City proceeds with occupancy tax

In a special City Council meeting held June 7th, a resolution was passed to proceed with the Occupancy tax and not rescind it. It will be a 4 percent tax paid by tenants, with the Chamber of Commerce being the chief beneficiary for it, receiving 3 percent and the City will get 1 percent. The Chamber of Commerce will use all of their 3 percent for advertising purposes only which is required by state laws. The City will use its 1 percent to go toward the promotion of the city.

Carol Parker, spokesperson and member of the Chamber of Commerce and Mike Street, President, told the City Council that the Chamber of Commerce at its last meeting voted to give the Santa Fe Depot back to the City. The reason for this act is, the Chamber believes that it cannot uphold its duties of promoting businesses, activities, and tourism of Sonora, but it would like to see the City try to keep the Depot in Sonora for historical purposes. The City Council members said that it was going to contact the Historical Society and offer the Depot.

In other acts of the meeting, a public hearing was held in cause of the W.L. Leakey Annexation. This is to enlarge and extend the boundaries of Sonora to Lot No. 3 of Block c-1 of the Cemetary Addition, beginning at an iron pin set in the West boundary of the road known as Cemetary Lane, which is 120 feet North of an iron pin set in the NE corner of the lot known as the Morris Gin lot, described by metes and bounds in a deed from T.D. Nevill and wife, to Sonora Cotton Gin Co. The Annexation was accepted.

A petition to close a portion of 1st Street was proposed by Luciano Sanchez at the meeting. The Council voted to disapprove this proposal.

In Ordinance #246, closing Allison Street was opposed.

Ordinance #248, closing a portion of 2nd Street, which is by Polo's Trailer Park was also disapproved. A motion was made by Councilman Matt Davenport. He said, "Because of the draw that runs through there, there will never be a road because of flooding situations."

In Ordinance #248, Lease of lots 10, 11, and 12 in Block 21 to Chamber of Commerce was declined by the Chamber.

In the Social Security discussion, participation of Social Security will be continued by City employees under the federal Law.

At a cost of $135, students will eat in the Eat Dining Hall. Male students will be housed in Guenther Hall while female students will reside at Hudspeth Hall.

A $40 deposit must accompany the application.

Yates is camp director and he will be assisted by Robert A. Busch, a teaching assistant in speech communication and a graduate assistant in forensics.

Camp sections and instructors will feature novice debate, Lois Hintze, debate coach and teacher at Oklahoma City Heritage Hall, advanced debate, Stuart Baker, debate and speech coach at Midland High School, Lincoln-Douglas debate, Debbie Dehlinger, debate coach at Thomas Jefferson High School at San Antonio and president of the Texas Forensic Association, extemporaneous speaking and oratory, Jackie Jarrett, head of the speech department at Lubbock Coronado High School, oral interpretation, Virginia Myers, assistant professor of speech communication and theatre at WTSU, and drama, James Buchanan, speech and drama teacher at Sonora High School.

An enrollment limit has been placed on workshop sessions. The limit in novice and advanced debate, beginning and advanced drama is 40 students in each section and 30 students will be accepted in the sections on Lincoln-Douglas debate, extemporaneous speaking, oratory and oral interpretation.

Students participating in the debate and public speaking sections will compete in a workshop tournament at the end of the two-week camp. Drama students will be cast in one of four one-act plays while oral interpretation students will participate in a festival with public performances.

Directors for the one-act plays are Judy Carter, Amarillo High School theatre director, Terry Marrs, theatre director at Odessa High School and Marion Sweatman, theatre director at Marshall High School, San Antonio.

Persons interested in obtaining undergraduate or graduate credit during the coaching workshop may register for the workshop and other WTSU second summer session courses on July

Grace Mayfield, Terry Brooks Exchange Vows

Mrs. Terry Dan Brooks

Grace Irene Mayfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carter Mayfield Jr. of Juno and San Angelo and Terry Dan Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger I. Brooks of Burnet were married at 6:00 p.m. Saturday in an outdoor ceremony at the ranch home of the bride's parents. The vows were said in a white Gazebo decorated with bougainvillea blossoms and trailing grape leaves.

Rev. J.H. Cash, pastor of the Comstock Baptist Church officiated. She was given in marriage by her father.

