

Petty thief arrested attempted forgery thwarted

Another Sonora business has experienced an act of petty theft in the last week.

At approximately 5:40 p.m. on September 28th, Sgt. Bill Ware and Patrolman Woodie Howell were dispatched to the Perry's Department Store in reference to an altered travelers check.

Upon arrival, store manager Wally Padgett reported to the officers that a black male, 5 foot 11 inches, slim build, wearing a brown shirt and brown pants had attempted to pay store clerk Cheryl McClure for $8 in merchandise with a Citicorp travelers in the amount of $100. Cheryl showed the check to Mr. Padgett for approval and he noticed that the signature at the top of the check had been written over with a felt tipped pen and he disapproved the check.

The customer took the check back and left the store.

Mr. Padgett was going next door to Tim's Liquor Store and he saw the same black male board the bus parked at the parking lot across the street.

Sgt. Ware and Officer Howell went to the bus station and found the man on an eastbound bus and he was asked to step off the bus to talk to the officers. He was later identified as Tommie Lee Harris, 29, who also used the alias James Fredrick Wright.

While walking from the bus station, Tommie asked the officers if this questioning was about the travelers check and Sgt. Ware said it was and asked for identification.

Harris produced a California I.D. card and a social security card and said there was nothing wrong with the checks and that he had more.

Sgt. Ware asked to see them and Harris handed over a black plastic folder containing five Citicorp travelers checks all in $100 denominations.

One check was signed in both places and the top signature had been signed over with what appeared to be a felt tipped pen. Harris said it was the check he had signed at Perry's to cash but they refused it.

Four other checks had the name Tommie Lee Harris superimposed over another signature at the top of the check. The signature was that of Gaetano D'Alessio of Brooklyn, New York.

Tommie Lee Harris was placed into custody for attempting to pass a forged writing.

At 11 a.m. on September 29th,

Sgt. Bill Ware was contacted by Tom Farrell, an investigator for Citicorp, who reported that the checks taken from Harris were stolen on September 24th at about 8:30 p.m. in Los Angeles, California from Mr. D'Alessio.

Perry's store manager Wally Padgett had strong feelings after the incident:

"Passengers come off buses looking to take something without paying for it-I'd say only one out of ten are willing to pay for an item when they come in my store.

"I'm worried with the way things are going that we are going to have a cash robbery and somebody's going to get hurt. We've always had a shoplifting problem but since the buses have been stopping the trouble has tripled.

"It's an understatement to say that I don't like the buses stopping across from my store."

Other arrests by the Sonora Police Department include:
9/29, Clarence W. Wright for public intoxication at the Dairy Queen.

9/29, Marcel Trembley, age 23, and Michael Traczyk, age 18, were arrested for theft over $5 from the Shell Station.

Question of the week: Are you looking forward to the hunting season?

Robin McAnally

"Hey, I love to get out and hunt deer and turkey, take along my wife and kids, love everything about it and I have a place or two to go but I can't hunt as much as I want because leases are hard to come by. The large number of hunters coming here is fine but it affects prices for the locals. I've been hunting here nine years and don't know anyone gettin hurt."

Rita Favila

Oh yes, its because I got a job in a grocery store and we get a lot new customers coming in during the hunting season and when we're really busy it makes my boss happy and then all the employees are happy, too. I don't mind all the hunters coming at once to Sonora because they are mostly friendly. My husband hunts for sport and we both like the meat."

Santos Hernandez

"Lots of people come into town from everywhere and I look forward to that because it means more business for the city. I hunt, but only once a while because it is so expensive-about $100 whether you kill one or don't. We got friends that come here to hunt and if they kill a deer, sometimes they give me a piece which helps out on my grocery bills."

Martha Petty

Yes and no. I don't hunt personally but I like to eat what my husband gets and boy does it help the food bill-deer meat is about the best tasting. Out-of-towners bring fresh business to the restaurants, cafes, and motels but the land out where we live 15 miles out on the old Ozona Highway is mostly leased and there's a lot of hunter traffic at all hours, all the time."

Ricky Munns

"For me, hunting is fun and a chance to get away from town and the heat of the job and out into the freedom of the wild and have something interesting to do, and it benefits my food bill too. I get my whitetail with a Reuger-270 and the hunters comin' in don't bother me-I've hunted with some come all the way in from Louisiana, Dallas, and Fort Worth-do it for sport."

Family builds house... ...and now they live in it!

by Eddie Vallejo

When most people talk about building a house, they mean having one built by a contractor. Phillip Pohl, science teacher, means actually building the house with the help of the family-wife Nancy, a fifth grade teacher; son Brad, a sixth grader; and daughters Marsha, a Sophomore and Debbie, a junior.

The project took about five months and was completed before school started.

