First National Bank plans expansion

Plans were announced for the future expansion of the First National Bank in Sonora by Lea Roy Aldwell, President.

"We have confidence," he said, "in the future of Sonora and Sutton County. For that reason we have chosen to expand our existing facility into a banking and office complex in the central part of Sonora."

Aldwell pointed out that the existing bank building will be enlarged to include additional office and bookkeeping space.

A completely new motor banking facility will be built. It will include a walk-in teller and a commercial traffic lane. Entry into the new motor bank will be from both Main and Oak Streets for easy access.

An office building with approximately 7,600 square feet of floor space will be built facing Main Street. It will house a new community room for the convenience of Sonora's social and civic organizations.

"Office space in our new building will be convenient to the City Hall, the Courthouse, the abstract office and the Post Office," he continued. "Office space will be available for rent on virtually a custom basis. Space can be allocated to meet the individual needs of the organizational structure."

"Pierce, Pace and Associates of Midland, our architects have designed the building with every convenience in mind. Most important is the availability of an abundance of covered parking space."

"In addition," he continued, "twenty-four hour banking will become a reality. We will install an automatic teller at the corner of Main and Concho streets. We hope to have bids on the construction of the new facility by the first of the year."

"Although our architecture and to some extent our methods and personnel change over the years, our philosophy and purpose remain unchanged...We're totally unalterably committed to the service to the people of Sonora and Sutton County."

Sutton County Pecan Show to be held Dec. 3rd

The third Sutton County Pecan Show will be held Friday, December 3rd at the First United Methodist Church basement in Sonora. Anyone and everyone, regardless of your age and interests is encouraged to participate!

There are two major divisions in the Pecan and Bake Show--(1) Pecan Show--exhibiting pecans in their natural state by the grower (2) Pecan Bake Show--exhibiting pecan baked items; one need not own a pecan tree.

Pecan Show entries must contain 35-40 pecans of the same variety, from the 1982 crop. Entries will be accepted until 5 p.m. December 2, by the County Extension Office or Sonora Wool and Mohair Company. There will be two categories; (1) shelling and (2) native. Some guidelines to follow include: (1) select largest nuts (2) select 40-50 heaviest nuts (weigh individually or put them in water and select those which sink the fastest) (3) select those free of insect damage (4) select uniform size and color (5) clean nuts, but do not alter color or shape.

Pecan Bake Show Entries must contain pecans. Entries will be accepted between 7:30-9:30 a.m., December 3 at the church basement. There will be two age divisions--junior-18 and under and senior-19 and over. Each age division will contain the following categories: (1) cake--enter entire cake (2) pie--enter entire pie (3) cookies--enter entire recipe or 2 dozen (4) bread--enter one loaf, 1 coffeecake or entire recipe. (5) candy--enter entire recipe or two dozen pieces (6) miscellaneous--sweets not listed above (7) appetizers and snacks--non-sweets such as cheese balls, snacks, etc. Each entry must be accompanied with a plainly printed or typed recipe on a 3 x 5 card. Entry forms will be completed at the church. Items should be displayed on disposable dishes and be covered with plastic wrap. Items requiring refrigeration will not be accepted.

All entries become property of the Sutton County Program Building Committee. Pecan and baked items will be sold at an auction following judging at 3:30 p.m. which will be used to help finance the show's ribbons and supplies.

For more information concerning the Pecan and Bake Show, contact the County Extension Office at 387-3101 or 387-3604.

Texas Baptist Convention States Positions

Texas Baptists in their annual Convention here dealt with issues such as drunken driving, abortion, prison reform and homosexuality but put aside theological and political controversies of recent years.

The 3,500 messengers and visitors from many of the state's 4,000 Southern Baptist churches announced clear intentions to commit themselves to reaching the world with the gospel of Jesus in this century.

They underscored their missions concern by adopting a $50 million budget for the Convention's Cooperative Program of world missions support.

More than a third of the budget will go to help support the work of 6,000 missionaries in the United States and 100 foreign countries, said Convention President D.L. Lowrie. The remainder will help support 23 Texas Baptist institutions and other state missions work.

