Local Group Hears Report On Texas War on Drugs

"We, the parents, have got to join forces and make the community aware of the drug problem," Marilyn Golightly, representative of DARE said in a meeting of approximately 20 community members Monday night.

The meeting resulted in a community-wide rally being planned by co-chairmen Scott Shurley and Sam Stewart. The date is to be announced later.

DARE, or Drug Abuse Research and Education, is the "action arm" of H. Ross Perot's War on Drugs. It is a publicly funded organization whose sole purpose is to educate parents about the drug problems their children face daily.

Texas War on Drugs was started two years ago when Gov. Clements asked Perot to head a campaign against drugs. Perot replied that he was not aware of the youth drug problem. Clements said he was perfect for the job, because like the parents, he was unaware.

Golightly explained that the youth are exposed to drugs everywhere and it was the parent's duty to have knowledge of this exposure and some facts about the drugs and paraphernalia business related to the drug culture.

"The paraphernalia business is out there and these people are not stupid. This is a four billion dollar business and it's geared toward our kids," Golightly explained.

Golightly showed the group different examples of paraphernalia such as roach clips disguised as fountain pens, stash cans camouflaged as soft drink and deodorant cans, Star War power hitters and frisbees with holes to hold marijuana cigarettes.

"This stuff makes drugs seem like the neat thing to do," Golightly said.

Golightly also showed books on growing marijuana, comic books and magazines pertaining to drugs, and talked about "starter kits" that help one learn to "roll his own" joints, or marijuana cigarettes.

Golightly explained that the youth are exposed to drugs everywhere -- in the movies and television they watch to the rock musicians they idolize to peers at school.

"We, the parents and community organizations, have got to join forces and get the community aware of the drug problem. One reply I have often heard from different communities is 'That's not happening in our community. It's happening 20 miles down the road.' But it is happening in your community. Just ask the law enforcement officers," Golightly said.

Golightly said that the parents needed to get together and find alternatives to help the youth get high and feel good about themselves without the use of drugs. She said that the parents need to get involved and be aware of what is going on.

"We, as parents, need to stop throwing the blame on everyone else - the schools, the law enforcement - and do something about the drug problem in our community," Golightly emphasized.

For more information about the DARE programs and activities, write to Marilynn Golightly, 209A Beaufort, San Angelo, Texas, 76903

by Lou Thomas

Thanks to Candy Nelson at the ASC office for helping gather statistical data in a recent request for specific agricultural data. Friendly face around town last week was Rande Caruthers. Lois Duncan was the carrier of some goodies for the City Hall crew last week. Thank you, Lois. We enjoyed your visit and the goodies! Sutton County Days (August 21, 22) will be listed in the Texas Historical Commission's monthly newsletter The Medallion. The Texas Water Resources Institute at Texas A&M University in their Texas Water Resources reports that three-fourths of all the water used in Texas is used for irrigation. Cities use 11 percent; industries 9 percent; and energy production, 2 percent of all the water now used in the state each year. Correspondence from J.R. Runkles, Director, TWRI at College Station indicates the Institute may be contacted at Texas A&M for more detailed information concerning research developments for more water efficient agricultural production. A booklet entitled Water Issues in Agriculture (Texas) is available at the C of C office.

Dates for Sutton County Days will also be listed in the Calendar of Texas Events, covering the period from April 1981 through October, 1981. Besides distribution through the state's tourist bureaus, the event is the basis for the "Fun Forecast" section of Texas Highways magazine. Dozens of other publications such as Southern Living, RV Rambler, Southern Outdoors, Houston Home and Garden and the AAA travel guides use and depend on the events calendar.

The Chamber of Commerce has applied for sales tax exempt status (H.B. 696, effective June 17, 1981). West Texas Chamber of Commerce advised us of this information.

Rehabilitation Center Seeking Support

With approximately one week to go, West Texas Rehabilitation Center-San Angelo is seeking the support of Sutton County residents in its effort to raise $1,050,000 by July 10 in order to secure a $500,000 challenge grant from the J.E. and L.E. Mabee Foundation of Tulsa, Okla.

The funds will be used to construct a $1.5 million treatment center in San Angelo to provide outpatient treatment services without charge to handicapped children and adults of West Texas.