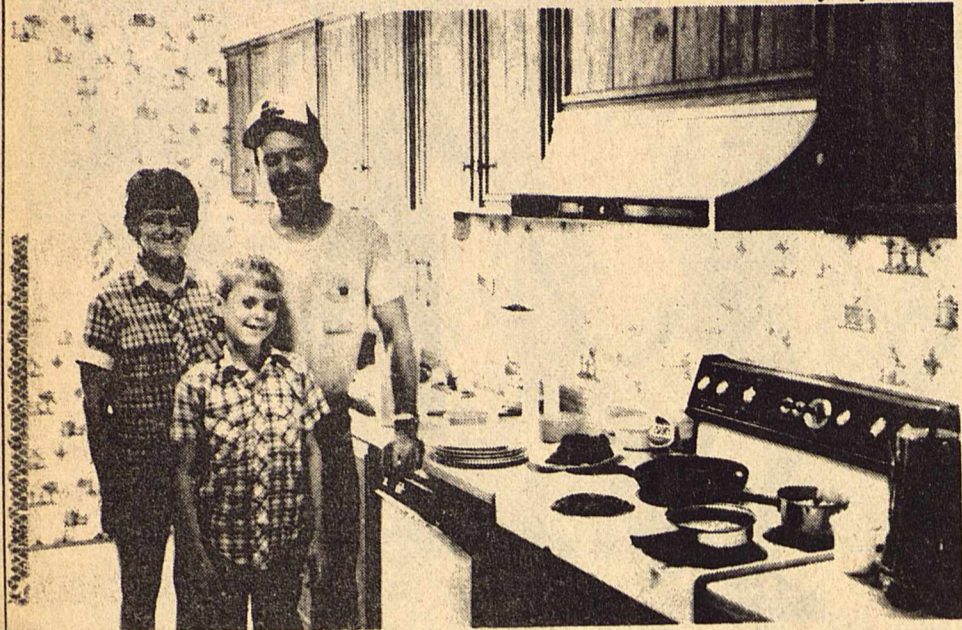

The three bedroom, two bath brick house includes a woodburning stove, a shop, and a new type water heater which fits inside the wall. The Pohls have built two other houses, one in Uvalde and one in Mason.

Besides saving about 35 percent of the cost of the house, the family enjoyed working together. Debbie, a junior said, "I enjoy working with my family. We get the ball rolling." Marsha, a sophomore, said it was fun. "I think everybody should learn to work with their family."

Neither of the girls mind getting up early to work on the house. As Debbie said, "It was getting me a place to live." Marsha said no one had to tell them to get up. "We all wanted a house and all got up and worked for it."

"It was a lot of hard work, but it was worth it," said Mr. Pohl. "I wouldn't have been able to do it with out my family. I couldn't have done it by myself."

HOUSEBUILDERS-Phillip Pohl stands in personally designed custom kitchen with wife Nancy, a fifth-grade teacher, and their son Brad. The kitchen features plywood cabinets framed with solid oak - all natural coloring, no staining. The house has European-type water heaters that shut off when not in use and are 50 percent more efficient than tank-type water heaters. The house is located at the end of Deerwood Drive.

On leave

Seabee Johnny Reyna is home on leave after being away for 14 months. He is stationed over-seas at Subic Bay in the Philippines.

Also joining him here in Sonora is his brother Cpl. David Reyna who is stationed in El Toro, California. They are visiting their mother and family and their grandparents who are both sick in the hospital.

Both are sons of Frances Reyna and the late Frank Reyna Jr.

Business

The Town and Country Food Store going up at 805 N. Crockett has a projected opening date of November 15th according to construction superintendent Keith Fausnacht of San Angelo.

The new business is a convenience store that should be open 24 hour with self-service gas islands and a delly serving chicken, burritos, etc.

Plans are to employ as many local people as possible once the store opens.

Letters to the editor

Dear Editor

I understand that the Texas State Teachers Association oppose Governor Clements. This is hard to understand. When he took office the average teacher salary was about $13,000 per year, now it is over $19,000 per year. This is an increase of over 45 percent, the largest in ten years.

I also know that the TSTA oppose Governor Clements because he is opposed to unionization of Texas teachers. Such unionization could lead to strikes. Striking teachers are not a part of what Texas is all about, and I applaud the Governor for hanging tough. It would seem that many teachers feel the same way, because TSTA is losing, not gaining membership. To a very degree, Texas has been and remains, the shining light of the american economy because of our belief in a person's right to work without being forced to join a union, pay their dues, and suffer their strikes. If we ever lose this, we will also lose our strength and much of our freedom.