The bride's dress was a candle light Faux silk Mexican wedding dress by Juli Charlot. The veil was candle light silk lace from Venice, Italy, given to her by her aunt, Mrs. J.O. Taylor. She carried a spring bouquet of cascading pink cosmos, full blossom pink roses, white daisies and trailing ivy. Her head wreath was white and pink roses. Patti McClung of Midland was the matron of honor. Other attendants were Carol Floyd of San Angelo and Tracey Mayfield, niece of the bride, was a junior bridesmaid. Marla Mayfield, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. Their dresses were pale pink with multi color embroidery from Oxaca, Mexico. They carried country baskets filled with pink combs and white daisies.

Ronald Box of Pecos was the best man. Groomsmen were Timothy Brooks of San Antonio and Kevin Brooks of Luling, brothers of the groom. Randy Brooks, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer. Scott, W.T. and John Mayfield, brothers of the groom, were ushers.

Beverly Caldwell of Sonora was the organist. She played many old favorites. The traditional wedding march and recessional was played and Jene Mayfield, sister-in-law of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's table was covered in a pink cloth with a white lace skirt to accent the southern style bridal cake. Hundreds of tiny pink flowers formed the traditional swags around each cake layer. Fresh daisy blossoms adorned the top and center section of the white cake.

The groom's table was covered in a chocolate brown cloth with a white overlay. The chocolate cake was in layers of a three leaf clover. The bridesmaids' spring baskets surrounded a huge platter of assorted sandwiches to form the center table decoration.

Net bags filled with pot-pourri and confetti were passed to the guests by Kodi and Becky Brooks, nieces of the groom, and Jaque Mayfield, niece of the bride.

A rehearsal dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. J.O. Taylor, Aunt and Uncle of the bride, and Mrs. Edward Jarrett, aunt of the bride, at the ranch home in Juno of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor.

The couple left for a honeymoon trip to New Mexico and Colorado. They will make their home at the Texas A&M Research Station out of Sonora where the groom is employed.

Members of the house party were: Joy Brooks, Beth Brooks, Pamela Mayfield, Jene Mayfield, Marsy Everton, Susie Basurta, Rosalinda Garza, Ellen Mayfield, Peggy Dickerson, Teresa Merriman, Glendale Glasscock, Elizabeth

Schenkel, Mary Karnes and Susan Bloodworth.

Beside the groom's parents, brothers and their families, his grandmother, Mrs. O.T. Brooks of Burnet his grandfather, Mr. John Levy of Nolanville, an uncle Mr. Durwood Levy of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Levy, Bill and Debra of Garland and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Levy, Ricky and Kay of Nolanville attended.

The bride's aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reed of Nashville, Ark. An aunt, Mrs. Omega Leary from Findlay, Ohio, aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Ben Snead of Bastrop, an uncle Mr. W.A. Fort of Austin, and an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Daniels of Del Rio were there.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor and Taxpayers of Sutton County,

I have mixed emotions about writing this letter but someone has to say something and it might as well be me. As most of you have noticed the oil companies and related industries are having to move or leave Sonora due to the depressed industry. As you home owners and business owners have noticed by your recent re-evaluation by the tax office you are being asked to "take up the slack" with unjustified tax increases. The bureaucrats in Austin have told our tax office they should be getting more from us so they have responded accordingly.

I went in to the tax office to complain about my 111 percent tax increase from last year on my home. After being shown several elaborate charts on how this figure was determined by someone who couldn't tell a 20 year old house from a 45 year old house, I was told I was being "unreasonable." I was also told to "go back to my office and tend to fixing teeth, they would take care of the appraisal business."

It was interesting to note that the increase on the tax assessor's house was only 13.9 percent while mine was 111 percent. Something doesn't seem quite fair, regardless of which chart you use.

I am mainly concerned about our senior citizens and home and business owners who are already struggling under inflation and are now being asked to shoulder greatly increased taxes. That surely isn't fair. They have given much to this community over the years and to treat them like this is shameful.

Many people have worked long, hard hours in trying to secure a solution for a new High School for Sonora. I have supported this idea because our facilities are, no doubt, second rate. We really need a new school, but with the attitude of our tax office and the additional taxes they have in mind, I would have to vote NO to any new tax referendum as a tax-paying citizen.

Tomorrow, June the 16th will be the only day you will have anything to say about your tax increases. I urge you to call 387-2809, get on the agenda and let your voice be heard. If you think you now have "taxation without representation", you are just kidding yourself. You are in the same boat with the colonists in Boston Harbor. It may already be too late...

Sincerely

L.M. Pollard, a concerned taxpayer.

