borer, then tape the vine up.

Corn can still be planted if done in June. Choose a quick maturing variety for later planting because cool nights in early September slow the growth of this heat loving plant. Plant a second crop of cucumbers. Sow lettuce every few weeks all summer.

Lettuce seed is often reluctant to sprout in hot weather. Two things you can do to persuade them are: one, put the seed in your freezer for several days before planting; and two, press the seed into the ground and don't cover it—light helps to break the hot weather dormancy.

From 'Texas Industrial Update', official publication of the Texas Industrial Commission: TIC's Small & Minority Business Development Department set a new record in procurement activity with 41 contracts awarded for a total dollar volume of $7,440,042 during April. Year-to-date totals for FY81 have reached 110 contracts for $12,163,805. The contracts awarded for the month of April alone resulted in 353 actual new jobs. The department also reports increased activity in community services requests. Direct business counseling was provided to individuals and/or companies in 33 different communities last month. The Industrial Locations and Services Department is also seeing increased activity. During the past two months, 82 new industrial prospects were registered and 15 plant locations were announced bring the year-to-date total for FY81 to 42. This compares favorably with last year's total of 24 locations and/or expansions.

TID also informs that a major tax package targeted to benefit small business has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Lloyd Bentsen (D-Texas). The Small Business Investment Act of 1981 would, if passed, target $6.6 billion in tax cuts to small business.

Members of the Industrial team are gathering requested data for an industrial prospect referred by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Abilene. Information is due by June 15th to WTTCC.

'Beautiflyer', official newsletter of the Beauty Texas Council reads that Iron Eyes Cody, the colorful "Crying Indian" of Keep America Beautiful, Inc.'s public service and campaigns, is now an authority on American Indian culture and dedicated to helping preserve this country's environmental heritage. KAB's "Crying Indian" messages won two Clio Awards in 1972 and one in 1975 for excellence in public service advertising.

query 'What would you like to see Sonora have, in cultural or social achievement?'

Board of Directors, Honorary Board Members and the C of C membership, welcome Street to the Honorary Board.

Homes for Foreign Students Being Sought

Homes for foreign high school students wanting to come to the United States and learn about middle income American family life are being sought by area representatives of the Youth Exchange Service (YES).

Rev. and Mrs. Don Jeffreys of Trinity Baptist Church, Sweetwater, are the Texas representatives of YES, based in San Clemente, California. "We want to place one or two students in the Sonora area and are looking for homes to provide temporary lodging, meals, and love."

The students are carefully screened by the YES home office. "We want only the top class students from other countries in this program." The families are screened by the Jeffreys.

Single Adult homes may also be acceptable to host a student. The students are between 15 and 18 years of age and because of their economic backgrounds in their home countries, these students are potential national leaders in the future.

"We don't want them to be guests in your home," Jeffreys said, "but want them to become part of your family during their stay here. We want them to learn about middle American family life so when they return home, and for those who do become national leaders, they will have had an experience with Americans."

Most of the students come from South America and Europe. YES tries to match as nearly as possible the likes, dislikes, hobbies, interests, and personalities to the same characteristics of the host families.

Recent students from the YES have visited Roby,

Amarillo, Grafado, Oldham, and Hawley. The Jeffreys were among the first families in Texas to host a student under this program with their student coming from Brazil.

Other students currently in Texas are from El Salvador, Mexico, Argentina, and German.

This is one of the best educational methods available for children in the home—whether young or teenage.

Participation in the program as a host or hostess also makes teenage children eligible to become exchange students in a foreign country if they are interested.

The exchange program arranges transportation, medical coverage, and the arrival and departure dates for the students.

For more information on the program, contact the Jeffreys at (915) 235-2991.

In order for students to arrive for the fall school term host families need apply as soon as possible, preferably by June 15.

Applications need to be in by October 1, for a student to arrive in December or January.

4-H Fashion Revue Held

The Sutton County 4-H Fashion Revue was held June 4 at the Sutton County 4-H Center.

The contestants arrived dressed for judging in the garments they made. They modeled as a group and also individually for the judges.

