Trial Dates Scheduled In Drug Cases

Pretrial dates were reset for five drug related offenses and trial dates were scheduled for three of the cases in Judge Troy Williams 112th District Court last week.

Pretrial dates for Robert Hood, Felipe Vargas, Bobby Vargas, Pedro Lopez and Rodolfo Chappa were all set for July 9 and trial dates for Hood, Vargas and Vargas were slated for Sept. 14.

Hood was arrested by local officers May 8 and charged with felony possession of marijuana and possession of a controlled substance. The white powder found was thought to be methamphetamine, and a potential indictment is pending the results of the lab tests, according to District Attorney Bill Mason.

Both Vargases were arrested May 10 and charged with possession of a controlled substance also.

Trial dates have not been set for Lopez or Chappa. Both are charged with possession of marijuana over four ounces.

Mason had high praise for the handling of the cases by local officers who have cooperated fully in processing the cases so that they would be ready to take to the grand jury.

In other action, Bill Drake was found guilty of indecency with a child and sentenced to two years in the State Department of Corrections. Formal sentencing in the case is set for July 20.

Annexations Top Light City Agenda

The Sonora City Council at their regular meeting last week set July 21 as a public hearing date for the annexation of two pieces of property.

In an extremely light agenda, the Council approved ordinances setting the hearing date for the annexation of property belonging to Jack Johnson and another 150.214 acres as requested by HNG Oil Co.

Tom Clifton of Ken Braden Motors also appeared before the Council explaining water erosion in the draw by his dealership was eating away portions of his property and asked the Council to join him in some dirt work and cementing to stop the washing.

Councilman Hershel Davenport suggested he check with Joe Lane with the Texas Departments of Highways and Public Transportation to determine the effect of the alteration on the water flow.

In the only other action, the Aldermen approved a contract with Jack McCreary for the collection of delinquent taxes and gave approval for Don Wootan to secure a tax audit for the City and supply the City with a copy.

Community Calendar Publication Planned

The Devil's River News, in cooperation with the Sonora Chamber of Commerce, will next week begin publishing a weekly Community Calendar.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Lou Thomas has begun making a record of all regularly scheduled meetings during each month, and any group or organization that has not been contacted for regular meeting dates is urged to call her before the last Friday of each month at 387-2880.

Any other meetings or activities may be added each week by calling the DRN before 12 noon on Friday.

Quick Acting Man Saves Fellow Worker

A Mack Chase employee narrowly averted death or serious injury Monday after being overcome by gas fumes in a frac tank.

Leroy Brown was in the process of getting a water sample from a frac tank when he was overcome by the fumes, blacked out and fell over the edge.

Chip Prentiss, a fellow employee, quickly pulled him out of the tank and administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, bringing him back to consciousness.

Jim Matthews brought Brown back into Hudspeth Hospital where he was expected to be released yesterday.

"Without Prentiss' help, I doubt I'd be here right now," Brown said from his hospital room.

Deadline Schedule Announced By DRN

The Devil's River News wishes to restate its deadline schedule and note some minor adjustments for the convenience of its readers and customers.

All stories and ads for the Ranch Page and Petroleum Page must be turned in by 12 noon the preceding Friday. The stories or ads can be carried on other pages if turned in later, however.

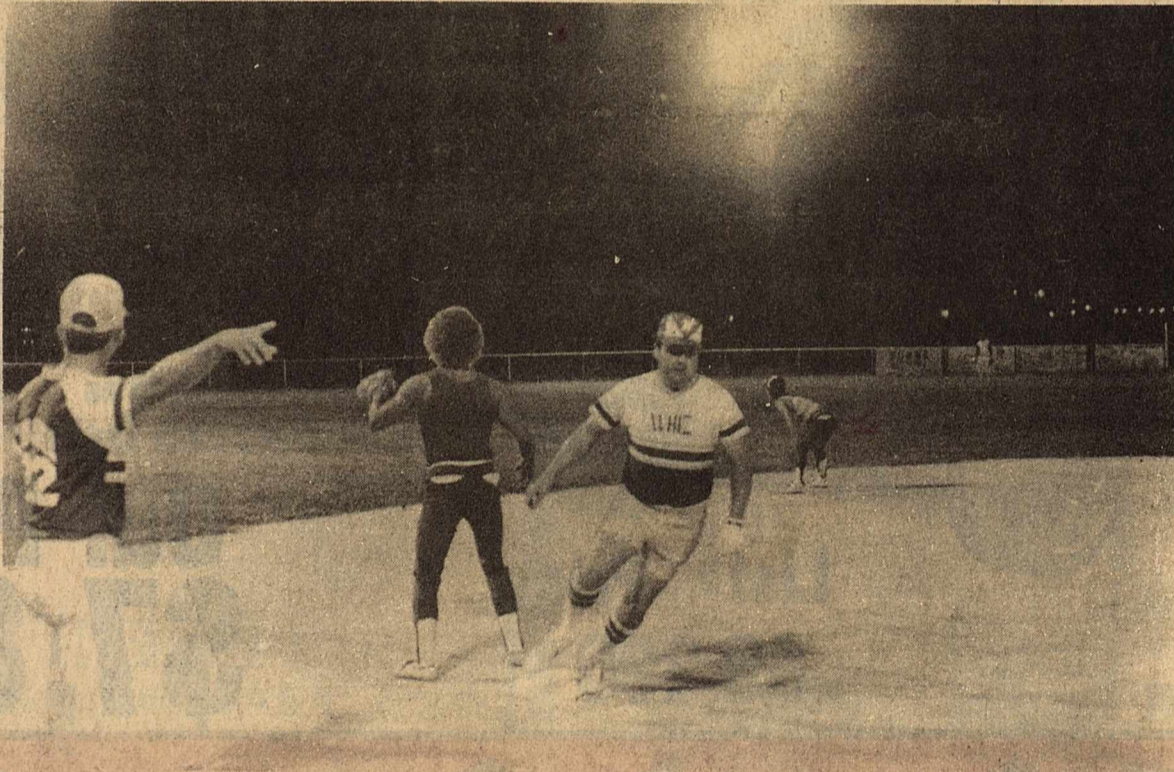

The display advertising deadline is 3 p.m. on Mondays and the news deadline is 5 p.m. on Monday.

Deadline for classified is 9 a.m. Tuesday.