One speaker cited the non-availability of land as an obstacle to improvement. The proximity of the golf course to the Schleicher County strip was cited as a safety hazard.

The commission indicated availability of funds for new construction. A Schleicher County representative suggested a possible joint county airport situated on the Sutton/

Tornado Safety

Sutton County Office of Emergency Management would like to offer a few tips on tornado safety.

Springtime brings the onset of tornado weather. Tornadoes can occur at any place in the United States and most frequently occur during the months of March through September. Tornado "weather" can be hot, sticky days with southerly winds and a threatening, ominous sky. Familiar thunderstorm clouds are present. An hour or two before a tornado, topsy-turvy clouds appear sometimes bulging down instead of up. The clouds often have a greenish-black color. Rain, frequently hail, precede the tornado with a heavy down-pour after it has passed.

Tornadoes occur mostly between 3 and 7 p.m., but they have occurred at all hours. Tornadoes in most instances move from a westerly direction, usually from the southwest. The tornado's path is usually 10-40 miles (the average length is 16 miles) but they may move forward for 300 miles. The average width of a tornado path is about 400 yards, but they have cut swaths over a mile in width.

Tornadoes travel about 25-40 miles per hour, with wind speed estimated as high as 500 miles per hour within the tornado.

Tornadoes cause destruction with violent winds which uproot trees, destroy buildings, and which create a serious hazard from objects blown through the air; and by differences in air pressure which can cause buildings to collapse.

Some safety rules for tornadoes are as follows:

- 1. Seek inside shelter, preferably in a tornado cellar, underground excavation, or a steel-framed or reinforced concrete building of substantial construction. Stay away from windows.

2. In Cities or Towns

a. In office buildings--stand in an interior hallway on a lower floor, preferably the basement.
b. In factories--on receiving a tornado warning, post a lookout, and workers should move quickly to the section of the plant offering the greatest protection.

3. In Schools--

whenever possible, go to an interior hallway on the lowest floor. Avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums or other structures with wide, free-span roofs. If a building is not of reinforced construction, go to a nearby reinforced building, or to a ravine or open ditch and lie flat.

4. In open country-- move away from the tornado's path at a right angle. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

5. Keep Listening-- your radio and television stations will broadcast the latest tornado advisory information. Tornado watch means tornadoes are expected to develop. Tornado warning means a tornado has actually been sighted.

Reports from Washington

At the Crossroads In Central America

Debate on an issue vital to our foreign policy efforts in Central America will face Congress in early June. At issue is the Boland-Zablocki bill, which would essentially prohibit all covert aid to the anti-Sandinista forces in Nicaragua.

If Boland-Zablocki is adopted it will:

- unilaterally restrict U.S. conduct without regard to Nicaraguan behavior in Central America;
- authorize an overt interdiction fund of $80 million for "friendly" nations in Central America, despite the fact that such funds have not been requested by these nations; and
- provide a type of sanctuary for Nicaraguan/Cuban-based guerrillas who strike out with impunity against their neighbors without fear of retaliation behind their borders.

Boland-Zablocki, on the other hand does nothing to:

- deter the massive arms buildup in Nicaragua;
- force Nicaragua to cease the export of arms and revolution to other Central American countries; or
- provide any incentive for the Nicaraguan government to negotiate an end to hostilities in Central America.

I note with particular irony, that both foes and supporters of Boland-Zablocki in the Foreign Affairs Committee agree that the situation in Nicaragua is serious and that the Marxist-Leninist threat is real. Indeed, the facts speak for themselves.

Today in Sandinista-ruled Nicaragua we have — for the first time — a foothold of Marxist-Leninism on the mainland in our Western Hemisphere. It is a government preaching the doctrine of "revolution without frontiers" and its leaders have made no secret of their intentions.

The Nicaraguan capital of Managua has become an international center of intrigue, with Cubans, Soviets, East Germans, and the PLO operating freely and openly throughout the city. Outside Managua, is a command control and communications headquarters, established in 1980 by Cuban agents, with the mission of providing logistical and training support for Salvadoran insurgents on Nicaraguan soil.

Nicaragua's southern border is 300 miles from the Panama Canal, separated only by Costa Rica, a democracy that for almost 35 years has had no army. Its northern border is 300 miles from Mexico. In between are two countries, El Salvador and Guatemala, already torn by guerrilla violence, and Honduras, whose fledgling democracy is under almost daily pressure from Nicaragua.