They were asked questions by the judges that pertained to their clothing project and the garments they made.

Judges for the revue were Patti Hausenfluck and Sandy Willeke, both from Eldorado.

The pre-teen contestants (9-10-years old) and their placings were Darla West, blue award; Lancey Lowe, blue award; Nelda Castaneda, blue award; high point pre-teen Traci Donaldson, blue award; and Michelle Olenick, blue award and second place pre-teen contestant.

The junior contestants

(11-13-years old) and their placings were Mary Barron, blue award and high point junior; Holly Estep, blue award and second place junior contestant; Shannon Payne, blue award; and Leslie Barber, blue award.

The senior contestants (14-18-years old) and their placings were Lora Lea Kordzik, blue award and high point senior.

Clothing project leaders were Louise Barlemann, Belia Castaneda, Gwen Kordzik, Trevlin Luttrell, Melissa Teaff, and Jan Payne.

A special thanks should go to the Sonora Downtown Lions Club for donating the ribbons.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex or national origin.

STATEMENT OF INTENT TO CHANGE RATES

General Telephone Company of the Southwest, in accordance with the Rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of rates in Texas effective October 1, 1981.

On April 28, 1981, the Public Utility Commission of Texas issued its order in Docket 3690, creating a separate Docket 3861 to consider the impact and effect of the accounting changes ordered by the Federal Communications Commission (CC Docket 79-105).

The Federal Communications Commission has changed the method of accounting for inside wiring costs associated with the one-time station connection, move, or change activity. The new rate schedule will increase the Company's gross annual revenue derived from local service by no more than three percent.

The schedule of rates and charges is available for inspection at each Company business office in the State of Texas.

first Sunday in July. The importance of the obedience required were church, of its membership, the responsibilities of such and the obedience required were vividly exhorted to each new member in a message given by Rev. White.

When all the formalities of forming a new church were completed by Rev. White, new officers were selected and placed in office. The call was extended for Rev. Provines to be the new pastor. Following these procedures a charge was then preached to the new congregation, its officers and pastor by Rev. White.

A time of fellowship followed the services with cake and refreshments served.

The new "Live Oak Baptist Church" will be Sonora's only Independent Baptist Church.

An invitation is extended to all come visit and get acquainted.

Why gas is plentiful:

Two New Sources

There's enough natural gas in proven and existing reserves to heat America's homes and run its factories for many years. And now gas is flowing in enormous volumes from two new sources: the tight basins and the deep basins right here in Texas and Oklahoma. Experts believe each of these sources could double the nation's proven supply. And our pipeline system will let us deliver your share of this gas efficiently and economically. It's another reason to be glad you're served by the Lone Star system.

Your Representative Reports

By Rep. Susan McBece
The 67th Legislative Session is over, with a special session, unfortunately, looming on the horizon.

By now I'm sure you've read and heard more about the just-ended 140 days in Austin than you ever cared to, but sometimes those reports ignore some of the details of specific interest to us in District 70. So, in an attempt to rectify that, here is a final wrap-up of how we in Southwest Texas fared-or didn't fare, as the case might be-in the State Capitol.

Redistricting dominated in an El Paso district, are added. The other eight counties remain the same. This will make the "new" District 70 a ten-county, 27,000 square mile area with a population of 97,000. Every aspect of the legislative session and rightfully so, as it determines what kind of representation we'll have in Austin and Washington for the next ten years.

A battle royal developed pitting rural vs. urban, conservative vs. liberal, Republican vs. Democrat, and minority groups vs. one another. Somehow from this chaos, redistricting plans were sent to the Governor, with the threat of a veto by the Justice Department under the Voting Rights Act of a lawsuit by disgruntled groups hanging heavily over them.

Should the plans finally be enacted into law, the House for the next ten years will retain its conservative leanings, while the Senate will be a little more liberal-urban oriented than in the past. As for us, the new District 70 (And were we ever lucky to retain that old number and not have to get used to a new one! Only three of the 150 districts kept their former number.) remains relatively intact. Zavala County on the eastern edge is transferred into a largely new South Texas district. On the western side, Presidio and Jeff Davis Counties, which have been

On a personal note, it's sad to lose the good friends I've made in Crystal City, LaPror, and Batesville; for they've been excellent constituents. I'll look forward to meeting and representing the people of Marfa, Ft. Davis, Valentine and Presidio. They've almost been considered a part of us anyway because of their close ties to Brewster County.