"Due to an earlier press time on Tuesday afternoon, we are asking our customers to please take note of the times," said Don Holdridge, DRN editor.

"We will always try to make exceptions if possible," he said, "but turning in news and ad copy earlier will help us greatly in producing the best possible paper for you."

according to Melvin Jennings, San Angelo division manager for General Telephone Company.

Jennings said, "The cut to the 50-pair underground cable that provides service to more than 5,000 customers in these four communities occurred at approximately 12:30 pm Monday some eight miles east of Barnhart on Highway 67."

Reports from Washington

THE BIPARTISAN TAX REDUCTION PROGRAM

Political realists for years have known that the American system will move toward consensus rather than collide over opposing fundamental values.

As a result of the will of the American people, Republicans, Democrats and President Reagan have fashioned a bipartisan tax reduction program designed to reduce the tax burden on working Americans, stimulate savings and investment and encourage job-creating incentives.

The bipartisan tax reduction program is essential to restore the certainty needed to increase savings, investments and economic growth. It is also necessary to put pressure on the Congress to continue to hold the line on spending programs. The proposed tax cut — for roughly a three-year period — is needed to offset the massive tax increases which have so severely penalized working Americans. In fact, tax rate reductions of more than 22 percent will be needed to offset those increases alone.

In the House of Representatives — where all tax bills begin — we hear expressions of doubt and discontent about what kind of effect will be achieved from a substantial tax cut like the Administration proposes.

The discontent is mostly political in Congress, however. Liberals have no affection for a balanced budget and no deep concern about deficit spending.

Legislative give-away programs pushed through Congress in the past few decades have raised the budget repeatedly. The budget for 1980 had a deficit of $60 billion and it may remain the same in 1981. At the present rate of taxation there will be $1 trillion a year in additional revenues by 1985 to be spent by the Federal bureaucracy. With that kind of revenue there is much in the way of power and perks to be handed out at the expense of the American taxpayer.

The problem with continued escalation of taxation is that many programs of dubious worth are being funded from middle-income wage earners taxed at a rate once reserved for the very wealthy. Ten years ago scarcely 7 percent of us were affected by marginal tax rates of 25 percent or higher; today, now well over 40 percent of us are in those tax brackets. Federal personal taxes on each family have nearly quadrupled over the past 15 years — growing from $1,500 for an average family in 1965 to $5,500 in 1980.

The companion to our personal dilemmas in the tax battle is what inflation and rising taxes do to the economy in general. Economic growth is in slow motion at best. The bipartisan tax cuts supported by the President are designed to put some money back into our pockets and some spark back into our heaving, struggling economy.

The public agrees. In March, the Opinion Research Corporation took a poll and asked if tax rates were reduced by 30 percent over three years, would the money be spent; would it be saved; or used to repay debts. Four out of five who responded said they would save some of the money or apply it to paying off debts.

The bipartisan tax cut is a prescription to restore the country's moral fiber and an opportunity to restore individual initiative so fundamental to our way of life.

In my judgment, if Congress does not pass the bipartisan tax cut, nothing will be gained and a great deal could be lost.

The tax reduction proposal is not a new concept.

As President John F. Kennedy put it when urging a similar tax reduction program in 1963, "Our practical choice is not between deficit and surplus but between deficits incurred born of waste and weakness and deficits incurred as we build our future strengths."

Budget balance and fiscal discipline can only be reached by pursuing long-run economic policies which produce a healthy fiscal climate for all. To raise taxes, reduce incentives and destroy productivity in the name of financing the social safety net itself is the cruelest sort of political hoax.

Marsha Finklea, James Gardwell Wed Saturday

Marsha Nell Finklea of Sonora became the bride of James McCurdy Gardwell of Austin in marriage rites Saturday, June 20, at 7:30 p.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church. Rev. John Fritts officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Finklea of Sonora, and the bridegroom is the son of Walter W. Gardwell Jr. of Center Point and Mrs. Margaret Williams Gardwell of Austin.

Cindy Yeager of Midland was the maid of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Martha Elliott of Sonora, Caroline Puett of Austin, sister of the groom, Hillary Hunt of Sonora and Terry Boggess of San Antonio.

Deanna Wright of Albuquerque, N.M., cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Best man was Bill Hayes of Houston. Groomsmen were Max Shilstone of Houston, Bill Wilson of Houston, Will Hausser of San Antonio and David Holland of Houston.

Jack Cardwell, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

Ushers were Bill Finklea of Austin and Larry Finklea of Sonora, brothers of the bride, and John Cardwell of Houston, Dub Cardwell of Dallas, David Cardwell of Austin and Nelson Puett of Austin.

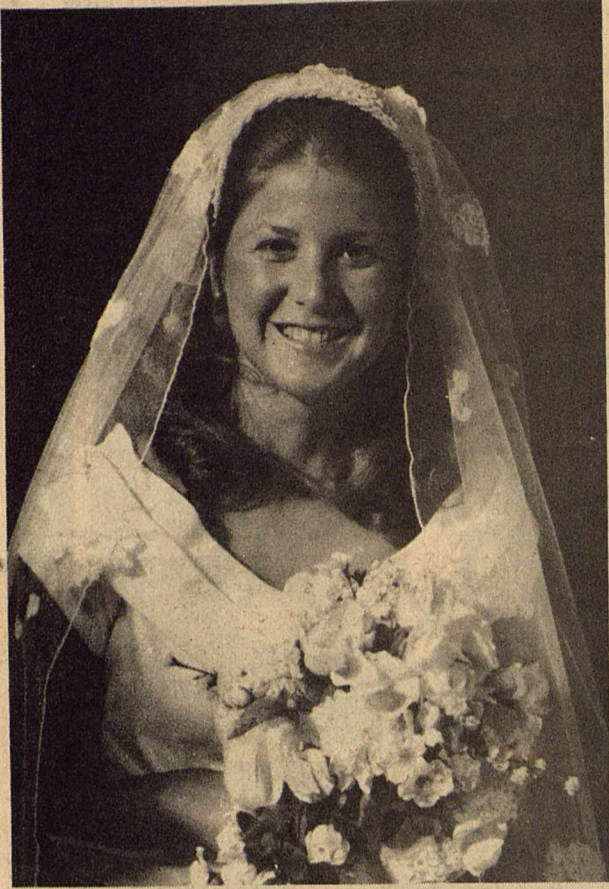

For her flowers, the bride chose a dozen white roses in a presentation bouquet.