Sincerely,
Larry Finklea

Dear Editor

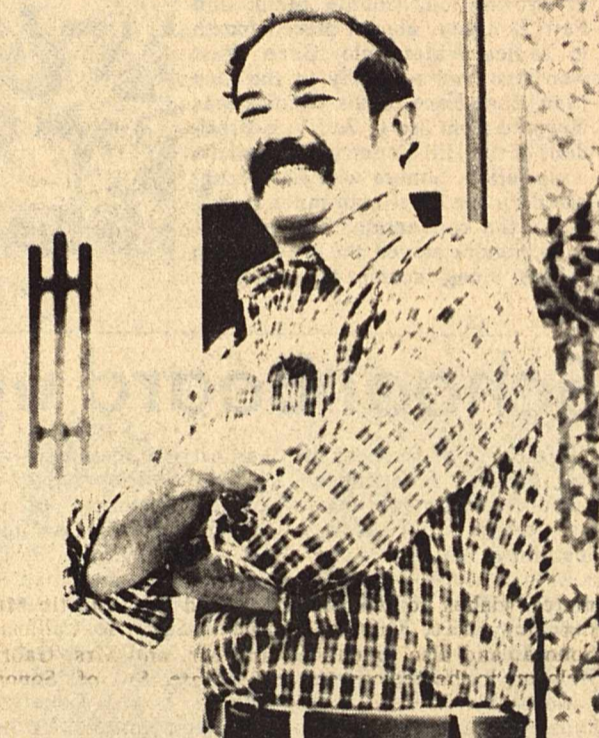

You previously received a letter from my office regarding the statewide voter registration drive proclaimed by Governor Clements for the November 2, 1982 General Election covering the period of August 11, 1982 through October 3, 1982.

Since October 3, 1982 is the last day to register to vote for the November 2, 1982 General Election, I wanted to take this opportunity to encourage you to remind your readers that they have until that time to register to vote if they have not already done so.

Again, your full cooperation and assistance in this endeavor is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
David A. Dean
Secretary of State

Morning agenda for 95 year old Belle Steen:

Get up and make breakfast, get ride with Hazel McClelland and friends to new business in town having open house, leave for funeral of longtime local ranchers, go back to open house just in time to be in ribbon cutting photo for local newspaper, visit with Edith James at Chamber of Commerce and reminisce about life years ago Sutton County, visit several stores on and near Main Street just to drop in, have a cup of coffee, and say hi.

There is not enough room to tell you about what Belle did in the afternoon.

A younger person observing this active senior citizen and hoping to discover the secret to living a long life would conclude that a high level of daily activity is to one's benefit.

But when questioned, Belle will only say, "I don't know why I've lived so long and I don't think about it. 'I've been healthy all my life with little spells every once in a while - but I just go to the hospital and get over it.'"

Then Belle starts talking about her past.

"My father died when he was 75 and my mother died when she was in her 80's. It was pneumonia that did it to both of them - we had so much of that back in Alabama and didn't have nothing to treat it with."

She was born Belle Crawford in the small town of Forest Home, Alabama not far from the bigger town of Greenville in the south-central part of the state.

She married Robert Steen in Alabama and for a long time he was a farmer and she was a farmer's wife keeping house but then Robert contracted typhoid fever and it left him with a cough and possible TB and a local doctor in Alabama told Robert and Belle they should move to a high and dry climate.

So in about 1916 Robert and Belle Steen came to Sutton County and a new way of life.

Belle said, "Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana are such pretty states with big green trees and I thought the rest of the world oughta look just like it."

"But when I came out here - boy, oh boy, - it was during a drouth and there wasn't nothing and I thought we'd just starve to death. It turned out that I ended up getting fat on frijole beans, which we didn't have back in Alabama, and cornbread."

All of Belle's kinfolk still live back in Butler County, Alabama. It's the same county that country singer Hank Williams was born in.

Belle went on, "That Alabama doctor said to get out to Texas and get on one of those ranches and we came to Sutton County in 19 and 16 because we knew the dentist who covered Eldorado, Sonora, and Ozona back then and he got work on the Davis Ranch first and after that we went to the Basil Halbert Ranch. "Then Bob got sick and Dr. Wardlaw told him to get off ranching and stay off and Dr. Wardlaw offered him a job at the drugstore and Bob said that if he could go from farming in Alabama to ranching in Texas he didn't see why he couldn't go from cattle and sheep to being a druggist."

"I was keepin' house but finally Bob got me down there in the drugstore working as a cashier and I stayed with it over 50 years."

She remembers the first train pulling into Sonora on July 1st, 1930 and how everybody in town turned out. All the town dogs and some men on horseback ran out to meet the train when it first came into sight and many of them came near getting run over by the locomotive.

Belle added, "When the train started coming every day it sure made a difference - no longer were we so far away from everybody, so isolated. It made us closer to the rest of the world."

"Quite a few people from Sonora rode the train and sometimes they'd take a bunch of kids to Eldorado or on up to San Angelo. I never did ride the train although I kept thinking I would."