The new version of Senatorial District 25 is also basically the former one, with Maverick County added on the south, some central Texas area added in the middle, and even a part of El Paso County added to the west!

Congressional redistricting is still unfinished and is one of the reasons for the special session. Maverick and Zavala Counties are safely in Congressman Kazen's 23rd District, but the remaining seven counties of our legislative district have become focal points in the redistricting battle. There is an attempt being made by the Mexican American Legal Defense Fund to enlarge the 23rd District to include those rural Southwest Texas counties now in Congressman Loeffler's 21st District. Since this area has historically been in a West Texas district, it should certainly continue to be so. In addition, the community of interest definitely lies to the west rather than to the south. I've done, and will continue to do, everything in my power to keep us in the 21st Congressional District.

"Cooking for 1 or 2" Program Set

Eating by yourself can be a lonely thing. Even eating by two's can be hurried and lead to poor habits.

It may seem easier and quicker to eat just a few things from the refrigerator rather than plan nourishing meals. However, it is worth the effort to plan and prepare nourishing meals.

"Cooking for 1 or 2" is a special one-hour program that's free and planned for June 23 at the 4-H Center.

During this program nutrition meal planning and preparation will be discussed with special emphasis being given to planning small meals.

The program will be at 10 am and 5 pm. The same information will be given at each program. Come to one or both of these programs and learn some new food preparation ideas.

regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, or race.

Community Outlook

by Don Holdridge

Some of us are trivia nuts, and for many classified as such, an interesting part of trivia is statistics.

Our computerized society has reduced everything into statistical information. Every day the television screen, radio waves and newspaper columns are filled with various statistics telling us what kind of shape our economy is in or where the shortfalls in our military are.

No one takes statistics more seriously than sports nuts. No one stretches them any farther either: the number of interceptions thrown in the second quarter of a game, sacrifice flies record over a 10-game stretch or the number of basketball assists handed out per minute. It gets to the point of insanity at times.

But some statistics are more grim. Some tell a much sadder story than a group of numbers.

The Motor Vehicle Traffic Accidents for 1980 issued by the Texas Department of Public Safety is one such example. The 48-page booklet looks very much like any other statistical sheet printed, but the stories behind the charts and graphs and numbers tell a far greater, much sadder story.

In 1980, 206 accidents were reported in Sutton County with 95 injuries. Three of those accidents resulted in people losing their lives. To many of us, traffic accidents, even fatal ones, mean little. We are submerged with stories every day in the news until we become numb-until an accident hits close to home.

The loss in human life due to accidents is staggering. Many people have heard the figures before, but consider that 1,186,654 Americans have died in all the U.S. wars combined, going all the way back to the Revolutionary War. But the number of Americans killed on our highways between 1900 and 1980 is almost double that total—2,345,865.

The economic cost is also staggering. The DPS provides this analogy that brings the cost into more imaginable terms:

"The area of a football field measures 300 feet by 160 feet.

"United States currency measures about 2 5/8 inches by 6 1/2 inches.

"If a football field was completely covered with one dollar bills, then a layer of two dollar bills, then a layer of five dollar bills, then a layer of ten dollar bills, then a layer of twenty dollar bills, then a layer of fifty dollar bills, then a layer of hundred dollar bills, then a layer of five hundred dollar bills, then a layer of one thousand dollar bills—then completely covered again with three more layers of one dollar bills, three more layers of two dollar bills, three more layers of five dollar bills, three more layers of ten dollar bills, three more layers of twenty dollar bills, three more layers of fifty dollar bills, three more layers of one hundred dollar bills, three more layers of five hundred dollar bills, three more layers of one thousand dollar bills—then on top of these 36 layers of money, place two more layers of twenty dollar bills, the money on that football field would still not represent the economic loss suffered from traffic accidents in Texas for the year 1980.

