Bond Issue Election Set March 18

The Sonora Independent School District Board of Trustees announced that there will be a Bond Issue Election set for March 18. The decision was announced in a special meeting Thursday night.

The bond has been set for 7.5 million dollars and would allow for a new elementary building, and auditorium with a production stage and other improvements in the high school building including a library.

The site for the elementary building has not been determined.

Bond consultant Pat McMillon of Kidder, Peabody, Inc. recommended the bond be set for ten years with a two year call feature.

"We have projected a tax raise of 27 cents per $100 evaluation," said Superintendent Wendall McAndrews.

In making this decision, Sam Stewart, Board President said, "The Board felt this plan would solve many problems facing Sonora schools now and in the future. The plan will address the overcrowded conditions that exist in the elementary grades now and will allow for any continued increase in enrollment over the next 10 years. The plan allows for expansion in every building level."

One Pleads Guilty To Burglary Charge

District Attorney Bill Mason said Monday that David Glenn Metcalf of Coleman, Texas pled guilty to burglary and received five years in the state penitentiary at Huntsville, Texas.

The burglary was committed about 6 p.m. on February 10 by the defendant when he entered the Sonora elementary school through an unlocked window and stole two radios, two sets of headphones with an adapter and a cassette recorder and tape. District Attorney Mason said that all the property was recovered and the arrest made by quick action on the part of the sheriff and police departments and that additional information was attained from the defendant clearing other felony offenses in McCollough County.

In response to questions by the press, Mason was unable to state anything other than the Sutton County Grand Jury is still in session.

School Board Holds Regular Monthly Meeting

The SISD Board of Trustees heard from several concerned parents concerning the lack of personnel in the basketball program at the junior high level during their regular monthly meeting Tuesday, February 9.

The citizens were concerned with the large number of participants in the basketball program and the small number of coaches. They felt that the students were not able to learn the fundamentals because of the small amount of time the coach has to spend with each player.

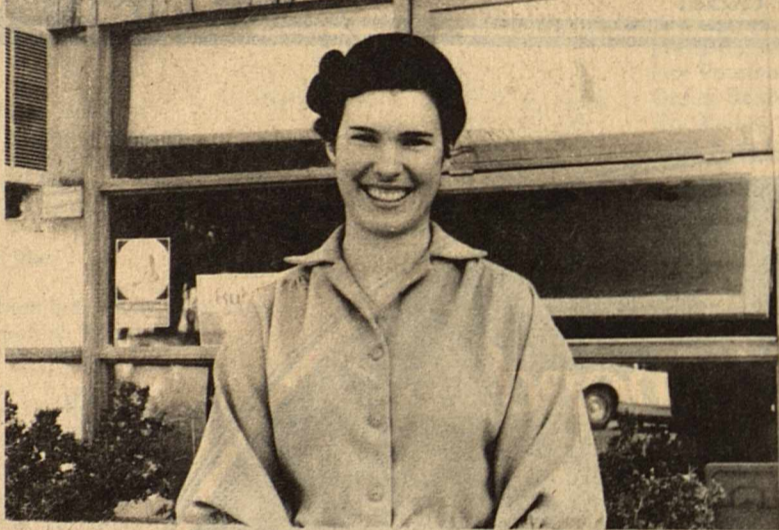

An election for Places 3 and 4 was also scheduled for April 3. The places are currently filled by Scott Shurley in Place 3 and W.L.(Bud) Whitehead in Place 4.

The board also approved a motion to purchase a time clock for $283.

The board announced that school will be held March 5, which had originally been scheduled as a Teacher Inservice Day. School will be held to make up for the days the students missed because of the gas curtailment.

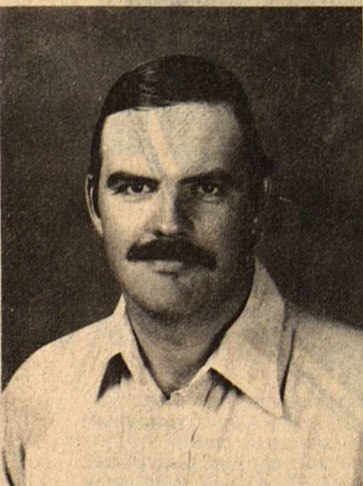

Superintendent Wendall McAndrews brought to their attention that the elementary school, grades K-5, currently had more students enrolled than in the entire school system in 1972.