The bride wore a gown of original design from the House of Bianchi, executed in luminous Silk Shantung. The gown, a turn of the century design, featured a lowered corselet waistline and an ultrafull skirt swept to an exquisite cathedral length train.

The off the shoulder v'ed neckline was beautifully accented by soft seamed folds of Silk Shantung continuing around to the back and forming a v-neckline and short cap sleeves. This design of softly folding Silk Shantung was magnificent as an elaborate border for the skirt and cathedral train.

An original design bandeau of Alençon lace and pearls featuring a double twisted strand of pearls from her mother's veil held her cathedral length veil of silk illusion. Matching Alençon lace was beautifully placed in scattered motifs over the entire veil.

A reception immediately following the wedding was held at the bride's home.

Recruits Sought By Selective Service System

As part of the revitalization of the Selective Service System, Colonel Paul Dean Aikin, the State Director of Selective Service for Texas, says he expects almost one thousand individuals and organizations in Texas to receive a letter from him, asking for help in recruiting local board members.

Colonel Aikin, a National Guard Officer, has been ordered to active duty for approximately 90 days for the purpose of recruiting a minimum of 690 local board members in Texas. Each of the 254 counties in the state must be represented on the 138 boards that will be established.

The Colonel's letter, sent to individuals, civic and ethnic organizations in all parts of the state, asks for names of highly respected and responsible citizens who may volunteer their services as local draft board members. Persons being considered for membership must:

- Be citizens of the United States between 18 and 60 years of age.
- Not be members of the Armed Forces (including reserve and retired status).
- If previously a local board member, having served not more than 15 years.
- Be willing to attend a few hours of training and later to devote an adequate amount of time serving on the boards without pay (probably one to two hours per month, or less).

Colonel Aikin urges each individual and organization receiving his letter to respond as soon as possible with names of qualified persons, both men and women. He also asks anyone interested in serving to contact him by mail at Box 5218, Austin TX 78763 or phone Area Code 512. 397-5945.

The boards will not be activated immediately, but selected members will be placed in standby status for possible future need.

Chamber Chatter

By Lou Thomas

Chuck Carpenter, Irving Chamber of Commerce will display copies of the Devil's River News 1st Annual Report of the Sonora Chamber of Commerce at the 75th anniversary in July in Dallas of the Texas Chamber of Commerce executives.

Interesting information from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce's THIS IS WEST TEXAS: "To the surprise of almost no one, West Texas' growth continued to overshadow the growth of the U.S. as a whole during the second half of the decade as was the case during the first half of the 1970's. The 132-county TWCC area gained 20.2 percent in population between census counts in 1970 and 1980, while the U.S. as a whole gained 11.4 percent in the same period. Sutton County (Sonora) gained 61.6 percent!

Judy Webster reported that the turn out of the Youth Activities Committee sponsored combination Jr. High and Senior High school dance was successful with a good turnout! Don't forget to nominate that deserving citizen for the June Citizen of the Month. If you cannot find time to come by the C of C office for a nomination form, call 7-2880 and information may be taken by phone. The June COTM will be selected in the regular board meeting on July 1st.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock has mailed the C of C a copy of their new publication "Why Texas is Growing" with exciting statistics that offer a graphic insight into the past and the future. The publication is available at the C of C Office to interested persons.

Lilia Gonzales at the Hudspeth Memorial Nursing Home has volunteered to coordinate with families and patients at the nursing home to see that nursing home residents who are ambulatory will be able to participate in the Oldtimers Reunion portion of Sutton County Days on August 22nd.

As a result of legislation passed during the session, Eagle Pass and Del Rio can establish foreign trade zones if they like; Terrell, Kinney, and Edwards Counties are no longer required by law to have a county auditor; Sul Ross will be able to repair and renovate some campus facilities; Crockett and Sutton Counties will remain in this legislative district instead of being lumped into the San Angelo district as was proposed; and Zavala and Brewster Counties got some badly needed road funds.

And although there are lots and lots of critics of the 67th Legislature, some significant successes were achieved. Tough law and order measures were enacted, giving law enforcement personnel the tools to crack down on criminal activity. Teachers got a much-needed pay raise. Mandatory liability insurance will protect the good drivers from the bad. Generic drug substitution should mean some savings to consumers. The state inheritance tax was effectively abolished.

And, in keeping with the trend of fiscal restraint with taxpayers' dollars, the new two-year budget reflects the lowest percentage increase in the last decade.

Look for the special session to begin July 13 and last for at least thirty days. Mrs. Jean Kindle will be handling office duties at (512) 475-2763 as usual; and Mrs. Vonnie Lewis is taking care of committee work at (512) 475-3491. Both will be delighted to assist you in any way possible.

Forms Can Be Used Against Taxpayers

Most taxpayers do not know that their tax forms can be used as evidence against them. Texas Congressman Jim Collins believes taxpayers should know and has introduced legislation that would mandate a list of taxpayers' rights be printed on all tax forms.

Collins' bill--H.R. 2389--also known as the Taxpayers' Bill of Rights for the printing of: 1. a list of taxpayers' rights during an audit, 2. how a taxpayer appeals an adverse decision by the IRS, 3. how taxpayers can file a complaint, and 4. what procedures the IRS can use to collect revenues.

"Accused criminals are informed of their rights by law, why shouldn't taxpayers also be informed of their rights when dealing with the IRS? Taxpayers should know what their rights are and the best place to tell them would be on their forms."

"It is also ironic that the tax form can be used against the taxpayer, but the advice the IRS gives taxpayers for filling out their forms cannot be used against the IRS." Collins said. His Bill of Rights also includes a provision to bind the IRS to the advice it gives taxpayers.

The Texas Congressman noted that for the average taxpayer, an IRS audit can be a frightening experience. "The taxpayer is at a disadvantage from the beginning. There are 14 volumes and over 7000 pages of complicated tax rules and regulations. The IRS agents are experts in this area but the average taxpayer is not. It is time we gave the honest, confused taxpayers their basic rights."

The Collins Taxpayers' Bill of Rights currently has 67 cosponsors and is in the Ways and Means Committee of the U.S. House of Representatives.

Adaptability One Strength Of Social Security System

One of the strengths of the social security system is its ability to adapt to the changing needs. When the original social security act was passed in 1935, the United States was a much different place than it is today. Over the years, the law has been amended on several occasions in an effort to keep it up to date to new conditions.