According to Mrs. Duke Wilson, WTRC's Sutton County campaign chairman, several Sonora residents have already contributed to the fund drive and others have indicated an intent to do so.

"Our main concern," says Mrs. Wilson, "is that cash donations and/or multi-year pledges be received as soon as possible because July 10 is an arbitrary deadline and it is imperative that we meet the Mabee Foundation challenge in order to build this important facility." Currently housed in a remodeled funeral home, WTRC's patient load has grown from 327 in 1977 to more than 1,100 in 1980. The only thing that hasn't grown is the 5,000 square feet of treatment space available in the existing facility.

The new building will contain approximately 29,000 square feet and will permit expansion of all existing departments (physical, occupational and speech therapy and education) as well as the addition of psychology, audiology and orthotics departments. "Through the facility will be located in San Angelo, it deserves the support of all West Texans," said Mrs. Wilson, "because without WTRC, people from this area would have to drive hundreds of miles and pay a great deal of money to secure the quality care WTRC offers the handicapped with no charge." Donations and pledges should be sent to Mrs. Duke Wilson, Box 120, Sonora.

The State Highway and Public Transportation Commission has approved the 1982 Rehabilitation and State Highway Safety and Betterment and Farm to Market Road Improvement at an estimated cost of $218.9 million.

Community Outlook

by Don Holdridge

As most everyone is aware, the major cause of inflation is the federal government spending more money than it takes in.

Where does this money come from? One of two sources. Most simply, the government can crank up its printing presses and create more money. Of course, the effect of this is to quite simply make all other currency worth less.

The second source is by borrowing the money from lending institutions. Not only does the government borrow money to pay its bill, it often borrows—at current astronomical interest rates—than loans the money out through various programs at extremely low interest rates.

And almost unbelievably, interest free loans are often made. One prime example is the U.S. Treasury Unemployment Trust Fund. According to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, some 17 states and territories owe the fund $3.3 billion in interest free loans to help finance their unemployment benefit systems.

Eric J. Oxford, an analyst with the organization said that while the loans serve a "beneficial" purpose, the "easy credit" terms have encouraged "abuse of the loan fund by some states that borrow to avoid taking fiscal responsibility for their benefits."

In a letter to House Ways and Means Committee chairman Dan Rostenkowski, Oxford said, "...the loan fund itself is insolvent and must borrow from federal government revenues to provide advances, contributing to federal deficit spending."

In other words, the Treasury has to borrow at rates in the mid to high teens in order to make the interest-free loans. At 15 percent interest rates, these unemployment compensation loans would cost taxpayers close to $1 billion a year.

States and territories owing the fund include Arkansas, $64 million; Connecticut, $365 million; Delaware, $48.7 million; District of Columbia, $57.9 million; Illinois, $1.375 billion; Kentucky, $52.1 million; Maine, $35.9 million; Michigan, $1.015 billion; Minnesota, $114 million; New Jersey, $646.8 million; Ohio, $599.9 million; Pennsylvania, $1.588 billion; Rhode Island, $120.4 million; Vermont, $40.5 million; West Virginia, $99.8 million; Puerto Rico, $82.4 million; and Virgin Islands, $6 million.

The national business organization has two main recommendations to alleviate the loan problem:

1. Charge interest on new borrowing from the fund, effective immediately for states currently in default and for other states as they default. The result would be to increase revenues through increased income paid into the unemployment trust fund as interest, plus savings from decreased borrowings.

2. Freeze benefit costs for states that are unable to repay their federal loans as a condition for any additional borrowing.

The U.S. chamber of Commerce has also taken aim on another boondoggle of the federal government—the Davis-Bacon Act.

According to Chamber figures, American construction workers are the highest paid in the world, and their wages compared to those of white-collar workers in the U.S. or Europe place them in an elite group.

This is due to part to taxpayers subsidizing union wage scales because of the obsolete Davis-Bacon Act. His law empowers the Department of Labor to regulate wages paid by private contractors on federal construction projects such as airports, highways, missile sites and buildings.

In San Francisco recently union plumbers employed by the city received wage increases of 22.8 percent under the law, boosting their yearly pay to $34,870.

Studies revealed that while construction workers in San Francisco averaged over $20,000 a year, bank tellers there were making $10,600. The reverse was true for example in Paris where construction workers earned $7,500 and bank tellers made $12,800. The same pattern prevails in most European cities.