Rachel Oehler, 22, has begun work as the Sutton County Extension Agent - Home Economics. Rachel is a native of Fredericksburg and a recent graduate of the University of Texas. Rachel was the president of the UT chapter of American Home Economics Association, a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, and president of the Student Christian Fellowship at UT, Church of Christ Denomination.

Scott Shurley Files For School Board Re-election

Scott Shurley

Scott Shurley, Trustee, Place 3, Sonora Independent School District announced his candidacy for re-election for a three-year term.

"I'd like to ensure," he said, "that the school will continue to be run on a professional basis."

"I'm particularly proud of the fact that during my term of office, a long range study of the future growth of the Sonora School System needs was made. Certainly it would be most satisfying to me to continue to serve the community by assisting in implementing programs to fill the needs of the children of this community in the coming years.

"The plans developed by your school board are designed to meet these growing needs. Dedicated and committed leadership will be required to see them to completion. I believe that I can provide that leadership.

"It is my intention to continue to improve the quality of the educational process continued high scores on the TABS Tests attest to our success in this area.

"We are also involved in the exciting prospect of challenging the intellect of our students through the "Gifted and Talented Program". This program is designed for students who show a high potential for higher education fields.

The education of the children of Mexican-American descent is a primary concern of mine. Our bi-lingual program meets all the standards set down by Texas Educational Agency. It is my intention to continue to emphasize this program until it is second to none in Texas.

"I feel that a trustee is elected by the people to reflect their views and to execute their purposes. With the input and advice of the people I represent, I will continue to do my best to fulfill the duties to the office. I have taken pride in serving the community in my year in office and will appreciate your continued support."

Charley Carroll assists a student Speech Meet Saturday, from San Angelo Central during the operated ADCO Water Wells, Inc. since 1975. Our oldest child, Cathy, who is in the ninth grade, has attended Sonora schools since the second grade. Our youngest child, Cindy, has attended school in Sonora all of her seven school years. I have not only an interest in their education, but the education of all of our youngsters.

I have worked with young people in many areas. My whole family is active in the 4-H Club and I was chosen their 1980 Woman of the Year for my work with the 4-H members. I was a Brownie and Girl Scout leader for four years. I have been a member of the Sonora's Woman Club for six years, serving as Auditor for two years and I am presently serving as the club's treasurer. I am also treasurer of the Sonora Woman's Club Association. I take great pride in having been active in organizing the county library for our students to use. I am an active member of St. John's Episcopal Church where I was Sunday School Superintendent for three years and President of the Women of the Church in 1981.

I have attended many board meetings this past year, and I am very interested in all aspects of our school system. Because of my business knowledge and first hand knowledge of the Sonora School System, I feel that I am very qualified to be a board member.

I would appreciate your support and vote on April 3.

Thank You

S.A. Stock Show and Rodeo Slated

The 1982 edition of the San Angelo Stock Show & Rodeo will debut here March 8 with the registered Quarter Horse Show, Halter and Performance classes.

This year's presentation will celebrate the 50th anniversary of the annual event. Back in the 1932 a handful of area ranchmen gathered to put on the first stock show at Henshaw Polo Field. Growing with success, the stock show was located at the present fairgrounds in 1934 when a rodeo and horse racing were added to the program.

Along with numerous activities commemorating the 50-year celebration, the San Angelo Stock Show & Rodeo Foundation has published a book detailing the history of West Texas' largest annual event from inception to present. The book will be on sale at the fairgrounds during the show and at the Convention Center before the event.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

This columnist arrived in the Alamo City Monday to attend and report on the 1982 edition of the stock show and rodeo.

In over 25 years of attending this annual event, I can only remember two years in which the weather was warm. One of those was the first time I attended, when Rex Allen was the star. It was so warm that year, a group of us had a picnic on the river. But most years it was so cold icicles hung around the doors in the sheep and goat barn where I spent most of my time. This is one of those kind of years.

The San Antonio Stock Show is famous for the trail rides. I mean real trail rides that organize early and are on the trails and country roads for a week or more, camping and roughing it. We complain about the cold but most of us have forgotten how really cold it can get when your in the saddle for eight hours.

This year's trails were filled with over 8,000 horsemen and horsewomen, lead by 11 trail bosses and covering 1,000 miles. All different routes, the rides started all over South and Central Texas and passed through over 100 Texas towns to finish the trail in San Antonio on the opening day of the stock show and rodeo last Friday.

Leading the 28th annual Texas Trail Ride was trail boss Ralph Gertson. The ride was from Hallettsville to San Antonio, with Sonya Weich of Weimer as queen.