The treatment of women under social security is a case in point. In 1935, the typical American family consisted of a husband -- the breadwinner--and his dependent wife who cared for their children; and, for the most part, they remained together until "death did them part." Only about one in every four women was gainfully employed.

Today, by contrast, we find one divorce for every two marriages, and more than half of all women--including half of all married women--are in the workforce. Obviously, the once clearcut distinction between men as wage earners and women as homemakers no longer exists. Nevertheless, in large measure the program continues to treat women primarily as adult dependents.

In recognition of the changing roles of men and women in our society, Congress requested the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to study the issue of equity for women under the social security program. The department report was submitted in February 1979. While offering no specific recommendations, it did suggest two approaches for consideration --an earnings sharing plan and a double-decker option.

Under earnings sharing, one-half the total annual earnings of both a husband and wife would be credited to each, regardless of whether one or both were employed. At retirement, benefits for each would be based on half the total earnings during the time they were married, and on their individual earnings during the years they were single.

The rationale for this proposal is that a husband and wife are partners in a marriage and, whether gainfully employed or a homemaker, should share earnings equally. In this sense, neither is considered a dependent of the other. Under the double-decker plan, a specific benefit would be paid to everyone who met certain requirements, regardless of his or her earnings. In addition, the person would get a benefit based on his or her earnings covered by social security.

The issue of equity for women was considered by the 1979 advisory council on social security, which is appointed every four years. The council suggested that earnings sharing is the more promising approach, but refrained from recommending it since the plan still has to be refined.

While the final word on the question of equity for women under social security has not been spoken, one thing is clear: Social Security will continue to adapt to society's changing needs--for the decade of the 80's and beyond.

Round-up Pre-registration Deadline Nears

What are the myths and facts surrounding the feeding of vitamins to cattle? What are the new "tools" for beef producers? Will "tender loving care" help or hinder developing breeding animals?

Answers to these and many other questions confronting cattle producers in the 1980's will be discussed during the International Rancher's Roundup in Del Rio August 10-14.

Six daily concurrent educational sessions have been scheduled during this meeting of ranchers from five counties and numerous states. These include beef cattle, sheep and goats, ranch business, range resources, wildlife and horse production.

Speakers for the beef cattle concurrent sessions will represent Elanco, International Minerals Corporation, Medina Valley AI Lab, Purina, University of Nebraska, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Ed Stanfield, general manager, Chaparossa Ranch; Dr. Zerle Carpenter, head, Texas A&M animal science department; and Eddie Holland, Medina County Extension agent will serve as session chairmen for the three different daily meetings.

Other topics of interest to cattlemen that will be discussed during the three days of meetings include: getting the most out of growth stimulants, Rumento increase efficiency, pregnancy testing tools and techniques, antibiotics in future animal feeds, Lutalyse and other drugs for improved performance, new ways to treat cancer eye, short term and early weaning to get cows bred, plus the importance of minerals in an animal's diet. Sixteen talks are planned.

Thus far, 120 speakers have been confirmed. Headliners include Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown, South Africa Foreign Minister P. Botha and State Representative Susan McBe. Over 24 ranching firms will be represented on different programs.

However, ranchers have less than a week to pre-register and receive a $50 registration fee discount. June 30 is the deadline. After that date registration will increase by $50.

Pre-registration packets are available by writing to Rancher's Roundup, P.O. Drawer 1849, Uvalde, Tx. 78801.

Two day-long tours of ranches in Southwest Texas and Mexico will begin and close the week-long event. Specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Uvalde, organizers of the Roundup, speculate it could become the largest educational activity ever held for ranchers in the Southwest.

Participants must pre-register by June 30 to take part in the tours.

Long-term credit that's productive.

Loeffler Testifies on Lamb Import Bill

Congressman Tom Loeffler of Hunt on Wednesday House panel it must take steps to protect the domestic lamb meat industry from increased imports.

Appearing before the Subcommittee on Trade of the House Ways and Means Committee, Loeffler said rising imports from New Zealand combined with inflationary production costs and increasing predation threatened the industry.

"Lamb is now the staple of the American sheep industry and imported lamb particularly frozen lamb--creates an excess of supply in a relatively small market and reduces the ability of the American producer to market the industry's main product," Loeffler said.

Loeffler is sponsor of H.R. 2889, the Lamb Import Act of 1981. The bill provides "a modest limit on the quantity of lamb meat which may enter the United States during any year."

"I believe this legislation is necessary to insure protection for both the consumer and the producer of lamb by assuring an adequate supply of domestic lamb at a fair price while maintaining the stability of domestic lamb at a fair price while maintaining the stability of our international trade," Loeffler said.

Jamie Kothmann of Menard, Texas, president of the National Lamb Feeders Association, and Bill Sims, of San Angelo, Tex., executive secretary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, also appeared with Loeffler on the Congressional panel.

"The only way we can increase production is if profit becomes part of the industry operation," Kothmann said. "When producers can see a profit we can make the necessary adjustments to increase production."

Sims said New Zealand producers had an advantage over domestics because of their government subsidy. He also told the panel that New Zealand planned to increase its exports to 150 million pounds annually.

In 1967, imports of lamb amounted to 12.3 million pounds. In 1978, that increased to more than 36 million pounds.

"We have tried to work with them (New Zealand) voluntarily on some kind of restriction, but this hasn't worked," Sims said.

Opponents of the legislation say that it is protectionist, that imports are only a minor cause of the industry problem and that it violates existing trade agreements with that country.

Loeffler disagreed, saying that the reference to "lamb meat" was omitted from earlier legislation affecting meat imports in general and needed to be made part of the law.

"I am a strong advocate of free trade, but free trade must be fair trade," Loeffler said. "When unfair foreign subsidies threaten the very survival of an important domestic industry, we must protect our own producers."

TSGRA Sets Del Rio Convention July 16-18

Time is getting short, so plan now if you haven't already to be in Del Rio July 16-18 for the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association annual convention.

As has been the case the past couple of years, this year's convention will feature a special seminar of interest to ranchers. If you have heirs or are one, you'll be particularly interested in our Estate Planning Seminar beginning at 7 pm Thursday, July 16, at the Del Rio Convention Center and continuing through Friday morning.