It does not take much imagination to understand how the Sandinistas' "revolution without frontiers" might spread. Nor how its spread might affect our security. Over half of our foreign trade and petroleum flow through the Caribbean or the Panama Canal. And we depend on the stability of our neighbors to avoid what in certain circumstances could become an unprecedented flow of refugees northward to our country.

In Nicaragua, the anti-Sandinistas keep attracting recruits, their numbers growing to over 7,000 today, compared with 500 at the beginning of 1982. Many of the recruits are disenchanting former Sandinistas who fought to bring down the oppressive Somoza regime in 1979 so that democracy in Nicaragua would have a chance to take root and grow, so that Nicaraguans could enjoy rights we take for granted, such as freedom of religion, free elections, and a free press. It is now clear that one oppressive government has merely been replaced with another.

To put the American role in perspective, our country was equally hopeful that democracy would take root and from 1979 to 1981 provided Nicaragua with over $120 million in emergency relief and economic assistance. Now we are confronted with their Marxist-Leninist threat to the entire Central American region.

As the President recently observed, "The United States is at the crossroads. We can no longer ignore this hemisphere and simply hope for the best."

The President is right. We must move together in a bipartisan fashion to prevent crisis in Central America and this includes funds for economic and security assistance — as well as covert operations — for as long as the Soviets and their surrogates wield influence in our Hemisphere. To do otherwise does severe damage to efforts to help bring stability and a climate for democracy to the region.

Education Leader Demands Session

A spokesman for the state's second largest education association said today that if a special session is not called before school bells ring next fall, then Texas teachers will know they have been deceived.

Mike Morrow, executive director of the 35,000-member Association of Texas Professional Educators (ATPE), said "If Governor White does not call a special session to find the money to fund adequately education in this state, then teachers will know that his campaign rhetoric was nothing more than empty boasts."

"We have supported the governor's proposals and have looked to him for leadership, but he came with too little, too late. We also realize that he's never served in the legislature, and if he needs a few more innings to finish this game, we're ready to go to bat for him," Morrow said.

"Education groups didn't draft their own tax bills because we were told that the governor was going to 'take care of the teachers.' He never got a tax bill introduced. We've learned again that promises alone don't produce results," Morrow said.

ATPE president Sally Wiedman said that her association is not unrealistic and that in light of revisions in anticipated state revenue, ATPE would be willing to work with legislators on a reasonable salary increase. "Two percent a year for the majority of career teachers is an insult," Wiedman said. She said that the present 9 percent increase has been misleading because only beginning teachers and those at the lower end of the salary schedule will receive the full benefit of the 9 percent increase.

Gov. White Announces New Program to Reduce School Discipline Problems

Texas Gov. Mark White announced a new program to fight the problem of discipline in the public schools during his commencement address May 14 at Southwest Texas State University.

White said that SWT has been working with the Criminal Justice Division of his office on a $256,000 grant with the goal of "developing better teaching tools for enhanced discipline in the classroom." SWT, which opened in 1903 as a two-year teacher training "normal," now graduates more teachers than any other college or university in the state.

The Classroom Disciplinary Management and Strategy Program, designed at SWT, "should lead the way in Texas for our efforts to help classroom instructors cope with the problems of student disruptions, truancy, drug abuse and alcoholism, juvenile delinquency and related problems in the school environment."

Focusing on the need for such a program, White said, "Violence, vandalism and disciplinary problems in our public schools today, while not as pervasive as some accounts have led us to believe, nonetheless have grown and are now a severe detriment to the educational process."

White said school-related property crimes amount to $200 million a year nationwide and assaults against teachers and students have increased. "The monetary costs alone are tragic, but even more alarming are the social costs," White said.

"A teacher who lives in fear of being assaulted in the classroom soon becomes a teacher of limited ability to perform the primary task of teaching," White said. "The resulting interruption of the learning process and the increasing number of students who are simply afraid to go to school are severe constraints on our educational efforts."

The Texas Juvenile Justice Center, a program funded by the Criminal Justice Division and headquartered at SWT, will work with the SWT Department of Education to provide training and technical assistance for the project, White said.

The new center's pilot program will begin with three seminars this summer, White announced, adding that a successfully tested South Texas program on alternatives to suspension of disruptive students will be emphasized. White said the new project will work closely with the Texas Crime Prevention Institute, also located at SWT as well as other educational agencies.

White also reiterated his promise to continue working for teacher pay raises as part of an effort to "restore dignity to the teaching profession."