In its 23rd year was the South Texas Trail Ride from Robstown on February 5 with trail boss Howard Stulting. Trail boss Ronnie Morris lead the 21st annual Six Flags of Texas Trail Ride from Victoria to San Antonio.

They came from Cuero, Laredo, Bee Cave, and the Texas Hill Country communities of Stonewall, Ban-dera, Bastrop and Kerrville.

It's quite a sight to see all these 8,000 cowboys and cowgirls arriving, their chuckwagons and other traveling wagons bringing up the rear of each outfit. The colors of their different riding club uniforms finishing off with hats, boots and chaps along with the beautiful horses, every color too, add so much to this annual event deep in the heart of Texas.

Certainly, as spectators attend the stock show and rodeo here and walk across the large fairgrounds and exhibit halls, coliseum and many livestock show barns, they realize the parade of trail riders are just another part of the overall success of the show. For example, the Southwest's largest Western Art Show is part of this annual event.

The stock show's livestock judging results and the blue and other ribbons won by thousands of youths here every year represent many months of feeding, grooming and preparation. The same goes for all the professional cowboys who ride the broncs and bucking bulls, rope the calves and ride barrels. It's a big production and one the folks of Bexar County can truly be proud of.

FMHA Bares Farm

Relief Plan

Although many farmers are facing financial difficulty because of today's cost-price squeeze, the Farmers Home Administration (FMHA) intends to do all it can to help its borrowers stay in farming, FMHA State Director J. Lynn Futch said today.

"We recognize there are problems, problems with high interest rates, inflation, a grain embargo, adverse weather and other causes," Futch said. "And these have been intensified by overall bumper crops that have affected prices."

"As Secretary of Agriculture John Block said recently, our farm economy is in a valley right now and needs some help to move on up the hill on the other side."

Futch said Block had instructed FMHA to explore the use of private credit to supplement its own lending resources whenever possible. In addition, existing legal authority to reschedule or defer payments is to be used where practicable.

"We intend to be reasonable, just as Secretary Block ordered," Futch said.

"Our objective is to keep farmers in business. That isn't to say there won't be some who go out of business, because there will be, but we are going to use the best judgement we can and reasonable criteria in making our loan decisions."

Secretary Block said that borrowers who have made good faith efforts to pay their loans, who have maintained their loan security in good condition, who follow sound, recognized management practices, and who have a reasonable chance to succeed can reasonably expect FMHA to stay with them.

"We will be working with our borrowers and with the commercial lending institutions to overcome these temporary problems," Futch said. "Agriculture is basically healthy, just as the Secretary said; there is no question about it. We just have to move out of the present situation and dig in for the long run."

At General Telephone, better service isn't just a goal, it's a solid commitment. General Telephone spent over 354 million dollars in 1981 on capital expenditure projects (i.e. new electronic switches, expanded cable projects, modernization), and GTE will spend over 410 million dollars in 1982 to provide you the best telecommunications available.

For Sonora this investment in service improvement is working as shown below. General Telephone is working hard to continually provide you with the best of service.

The Texas Public Utilities Commission (PUC) has established certain standards in public hearings, and our service results are listed against those standards.

RRC Grants 12 Pipeline Permits

Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent announced that 12 permits to operate new pipelines in Texas were granted by the RRC in December 1981.

Six of the permits were for gathering pipelines, four were for trunk transmission lines, and one was for a gas plant line. Another was for a multi-purpose line.

Gathering lines bring oil and gas from production leases, while a trunk transmission line is a large-diameter line into which smaller lines connect. At gas plants, natural gas is stripped of liquid hydrocarbons usually present in wellhead gas.

Nine of the newly-permitted pipelines will transport gas, while one will move petroleum products. Two will carry other materials.

Private pipelines accounted for 10 permits last month, while two were for gas utilities. A common carrier performs public work for hire, such as the movement of petroleum products.

In December, three permits were granted in East Texas, two each in the San Angelo area, West Central Texas and North Texas, and one each in Southeast Texas, East Central Texas and the Midland area.

Gathering lines approved:

Seatec Energy Pipeline Co., Graham, gas Young County; Weneeda Gas Gathering System, Addison, gas, Brown and Coleman counties; Cordova Resources Inc., Dallas, gas, Eastland County; Corpus Christi Oil and Gas Co., Corpus Christi, gas, Matagorda

County; Amerada Hess Corp., Midland, crude and condensates, Midland County; Pecos Gathering System, Inc., Houston, gas, Terrell County.