"The train hauled the cattle out but eventually trucks went to the ranches to pick the cattle up - it sure was a sad day when the train stopped comin'."

Belle concluded, "I wished I'd kept a diary, so many things have happened and I don't remember what date or what year."

A written diary could never be as interesting as listening to the lady with the straw hat and the brown cane.

Seeing Red

by Elizabeth Allen

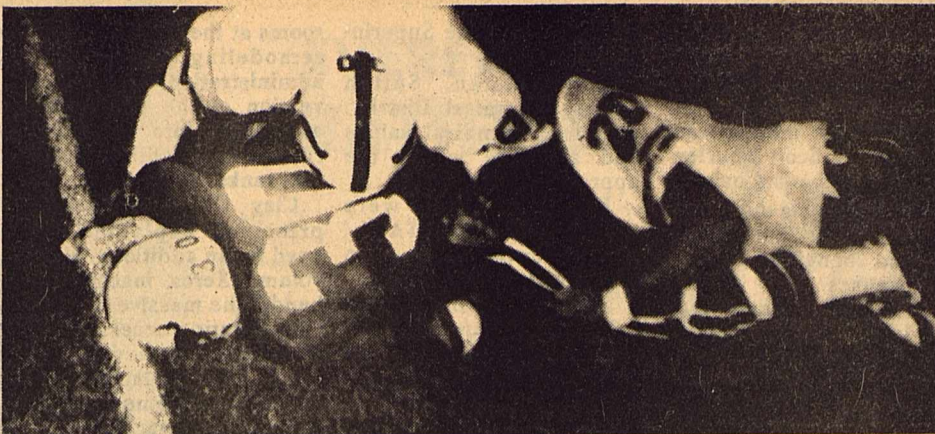

Congratulations on the fine games played by the Varsity and J.V. teams last Thursday and Friday night, and the excellent job Mr. Forrester Halameck and Mr. John Gibson are doing with the band. Doing fine, Red!

Thursday, October 7, the Sonora J.V. plays Eldorado in Eldorado at 8 p.m. "Eldorado will bow to our fantastic playing ability." This is the only printable opinion of Basil Freeman concerning this Thursday's game. Well, Basil, I think we agree.

On Friday, October 8, the Sonora Broncos will meet Crane on Crane's home turf at 7:30 p.m., in the first District 6-AAA game. School will dismiss at 2:30 (Yea!) with extremely short periods, (Double yea!) with buses to run shortly thereafter.

Tickets for Dracula are now on sale. Be sure and buy one from any Speech or Drama student for a definitely interesting Halloween!

CALF CALL-Bronco tackle Rodney Jones verbally encourages teammate Timmy "Calf" Doan to strike somebody with 25 seconds left in the fourth quarter and the game in the bag.

SO CLOSE-Halfback David Buitron carried the ball and two Mason Punchers down to the foot line on a sprint left with 1:46 to go in the first quarter.

Don Wootan, Sutton County Appraisal District, explained appraisal values and activities within the appraisal district.

Board members were reminded of the TASA/TASB Convention in San Antonio October 2-4.

Setting football ticket prices for Junior High and JV games for the 1983 season was tabled at this time until more consideration could be given the matter.

The board agreed that school personnel should be admitted free to all home junior high and JV football and basketball games to encourage their help in supervising student attending the games.

The board authorized signing of the District's Preliminary Application for Foundation Funds by the board president and secretary.

Principals reported on activities at their buildings and gave the following enrollment figures: High School at 308, Junior High at 344, Middle School at 335, and Elementary at 387 for a total of 1374.

The board approved holding the annual Halloween carnival downtown on Saturday, October 30 and instructed the high school principal to contact the downtown merchants to see if this was agreeable.

Scott Shurley moved to approve the district's contract with Region XV to receive regional media services for the 1982-83 school year. Motion was seconded by Carl Teaff and carried unanimously.

Board members reviewed copies of a letter received from the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad regarding disposition of the old depot and surrounding lots. The lots and depot were donated to the City for community use. Board members were in favor of school representatives attending the next City Council meeting to see what the City had in mind concerning the lots.

The superintendent gave building and maintenance reports on work being done or considered in the district including: replacing lights and wiring at the stadium, fans in the new gym, building carpports and storerooms at the new duplexes, remodeling the central administration office, conversion of the elementary auditorium into a gymnasium, and installation of new fuel tanks.

Clay Cade, elementary principal, explained the need for an additional high-volume Xerox machine to handle the massive amount of duplicating necessary for the elementary and middle school. He explained how the lease-agreement would work on the machine. The board authorized proceeding with leasing the machine and allowing it to also be used from time to time for any other campus having special needs for large-volume copying.

There were no board member comments.