"The 3,010,000,000 estimated loss for this one year would buy: 10,000 homes at $80,000 each, 10,000 refrigerators at $700 each, 10,000 electric ranges at $600 each, 10,000 TV sets at $700 each, 10,000 dishwashers at $500 each, 10,000 automobiles at $10,000 each, 10,000 central air conditioning units at $2,500 each and furnish the head of each of the 10,000 households with a bank account of $260,000."

The statistics also bear out some facts in a recent "Texas Monthly" article. The article dealt with federal pressure on Texas forcing the DPS to crack down on the speeders to the point that other violations were not being enforced as heavily.

Although speeding is a major cause of accidents, especially fatal ones, it ranks far down the list of contributing factors to accidents.

Surprisingly, unsafe speed under the speed limit ranks as the most common contributing factor in accidents with 108,040. That number is almost five times that of speeding over the limit which was failure to yield the right of way with 102,379, and driving under the influence of alcohol was third with 34,335. Following too close at 29,297 and disregarding stop and go signal lights with 23,783 all ranked ahead of speeding over the limit.

This does not mean it is safe for everyone to start speeding, though. Excessive speed was still the prime cause of fatal accidents with 940. Only alcohol related accidents were even close with 891 fatal wrecks.

What this all bears out is that we all should be more careful drivers. Accidents are expensive, but no dollar figure can compensate for the loss of a loved one.

For anyone who has never taken a defensive driving course, it is well worth their time. Many companies often require their employees to take the course. The purpose of the defensive driving course is not so much to sharpen a person's ability to drive, but more to make them aware of the dangers involved in driving. A law to make the courses mandatory might not be a bad idea. In fact it might be an excellent idea—one whose time has come.

Sonora Area Included in Ranchers' Roundup Tours

Tours of progressively managed ranches in Southwest Texas and Mexico will be added features of the International Rancher's Roundup August 10-14.

The tours are scheduled the first and last days of the Roundup. General group and concurrent educational sessions comprise the remainder of the week's activities.

The first stop on the Southwest Texas tour is scheduled at the Jack Brown Ranch in Val Verde County.

Brown produces Rambouillet sheep, goats, cattle and whitetail deer on rough terrain. Topography and drought must be considered in his management and breeding program.

Enroute to Sonora tour participants will pass by the Flying D Egg Ranch, the largest egg producing firm in Southwest Texas. Flying D operates several thousand hens on Dry Devil's River, a unique location for such an operation.

The tour will then stop at the Sawyer Ranch, 10 miles south of Sonora in the Edwards Plateau, where cattle, sheep, Angora goats, deer and turkey are produced.

This is a long-standing demonstration ranch in cooperation with Sutton County Extension agents and Texas A&M University.

Goat feeding, sheep production, range nutrition, and brush control are progressively pursued here.

The Sawyer Ranch operates a 4-pasture, 3-herd grazing system.

Air conditioned, full comfort tour buses will then whisk the Roundup visitors to the Sonora Research Station Ranch, operated by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, for lunch and a visit with Dr. Leo Merrill, resident director, and his staff.

The research ranch is internationally acclaimed for its nearly half century of long-term grazing experimental work. Results of various grazing and forage trails and animal production research will be discussed during this tour stop before heading for the woolhouse in Rocksprings.

There tour participants will observe preparation and grading of wool and mohair and hear how producers should prepare wool for marketing. Market outlook for wool and mohair in the area will be discussed. A demonstration in grading wool and mohair will conclude the Rocksprings visit.

The tour will then proceed to the Bracketville area where participants will be guests of Happy Shahan at Alamo Village after viewing Shahan's Longhorn cattle crossbreeding and grazing management programs. Shahan is a long-time breeder of registered Longhorn cattle.

Alamo Village is world renowned as being the setting for numerous western movies such as the famous Texas classic, "The Alamo", "Bandolero", "Two Rode Together", and many others. Countless commercials, television shows, travelogs and documentaries were also filmed in this scenic area.