Trunk transmission lines approve:

American Pipeline Co., Houston, gas, Rusk County; Panola Pipe Line Co., Houston, other materials,

Angelina, Nacogdoches, Panola, Rusk, and Shelby counties; Campeon Pipeline Corp., Dallas, gas, Freestone County; Crystal Pipeline Co., Henderson, petroleum products, Gregg and Rusk counties.

Gas plant lines approved: Warren Petroleum Co., Tulsa, gas, Grayson County.

Multi-purpose lines approved: Texas Intra-Mark

Gas Co., Inc., Midland, gas, Crockett County.

Gas Consumers Need Quick Total Decontrol

By Avery Rush, Jr., Chairman,

Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association

Texas is this country's leading producer of natural gas, with marketed production in the first eight months of 1981 of 4.7-trillion cubic feet. For years it was the leading natural gas producing state. After falling behind Louisiana in 1977-79, it has regained the top spot.

What may be less well known, even to Texas residents, is that our state is the largest consumer of the fuel. No other state's residents are as dependent on natural gas as a source of employment and for use as a heating fuel. Statewide consumption in 1979 of 4-trillion cubic feet meant that Texas used 212.6-billion cubic feet more—5.6-percent more—than the combined usage by the next two largest consuming states, Louisiana and California.

It is our use of natural gas that gives Texas and its residents such a big stake in the current effort to bring about decontrol. If changes are not made in those portions of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 dealing with pricing regulations, Texans could find themselves without natural gas while residents of nonproducing states have abundant supplies.

Texans suffer under two effects of existing price controls: (1) While drilling for uncontrolled crude oil is up dramatically, drilling for new natural gas supplies is declining or, at best, remaining level, and (2) existing supplies are being diverted from the producing states' intrastate markets into the interstate market.

This diversion of natural gas is occurring because the NGPA has placed producing states at a disadvantage in competing for their own gas with nonproducing states. Interstate pipelines presently are outbidding intrastate carriers because of the supply of cheap, price-controlled natural gas that the interstate pipelines acquired on long-term contracts before the NGPA became law on Dec. 1, 1978.

Intrastate pipelines do not have a supply of cheap gas since the intrastate market was unregulated until late 1978. Prior to that time, the cost of natural gas in the producing states had risen to reflect more realistically the costs of exploration and production.

This problem could become even more serious for Texans after 1984. On Jan. 1, 1985, under the NGPA, federal price controls will be lifted on the interstate market. But, controls will be left in place on most interstate gas. Then the bidding war could intensify, with producing states continuing to lose supplies. What is needed to remedy this situation is the accelerated, total decontrol of all natural gas.

Four more gas-producing formations in Texas have been recommended by the Railroad Commission to be designated tight formations by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

FERC has also approved three formations previously recommended for tight formations designation by the RRC.

Under provisions of the federal Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978, gas produced from FERC-designated tight gas snads can be sold at a price that is twice the going rate for production from new onshore wells. The tight gas designation was intended to provide an incentive to explore for and develop gas from formations that are difficult to produce.

Although determination of a tight formation must be made by the FERC, an appropriate state agency—in Texas, the Railroad Commission—must recommend such action to the FERC.

Tight Formation Classification Recommended to FERC

The most recent FERC-approved tight formations are the Travis Peak addition (Bear Grass Area) of Freestone and Leon counties; the Wilcox formation in the Aviators, N. (12,000) Field area of Webb County, and the Frio formation in Wilacy County. To date, FERC has approved 13 Texas tight formations.

In past months, the Railroad Commission has recommended that these also be designated tight formations: the Edwards formation in Fayette County; the Cleveland formation in Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Hansford, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, and Wheeler counties; the Georgetown formation in Brazos, Washington, and Burleson counties; and the Monte Christo Vicksburg 9000 formation in Hidalgo County. Another 12 formations, previously recommended by the RRC, are awaiting FERC approval as tight formations.

January Petro

Discoveries Announced

Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent announced that Texas operators reported 121 gas and 43 oil discoveries in January 1982.

One year ago, 65 gas and 64 oil discoveries were filed with the state's energy regulatory agency.

Gas discoveries in the first month of the year included 43 in deep South Texas, 28 in Southeast Texas, 18 in the Refugio area, 15 in West Central Texas, four each in East Texas and the San Antonio area, three in East Central Texas, two each in North Texas and the Midland area, and one each in the Panhandle and the Lubbock area. Oil discoveries included 11 in Southeast Texas, 10 in the San Angelo area, six in North Texas, four in the San Antonio area, three each in deep South Texas and the Lubbock area, two in the Midland area, and one each in East Central Texas, East Texas, the Panhandle, and the Refugio area.