Lowrie, pastor of First Baptist Church, Lubbock, was re-elected by acclamation to a second one-year term as president.

Messengers elected John D. Morgan, pastor of Sagemont Baptist Church, Houston, as first vice president and Fred Roach, president of Centennial Homes, Dallas, as second vice president.

Baptists were urged by Southern Baptist Convention President James T. Draper, Jr., Eules, to avoid theological controversies.

"It doesn't matter what theological position a man holds if he doesn't have the message the world needs," said Draper. "That message is Jesus Christ."

"We live in a day of crisis, said Draper, but the greatest crisis facing Texas Baptists is 'a spectator mentality,'" he said.

"We've got to get out of our buildings and into the streets and into contact with people," Lowrie too warned that without a "magnificent obsession for missions" Baptists will invite mediocrity and death to their denomination.

He said he wants to help lead in a Texas-wide evangelistic partnership with Mexico Baptists and efforts to reach the heart of Texas' inner cities for Christ.

A Black pastor warned that "America's destiny will be shaped by the cities."

"What is happening in the cities will soon be happening in the suburbs," said E.V. Hill, pastor of Mr. Zion Baptist Church, Los Angeles.

"The Communists, organized crime and cults know that. They are in the cities," he said.

Hill said Jesus weeps, not because the cities have rejected him, but because the cities have rejected him, but because the cities have been turned down by evangelical Christians.

In resolutions, the Convention reaffirmed the Baptist stand for separation of church and state and opposition to "legislatively prescribed prayer. It also expressed concern about 'the suppression of the free exercise of religion by some public institutions' and insisted that voluntary meetings before or after classes or work hours for Bible reading and prayer should be permitted in public setting.

The resolution also supports Court action which seeks relief from present rulings which deny free exercise of religion in public schools and buildings.

Another resolution was on efforts of homosexuals to legalize homosexuality and win public acceptance. "The homosexuality lifestyle is not normal or accepted in His (God's) sight and is indeed sin, but there is forgiveness through repentance," the resolution said.

A resolution on drunken driving and calls for the Texas Legislature to pass legislation to end the practice of deferred adjudication to raise the legal drinking age to 21 and prohibit the transport of open alcoholic beverages in vehicles.

Other resolutions urged Baptists to make ministry "to the suffering unemployed a vital part of our mission," to continue giving strong opposition to all forms of legalized gambling, to give priority to providing resources for family life and to support the American Christian Television System being organized by the Southern Baptist Radio and Television Commission, Fort Worth.

Also, a statement by the Texas Baptist Christian Life Commission noted that Hispanics make up 21 percent of Texas' population, supported admission of all children including undocumented aliens to public schools, and called for fair wages and just working conditions for all people.

National Home Health Care Designated by Congress.

This week of November 28 through December 4 has been designated by Congress as National Home Health Care Week. Under the Medicare program, Home Health Care Agencies provide health related services to patients in their homes. During the past few years Congress, through legislation, has liberalized home health care benefits, making it a practical alternative to long hospital stays. Home Health may even prevent or postpone admission to a nursing home. It is believed that most older Americans would prefer to receive health care in the comfort of their own homes whenever feasible. Nurses work under the order of the patient's own physician to provide continuity of care on discharge from the hospital, or simply to reinforce instructions and skilled observation for a condition treated in the doctors' office. I la fay Dunnam RN, and Ruth Ann Dickenson

CRIME STOPPERS

The Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council wants you to know some facts about drunk driving in Texas.

- One half of all traffic accidents involve a driver who has been drinking.
- It is estimated that on any weekday in Texas, 1 out of 50 drivers has been drinking or is drunk. On weekends, this ratio climbs to 1 in 10.
- Last year there were 36,774 reported accidents in Texas that were the result of DWI — more than 100 per day.
- 23% of all traffic deaths in 1981 involved drunk driving. The ten year total of DWI related deaths in Texas is 19,000 — more than the population of many Texas cities.

Texas should be outraged at this senseless destruction by drunk drivers. For too long, society has permitted innocent persons to be killed on our highways, because it is easier to ignore the DWI problem than to face it.

