

7th Annual Sutton County Days Draws Record Crowd

Mary Hanna Wins Queen's Title

The crowning of Mary Hanna as Sutton County Days Queen Saturday afternoon topped off two days of festivities that almost everyone was proclaiming as the biggest and best Sutton County Days ever.

Other contestants in the queens contest were Kristi Hill, Clara Arredondo, Julie Stewart, Rosa Noriega and Tonya Ridgeway.

As with almost everything in the seven-year old celebration, the Little Mr. and Little Miss Sutton County contest also drew a record number of entries from the youngsters ranging from two-to five-years old.

Of the 56 entrants, Brandi Bible, daughter of Frisbie and Rae Ann Bible, and Pacer Holley, son of Marsha Holley, were named the winners.

Named first runnerups were Ashley Bateman, daughter of Ty and Sara Bateman, and Jeremy Luckie, son of Georgia and Vance Luckie. More arts and crafts and food booths were seen than ever before, and the Oldtimers Reunion, a new event for Sutton County Days, drew a very large crowd.

Entertainment was provided almost continually during the day by the Sonora High School Band, the Lukenbach Progressive Junior High Oompah Band or the Oscar Galindo Band.

Numerous SHS students also got a chance to renew acquaintances with several other classes.

The Texas Tumbleweeds, a competitive acrobatics group with five Sonora girls as members, also provided entertainment in the afternoon.

With the record crowd and participation all the way from Friday's parade through Saturday night's final rodeo performance and dance, the continued growth and success of Sutton County Days was assured into the eight annual festivities next year and many years to come.

Armed Robbers Receive 15-Year Prison Sentences

Two suspects were convicted and sentenced to 15-year jail terms and a female accomplice received a five-year probated sentence in connection with the July 1 armed robbery of Rogers Drive-In Grocery.

Robert Lamar Miller, 21, and Normand Henri Plante, 19, both were handed 15-years sentence in the Texas Department of Corrections by 112th District Judge Troy Williams, the same penalty sought by District Attorney Bill Mason.

Monica Denise Price who was not involved in the actual robbery act, received a five-year probated and was to be transferred to her parents in Alabama where she will undergo further psychiatric examination. She has a history of mental problems, Mason said.

The grand jury on July returned armed robbery indictments against the trio. Bail was set at $50,000 each of the suspects, but was never raised.

Mason said officers had obtained a confession from both Plante and Miss Price.

All three pled guilty in the case and waived their right to a jury trial.

Mason gave much of the credit to Chief of Police Brent Gesch and said the swift prosecution was facilitated by the cases that were well made by the Sonora police officers.

After receiving tips from two witness, officers had arrested the suspects less than two hours after the morning robbery.

A mother leads her daughter to school Monday morning as the Sonora schools open for the 1981-82 year. Superintendent W.A. McAndrew reported a smooth opening with enrollment cracking the 1,300 student barrier for the first time. He said if past years were any indication, enrollment could very easily surpass 1,400 by the first of October.

School Board Sets Tax Split

The Sonora Independent School District Board of Trustees, meeting in special session Monday, night, finalized their split of the tax rate after voting last week to cut the rate one cent.

The final decision was to set the maintenance and operation rate at 48½ cents, one-half cent higher than last year, and the interest and sinking rate, used to pay on bonded indebtedness, at 3½ cents, 1½ cents lower than last year.

Board members also held range planner. Those interviewed included Dr. Beckner of Texas Tech University and a representative of Barnes, Landis, Goodman and Youngblood of Austin.

After an executive session, the resignation of Juanita Sosa, a third grade teacher.

New employees hired were Mrs. Patricia Moseley as a fifth grade aid and Cluade Flores as a maintenance worker and bus driver.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
 142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
 WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

After months of discussion and weeks of congressional debate, the Administration's tax cut proposal is finally law. What will this mean to you the taxpayer?

The first difference you will notice will be a 5 percent reduction in the amount withheld from your paycheck beginning October 1. Then you will see additional decreases of 10 percent each year in 1982 and 1983.

A family of four earning a total of $30,000 will pay more than $900 less in 1984 than now. A single person earning $20,000 will pay more than $700 less.

The tax cut package also reduces the so-called "marriage tax," which requires two married wage earners filing jointly to pay more in taxes than two single people earning the same total amount. The tax plan adopted does not completely eliminate the difference, but it does offer deductions to make the situation more equitable.

Those of you who do not itemize your deductions will be able to deduct 25 percent of the first $100 you contribute to charity, and that amount will grow. This provision will allow private citizens to give more to charity, and will benefit charitable organizations.