In January, operators reported 562 exploratory and field tests wound up as dry holes. New applications for permits to drill oil and gas tests totaled 2,862 in January compared with 3,028 in the same period of 1981.

Applications to drill, deepen, plug back and for service wells in January amounted to 3,099 against 3,271 a year earlier.

Operators filed 791 amended applications to drill. A year earlier they submitted 741 amended requests.

November Crude Output Down

Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent announced that Texas crude oil production totaled 70,468,309 barrels in November.

The figure compares with reported October 1981 production totaling 75,146,653 barrels in November 1980 production of 74,984,413 barrels.

Texas oil production averaged 2,348,944 barrels daily in November 1981 down from 2,424,086 barrels daily in October 1981 and down from 2,499,480 barrels daily in November 1980.

The November 1981 allowable totaled 92,471,577 barrels.

The preliminary November summary indicated Texas oil production was 23.79 percent under the allowable for the month.

Princess Caradja Speaks In Sonora

Princess Catherine Caradja emphasized the freedoms and high standards of living that people in the United States enjoy in speeches to High School, Junior High, Lions Club and members of the community of February 9.

Princess Caradja was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Norm Rousselot during her stay in Sonora.

Princess Caradja lives in Kansas City and has been speaking across the U.S. for the past 20 years on freedom in our country and the dangers there are to it.

She was born in Romania in January 1893 and was left in an orphanage in England at the age of three. She escaped to Romania in 1908 and lived with her mother's family. She married Prince Caradja in 1914 and fled the country when the Germans took over in 1914 during World War I.

She ran an orphanage and foster home that her mother had founded until she received permission in 1955 to come to the U.S. Since that time, she has spoken in all of the 50 states and Canada on the importance of freedom.

Caradja stated that we enjoy a standard of living that other countries don't have and that we should protect what we have, emphasized that what had happened to her country of Romania could happen in any country.

"She said that the Russians had stated their intention to take over the U.S. several years ago and if they did, we would lose all our high standards and our freedom."

She said that one way that they Communists could take over without ever firing a shot would be through inflation.

She referred to Russia as a bully and said that if we were strong. The bully wouldn't hurt us, but that we had to be strong and stand up to it.

She mentioned communism as a political party, but said that it didn't represent the people. It was not the people we had to fear, but the party itself.

Boys BB Lose To Ballinger In Final Game

The Boys Varsity Basketball Team ended their season with a loss to Ballinger as they were defeated 66-39. Armando Martinez had eight points, Anderson-3, John Blankenship-11, Allen Stewart-8, Joey Samaniego-4 and Espy Whitehead-5.

The season record for the team was 12 wins and 13 losses. "The season was disappointing in that we didn't meet the goals we had set due to the numerous injuries and sickness we had during the season," Coach Virgil Burge said.

Junior High Girls Wrap Up Season

The Junior High Girls Basketball teams wrapped up their seasons Saturday at a tournament in Ozona.

The seventh grade girls ended with a losing season, but according to Coach Kathy Howe, showed much improvement.

We started out the season averaging about six or seven points per game and ended the season averaging 12 or 14 points per game.

points per game.

We had 38 girls participating in basketball and we were competing against girls who had started playing basketball in the third fourth and fifth grade.

I think track will help in the coordination and we have been working on agility drills. After track season, we will start an off-season program to prepare for next year. I also encourage all the girls to go to basketball camp this summer.

"We have been working on nothing but basketball in the sixth grade P.E. classes in preparation for next year's season," Coach Howe said.

The eighth grade girls had 40 girls participating in the program and won ap proximately one-third of their games this season.

"I have been told that the 8th grade girls have really improved this year. These girls never quit and always gave 100 percent in all of their games. They are a really strong group. I had 10 girls that I could substitute in all the games and never get behind," Howe said.

7th Grade Boys End Season

The seventh grade boys in the program this year ended their 2-win 12-loss season, although Coach Dempsey said there really had shown a lot of improvement during the year. "We really should have a good season next year if they continue to improve like they did this year," Dempsey said.

Thirty boys participated

TOM LOEFFLER
Congressman
21st District-Texas

Reports from Washington

Economic Program: On Target

During the recent congressional recess, I had the opportunity to travel and visit extensively with a broad range of people all across the 21st Congressional District. I found strong support for President Reagan and a sincere belief in the program for economic recovery. We have charted a course to correct our troubled economy and regain our prosperity. Given the time to work, it will.