Seminar panelists include estate tax specialists Jim Taylor, Juno and Austin, Alvin Hay, San Angelo, and Vester Hughes Dallas, plus Ft. McKavett rancher James L. Powell, livestock industry representative on the National Cattlemen's Association's Tax Committee. Panel moderator will be James T. Hunt, chairman of the TS&GRA Tax and Labor Committee. With the beneficial estate tax changes enacted by the recent Texas legislature, this is bound to be a hot session.

Convention activities will kick off Thursday at 2 pm with the Texas Animal Damage Control Association meeting, followed at 5:30 pm by a Border Buttermilk Party and at 7 by the opening session of the tax seminar.

Registration for the 66th annual TS&GRA convention begins Friday morning at 10:30. Committees will meet Friday afternoon beginning at 1 pm, followed by a 6 pm reception sponsored by American Cyanamid Co., a 7:30 fish fry and a dance at 9 pm.

Saturday's session begins at 7:15 with the past presidents' breakfast. The general session begins at 9 am, and gives way at 6 pm to another Cyanamid reception. The annual Membership Banquet will begin at 8 pm Saturday night.

Convention speakers include U.S. Representative Kika de la Garza and National Wool Growers president Marv Cronberg.

The pre-registration fee for this year's convention will be $22.50, $25 if you fail to pre-register. Cost for the Estate Tax Seminar is an additional $5.

You must make your own room reservations. Motels include the Del Rio Holiday Inn, convention headquarters, (512) 775-7591, La Siesta Motel (512) 775-3521 Motel 6 (512) 775-6635, Ramada Inn (512) 775-1511, Rodeway Inn (512) 775-7414, Amistad Lodge (512) 775-8591.

Conservation District Chairman Announces Support for Program

To promote the wise and judicious use of soil, water and related renewable natural resources in Sutton County, Scott Shurley, chairman of the Edwards Plateau Soil and Water Conservation District announced the support and assistance of Texas born and raised singer-songwriter Mac Davis.

"Mac's concern for the conservation of this state's renewable natural resources, has recently caused him to lend his talents in narration and music through recorded public service spots to the need for conserving these resources," added Shurley.

"Mac's interest in assisting Texas soil and water conservation districts promote a strong conservation ethic stems from the fact that he is personally acquainted with our problems. As a youngster growing up in Lubbock he saw what devastating high winds and hard driving rains can do to the land," said Shurley.

The entertainer has expressed his interest this way. "When I was growing up in Lubbock it seemed like we had a sandstorm every day. My daddy had a little motel and it was my sister's job and mine to haul the sand out of the flower beds. We'd fill a wheelbarrow and dump it on a vacant lot across the street. The next day the sand would blow back and we'd have to do it all over again."

In response to a question relative to the economics of conservation and the fact that the costs of soil and water conservation measures are difficult to recover in the market place Mac said, "I don't care whether a person lives in a city or on a farm. People depend on the land. So we all ought to be willing to share in the cost of conserving it and still leave room for the farmer and cattlemen to make a decent profit in the same way as anybody on the street has to."

"Due to an expanding population our soil, water and other renewable resources are becoming a shrinking resource base. It comes down to the old eye for an eye and tooth for a tooth concept. If we take from the land, we need to understand that we are going to have to give something back to what we took from," added Davis.

"I have always believed that local people should take care of their own problems. Of course if they need help from state or federal sources, then they ought to be able to get it. But I think people, no matter where they live, resent having state or federal bureaucracies dictate how to resolve a local concern."

Commenting on Mac's interest in assisting Texas

SWCDs with a conservation public awareness program Shurley said, "We appreciate what Mac is doing because he is expressing the point that it's time for us to become involved and take stock of our available soil, water and other renewable resources and start thinking about our future."

DEATHS

Rene Luis Guadarrama

Rene Luis Guadarrama, 28, died Tuesday, June 16 at Shannon Hospital in San Angelo. Funeral rites were held Thursday, June 18 at St. Ann's Catholic Church with Kerbow Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

He was born Jan. 14, 1953 to Jose and Olivia Adams Guadarrama in Del Rio. He was a truck driver for Hooper Trucking Co. and was a Catholic. He married Lorenza Avila Nov. 22, 1974.

He is survived by his wife and mother, both of Sonora; three brothers, Federico Guadarrama of Del Rio; Jose Guadarrama of Dallas and Guillermo Guadarrama of Del Rio; two sisters, Olivia Longoria of Sonora and Aurora Esqueda of Del Rio; and several aunts, uncles, nieces and nephews.

Johnny Wray Samuels

Johnny Wray Samuels, 18, died at 9 a.m. Wednesday, June 17 at Angelo Community Hospital following an oilfield accident. Funeral services were held Friday, June 19 at the First Baptist Church with Rev. J.C. Hancock officiating. Burial in Sonora Cemetery followed under the direction of Kerbow Funeral Home.

He was born Oct. 21, 1962 to Claude Ray and Katherine Viola Wall Samuels in Clovis, N.M. He was employed by S&S Casing Crews and was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors include his mother, Katy Samuels of Sonora; two sisters, Marion Samuels of Eldorado and Elizabeth Samuels of Brownwood; and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wall of Sonora.

Pallbearers were Chip Kennedy, Mike Blankenship, David Creek, Tinker Wipff, Bill Smith and Rex Surber.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

All the good moisture throughout most of West Texas has its advantages of course. However, there are some disadvantages attached too.

Herbert Brown, Sander-son county ranchman, says that whole area has "lots of stomach worm problems in sheep and goats. We have stepped up our drenching sessions hoping to get ahead of the situation," he said.

Brown is among good company with a whole region of ranchmen from the Rio Grande River back to Ozona, Sonora and Junction spending the majority of their time either drenching or rebuilding water gaps.

Mike Sheehan with Twin Mountain Supply Co. in San Angelo said the firm's fence building crews have also had to step up their work load because of the rainy season in West Texas.

Daily and/or weekly rains have brought floods on floods to parts of the Texas Hill Country and Central Texas. Much of the area has experienced such saturation that each time a new shower measuring more than a half-inch comes, the water gaps go. Certainly on the good side, the range land vegetation has prospered providing livestock a constant choice of nature's bar.

One ranchman stated: "We can't get our stock to come to the feedgrounds anymore...it's back to checking them on horse-back."