Tour visitors will be treated to a barbecue supper along with country-western musical entertainment in an "Old West" setting. After browsing through Alamo Village, tour buses will carry Roundup participants to Del Rio in preparation for educational sessions the following day.

Those on the August 14 Mexico tour will visit the 100,00-acre El Caballo Ranch which is operated as a corporation combining five ownerships under one management.

The most advanced animal science technology and management practices are used.

El Caballo Ranch operates 4,500 cows which are artificially inseminated sex-separated semen. Their highly trained technicians inseminate about 200 cows per hour through four chutes, or about one cow per minute. Extensive pasture improvements and forage programs are utilized.

Next stop on the Mexico tour is a visit to the Zaragoza Experimental Station where researchers will discuss most recent work and cattle association representatives outline the Mexican cattle industry. Range research efforts and forage irrigation programs will be featured.

After lunch at the research station the tour then moves on to Agida San Fernando, a cooperative ranch operated on government land. Cattle and grazing management practices will be viewed.

That evening the tour returns to Ciudad Acuna on the Rio Grande, where tentative plans call for a Mexican rodeo and buffet supper, a festive climax to a week-long Roundup activity.

Although June 30 is the pre-registration deadline for registration fee discounts to Rancher's Roundup educational activities, that date is the last day persons can register for either of the tours. Interested persons are urged to act promptly.

Pre-registration packets for the Roundup and Roundup tours are available by writing to Rancher's Roundup, P.O. Drawer 1849, Uvalde, Tx. 78801.

A nominal fee for each tour covers transportation, meals, refreshments and entertainment costs. A local expert will serve as tour guide for each bus, describing operation and ranching activities seen enroute. Spanish and English interpreters will be provided along with booklets containing tour information.

ICA Holds Monthly Meeting

The Independent Cattleman's Association had its monthly meeting and breakfast at the Sutton County Steak House last Thursday, at 7 am.

A very interesting and informative talk on brucellosis was given by Dr. Mike Keller. All members present participated in the general discussion.

Anyone wishing to join the organization can get in touch with any officer or meet with the members on July 2 for the next monthly meeting.

erode their estates. Now the Texas Agricultural Extension Service has developed a special program to help take the bite out of high estate taxes.

Three two-day seminars are planned which will help farmers and ranchers learn how to reduce taxable estates and learn new methods for passing their operations to the next generation.

These special seminars on "How to Lower Your Estate Tax Burden" are scheduled as follows: Lubbock, June 18-19; Wichita Falls, July 22-23; and Amarillo, August 27-28.

Each seminar will begin with a discussion on estate taxes, including deductions, expenses and tax rates, points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga, a lawyer and Extension Service economist.

ducting the program will be Extension economists Marvin Sartin, C.P.A., and Norman Brints.

Estate planning is a step toward reduced taxes, points out Hayenga. This process should start when you plan to inherit substantial property, when you have an active and growing business, when you still have time to take tax-saving actions, when you have minor children, and when your children marry or divorce.

For more detailed information about the seminars, contact your local county extension agent or Hayenga in the Dept. of Agricultural Economics, Texas A&M University, College Station, Tex. 77843, or call 713-845-5446.

Bentsen Addresses 35th Tipro Convention

Senator Lloyd Bentsen urged members of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPRO) at their 35th annual meeting to continue their efforts to pass legislation which would exempt the first 1,000 barrels a day from the windfall profit tax.

Bentsen told the group at the Fort Worth meeting, "We must push for this exemption for it places an unnecessary and unfair burden upon the oil industry when they can least afford it and when this country needs the energy to further reduce its dependence on foreign oil."

Bentsen further stated, "I think you have a good chance of winning in the House, and if so, I think we will have an excellent chance to pass it in the Senate this year."

Texas Congressman Kent Hance, sponsor of the legislative proposal in the U.S. House of Representatives, also encouraged TIPRO members to push for passage of the legislation.

Hance stated, "We have obtained 205 cosponsors of the exemption. It is important that each of us do everything possible to obtain an additional 13 cosponsors to acquire the majority necessary for passage."