A recent Sunday edition of The Washington Post confirmed what people at home have been telling me all along. A story by syndicated columnist David Broder on the continued popularity of the Reagan economic program in the Midwest said the President's bipartisan program "is still playing in Peoria." National polling data collected recently also confirms what we already know in the 21st District and throughout our region.

When asked to name the most important problem facing the country today, seven out of every 10 Americans gave a response relating to the economy. This result was nearly identical to a year ago when 67 percent cited some economic issues as the country's number one problem.

The poll was conducted at random among 1,500 people across America.

While concern about inflation and high interest rates are major issues, concern over unemployment has risen sharply. In January 1981, only 4 percent of the public listed unemployment as the number one problem; now, 17 percent consider dealing with this issue to be the national priority.

The findings also showed that while the public continues to be concerned about the economy, of more importance is the public perception of what the Reagan Administration is attempting to do about it.

Last January, prior to the inauguration of Ronald Reagan, only 26 percent of the people felt that things in this country were going in the right direction. Now, a year later that figure has nearly doubled. Generally speaking, 50 percent of the people said things were going in the right direction while 45 percent said the administration was on the wrong track. Just a year ago, 61 percent of those questioned were pessimistic about the country's economic direction.

On the issue of the economy in particular, nearly six out of every 10 Americans presently feel the program for economic recovery will help, not hurt, the national economy. This figure has remained high despite media reports of increased dissatisfaction with the program.

It is logical to ask, "If there is faith in the current economic program, why does the public continue to worry about the economic issues?" The figures show that two major reasons account for this.

First, the public does not feel that President Reagan's whole package has been enacted. Only 37 percent say the President has gotten "almost all" of his program passed, while nearly 60 percent feel only half or less of the program has been passed.

The second major factor is the amount of time the public was willing to let pass before making judgments about the effect of the program. Two-thirds of the public was willing to give the economic program a year or more before they anticipated seeing its effects.

In the meantime, the President remains highly popular. On specific characteristics — such as being effective, trustworthy and a strong leader — his ratings remain high. Over two-thirds of the public considers these to be "excellent" or "good" descriptions of the President.

In the 21st District we learned long ago that good things don't come easy. No one ever promised us we could reverse a half century of runaway government spending quickly. We have lived far too long with an artificial perception of good times and easy money that just wasn't there. We're having to pay for that now. But I firmly believe that given the time to work we will soon see the beginnings of a new period of economic health and prosperity.

Carr Scholarships

Now Available At ASU

Applications from high school seniors are being accepted by Angelo State University for more than 300 Carr Academic Scholarships which may amount from $2,400 to $12,000 during a four-year course of undergraduate study for students with financial need who have outstanding academic ability and leadership qualities.

The applications for 1982-83 scholarships may be requested by writing to the Carr Academic Scholarship Program, Office of the President, Angelo State University, Box 11007-C, ASU Station, San Angelo, Texas 76909, or by Telephoning (915) 942-2103.

Students are encouraged to submit their applications as soon as possible although applications from outstanding students may be considered up until July 1, 1982 to the extent funds are still available.

Supported by a multi-million dollar trust established in 1978 by Mr. Robert G. Carr of San Angelo, the scholarships will range in value from $600-$3,000 per year for a maximum of four years for undergraduates, two years for graduate students.

Energy Efficiency Workshop Slated

Homebuilders, realtors, developers and others involved in residential sales and construction are being invited to attend a free one-day workshop on home energy efficiency February 25 in San Angelo.

The workshop will be held in the St. Angelus Room of Central National Bank Building. It is being sponsored by West Texas Utilities Company, the City of San Angelo, the City of Sonora, and the City of Brady, but is open to everyone.

The program is titled "Building the Energy Efficient Home in Texas," and will be conducted by experts in energy conservation techniques and practices. The program is endorsed by the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council in Austin.

William H. Baxter, manager of Customer Technical Services for West Texas Utilities Company, Abilene, said the workshop will provide up-to-date information and materials on such things as marketing the energy efficient home, building codes, orientation and design, heat flow, insulation, infiltration controls, mechanical systems, and appliances.

The program will begin at 8 a.m. and close at 4:30, with a dutch lunch at noon. There will be no registration fee.

Baxter said those especially invited to attend include builders, developers, designers, contractors, suppliers, realtors, appraisers, and building inspectors. No advance registration is necessary, but brochures are available at West Texas Utilities Company local offices.