I would not be doing my job if I don't remind ranchmen at this point to ride-out their pastures and get a pretty good head count of livestock. Besides the stomach worm problems on the increase, there is always a chance of screw-worm outbreaks in wet weather. That little pest could always come back to haunt ranch country.

Hays Mitchell of Marfa told me in a phone conversation that the Big Bend and Davis Mountain country has not experienced the good rains that most of West Texas has received.

"Of course, in normal years we do not get much rain out here until about July," explained Mitchell. "When July gets here, we will learn if this is a normal year!"

Mrs. Bode Owens of Barnhart commented: "For once, we are located in the right place. Our ranch has received just the right amount of moisture."

But back northwest of Big Lake, Bose Hartgrove says "several of those big rains have got as close as my pasture fence at Stilas and stopped. My ranch looks like the drought of the 1950's."

It really is too bad the moisture can't be distributed better. It sounds as if I am meddling with God's business when I make that statement. But in cases like Hartgrove's compared with some of the farm country around Rowena, it appears like mis-management.

The other night at Lowake, Alfred Multer was saying he had a hard time preparing his cotton and milo fields between rains, much less seed them. At this point if milo is not about ready to harvest, the farmer has lost a crop anyway.

Worse is to see bumper crops of oats and wheat, which survived the April and May hailstorms either rusting or falling down in the fields simply because sunny times have been so infrequent to dryout.

Well such is the case of agriculture...the success thereof depends on the weather. That certainly has its advantages in the end. Still the largest industry in the world, agriculture is the only one which Congress can't pass a law to control the weather. If they could control the weather, Congress would totally control agriculture. So we still have agriculture. So we still have to put up with ag's advantages and disadvantages...and that's to our advantage.

Parvo Increase Noted

Spring's rise in temperatures has brought with it an increase in the incidence of canine parvo virus, according to the findings of a limited survey by the Texas Veterinary Medical Association.

Close contact between animals is the likely factor in the spread of infection. Cleanup and sanitation are crucially important, since the disease appears to spread principally through contact with contaminated feces.

"Vaccination is still the best protection," Johnston stressed, and this year, unlike last year, there should be an ample supply of vaccine."

He also said, "Runs, cages, food bowls and other equipment should be thoroughly disinfected with a diluted chlorine bleach. One part bleach in 30 parts water is effective, even though the disease is extremely resistant to heat and many disinfectants."

Another possibility being studied is one of a cyclical recurrence of the disease. Agreeing with Dr. Johnston about the correlation with temperature, Dr. Konrad Eugster of the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory added, "Over the past two years, a cycling of the disease over a three to four month span has been noted in certain localities. We're watching that, too."

who apparently do not feel tax cuts are necessary, or who believe that multi-year tax cuts would be inflationary," the Dalhart grain and livestock producer said. "It seems to us that these people, for the most part, are those who are responsible for our current financial crisis," he said. "If tax cuts should prove to be inflationary, the obvious answer is to cut government spending even further to compensate for any inflation which may occur."

The state farm leader told the legislators that "inflation is still our greatest and most immediate problem."

Multi-Year Tax Cut Important To Texas Farm Bureau

The Texas Farm Bureau has told members of the Texas congressional delegation that a multi-year tax cut "is of tremendous importance as a second step in our national economic recovery program."

"As you know, we were and are in full support of congressional efforts to balance the budget, and we feel as strongly about the necessity of real tax cuts as an incentive for individuals, businesses, and industry to increase productivity," TFB President Carol Chaloupka said in a letter to the 24 congressmen and two senators from Texas.

PUC Slashes GTE Rate Hike Request

The Public Utility Commission of Texas June 17 reduced General Telephone Company of the Southwest's request for additional revenues from $44.6 million to almost $2.1 million despite concern voiced by GTE Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Theodore F. Brophy during the final order hearing in Austin.

The additional revenues will be received through new rates for services such as mobile telephones, foreign exchange service (service in one exchange with a direct line to another), and a charge for the telephone company to pick up telephone instruments when customers discontinue service. Customers could save the pick up charge by returning their instruments to a return point. Effective date of the changes is not known at this time.

Brophy personally appeared "to reassure this commission of GTE's commitment to seeing that General's customers, here in Texas, receive good service. I'm also here to ask you for your support in that effort."

Brophy told the commissioners during the hearing in Austin on the final order that the continuation of the service penalty imposed on the company by the August 1980 commission order significantly weakens the company's ability to invest for service improvement.

"I think the penalty has served the purpose it was intended to serve. It surely has gotten the attention of the people at General and it has surely gotten the attention of the people at GTE. It's also deprived General of $5 million of capital at a time when capital is both scarce and expensive. I believe that a continuation of that penalty at this particular time serves more as an impediment to improved service than as a stimulus for improved service."

The GTE chairman also said continuation of the penalty would be unfair in light of the dollars that have already been committed and the progress that has already been made in compliance with the clear mandate of the commission to improve service.

The hearing examiner recommended a return on equity of 14.14 percent, before penalty, which Brophy said is neither reasonable nor fair when investors in money market funds are earning 17 percent, and A-rated utility bonds yield over 16 percent.

more capital yet we are not being allowed to earn the return required to attract that capital. "Our only option is to again document our needs."

Following the PUC's ruling, R.W. Britt, GTSW president, said, "I was sincerely hopeful the commissioners would allow us a return adequate to meet the obligation we have to serve our customers and earn a profit sufficient to compete for investors' dollars."

"I am particularly disappointed about the continuation of the service penalty in view of the service improvements and the commitment GTSW and GTE have made to meet service objectives."

"Customers are demanding expanded and improved services and new technology. The staff and the commission have penalized us for not making greater investments and not dedicating more dollars for maintenance and other upkeep items. Everything requires

Gil Favila Cited For 15 Years Service At Highway Department

The Maintenance Section of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT) in Sonora was the scene of a 15 year service award presentation during the safety meeting June 4, 1981.

Gildardo C. "Gil" Favila was the honored recipient. He started his DHT career in April 1966, for now retired Cullen Luttrell as a common laborer. He has moved through several levels of job classification until in 1978 he was promoted to principal maintainer operator and his present position of Maintenance Technician II.

Gil is a safe and careful driver. He was presented an award in December 1980, for nine years of accident free driving. Mrs. Favila (Maria) and Gil have five children, three sons and two daughters, and one grandson. They belong to the local Catholic Church. Gil is very civic minded and belongs to the volunteer firemen organization. The hobby he enjoys most is golfing. The presentation was made by Maintenance Construction Supervisor Louis Olenick and was accompanied by a letter of congratulations on his long and dedicated service and hopes that "his continued service would be pleasant and productive."