The board president advised the board was going into executive session according to its right to do so under Article 6252-17 to discuss acquisition of land (Sec. 2(f) and to take personnel action (Sec. 2(g)).

The session was opened and Jimmy Condra moved to elect Patricia Gray as Title I Reading Aide for the remainder of the 1982-83 school year, Pay Grade 3 Step 0. The motion was seconded by Sam Perez and carried unanimously.

Sam Stewart and Carl Teaff were instructed to visit with County officials about the possibility of sharing land useage in regard to future school sites.

Re-elect Bill Hobby Lieutenant Governor

P.O. Box 567
Austin, Texas 78767
512-473-8781

Dear Citizens of SUTTON COUNTY:

SUTTON COUNTY, and Texas as a whole, are facing some difficult times. Recent layoffs in our oilfields and other major industries and the problems confronting our farmers, ranchers and older Texans must be addressed without delay.

These major problems, combined with federal budget cuts and the demands of our growing population, are affecting state spending and will require careful decision making on the part of your government leaders. In these times, you need leaders who have the strength and experience to make the difficult decisions and the compassion to guard your interests.

There are no instant solutions to the national recession, but I will help insure that we strengthen job opportunities by maintaining a healthy economic climate that encourages business development. This can be accomplished only by continued prudent state spending and keeping our tax burdens low.

Our educational system has advanced significantly in the past nine years, but there is still room for improvement. My efforts to improve the quality of public education for your children and grandchildren will begin in the classroom -- by improving teacher salaries and benefits and by giving more control to local school districts.

Our past approach to crime has won us many battles but now is the time for a new approach. For this reason, I will ask the 1983 Legislature to approve a comprehensive strategy that attacks crime on all fronts - police, courts and corrections.

It has been a privilege and an honor to have served you as Lieutenant Governor for the past nine years. I am asking for your support on November 2 so that I can use my experience and leadership to help face the important challenges confronting you and all other Texans.

Sincerely,

Bill Hobby

For almost 1,000 older workers in the Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb program, the "battle of the budget" came to a happy conclusion with the recent Congressional override of the President's veto of a supplemental appropriations bill.

The bill provides money for a variety of programs and agencies ranging from the defense department to NASA to Title V of the Older Americans Act, which funds TFU Green Thumb and other senior employment programs, according to Diane Parrish, Green Thumb state director.

Speaking to 36 Green Thumb workers at a training session in Eden on September 28, 1982, Parrish said the Congressional override "was decisive" in saving the jobs of more than 54,000 Title V workers nationwide. The workers are all 55 and over, low income, and provide services for libraries, schools, senior centers, and museums.

"Without the override, the only hope would have been yet another appropriations bill," she said, "and there were no real guarantees that another one would have been passed and signed in time to keep the program going." The new bill funds the program through June 30, 1983.

Green Thumbs had already received letters informing them that their last day on the job was to be September 24. Parrish said the letters had to be sent out because "there was no assurance that both houses would override the veto. What we've seen is a minor miracle." The override vote in the Senate was 60 to 30, Sutton County currently has 300 4-H members and 52 volunteer leaders. Program, projects and activities vary. 1982-83 4-H programs include: beef, clothing textile, food and nutrition, goats, horse and pony, rabbits, sheep, shooting sports, crafts and hobbies, judging activities, and science projects. 4-H-ers are awarded for their accomplishments during the year and receive special recognition at an Annual 4-H Achievement Party and Ball. Special recognition will be given to deserving 4-Hers, leaders, and sponsors, on October 9.

Immunization Clinic 77 youngsters were immunized at the immunization clinic last Tuesday. The next clinic will be October 26.

Thirty-four parents have registered for the Parenting Series which began Tuesday, October 5. If you missed the first meeting and would like to attend the remaining three sessions, please contact the County Extension Office (387-3604).

Super Snacking Hints
Small children actually need to eat between meals, because they cannot eat enough at mealtime. A preschooler will probably do better with five or six "mini meals" than three big meals. A nutritious snack for children supplies some protein, vitamins and mineral and is low in fat and sugar.

Here are some super snack ideas for preschoolers: apple slices with peanut butter
Quick cookies: Spread graham crackers with peanut butter
Cheese lollipop: Put a pretzel or carrot stick into a cube of cheese
Frozen pops: Pour unsweetened juices into molds and freeze.

Popular throughout many of our surrounding towns, Mother's Day Out Programs offer a chance for Mom's to get away from the children, ages 1-5, knowing they are under Christian supervision and having a fun time.

Each Wednesday session begins at 9 a.m. and runs through 2 p.m. for a fee of $5 a day per child and only $1 for additional children of the same family.

Fire report

by Gene West, Fire Marshal

There were no fires reported again this week. The Firemen and auxiliary attended the Hill Country Firemen's Convention held in Brownwood this past week-end and a good time was had by all.