Also starting next year, everyone will be able to take advantage of the individual retirement account deduction. Money in such an account is not subject to taxes until it is withdrawn. Another provision of the tax package includes benefits for interest income from savings accounts.

A provision to reduce the unfair tax burden for oil royalty owners will benefit many taxpayers.

One of the most significant longterm effects of the tax package will come from tax indexing. Many people end up paying larger and larger shares of their income in taxes because wage increases designed to keep up with inflation push them into higher tax brackets. So if your income is just keeping up with the cost of living, you actually lose because you are paying taxes at a higher rate.

Under the indexing provisions of the tax cut, beginning in 1985 the income level to be taxed at a given rate will rise each year according to inflation. Thus, if inflation is 10 percent, and your salary rises by 10 percent, you still will pay the same percentage of your income in taxes.

The personal exemption, now at $1,000, also will be adjusted yearly for inflation, as well as the zero bracket amount.

This provision obviously will benefit every wage earner. But it also will have a healthy effect on the federal government. For years, the government has been able to increase its revenues dramatically simply because of the "bracket creep" phenomenon, which has the effect of increasing taxes without the Congress having to act.

In the future, when Congress wants to increase spending, and thus feels the need to increase revenues, we will have to act to raise taxes. Faced with this prospect, I predict that Congress will think twice before they increase the size of government by spending more.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday said sales of mixed drinks in Texas during the second quarter of 1981 were up over 28 percent over the same period last year.

Bullock said mixed drink taxes collected during the April, May and June period amounted to $30.3 million, compared to $23.6 million for the same period in 1980.

Sutton County's total tax revenues during the quarter was $8,769.80 with the county treasury receiving $1,315.47 as its 15 percent remittance.

Total tax revenues within the Sonora city limits were

Sporting Chance

By Don Holdridge

It's reaching epidemic proportions. The disease is marked by restlessness at work, listlessness at home and severe cases of melancholy on Sunday afternoons and on Monday nights.

In fact, you can see the signs just by looking at the victim's families. The wives are tense and irritable. They look like they just heard their husband was aboard the Titanic. And the poor children. Perhaps their fate is the cruellest of all as they begin to take on the appearance of an orphan.

The disease is peculiar. It only occurs in the late summer or early fall, mostly in men, and by January has run its course. Depression still occurs among some victims after that time, and some say the only cure for the depression is to catch another case of the "bug". Perhaps the most bizarre characteristic of the disease is that once someone catches it, it reoccurs each year. The reinfection rate is astronomical.

As a state Texas has an unusually high incidence of the disease, and Sonora is no exception. In fact, Sonora has one of the highest contamination records in the state. Strangely enough, the rate of infection among women is of a much higher proportion here than most places.

Really, despite all the adverse publicity, the disease is not that severe—it's football fever—and that time of year is here again. High school, college and pro teams are already cranking up to start their regular seasons.

For Texas professional football fans (does that mean professional fans or fans of professional football or both), 1981 promises to be an interesting season.

The Dallas Cowboys, as usual, appear to be headed for another playoff season. Last year was supposed to be an off year, and the Cowboys came within one game of making a record sixth Super Bowl appearance. Not bad for a year some people didn't expect them to make the playoffs.

Danny White's emergence at quarterback made the big difference. White didn't make people completely forget Roger Staubach, but he did dim their memories, at least until the last second comeback in the playoffs against Atlanta when he appeared to be a reincarnation of the retired Cowboy legend.

Tony Dorsett has finally begun to mature into the running back the Cowboys had hoped for when they traded away four draft picks to draft him. He still has a problem with fumbling too much, but last year showing signs of running as much with his head as with his natural ability.

A strong offensive line is beginning to resemble the classic one of the late 1960's and early 1970's and the receiving corps of Drew Pearson, Tony Hill, Butch Johnson, Billy Joe Dupree and Jay Saldi is one of the strongest around.

If Dallas has a weakness, it is the defensive secondary with injuries and youth casting shadows. Charlie Waters must be able to come back off his knee surgery successfully. One question mark, Randy Hughes's shoulder, is no longer a question mark. He's hurt again, and unfortunately, what appeared to be a brilliant career is now probably over just as it was really getting started. That leaves the chores at safety and probably at the corners to some promising, but still green young players.

As usual the Cowboys are strong, if not flashy at linebacker, and every member of the defensive line has gained all-pro honors at least once. With a crew like that, the defensive backs may be relieved of some pressure since it's hard for a quarterback to complete a pass if he never gets a chance to throw the ball.