Also in the commencement ceremony, former First Lady Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson received an honorary doctor of humane letters degree. Mrs. Johnson's honorary degree is the second such degree to be conferred by the university in its 80-year history. Lyndon Johnson, a graduate of SWT, received the university's only other honorary doctorate in 1962 when he was vice president of the United States.

In conferring the honorary degree, SWT President Robert L. Hardesty, who was an assistant to President Johnson, said of Mrs. Johnson, "as a writer, public speaker, botanist and horticulturist, radio executive, member of corporate and educational boards, and former first lady of the United States of America, she is known and loved throughout the world for her leadership, integrity and vision." Wild flowers and wild flower artworks were exhibited in Strahan Coliseum, the site of the ceremony, in recognition of Mrs. Johnson's longstanding interest in outdoor beautification.

Two faculty members--Mary W. Olson, assistant professor of education, and Dona R. Reeves, professor of German--received the first Presidential Awards for Excellence in Teaching during the ceremony. Three students received special awards in the ceremony. Elizabeth Wilson, a December graduate from Waxahachie, was named recipient of the Lyndon Baines Johnson Outstanding Senior Student Award. Karen Denise Jones of Sequin received the Sallie Beretta outstanding Senior Woman Award. Lou Ann Bletsch of Baytown received the Jean Smith Outstanding Female Athlete Award.

Recognized at a coffee prior to the ceremony were recipients of LBJ Family Foundation Scholarships:

Danny Feuge of Johnson City; Lathryn Couch of Fredericksburg; Pamela Flugrath of Blanco; Mary C. Neal of Pearsall; Mark S. Banning of Dilley; Deborah A. Campos of Carrizo Springs; and Glen Grona (who could not attend) of Fredericksburg.

A total of 981 degrees were conferred in the ceremony. Of that total, 86 students received master's degrees in the Graduate School, 891 received bachelor's degrees in various undergraduate programs and four received associate degrees in the School of Health Professions. Of the recipients of bachelor's degrees, 122 were in the School of Applied Arts, 308 in the School of Business, 34s in the School of Creative Arts, 172 in the School of Education, 43 in the School of Health Professions, 47 in the School of Liberal Arts, 3s7 in the school of Science and 128 in Occupational Educational Education.

Following the ceremony, the university held a reception on the 11th floor of the J.C. Kellam Building for more than 120 honor graduates and their families.

Also after the ceremony Mrs. Johnson, Gov. White and former U.S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Joseph A. Califano Jr. planted cypress trees in front of the J.C. Kellam Building. Califano, like SWT President Hardesty, was an assistant to President Lyndon B. Johnson in the White House.

22nd Annual Stonewall Peach Jamboree to be Held June 17th-18th

The 22nd Annual Stonewall Peach Jamboree to be held on June 17th and 18th will feature nightly rodeo performances produced by Lester Meier Rodeo Company. A dance will follow each rodeo performance. Friday night music will be provided by Cactus Country and Saturday night The Last Road to Texas will perform.

An airshow by the Confederate Air Force will kickoff the day-long festivities on Saturday beginning at 9:00 a.m. with a parade to follow at 10:00 a.m. Major General P.D. Straw, Wing Leader of the Confederate Air Force will serve as parade marshal.

Activities during the day will include a Peach Pie and Cobbler baking contest, and no, it is definitely not for ladies only. Contact Betty Nebgen at (512) 997-2318 in advance for entry information.

What tribute to peaches would be complete without a peach eating contest, and of course, a pit spit. A peach show and sales allows local peach growers to indulge in a little friendly competition as they compete against one another for the distinction of having the best peaches. The peaches are judged in several categories which include the single prettiest peach, single heaviest peach, a plate of six, a plate of 12 and best half bushel. The prize-winning peaches, along with the champion pies and cobbler, then go on to the auction block for some fast paced auctioneering by auctioneer Bob Emley.

Other activities during the day will include helicopter rides provided by Texas

Business Helicopter, a washer pitching and chicken flying contest (bring your own chicken), a fiddler's contest which is open to young and old or anyone who can fiddle, a carnival for the kids, and of course, plenty of good food and drink.

Presiding over all these peachy events is the Gillespie County Peach Queen and her court.

Selection of a new queen and court will highlight the Saturday night rodeo performance. Paul Pryor from Radio Station KLBJ in Austin will act as master of ceremonies for the Queen's coronation.

Texas Brick Week, June 12-18

The week of June 12-18 has been designated Texas Brick Week by Governor Mark White to coincide with National Brick Week.