The Davis-Bacon Act was enacted by Congress in the 1930's depression to prevent itinerant contractors from cutting wages in order to win contracts. It specifies contractors must pay the prevailing wage of a local community and in effect guarantees that high union wages must be paid regardless of whether workers belong to a union.

Christopher Luis, a labor law attorney with the Chamber, said, "In today's hyperinflated economy the law simply escalates taxpayers' costs while serving no useful purpose. Obviously construction workers don't need special laws to protect them from low wages."

The organization has called for the repeal of the law.

July Oil Allowable Set At 100 Percent

The Railroad Commission on June 18 set the Texas oil production rate for July 1981 at the market demand factor of 100 percent for the 53rd month in row and the 109th time since the Commission first went to the ceiling level in April 1972.

Commissioners Mack Wallace and Buddy Temple directed the continuance of the maximum statewide allowable after receiving and reviewing purchaser nominations for Texas oil in July totaling 2,557,893 barrels per day, a decrease of 63,833 barrels daily when compared with June 1981 buyer requests. July 1980 nominations totaled 2,633,828 barrels daily.

Next month's permissible rate of output is calculated to average 3,484,014 b/d with actual production estimated at 2.45 million b/d. The maximum allowable applies to all but 10 fields in Texas that are assigned lower legal rates of flow for conservation purposes. Actual production in July 1980 was 2,532,074 barrels daily. Temple reported that July 1981 nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 24,612,428 Mcf (thousand cubic feet per day). Gas nominations for June amounted to 25,093,708 Mcf/d. July 1980 gas nominations totaled 23,842,149 Mcf/d. The next statewide oil and gas hearing will be held Thursday, July 16, at 9 a.m. in Austin at the Hilton Inn.

Major purchasers filed these floor nominations for Texas oil in July:

Amoco Production, 223,000 barrels daily, down 4,000 from the previous month; Arco, 135,000, down 320; Cities Service, 80,000, down 5,000; Conoco, 56,000, unchanged; Exxon, 309,700, down 2,100; Gulf, 113,000, down 3,000; Marathon, 67,460, down 12,380; Mobile, 206,400, down 5,300; Phillips Petroleum, 73,903, down 2,097; Shell Oil, 200,000, down 7,000; Sun Oil, 84,700, down 500; Union Oil of California, 27,650, down 1,750; Texaco, 100,000, unchanged. Significant changes in July nominations were submitted in writing by these purchasers of Texas crude oil:

Brio Petroleum, 6,800, up 1,800; Charter Crude Oil, 16,327, up 4,137; Clayco, 21,050, down 30,000; Compton Corp., 5,685, up 1,100; Diamond Shamrock, 12,029, down 1,507; Gough Tank Trucks, 3,500, up 3,500; Koch Oil, 44,967, up 2,068; Matador Pipelines, 82,136, down 1,671; Scurlock Oil Co., 98,600, up 2,800; Tesoro Crude Oil, 25,839, down 4,391; Western Crude Oil, 45,116, up 4,891.

Commissioner Temple reported that crude oil and petroleum products imported into the U.S. averaged 5,555,000 barrels daily for the four weeks ending June 5, down 873,000 barrels from the same period a year earlier.

Permian Basin Petroleum Association Report

Canadian Energy Policies Pushes Drillers to U.S.

In October of 1980, a newly elected, liberal Canadian government unveiled its National Energy Plan. Almost immediately, rigs, crews and money began crossing the U.S./Canadian border and there's still no sign of stopping the flow.

The Canadian Petroleum Association has predicted that 10 billion dollars would be spent this year for exploration and production in that country. The Association now says only about 6.5 billion dollars will be spent in 1981. In 1980, 17.5 billion was spent, almost three times this year's projected figure.

In addition to the Canadian Government's action of imposing new regulations and taxes on Canadian oil, the price of a barrel of oil is only $17.75.

The Atlantic Richfield Company and Sante Fe International have signed an agreement with China to explore and develop an area of Hainan Island in the South China Sea.

Several of the wildcats wells off the island should average about 16 to 17,000 feet at a cost of about 10 million dollars a well.

The U.S. companies will assume all exploration costs. Drilling may begin by the end of this year. The country of Kuwait, a member of OPEC, has entered into a $100 million dollar joint venture with a Phoenix company to explore for oil and gas in the United States.