In Houston, the Bum got fired, the Snake retired and everybody has written off the Oilers already. But don't write them off quite yet—they're a long way from being dead.

First of all, as much as I like Bum Phillips and hated to see him leave (especially the way Oiler owner Bud Adams handled the situation) it may be a blessing. The team needed some extra offensive punch, and new coach Ed Biles bringing in Jim Shofner may be the answer.

And so what if Kenny Stabler retired. I fully expected Gifford Neilsen to take over at quarterback this year any way. His time has come, and Stabler had lost too much.

Houston fans can expect the Oilers to put the ball in the air more this year with Shofner calling the shots which should make Earl Campbell even more effective. For three years, all the guy has done is to lead the league in rushing every year. And he did it despite having the entire defense stacked against them since he was virtually the only weapon the Oilers used. Imagine, if you can, what he can do when the defense has to worry about stopping the pass, too.

The Oiler defense is still one of the best around, and if the offense can get its act together, the defenders should have a stellar year since they won't have to be on the field the entire game.

If they can avoid injuries, the Pittsburgh Steelers will probably win the American Conference Central because of the scheduling, but Houston and Cleveland should both grab wild card spots by finishing tied for second.

Other division winners include Atlanta in the NFC West, Detroit in the AFC Central, San Diego in the AFC West and New England in the AFC East.

In Super Bowl XVI, it'll be Dallas over San Diego.

Broncos Down Wall Friday

Sonora Broncos football fans got their first and only preseason preview of their team Friday night as the Broncos downed the Wall Hawks here in a controlled scrimmage, 3-2.

The game was not actually as close as the score indicated as the Hawks never scored until one of the later possessions against the Bronco reserves.

Senior quarterback sneaked across the goal line for Sonora's first touchdown. The tally was set up by two runs by Allen Stewart that moved the ball down inside the five-yard line.

Stewart apparently had the Broncos on the way to another touchdown their last march when he clicked off a 60-yard run down to the 14. The drive died two plays later though when Wall recovered a Sonora fumble.

Coach Jerry Hopkins said the coaching staff was pleased overall with the effort.

"Our backs looked good hitting the holes," he said. "We especially wanted to work on running the ball and running inside although we didn't get to work on our passing game as much as we would have liked."

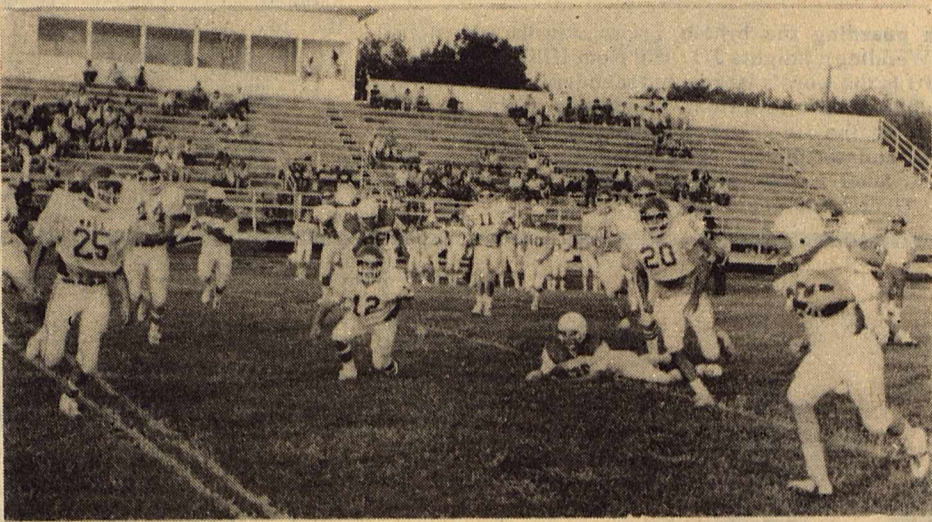

"We were not pleased with the overall defense," he added. "It wasn't that they moved the ball that much, but we just didn't execute very well."

Scott Savell was the only casualty of the contest as he suffered a shoulder injury that will probably keep him

Ram Performance Test Scheduled Oct. 14

The annual ram performance test at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Sonora will be conducted in two phases depending on the breeds involved.

The Rambouillet or fine-wool test is scheduled to begin on October 14. Delivery should be on or before September 23. This will provide a three week adjustment period prior to the initial weigh day on October 14.

The final weigh day will be March 3, 1982, with shearing to follow this date.

A field day is scheduled for March 18, 1982. It is not anticipated that it will be possible to scour the entire fleece.

Yield data will be based on samples taken in advance of the final shearing date.