We have three new certified members in the Fire Department and they are George Keese, Troy Heffernan and Harold Martinez, which brings our total members to 15. All of these firemen have completed 160 hours of all phases of fire fighting training.

This will, in the near future, help on our Key Rate Credit to lower our Fire Insurance.

Education

When I was growing up in Concho County, the three most respected people in the community were the banker, the preacher and the school teacher.

Today, in most West Texas communities, these people are still respected. But we must insure that our teachers keep that respect. We can start with their self-respect by paying teachers a wage commensurate with the enormous responsibilities we place on them.

In many cases, we ask them not only to educate, but to be the frontline foot soldiers in the battle to cure our social ills.

In the course of campaigning for the Texas Senate, people have been talking about many issues that face us now and in the years ahead. One thing that seems to be uppermost in the minds of many West Texans is education.

People are concerned about our children and the quality of education they receive in our public schools. They are also worried about attracting and keeping good teachers in our classrooms.

They are right to worry about these things. An informed citizenry that can make intelligent decisions is the very cornerstone of our democracy.

Quality public education is the way we achieve this goal.

Our forefathers understood this. It's why the teacher shared the high esteem of the banker and the preacher.

It's time we put our education system back in that perspective.

It's time we paid our teachers to teach, not to be social workers, truant officers and baby sitters.

A West Texan for our times.

WATER: A MATTER OF LIFE OR DEATH

The declining availability of a clean and adequate water supply is clearly emerging as a crisis with the potential to rival the energy crisis of the past decade. Considering the time it took for this nation to recognize and begin to address the energy crisis, it is apparent that we must now turn with the same vigor to the issue of water.

We tend to take the blessings of a safe, affordable, and abundant supply for granted. Yet in approximately 75% of the world where clean water is lacking, an estimated 10 million can die in a year because of waterborne diseases.

There is no mystery to our developing water problems. The critical statistic is not how much water is used, but how much is returned to the system that can be used again. Additionally, in Texas, the demands placed on our state's water supply are compounded by Sunbelt growth. According to the Texas Department of Water Resources, Texans currently consume 5.9 trillion gallons a year and, if growth projections hold, we could be using almost 95% more by the year 2000.

We Texans have already had to contend with the possibility of water shortages due to our diverse geography and climactic conditions. Our annual rainfall rate diminishes, on the average, about one inch for each twenty miles traveled across the state from east to west. This means that while the annual rainfall on our eastern border averages about 56 inches, the far western edge receives only about eight inches.

Over the years, Texas responded to this insufficient distribution of water by constructing reservoirs - with 192 now supplementing our natural resources. A water source map of Texas shows 15 major river basins and eight coastal basins supplying surface water and seven major aquifers and 17 minor aquifers providing underground water.

Fortunately, some of Texas' largest aquifers are found in the areas with below average rainfall. Unfortunately, the slow replenishment of water into aquifers threatens their future usefulness. In greatest danger today is the enormous Ogallala Aquifer that supports life and agriculture for the Great Plains states, which stretches down into the High Plains of Texas, and stops not far north of Midland. The plight of the Ogallala has received national attention as well as careful study by those states directly affected, including our own state. This is only one example, however, of the problems to be addressed.

My special concern for a sufficient water supply goes back to the days of my childhood. I well remember the drought of the Fifties, when the ground was totally bare, creeks and rivers dried up, and we would look to the north in hopes that the cloud bank rolling in would be full of rain, and not full of dust and dry wind. Because of the priority I personally attach to this subject, I recently testified before a water resources field hearing conducted by members of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee. To repeat what I believe is a salient point:

"This nation now understands, and is addressing, our energy crisis. Knowing full well that some day our major reservoirs of conventional energy sources - oil and natural gas - will be depleted, we do have alternatives. These include coal, nuclear, solar, geothermal, wind, kinetic, synthetic, and others. In that sense, we are blessed. But foresight in handling our Nation's problem of a clean and adequate water supply is imperative - for the alternative to water is only water!"

We must respond at the local and state levels to the growing strain on our water supplies.

Without action, chronic water shortages, skyrocketing water prices, and a slowing of growth could lie ahead for all of us.