SS Retirement Benefits Need Early Filing

People who are planning to retire early next year should start thinking about filing for their social security benefits now, according to Frank Upp, District Manager of the San Angelo Social Security Office.

Social Security rules allow an individual to file an application for retirement benefits up to four months before the month they will retire or reach retirement age. This will allow the people at Social Security ample time to process your application so that you will receive your first check shortly after your retirement.

Here are some important reminders for workers who will be filing for Social Security in the near future: First, gather together the information or evidence you will need to support your claim. This includes your Social Security card or a record of the number; evidence of your birthdate recorded early in your life, preferably a birth or baptism certificate recorded before your fifth birthday; W-2 form (or if self-employed, your income tax return) for last year and an estimate of your earnings for this year if you file before the end of the year.

If you have a spouse or child who will qualify for benefits on your Social Security account similar evidence such as their Social Security Number and evidence of date of birth must also be furnished.

Don't forget you can conduct most all the Social Security business over the telephone. This includes the filing of your application for benefits. The phone number is listed in your telephone directory under Social Security Administration. Remember by applying several months in advance you can assure that your retirement checks will start as soon as you stop working and you won't be without an income.

Fireman's Auxiliary Hold Meeting

The Sonora Firemen's Auxiliary had ten members and one guest present for their February meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 9. The January meeting had been postponed because of the severe cold, so everyone enjoyed hostess Betty Smart's Valentine theme supper and a game of yahrtzee after a good business meeting.

Those present were Donna Keese, Linda Odom, Jean Humphreys, Trevlin Lutrell, Betty Smart, Melissa Teaff, Cookie Heffernan, Nona Olinick, Frances West, Rhonda Blackman and guest Marilyn Adkins. Prizes were won by Marilyn for low, Rhonda, high, and Melissa, most Yahrtzee.

Energy Saving tips on Electric Heating.

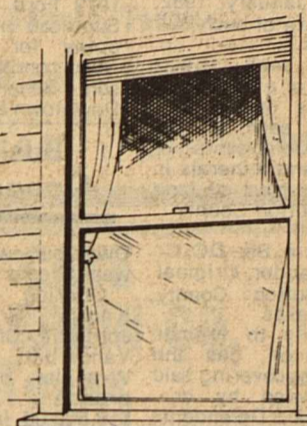

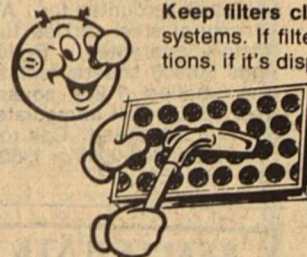

Check your thermostat setting. Recommended temperature setting for winter heating is 68°. Remember, the lower you set the thermostat in the winter the lower your energy cost.

Have your heating system checked regularly! Proper servicing is good preventive maintenance.

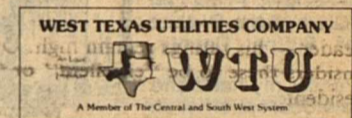

Keep filters clean. Check the filter every 30 days on forced-air systems. If filter is permanent, clean it by manufacturer's directions, if it's disposable, replace when dirty.

Use the warmth of the sunshine! On sunny days open the drapes. The sun shining through the glass will supply additional heat at no cost.

Have your home properly insulated! Adequate home insulation keeps the warmth in, cuts energy use... can pay for itself by lowering heating (and cooling) costs.