People have been led to believe that DWI is not really a crime, and the drunken driver is not really a criminal, but this is not true. For the month of November, the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council is focusing its statewide "Crime of the Month" on DWI. No reward is offered. Instead, the Council urges you to support local and statewide efforts to reduce the number of drunk drivers on Texas highways. Every Texan must make a personal commitment to help put an end to this tragedy. Together we can prevent the drunk driver from spreading further death and destruction on our highways.

Medicare Payment Procedures Outlined

Claims for payment under the medical insurance part of the Medicare program are handled by carriers under contract with the federal government. These carriers are responsible for determining if the service provided is covered by medical insurance and, if so, the approved charge for the service.

A carrier may decide that some of all of a service is not covered under medical insurance or that the charge for the service exceeds the approved amount. If the service is not covered, the carrier must deny the claim. If the charge exceeds the approved amount, the carrier may pay only the approved amount. If you disagree with the carrier's decision, you can appeal it by requesting in writing that the carrier review the claim. Any evidence to support the claim should be made within 6 months of the date of notice of the initial decision and may be made directly to the carrier or to a social security office, which will forward it to the carrier.

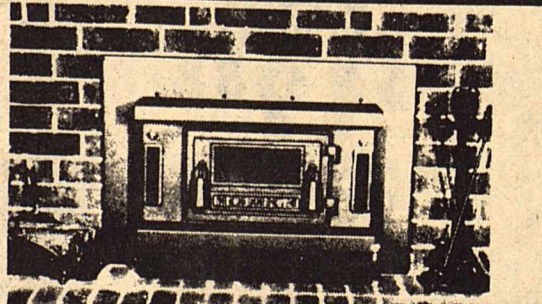

The carrier then reviews the evidence to determine if its original decision was correct. A notice of its review decision will be mailed to you. If you are still not satisfied with the decision, you may request a hearing. However, a hearing is granted only if there is a difference of at least $100 between the payment received on the claim and the bill for services minus any deductible and co-insurance amounts.

The request for a hearing must be made within 6 months of the date the notice of review decision was received. This request, too, can be sent directly to the carrier or to a social security office for forwarding to the carrier. The hearing of an appeal for medical insurance payments is conducted by a hearing officer appointed by the carrier. If you do not appear at the hearing, the decision of the hearing officer is based on the evidence previously presented as well as any new evidence that you may have submitted. The decision of the hearing officer is final, under the law, there is no further appeal.

Additional information about the right of appeal in relation to a medicare medical insurance claim can be obtained from any social security office.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

Thanksgiving Day was first set aside in July 1623 for a special purpose of prayer as well as celebration.

The women of the colony spent many days preparing for the feast. The children helped by turning roasts on a spit in front of open fires. Indians brought wild turkeys and venison. The men of the colony brought geese, ducks and fish. The women served the meat and fish with journey cake, corn meal bread with nuts and succotash.

The custom of Thanksgiving Day spread from Plymouth to other New England colonies. During the Revolutionary War, eight special days of thanks were observed for victories and for being saved from dangers.

On Nov. 26, 1789, President George Washington issued a general proclamation for a day of thanks. In the same year, the Protestant Episcopal Church announced that the first Thursday in November would be a regular yearly day for giving thanks, "unless another day be appointed by the civil authorities."

For years there was no regular national Thanksgiving Day in the United States. However, some states did have an annual Thanksgiving Day.

In November 1863, President Abraham Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday in November as "a day of thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father."

In 1939 President Roosevelt changed the holiday to a week earlier. Then in 1941, Congress ruled that the fourth Thursday in November be observed as a legal federal holiday.

As Thanksgiving 1982 approaches, I started looking around to observe my thanks for blessings of the past year. It occurs that there are many folks who will not be as fortunate as many of us. They are unemployed and that alone is a hard thing to swallow.

As a nation, however, we have many other blessings. Our economy is bad, but so is the world. As a people we are trying to work out of the mess. Our leaders are trying to find solutions. Our neighbors are trying to find ways.