STATEMENT OF INTENT TO CHANGE RATES

General Telephone Company of the Southwest, in accordance with the Rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of rates in Texas effective October 1, 1981.

On April 28, 1981, the Public Utility Commission of Texas issued its order in Docket 3690, creating a separate Docket 3861 to consider the impact and effect of the accounting changes ordered by the Federal Communications Commission (CC Docket 79-105). The Federal Communications Commission has changed the method of accounting for inside wiring costs associated with the one-time station connection, move, or change activity. The new rate schedule will increase the Company's gross annual revenue derived from local service by no more than three percent. The schedule of rates and charges is available for inspection at each Company business office in the State of Texas.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas effective July 21, 1981, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

It is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 15.8 percent increase in the company's intrastate revenues.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

The filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for interexchange private line and foreign exchange (FX) service. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide interexchange private line and foreign exchange service in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell's tariffs.

Se espera que el nuevo arancel que se ha solicitado rendirá un aumento de 15.8 por ciento en los ingresos intraestatales de la compañía.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y servida por Southwestern Bell, y cada una de las oficinas de la compañía para negocios con el público en Texas tiene una copia para lectura pública.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono

El presente incluye, pero no se limita a, propuestas para aumentar las tarifas para servicio de línea privada entre centrales telefónicas (interexchange private line) y servicio de central telefónica extranjera (foreign exchange FX). Cambios en dichas tarifas de servicio también afectarían a clientes de otras compañías de teléfono porque dichas compañías proveer los servicios ya mencionados en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell.

Beef Program Scheduled

FIRST OF A SERIES

Do consumers and retailers know all they should know about beef? Not according to many Texas cattlemen.

"We need to help consumers become better beef buyers," said Roy G. Wheeler, President of the Independent Cattlemen's Association of Texas.

"And we can also help retailers move more beef through effective education and merchandising programs on the national level."

Conducting these will take money, Wheeler acknowledges. That's why his organization has joined with others in the Texas cattle industry to implement a voluntary 25-cent-per-head beef promotion investment program, effective July 1.

Under the new system, all funds collected are to be remitted to the Beef Industry Council of the National Live Stock and Meat Board for use in national programs of research, education and promotion.

During the current year, the Beef Industry Council will spend about 14 percent of its $2.8 million beef program budget on education and meat merchandising. The purpose of these and other efforts is to interest consumer dollar demand for beef.

Since many consumers' ideas about food are formed early in life, school becomes an ideal place to introduce sound formation about beef's role in a daily diet.

The Beef Industry Council is bringing this information to the junior and senior high school level through a three-part beef teaching kit series on cookery, nutrition and cut selection. Each kit features a narrated film-strip, teacher's guide, wall charts and student booklets.

But educating students about beef is only part of the picture. Retailers and foodservice operators need information about beef, too.

"Beef-In-A-Bag" for example, is a current merchandising campaign designed to provide retailers with the information and materials necessary to promote the sale of beef subprimal cuts to consumers, who, by cutting and wrapping the beef themselves, can save from 20 to 50 cents per pound on selected cuts.

During the first two months of the campaign, the Beef Industry Council has distributed more than 100,000 of its "Beef-In-A-Bag" consumer information folders.

Foodservice operators are reached with good information about beef, too. For example, the Beef Industry Council's "Beef Up America" identification and ordering chart is a valuable aid to those who purchase beef for hotels, restaurants and institutions.

As effective as these programs are, they're still not enough. That's why Texas cattlemen like Wheeler are behind the 25-cent beef investment program. Their hope is that the industry can greatly increase its promotion efforts in the years ahead.

Along with the Independent Cattlemen's Association, the following organizations are supporting the Texas investment program: Texas Farm Bureau, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Texas Cattle Feeders Association and the Livestock Marketing Association of Texas.

WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

One of the most basic principles of our government is due process of law. The government cannot imprison its citizens, or search their homes, or deprive them of property without giving them recourse through the legal procedure to argue their case. In fact, the burden of proof is on the government, which must show there is a justifiable reason for the action.

Yet, because of court decisions which define long distance telephone records as the property of the telephone company, the government can subpoena and obtain your records -- and you might not even know that it had been done for 90 days after the records are in the government's possession.

I have introduced legislation to give telephone customers due process of law in the procedure. It would not keep the Justice Department or other government entities from getting records needed in criminal cases. But it would insure that this process is not abused, and that individuals and businesses have the fundamental right to know when their own activities -- making long-distance telephone calls -- are being used against them.

There is precedent for this law. In fact, it is patterned after similar legislation regarding banking records. That legislation has not impeded the judicial process. When the government needs an individual's bank records, it issues a subpoena. If the individual wishes to contest it, he appears at a court hearing and provides the reasons. The judge then makes a decision after hearing BOTH sides.

The government has moved too far in recent years in injecting itself into the lives of its citizens. Reversing that process must be one of the highest priorities of our government.

In some cases, that will mean eliminating regulations which either fail to accomplish any worthwhile purpose, or which fall outside the jurisdiction of the federal government.

In other cases, it will mean changing the federal funding structure from specific, highly regulated categorical grants to less specific block grants which return the decision-making process to more local levels.

But this is one case in which getting government out of a "big brother" role will require legislative action.

The most active advocates of this legislation have been news organizations, because their records have been subpoenaed without notice in several cases.

But this bill would not be limited in its applications to reporters and their news organizations. It is a protection all Americans deserve.

I introduced a similar bill in the last Congress, and no action was taken. It is my hope that it will be enacted, either as a separate bill or as an amendment to related legislation during this Congress.

Two Sonorans Named To Texas Tech Dean's List

More than 5,200 students at Texas Tech University qualified for the dean's honor rolls in the six colleges during the 1981 spring semester.

They include Georgette L. Joseph of 121 Manor and Peggy C. Wallace of Sonora, Texas.

To qualify for a dean's honor roll a student must have a grade point average of 3.0 or more on a 4.0 scale and must have taken at least 12 semester hours of work.

Texas Tech has an enrollment of more than 23,000 students in six colleges: Agricultural Sciences, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education, Engineering and Home Economics.