And, the national rig count set its 21st record this year with 3,860 making hole. That's 37 percent more than this time last year. In the past 12 months, 88 new rigs have gone into service each month.

The Permian Basin rig count for last week was 440. One year ago it was 324.

Gulf of Mexico Tracts Set for Lease Sale

A total of 212 tracts in the western Gulf of Mexico offshore Texas and Louisiana will be offered in an oil and gas lease sale (OCS No. A66) on July 21, 1981, the Interior Department's Bureau of Land Management said today.

The tracts, which total 1,077,913.725 acres, will be offered in a sealed bid auction beginning at 10 a.m. (CST) in the Louisiana Superdome, 1500 Poydras Street, Hyatt Ramp, Gate

"C" Level 200, Rooms 4 and 5, New Orleans, Louisiana.

Tracts to be offered in next month's sale are located in waters ranging from 6-1,640 feet deep.

The bidding systems to be used in this sale are detailed in a June 19, 1981, Federal register notice. Twenty-four tracts will require a cash bonus bid with a fixed net profit share of 50 percent; all remaining tracts to be offered will be on a cash bonus basis with a fixed royalty of 16-2/3 percent.

The U.S. Geological Survey has estimated the area could contain 38 million barrels of oil and 966 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

County Oil Production Told

Sutton County, which has had recorded production since 1948, last year produced 189,517 barrels of crude oil and condensate at the rate of 518 barrels per day. Production in 1980 boosted Sutton County's production total through the end of the year to 4.58 million barrels.

Off Shore Production In April Reported

State leases in offshore and coastal Texas petroleum produced 70,282 barrels of crude oil during April 1981 in contrast to 47,668 barrels in the same month of 1980 and 54,460 barrels in March 1981, according to operator reports to the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division.

Gas well production from state leases amounted to 24,384,447 Mcf in April against 21,582,883 Mcf a year earlier and 19,884,748 Mcf in March.

Casinghead gas production totaled 229,915 Mcf in April against 191,451 Mcf in the same month of 1980 and 226,366 Mcf in March. Condensate production from state leases amounted to 68,893 barrels in April, down from 119,524 barrels a year earlier and down from 73,010 barrels in March.

TSWCRA Favors Brucellosis Proposals

The Brucellosis Committee of the U.S. Animal Health Eradication Program that would reduce testing requirements for the intrastate movement of cattle and would raise the acceptable herd infection rates for classification as A and B areas to the state.

John S. Cargile, president of Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, testified in favor of the proposals on behalf of the Texas Cattle Industry.

disease that robs cattlemen and consumers of millions of dollars in lost beef production through cattle abortion and reduced calf crops.

The proposed amendments to the Uniform Methods and Rules of the brucellosis program were sent to the USAHA subcommittee for change of ownership test requirements for further study and refinement.

These changes will be reviewed at the fall meeting of USAHA and, if approved, can be incorporated into the UM & RS before Jan. 1, 1982.

Cargile, who serves on the USAHA brucellosis committee from Texas, said that in Class B and C states, the new rules for intrastate movement would require one negative test and would not require additional testing.

An educational program to encourage the voluntary retest of moving animals would be augmented at the same time.

Currently, the Western portion of Texas is classified as a Class A control area and the Eastern portion is in a Class B control status.

Under the USDA's proposed change in classification standards, Class A status would cover any state with one half of one percent or less accumulated 12-month herd infection rate. Class B status would cover any state with two percent or less herd infection rate, compared to the old rate of one percent or less. Class C status would encompass any state with a two percent herd infection rate or higher.

Cargile noted that Texas started an accelerated brucellosis program July 1, 1980, and that Texas cattlemen have given the new program excellent support and are trying to make it work.

Cattlemen by and large are not enthusiastic about the brucellosis program but have accepted it and are cooperating because they have been convinced by their leadership that it is the best solution offered today to a tough program," Cargile said.

The proposed rules for movement in the Class B & C areas originally set for Jan. 1, 1982, asked for multiple testing that cattlemen are not prepared to accept, he said.

The revisions supported by Cargile would reduce the burden on the cattlemen and encourage compliance with the program. Cargile also told USAHA that the number of calves being vaccinated in Texas is rising rapidly with the availability of the reduced dose of Strain 19 vaccine.