I am personally thankful for the American way. If we are willing to work, we can still survive. I started my own business three years ago now and despite the high interest, recession and all the other problems that hit my desk daily, I have found that they can be overcome if we are willing to pay the price. That price comes high. It means working 10 to 12 hours a day, sometimes seven days a week and not sleeping a whole lot.

It took that in the ranching business, too. So, the publishing business is not much different in that respect. I am thankful I don't have to fight the elements like the country folk do. I am thankful I can see people everyday. I am thankful I don't have to fight the elements like the country folk do. I am thankful I can see people everyday. I am thankful my magazine, West Texas Business, has been accepted by the public.

Most of all, if we don't have good health, we have nothing. Health is the bottom line to all endeavors. I was reminded of this very fact just last week when I spent a half day at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. There to make pictures for some printed materials Rehab needs, I watched as handicapped people tried to learn to walk again, or talk again. These folks were like you and me. They were busy in their chosen lifestyles, working and making a living. All of a sudden, there were struck down by a stroke, heart attack or something else. Now, they focus their whole day on therapy and hope to have good health again some day. Yes, it is time for thanksgiving. A time to say thanks for our blessings.

Seeing Red

By Elizabeth Allen

Being that there is no news to report on coming events, I decided to give those who are no longer in school a peek at the opinions of the SHS students. The first question is, "If you could go to any high school, where would you go?" "The second question is, 'Why?'"

Carol Cayce: "I guess I'd go here. Why not?"

Victor Fuentes: "I'd stay here. It's one of the best schools I've been to, the teachers are okay. The band program is great!"

Timmy Doan: "Permian

High School. I feel that a larger school would give me more opportunity to exercise my generous mental capacity."

Marney Sorenson: "This one. It's got everything here that I need. I've never gone anywhere else."

Margarita Valdez: "Central High School. There are a lot of cute guys there."

David Buitron: "I'd stay here. Cause if I didn't, I wouldn't get to play football."

Ronnie Munns: "Here. It's a small school, you know everybody - they've got a good athletic program with good coaches."

Rebecca Heard: "Permian. My family went there. It offers a bunch of good courses."

James Dixon: "Highland Park. There are a bunch of good-looking girls with good-looking cars."

Laura Preston: "Midland Christian. They have cute guys and if your grades are good you get to go to England. Besides, anything different."

Lora Lea Kordzik: "Here. Cause I like it. There are more opportunities for me here and I like going to school here."

Bonnie Jackson: "Permian, it's a big school. I know some people there and they says it's a good school. There's supposed to be more action, and there you can do what you want. At SHS, you have to follow the crowd or everybody puts you down."

Well, I've run out of room. But in the end, the opinions seem to be widely varied, and obviously, SHS is loved by some and not quite so revered by others. Well, the teachers like it!

Penalties for DWI increased

Tougher penalties for DWI offenders, increased use of child auto safety seats for infants and children under four and strengthened driver education in Texas were among the legislative recommendations unanimously approved by the Texas Safety Association Board of Directors recently.

Responding to Texas Department of Public Safety Chief Col. Jim Adams' call for tougher laws and greater enforcement of those laws to deal with DWI offenders in Texas, the directors of the 1400 member safety group approved all of the Task Force on Traffic Safety recommendations and pledged to work for grass roots understanding of the recommendations and their safety benefits.

Among those recommendations are raising the drinking age to 21, banning open containers of alcoholic beverages from the passenger compartments of motor vehicles and stiffer penalties for driving while intoxicated. Several Texas Safety Association members, including the immediate past president, Dave Coslett of Dow Chemical in Freeport, served on the task force.

Current Texas Safety Association President Dean Ward said, "It is imperative to remove drunk drivers from Texas highways. As safety professionals, TSA members are acutely aware of the tragic results of drunk driving. We want this behavior stopped."

Farm City Week November 19-25

The pride of wheat has been below the $3.55 per bushel national loan rate in each of the first four months of the 1982-83 marketing year. This virtually assures that the maximum deficiency payment of 50 cents per bushel will be paid those producers who participated in the 1982 acreage reduction program.