The test period for medium wool or Blackface rams will be November 11 to March 3. Delivery dates for these rams should be on or before October 21.

The rams will be examined by a committee appointed by the project leader in the interim between delivery and the first official weigh day. A note will be made of any animals thought to be unsound and breeders will be given an opportunity, but will not be required, to remove these before the initial weigh day.

During this period of time, breeders may elect to remove animals based on their own initiative. After this, the breeders are requested to leave the rams on test except for reasons of health as determined by station personnel.

The rams will be self fed a commercially prepared and pelleted ration. Breeders will be responsible for the costs involved in the conduct of the test including any veterinary costs involved.

Precautions will be taken in care and treatment of rams, but if death losses occur, the Experiment Station will not be responsible.

The test is open to all breeds and registration is not a requirement. Only registered rams born after October 1, 1980, are eligible for the American Rambouillet Sheep Breeders Association Registry of Merit Program.

No rams will be accepted which show yearling teeth. They will be checked by station personnel on arrival.

Actual birth dates, types of birth, etc., are not required this season, but it is the intent of the program to increasingly emphasize and to require more complete data, possibly including ram productivity, in the future.

Thus, breeders may wish to initiate efforts to collect this type of data on current or future lamb crops from stud flocks or those from which rams are to be tested in future years.

The test will be on a self-sustaining basis. Due to the manner in which the feed will be purchased, the Experiment Station will not be able to handle the financing.

Fred Campbell will assume responsibility for handling the funds and purchasing feeds.

An initial deposit of $125 per ram is required. Checks should be made payable to "Ram Test Account" (not the Experiment Station), and should be mailed to Fred Campbell, Mohair Council of America, P.O. Box 222, San Angelo, Texas 76902 or to the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, P.O. Box 918, Sonora, Texas 76950.

Any unused funds will be returned after the test is completed. A separate accounting will be made to each cooperator.

Since feed purchases must be made in advance of the test, it is desirable that deposits be made in order that feed can be ordered and be on hand at the start of the test. Rams may be removed after all data have been collected at the end of the test and are not required to be left until field day.

Entry forms may be obtained from: Don Spiller, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, P.O. box 918, Sonora, Texas 76950. Phone 915/387-3168;

Dr. Maurice Shelton, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, San Angelo Research and Extension Center, Route 2, Box 950, San Angelo, Texas 76901; Phone: 915/653-4576;

Screwworm Disaster Possibility For Fall

A screwworm disaster for Texas this fall?

That's not a prediction of things to come, but it is a distinct possibility, warns Dr. J.E. Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission.

"The potential for an outbreak of screwworms is in place, and we must take steps now to thwart it," he said.

He urges all livestock producers to perform routine inspections on all livestock, and submit suspected screwworm samples to the fly lab at Mission.

"Pet owners and veterinarians need also to be alerted to this task," Dr. Holcombe said.

An increase in the number of confirmed screwworm outbreaks in Mexico near the U.S. border is one of the major reasons for fearing a screwworm disaster in Texas this fall. Twenty-seven known screwworm cases in Mexico, all well within the insect's flying range of this state, were reported during July.

"This is not our only worry. A wetter than usual spring and summer caused an explosion in the number of Gulf Coast ticks which feed in ears of cattle in large numbers, leaving wounds when they drop off; these are made-to-order targets for screwworms.

Shearing of sheep and goats is underway, and this will be ideal for screwworm infestation.

"But perhaps our biggest problem is complacency. The screwworm eradication program has been so successful that we forget that continued checking of livestock for possible screwworms is essential to an eradication program. Producers along the Rio Grande River need to be especially watchful; in fact, producers throughout the state need to get back into the habit of submitting suspected samples to the fly lab at Mission," Dr. Holcombe explained.

Mailing kits for sending in the samples are available free from a number of outlets, including veterinarians, county agent's offices, and Texas Animal Health Commission area field offices.

The confirmed cases in Mexico are from 50 to 120 miles south of the Texas border.

"Now is the time to be looking for screwworms. We need to know where the screwworm is in order to take appropriate measures to wipe out infestations which may occur in great numbers in Texas this fall," Dr. Holcombe said.

Briscoe Addresses Rancher's Roundup

A tough look at the ranching industry--past, present, and future--highlighted talks at the opening general session of the International Rancher's Roundup here Aug. 11 before an estimated 600 people from the U.S. and Mexico.

Keynote Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde, former Texas governor and owner of Briscoe Ranches, said the rancher's role in the future should be similar to that of the past, where "they cooperate to tackle new industry problems and find successful solutions."