Senator Bentsen has introduced legislation in the Senate, S. B. 85, and Congressman Hance in the House, H.R. 2451, which would exempt royalty owners and independent producers from the first 1,000 barrels per day of oil production from the windfall profit tax.

Other congressional leaders addressing the nearly 800 convention attendees were Senator John East and Texas Congressmen Phil Gramm, Bill Archer, Tom Loeffler, and Charles Stenholm.

TIPRO, an Austin-based organization, has been actively involved in the effort to gain support of legislation introduced in Washington by Senator Bentsen and Congressman Hance which would reduce the burden of the windfall profit tax on the independent oil and gas producer and royalty owner.

Collins Pushes Natural Gas Decontrol

Accelerated decontrol of natural gas is needed to encourage the exploration and production of this energy source, according to Congressman Jim Collins of Texas, a senior member of the Energy and Commerce Committee which is in the midst of reevaluating how much natural gas America has. There are significant supplies of natural gas out there to be recovered. Estimates show that the United States has 200 trillion cubic feet of proven gas reserved and 913 trillion cubic feet of potential reserves.

"Drilling for gas is expensive and risky. There must be incentives there to make taking the risk worthwhile," Collins said during a hearing on natural gas availability in the Fossil and Synthetic Fuels Subcommittee.

"For example, reports indicate that the Tuscaloosa Trend, a belt of natural gas formations, that runs along the Gulf coast of Texas and Louisiana, may have enough gas to last for 1,150 years," he noted.

In 1978, Congress passed the Natural Gas Policy Act (NGPA), which included provisions for phased-in decontrol of certain types of gas.

According to Collins, these short-term price incentives created an increase in the exploration and drilling for natural gas. Gas production increased for the first time in 1979 since the peak of 1973.

Reserve additions of 14.3 trillion cubic feet were made as compared with 10.6 trillion cubic feet of added reserves in 1978. New field additions of 2.6 trillion cubic feet were also made.

"The NGPA, as it is now, is inadequate for the long run because it imposes 1970's prices on 1980's, drilling will be discouraged.

"I have introduced legislation --H.R. 3246--that would remove certain price controls from unproduced gas from a new reservoir or lease, or gas that is reached through an existing well if new drilling is required."

HNG Profits Rise Above 1980

The Board of Directors of Houston Natural Gas Corporation on June 5 reported unaudited consolidated earnings for the period ended April 30, 1981, or through the first three quarters of the current fiscal year, of $4.37 per common and common equivalent share, comparable with earnings of $3.83 for the same nine months of fiscal 1980.

For the twelve months ended April 30, HNG earned $5.60 per common and common equivalent share, compared with $4.86 for the previous twelve months.

Robert R. Herring, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, attributed the good results to improvements in the natural gas and the marine transportation, services and construction businesses.

Herring said, "Increased revenues and earnings were reported by all lines of business, except coal. The decrease in revenues and earnings in our coal business primarily was caused by the sale, in the third quarter of fiscal 1980, of Empire Energy Corporation."

The Directors also declared the following regular quarterly dividends, all payable July 1, 1981, to stockholders of record June 15, 1981: $1.16 - 1/4 per share on the 4.65 percent Cumulative Preferred Stock, 1964 series ($100 Par); and 37-1/2 cents per share on the common stock ($1 Par).

May Oil Gas Discoveries Reported

Texas operators reported 74 gas and 58 oil discoveries in May 1981, the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division announced.

In the year-earlier month, 159 gas and 73 oil discoveries were filed with the state's energy regulatory agency.

Gas discoveries in the fifth month of the year included 21 in deep South Texas, 15 in the Refugio area, nine in West Central Texas, eight in Southeast Texas, five each in East Central Texas, East Texas and the San Antonio area, two each in North Texas and the Panhandle area and one each in the Lubbock and San Angelo areas.

Oil discoveries included nine each in West Central Texas and the Midland area, eight in the San Angelo area, seven each in Southeast Texas and the Lubbock area, five each in deep South Texas and North Texas, four in East Central Texas and two each in East Texas and the Refugio area.