The low wheat prices have been fostered by an expected 2.8 billion bushel U.S. wheat harvest, up one percent from 1981. This record production was tallied despite the voluntary 15 percent acreage reduction program that was in effect for the 1981-82 crop.

A sagging world economy has prompted the USDA to re-evaluate and lower its export projections for the 1982-83 marketing year. In the October supply and demand report, projected 1982 exports were dropped 4 percent from the previous month's estimate to 1.7 billion bushels. Some analysts predict that the export figure could decline further as importers evaluate their projected needs in view of depressed world economic conditions.

In 1982-83 it is clear that total expected supply (approximately 4 billion bushels) will outstrip projected demand by about 1.4 billion bushels, resulting in a carry over to use ratio of 56 percent by the end of the current marketing year.

Although 78 percent of the projected carry over stocks are expected to be tied up in the farmer-owned reserve or CCC inventory, it is unlikely that free stocks will be depleted in the current year. Thus, prices for the remainder of the current marketing year probably will not increase much above the 3.55 per bushel level.

Outlook for 1983-84 market prices is particularly hazardous given present information. Price enhancement for the 1983 crop will depend on several factors which at this point are unknown.

The 1983 wheat acreage reduction program will not materially affect this outlook. With current high carry over levels and normal production conditions, prices likely will be below loan rates for a substantial portion of the 1983-84 marketing season.

Officials at Texas A&M University say to the 1983 wheat program should be looked upon as a way by which farmers and ranchers can supplement their income, rather than as a solution to the farm surplus program.

Stocks of wheat are simply too high for this program to substantially reduce the carry over. It is expected that less than 70 percent of wheat producers will participate in the program, and the resulting reduction in domestic production will be approximately 4-6 percent. Our calculations indicate that a 10 percent reduction in production would be required to bring the price of wheat above loan levels.

Farm-City Week, Nov. 19-25, focuses on the involvement of farm and city people as partners in growing, processing, marketing, and consuming food and fiber.

"In Texas, movement of food and fiber from field to factory to the family out Dr. Carl Anderson, marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, San Angelo, Texas.

"One out of every 30 Texans is a farmer or rancher, and 30 percent of the state's retail trade business is directly associated with agricultural products."

Many businesses, financing and selling of food and fiber products," says Anderson.

cial institutions and individuals are involved in providing supplies, credit and services to farmers and ranchers and in processing and marketing agricultural commodities.

Texas ranks in third place in total cash receipts among the leading agricultural states, behind California and Iowa, Texas, however, is number one in the sales of cattle and calves, cotton, grain sorghum, sheep and wool, goats and mohair, cabbage and spinach.

Total farm assets in Texas are estimated at $80 billion. With 186,000 farms in Texas, assets average $430,000 per farm. Many commercial size, full-time operators, have in excess of a million dollars invested in their farm or ranch businesses.

"Producing an abundance of high quality food and fiber is inherent to American agriculture. Americans spend far less of their take-home pay on food than people in other countries of the world," Anderson points out. "Today's that amounts to about 17 cents of every dollar of disposable income.

"Together, farm and city people make the best food and fiber team in the world," he believes. "This gives a country the capacity to feed its own people and to export for economic gain as well as for humanitarian purposes."

Farm-City Week is under the direction of the National Farm-City Council, Inc., which is coordinated by Kiwanis International.

4-H Activities

Activities in 4-H are not programs constructed to help youngsters pass the time—but to mold adults.

4-H is the youth phase of educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, says Charles Gardner, 4-H and youth specialist.

In 4-H, working together for a common goal prepares today's young people for working relationships in the business world. These community efforts also establish the brotherhood that many Americans are striving for all over the world.

The challenges 4-H youngsters face give them a chance to place new ideas into the lives of their families and communities. 4-Hers also learn through their experiences and gain wisdom that will benefit them in later years, says the specialist.

Whether 4-H members are competing in food or livestock show, method demonstrations, county fairs—a host of other activities, they are working toward the maturity they find in their adult leaders and county Extension agents.

To start the journey that can lead to fun-filled as well as rewarding experiences, contact the county Extension office to learn all about the 4-H program, suggest Gardner.