Ranchers today need to continue an active role in all levels of government--community, state, and national--and try to bring about vital industry changes, Briscoe emphasized.

A case in point, he said, was the highly successful southwestern screwworm eradication program, where Texas livestock industry leaders contributed some $3 million in producer funds to help launch the program, after agricultural research had shown that it was feasible.

"The producer cooperation--as well as cooperation between the U.S. and Mexico--were the keys to getting the program going back in the early '60's. To keep the program moving forward today, we need rancher cooperation and increased vigilance on both sides of the Rio Grande, for a number of cases have been reported in recent weeks in several areas in Mexico approximately 50 miles from the Texas border," Briscoe said.

He warned that unless all ranchers get involved in reporting suspected cases to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Lab at Mission, a major reinfestation of screwworms could occur in Texas and northern Mexico.

"Ranchers today also need to continue pure research on other animal health problems which concern them, just as in the past. They need to get involved and be willing to invest their time and funds in a project. Ranchers are rugged individualists and believe in the free enterprise system, and as we plan for the future we need to build upon this proud heritage," Briscoe said.

Another major speaker, Wendell Schronk of Houston, president of the U.S. Beef Breeds Council, described the vital role of purebred operations in the ranching industry.

"Beef breeds today have a unity of purpose although there is strong competition among some of them," Schronk said. Nevertheless, the Beef Breeds Council, which represents some 15 breed associations, is joining in a push for expanding international markets with the highest quality of beef possible.

The Beef Breeds Council is totally dependent on commercial ranchers, and the breed associations that are most successful today are those that have listened to what ranchers have had to say, Schronk added.

Primary goal of all beef breeds is production of lean, high quality beef in the most economical way possible, and performance records can quickly tell a rancher how he is doing, the speaker said. He also emphasized that purebred breeders join with other ranchers in promoting U.S. beef.

"Ranching is a partnership. Those of us in the industry need to spend more time promoting our product," Schronk said.

Leon Miller of Alta Verde Industries at Quemado, also pointed to the need to promote beef in his talk on "Feedlots and the Ranching Industry".

World's Largest Pumping Unit To Be Shown At World Oil And Gas Show

The world's largest pumping unit manufacturer will exhibit the world's largest oil well pumping unit, equivalent to a five story building, at the World Oil and Gas Show and Conference to be held in Dallas, December 14-17, according to Martin C. Dwyer, the show's General Manager.

Oil company executives who got their start in the industry operating pumping units in the various oil fields throughout the United States and the world, will be asked to serve as honorary pumpers at various periods during the show, according to Joe Byrd, Chief Engineer for Lufkin Industries and inventor of the Lufkin Mark II unit which will be on display.

The unit will weigh the equivalent of sixteen 2,000 pound automobiles and is pumping oil from depths five miles in the earth.

This is 350 times deeper than the Drake well, the first oil well brought in in the United States in 1869 at Titusville, Pennsylvania.

"The nodding horse head of the operating unit will greet every person entering the World Oil & Gas Show. It will be placed outside, at the entrance, being too tall for the Dallas Convention Center," according to Dwyer.

Dwyer said the Lufkin unit will be one among exhibits covering space large enough to house six regulation sized football fields.

Exhibits will feature the exploration, drilling, production, pipeline, gas processing, refining and petrochemical industries.

"The show will provide much new technology to help the oil and gas industry to become much more efficient in the finding of new energy at greater depths to take care of the crisis needs of the United States and make it less dependent on outside oil.

"New technology will abound among the exhibitors since approximately 80 percent of the exhibitors say they will have innovations and new technology to show the some 30,000 oil and gas men of buyer and specifier titles who are expected to attend"

Nugent Applauds Congressional Action

Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent on Aug. 13 applauded Congressional action to repeal a 1978 law which he described as "wasteful, confiscatory, unenforceable and ludicrous in every respect."

The law, which was included in the Powerplant and Industrial Fuel Use Act of 1978, prohibited the use of residential outdoor gaslights after January 1, 1982. Congress repealed the law as a part of the Budget Reconciliation Act on which action was recently finalized.

"This federal law said, in effect, that if you have a gaslight in front of your home, and you have bought and paid for it, come Jan. 1, you have to shut it off," Nugent explained.

"If you refused to turn it off, the gas company serving your home would be fined $500, but the only way they could shut it off might be to turn off the gas to your entire home," the Commissioner added.

"After the federal government passed this silly law, they turned to the Railroad Commission and said, 'We've passed it, now you enforce it'. We wrote the federal bureaucrats a letter and told them to enforce it themselves," Nugent said.