The history of brick goes back to Babylonian times when slaves made adobe-type brick which was dried in the sun.

U.S. Brick, headquartered in Dallas, has five plants in three states. U.S. Brick recently put into operation the most modern brick plant in Texas at Mineral Wells.

U.S. Brick produces 370 million brick annually. The Elgin-Butler Brick Company of Austin and Elgin, Texas, is 107 years old, and is one of two brick companies in the nation that manufactures glazed brick and tile.

white brick. D'Hanis Brick & Tile has been in operation many years and delivered brick by wagon and team for some of the early schools of South Texas.

Three years ago during the surge of building in Texas, some two billion brick were used in Texas. The wide use of brick and the desire of most to own a brick home is unique in Texas.

Bentsen Cites Decline in Civilian R&D

Senator Lloyd Bentsen said that a new study by the Library of Congress shows the U.S. is lagging behind Japan and West Germany in spending on civilian research and development. Bentsen commented on releasing the study, which analyzes research and development spending by the United States and four foreign countries over the past 20 years.

"We had a $42.7 billion trade deficit last year and we could be looking at a deficit of twice that this year," the Senator said.

"One of the reasons for our declining position in trade by 20 percent as a share of Gross National Product between 1967 and 1981, from .35 percent to .28 percent.

The Senator said the study indicated that Japan and West Germany have steadily increased their commitment to civilian R&D in the years since 1964, while the United States, France and Britain have not.

In 1964, total spending on civilian R&D by Japan, West Germany, France and Britain equalled 45.2 percent of such is available from all five countries, spending by the other four equalled 120.5 percent of U.S. expenditure.

In 1964, Japan, West Germany, France and Britain individually spent 10-12 percent of the amount the U.S. spent on civilian R&D. By 1978, Japan was spending more than half the amount spent by the U.S. (52 percent) and West Germany spent 36.8 percent. Neither France nor Britain that year had increased its spending, relative to the U.S., by a significant amount.

"One of the best ways for our country to improve its competitive position on world trading markets is to increase the amount of research and development we conduct. That is why I introduced legislation earlier this year to encourage private industry to spend more money on R&D, especially basic R&D," Bentsen said.

"I have also proposed the establishment of a Presidential-level task force to study programs in other countries for encouraging civilian R&D and report to Congress within a year with recommendations," Bentsen said.

"As this new study makes clear, we need to get our civilian research and development efforts back into high gear," Senator Bentsen said.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled that the windfall profits excise tax is constitutional. The vote was nine to nothing in favor of the tax. Supreme Court Justice William Powell said the government was right in saying that the discovering and producing of North Slope Alaskan oil entailed financial risks that were far greater than those involved with developing domestic oil properties elsewhere. He added that Congress has wide latitude in deciding what to tax. It's uncertain at this time if there will be another court challenge to the tax.

In the Permian Basin our rig count for this week is 220. Last week it was 222. One year ago it was 325.

In other news, Texas Land Commissioner Gary Mauro said the state may start keeping the gas produced on state-owned land and sell it to city and state utilities instead of to private gas lines. Mauro estimated that the state would earn an additional 50 million dollars a year because it would get more for its gas on the open market. He added that utility costs could be reduced in some areas of the state by using the plan.

NRR Computers Expand Coverage

Expansion to national coverage was announced in San Antonio by officials of the National Ranchers Registry (NRR).

NRR, headquarters here, is a computerized information exchange for agribusiness buyers and sellers. Information ranging from livestock and acreage to farm equipment and produce is available to subscribers via nationwide telephone access.

With an initial subscription, one may list an unlimited number of items to buy or sell. Inventory of items is constantly being updated, providing both buyers and sellers with a supermarket of selections.

Aptly labeled "the greatest tool for the rancher since they invented the cowboy," NRR was devised in collaboration with Sunbelt Agro-Media Services and the Qixco Group, Ltd., of Wilmington, Delaware. The company formed to offer the data-bank services across the nation is NRR, a Texas corporation, with its computer center in San Antonio.

Initially NRR concentrated in the areas of Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Oklahoma. Next, expansion was to the mid-South and mid-West, and finally the Pacific Northwest, the Ohio Valley and Eastern Seaboard.

The debut of NRR last spring marked the first change in marketing and merchandising techniques for agriculture in a century. When the American agricultural economy continued on the course of deterioration, NRR officials prompted a study of traditional marketing habits. Thus was born the computer concept and NRR.