Loeffler's stand strong on Windfall Profits Tax

Congressman Tom Loeffler has joined with other members of Congress in signing a letter to President Reagan asking that the U.S. Government not appeal the recent ruling by a Federal District Judge in Wyoming that the Windfall Profit Tax is unconstitutional.

The letter to the President reads: As you know, a United States District Judge in Wyoming has ruled as unconstitutional the so-called Windfall Profits Tax on domestic crude oil. We believe that this important decision gives you the opportunity to fulfill a promise you made in 1980 to abolish the burdensome and unjust tax.

As representatives from oil producing states, we strongly urge you to let the Wyoming decision stand without appeal. We believe that allowing this decision to stand would be a substantial step towards a sensible energy policy. The abolishment of the windfall profits tax would encourage domestic energy production and help us achieve our national goal of energy independence.

We urge you to allow the Wyoming decision to stand in order to obtain our common goal of abolishing the unjust and unconstitutional windfall profits tax.

Loeffler has long opposed the Windfall Profit Tax, calling it "the most heinous and ridiculous tax ever levied" and described the decision by Federal District Judge as "one step toward relief from such an ill conceived tax."

"I believe levying such a severe tax on just one segment of our economy, which already pays billions of dollars of federal, state, and local taxes, is unfair. It penalizes the producers, royalty owners, and ultimately the consumer. We need to encourage the production of domestic oil and

15 permits for new pipelines in Texas were granted by RRC

Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent has announced that 15 permits to operate new pipelines in Texas were granted by the RRC in October.

Through the first ten months of this year, the Commission has issued 152 permits to operate new lines. For the same period last year, 145 permits were approved.

Nine of the permits in October were for gathering pipelines, three were for trunk transmission lines, and another three were for other types of lines. Gathering lines bring oil and gas from production leases, while a trunk transmission line is a larger diameter line into which smaller lines connect.

Thirteen of the newly-permitted lines will transport gas, one will move products, and another will transport other materials.

Private pipelines accounted for 13 of the permits last month, while one was for a gas utility and another for a common carrier.

In October, four permits each were granted to operate pipelines in Southeast Texas and deep South Texas, two each in the San Angelo and Midland areas, and one each in Each Texas, West Central Texas, and North Texas.

Gathering lines approved:

Lapco Oil and Gas Co., Houston, gas, Madison County; Well head Ventures Corp., Kingwood, gas, (two lines--one in Fort Bend County and one in Orange County; Associated

Gathering Systems Inc., Houston, gas, Coleman County; Teco Pipeline Co., Houston, gas, Hidalgo County; The New Energy Co., Midland, gas, Upton County; Matador Pipelines Inc., Breckenridge, products, Nueces County; Pronto Compression Co. Inc., Abilene, gas, Young

County; Pipeline Specialist Inc., Carthage, gas, Rusk County.

Trunk transmission lines approved:

Cibolo Gas Co., Midland, gas, Kimble and Menard counties; Esperanza Transmission Co., Corpus Christi, gas, (two lines--one in San Patricio County and one in Kleberg County. Other lines approved: Koch Hydrocarbon Co., Wichita, Ks., gas, Mitchell, Sterling, and Coke counties; South Texas Gathering Co., Houston, gas, Walker County; Transmission Systems Inc., Houston, carbon dioxide, Pecos County.

Gas production

Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent announced that Texas oil and gas wells produced 506,537,897 Mcf of gas in July 1982, down 10.96 percent from fields runs a year earlier.

Marketed gas production totaled 415,675,290 Mcf and reflected a 12.95 percent decrease from the July volume. Marketed production is the total gas to transmission lines, carbon black and plant fuel and lease use.

Gas exported from Texas in July totaled 216,400,590 Mcf, and reflected a 20.8 percent decrease from the year-earlier month.

Texas gas production in July came from 229,959 oil and gas wells.

In June 1982, Texas wells produced 491,085,900 Mcf of gas. Marketed gas production in June totaled 405,388,346 Mcf. June exports of Texas-produced gas totaled 159,899,551 Mcf.