Implementation of the changes will further encourage cattlemen to continue calfhood vaccinations, an important step toward eradicating the disease.

Legislation To Be Discussed During Roundup

Legislation affecting sheep and goat producers, factors affecting buyer demand for lambs, world lamb marketing outlook and factors determining wool value are four of 15 topics to be analyzed at sheep and goat concurrent sessions during the International Rancher's Roundup August 10-14 in Del Rio.

Seventeen representatives from 12 producer concerns and agencies will appear on the three one-half day programs.

Producer organizations and personnel confirmed so far include: National Wool Growers (Don Meike, Board Chairman), American Sheep Producers Council (Chris Joufflas-President, Dick Biglin, Leann Nelson, Bill Broscovek), National Lamb Feeders (Janie Kothmann, President) and Mohair Council of America (Herman Moore, President).

Commercial firms represented are New Zealand Lamb Company (Graeme Lindsay), Swift and Co. (L.S. Wilde), Texas Lamb Company (Bob Quam) and Burlington Industries (Wylie McDonald).

Other topics certain to interest producers are: roles and functions of producer organizations, challenge of lamb marketing, seasonal supply and price trends, lamb fabrication and selling problem lambs, meat goat carcass evaluation and utilization of the lamb carcass.

Concurrent session chairmen will be Bill Sims, Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association; Jack Groff and Dr. George Ahlschwede, Texas Agricultural Extension Service sheep and goat specialists; and Dr. Zerle Carpenter, head, Texas A&M department of animal science.

Participants will also have the opportunity to attend concurrent sessions in beef cattle, range resource management, ranch business, horse management and wildlife. Daily general group sessions will comprise the remainder of each day's educational activities.

Thus far over 120 speakers from five countries and seven states have been confirmed for the three days of educational activities. Headliners include South African Foreign Minister P. Botha, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown and State Representative Susan McBee.

Two day-long tours of Southwest Texas and Mexican ranchers have been organized. Nightly meal functions and entertainment will occur after educational activities have concluded.

Prospective participants are reminded that June 30 is the pre-registration discount deadline. Those who complete the registration procedure before that date receive a $50 discount. To take part in the tours, participants must pre-register by June 30.

Pre-registration material can be obtained by writing to Rancher's Roundup, P.O. Drawer 1849, Uvalde, TX 78801.

Speculation continues that the Roundup could become the largest such event ever organized for Southwestern ranchers.

Long-term credit that's productive.

tural Extension Service. The public can inspect the billys from 8 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.

A program at 10:30 a.m. will include discussions of important traits in the selection of Angora goats, the results of feeding protected amino acids to goats, evaluating kemp and other defects in mohair, the feed value of Edwards Plateau range plants, and preparation of the fall mohair clip.

Airborne Spray Program Underway

An airborne spray program is under way right now to save farmers, ranchers and consumers money.

The Rangeland Grasshopper Control Program has been initiated as part of an ongoing effort to combat this summer's heavy infestations of grasshoppers in cattle-producing areas.

According to Ron Johnson, staff officer with the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, as many as 30 million acres of rangeland are infested with high levels of grasshoppers. The result is millions of dollars worth of losses of valuable livestock forages.

Since 10 to 15 percent of infested acreage normally is treated, Johnson says five to seven million acres may have to be treated this summer. More than 5.3 million acres in 1980 and approximately 7.1 million in 1979 were treated as part of this program.

The spray program is organized on a local area basis and is required to meet certain criteria, including: An economic infestation of grasshoppers (usually eight per square yard) must be present; a proposed spray area must have at least 10,000 acres; everyone in the spray area must participate; and the landowner's money must be on deposit. The key to making the program work on a local level is spraying a large enough block to deter re-infestation of grasshoppers from untreated areas, according to Johnson.

Two insecticides are used in the government-sponsored program: SEVIN 4 OIL carbaryl and ULV Malathion. According to Northwest area APHIS director Dick Jackson, Seattle, these two insecticides were chosen for "their relatively low mammalian toxicity, lack of environmental persistence and excellent grasshopper control capabilities."

For more information about the Cooperative Rangeland Grasshopper Control Program, contact your local county extension agent, state Dept. of Agriculture or USDA/APHIS office.