Ranchers tour Research Station various experiments verify which methods are best

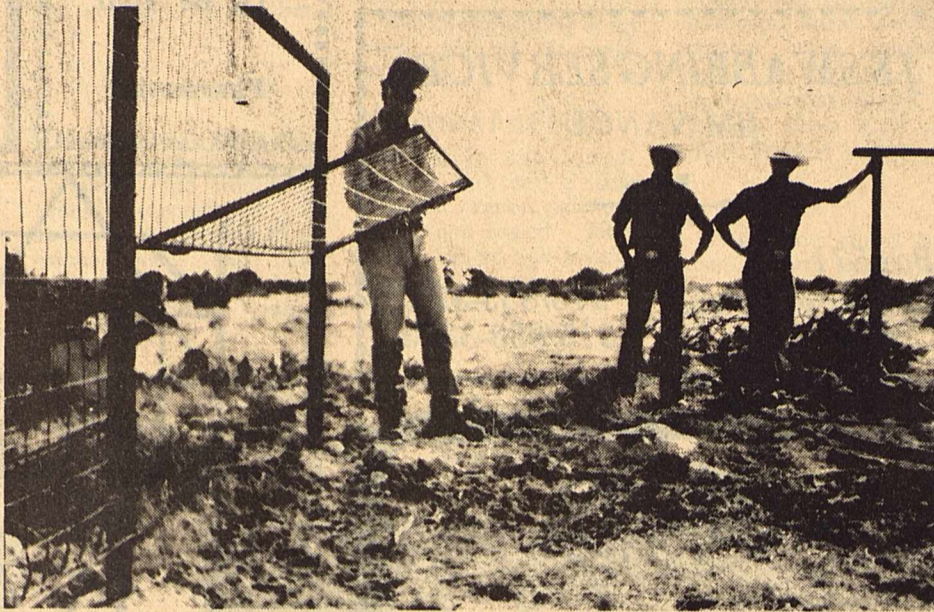

The Edwards Plateau Soil and Water Conservation District hosted a range tour in conjunction with the Zone IV election held on Friday, October 1, 1982.

The tour was held at the Sonora Experiment Station and featured a comparison of existing grazing management studies with some new looks to the future.

Dr. Leo Merrill discussed the present systems with a look at continuous grazing, 4-pasture deferred rotation and high intensity, low frequency at various stocking rates.

Charles Taylor explained new research planned for a cell-type intensive system to give scientific documentation to the effects of things like hoof action, animal density, animal movement and new management changes.

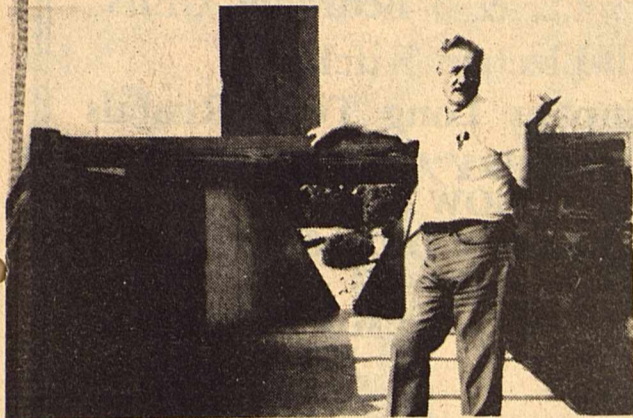

Those present at the tour were: James Hunt, Jimmy Holman, Bob Brockman, W.B. McMillan, Albert Ward, Preston Faris, Dr. Leo Merrill, Butch Taylor, Jim Kimbrel, Tom Paxton, Terry Brooks, Trevlin Luttrell, Jackie Phillips, and Virgil Polocek.

SPECIALLY DESIGNED GATE-Research Scientist Butch Taylor, left, shows ranchers Bob Brockman and Jimmy Holman how a specially designed gate allows sheep and goats to pass through to a water trough - but prevents cattle from going to the same trough and possibly injuring smaller animals at the central pen of the short duration grazing system research project.

A Babylonian recipe from 2,800 B.C. exists for making beer.

WATER RUN OFF-Dr. Leo Merrill stands in a flume located at the lower end of a eight acre watershed which is set up to measure nitrogen content and sediment when a heavy rainfall triggers run off. Dr. Merrill said the run off is about 20 percent less from four pasture rotation than from a heavily grazed pasture situation. It takes a .75 inch rainfall to trigger run off into a heavy graze flume and about 1.5 inches is needed in a four pasture rotation system.

Brockman remains Zone IV Director

Bob Brockman of Sonora was recently re-elected to the Edwards Plateau board of directors on October 1, 1982. Brockman represents Zone IV of the district.

The purpose of the Edwards Plateau SWCD, with headquarters in Sonora, is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers and ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of landowners.

The board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purpose.

As one of five individual serving on the district board of directors, Brockman will be responsible for district policies and procedures for carrying out the district program within the framework of the Texas soil conservation district law.

In other areas of leadership, Brockman is active in ranching and is on the Hudspeth Memorial Hospital Board. He and his wife, Nancy, are parents of a daughter, Ashley.

In Texas there are 201 soil and water conservation districts. Each is a legal subdivision of state government organized by local agricultural landowners with the assistance of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board. Unlike most other legal subdivisions of state government, SWCDs do not have the power of taxation or eminent domain. All conservation programs managed by the districts are of a voluntary nature to the landowners or operator.