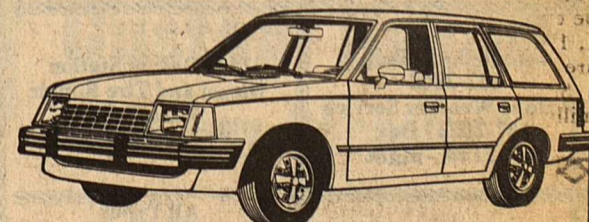

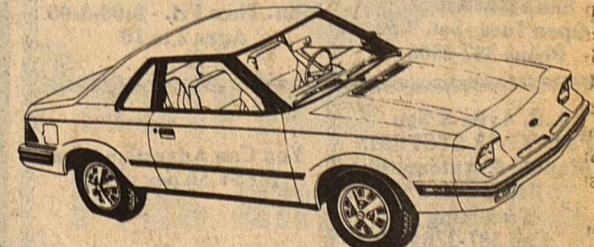

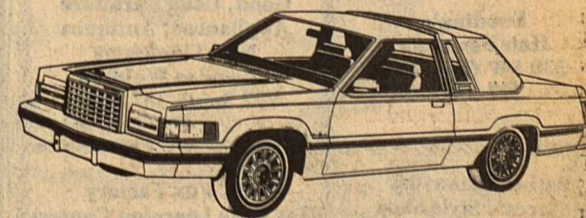

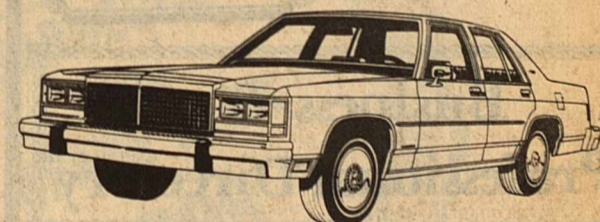

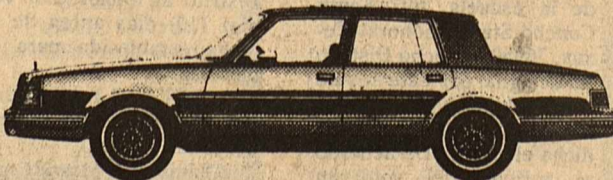

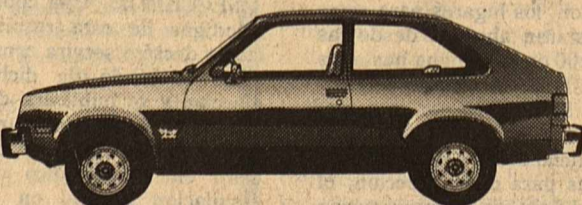

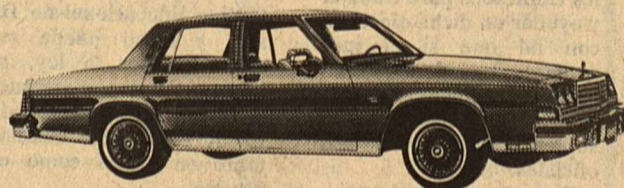

Remember, Reddy Supplies the Energy, only you can use it wisely!

Youth For Understanding Great Experience for Kids

What is it like to live in a different culture? Ask any of the over 2,000 American high school students who will live overseas this year under programs sponsored by Youth For Understanding (YFU). So far the verdict seems unanimous: "It's the most exciting experience of my life." "Terrific!" "It's a real challenge, but I wouldn't trade it for anything."

The young people, selected from communities across the United States, are living with families in Europe, Asia, and Latin America - a total of 24 different nations. Almost 1,500 student enroll in YFU's Summer Program and over 500 in the challenging year experience. Although it may be the chance of a lifetime for many of them, the experience abroad is scarcely a vacation. Students attend regular classes at school, participate actively in community and family life, and make the difficult effort required to learn a new language.

"Total immersion in another culture is hard work," commented YFU Vice President, Susan Greene, "but it pays off in increased self-awareness, maturity, independence, and intimate knowledge of another part of our world." To ease the transition, YFU matches student with volunteer "host" families, makes all the travel arrangements, places students in schools, and furnishes constant support through its worldwide network of staff members, volunteers, and educational programs.

"We're aware that students are apt to feel homesick and isolated at first," said Stig Olsson, YFU's Director of Program Services. "That's why careful preparation is so important beforehand." A planned series of orientation workshops helps the students begin adjusting to their new way of life before they leave the U.S. and after their arrival overseas. Both the eight-week summer and full-year programs are available to students between the ages of 14 and 18. Program fees range from $1750 to $2350 for the Summer and $3550 to $4550 for the Year Program. Although limited scholarship assistance is offered, the program fees do cover travel and all other major program costs except personal and incidental expenses. Host families overseas provide room and board voluntarily.

YFU encourages students to inquire about its overseas programs soon before available country spaces become committed. "This is an ideal time to find out what we have to offer and begin planning for next summer or fall," Greene pointed out. Interested students can get information by calling the YFU toll-free number: 800-424-3691 on weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. EST or by writing to YFU International Headquarters, 3501 Newark Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20016.

The non-profit organization, celebrating its thirtieth year, was founded in 1951 to promote international understanding. Family living is the emphasis of its exchange programs and the organization places approximately 5,000 international students with American host families each year. "Home-stay enables both students and families to increase their respect for other people and other cultures," Greene remarked. "The personal relationships that result of ten last throughout life." Meanwhile, are the kids, all right? It sure sounds it. As one young man put it, "My family is the neatest thing about my whole experience. I have to congratulate YFU for the fantastic job they did in matching me with my family."