Fire Ants, No Easy Task

One of the most persistent insect pests around today is the red imported fire ant, and despite all efforts to keep the pest in check, it is slowly marching westward, leaving behind a pock-marked landscape and a barrel full of problems.

Fire ants erupted around Mobile, Alabama, about 1940 and have since laid claim to all the South from the Carolinas to half of Texas. Their westward trek has reached as far as the San Angelo area.

Fire ants are well-known

Minnows have teeth in their throat.

The bottle-nosed whale can dive to a depth of 3,000 feet in two minutes.

for their painful stings and for their damage to plants, young livestock and wildlife.

Their mounds—often a foot-and-a-half high and as hard as concrete—play havoc with farm machinery during field operations and lead to a lot of problems in lawns, parks, school yards, cemeteries, golf courses and the like.

"While we have a number of chemicals that will kill fire ants, there is no such thing as permanent extermination due to reinfestations," says Dr. Phil Hamman, an entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"The best you can hope to do is to treat existing mounds and to stay on the lookout for new mounds."

A good time to treat mounds is when the ants are most active—during warm weather, late in the afternoon or evening when ants are foraging, and after a rain. During wet weather, the ants will increase the size of their mounds to move their brood up into drier soil. This makes them more vulnerable to control measures, says Hamman.

For effective control, he suggests treating mounds with an approved insecticide diluted in water. Use a sprinkling can or a gallon-sized plastic jug with holes in the screw-up top to sprinkle the solution on the mound like gentle rain. Wet the mound thoroughly.

A granular insecticide can also be sprinkled on top and around the ant mound.

"It's best not to disturb the mound before or during treatment," says Hamman. "Otherwise, part of the colony may move away from the chemical."

Amdro is an effective bait but works slowly, as do some other materials that have been effective in controlling fire ants. Colonies in treated mounds will usually die out in one to two weeks. However, products containing methyl chloroform, pyrethrum, acephate, diazinon, or chlorpyrifos give more immediate results.

"Whatever insecticide you use, follow label instructions," cautions Hamman. "And remember that one treatment won't last forever. Some time or another, the fire ants will be back again, so you'll have to be on guard and ready to treat again."

HNG Reports Board Earnings

The Board of Directors of Houston Natural Gas Corporation (HNG) reported unaudited consolidated earnings for the nine months ended April 30, 1983 of $4.02 per common and common equivalent share on revenues of $2,239,868,000. Earnings for the corresponding period of the prior fiscal year were $5.01 per common and common equivalent share on revenues of $2,452,390,000. For the 12 months ended April 30, 1983, HNG earned $5.47 per share on revenues of $2,968,196,000 compared with earnings of $6.58 on revenues of $3,253,007,000 for the 12-month period a year ago. The decrease in earnings for the nine- and 12-month periods is directly related to the depressed state of the national and world economy. In other action, the Board declared the following regular quarterly dividends, all payable July 1, 1983, to stockholders of record June 13, 1983; $1.16 1/4 per share on the 4.64 percent Redeemable Cumulative Preferred Stock, 1964 Series ($100 par); and 45 1/2 cents per share on the Common Stock ($1 par).

Texas Gas Production in Feb.

Railroad Commission Chairman Mack Wallace announced that Texas oil and gas wells produced 432,402,219 Mcf of gas in February, down 11.9 percent from field runs a year earlier. Marketed gas production totaled 356,859,036 Mcf and reflected a 14.63 percent decrease from the February 1982 volume. Marketed production is the total gas to transmission lines, carbon black and plant fuel and lease use. Gas exported from Texas in February totaled 210,530,820 Mcf. Exports of Texas-produced gas in February totaled 152,870,188 Mcf, and reflected a 22.35 percent decrease from the year-earlier month. Texas gas production in February came from 241, 226 oil and gas wells. In January 1982, Texas wells produced 497,496,426 Mcf of gas. Marketed gas production in January totaled 413,257,680 Mcf. January exports of Texas-produced gas totaled 171,339,730.

Petroleum Course, June 6-24

This year marks the 26th year of the Petroleum Institute for Educators. The participants who attend the three hour graduate course, which is taught at the University of Houston, have been specifically chosen throughout the State of Texas. To be exact, over one hundred outstanding teachers will be participating in this year's Institute, June 6-24, 1983. The course is taught by approximately forty-four speaker specialists representing all phases of the industry. Six field trips which emphasize learning through experiences and participation are also included. More than 140 companies throughout the state contribute money for funding the teacher fellowships.