Organized in October, 1946, the Edwards Plateau SWCD consists of 1,156,048 acres of land in Sutton and Edwards Counties. It includes all of Sutton County and some 200,428 acres in the north-western part of Edwards County.

The district was organized because local ranch leaders realized that soil productivity was rapidly declining through misuse of the land. A tremendous increase in poisonous bitterweed and water-consuming brush was accompanied by a steady decline in range carrying capacity. The district was reorganized as a timely and necessary vehicle through which to obtain widespread improvement in the use of natural resources.

According to the latest figures, it appears that this year will be the smallest crop of upland cotton produced in Texas since 1946. The severe storms during June destroyed several cotton stands throughout the state. This, combined with the continued dry summer weather, has resulted in a 58 percent drop in cotton production and a 58 percent drop in acreage for harvest from 1981.

Cotton growers throughout the state produced an estimated 2.35 million bales with harvesting completed from the Coastal Bend to the Lower Valley regions, according to reports from the Texas Department of Agricultural. Dry weather in scattered parts of the state has prevented stalk plow-up.

In the Southern Plains area of Texas, a major cotton producing region, total production is estimated at 820,000 bales, down 70 percent from a year ago. Farmers in this area have been battling large insect populations.

The state's sorghum production is expected to reach 160.2 million cwt., a substantial increase from last year. While the projected yield is down 392 pounds from 1981, harvested acreage is expected to increase 18 percent. Harvesting of the state's sorghum is making good progress across the state. In the High Plains region many hailed-out cotton fields were replanted with sorghum which increased expected production for the area 30 percent.

Looking briefly at other crops... the Texas corn crop, expected to reach 155 million bushels, is down 10 percent from 1981 but has increased 5 percent from a month ago. The crop has been maturing rapidly under the hot dry weather conditions and harvest is well underway in the Panhandle. The estimated yield for this year's corn crop, 100 bushels per acre, is off 17 percent from last year.

A record soybean crop is expected this year with a projected yield of 27.5 million bushels. This is 4 percent above August predictions and nearly double 1981 soybean production. The continued dry weather throughout much of the state has affected yields in some areas, but irrigated fields are making good progress. The rice production for this year is forecasted at 21.5 million cwt., off 21 percent from 1981, while the state's peanut production of 341 million pounds is down 13 percent from last year.

Reagan will accept ban

The Interior Department's leasing policies, the National Rig Count and local boy makes good all on today's Energy Report.

The Reagan Administration has said it would accept a permanent ban on oil and gas drilling in wilderness areas if there were limits on further expansion of the wilderness system itself. An administration official said the forest service will start processing about eleven hundred drilling applications in wilderness areas unless the Senate approves the wilderness bill. The House overwhelmingly approved the wilderness bill earlier this year.

In other action, the Interior Department says the Government will not lose 77 billion dollars in tax revenue because of Interior Secretary James Watt's five year coastal oil leasing plan. The Sierra Club charges that amount will be lost due to lower bid prices because of the five hundred percent increase in acres offered resulting in less competition. The Sierra Club also said that 23 or the 77 billion dollars will be lost through changes in the way each parcel is evaluated.

Odessa Fred George was recently named President of the Association of Oilwell Servicing Contractors headquartered in Dallas. George owns Charles J. George of Odessa.

And, the National Rig count is 2466...down 42 percent from a year ago. In the Permian Basin our rig count for this week was 289. One year ago it was 494.

New director

Jim Morrow, a 15-year employee of the Railroad Commission, has been appointed director of the RRC's oil and Gas Division, according to Commission Chairman Jim Nugent.

Morrow was director of the Commission's Districts 5 and 6, based in Kilgore, for the past three years.

The new director was first employed by the Commission in October of 1967 as an engineer. He was assistant director for the Kilgore office from May 1968 to April 1974, and director of that office from April 1974 until September 1977, when he moved to Austin to become assistant director of the Oil and Gas Division. In August of 1979 he went back to Kilgore to direct the office there.

Before coming to the Commission, he was a petroleum engineer for an oil company in West Texas and New Mexico.

Morrow, a graduate of Texas A&M University, was born in Mineral Wells on October 27, 1928.

As Director, he will replace Bob Harris, who left the Commission for a position in private industry.

Oil production

Texas crude oil production totaled 73,372, 589 barrels in July, according to Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent.

The figures compares with reported June production totaling 71,358,946 barrels and July 1981 production of 75,475,024 barrels.

Texas oil production averaged 2,366,858 barrels daily in July, down from 2,378,632 barrels daily in June and down from 2,434, 678 barrels daily in July 1981.

The July allowable totaled 96,194,640 barrels.

The preliminary July summary indicated Texas oil production was 23.72 percent under the allowable for the month.

Through the first seven months of this year, Texas has produced 509,066,594 of oil.