Jim Bob Altizer roping to be held Nov. 20-21

The 2nd annual Jim Bob Altizer invitational roping to be held Saturday and Sunday, November 20 and 21, at the Altizer arena on Hudson Drive in Del Rio, Texas, will feature some of the countries finest calf and steer ropers.

Jim Bob Altizer, described as "born to rope and ride", is generously sponsoring the event as a benefit for West Texas Boys Ranch. Altizer's roping record makes him one of the countries finest ropers. During his competitive career, he was known as one of the top 10 calf ropers and was listed among the top five steer ropers. Altizer, in 1959, was named World Champion calf roper, and in 1957, he became World Champion steer roper. These accomplishments made him one of the rare ropers to ever win two world titles in two separate events.

This year Altizer Invitational Roping will highlight a match roping between Jim Bob's son, Mack Altizer, a crackerjack roper himself and Jim Davis, also well known in the roping circuit. Jim is the son of ace roper Merle Davis. Both contestants, having a strong family tradition of rodeo, will no doubt be an equal match for each other and yield an exciting roping competition. Both ropers will rope 6 steers each on Saturday, November 20 and 6 calves each on Sunday, November 21. The winner of the event will receive a trophy saddle. Winner is decided upon by total time on calves and steers.

Saturday's event will begin at 12:30 p.m., 40 calf ropers will rope two calves each with the top 12 getting a third calf in the finals. Sunday's event also beginning at 12:30 p.m. will feature 35 invitational steer ropers, two go's and a short go. The winner of each the calf roping and the steer roping will receive belt buckles made by Gary Gist. Admission fee is $3.00 for adults and $1.00 for children. There are camping areas available, charge is $10.00 per night plus the per person charge. Special prices will be available for military personnel. Everyone is invited to attend the festivities. There will be several concession stands with your favorite foods and drinks available.

The roping will benefit the West Texas Boys Ranch, which has been the home of over 1,000 boys since 1947. Boys Ranch is located 15 miles west of San Angelo, Texas. West Texas Boys Ranch is supported entirely by the tax-free donations and contributions of a concerned public and accepts no state or federal funding. "Don't Brand A Boy, Build A Man", has always been the motto at West Texas Boys Ranch. For more information, contact John Watts 512-774-2555.

A safe place for toys

Toys should be kept in a place that is easy for a child to reach. Open shelves are best, according to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter.

Toys on an open shelf are inviting. A child can reach them without help, and can put them away (may with a little help!)

Don't use a toy chest. It may keep the toys out of sight and make the room look neat, but toys will get jumbled inside, parts will get lost, and worst of all, there is danger of the lid falling on the child's head or hands.

Open toy shelves can be used to teach a child many things. You and the child can decide where each new toy will "belong." In this way you can help a child understand categories: blocks go here; cars, trains, and trucks nearby. Ball and outdoor toys go here; books and records there.

Later on, whenever a new toy is received, the child can figure out its category and where it should go. This kind of orderly thinking is helpful in learning mathematics and reading.

To help a child remember where each toy goes, you can put a picture of it in the right place—either directly on the shelf or on the wall behind. As the child puts toys away, he will learn to match the toy to its picture. You can use the cover illustration if the toy came in a box, or take photos or make drawings. If you print the name of the toy near the picture, the child will get used to the idea that everything has a name. All these activities are pre-reading skills.

While you are putting pictures of the toy on the shelf, flatten out the part of the packaging that has the manufacturer's name and address, the toy name and model number. Having this information on file will make it much easier to order repair parts or return merchandise.

Putting toys away can be a learning game. One day you could suggest, "Let's put away all the red toys first." Then, "Now can you put away all the blue toys?" Another day, it might be square toys first, then round ones. Other categories are soft/hard, heavy/light, big/little. These variations turn clean-up into a form of play while the child learns about categories, likenesses and differences.

When toys are easy to reach, always ready to use, and easy to put away, a child is learning independence and responsibility, and parents will be avoiding a lot of playtime hassles!

it's a crime to shoplift

"I can't believe this is happening to me... honor student, cheerleader, debating club... it was just a prank! I never dreamed I'd have a criminal record! What will this do to my future? How could I have been so stupid?"