Testimony indicated that a homeowner switching to electric lighting might use as much as three times the amount of energy consumed by the gaslight. It is estimated that there are over 300,000 gaslights in Texas.

Congressional hearings have found that the costs and inconveniences of enforcing the law outweighed the gas savings, a finding which Nugent says vindicates the Railroad Commission's position on the issue. Nugent made his remarks in a speech to participants at a Railroad Commission seminar in Amarillo.

Nugent Lauds Tax Bill Provisions

Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent on Aug. 13 hailed provisions of the federal tax-cut bill as "laudable recognition of the unintended plight of 600,000 Texas mineral royalty owners."

Nugent said he saw the legislation as the cumula-tion of over a year's hard work by many persons in and out of Congress to relieve the burden placed on the small mineral owner by the Windfall Profits Tax.

Under the 1980 federal tax, royalty owners were taxed at the same rate as major oil companies, while independent oil producers were taxed at a lower rate to provide an incentive for oil exploration. Many royalty owners receive less than $100 per month in royalty payments.

Nugent testified before a U.S. Senate subcommittee in July 1980 on behalf of fair and equitable treatment of mineral owners, saying "they have been caught in a net not intended for them."

Congress later approved a partial remedy, granting royalty owners a one-time $1,000 tax credit.

Under the tax reduction bill passed this week mineral owners receive a $2,500 credit against the Windfall Profits Tax in 1981.

In 1982 the tax credit is replaced by an exemption on up to two barrels of oil per day, and in 1985 the exemption is raised to three barrels a day.

HNG, American Quasar Announce Joint Venture in East Texas

HNG Fossil Fuels Co., a subsidiary of Houston Natural Gas Corporation, (HNG), and American Quasar Petroleum Co. have finalized a previously announced agreement for exclusive oil and gas exploration and production rights to approximately 200,000 net mineral acres of St. Regis Paper Co. properties in East Texas.

The two companies plan to begin exploration activities immediately and are required to spend at least $12 million for exploration in the four years of the initial contract. They have options to extend the contract an additional four years with the expenditure of additional rentals and another $12 million exploration commitment.

American Quasar will be the operator of the venture and HNG Fossil Fuels will manage the marketing of all oil and gas discovered.

In addition to rental payments, St. Regis will also be entitled to royalties on any production and to an additional share of net profits after recovery of all costs of exploration, drilling and development.

The acreage parts of 22 counties from the Louisiana border to Walker and Montgomery Counties on the west; and from Hardin County (north of Beaumont) to Cherokee County (south of Tyler). The largest block consists of 49,000 acres in Newton County.

BPBA Report

OPEC Nations Meet in Geneva

OPEC countries met in Geneva last week and were scheduled to both raise and lower prices and probably reduce production. OPEC sources predicted that Saudi Arabia would raise their price from 32 to 34 dollars a barrel if African members would lower their price to $37 a barrel. The Africans, in return, want the Saudis to reduce production. Saudi Arabia says it will talk about reducing production only when the pricing question is settled.

Refineries in Europe have recently reportedly lost 4 billion dollars during the first half of this year because of the lower demand for refined products.

Independents and majors alike continue to put their money back into the ground. The U.S. rig count is 4,116, an increase of 1,111 over a year ago. Hughes Tool Co. says there will be 77,000 wells drilled this year and is predicting a 1982 average rig count of 4,500.

And, the total number of seismic land and marine vessels reached a record 711 during July. This is a leading indicator of exploration activity. Standard Oil of California has increased its budget by one-third to 5.4 billion dollars this year.

In other news, the Environmental Protection Agency is expected to ease the rules that limit the amount of lead refiners may use to increase gasoline octane and improve the performance of older cars. This action will help small and independent refiners.

And, if you need an Oilfield Theft Hotline Bumper Sticker, call us at BPBA in Midland.

In the Permian Basin our rig count for last week was 484. One year ago it was 335.

20 New Pipeline Permits Granted

A total of 20 permits to operate new pipelines in Texas were granted by the Railroad Commission in July 1981, according to the RRC's Oil and Gas Division.

In July, nine permits were granted in deep South Texas, three each in the San Antonio and Southeast Texas, two each in the San Angelo area and East Central Texas, and one in West Central Texas.

Gathering lines include Producer's Gas Co., Midland, gas (two lines-one in Crockett County, one in Edwards County).

Community Outlook

by Don Holdridge

Among our public servants, probably no group is less appreciated than our law enforcement officials. By request, we are reprinting this column by Paul Harvey entitled "What Are Policemen Made Of?" that was reprinted in the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin.

"Don't credit me with this mongrel prose; it has many parents; at least 420,000 of them: Policemen.