Combined Effort Needed for Program

A cooperative effort between livestock producers in this area and eradication personnel is essential in the present screwworm situation in Texas. Dr. John Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, notes.

A total of five confirmed screwworm cases have been reported thus far in 1981 in Texas: three in the Marfa area, and one each in the Sutton and El Paso areas.

"These are more cases than we have had in the past two years, and everyone needs to rededicate efforts to do everything possible to contain these outbreaks," Dr. Holcombe said.

Recent heavy rains and warm, humid weather conditions can aggravate the situation since these are factors which can lead to an increase in screwworm infestations.

Governor Clements Appoints Staff Members To IOCC

Governor Bill Clements has named Railroad Commissioner Buddy Temple and seven Commission staff members to the Interstate Oil Compact Commission. Temple will serve on the Energy Resources Committee.

Joining the Environmental Protection Committee are Susan Cory Kovar and Jerry Mullican. John Camp, Skipper Lay, and Walter Lillie were named to the Legal Committee.

Brian Sullivan joins the Enhanced Recovery Committee. Sandra B. Buch was named to the Regulatory Practices Committee.

Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent is a member of the IOCC's Energy Resources Committee and Commissioner Mack Wallace is co-chairman of the Legal Committee.

The IOCC is an organization of 30 oil and gas producing states which is concerned with developing and utilizing the mineral resources within the states' borders.

It keeps the states advised of all the mineral developments which will impact the exploration and production of oil and gas. The governors of the member states are the voting members of the Commission.

They also name the representatives to the standing committees. Approximately 600 persons from state government and industry serve on IOCC committees.

Governor Clements is immediate past chairman of the IOCC and presently chairman of the Energy Resources Committee.

The IOCC will hold its midyear meeting in Casper, Wyoming, June 28-30 with several governors, including Clements, expected to attend.

Loeffler Proposes Estate Tax Reform

Congressman Tom Loeffler of Hunt has introduced legislation providing for extensive reform of estate and gift tax statutes which have "virtually destroyed family enterprise" in this country.

"The devastation caused by the estate and gift tax has been well-documented and debated here in the past," Loeffler said in introducing the bill. "But while the Congress debates this issue, families are having to sell their farms and ranches to pay the taxes."

Cosponsoring the measure with Loeffler is Rep. L.A. (Skip) Bafalis, (R-Fla.) "Our bill includes the Administration's recent estate and gift tax reform proposals, which I support," Loeffler said. "It also addresses more directly the special problems of family-owned farms, ranches and small businesses.

"In particular, it proposes a number of changes in the "special use" valuation provision, the tax treatment available to family farmers and ranchers."

Loeffler said the proposed revisions would, for the first time, provide families with the level of protection that was intended when special use valuation was enacted.

"The estate tax is one of the most blatant disincentives to work, save and invest in the tax code. It denies us the incentive to build up anything of value to pass along to our children; it prevents us from passing on a legacy to our heirs," Loeffler said.

The bipartisan tax reduction plan of President Reagan calls for an increase in the credit against the unified estate and gift tax to $192,800 which will be phased in by 1985, exempting 99.7 percent of all estates from the estate tax. This corresponds to an exclusion of $600,000.

It also provides an unlimited marital deduction and an increase in the annual gift tax exclusion from $3,000 to $10,000 effective Jan. 1, 1982.

"The estate and gift tax has virtually destroyed family enterprises in every area of the country," said Loeffler. "We hope to use this bill to halt the damage - before it is too late."

Texas Gas Production Down 9.35%

Texas oil and gas wells produced 514,044,045 Mcf of gas in February 1981, down 9.35 percent from field runs a year earlier.

Marketed gas production totaled 439,871,591 Mcf and reflected a 9.64 percent decrease from the February 1980 volume. Marketed production is the total gas to transmission lines, carbon black and plant fuel and lease use.

Gas exported from Texas in February totaled 248,655,925 Mcf. Natural Gas Pipeline Co. of America was the month's largest exporter, moving 67,023,957 Mcf of gas of which 37,510,904 Mcf was Texas-produced gas.

Exports of Texas-produced gas in February totaled 185,187,712 Mcf, and reflected a 1.31 percent decrease from the year-earlier month.

Texas gas production in February came from 211-

723 oil and gas wells. In January 1980, Texas wells produced 583,647,367

Mcf. January exports of Texas produced gas totaled 205,068,679 Mcf.

El Paso Natural Gas Gets OK For Expansion

The El Paso Company announced that the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission has approved a $41 million expansion of transmission facilities of its subsidiary, El Paso Natural Gas Company, in the Anadarko Basin of Texas and Oklahoma.

Construction will start immediately on the project which will provide El Paso the ability to handle an additional 125 million cubic feet daily of gas now available and under development in the Anadarko and Arkoma Basins. El Paso's outlet capacity from the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle area will be increased to approximately 560 million cubic feet of gas per day. Construction will include approximately 107 miles of 20-inch diameter pipeline, an additional 3,500 horsepower compressor unit and modifications to increase capacity at three existing compressor stations. It is anticipated that the project will be completed by mid-September.

El Paso officials said the expansion will allow El Paso to purchase much greater quantities of natural gas in Texas and Oklahoma, as well as to receive additional gas developed from El Paso's own exploration and production activities. New and expanded facilities of Producers' Gas Company and Mustang Fuel Corporation will connect with El Paso's new pipeline and will give El Paso access to almost any point in Oklahoma.

Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company will become a major supplier of natural gas to El Paso through the connection of the Producers' and Mustang systems to El Paso's new pipeline.

The El Paso Company is an energy company with major interests in natural gas transmission, gas and oil exploration and production, and chemical manufacturing.

13 Pipeline Permits Granted

A total of 13 permits for more than 58 miles in new pipelines were granted by the Railroad Commission in May 1981, according to the RRC Oil and Gas Division.

Eight of the permits were for gathering pipelines, two were for trunk transmission lines, and three were for other purposes.

Twelve of the newly permitted pipelines will transport gas, and one will move products.

Private pipelines accounted for all the permits last month.

In May, four permits were granted in the Refugio area, two each in East Texas and the San Angelo area, and one each in Southeast Texas, West Central Texas, and the San Antonio, Midland, and Lubbock areas.

Gathering line permits approved include: Estoril Producing Corp., Midland, gas, Crockett County, 2-inch, 2,388 feet, and 6-inch, 29,090 feet.