These companies not only support this education program monetarily but also by providing quality speakers who are consistently rated high by the participants' calculations. The Petroleum Institute for Educators has proven to be an effective means to bring to teachers, and subsequently their students, an awareness of industry problems and an appreciation of the significance of the oil and gas industry in the economy of Texas and the nation.

May Oil and Gas Statewide Hearing

The Railroad Commission set the Texas oil production rate for June 1983 at the market demand factor of 100 percent for the 76th month in a row and the 132nd time since the Commission first went to the deeling level in April 1972. Chairman Mack Wallace and Commissioner Jim Nugent directed the continuance of the maximum statewide allowable after receiving and reviewing purchaser nominations for Texas oil in June totaling 2,454,007 barrels per day, a decrease of 14,508 barrels daily when compared with May buyer requests. June 1982 nominations totaled 2,473,297 barrels daily. Wallace reported that June 1983 nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 17,880,981 Mcf/d (thousand cubic feet per day). Gas nominations for May amounted to 17,695,550 Mcf/d. June 1982 nominations totaled 24,149,279 Mcf/d. The next statewide oil and gas hearing will be held Thursday, June 16, at 9 a.m. in Room 107 of the Railroad Commission headquarters building in Austin at 1124 S. IH 35. Major purchases filed these floor nominations for Texas oil in June: Amoco Production, 169,000 barrels daily, down 2,000 from the previous month; Citgo Petroleum, 74,000, unchanged; Conoco, 60,000, unchanged; Exxon, 277,300, up 2,100; Gulf Oil, 103,000, unchanged; Marathon Petroleum, 67,420, unchanged; Shell oil, 166,800, down 1,000; Union Oil of California, 26,000, unchanged.

Other purchasers filed these significant changes in June nominations: Andrus pipeline Corp., 4,086, no nomination last month; Burns and Bush Companies Inc., no nomination, 1,000 last month; Koch Oil, 91,154, down 7,399; Langham-Midwest Marketing Ltd., 1,267, no nomination last month; Silver Energy Inc., no nomination, 1,200 last month; Tesoro Crude Oil, 33,896, down 2,894. Chairman Wallace reported that crude oil and petroleum production imported into the U.S. averaged 4,296,000 barrels daily for the four weeks ending May 6, up 329,000 barrels from the same period a year earlier.

Oil Pipeline Proposed

The proposed crude oil pipeline from California to Midland is again in the news. A company as Pacific Texas Pipeline has hired a consulting company to oversee engineering work on its version of the pipeline. The previously announced plan calls for a 42-inch line from Long Beach, California, to Midland. The estimated cost of that project is 1.4 billion dollars.

one company gets a head start on the other, would the second company follow through with its plans? Elsewhere, the General Accounting Office of the federal government says the automatic instruments at two of Strategic Petroleum Reserve sites are virtually inoperable. And, some congressmen are asking the Department of Energy why they are, since the instruments would be used to draw down oil in an emergency.

Finally, electric utilities used 162 percent less imported oil last year than they did in 1978. This reduced the nation's oil import bill by 22.5 billion dollars during that time. In the Permian Basin our rig count for this week is 222. Last week it was 215. One year ago it was 326.

Another pipeline, from Bakersfield, California, to Midland was recently announced by the All American Pipeline Company of Dallas. It would be a 30-inch line costing about 600 million dollars with a 1986 operation date. Capacity would be an estimated 300,000 barrels a day. It remains to be seen that is

Crude Oil Production in May

Texas crude oil production totaled 72,782,028 barrels in March, according to Railroad Commission Chairman Mack Wallace. The figure compares with reported February production totaling 66,165,275 barrels and March 1982 production of 74,997,266 barrels. Texas oil production averaged 2,347,807 barrels daily in March 1982. The March production allowable totaled 94,409,454 barrels. The preliminary March summary indicated Texas oil production was 22.91 percent under the allowable for the month.

The state's top producing counties in March were Pecos, 4,269,748 barrels; Ector, 3,874,854 barrels; Yoakum, 3,647,493 barrels; Gaines, 3,496,414 barrels; Hockley, 3,284,920 barrels; Andrews, 3,273,271 barrels; Gregg, 3,253,020 barrels; Scurry, 2,650,078 barrels; Crane, 2,248,349 barrels, and Refugio, 1,893,551 barrels.