"A policeman is a composite of what all men are, a mingling of saint and sinner, dust and deity.

"Culled statistics wave fan over the stinkers, underscore instances of dishonesty and brutality because they are "news". What that really means is that they are exceptional, unusual, not commonplace.

"Buried under the froth is the fact: Less than one-half of one percent of policemen misfit that uniform.

"That's a better average than you'd find among clergymen.

"What is a policeman made of? He, of all men, is at once the most needed and most unwanted.

"He's a strangely nameless creature who is "sir" to his face and "fuzz" behind his back.

"He must be such a diplomat that he can settle differences between individuals so that each will think he won.

"But...
"If the policeman is neat, he's conceited; if he's careless, he's a bum.

"If he's pleasant, he's a flirt; if he's not, he's a grouch.
"He must make in an instant decisions which would require months for a lawyer.

"But...
"If he hurries, he's careless; if he's deliberate, he's lazy.

"He must be first to an accident and infallible with a diagnosis.

"He must be able to start breathing, stop bleeding, tie splints and, above all, be sure the victim goes home without a limp.

"Or expect to be sued.
"The police officer must know every gun, draw on the run, and hit where it doesn't hurt.

"He must be able to whip two men twice his size and half his age without damaging his uniform and without being "brutal".

"If you hit him, he's a coward; if he hits you, he's a bully.

"A policeman must know everything--and not tell.
"He must know where all the sin is--and not partake.

"The policeman must, from a single human hair, be able to describe the crime, the weapon and the criminal--and tell you where the criminal is hiding.

"But...
"If he catches the criminal, he's lucky; if he doesn't, he's a dunce.

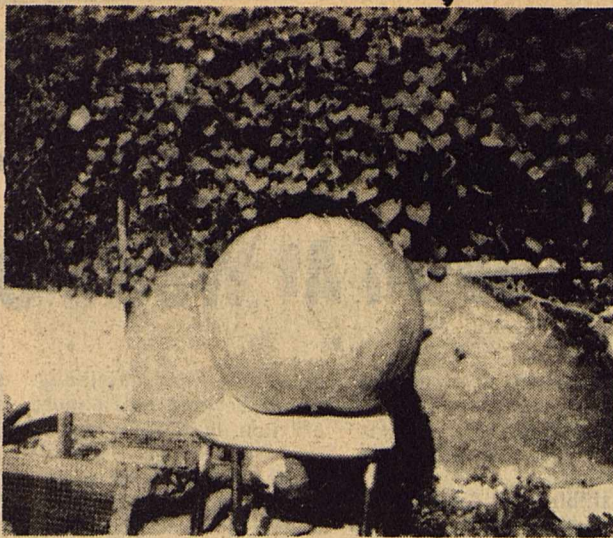

"If he gets promoted, he has political pull; if he doesn't, he's a dullard.

"The policeman must chase bum leads to a dead end, stake out 10 nights to tag one witness who saw it happen--but refuses to remember.

"He runs files and writes reports until his eyes ache to build a case against some felon who'll get dealt out by the shameless shamus or an "honorable" who isn't.

"The policeman must be a minister, a social worker, a diplomat, a tough guy and a gentleman.

"And of course he'll have to be a genius.
"For he'll have to feed a family on a policeman's salary.

Mrs. J.M. Fowlkes is apparently ready for Halloween with this giant pumpkin grown in her garden 10 miles west of Sonora. The pumpkin weighed 63 1/2 pounds and matched with her large tomatoe plants which measured over six feet high.

Colonial Sponsors National MDA Drive

August 21, 1981...Continuing its program of support for the national Muscular Dystrophy Association, Colonial Food Stores, Inc. in conjunction with the National Association of Convenience Stores, has announced the kick-off of the 1982 MDA fund-raising campaign. All proceeds from the campaign will be donated to the MDA.

Campaign efforts began this month, and will run through September 7, concluding with the MDA telethon which is televised nationwide over the Labor Day weekend.

Collection canisters have been placed in all of the convenience store chain's 119 stores located throughout Texas and central Missouri. A series of 30-second radio spots aimed at increasing community awareness of the campaign have been produced by the NACS, and are scheduled to air on key stations in communities surrounding Colonial stores as part of the program.

Colonial, along with the NACS, participated in the MDA program for the first time last year. Colonial's contribution amounted to over $35,000 and the NACS, as a whole, contributed the largest donation of any one sponsor involved in the national campaign according to company officials. In addition to supporting the Muscular Dystrophy Rehabilitation Center and program, the San Angelo-based chain participates in a number of community charitable activities and fund-raising programs, including the West Texas Rehabilitation Center and the Permian Basin Rehabilitation Center in Odessa, Texas.