In May, operators reported 453 exploratory and field tests wound up as dry holes. New applications for permits to drill oil and gas tests totaled 2,930 in May, compared with 2,429 in the same period of 1980.

Applications to drill, deepen, plug back and for service wells in May amounted to 3,144 against 2,719 a year earlier.

Operators filed 772 amended applications to drill. A year earlier they submitted 610 amended requests.

The Liberty Bell was cast in England in 1752 for the Pennsylvania Statehouse.

Sonorans Complete TCU Course

John Marcus Hemphill, Elizabeth Turney, Paul Turney, and Clayton Brown Hicks of Sonora were among 34 ranchers graduated recently with the 25th anniversary Ranch Management Program class at Texas Christian University.

Graduates were honored at a banquet on campus.

The 32 men and two women, who came from 10 different states and Canada, successfully completed an intensive nine-month program that combines six hours per day of academic study with week-long visits to see "textbooks in operation" on farms, ranches, feedlots, marketing and packing facilities and research centers.

Traveling more than 10,000 miles, the students visited 45 ranching operations and made contact with some 150 professionals in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

The current class brought to 588 the number of Ranch Management graduates in the last 25 years. They have come to TCU from 19 other countries and 32 states.

The anniversary banquet honored personnel of three ranches which have worked with the program during all of its 25 years—Walsh Ranches, headquartered in Fort Worth with ranching interests from Central Texas to Oklahoma; John R. Black Ranch north of Granbury; and J.D. Hudgins Inc., registered Brahman operation at Hungerford.

Reports from Washington

Returning Government To The People

In Congress, state capitals and city halls around the country one of the most serious debates of the century is on the condition and course of American Federalism.

Much of the dialogue today is about which layer of government will get what out of the trimmed national budget. Ultimately, the discussions could bring about a major reordering of national priorities and an abrupt shift of government responsibilities to the states and local government.

I see this as one of the greatest challenges of the 1980s. The time is long overdue that we dust off the Federalist Papers and renew the debate begun by Hamilton, Madison and Jefferson.

The course of American Federalism — Washington's relations with the states and local governments — has been the subject of debate since the Constitution was adopted almost 200 years ago.

Central to the current debate is the intense scrutiny being given 500 Federal aid programs and thousands of Federal regulations that have spewed forth from this government in the past 20 years.

Today, a number of Congressional committees and public interest groups, as well as organizations of state and local government officials, have also begun looking into the matter.

It is my hope Congress will renew the distinction between the powers granted to the Federal government and those reserved to the states and the people. Washington needs to be reminded that the Federal government did not create the states; the states created the Federal government.

The term, "New Federalism" — borrowed from Theodore Roosevelt's "New Nationalism" 60 years ago — came into the political vocabulary in 1969. It is defined as a political philosophy that seeks to associate the need for national action with the desire for much greater local participation.

Fundamental to New Federalism is the belief that while decision making must be nationalized, administration should be decentralized. An unfortunate corollary, however, is found often in the delivery system which creates ineffective administration and an inflexible, impersonal bureaucracy.

Currently a vast majority of the public agrees on the need for a slowing down of the very Federal programs that spent $88 billion last year — as opposed to $7 billion in 1960.

As a result, the President has called for a 25 percent reduction in 85 of the government's 500 categorical grant programs, followed by consolidation of these 85 programs into six broad block grants covering health, education and other social needs. The reduction in funding will come primarily from administrative savings in reduced Washington bureaucracy. In addition, a task force headed by Vice President Bush is cutting away at Federal regulations.

While Congress, under strong pressure from program bureaucrats and lobbyists, is balking at transferring spending and administrative functions to states, the main focus of disagreement thus far has been between the states and cities.

Historically, cities had to come to Washington for help because states spurned their requests or turned their backs. Now, some cities worry that block grants will put them in the same position again.

The states admit this once was true but say that no longer is a problem because state governments are more sophisticated and closer to the people.

For the present, when it comes to reordering the priorities of the New Deal, Fair Deal, New Frontier and the Great Society, there is a clear recognition that something must be done to get government back to the people. And return it to the people we will!