(Food Booths), Hal Spain, the Sonora Volunteer Fire Department, James McLaughlin, all parade entries, other entries in activities and all participants in events and activities. Others helping were Arturo Trevino, M.L. Bonds and Bobby Doran. With so very many Sonoras helping, it is possible that some names, donations, etc. are not mentioned above.

Jones and Cooper both expressed their gratitude on behalf of the Jaycees and Chamber of Commerce and remarked that without the volunteers, Sutton County Days could not exist. A list of the slaves buyers will be printed elsewhere in this issue or in next week's issue. The proceeds of the slave auction will go into the Sutton County Library Funds.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

In making calls on ranchmen in the Southwest, Texas area for Cattleman's Round-Up for Crippled Children, I have noted the presence of a sudden drought. Perhaps it has been creeping on us for a time and I'm late in seeing the burnt grass and dry draws since I don't drive across pastures much anymore.

Usually, when West Texas range survives the typically hot July days with enough cow grass to make it until a possible September shower and cooler days, all equals out! Some of the rains I've seen will not support livestock until fall rains.

And if that is your case, Mr. or Mrs. Rancher, boy have I got a deal for you!

This month we are kicking off the 22nd annual drive of Cattleman's Round-Up for Crippled Children. With the cattle market down and foreseeing a feedbill before winter, maybe donating your livestock to be sold and turned into cash to treat crippled children is your answer. Besides, when you go this route it's tax deductible. If you think President Reagan's tax cut will help and I grant you it will, just try this CRCC thing too and see what Shelley Smith can do for you.

Again this year there will be five special sales across the country to benefit the children at West Texas Rehabilitation Center campuses in Abilene, San Angelo and Snyder. The cattle sale will debut the round-up Sept. 28 at the Abilene Auction. A special horse sale will be in Abilene Oct. 3. The third annual sheep and goat sale will be October 5 at the Junction stockyards. A livestock sale will start at 1 p.m. October 7 in Coleman and another in Brownwood Nov. 4.

All donations of $250 or more will be honored by the ranch brand being placed in the new $2 million building being constructed in San Angelo. Like the Abilene Rehab Center, facility brings the firm's total number of operating convenience stores, which are located throughout west Texas and central Missouri, to 119.

brands will be placed in tile on hallway walls. Last year CRCC sales totaled over a quarter million from livestock sales and cash donations. When stock is sold the money is converted to treatment to aid the handicapped.

WTRC is a private, non-profit diagnostic and treatment facility for the handicapped in the Southwest. Total budget for operating the centers has gone beyond $3 million annually. There are no bills sent to patients. Gifts are the bulk of WTRC income.

Since the ranching industry helped establish my background as an ag journalist and also was responsible for the growth of the Rehab Centers (and keeping the doors open). I am always pleased about asking my readers for help in this worthy cause. If you would like to donate livestock or a cash donation give me a call: 915 655-0001 or mailing address P.O. Box 1542, San Angelo, TX 76902. Make check payable to Cattleman's Round-Up.

Extension Committees To Meet This Week

Two Extension Service committees will be meeting this week to make plans for the new year.

The Extension Family Living Committee will meet Wednesday, Aug. 26 at 4:15 at the County Extension Office. This committee serves as an over-all advisory committee to the Extension Agent in Home Economics. The main focus of attention for this meeting will be in developing program plans and activities for the 1982 fiscal year.

Also meeting this week will be the Extension 4-H & Youth Committee. The Thursday, at Aug. 27, 7 p.m. meeting will also be at the County Extension office. This committee will develop local plans and committees for the 1982 year.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, or national origin.

We can't compound interest on this CD. But you can.

16.104 %

This annual yield rate on Six Month Money Market Certificate is available for $10,000 or more. Six months (26 weeks) interest paid monthly, quarterly or annually. Federal regulations limit the compounding of interest on these certificates. Rate effective from 8/1 through 8/31

Here's how: 1) Purchase a Heart O' Texas $10,000 Six Month Money Market CD 2) Ask us to automatically deposit your interest every month in a Passbook Savings Account, currently paying 5 1/2%, compounded daily.

So you're earning interest on interest. And you can count on this same interest for a full six months. Unlike Money Market Mutual Funds, your rate won't fluctuate with each day's news.

Dealing with Heart O' Texas, you also have the added security of knowing your deposits are insured for up to $100,000 by the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation.

So come see us at any of our offices. You'll find that the best place for high interest is right in your home town.
